ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE)

STOP PRESS:

The Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 makes provision for the purposes of promoting public involvement in relation to local authorities and other public authorities, about bodies representing the interests of tenants, local freedoms and honorary titles, and the procedures of local authorities and their powers relating to insurance and the audit of entities connected with them, to establish the Local Government Boundary Commission for England and to make provision relating to local government boundary and electoral change, about local and regional development, and to amend the law relating to construction contracts. The Act received the royal assent on 12 November 2009 and the following provisions came into force on that date: ss 25, 26, 62, 64, 68, 146-150, Sch 3. Sections 27-30, 32, 33, and 121-137 came into force on 12 January 2010 and the following provisions also come into force on that day: ss 114-117 (SI 2009/3318). The following provisions were brought into force on 25 November 2009: ss 69 (in part), 71, 84, 86, 87 (SI 2009/3087). The following provisions were brought into force on 17 December 2009: ss 88-113, 118-120 and Sch 6 (SI 2009/3318). Further provisions come into force on 1 April 2010: ss 23, 24, 31, 55-61, 63, 65-67, 69, 70, 72-83, 85, Schs 1, 2, 4, 5, 7 (in part) (SI 2009/3318). The remaining provisions come into force on a day or days to be appointed. For details of commencement see the COMMENCEMENT OF STATUTES table in the Current Service Noter-up booklet.

Part 1 (ss 1-30) Democracy and involvement

Chapter 1 (ss 1-9) Duties relating to promotion of democracy

Section 1 places a duty on principal local authorities to promote understanding of their functions and their democratic arrangements. By virtue of s 2, principal local authorities are under a duty to promote understanding among local people of public bodies which relate to the authority's area. A duty is placed on principal local authorities by s 3 to promote understanding among local people of courts boards, independent monitoring boards for prisons and immigration removal centres and Youth Offending Teams. Section 4 places a duty on principal local authorities to promote understanding among local people of lay justices. By virtue of s 5, ss 2-4 do not apply to principal local authorities if information has not been provided by the connected authorities, monitoring boards, courts boards, youth offending teams and, in the case of lay justices, the Lord Chancellor, after it has been requested of them. The appropriate national authority may produce guidance for principal local authorities on how to fulfil their duties: s 6. Section 7 deals with the Isles of Scilly. Section 8 specifies that any order made under Pt 1 Ch 1 is to be made by statutory instrument and is to be subject to negative resolution procedure. Section 9 deals with interpretation.

Chapter 2 (ss 10-22) Petitions to local authorities

Section 10 places duties on principal local authorities in relation to electronic petitions signed by those who live, work or study in local areas. Under s 11, principal local authorities are required to make, publicise and comply with a scheme for handling both paper and electronic petitions. Section 12 makes provision about the petitions to which a petition scheme must apply. By virtue of s 13, petition schemes are required to ensure that petitions are acknowledged in writing within a time specified in the scheme. Principal local authorities are required by s 14 to take one or more steps in response to petitions which meet the specified criteria and are therefore 'active' petitions. Section 15 gives an automatic right for the matter raised in a petition to be debated by the full council if more than a specified number of people have signed it. By virtue of s 16, certain senior officers of a principal local authority can be called to account at a public meeting. Under s 17, the petition organiser is given the power to ask an overview and scrutiny committee, or its equivalent in authorities not operating executive arrangements, to review the principal local authority's response to their petition, if the organiser is not satisfied with the steps taken by the authority under s 14. Section 18 sets out other issues which principal local authorities' schemes may include. The powers of the appropriate national authority to issue guidance in relation to the discharge of the petition function by principal authorities are set out by s 19. Section 20 provides that the appropriate national authority may by order make provision for the handling of petitions by any specified body. Section 21 provides that orders under Ch 2 are to be made by statutory instrument. Section 22 deals with interpretation.

Chapter 3 (ss 23, 24) Involvement in functions of public authorities

Section 23 places a duty on the authorities listed to involve representatives of interested persons in the exercise of their functions, where they consider that it is appropriate to do so. The Secretary of State may, by virtue of s 24, issue guidance on the discharge of the duties under s 23.

Chapter 4 (ss 25, 26) Housing

Section 25 makes provision for the Secretary of State to establish and give financial or other support to a body that will represent the interests, at national level, of housing tenants in England. Section 26 provides a power to the Secretary of State to nominate a body representing the interests of social housing tenants for the purposes of consultation in connection with certain functions carried out by the social housing regulator and the Secretary of State and set out in the Housing and Regeneration Act 2008.

Chapter 5 (ss 27-29) Local freedoms and honorary titles

The 2009 Act s 27 makes provision for a daughter of a freeman of a city or town to be admitted as a freeman where a son would have the right to be so admitted. By virtue of s 28, the laws relating to the admission of freeman are more easily amended. The power to confer the title of 'honorary freeman' is extended by s 29 to all principal councils, parish and community councils, and charter trustees in England.

Chapter 6 (s 30) Politically restricted posts

Section 30 removes the requirement imposed by the Local Government and Housing Act 1989 s 2 for local authorities to prepare and maintain a list of posts that exceed a specified salary, and which as a consequence mean that the post-holder is subject to political restrictions.

Part 2 (ss 31-54) Local authorities: governance and audit

Chapter 1 (ss 31-33) Governance

Section 31 requires local authorities, with the exception of district councils in areas where there is a county council, to designate one of their officers as a scrutiny officer to support the work of the authority's overview and scrutiny committee. By virtue of s 32, the scope of joint overview and scrutiny arrangements are broadened so that joint overview and scrutiny committees may be set up by any two or more local authorities, so that such committees may make reports and recommendations on any matter, other than excluded matter, and so that associated authorities may be required to provide any information to joint overview and scrutiny committees, other than that relating to crime and disorder matters, and not just that relevant to local improvement targets. Section 33 extends the legislative competence of the National Assembly for Wales to make Measures of the National Assembly for Wales.

Chapter 2 (ss 34, 35) Mutual insurance

Section 34 provides that a qualifying authority may become a member of a body corporate whose objects must be those specified and all of whose members are other qualifying bodies. Section 35 lists the qualifying authorities that are being provided with the power to become members of a mutual insurance body corporate.

Chapter 3 (ss 36-54) Audit of entities connected with local authorities

Section 36 provides that the relevant audit authority may appoint a person to carry out audit functions in relation to a local authority entity which meets certain qualifying criteria. By virtue of s 37, a local authority must notify the entity and the relevant audit authority if an entity meets, or ceases to meet, the qualifying conditions or ceases to be connected with the authority. Under s 38, the audit authority may appoint a person to carry out an audit of a local authority entity where the entity appears to the audit authority to meet the qualifying criteria. Where an appointed auditor dies, is dismissed, or is unable or unwilling to act, the audit authority may appoint a replacement auditor for that financial year: s 39. Section 40 provides that, unless the entity otherwise requests, the audit authority must not make an appointment if the entity appears to be exempt from statutory audit. Section 41 specifies who is eligible for appointment as an auditor. The terms of appointment for an auditor are set out by s 42. Where an audit authority appoints an auditor to an entity, s 43 provides that the entity may also appoint that same auditor as its statutory auditor under the Companies Act 2006 Pt 16 (ss 475-539) or the Friendly and Industrial and Provident Societies Act 1968 s 4. The 2009 Act s 44 applies when the entity does not wish to exercise the power in s 39 and instead chooses to appoint a different auditor as its statutory auditor, or where the entity exercises the power in s 39 but then terminates the appointment, so as to provide that the audit's authority's appointed auditor has the same powers as in the 2006 Act or the 1968 Act to enable the auditor to make a report to the company, partnership or society on the annual accounts. The 2009 Act ss 45-49 provide the powers for an auditor appointed under Ch 3 to make a report in the public interest. By virtue of s 50, a fee must be paid by the entity to the appointing audit authority when an auditor discharges any functions under ss 44-49. Section 51 sets out the power of the audit authority to request information relating to the accounts audited by the auditor and any other document or information relating to the entity, which would have been available to the auditor under the powers he had. By virtue of s 52, a company which is a subsidiary of a Passenger Transport Executive is to be regarded as connected with the Integrated Transport Authority for the areas for which the executive is established. Section 53 makes general provision in respect of regulations, and s 54 deals with interpretation.

Part 3 (ss 55-68) Local government boundary and electoral change

Section 55 establishes the Local Government Boundary Commission for England as a separate corporate body, and Sch 1 contains the detailed provisions for the constitution and administration of the new body. Section 56 provides that the Local Government Boundary Commission for England must from time to time conduct a review of electoral arrangements of each principal council in England and recommend whether a change should be made to the electoral arrangements for an area, and introduces Sch 2, which sets out the criteria that the Local Government Boundary Commission for England must have regard to when conducting electoral reviews. Under s 57, a power is provided for the Local Government Boundary Commission for England to conduct a review of the area of a principal council, at that council's request, with a view to making recommendations as to whether each electoral area in the area of the principal council should return only one member. The procedure which the Local Government Boundary Commission for England must follow when conducting electoral reviews under s 53 is set out by s 58. By virtue of s 59, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England is provided with the power to make an order to give effect to all or any of the recommendations which it makes following a review of electoral arrangements for a local government area. Various functions are transferred from the Electoral Commission and the Boundary Committee for England to the new Local Government Boundary Commission for England by s 60. Section 61 abolishes the Electoral Commission's duty to establish a Boundary Committee for England and repeals the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 ss 14, 15. The Electoral Commission is placed under a duty by the 2009 Act s 62 to produce one or more schemes for the transfer of property, rights and liabilities from the Electoral Commission to the Local Government Boundary Commission for England. Section 63 provides that anything done by the Boundary Committee for England or by the Electoral Commission, in relation to structural or boundary changes or electoral arrangements, may be treated as having been done by the new Local Government Boundary Commission for England. Section 64 introduces Sch 3, which makes modifications to the Local Government Act 1992. Under the 2009 Act s 65, the process set out for the review by the Boundary Committee for England of the boundaries of local government areas is amended to enable the new Local Government Boundary Commission for England to consider whether consequential changes should be made to electoral arrangements as part of the same review. Provisions which relate to the defunct Local Government Commission for England are repealed by s 66. Section 67 gives effect to Sch 4, which contains amendments consequential on provision made in Pt 3 and gives the Secretary of State a power by order to amend, repeal or revoke enactments for the purposes of making further consequential provisions in relation to any provisions within Pt 3. Section 68 deals with interpretation.

Part 4 (s 69) Local authority economic assessments

Section 69 requires principal local authorities to prepare an assessment of the economic conditions of their area.

Part 5 (ss 70-87) Regional strategy

Section 70 provides for a regional strategy in each region other than London, which must set out policies in relation to sustainable economic growth, development and the use of land within the region and can include different policies for different areas within the region. By virtue of s 71, the participating authorities in each region, other than London, must make a scheme for the establishment and operation of a body known as a 'Leaders' Board'. Under s 72, the regional development agency and local authorities' Leaders' Board for the region, are, jointly, the 'responsible regional authorities' referred to in Pt 5, and if there is not a Leaders' Board the regional development agency will act alone. In accordance with s 73, the bodies responsible for regional strategy are required to exercise their functions with the objective of contributing to the achievement of sustainable development and having regard to the desirability of achieving good design. Section 74 gives the responsible regional authorities a duty to keep the regional strategy and relevant matters under review and explains when a draft revision is to be prepared either of part or the whole of the strategy. The responsible regional authorities are required by s 75 to prepare, publish and comply with a statement setting out their policies for involving interested persons when preparing a draft revision of a regional strategy. Section 76 provides for the responsible regional authorities to arrange for an examination in public into the draft revision to be held by a person appointed by the Secretary of State. The matters that the responsible regional authorities must take into account when preparing a revision are set out by s 77. Once the responsible regional authorities have prepared and published a draft revision of the regional strategy and the sustainability appraisal report, s 78 requires them to submit these to the Secretary of State, who can then choose either to approve the draft revision as it stands or to modify it before approving it. Section 79 sets out the Secretary of State's reserve power to revise a regional strategy in whole or in part, where the responsible regional authorities fail to do so at the time specified in the regulations or directions. The Secretary of State's power to make regulations for procedural matters in connection with the revisions of regional strategies is set out by s 80. Section 81 imposes duties on the responsible regional authorities to implement and monitor the regional strategy. Under s 82, until a regional strategy is revised, the statutory development plan for an area will only consist of the policies that were previously in the regional spatial strategy. Section 83 requires regional development agencies to have regard to the regional strategy in exercising their functions. By virtue of s 84, the Secretary of State has the power to give guidance and directions in relation to the exercise of functions under Pt 5. Section 85, Sch 5 make consequential provision. Section 86 provides that regulations under Pt 5 are to be made by statutory instrument, and s 87 deals with interpretation.

Part 6 (ss 88-120) Economic prosperity boards and combined authorities

Section 88 provides that the Secretary of State can make an order establishing an Economic Prosperity Board ('EPB') for an area and specifies the conditions that need to be met for an area to be capable of designation as an EPB's area. Under s 89, the Secretary of State may by order make provision in relation to an EPB about the membership of the EPB, the voting powers of the members of the EPB, and the executive arrangements of the EPB. Section 90 sets out the provision which must be included in an order made under s 89 that deals with the number and appointment of members of an EPB. By virtue of s 91, the Secretary of State is allowed to make an order that provides for functions of a county council or district council to be exercisable by the EPB. The Secretary of State is allowed by s 92 to set out how the EPB will be funded. Under s 93, an EPB is required to keep a general fund whereby all receipts of the EPB must be carried to that fund and all liabilities falling to be discharged by the EPB must be discharged out of that fund. Section 94 provides that an existing EPB can pass a resolution to change its name. By virtue of s 95, the Secretary of State is allowed to make an order changing the boundary of an existing EPB's area. The Secretary of State is allowed to make an order to dissolve an EPB's area and abolish the EPB: s 96. Section 97 provides that any two or more of the specified authorities may review the effectiveness and efficiency of arrangements to promote economic development and regeneration within the geographical area covered by the review. Under s 98, if two or more of the councils that have conducted a review under s 97 conclude that the establishment of an EPB for an area would be likely to improve the exercise of statutory functions relating to economic development and regeneration and economic conditions within the area, then they have the power to prepare and publish a scheme for the establishment of an EPB for the area. In accordance with s 99, the Secretary of State may make an order establishing an EPB for an area if, having had regard to a scheme prepared and published under s 98, the Secretary of State considers that the establishment of an EPB for an area is likely to improve both the exercise of statutory functions relating to economic development and regeneration in the area and the economic conditions in the area. By virtue of s 100, one or more of the specified authorities is allowed to review an EPB matter. Section 101 provides that, if one or more of the authorities who have concluded a s 100 review conclude that the exercise of economic development and regeneration functions, or economic conditions, in an existing or proposed area of an EPB would be likely to be improved by the making of an order under any one or more of ss 89, 91, 92, 95 and 96, then those authorities have the power to prepare and publish a scheme proposing how this should be done. The requirements applying to the Secretary of State's power to make orders under ss 89, 91, 92, 95 and 96 in relation to an existing EPB are set out by s 102. By virtue of s 103, the Secretary of State can make an order establishing a combined authority for an area which meets certain conditions. The Secretary of State is allowed by s 104 to make an order about the constitutional arrangements and functions of an individual combined authority. By virtue of s 105, the Secretary of State may make in relation to a combined authority any provision that may be made in relation to an EPB under s 91. Section 106 allows the Secretary of State to make an order changing the boundary of the area of an existing combined authority. The Secretary of State is allowed by s 107 to make an order to dissolve a combined authority's area and abolish its combined authority. Under s 108, any two or more of the specified authorities may review the effectiveness and efficiency of transport, and of the arrangements to promote economic development and regeneration, within the geographical area covered by the review. If two or more of the authorities who have conducted a s 108 review conclude that the establishment of a combined authority for an area would be likely to improve the exercise of statutory functions relating to transport and economic development and regeneration, the effectiveness and efficiency of transport in the area, and the economic conditions in the area, by virtue of s 109 the authorities may prepare and publish a scheme for the establishment of a combined authority for the scheme area. Section 110 specifies that the Secretary of State may make an order establishing a combined authority for an area if, having regard to the prepared and published scheme, the Secretary of State considers that the establishment of a combined authority is likely to improve the exercise of statutory functions relating to transport and the effectiveness and efficiency of transport in the area as well as the exercise of statutory economic development and regeneration functions in the area and the economic conditions in the area. Under s 111, one or more of the authorities specified is allowed to review a 'combined matter'. By virtue of s 112, authorities are able to prepare a scheme if one or more of the authorities who have conducted a s 111 review conclude that the exercise of statutory transport or economic development and regeneration functions, the effectiveness and efficiency of transport, or the economic conditions in an existing or proposed area of a combined authority would be likely to be improved by the making of an order under any one or more of ss 104-107. The requirements applying to the Secretary of State's power to make orders under ss 104-107 in relation to an existing combined authority are set out by s 113. Section 114 provides that the Secretary of State may make incidental, consequential, transitional or supplementary provision in support of an order made under Pt 6. Under s 115, the Secretary of State may make provision by order for the transfer of property, rights and liabilities for the purpose of, or in consequence of, an order under Pt 6. By virtue of s 116, the Secretary of State is allowed, by order, to make provision in consequence of any provision made by Pt 6. Section 117 sets out the procedure for making orders under Pt 6. Under s 118, the Secretary of State can issue guidance about anything which could be done under or by virtue of Pt 6 by a specified authority. Section 119 introduces Sch 6, which makes a number of amendments to apply provisions of local government and transport law to EPB's and combined authorities. Section 120 deals with interpretation.

Part 7 (ss 121-137) Multi-area agreements

Section 121 defines a multi-area agreement, and s 122 defines 'local authority' for the purpose of Pt 7. A list of public bodies and persons that will be 'partner authorities' for the purpose of a multi-area agreement are set out by s 123. By virtue of s 124, any group of two or more local authorities may approach the Secretary of State and request that the Secretary of State direct a multi-area agreement to be prepared for their area and submitted to the Secretary of State. Section 125 provides for the Secretary of State, in response to a request made under s 124, to direct the responsible authority to prepare and submit a draft multi-area agreement. Section 126 places certain duties on the responsible authority and other local and partner authorities where a direction has been issued under s 125, following a request under s 124. Provision is made by s 127 for the Secretary of State to approve, require modifications to or reject a draft multi-area agreement that is submitted in accordance with a direction issued under s 125. Section 128 provides for a multi-area agreement that is prepared through procedures other than following a direction from the Secretary of State under s125 to be submitted with a request that the Secretary of State approve it. Under s 129, the Secretary of State is able to approve a multi-area agreement submitted under s 128. A duty is placed by s 130 on all local and partner authorities for the area covered by a multi-area agreement approved by the Secretary of State under ss 127 or 129 to have regard, when exercising their functions, to each improvement target in the agreement that relates to them. Section 131 defines who the responsible authority is and provides a mechanism for this to be changed by the local authorities to whom improvement targets in a multi-area agreement relate, with the agreement of the Secretary of State. A mechanism is provided by s 132 for a multi-area agreement that has been approved by the Secretary of State to be amended. Section 133 places equivalent duties on the responsible authority to consult and co-operate and have regard to guidance, and on other local and partner authorities to co-operate and have regard to guidance, when preparing a revision proposal as is placed on them when they are preparing a draft multi-area agreement by s 126. In accordance with s 134, the Secretary of State may approve or reject a revision proposal that is submitted by the responsible authority. A duty is placed on the responsible authority by s 135 to publish information about the multi-area agreement and any subsequent changes that are made to it through a revision proposal but leaves the decision as to what information is to be published and the manner of publication to the responsible authority. Under s 136, the Secretary of State is required to consult representatives of local government and, if appropriate, other people with an interest in multi-area agreements before issuing the guidance that responsible, local and partner authorities will have to have regard to in preparing agreements and revision proposals. Section 137 deals with interpretation.

Part 8 (ss 138-145) Construction contracts

Section 138 substitutes a new power allowing the Secretary of State and Welsh Ministers to disapply, by order, any or all of the provisions of the Housing Grants, Construction and Regeneration Act 1996 Pt 2 (ss 104-117) in relation to descriptions of construction contract specified in the relevant order. By virtue of the 2009 Act s 139, the original limitation of the 1996 Act Pt 2 to contracts which were in writing is removed, but it is prescribed that various matters must nonetheless be in writing. A provision to facilitate the correction of clerical or typographical errors in an adjudicator's decision is introduced by s 140. Section 141 provides that any contractual provision by the parties to a construction contract concerning the allocation between them of costs relating to an adjudication is ineffective unless certain conditions apply. Section 142 addresses the issue of making periodic payments under a construction contract conditional on obligations under another contract, and the issue of making the date a payment becomes due dependent on the giving of a notice by the payer of the sum the payer proposes to pay. Section 143 amends the original provisions of the 1996 Act relating to the notices which a payer gives of the sum which the payer proposes to pay and introduces provisions relating to the giving of notices by the payee. A statutory requirement to pay sums specified in such notices is introduced by the 2009 Act s 144. Section 145 amends the provisions relating to a contractor's right to stop working when the contractor has not been paid so as to put it beyond a doubt that a contractor may stop carrying out some, and not simply all, of the work in such a case.

Part 9 (ss 146-150) Final

Section 146 introduces Sch 7, which contains various repeals. Sections 147-150 deal with extent, commencement and the short title.

Amendments, repeals and revocations

Subscribers should note that the lists below mention repeals and amendments which are or will be effective when the Act is fully in force. Please refer to the top of this summary for details of the in-force dates of the provisions of the Act. Please also note that these lists are not exhaustive.

Specific provisions of a number of Acts are amended, added or repealed. These include: Local Government Act 1972 ss 248, 249, Sch 28A; Housing Grants, Construction and Regeneration Act 1996 ss 106A, 107, 108, 108A, 110, 110A, 110B, 111, 112; Regional Development Agencies Act 1998 s 7; Local Government Act 2000 s 21ZA; Government of Wales Act 2006 Sch 5; Local Government and Public Involvement in Health Act 2007 ss 8, 10-12, 123; and Housing and Regeneration Act 2008 s 278A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/STOP PRESS: POLITICAL PARTIES AND ELECTIONS ACT 2009

STOP PRESS: POLITICAL PARTIES AND ELECTIONS ACT 2009

The Political Parties and Elections Act 2009 makes provision in connection with the Electoral Commission, about political donations, loans and related transactions, about political expenditure, and about elections and electoral registration. The Act received the royal assent on 21 July 2009 and ss 1 (in part), 4, 5, 7, 22, 32 (in part), 38, 40-44, Schs 5, 6 (in part), 7 (in part) came into force on that day. Sections 23 and 24, Sch 6 paras 1-5, 8 and various repeals in Sch 7 came into force on 4 September 2009: SI 2009/2395. Section 21, Sch 6 paras 6, 7, and a repeal in Sch 7 came into force on 25 November 2009, and ss 12-18, 20, Sch 6 para 24, and various repeals in Sch 7 came into force on 1 January 2010: SI 2009/3084. The remaining provisions come into force on a day or days to be appointed.

Part 1 (ss 1-8) The Electoral Commission

Section 1 provides that, in addition to its existing function of monitoring compliance with certain requirements relating to registered party accounting, political donations, campaign and election expenditure, and referendums, the Commission has the function of taking appropriate steps to secure compliance with those requirements and allows it to publish guidance as to what conduct it considers to be necessary or sufficient in order to comply with the legislative requirements, and what conduct it considers to be desirable in view of the purpose of such requirements. Section 2, Sch 1 make provision about the investigatory powers of the Commission, by enabling it to require access to information for certain purposes, including where it is conducting an investigation into a potential criminal offence, and, where a criminal investigation is not being conducted, in relation to limited categories of individual or body and only after obtaining a warrant from a magistrate, to enter premises to inspect and make copies of relevant documents; and make provision as to the penalties for offences in relation to such investigations. The Commission has new powers under s 3, Sch 2 to apply a range of civil sanctions to offences and contraventions under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000. The 2009 Act s 4 expands the series of requirements for the appointment of Electoral Commissioners and the Commission chairman so that each person proposed for appointment must have been selected in accordance with a procedure put in place and overseen by the Speaker's Committee. Section 5 makes provision facilitating the appointment to the Commission of four Electoral Commissioners who are persons put forward by the parties, sets out requirements about their selection and imposes certain restrictions to prevent the appointment of two or more such Commissioners from the same political party and to prevent such a Commissioner from being appointed to a Boundary Committee. By virtue of s 6, there must be not less than nine or ten Electoral Commissioners. A person may not be appointed as an Electoral Commissioner within five years of engaging in certain political activities, and existing political restrictions imposed on certain staff are reduced: s 7. Section 8 removes the duty imposed on the Electoral Commission to promote awareness of current and pending systems of local and national government and the institutions of the European Union.

Part 2 (ss 9-22) Political donations etc and expenditure

Section 9 requires a person who causes money to be received by a registered party to make a written declaration in respect of a donation over a single threshold of £7,500, irrespective of whether the donation is made to a party's central organisation or to a local accounting unit of the same party, prohibits the party from accepting the donation if no such declaration has been made, and makes it a criminal offence for a person knowingly or recklessly to make a false declaration about a donation.

A registered party is prohibited by s 10 from accepting a donation of more than £7,500 from an individual who is not resident, ordinarily resident and domiciled in the United Kingdom for the purposes of income tax, and requires donors who are individuals to give a declaration as to whether they satisfy this condition.

Section 11 makes similar provision in relation to regulated transactions with non-resident lenders by requiring an individual who is a party to such a transaction to give a declaration confirming that he satisfies the residency condition. Section 12 provides a defence to a charge of failing to return a donation accepted from an impermissible donor so that, if a party or a treasurer is charged with such an offence, he will not be guilty if he can show that he took all reasonable steps to verify that the donor was a permissible donor and, having done so, believed that such was the case. Section 13 provides that, in determining whether any of certain specified offences relating to the reporting of accounts, donations and loans and associated defences has been committed, there must be considered whether there is a reasonable excuse for the act or omission in question; and removes the existing separate defence to each offence of having taken all reasonable steps or having exercised all due diligence to ensure that the relevant act or omission did not occur. Section 14 requires a members association with no treasurer to appoint a responsible person, in circumstances where the association is in receipt of a reportable permissible donation, or an impermissible recordable donation above £500, and sets out the procedure to be followed in appointing such a person. Section 15 provides for the appointment of compliance officers to assist holders of relevant elective office with their obligations to report donations. Section 16 amends provisions relating to control of loans to members associations, and s 17 enables a compliance officer to assist a holder of elective office with his obligations in relation to the reporting of regulated transactions.

A person is prohibited by s 18 from being a responsible person for more than one third party. By virtue of s 19, Sch 5, an unincorporated association which makes, in a calendar year, a political contribution of more than £25,000 to any recipient, including political parties, regulated by the 2000 Act will be subject to a new reporting regime in respect of gifts of a certain value received by it within a specified period. The donation thresholds are increased (s 20); and pre-candidacy election expenses for certain general elections are limited (s 21). An additional power is conferred on the Electoral Commission by s 22 to issue guidance about the circumstances in which election expenses are to be regarded as having been incurred for the purpose of a candidate's election.

Part 3 (ss 23-27) Elections

New arrangements are made by s 23 to expedite the registration of eligible electors in the event of an election falling within a canvass period. A candidate at a parliamentary election is entitled under s 24 to withhold his home address from publication. Section 25 applies to Scotland, and s 26 applies to Northern Ireland. Section 27 provides for the proper officer of the Greater London Authority to be eligible to be designated by the Secretary of State as a returning officer for European Parliamentary elections in a region in England and Wales.

Part 4 (ss 28-37) Electoral registration

Section 28 provides for the establishment, by order made by the Secretary of State, of one or more Co-ordinated On-line Record of Electors ('CORE') schemes; and for any such scheme to be run by a CORE keeper designated by the Secretary of State and for electoral registers and related information to be consolidated into a centralised record maintained by the electoral registration officers in the area covered by the scheme. The use of CORE information is subject to the conditions or restrictions set out in s 29. By virtue of s 30, registration officers are required, after 1 July 2010, to take steps to collect identifying information from eligible electors for the purpose of improving the accuracy of the electoral register but the officer must explain that an elector is not obliged to provide such information. Regulations may be made under s 31 amending or supplementing s 30. The Electoral Commission is required by s 32 both to monitor the operation of s 30 and any supplementary regulations and to submit to the Secretary of State an annual report which must contain a recommendation which will help to determine whether the voluntary provision of identifying information by electors should become obligatory. Section 33 amends the Representation of the People Act 1983 in the event that the provision of identifying information becomes obligatory, and the 2009 Act s 34 makes supplementary provision enabling the Secretary of State, after consulting the Electoral Commission, to amend provisions of the 1983 Act relating to the obligatory collection of identifiers. Section 35 enables the Secretary of State to create by order a scheme which requires a public or local authority to supply a registration officer with data which the authority can use for the purpose of maintaining a complete and accurate electoral register and ensuring that any other information it holds on electors is accurate. An order may not be made under s 35 unless the procedural steps, set out in s 36, concerning proposals, consultation and evaluation have been followed. Section 37 defines certain expressions relating to registration.

Part 5 (ss 38-44) General

Section 38 defines 'the 1983 Act' and 'the 2000 Act'. Provision is made by the 2009 Act s 39, Schs 6, 7 for minor and consequential amendments and repeals. Section 40 makes transitional provision, and s 41 provides for circumstances where the provisions of the 2009 Act cause any increase in sums paid under other Acts. Section 42 deals with extent, s 43 with commencement, and s 44 with the short title.

Amendments, repeals and revocations

Subscribers should note that the list below mentions repeals and amendments which are or will be effective when the Act is fully in force. Please refer to the top of this summary for details of the in-force dates of the provisions of the Act. This information may also be found in the COMMENCEMENT OF STATUTES table in the Current Service Noter-up booklet. Please also note that the list is not exhaustive.

Specific provisions of a number of Acts are amended or repealed. These include: Representation of the People Act 1983 ss 10, 10A, 13, 13A, 63, 65A, 70, 76A, 90ZA, Schs 1, 2, 4A; Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 ss 1, 3, 13, 15, 47, 54-56, 58, 62, 65, 67, 71H, 71L, 71S, 71U, 88, 145-149, 156, 160, Schs 1, 6, 6A, 7, 7A, 11, 15, 20; European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 ss 5, 6; Electoral Administration Act 2006 ss 1, 2, 6, 62.

1. INTRODUCTION AND GENERAL FRAMEWORK

(1) INTRODUCTION

1. Scope of title.

This title sets out the law relating to the electoral procedures which govern the administration, conduct and questioning of parliamentary¹ and local government elections², elections to the National Assembly for Wales³ and elections to the European Parliament⁴. The relevant law is largely statutory and, because of the general similarity of many of the provisions, this title considers the law relating to the various elections together wherever possible⁵.

This title also sets out the law relating to the administration, conduct and questioning of referendums or other polls held in pursuance of any provision made by or under an Act of Parliament⁶. There is coverage of the standing statutory arrangements which provide a framework for national or regional referendums⁷ and of the statutory provisions relating to local authority referendums, and polls held on a question consequent on a parish or community meeting are also dealt with⁸.

Statute makes extensive provision for the combination of polls for elections and referendums with other relevant elections or referendums, mainly by applying the main statutory rules with modifications⁹. The modifications are noted but, in order to avoid repetition, the rules as modified are not set out in this work.

This title includes the following material which is ancillary to the administration, conduct and questioning of elections and referendums: (1) the establishment, constitution and functions of the Electoral Commission¹⁰ and the Boundary Commissions¹¹; (2) the establishment and review of electoral boundaries¹²; (3) the procedure for initiating the various elections and for the filling of vacancies¹³, the various voting systems employed in them¹⁴, and the qualifications for candidacy¹⁵; and (4) the procedure for initiating the various referendums¹⁶.

The following matters are dealt with elsewhere in this work: (a) the oversight of political parties when they are undertaking continuing political activity (in contradistinction to the activity they undertake during an election period, when particular restrictions apply)¹⁷; (b) the terms attached to offices to which candidates are elected¹⁸; and (c) the establishment and constitution of the assemblies to which candidates are elected¹⁹.

1 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 post. In this title, the term 'parliamentary election' (without anything further) is used to denote an election to the United Kingdom Parliament. See also note 4 infra.

2 The treatment of local government elections includes London mayoral and London Assembly elections. As to City of London elections see PARA 30 post.

3 In this title, the term 'Welsh Assembly election' is used to denote an election to the National Assembly for Wales and to distinguish such an election from a 'London Assembly election'.

4 As to the different types of election see PARA 9 et seq post.

In this title, the term 'European parliamentary election' is used to denote an election to the European Parliament. See also note 1 supra.

Although Gibraltar now forms part of a 'combined region' in the United Kingdom for the purpose of elections to the European Parliament (see the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 Pt II (ss 9-24) (as amended); and PARAS 13, 76 post), Gibraltar is discussed in this title only within the context of general arrangements. As to the constitution of Gibraltar see COMMONWEALTH vol 13 (2009) PARA 859.

5 In general, each paragraph contains a general statement of the relevant law and any variations to that statement are accommodated in the footnotes (or, less commonly, in the text of the paragraph itself). However, occasionally, where there are variations between the different types of election, matters may be set out in separate paragraphs or under separate headings.

6 As to the different types of referendum see PARAS 14-15 post.

7 In the under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Pt VII (ss 101-129) (as amended): see PARA 519 et seq post. The framework does not apply to polls which are held with regard to the exercise of functions by the Welsh Ministers; such polls are dealt with separately: see PARA 554 et seq post.

This title also considers any primary legislation which has been required when any particular referendum has been conducted within the framework: see eg the Regional Assemblies (Preparations) Act 2003; and PARA 547 et seq post.

8 As to the conduct of local authority referendums see PARA 557 et seq post; and as to polls held on a question consequent on a parish or community meeting see PARA 558 et seq post.

9 As to the provision made for the combination of polls see PARA 16 et seq post.

10 As to the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq post.

11 As to the Boundary Commissions see PARA 67 et seq post. See also LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 54 et seq; PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 896.

12 As to the establishment and review of electoral boundaries see PARA 72 et seq post. As to structural and boundary changes which are required for the purposes of local administration (rather than for electoral purposes) see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 54 et seq.

13 See PARA 196 et seq post. As to parliamentary elections see also PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARAS 998-1000, 1094-1095; as to local government and mayoral elections see also LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARAS 126 et seq, 320 et seq; as to London mayoral or London Assembly elections see also LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARAS 88 et seq, 106 et seq; as to elections to the National Assembly for Wales see also CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS; and as to European parliamentary elections see, in particular, PARA 224 et seq post.

14 See PARA 344 et seq post.

15 See PARA 231 et seq post. As to parliamentary elections see also PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 897 et seq; as to local government and mayoral elections see also LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARAS 126 et seq, 320 et seq; as to London mayoral or London Assembly elections see also LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 85; as to elections to the National Assembly for Wales see also CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS; and as to European parliamentary elections see, in particular, PARAS 235-236 post.

16 As to initiating a national or regional referendum see PARA 519 et seq post. As to polls regarding the functions of the Welsh Ministers see PARA 554 post. As to the forms of executive for which a local authority referendum is required see PARA 560 et seq post; and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 312 et seq. As to how polls consequent on a parish or community meeting come about see PARA 586 et seq post; and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 638.

17 As to the continuing activity of political parties see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. The registration of political parties is a condition precedent to candidacy at certain elections (see PARA 260 post), but the subject of registration generally (together with the accounting and financial responsibilities that attend registration) is dealt with in CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. Matters that relate more specifically to elections, such as the control of donations to candidates at an election, the limitation of candidates' election expenses, the control of expenditure by registered parties in a national parliamentary election campaign and the control of donations to, and the control of expenditure by, recognised third parties in national parliamentary election campaigns (along with the particular accounting and financial responsibilities that apply during election periods) are dealt with in this title: see PARA 260 et seq post.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/1. INTRODUCTION AND GENERAL FRAMEWORK/(1) INTRODUCTION/2. The Secretary of State.

2. The Secretary of State.

In any enactment, 'Secretary of State'¹ means one of Her Majesty's principal Secretaries of State². In general, electoral matters are the responsibility of the Secretary of State for Constitutional Affairs³.

Certain functions of the Lord Chancellor under the Representation of the People Act 1983⁴, the Representation of the People Act 1985, the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986⁵, the Representation of the People Act 2000⁶, the Election Publications Act 2001, the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 and the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 have been transferred to the Secretary of State⁷.

The power to make provision about elections to the National Assembly for Wales is exercisable by the Secretary of State for Wales⁸.

1 As to the office of Secretary of State generally see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 355.

2 As to the Secretary of State responsible for functions relating to local government see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 96.

3 See the Interpretation Act 1978 s 5, Sch 1.

4 Ie except the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 161 (as amended) (justice of the peace reported to have been guilty of corrupt practice: see PARA 900 post).

5 Ie except the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 s 2, Sch 1 para 3 (prospectively repealed) (appointment of deputy chairmen of the Boundary Commissions: see PARA 68 post).

6 Ie the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 12, Sch 4 (as amended) (absent voting in Great Britain: see PARA 368 et seq post).

7 The functions were transferred from the Lord Chancellor to the Secretary of State for Constitutional Affairs by the Secretary of State for Constitutional Affairs Order 2003, SI 2003/1887, art 4, Sch 1, the Secretary of State being incorporated under art 3 to take over specified functions of the Lord Chancellor and the First Secretary of State (see arts 4-8). As to the Lord Chancellor see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 477 et seq.

8 See the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 13; and PARA 12 post. The provisions of the Government of Wales Act 2006 come into force immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5). As to the provisions that apply for these purposes until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 11. As to the Secretary of State for Wales see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 520.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/1. INTRODUCTION AND GENERAL FRAMEWORK/(2) LEGAL FRAMEWORK/(i) The Legislative Basis/3. Outline of legislation relating to elections.

(2) LEGAL FRAMEWORK

(i) The Legislative Basis

3. Outline of legislation relating to elections.

Electoral procedures which govern the conduct and administration of parliamentary and local government elections, elections to the National Assembly for Wales and elections to the European Parliament are described in detail in statute law and in subordinate legislation¹. The statutes and related legislation are particularly concerned with the procedural aspects of voting². Provision is also made with regard to: the franchise and its exercise³; the conduct of election campaigns, especially in relation to how such campaigns are organised, funded and conducted by candidates and their supporters⁴; and the questioning of elections on the basis of electoral irregularity⁵. Certain principles and rules that were developed and applied to election petitions by committees of the House of Commons are still to be observed by the High Court and the election court⁶.

Provision is made for combining any of the elections mentioned above with any other relevant election or referendum by applying the statutory provisions and rules in a modified form⁷.

1 The main statutory provisions governing each type of election are: (1) the Representation of the People Acts, supplemented by the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended); (2) the Government of Wales Act 1998 ss 1-15 (as amended; prospectively repealed), and the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284 (as amended; prospectively revoked); and (3) the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002, and the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293 (as amended) made thereunder. These provisions are often similar and are considered together in this title wherever possible.

The Acts which may be cited as 'the Representation of the People Acts' include the Representation of the People Act 1981, the Representation of the People Act 1983, the Representation of the People Act 1985, the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986, the Representation of the People Act 1989, the Representation of the People Act 1991 (prospectively repealed), the Boundary Commissions Act 1992, the Representation of the People Act 1993 and the Representation of the People Act 2000: see the Representation of the People Act 1981 s 4; the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 207(1); the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 29(1); the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 s 9(1); the Representation of the People Act 1989 s 8; the Representation of the People Act 1991 s 3 (prospectively repealed by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 158(2), Sch 22); the Boundary Commissions Act 1992 s 5(2); the Representation of the People Act 1993 s 2; and the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 17(1). The Representation of the People Act 1983 consolidated the Representation of the People Acts 1949, 1969, 1977, 1978 and 1980, the Electoral Registers Acts 1949 and 1953, the Elections (Welsh Forms) Act 1964, the Local Government Act 1972 Pt III (ss 39-45), the Representation of the People (Armed Forces) Act 1976, the Representation of the People Act 1981 s 3 and the Mental Health (Amendment) Act 1982 s 62, Sch 2, and repealed as obsolete the Representation of the People Act 1979. However, these Acts themselves often consolidated or incorporated legislation dating back to the nineteenth century and much of the detail of the legislation dates from that era. The Representation of the People Act 1983 is supplemented by and has been amended by other Acts in various respects.

The Representation of the People Act 1981 included provision for the disqualification of certain offenders for election to the House of Commons: see PARA 271 post. The Representation of the People Act 1985 extended the franchise for United Kingdom parliamentary and European parliamentary elections to British citizens overseas and provided for the combination of polls taken on the same date at such elections and at local elections. The Representation of the People Act 1989 made further provision relating to overseas electors and the expenses of candidates at parliamentary by-elections. The Representation of the People Act 1991 made provision for moneys given to returning officers for services rendered during United Kingdom parliamentary elections. The Representation of the People Act 1993 amended the Representation of the People Act 1983 in relation to the armed forces franchise. The Representation of the People Act 2000 introduced a system of 'rolling' registration of voters for the purposes of parliamentary and local government elections (as to which see PARA 132 note 3 post), allowed for pilot schemes to introduce new electoral procedures for local elections in England and Wales and re-enacted the provisions allowing for absent and proxy voting at parliamentary or local government elections, which were first introduced in the Representation of the People Act 1985 ss 5-9 (repealed). The Representation of the People Act 2000 also repealed the Representation of the People Act 1990. The Electoral Administration Act 2006 provided for the co-ordinated on-line registration of electors and provided measures which aimed to make the electoral system more convenient and accessible to the electorate while improving the integrity and security of the vote.

The Secretary of State may by order make such amendments of the enactments relating to the representation of the people as in his opinion facilitate or are otherwise desirable in connection with the consolidation of some or all of those enactments: s 72(1). For these purposes, the enactments relating to the representation of the people are the Representation of the People Act 1983, the Representation of the People Act 1985, the Representation of the People Act 1989, the Representation of the People Act 1993, the Representation of the People Act 2000, the Electoral Administration Act 2006, and an enactment referring to any such enactment: s 72(2). Such an order is not to come into force unless an Act consolidating the enactments amended by the order (with or without other enactments relating to the representation of the people) has been passed (s 72(3)) and until immediately before that Act comes into force (s 72(4)). If the provisions of that Act come into force at different times, so much of an order as amends an enactment repealed and re-enacted by a provision of that Act comes into force immediately before that provision: s 72(5), (6). An order must not be made unless the Secretary of State first consults the Electoral Commission (as to which see note 4 infra): s 72(7). Such an order must be made by statutory instrument, but no such order may be made unless a draft of the statutory instrument containing the order has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament: s 72(8).

In relation to Welsh Assembly elections, the Government of Wales Act 1998 is repealed, effective immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 (under s 3): see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5). Accordingly, thereafter the reference to the Government of Wales Act 1998 ss 1-15 in head (2) supra must be read as a reference to the Government of Wales Act 2006 ss 1-19. Effective from 1 February 2007, the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284 (as amended) is revoked and replaced by the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2007, SI 2007/236: see arts 1, 149.

The European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 consolidated the European Parliamentary Elections Acts of 1978, 1993 and 1999. The European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 amended the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 consequent on the accession of new member states to the European Union and made provision for the Electoral Commission (as to which see note 4 infra) to advise on the revision of electoral regions. It also provided for free elections to the European Parliament to be held in Gibraltar, consequent on the decision in Application 24833/94 Matthews v United Kingdom (1999) 28 EHRR 361, ECtHR: see further PARA 13 post.

The Representation of the People Acts are applied with modifications by regulations made under the Local Government Act 2000 ss 44, 105 (as amended) for the purpose of electing a local authority mayor where executive arrangements are in place: see PARA 388 post; and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 320. Parish and community council elections and elections to the chair of such a council or of a parish meeting are provided for by applying the Representation of the People Act 1983, subject to modifications effected by rules made under s 36 (as amended): see s 187 (as amended); and PARA 388 post. Elections under the Greater London Authority Act 1999 of the Mayor of London and members of the London Assembly are treated as local government elections for the purposes of the Representation of the People Acts: see PARA 10 post; and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 88. The Representation of the People Act 1983 is applied to City of London elections (ward and municipal) by ss 191, 193-198 (as amended), which also modify the various City of London Acts governing ward elections: see PARA 30 post. The law applying to elections in the City of London is unique in many respects and accordingly is not dealt with in this title: see further LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 41 et seq.

For the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983, 'election' means a parliamentary election, an Authority election or an election under the local government Act: s 202(1) (definition amended by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 17, Sch 3 paras 1, 38(1), (2)(a)). For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 post; and for the meanings of 'Authority election' and 'election under the local government Act' see PARA 10 post. For the purposes of the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284 (as amended), 'Assembly election' means a 'constituency election' (ie an election to return an Assembly member for an Assembly constituency) or a 'regional election' (ie an election to return Assembly members for an Assembly electoral region), where both 'Assembly constituency' and 'Assembly electoral region' are to be construed in accordance with the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 2(5), Sch 1 (see PARAS 75, 103 post): National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 2(1). For the purposes of the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, 'election' means a European parliamentary election: reg 2(1). As to elections for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 12 et seq post; and as to elections held in the United Kingdom for the return of members of the European Parliament see PARA 13 et seq post.

2 The main rules for conducting a ballot appear in: (1) the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 (as amended) (the 'parliamentary elections rules': see PARA 388 note 2 post); (2) the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 16(1), Sch 5 (as amended) (for elections to the National Assembly for Wales) (see PARA 388 post); and (3) the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 9(1), Sch 1 (as amended) (the 'European parliamentary elections rules': see PARA 388 note 18 post). The conduct of local government elections is provided for by the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, r 3, Sch 2 and the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2: see PARA 388 post. The latter rules are also applied, by virtue of the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2), to the conduct of a poll consequent on a parish or community meeting: see the Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1 (as amended); and PARA 388 post. The Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(1), Sch 1 (as amended) (see PARA 388 post) provide for local authority mayoral elections where executive arrangements are in place under the Local Government Act 2000 (as to which see PARA 560 et seq post; and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 320 et seq). In relation to London elections, the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, provide separate rules of conduct for London mayoral elections (r 3(3), Sch 3 (as amended)), London Assembly (constituency member) elections (r 3(1), Sch 1 (as amended)) and London Assembly (London member) elections (r 3(2), Sch 2 (as amended)): see PARA 388 post.

3 See the Representation of the People Act 1983 Pt I (ss 1-66A) (as amended); the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Pt II (arts 3-34) (as amended); the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, regs 6-30 (as amended); and PARA 110 et seq post.

A uniform franchise which included a qualification based upon residence (rather than qualification based exclusively on the ownership or occupation of property) was first established by the Representation of the People Act 1918 (repealed), which also for the first time introduced votes for women (who qualified upon attaining the age of 30 years). The franchise and its exercise continues to be affected by statute: the Representation of the People Act 2000 allows patients in mental hospitals who are not detained offenders or on remand, persons who are remanded in custody, and persons who are homeless to be registered as parliamentary and local government electors on the basis of declarations of local connection: see PARA 132 et seq post.

4 See the Representation of the People Act 1983 Pt II (ss 67-119) (as amended); the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Pt III (arts 35-84); and the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Pt 2 (regs 31-81) (as amended); and PARA 237 et seq post.

The Representation of the People Act 1983 (as originally enacted) did not recognise the role of political parties in elections and its focus on restricting candidates' expenses at a constituency level had no effect on what political parties as a whole spent on fighting elections at a national level. In 1997, the Committee on Standards in Public Life was given extended terms of reference to consider the whole area of the funding of political parties: see 300 HC Official Report (6th series), 12 November 1997, col 899. The government responded to the publication of the Committee's report (ie Standards in Public Life (Fifth Report): The Funding of Political Parties in the United Kingdom (Cm 4057) (October 1998) (the 'Neill Report')) by enacting the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000. This Act addressed the concerns raised by the Committee's report by making provision for the registration and financial accountability of political parties and for controls on donations and expenditure for political purposes, including during election campaigns; these provisions have since been supplemented and amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006: see PARA 274 et seq post. The Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 sought to underpin its reforms by establishing an independent Electoral Commission with widespread executive and investigative powers (see PARA 31 et seq post), and sought further to ensure that referendum campaigns were conducted by properly-funded participants and with the minimum of interference from the executive (see PARA 4 post).

5 See the Representation of the People Act 1983 Pt III (ss 120-186) (as amended); the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Pt IV (arts 85-137) (as amended); the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Pt 4 (regs 86-122) (as amended); and PARA 759 et seq post. See also, in relation to a United Kingdom parliamentary or local government election, the Election Petition Rules 1960, SI 1960/543 (as amended) (which also have effect subject to modifications in relation to a Welsh Assembly election petition by virtue of the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 133(3), Sch 9); and, in relation to a European parliamentary election, the European Parliamentary Election Petition Rules 1979, SI 1979/521 (as amended).

6 See PARA 765 post. In particular, the principles and rules with regard to agency (see PARA 251 et seq post), evidence (see PARA 829 et seq post) and scrutiny (see PARA 837 et seq post) must be observed.

7 See further PARA 16 et seq post. See also PARA 1 ante.

4. Outline of legislation relating to referendums.

Historically, referendums have been called only rarely in the United Kingdom and, when called, they have taken place under specially enacted provisions. In recent times, arrangements were made for referendums to consider such questions as the future of Northern Ireland following the introduction of direct rule in that province¹; whether the United Kingdom should withdraw from membership of the European Economic Community (as it was then)²; whether certain proposals to devolve power to Scotland and to Wales should be approved³; whether a Scottish Parliament should be established and should have tax-varying powers⁴; whether a Welsh Assembly should be established⁵; whether a Greater London Authority should be established with a directly-elected Mayor and Assembly⁶; and whether the Good Friday Agreement relating to Northern Ireland should be accepted⁷.

The Fifth Report on the Funding of Political Parties in the United Kingdom published in October 1998⁸, in considering issues surrounding the funding of political parties and election campaigns, made further recommendations in relation to similar issues raised by referendum campaigns⁹. In response to that report, the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 was enacted, which (amongst other things) sets out a legal framework within which national and regional referendums within the United Kingdom are to be held¹⁰. However, the legislative framework does not apply to polls held to ascertain the views of the public in Wales or in any part of Wales with regard to how relevant functions of the Welsh Ministers should be exercised¹¹. Nor does it apply to referendums held at a local level such as referendums held to consider proposals for the adoption of executive arrangements under the Local Government Act 2000¹², to local polls held under the Local Government Act 2003¹³, or to polls held on a question consequent on a parish or community meeting¹⁴.

9 See ibid Ch 12. In this regard, the main recommendations of the report were directed principally at ensuring that each side in a referendum campaign (which would not necessarily divide along party lines) had a fair opportunity to put its views to the public (particularly with regard to access to funding) and that referendum campaigns were not skewed by the intervention of the government of the day: see Recommendations R83-R93.

10 See the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Pt VII (ss 101-129) (as amended); and PARA 519 et seq post. Although these provisions introduced standing statutory arrangements for the conduct of referendums, further legislation will continue to be required to provide for the holding of any particular major referendum within this framework: see eg the Regional Assemblies (Preparations) Act 2003; and PARA 547 et seq post.

11 See the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 64; and PARA 554 et seq post.

12 See the Local Government Act 2000 ss 25-27; and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 312 et seq. Provision for the rules of conduct for such referendums is made by applying the statutory provisions and rules in a modified form: see the Local Authorities (Conduct of Referendums) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1298 (as amended); the Local Authorities (Conduct of Referendums) (Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/870; and PARA 557 et seq post. Provision is made for combining local authority referendums in England with any other relevant election or referendum by applying the statutory provisions and rules in a modified form: see the Local Authorities (Conduct of Referendums) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1298, regs 15-17 (as amended), Sch 5 (as substituted); and PARA 29 et seq post. See also PARA 1 ante.

13 In polls conducted by a local authority to ascertain the views of those polled about matters relating to services provided by the authority, the authority's expenditure on such services, or any other matter relating to the authority's power to promote the well-being of its area: see PARA 559 et seq post.

14 In the application of those provisions referred to in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 187(1) (as amended) to a poll consequent on a parish or community meeting, the adaptations, alterations and exceptions have effect as specified in the Parish and Community Meetings (Polls) Rules 1987, SI 1987/1, r 6: see PARA 558 et seq post.

6. Elections required under European law.

The EC Treaty¹ provides that elections to the European Parliament are to be by direct universal suffrage². The Treaty further provides that the European Parliament will draw up a proposal for elections by direct universal suffrage in accordance with a uniform procedure in all member states, or in accordance with principles common to all member states, and that the Council, acting unanimously after obtaining the assent of the European Parliament, which is to act by a majority of its component members, is to lay down the appropriate provisions, which it is to recommend to member states for adoption in accordance with their respective constitutional requirements³. On 20 September 1976, the Council adopted an Act concerning the election of the representatives of the European Parliament by direct universal suffrage⁴. The 1976 Act established that, subject to the other provisions of the Act⁵, the electoral procedure is governed in each member state by its national provisions, with the proviso that, while these provisions may if appropriate take account of the specific situation in the member states, they must not affect the essentially proportional nature of the voting system⁶.

The EC Treaty also provides that every citizen of the European Union residing in a member state of which he is not a national has the right to vote and to stand as a candidate in elections to the European Parliament⁷ and at municipal elections in the member state in which he resides, under the same conditions as nationals of that state⁸.

1 The Treaty Establishing the European Community (Rome, 25 March 1957; TS 1 (1973); Cmnd 5179).

2 See ibid art 190(1) (art 190 formerly art 138; renumbered by virtue of the Treaty of Amsterdam: see Treaty Citation (No 2) (Note) [1999] All ER (EC) 646, ECJ). The number of representatives elected to the European Parliament in each member state is specified in EC Treaty art 190(2) (as so renumbered). As to the term of office of elected representatives see art 190(3) (as so renumbered); and para 224 post. As to the basis of the authority for regulations and the general conditions governing the performance of their duties see art 190(5) (as so renumbered). 3 See EC Treaty art 190(4) (as renumbered: see note 2 supra). A uniform electoral procedure has not yet been introduced. A challenge to the failure of the Community institutions to provide for such a procedure was defeated as serving no further purpose in Case C-41/92 Liberal Democrats v European Parliament [1993] ECR I-3153, ECJ, on the basis that the European Parliament had adopted Resolution A3-0381/92 (OJ C115, 26.04.93, p 121) on a draft uniform electoral procedure for the election of members of the European Parliament.

4 See the 1976 Act concerning the election of the representatives of the European Parliament by direct universal suffrage (OJ L278, 08.10.76, p 5) (the '1976 Act') (amended and renumbered by EC and Euratom Decision 2002/772 (OJ L283, 21.10.2002, p 1)), annexed to ECSC, EEC and Euratom Decision 76/787 (OJ L278, 08.10.76, p 1).

5 The 1976 Act confirms, for instance, that elections to the European Parliament must be by direct universal suffrage and free and secret: see art 1(3) (as amended and renumbered: see note 4 supra). Various other provisions of the 1976 Act allow member states to set a minimum threshold for the allocation of seats (see art 3 (as added and renumbered: see note 4 supra)); allow each member state to set a ceiling for candidates' campaign expenses (see art 4 (as added and renumbered: see note 4 supra)); require that members of the European Parliament ('MEPs') vote on an individual and personal basis (see art 6 (as amended and renumbered: see note 4 supra)); establish that the office of MEP is incompatible with certain offices in or connected with Community institutions (see art 7 (as amended and renumbered: see note 4 supra)); establish that no one may vote more than once in any election of MEPs (see art 9 (as renumbered: see note 4 supra)); and allow for the European Parliament to verify the credentials of MEPs (see art 12 (as amended and renumbered: see note 4 supra)). The Act also provides for when a seat falls vacant: see art 13 (as substituted and renumbered); and PARA 225 post.

6 See ibid art 8 (as substituted and renumbered: see note 4 supra). The 1976 Act (as amended and renumbered) specifies that members of the European Parliament in each member state must be elected on the basis of proportional representation, using the list system or the single transferable vote, and that member states may authorise voting based on a preferential list system in accordance with the procedure they adopt: see art 1(1), (2) (as so amended and renumbered). Furthermore, in accordance with its specific national situation, each member state may establish constituencies for elections to the European Parliament or subdivide its electoral area in a different manner, without generally affecting the proportional nature of the voting system: see art 2 (as so substituted). As to the national provisions which govern European parliamentary elections in the United Kingdom see PARA 13 et seq post.

7 In the case of elections to the European Parliament, this right is expressed to be without prejudice to EC Treaty art 190(4) (as renumbered: see note 2 supra) (see the text and note 3 supra) and to the provisions adopted for its implementation (see the text and notes 4-6 supra): art 19 (formerly art 8b; renumbered by virtue of the Treaty of Amsterdam: see Treaty Citation (No 2) (Note) [1999] All ER (EC) 646, ECJ).

8 EC Treaty art 19 (as renumbered: see note 7 supra). This right is to be exercised subject to detailed arrangements adopted by the Council, acting unanimously on a proposal from the Commission and after consulting the European Parliament, which may provide for derogations where warranted by problems specific to a member state: see art 19. See further EC Council Directive 93/109 of 6 December 1993 (OJ L329, 30.12.93, p 34), which lays down detailed arrangements for the exercise of the right to vote and stand as a candidate in elections to the European Parliament for citizens of the European Union residing in a member state of which they are not nationals. Nothing in the Directive affects each member state's provisions concerning the right to vote or to stand as a candidate of its nationals who reside outside its electoral territory: see art 1.

NOTES 2, 4--By virtue of art 97, the ECSC Treaty has now expired. Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/1. INTRODUCTION AND GENERAL FRAMEWORK/(2) LEGAL FRAMEWORK/(ii) Rights and Freedoms/7. Rights guaranteed under the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms.

7. Rights guaranteed under the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms.

The right of free elections to the legislature is guaranteed in the scheme of the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms (1950)¹, whereby contracting states² undertake to hold free elections at reasonable intervals by secret ballot, under conditions which will ensure the free expression of the opinion of the people in the choice of the legislature³. The contracting states have a wide margin of appreciation in this sphere⁴, but it is for the European Court of Human Rights to determine in the last resort whether the requirements have been complied with⁵.

The right to freedom of expression, which includes the freedom to hold opinions and to receive and impart information and ideas without interference by public authority and regardless of frontiers⁶, has been applied to political discourse generally and to election campaign communications in particular⁷.

1 le the scheme of the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms (Rome, 4 November 1950; TS 71 (1953); Cmd 8969; Council of Europe, ETS no 5) and the First Protocol (Paris, 20 March 1952; Cmd 9221; Council of Europe, ETS no 9). As to the Convention and the Protocols to the Convention see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 122 et seq. The main provisions of the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms (1950) and its Protocols have been incorporated into English law by the Human Rights Act 1998: see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

2 le the contracting states to the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms (1950), First Protocol (1952).

3 Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms, First Protocol art 3. See further CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 167.

The main decision relating to the First Protocol art 3 is Application 9267/81 Mathieu-Mohin and Clerfayt v Belgium (1987) 10 EHRR 1, ECtHR, which establishes that the right of free elections guarantees individual rights, including the right to vote and the right to stand for elections, but does not require the adoption of any specific electoral system.

4 The rights in question are recognised but not set forth in express terms so they may be subject to conditions by the contracting states: Mathieu-Mohin and Clerfayt v Belgium (1987) 10 EHRR 1, ECtHR.

5 Mathieu-Mohin and Clerfayt v Belgium (1987) 10 EHRR 1, ECtHR. It is for the European Court of Human Rights to satisfy itself that any conditions imposed do not curtail the rights to such an extent as to impair their essence or remove their effectiveness, that they pursue a legitimate aim and that the means employed are proportionate to that aim: Mathieu-Mohin and Clerfayt v Belgium supra at [52]. See also Application 24833/94 Matthews v United Kingdom (1999) 28 EHRR 361 at [62], (1999) 5 BHRC 686 at [62], ECtHR.

In domestic law, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 3(1) (as amended) (see PARA 122 post), which disqualified convicted persons detained in a penal institution from voting at parliamentary or local government elections, was held to fall within the margin of appreciation and was not incompatible with the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms, First Protocol art 3: R (on the application of Pearson and Martinez) v Secretary of State for the Home Department, Hirst v A-G [2001] EWHC Admin 239, [2001] HRLR 39, (2001) Times, 17 April, [2001] All ER (D) 22 (Apr) (there was no reason why Parliament should not take the view that prisoners in custody had forfeited their right to have a say in how the country was governed; deference had to be given to the legislature on the issue of proportionality). However, in related proceedings before the European Court of Human Rights, it was held that an absolute bar on voting by any serving prisoner in any circumstances was not proportionate and did not fall within an acceptable margin of appreciation: Application 74025/01 Hirst v United Kingdom (No 2) (2004) 38 EHRR 825, (2004) 16 BHRC 409, (2004) Times, 8 April, ECtHR (the disenfranchisement affected a substantial number of people and was applied without regard to length of sentence or gravity of offence; the results were arbitrary and anomalous, depending on the timing of elections; there was no evidence that the legislature had sought to weigh the competing interests or to assess the proportionality of the ban; in so far as the ban was intended to be punitive, it should cease when prisoners had completed the punitive element of their sentences and were detained only on preventive grounds). This decision was confirmed on appeal: Application 74025/01 Hirst v United Kingdom (No 2) (2005) 19 BHRC 546, (2005) Times, 10 October, [2005] All ER (D) 59 (Oct), ECtHR (Grand Chamber) (the principle of proportionality required a discernible and sufficient link to be made between the sanction of disenfranchisement and the conduct and circumstances of the individual).

To the extent that English and Welsh domestic law made the right to vote conditional on acquiescence in the sale of copies of the electoral register to commercial interests with no right of objection, it operated in a way which contravened the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms, First Protocol art 3: R (on the application of Robertson) v Wakefield Metropolitan District Council [2001] EWHC 915 (Admin), [2002] QB 1052, [2002] LGR 286. The practice of selling the electoral register for direct marketing purposes without affording an individual elector a right of objection was also found to be a disproportionate interference with the individual's right to respect for his private and family life, home and correspondence under the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms art 8 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 149 et seq) when the electors had provided their details under legal compulsion and for public purposes: R (on the application of Robertson) v Wakefield Metropolitan District Council supra. The Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 114 (see PARA 184 post) was amended as a consequence of this decision.

6 See the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms art 10(1). The exercise of the right to freedom of expression may be subject to such formalities, conditions, restrictions or penalties as are prescribed by law and are necessary in a democratic society for preventing the disclosure of information received in confidence: see art 10(2). See also CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 158-159.

7 See eg Application 24744/94 Huggett v United Kingdom (1995) 82-A DR 98 (BBC policy of allocating broadcasting time only to political parties presenting candidates in at least 12.5% of seats in an election, being intended to facilitate the public expression of political opinions which are likely to be of general interest, did not disclose arbitrariness or discrimination). As to consideration before the domestic courts of the right to free expression see also R (on the application of ProLife Alliance) v BBC [2002] EWCA Civ 297, [2004] 1 AC 185, [2002] 2 All ER 756 (freedom of political speech enjoyed by accredited political parties at general election time must be interfered with only on exceptional grounds which would seldom be found in appeals to taste and decency); revsd on different grounds without argument on this point [2003] UKHL 23, [2004] 1 AC 185, [2003] 2 All ER 977.

The low statutory limit set on expenses incurred by outsiders in publicising a candidate or in promoting political debate at an election (see PARA 277 et seq post) was found to violate the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms art 10 because it operated effectively as a total bar on the provision of information by third parties, while the press was not restricted in like fashion. The limit was found to be disproportionate to the aim pursued of ensuring that political debate in any individual constituency was not dominated by third party issues: Application 24839/94 Bowman v United Kingdom (1998) 26 EHRR 1, (1998) 4 BHRC 25, ECtHR (interference with applicant's freedom of expression, employed in seeking to influence voters in favour of anti-abortion candidates, was not necessary in a democratic society). The Representation of the People Act 1983 s 75 (see PARA 277 post) was amended accordingly.

8. Rights guaranteed under international conventions.

The Universal Declaration of Human Rights¹ guarantees that: (1) everyone has the right to take part in the government of his country, directly or through freely chosen representatives²; (2) everyone has the right to equal access to public service in his country³; and (3) the will of the people must be the basis of the authority of government, and this will must be expressed in periodic and genuine elections by universal and equal suffrage and must be held by secret vote or by equivalent free voting procedures⁴.

Under the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights⁵, every citizen has the right and the opportunity, without discrimination⁶ and without unreasonable restrictions: (a) to take part in the conduct of public affairs, directly or through freely chosen representatives⁷; (b) to vote and to be elected at genuine periodic elections by universal and equal suffrage and by secret ballot, guaranteeing the free expression of the will of the electors⁸; and (c) to have access, on general terms of equality, to public service in his country⁹.

(3) THE DIFFERENT TYPES OF ELECTION

9. Parliamentary elections.

In any Act, 'parliamentary election' means the election of a member to serve in Parliament for a constituency¹; and 'constituency' means² an area having separate representation in the House of Commons³. For the purpose of parliamentary elections, county and borough constituencies are established, each returning a single member⁴.

The franchise for, the conduct of, and the questioning of parliamentary elections are governed by the Representation of the People Act 1983 and associated legislation⁵. Provision is made for the combination of polls for parliamentary elections with any other relevant election or referendum⁶.

1 Interpretation Act 1978 s 5, Sch 1. The Representation of the People Act 1983 provides for a separate election in each parliamentary constituency and does not recognise the concept of a 'general election', which is simply the description that has evolved for the totality of separate parliamentary elections occurring simultaneously. Accordingly, the term 'parliamentary election' is defined in the Interpretation Act 1978 in terms which make it plain that it means an election for a particular constituency and not a panoply of elections commonly known as a general election: see R v Tronoh Mines Ltd [1952] 1 All ER 697, [1952] 1 TLR 461, CCA. In this title, the term 'parliamentary election' (without anything further) is used to denote an election to the United Kingdom Parliament.

2 Ibid in the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 and, except where the context otherwise requires, in any Act passed after the Representation of the People Act 1948 (repealed), which received Royal Assent on 30 July 1948.

3 Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 s 1(2); and see further PARA 72 post.

4 See ibid s 1(1); and PARA 72 post. Constituencies are constituted and designated as either county or borough constituencies in Orders in Council under the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986. As to the procedure by which parliamentary constituencies are constituted, designated and reviewed see PARA 72 et seq post. 10. Local government elections.

In the Representation of the People Act 1983, 'local government election' means: (1) the election of councillors for any electoral area; or (2) any Authority election¹.

'Electoral area' means: (a) any electoral division or ward (or, in the case of a parish or community in which there are no wards, the parish or community) for which the election of councillors is held under the local government Act²; (b) Greater London³, in the case of any election of the Mayor of London⁴, or the election of the London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election⁵; (c) any Assembly constituency for which the election of a constituency member of the London Assembly is held⁶. The procedure by which electoral areas are established and reviewed is described elsewhere in this work⁷.

'Authority election' means: (i) any election of the Mayor of London⁸; (ii) any election of a constituency member of the London Assembly⁹; or (iii) the election of the London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election¹⁰.

The franchise for, the conduct of, and the questioning of local government elections are governed by the Representation of the People Act 1983 and associated legislation¹¹. The Representation of the People Acts¹² are applied with modifications¹³ for the purpose of electing a local authority mayor where executive arrangements are in place under the Local Government Act 2000¹⁴. Certain provisions of the Representation of the People Act 1983¹⁵ apply in relation to the City of London as if the City were a London borough and the Common Council of the City were a London borough council¹⁶. The Representation of the People Act 1983 applies in relation to the Isles of Scilly as if those isles were a county and as if the council of those isles were a county council¹⁷.

Provision is made for the combination of polls for local government elections with any other relevant election or referendum¹⁸.

1 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 203(1) (definition amended by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 17, Sch 3 paras 1, 39(1), (4)(c)). In the application of the Representation of the People Act 1983 in relation to England and Wales, unless the context otherwise requires, any reference to a local government election is taken to include a reference to an Authority election: s 203(1A) (added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 39(1), (5)). For the meaning of 'Authority election' see the text and notes 8-10 infra. For the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983, the expression 'local government election' includes a municipal election in the City of London: see s 191(1)(e); and PARA 30 post.

2 Ibid s 203(1)(a) (definition substituted by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 24, Sch 4 para 71; and renumbered by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 39(1), (3)). The expression 'local government Act' means the Local Government Act 1972: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 203(1) (definition amended by the Local Government Act 1985 ss 18(1), 19, Sch 9 Pt I; and the Education Reform Act 1988 s 237, Sch 13 Pt I). In the application of the Representation of the People Act 1983 in relation to England and Wales, unless the context otherwise requires, any reference to an election under the local government Act is taken to include a reference to an Authority election: s 203(1A) (as added: see note 1 supra). For the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983, the expression 'election under the local government Act' includes a municipal election in the City of London; and 'electoral area' means, in relation to a ward election, the ward, and in relation to any other municipal election in the City of London, the City: see s 191(1)(e); and PARA 30 post. As to elections held under the Local Government Act 1972 see PARA 11 post.

For the purposes of the election of councillors, every non-metropolitan county in England and every county in Wales is required to be divided into electoral divisions and every district in England and Wales is required to be divided into wards: see s 6(2) (as amended), s 25(2) (as substituted); and PARA 73 post. For the same purposes, every London borough is required to be divided into wards: see s 8(1) (as amended), Sch 2 para 7(1)(b) (as amended); and PARA 73 post. For each electoral division or ward, there must be a separate election: see s 6(2) (as amended), s 25(2) (as substituted), Sch 2 para 7(1) (as amended); and PARA 73 post. Where a parish (in England) is divided into parish wards, there must be a separate election of parish councillors for each ward, and where it is not, there must be one election of parish councillors for the whole parish: see s 16(4), (5); and PARA 73 post. Where a community (in Wales) is divided into community wards, there must be a separate election of community councillors for each ward, and where it is not, there must be one election of community councillors for the whole community: see s 35(3), (4); and PARA 73 post. The Representation of the People Act 1983 s 60, s 62A (as added), s 66 (as amended), Pt II (ss 67-119) (as amended), Pt III (ss 120-186) (as amended) and s 189 are applied to the election of councils in parishes and communities and to the chairman of parish and community meetings: see s 187(1) (as amended); and PARAS 388, 558 post.

For the purposes of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000, 'local government election' means a local government election within the meaning of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 191 (as amended) (municipal elections in the City of London: see PARA 30 post), s 203 (as amended) or s 204 (Scotland) or an election under the Local Government Act 2000 Pt II (ss 10-48) (as amended) for the return of an elected mayor (see PARA 205 et seq post): Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 160(1).

As to the election of councillors generally see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 126 et seq. As to London boroughs and London borough councils generally see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARAS 30, 35 et seq. As to parishes see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 27 et seq; and as to communities see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 41 et seq.

3 As to Greater London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 29 et seq.

4 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 203(1)(b)(i) (added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 39(1), (3)).

'Election of the Mayor of London' means either any such election at an ordinary election or an election under the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 16 (election to fill a vacancy in the office of Mayor of London): Representation of the People Act 1983 s 203(1) (definition added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 39(1), (2)). As to London mayoral ordinary elections see PARA 206 post; and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 88 et seq. As to elections to fill a vacancy in the office of Mayor of London see PARA 211 post; and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 116 et seq.

5 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 203(1)(b)(ii) (added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 39(1), (3)).

'London member', in relation to the London Assembly, has the same meaning as in the Greater London Authority Act 1999 (see ss 2(2)(b), 424(1); and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 97): Representation of the People Act 1983 s 203(1) (definition added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 39(1), (2)). As to London Assembly ordinary elections see PARA 206 post; and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 88 et seq.

6 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 203(1)(c) (added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 39(1), (3)).

For these purposes, 'Assembly constituency' has the same meaning as in the Greater London Authority Act 1999 (see s 2(4) (as amended), s 2(5); and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 93): Representation of the People Act 1983 s 203(1) (definition added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 39(1), (2)). 'Election of a constituency member of the London Assembly' means either any such election at an ordinary election or an election under the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 10 (election to fill a vacancy in an Assembly constituency: see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 114): Representation of the People Act 1983 s 203(1) (definition added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 39(1), (2)).

'Constituency member', in relation to the London Assembly, has the same meaning as in the Greater London Authority Act 1999 (see ss 2(2)(a), 424(1); and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 92): Representation of the People Act 1983 s 203(1) (definition added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 39(1), (2)). As to elections to fill a vacancy in membership of the London Assembly see PARA 211 post; and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 106 et seq.

7 As to the establishment of electoral areas for the purpose of local government elections see PARA 73 et seq post; LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 54 et seq; and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 30 et seq.

8 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 203(1)(a) (definition added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 39(1), (2)).

9 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 203(1)(b) (definition as added: see note 8 supra).

10 Ibid s 203(1)(c) (definition as added: see note 8 supra).

11 See PARA 3 ante.

12 For the meaning of 'the Representation of the People Acts' see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

13 Ie by regulations made under the Local Government Act 2000 ss 44, 105 (as amended): see PARA 388 post; and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 320.

14 See PARA 205 post; and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 320.

15 Ie the Representation of the People Act 1983 Pt I (ss 1-66A) (as amended), so far as it has effect for the purposes of parliamentary elections, and Pts I-III (ss 1-186) (as amended), so far as they have effect for the purposes of Authority elections, and subject to any express provision contained in the Part or Parts in question: s 203(2) (substituted by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 39(1), (6)). As to the conduct of parliamentary and Authority elections see PARA 388 post.

16 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1), s 203(2) (as substituted: see note 15 supra). For these purposes, the Inner Temple and the Middle Temple are treated as forming part of the City of London: s 203(2) (as so substituted). The modifications made by s 203(2) (as substituted) do not affect s 52(4) (as substituted) (duty of a district council or London borough council to assign officers to assist the registration officer: see PARA 155 post): s 203(3). As to the Court of Common Council see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 51 et seq; and as to the Temples see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 32 et seq.

The law applying to elections in the City of London is unique in many respects: see PARA 30 post.

17 Ibid s 203(4). However, the council is required to appoint an officer of the council to be registration officer for the isles and s 53 (as amended), Sch 2 para 1(1) (as amended) (power to prescribe arrangements for carrying out of registration duties by a registration officer: see PARA 127 post) applies as if the isles were a district and the council were a district council: s 203(4)(a) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 ss 24, 28, Sch 4 para 71(b), Sch 5). This function normally falls on the district council: see PARA 154 post. The provisions of the Representation of the People Act 1983 Pt I (as amended) relating to the conduct of local government elections have effect in relation to those isles subject to such adaptations as the Secretary of State may by regulations prescribe: s 203(4)(b). For the purposes of the Local Government Act 1972 s 265 (application to Isles of Scilly: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 36) the provisions of the Representation of the People Act 1983 as to rules made by the Secretary of State under s 36 (as amended) (ie rules for the conduct of local government elections: see PARA 388 post) are deemed to be contained in a public general Act relating to local government: s 203(5). As to the making of regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983 see PARA 24 note 16 post. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante. As to counties and county councils see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 24 et seq. As to the Council of the Isles of Scilly see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 36.

10 Local government elections

NOTES--Certain functions under provisions mentioned in this paragraph are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3, see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/1. INTRODUCTION AND GENERAL FRAMEWORK/(3) THE DIFFERENT TYPES OF ELECTION/11. Elections under the Local Government Act 1972.

11. Elections under the Local Government Act 1972.

The following elections are elections under the Local Government Act 1972¹: (1) the election of the chairman of a principal council² and councillors for a principal area³; (2) the election of the mayor⁴ and councillors⁵ of a London borough; and (3) the election of the chairman⁶ and councillors⁷ of a parish or community council⁸.

1 The Representation of the People Act 1983 uses the expression 'election under the local government Act' where 'local government Act' is defined to mean the Local Government Act 1972: see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 203(1) (definition as amended); and PARA 10 note 2 ante.

2 See the Local Government Act 1972 s 3(1); and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 144. Filling the office of vice-chairman of a principal council is not an election for this purpose, as the vice-chairman is appointed: see s 5(1). For the meaning of 'principal council' see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 23.

The election of the chairman of a principal council, although an election under the Local Government Act 1972, is not a local government election as defined in the Representation of the People Act 1983 (as to which see PARA 10 ante).

3 See the Local Government Act 1972 s 6(1) (as amended); and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 127. For the meaning of 'principal area' see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 23.

4 See ibid s 8, Sch 2 para 2(1) (as amended); and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 36. Where a London borough council is operating executive arrangements which involve a mayor and cabinet executive or a mayor and council manager executive, Sch 2 para 2(1) (as amended) has effect with the modifications specified in Sch 2 para 5D (as added): see Sch 2 para 5B (as added); and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 37. As to councils operating executive arrangements see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 320.

5 See ibid Sch 2 para 6(1) (as amended); and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 38.

6 See ibid ss 15(1), 34(1); and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARAS 145, 147. Filling the office of vice-chairman is not to be treated as an election for this purpose as the vice-chairman is appointed: see ss 15(6), 34(6).

7 See ibid s 16(2) (as amended), s 35(1) (as amended); and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARAS 132-133.

8 In a parish not having a separate parish council, the chairman of a parish meeting is elected at its annual assembly: see ibid s 15(10); and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 146. Certain provisions of the Representation of the People Act 1983 have effect in relation to such an election subject to specified adaptations, modifications and exceptions: see PARA 388 post. As to the conduct of a poll consequent on a parish or community meeting on a question other than one involving appointment to an office see PARA 558 et seq post.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/1. INTRODUCTION AND GENERAL FRAMEWORK/(3) THE DIFFERENT TYPES OF ELECTION/12. Elections to the National Assembly for Wales.

12. Elections to the National Assembly for Wales.

The National Assembly for Wales¹ consists of: (1) one member for each Assembly constituency ('Assembly constituency members')²; and (2) members for each Assembly electoral region ('Assembly regional members')³. Members of the National Assembly for Wales ('Assembly members') are returned in accordance with the provision made for: (a) the holding of ordinary general elections of Assembly members⁴; and (b) the filling of vacancies in Assembly seats⁵. An ordinary general election involves the holding of elections for the return of the entire Assembly⁶. Where the seat of an Assembly member returned for an Assembly constituency is vacant, an election is held in the Assembly constituency to fill the vacancy⁷. Where the seat of an Assembly member returned for an Assembly electoral region is vacant, then, if the Assembly member was returned from the list of a registered political party⁸, the regional returning officer⁹ must notify to the presiding officer the name of the person who is to fill the vacancy¹⁰ and, subject to certain conditions regarding such notification¹¹, that person is treated as declared to be returned as an Assembly member for the Assembly electoral region on the day on which notification of his name is received by the presiding officer¹². However, the seat remains vacant until the next ordinary general election if the Assembly regional member was returned as an individual candidate¹³, or if that Assembly regional member was returned from the list of a registered political party but there is no-one who satisfies the necessary conditions¹⁴.

The Secretary of State¹⁵ may by order¹⁶ make provision as to: (i) the conduct of elections for the return of Assembly members¹⁷; (ii) the questioning of an election for the return of Assembly members and the consequences of irregularities¹⁸; and (iii) the return of an Assembly member otherwise than at an election¹⁹.

Provision is made under head (i) above for the combination of polls at elections for the return of Assembly members and other elections²⁰.

1 As to the National Assembly for Wales generally see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. In this title, the term 'Welsh Assembly election' is used to denote an election to the National Assembly for Wales and to distinguish such an election from a 'London Assembly election'.

2 Government of Wales Act 2006 s 1(2)(a). The provisions of the Government of Wales Act 2006 come into force immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5). As to the provision that applies for these purposes until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 2(1)(a).

5 Government of Wales Act 2006 s 1(3)(b). As to the date at which this provision takes effect see note 2 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 2(3)(b).

6 See the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 1(3)(a). As to the holding of ordinary general elections and extraordinary general elections and as to the power of the Secretary of State to vary the date of an ordinary general election see PARA 220 post. As to the entitlement to vote in such elections generally see PARA 114 post; and as to the manner of voting at such an election see PARA 369 post.

7 See PARA 221 post.

8 As to the voting system used to return Assembly members from the list of a registered political party see PARA 345 et seq post.

9 In the Government of Wales Act 2006, 'regional returning officer', in relation to any Assembly electoral region, means the person designated as the regional returning officer for the Assembly electoral region in accordance with an order under s 13 (as amended) (see the text and notes 15-20 infra): s 7(7). As to the date at which this provision takes effect see note 2 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 11(6).

11 As to the conditions referred to in the text see PARA 222 note 18 post.

12 See PARA 222 post.

13 As to Assembly regional members returned having stood as individual candidates see PARA 345 et seq post.

14 See PARA 222 post. As to the conditions referred to in the text see note 11 supra.

15 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante.

16 Such an order may:

- 1 (1) apply or incorporate, with or without modifications or exceptions, any provision of, or made under, the Representation of the People Acts, the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000, the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 or any other enactment relating to parliamentary elections, European Parliamentary elections or local government elections (Government of Wales Act 2006 s 13(4)(a), (5));
- 2 (2) modify any form contained in, or in regulations or rules made under, the Representation of the People Acts so far as may be necessary to enable it to be used both for the original purpose and in relation to elections for the return of Assembly members (s 13(4)(b)); and
- 3 (3) so far as may be necessary in consequence of any provision made by the Government of Wales Act 2006 or an order under s 13, amend any provision made by or under any enactment relating to the registration of parliamentary electors or local government electors (s 13(4)(c)).

As to the date at which the provisions set out under heads (1) to (3) supra take effect see note 2 supra. As to the provisions that apply until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 11(3). No order is to be made under the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 13 unless a draft of the statutory instrument containing it has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament: s 13(7). For the meaning of 'the Representation of the People Acts' see PARA 3 note 1 ante; for the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; and for the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 13 post. As to the power of a Minister of the Crown or the Welsh Ministers under the Government of Wales Act 2006 generally to make an order see s 157; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

17 Ibid s 13(1)(a). The provision which may be made under s 13(1)(a) includes, in particular, provision:

- 4 (1) about the registration of electors (s 13(2)(a));
- 5 (2) for disregarding alterations in a register of electors (s 13(2)(b));
- 6 (3) about the limitation of the election expenses of candidates, and the creation of criminal offences in connection with the limitation of such expenses (s 13(2)(c));
- 7 (4) for the combination of polls at elections for the return of Assembly members and other elections (s 13(2)(d)); and
- 8 (5) for modifying the operation of ss 6, 8(2) (voting at ordinary elections: see PARA 345 post) in a case where the poll at an election for the return of the Assembly member for an Assembly constituency is abandoned, or notice of it is countermanded (s 13(2)(e)).

As to the date at which the provisions set out in the text and under heads (1) to (5) supra take effect see note 2 supra. As to the provisions that apply until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 11(1)(a), (2). In so far as orders made by the Secretary of State under s 13 relate to the matters mentioned in head (3) supra, see further the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 8 (as amended) (powers with respect to elections exercisable only on recommendation of Electoral Commission); and PARA 51 post.

As to provision made under the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 13(1)(a) see, by virtue of the Interpretation Act s 17(2)(b), the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Pt II (arts 3-34) (as amended) (assembly franchise and its exercise: see generally para 127 et seq post), Pt III (arts 35-84) (the election campaign: see PARA 237 et seq post). As to the rules of conduct for elections to the National Assembly for Wales generally see PARA 388 post. As to the Welsh Language Act 1993 s 26 (power to prescribe Welsh version) see STATUTES vol 44(1) (Reissue) PARA 1368; and as to relevant orders made thereunder see the Elections (Welsh Forms) Order 1995, SI 1995/830 (as amended); the Elections (Welsh Forms) Order 2001, SI 2001/1204 (as amended); the National Assembly for Wales (Elections: Nomination Papers) (Welsh Form) Order 2001, SI 2001/2914; the Local Authorities (Conduct of Referendums) (Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/870 (as amended); the Local Elections (Communities) (Welsh Forms) Order 2004, SI 2004/1233 (as amended); the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (Welsh Forms) Order 2004, SI 2004/1234 (as amended); the European Parliamentary Elections (Welsh Forms) Order 2004, SI 2004/1373 (as amended); the Local Elections (Declaration of Acceptance of Office) (Wales) Order 2004, SI 2004/1508; and the Parliamentary Elections (Welsh Forms) Order 2005, SI 2005/1105 (as amended).

18 Government of Wales Act 2006 s 13(1)(b). As to the date at which this provision takes effect see note 2 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 11(1)(b). No return of an Assembly member at an election is to be questioned except by an election petition under the provisions of the Representation of the People Act 1983 Pt III (ss 120-186) (as amended) (see PARA 759 et seq post) as applied by or incorporated in an order under the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 13: s 13(6). As to the date at which this provision takes effect see note 2 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 11(5). As to the order that has been made see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Pt IV (arts 85-137) (as amended) (legal proceedings: see PARA 762 et seq post).

19 Government of Wales Act 2006 s 13(1)(c). As to the date at which this provision takes effect see note 2 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 11(1)(c). The provision that may be made under the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 13(1)(c) includes, in particular, provision making modifications to s 11(3)-(5) (vacancies in electoral region seats in the National Assembly for Wales: see PARA 222 post): s 13(3). Provision is made by the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284 (as amended) for the filling of vacancies. See, in particular, art 16(1), Sch 5 paras 66-67; and PARAS 221-222 post.

NOTE 17--SI 1995/830, SI 2001/1204, SI 2004/1234 replaced: Local Elections (Principal Areas) (Welsh Forms) Order 2007, SI 2007/1015. SI 2004/870 replaced by the Local Authorities (Conduct of Referendums) (Wales) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/1848. SI 2005/1105 replaced: Parliamentary Elections (Welsh Forms) Order 2007, SI 2007/1014.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/1. INTRODUCTION AND GENERAL FRAMEWORK/(3) THE DIFFERENT TYPES OF ELECTION/13. European parliamentary elections.

13. European parliamentary elections.

There are 78 members of the European Parliament ('MEPs') elected for the United Kingdom¹. For the purposes of electing MEPs, the area of England and Gibraltar² is divided into nine electoral regions³, and Wales forms a single electoral region⁴. The procedure by which European parliamentary electoral regions are established and reviewed is described elsewhere in this title⁵. The system of election of MEPs in an electoral region is a regional list system, whereby a vote may be cast for a registered party or an individual candidate, with seats being allocated according to calculations based on the totals of votes cast for each party or candidate⁶. When a seat is or becomes vacant, a by-election may be held in specified circumstances⁷ or a seat last filled from a party's list of candidates⁸ may be filled, in specified circumstances, from such a list (without a by-election)⁹.

The Secretary of State¹⁰ may¹¹ by regulations¹² make provision as to: (1) the conduct of elections to the European Parliament¹³; and (2) the questioning of such an election and the consequences of irregularities¹⁴.

Provision is made also for the combination of polls for European Parliamentary elections with any other relevant election or referendum¹⁵.

1 See the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 1(1) (as substituted and amended); and PARA 76 post. As to the basis of European parliamentary elections in EU law see PARA 6 ante. In this title, the term 'European parliamentary election' is used to denote an election to the European Parliament.

In any Act, unless the contrary intention appears, 'United Kingdom' means Great Britain and Northern Ireland: Interpretation Act 1978 s 5, Sch 1. 'Great Britain' means England, Scotland and Wales: Union with Scotland Act 1706 preamble art I; Interpretation Act 1978 s 22(1), Sch 2 para 5(a). Neither the Channel Islands nor the Isle of Man are within the United Kingdom. 'England' means, subject to any alteration of boundaries of local government areas, the area consisting of the counties established by the Local Government Act 1972 s 1 (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARAS 5, 24), Greater London and the Isles of Scilly: Interpretation Act 1978 Sch 1. 'Wales' means the combined area of the counties which were created by the Local Government Act 1972 s 20 (as originally enacted) (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARAS 5, 37), but subject to any alteration made under s 73 (as amended) (consequential alteration of boundary following alteration of watercourse: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 90); Interpretation Act 1978 Sch 1 (definition substituted by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 1(3), Sch 2 para 9). As to local government areas see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 22 et seq; and as to boundary changes see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 54 et seq. As to Greater London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 29. As to Scotland see further CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 51 et seq; and as to Northern Ireland see further CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 3.

Although Gibraltar now forms part of a 'combined region' in the United Kingdom for the purpose of elections to the European Parliament (see the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 Pt II (ss 9-24) (as amended); notes 2, 12 infra; and PARA 76 post), Gibraltar is discussed in this title only within the context of general arrangements. As to the constitution of Gibraltar see COMMONWEALTH vol 13 (2009) PARA 859.

2 In Application 24833/94 Matthews v United Kingdom (1999) 28 EHRR 361, ECtHR, it was held that the United Kingdom was responsible for securing for the citizens of Gibraltar the right to free elections to the European Parliament, as that body forms part of Gibraltar's legislature. Accordingly, Gibraltar now forms part of a 'combined region' in the United Kingdom for the purpose of elections to the European Parliament: see note 12 infra; and PARA 76 post. The terms of the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003, which apply to the European Parliament elections in Gibraltar the rules governing the franchise (as to which see PARA 115 post) and eligibility to stand as a candidate for election (as to which see PARA 235 post) laid down both for national elections in the United Kingdom and for elections to the Gibraltar House of Assembly, is not contrary to Community law: Case C-145/04 Spain v United Kingdom [2006] All ER (D) 55 (Sep), ECJ (definition of persons entitled to vote and to stand as a candidate in elections to the European Parliament fell within the competence of each member state in compliance with Community law; qualifying Commonwealth citizens resident in Gibraltar who were not Community nationals had the right to vote and to stand as candidates in elections).

3 See the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 1(2)(a) (as substituted and amended); and PARA 76 post. The electoral regions for these purposes are those specified in s 1 (as substituted), Sch 1 (as amended) and the number of MEPs to be elected for each electoral region is specified in s 1(3) (as substituted): see PARA 76 post.

4 See ibid s 1(2)(b) (as substituted); and PARA 76 post. Scotland and Northern Ireland also each form a single electoral region for these purposes: see s 1(2)(b) (as substituted); and PARA 76 post.

5 See PARA 76 post.

6 See the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 2 (as amended); and PARA 345 post. The first seat is allocated to the party or individual candidate with the greatest number of votes, and the second and subsequent seats are allocated in the same way, except that the number of votes given to a party to which one or more seats have already been allocated is adjusted: see s 2 (as amended); and PARA 345 post.

7 See ibid s 5(2)(a); and PARA 225 et seq post. The circumstances mentioned in the text are specified in regulations: see the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293 (as amended); and PARA 225 et seq post.

8 As to MEPs returned from the list of a registered political party see PARA 345 post.

9 See the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 5(2)(b); and PARA 225 et seq post. The circumstances mentioned in the text are specified in regulations: see the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293 (as amended); and PARA 226 et seq post.

11 le subject to the provisions of the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002.

12 Regulations under the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 may apply, with such modifications or exceptions as may be specified in the regulations: (1) any provision of the Representation of the People Acts or of any other enactment relating to parliamentary elections or local government elections (s 7(3)(a)); and (2) any provision made under any enactment (s 7(3)(b)). Such regulations may amend any form contained in regulations made under the Representation of the People Acts so far as may be necessary to enable it to be used both for the purpose indicated in regulations so made and for the corresponding purpose in relation to elections to the European Parliament: European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 7(4). Without prejudice to the generality of the power under which they are made, regulations under the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 may make different provision for different electoral regions and, in particular, for the part of the combined region which is in England and Wales, and for Gibraltar: s 7(4A) (added by the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 s 22). In the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002, 'combined region' means the electoral region which includes Gibraltar: s 17 (definition added by the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 s 20(1), (5)). The Welsh Language Act 1993 s 26 (power to prescribe Welsh version: see STATUTES vol 44(1) (Reissue) PARA 1368) applies in relation to regulations under the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 as it applies in relation to Acts of Parliament: s 7(5). For the meaning of 'the Representation of the People Acts' see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to the combined region and Gibraltar see PARA 76 post. As to the regulations made under the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 7 (as amended) see notes 13-14 infra; and as to relevant orders made under the Welsh Language Act 1993 s 26 see PARA 12 note 17 ante.

Regulations and orders made under the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 must be made by statutory instrument: s 13(1). However, no such regulations may be made unless a draft of the regulations has been laid before Parliament and approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament: s 13(2). A statutory instrument containing an order under either s 10(2)(d) or s 11(5) (as amended) (entitlement to be an MEP: see PARA 235 post) is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament (s 13(3) (amended by the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 s 8(1), (2))); and an order under the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 10(4A) (as added) (disqualification from the office of MEP of persons connected to Gibraltar: see PARA 235 post) may not be made unless a draft of the order has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament (s 13(3A) (s 13(3A)-(3C) added by the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 s 21(3))). However, the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 13(3A) (as added) does not apply if it appears to the Secretary of State that by reason of urgency the order should be made without being approved in draft (s 13(3B) (as so added; and amended by the Secretary of State for Constitutional Affairs Order 2003, SI 2003/1887, art 9, Sch 2 para 15(1)(b))); and, where an order is made without being approved in draft, by virtue of the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 13(3A) (as added), it must be laid before Parliament after being made and, if it is not approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament within the period of 40 days after the date on which it is made, the order ceases to have effect at the end of that period (s 13(3C) (as so added)). A statutory instrument containing an order under s 4

(date of elections: see PARA 229 post) or s 5(3) (regulations providing for a by-election: see PARA 225 post) is to be laid before Parliament after being made: s 13(4).

13 Ibid s 7(1)(a). Such regulations may make provision (including the creation of criminal offences):

- 9 (1) about the limitation of election expenses of candidates (s 7(2)(a));
- 10 (2) for the allocation of seats in the case of an equality of votes (s 7(2)(b)); and
- 11 (3) for securing that no person stands for election more than once at a general election, whether by being nominated as a candidate or by being included in a party's list of candidates (s 7(2)(c)).

As to the regulations so made see the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Pts 1-3 (regs 1-85) (as amended); and PARA 388 post.

14 European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 7(1)(b).

As to the regulations so made see the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Pt 4 (regs 86-122) (as amended); and PARA 763 et seq post. As to the questioning of elections to the European Parliament see also the European Parliamentary Election Petition Rules 1979, SI 1979/521 (as amended), which, by virtue of the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(b), have effect under the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 120 (rules of procedure); and PARA 765 et seq post.

(4) THE DIFFERENT TYPES OF REFERENDUM

14. National and regional referendums.

Part VII of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000¹ provides standing arrangements for the conduct of any referendum² held throughout: (1) the United Kingdom³; (2) one or more of England⁴, Scotland, Wales⁵ and Northern Ireland⁶; or (3) any region in England specified in the Regional Development Agencies Act 1998⁷. Within the framework of these arrangements, further legislation is required to provide for the holding of any particular referendum⁸.

A poll held in an area consisting of Wales or any part (or parts) of Wales for the purpose of ascertaining the views of those polled about whether or how any of the functions of the Welsh Ministers should be exercised⁹ is not a referendum to which the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000¹⁰ applies¹¹. Nor do the provisions of that Act apply to referendums or polls which are not included in heads (1) to (3) above, most notably those held by local authorities or those held consequent on parish or community meetings¹².

15. Local referendums and polls.

A local authority¹ must hold a referendum under the Local Government Act 2000² on proposals for the operation of executive arrangements³ involving certain forms of executive⁴ before taking any steps to implement them⁵.

A local authority may conduct a poll to ascertain the views of those polled about: (1) any matter relating to services provided in pursuance of the authority's functions or the authority's expenditure on such services; or (2) any other matter if it is one relating to the authority's power to promote the economic, social or environmental well-being of its area⁶.

A poll may be demanded before the conclusion of a parish or community meeting⁷ on any question arising at the meeting⁸.

1 For the meaning of 'local authority' for these purposes see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 23.

2 Ie under the Local Government Act 2000 Pt II (ss 10-48) (as amended) (arrangements with respect to executives etc: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 303 et seq).

3 As to proposals for the operation of local authority executive arrangements generally see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 312 et seq.

4 The following are forms of local authority executive for which a referendum is required: (1) a mayor and cabinet executive; (2) a mayor and council manager executive; or (3) a form of executive prescribed in regulations which is expressed in those regulations to be a form of executive for which a referendum is required: see the Local Government Act 2000 s 26(2); and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 314. As to the mayor and cabinet executive generally see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARAS 327-328; and as to the mayor and council manager executive generally see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARAS 327, 333.

As to the conduct of such a poll see PARA 558 post. Such a poll may be taken also on a question relating to an appointment to office: see PARA 388 et seq post.

(5) COMBINED POLLS

(i) In general

16. General provision for the combination of polls.

Provision is made in statute and in related legislation for polls that are to be taken on the same date to be taken together in the following combinations¹:

- 1 (1) a parliamentary general election and a European Parliamentary general election²;
- 2 (2) an ordinary local government election and a parliamentary general election³;
- 3 (3) an ordinary local government election and a European Parliamentary general election⁴;
- 4 (4) an election for the return of an elected mayor and any other election⁵ specified in regulations⁶;
- 5 (5) an election for the return of elected executive members and any other election⁷ specified in regulations⁸;
- 6 (6) an ordinary National Assembly for Wales election and an ordinary local government election⁹;
- 7 (7) elections for related areas¹⁰, being:
 - 1 (a) the ordinary election of district councillors for any district ward or an election to fill a casual vacancy occurring in the office of such a councillor and the ordinary election of parish councillors for any parish or an election to fill a casual vacancy occurring in the office of such a councillor¹¹;
 - 2 (b) the ordinary election of councillors for any electoral division of a county in England in which there are no district councils or an election to fill a casual vacancy occurring in the office of such a councillor, and the ordinary election of parish councillors for any parish or an election to fill a casual vacancy occurring in the office of such a councillor¹²;
 - 3 (c) the ordinary election of councillors for any electoral division of a Welsh county or county borough or an election to fill a casual vacancy occurring in the office of such a councillor, and the ordinary election of community councillors for any community or an election to fill a casual vacancy occurring in the office of such a councillor¹³;
 - 4 (d) elections (or the polls at elections and a local authority referendum) which are not otherwise required by head (1), (2), (3) or (6) above or heads (a) to (c) above to be taken together, if the returning officer for each election thinks fit¹⁴;
- 8 (8) referendums held under the Local Government Act 2000 and any other election specified in regulations¹⁵.

The rules of conduct that relate to each type of election or referendum mentioned in heads (1) to (8) above are applied and modified for the purposes of accommodating each combination of poll specified in heads (1) to (8) above¹⁶.

- 1 As to the combination of polls generally see PARAS 1, 3 et seq ante.
- 2 See PARA 21 post.
- 3 See PARA 22 post. This category includes a parliamentary general election taken together with an election for the return of the London Mayor or for the return of a London Assembly member: see PARA 22 post.
- 4 See PARA 23 post. This category includes a European parliamentary general election taken together with an election for the return of the London Mayor or for the return of a London Assembly member: see PARA 23 post.
- 5 le including elections for the return of elected executive members: see head (5) in the text. This category also includes a local authority mayoral election (other than a Greater London Authority election) taken together with an election for the return of the London Mayor or for the return of a London Assembly member: see PARA 26 post.
- 6 See PARA 26 post. The regulations referred to in the text are those made under the Local Government Act 2000 s 44(2)(d), which specify that the poll at a local authority mayoral election may be taken together with the poll at a parliamentary election, a European parliamentary election, a local government election, another mayoral election, or a referendum: see PARA 26 post.
- 7 le including elections for the return of elected mayors: see head (4) in the text.
- 8 See PARA 26 post. The regulations referred to in the text are those provided for under the Local Government Act 2000 s 44(2)(e). However, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such regulations had been made: see PARA 26 post.
- 9 Provision is made for Assembly elections taken together with a local authority mayoral election, an election of county or county borough councillors, or an election of community councillors: see PARA 28 post.
- 10 For the meaning of 'related areas' see PARA 29 post.
- 11 See PARA 24 post.
- 12 See PARA 24 post.
- 13 See PARA 24 post.
- 14 See PARA 29 post. This category includes a local government election (other than a Greater London Authority election) taken together with an election for the return of the London Mayor or for the return of a London Assembly member: see PARA 29 post.
- 15 See PARA 27 post. The regulations referred to in the text are those made under the Local Government Act 2000 s 45(6) which specify that the poll at a referendum in England may be taken together with the poll at a parliamentary general election, a European parliamentary election, a local government election, a local authority mayoral election or another referendum: see PARA 27 post. This category includes a referendum taken together with an election for the return of the London Mayor or for the return of a London Assembly member: see PARA 27 post. At the date at which this volume states the law, provision had not been made for combining the poll at a referendum in Wales with any other poll.
- 16 See PARAS 21-29 post.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/1. INTRODUCTION AND GENERAL FRAMEWORK/(5) COMBINED POLLS/(i) In general/17. Expenses at combined polls.

17. Expenses at combined polls.

Where the polls at certain elections are combined¹ the cost of taking the combined polls (excluding any cost solely attributable to one election) and any cost attributable to their combination must be apportioned equally among the elections² or, where the polls at an ordinary National Assembly for Wales election and an ordinary local government election are combined³, in such proportions as the Assembly may by order specify⁴.

Where the poll at a local authority referendum is combined with the poll at any election⁵, or where the polls at local authority referendums for related areas are combined⁶, the cost of taking the combined poll (excluding any cost solely attributable to one election or, as the case may be, referendum) and any cost attributable to the combination must be apportioned equally among the referendums or, as the case may be, the elections and the referendum⁷.

NOTE 2--SI 2002/185 reg 3(2), Sch 2 now Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/1024, reg 3(2)-(5), Sch 2.

NOTES 5-7--SI 2001/1298 replaced: Local Authorities (Conduct of Referendums) (England) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/2089.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/1. INTRODUCTION AND GENERAL FRAMEWORK/(5) COMBINED POLLS/(i) In general/18. Transferred functions of returning officer where polls are combined.

18. Transferred functions of returning officer where polls are combined.

Where polls are combined, the following functions of the returning officer at one election or referendum¹ must be discharged by the returning officer at the other election or referendum²:

- 9 (1) preparing the corresponding number list³, both to the extent that it relates to ballot papers to be provided to polling stations⁴ and to proceedings on the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers where more than one election or referendum are taken together⁵;
- 10 (2) giving notice of the situation of polling stations⁶;
- 11 (3) the issue, receipt and return of postal ballot papers (including verification of the date of birth and signature of the elector or proxy) when proceedings for more than one election or referendum are taken together⁷;
- 12 (4) the provision of polling stations⁸;
- 13 (5) appointment of presiding officers and clerks to assist them⁹;
- 14 (6) equipment of polling stations¹⁰;
- 15 (7) notification of requirement of secrecy at polling stations¹¹;
- 16 (8) signature of certificate as to employment¹²;
- 17 (9) authorisation to order removal of persons from polling stations¹³;
- 18 (10) functions in connection with the verification of the ballot paper accounts and the separation of the ballot papers¹⁴; and
- 19 (11) where the proceedings on the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers at more than one election or referendum are taken together¹⁵, those functions¹⁶.

Where those functions of a returning officer at an election or referendum which are specified in heads (1) to (11) above are discharged by the returning officer at another election or referendum¹⁷, the provisions about expenses in the Representation of the People Act 1983¹⁸ (or, in the case of National Assembly for Wales elections, the provisions about expenses in both that Act and the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003¹⁹) are modified²⁰.

1 The functions are specified by reference: (1) at a parliamentary election, to corresponding rules in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 (as amended) (see PARA 388 post); (2) at a European parliamentary election, to corresponding rules in the regulations made under the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 7 (as amended) (see PARAS 13 ante, 388 post); (3) at a local government election, to corresponding rules made under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 36 (as amended) (see PARA 388 post); (4) at a mayoral election, to corresponding rules in regulations made under the Local Government Act 2000 ss 44, 105 (as amended) (see PARA 388 post; and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 320); (5) at a local authority referendum, to corresponding rules in regulations under the Local Government Act 2000 ss 45, 105 (as amended) (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 319); Representation of the People (Combination of Polls) (England and Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/294, reg 5(1)(a)-(e).

For the purposes of elections to the National Assembly for Wales, the functions are specified by reference: (a) in the case of an National Assembly for Wales election, to corresponding rules in the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 16(1), Sch 5 (as amended) (see PARA 388 post); and (b) in the case of a local government election which is not a mayoral election, to corresponding rules made under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 36 (as amended) (see PARA 388 post); or (c) in the case of a local government election which is a mayoral election, to corresponding rules in regulations made under the Local Government Act 2000 ss 44, 105 (as amended) (see PARA 388 post; and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 320): National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 15(7), Sch 4 para 2(1)(a)-(c). As to the meaning of 'local government election' for these purposes see PARA 17 note 3 ante.

2 Representation of the People (Combination of Polls) (England and Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/294, reg 4; National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 15(7), Sch 4 para 1. Where the poll at a parliamentary general election is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum under a relevant enactment those functions of the returning officer at the poll at the other election or referendum which are specified in heads (1)-(10) in the text must be discharged by the returning officer at the parliamentary election for such part of the electoral region, local government area or voting area (as the case may be) as is situated in the parliamentary constituency: Representation of the People (Combination of Polls) (England and Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/294, reg 4(1)(a). For these purposes, 'relevant enactment' means any of the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 15(1) (as amended) (see PARA 21 et seq post), or the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 36(3) (as substituted and amended), s 36(3AB) (as added) or s 36(3AC) (as added) (see PARA 24 post), and includes a reference to each provision as applied in regulations made under the Local Government Act 2000 ss 44, 105 (as amended) (see PARA 388 post; and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 320) and ss 45, 105 (as amended) (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 319): Representation of the People (Combination of Polls) (England and Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/294, reg 4(10). For the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983, 'local government area' means Greater London, a county, county borough, London borough district, parish or community, and includes the City of London: s 191(1)(e), s 203(1) (definition amended by the Local Government Act 1985 ss 18(1), 19, Sch 9 Pt I; the Education Reform Act 1988 s 237, Sch 13 Pt I; the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 66(6), Sch 16 para 68(16); and the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 17, Sch 3 paras 1, 39(1), (4)(b)). Where the polls at two or more elections or referendums are taken together other than under a relevant enactment, but one or more such polls are also taken together with the poll at another election or a referendum under a relevant enactment, the provisions of the Representation of the People (Combination of Polls) (England and Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/294, reg 4(1)-(7) apply as if each election (other than a mayoral election) were an ordinary election, and the polls at each election or referendum were taken together under a relevant enactment: reg 4(9).

Where reg 4(1) does not apply and the poll at an ordinary Authority election is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum under a relevant enactment, those functions of the returning officer at the poll at the other election or referendum which are specified in heads (1)-(10) in the text must be discharged by the returning officer at the Authority election for such part of the electoral region, local government area or voting area (as the case may be) as is situated in the area for which he acts: reg 4(2)(a). For the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante.

Where neither reg 4(1) nor reg 4(2) applies, and the poll at an ordinary county council election is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum under a relevant enactment, those functions of the returning officer at the poll at the other election or referendum which are specified in heads (1)-(10) in the text must be discharged by the returning officer at the county council election for such part of the electoral region, local government area or voting area (as the case may be) as is situated in the county or county borough: reg 4(3)(a). For these purposes, 'county council election' means an election of councillors of a county or county borough: reg 4(10).

Where none of reg 4(1)-(3) applies, and the poll at an ordinary principal area council election (other than a county council election) is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum under a relevant enactment those functions of the returning officer at the poll at the other election or referendum which are specified in heads (1)-(10) in the text must be discharged by the returning officer at the principal area council election for such part of the electoral region, local government area or voting area (as the case may be) as is situated in the principal area: reg 4(4)(a). For these purposes, 'principal area' means a county, district or London borough in England, or a county or county borough in Wales; and 'principal area council election' means an election of councillors or London borough councillors (as the case may be) of a principal area: reg 4(10).

Where none of reg 4(1)-(4) applies, and the poll at a mayoral election is taken together with the poll at an election under a relevant enactment those functions of the returning officer at the poll at the other election which are specified in heads (1)-(10) in the text must be discharged by the returning officer at the mayoral election for such part of the electoral region or local government area (as the case may be) as is situated in the local government area as respects which the mayoral election is held: reg 4(5)(a).

Where none of reg 4(1)-(5) applies, and the poll at a referendum is taken together with the poll at an election under a relevant enactment those functions of the returning officer at the poll at the election which are specified in heads (1)-(10) in the text must be discharged by the returning officer at the referendum for such part of the electoral region or local government area (as the case may be) as is situated in the voting area: reg 4(6)(a).

Where none of reg 4(1)-(6) applies, and the poll at an ordinary parish or community council election is taken together with the poll at a European parliamentary election under a relevant enactment, those functions of the returning officer at the European parliamentary election which are specified in heads (1)-(10) in the text must be discharged by the returning officer at the parish or community council election for such part of the electoral region as is situated in the area of the parish or community council: reg 4(7)(a).

Where the polls at an ordinary National Assembly for Wales election and an ordinary local government election are taken together under the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 15(1) (see PARA 28 post), those functions of the returning officer at the local government election which are specified in heads (1)-(10) in the text must be discharged by the constituency returning officer for an Assembly constituency for such part of the local government area as is situated in the constituency: Sch 4 para 1(a).

Where the polls at an election and another election or referendum for related areas (within the meaning of the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 15(3) (as amended): see PARA 29 post) are taken together under s 15(2) (including by virtue of s 15(2) or s 15(3) (as amended) as applied by regulations made under the Local Government Act 2000 ss 44, 105 (as amended) and ss 45, 105 (as amended)), the returning officers for each election or referendum must decide which returning officer is to discharge in the related area those functions of the other (or others) which are specified in heads (1)-(10) in the text, but the returning officer at a European parliamentary election must not discharge those functions: Representation of the People (Combination of Polls) (England and Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/294, reg 4(8)(a). For these purposes, except the first reference in reg 4(8)(a), any reference to a returning officer which applies to the returning officer at a European parliamentary election, must be construed as including a reference to the local returning officer, and the returning officer at an Authority election must be construed as a reference to the constituency returning officer for the Assembly constituency in which the functions specified in heads (1)-(10) in the text are to be discharged: reg 4(11).

For the purposes of elections to the National Assembly for Wales, where the polls at a National Assembly for Wales and a local government election for related areas (within the meaning of the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 15(3) (see PARA 29 post)) are taken together under art 15(2) (see PARA 29 post), the returning officers for those elections must decide which returning officer is to discharge in the area in which the polls are combined (the 'combined area') those functions of the other which are specified in heads (1)-(10) in the text: Sch 4 para 1(2)(a). Where the polls at an ordinary National Assembly for Wales election and a local government election for related areas are taken together under art 15(2), then Sch 4 para 1(2)(a) also applies: Sch 4 para 1(4). Where, by virtue of Sch 4 para 1(2)(a), functions in respect of another election fall to be discharged by a regional returning officer, he in turn must delegate the discharge of those functions to the constituency returning officer for a National Assembly for Wales constituency that is wholly or partly situated in the combined area in relation to such part of the combined area as is situated in the National Assembly for Wales constituency; and, where functions are so delegated, subsequent references in Sch 4 Pt I paras 1-3 to the returning officer who discharges the functions specified in heads (1)-(10) in the text are to be treated as references to such a constituency returning officer: Sch 4 para 1(3). For these purposes, 'constituency returning officer' means the person who is the returning officer for a constituency election; and 'regional returning officer' means the person who is the returning officer for a regional election: art 2(1). For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to returning officers for elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 362 et seq post.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/1. INTRODUCTION AND GENERAL FRAMEWORK/(5) COMBINED POLLS/(i) In general/19. Polling stations to be used where polls are combined.

19. Polling stations to be used where polls are combined.

Where polls are combined, statute makes provision as to which polling stations are to be used, as follows:

- 20 (1) where the poll at a parliamentary general election is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum under a relevant enactment¹, only polling stations used for the parliamentary election are to be used for the other election or referendum²;
- 21 (2) where head (1) above does not apply and the poll at an ordinary Authority election is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum under a relevant enactment, only polling stations used for the Authority election are to be used for the poll at the other election or referendum³;
- 22 (3) where neither head (1) above nor head (2) above applies and the poll at an ordinary county council election⁴ is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum under a relevant enactment, only polling stations used for the county council election are to be used for the poll at the other election or referendum⁵;
- 23 (4) where none of heads (1) to (3) above applies and the poll at an ordinary principal area council election⁶ (other than a county council election) is taken together with the poll at another election or referendum under a relevant enactment, only polling stations used for the principal area council election are to be used for the poll at the other election or referendum⁷;
- 24 (5) where none of heads (1) to (4) above applies and the poll at a mayoral election is taken together with the poll at an election under a relevant enactment, only polling stations used for the mayoral election are to be used for the poll at the other election⁸;
- 25 (6) where none of heads (1) to (5) above applies and the poll at a referendum is taken together with the poll at an election under a relevant enactment, only polling stations used for the referendum are to be used for the poll at the election⁹;
- 26 (7) where none of heads (1) to (6) above applies and the poll at an ordinary parish or community council election is taken together with the poll at a European parliamentary election under a relevant enactment, only polling stations used for the parish or community council election are to be used for the European parliamentary election¹⁰;
- 27 (8) where the polls at an ordinary National Assembly for Wales election and an ordinary local government election are taken together, only polling stations used for the ordinary Assembly election are to be used for the local government election¹¹;
- 28 (9) where the polls at an election and another election or referendum for related areas¹² are taken together, the only polling stations which are to be used at each election or referendum are the polling stations used at the election or referendum for which the returning officer who discharges the conferred functions¹³ acts as returning officer¹⁴; and
- 29 (10) where the polls at a National Assembly for Wales election and a local government election for related areas are taken together, the only polling stations which are to be used in the combined area¹⁵ at such elections are the polling stations used at the election for which the returning officer who discharges the conferred functions¹⁶ acts as returning officer¹⁷.

23 Combined polls at ordinary local government election and European parliamentary general election

NOTE 11--SI 2004/293 Sch 3 substituted: SI 2009/186.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/1. INTRODUCTION AND GENERAL FRAMEWORK/(5) COMBINED POLLS/ (ii) The Different Combinations of Polls/24. Combined polls at principal area election and parish or community council election.

24. Combined polls at principal area election and parish or community council election.

Where certain combinations of polls for local government elections¹ are to be taken on the same day and the elections are for related electoral areas², the polls at those elections are taken together³, namely:

- 30 (1) the ordinary election of district councillors for any district ward⁴ or an election to fill a casual vacancy occurring in the office of such a councillor⁵ and the ordinary election of parish councillors for any parish⁶ or an election to fill a casual vacancy occurring in the office of such a councillor⁷;
- 31 (2) the ordinary election of councillors for any electoral division of a county in England in which there are no district councils⁸ or an election to fill a casual vacancy occurring in the office of such a councillor⁹, and the ordinary election of parish councillors for any parish or an election to fill a casual vacancy occurring in the office of such a councillor¹⁰; or
- 32 (3) the ordinary election of councillors for any electoral division of a Welsh county or county borough¹¹ or an election to fill a casual vacancy occurring in the office of such a councillor¹², and the ordinary election of community councillors for any community¹³ or an election to fill a casual vacancy occurring in the office of such a councillor¹⁴.

The Secretary of State¹⁵ has power to make regulations¹⁶ making such provision as he thinks fit in connection with the combining of polls at any elections under head (1), head (2) or head (3) above, including provision modifying the Representation of the People Acts¹⁷ in relation to them¹⁸. Accordingly, provision has been made in relation to the discharge of the functions of the respective returning officers¹⁹, the polling stations to be used²⁰, and proceedings on the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers²¹; and, where the polls at such elections are taken together, the elections rules which apply at each election have effect subject to certain modifications²².

1 For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante.

2 For these purposes, electoral areas are 'related' if they are coterminous or if one is situated within the other: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 36(3A) (added by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 17). For the meaning of 'electoral area' see PARA 10 ante.

15 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante.

16 Any power conferred by the Representation of the People Act 1983 to make regulations is, except where the Act otherwise provides, a power exercisable by the Secretary of State by statutory instrument: s 201(1) (amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 158(1), (2), Sch 21 para 6(1), (7)(a), Sch 22). No regulations are to be so made, otherwise than under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 110(7) (as substituted) (provision regarding details to appear on election publications: see PARA 751 post) or s 203(4) (as amended) (application in relation to the Isles of Scilly: see PARA 10 ante), unless a draft of the regulations has been laid before and approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament: s 201(2) (substituted by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 24, Sch 4 para 69; and amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 158(1), Sch 21 para 6(1), (7)(b); and the Transfer of Functions (Returning Officers Charges) Order 1991, SI 1991/1728, art 5(b)). Any regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983 may make different provision for different cases, circumstances or areas and may contain such incidental, supplemental, saving or transitional provisions as the Secretary of State or the Electoral Commission (in the case of any regulations made by the Commission) thinks fit: s 201(3) (added by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 8, Sch 1 paras 1, 21; and amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 21 para 6(1), (7)(d)). Any regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 110(7) (as substituted) are subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: s 201(2A) (added by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 21 para 6(1), (7)(c)). As to the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq post. The Representation of the People Act 1983 s 201 (as amended) applies to the Representation of the People Act 1985 by virtue of s 27(2), which provides that the Representation of the People Act 1983 and the Representation of the People Act 1985 ss 1-12 (as amended) (see PARAS 111, 116, 147, 151, 188, 738 post), ss 15-18 (as amended) (see PARAS 16-23 ante, 25-29 post), s 21 (as amended) (see PARAS 207-208 post) and Sch 1 (special polling stations in Northern Ireland) have effect as if the latter provisions were contained in the Representation of the People Act 1983 Pt I (ss 1-66A) (as amended).

22 Where the poll at a principal area local government election is to be taken with the poll at a parish or community council local government election under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 36(3) (as amended), s 36(3AB), (3C) (as added): (1) the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, r 3, Sch 2 (see PARA 388 post) has effect subject to the modifications as set out in r 4, Sch 3; and (2) the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 (as to which see PARA 388 post) has effect subject to the modifications as set out in r 4, Sch 3: Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, rr 2(2)(c), 4; Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, rr 2(2)(c), 4. As to the rules that apply when the polls at London Authority elections (which are included in the definition of 'local government election' for the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983: see PARA 10 ante) are taken together with the poll at a local government election (other than a London Authority election) see PARA 22 note 11 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/1. INTRODUCTION AND GENERAL FRAMEWORK/(5) COMBINED POLLS/ (ii) The Different Combinations of Polls/25. Poll at parish or community council elections not to be combined with a parliamentary or European parliamentary election.

25. Poll at parish or community council elections not to be combined with a parliamentary or European parliamentary election.

Where the date of the poll at a parliamentary general election¹ or at a European parliamentary general election² is the same as the ordinary day of election³ of councillors for local government areas⁴, any poll at an election of parish or community councillors to be held on that date⁵ must be postponed for three weeks⁶. The date to which any such poll is so postponed is to be taken to be the ordinary day of election for the purposes of the provisions concerning the election, term of office and retirement of parish or community⁷ councillors and the day of election for the purposes of any rules concerning the conduct of elections of such councillors made by the Secretary of State⁸.

Any expenses of any returning officer for an election at which the poll is postponed under this provision which are attributable to the postponement must be charged on and paid out of the Consolidated Fund⁹.

1 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' and as to use of the expression 'parliamentary general election' see PARA 9 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'European parliamentary general election' for these purposes see PARA 21 note 2 ante. As to the polls at European parliamentary general elections see PARA 224 et seq post.

3 As to the ordinary day of election of councillors for local government areas see PARA 204 et seq post.

4 Representation of the People Act 1985 s 16(1) (amended by the European Communities (Amendment) Act 1986 s 3). For the meaning of 'local government area' see PARA 18 note 2 ante. As to the date of the poll at a parliamentary general election or by-election see PARA 202 post; as to the date of the poll at local government elections (including elections to fill vacancies) see PARAS 213-216 post; and as to the date of the poll at a European parliamentary election see PARA 229 post.

5 As to the election of councillors of the council of a parish or community see PARA 207 et seq post. Where the date of the poll at a parliamentary or European parliamentary general election is the same as the ordinary day of local government elections, the polls are required to be taken together: see PARAS 22-23 ante. The poll at a parish or community council election (whether an ordinary election or an election to fill a casual vacancy) and the poll at a district council election (whether an ordinary election or an election to fill a casual vacancy) would, apart from this provision, be required to be taken together if the polls are to be taken on the same date and (in effect) the parish or community is situated in the district: see PARA 24 ante.

6 Representation of the People Act 1985 s 16(1)(a). If the date to which the election is postponed is a Saturday, Sunday, Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, Good Friday, bank holiday or a day appointed for public thanksgiving or mourning, the date of election is again postponed to the first day thereafter which is not one of the days specified: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 40(1) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 ss 16(2), 19(1), 28(1), Sch 5; and the Electoral Administration Act 2006 ss 20, 74(2), Sch 1 Pt 4 paras 49, 50, Sch 2). Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 Pt 4 paras 49, 50 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1. Accordingly, until that date, Maundy Thursday appears in the list of days excluded under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 40(1) (as amended). Where the day of election is postponed under s 40(1) (as amended), the day to which it is postponed must be treated as the day of election for the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 and the Local Government Act 1972: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 40(2) (amended by the Education Reform Act 1988 s 237, Sch 12 Pt II para 51).

7 The provisions referred to in the text are the Local Government Act 1972 s 16(3), s 35(2) (as substituted) (see PARA 207 post).

8 Representation of the People Act 1985 s 16(1)(b). The rules referred to in the text are those made under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 36 (as amended): see the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305; and PARA 388 post. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/1. INTRODUCTION AND GENERAL FRAMEWORK/(5) COMBINED POLLS/ (ii) The Different Combinations of Polls/26. Combined polls involving elections of the local authority mayor and executive members.

26. Combined polls involving elections of the local authority mayor and executive members.

The Secretary of State¹ may by regulations² make provision as to the conduct of elections for the return of elected mayors or elected executive members³, including provision for the combination of polls at elections for the return of elected mayors and other elections⁴; and such regulations may apply or incorporate, with or without modifications or exceptions, any provision of, or made under, the Representation of the People Acts⁵ or any provision of any other enactment (whenever passed or made) relating to parliamentary elections or local government elections⁶.

Accordingly, where the polls at a local authority mayoral election and a parliamentary election⁷, a European parliamentary election⁸, or an ordinary local government election⁹ are to be taken on the same date, they must be taken together¹⁰. Where the polls at a local authority mayoral election and at certain local government elections are to be taken on the same day and the elections are for related electoral areas¹¹, the polls at those elections are taken together, as follows:

- 33 (1) the election of an elected mayor of a district council and the ordinary election of parish councillors for any parish¹² or an election to fill a casual vacancy occurring in the office of such a councillor¹³;
- 34 (2) the election of an elected mayor of the council of a county in England in which there are no district councils¹⁴, and the ordinary election of parish councillors for any parish or an election to fill a casual vacancy occurring in the office of such a councillor¹⁵; or
- 35 (3) the election of an elected mayor of a Welsh county or county borough council¹⁶, and the ordinary election of community councillors for any community¹⁷ or an election to fill a casual vacancy occurring in the office of such a councillor¹⁸.

Where the polls at any such elections are taken together, provision has been made in relation to the discharge of the functions of the respective returning officers¹⁹, the polling stations to be used²⁰, and proceedings on the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers²¹. The elections rules which apply at each election have effect subject to certain modifications²².

2 As to the making of regulations under the Local Government Act 2000 generally see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 98.

3 See ibid s 44(1)(a); and PARA 388 post. At the date at which this volume states the law, no regulations had been made in relation to elections for the return of elected executive members. As to elections for the return of elected mayors or elected executive members see PARA 205 et seq post.

4 Ibid s 44(2)(d). Such provision includes the combination of polls at elections for the return of elected mayors and elections for the return of elected executive members: s 44(2)(d). Further provision is made for the combination of polls at elections for the return of elected executive members and other elections, including elections for the return of elected mayors: s 44(2)(e). See, however, note 3 supra.

referendum conducted under the Local Authorities (Conduct of Referendums) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1298, the mayoral elections rules contained in the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(1), Sch 1 (as amended) (see PARA 388 post) are modified so as to have effect as set out in reg 5 (as substituted), Sch 3 (as substituted and amended): see reg 5 (substituted by SI 2004/225).

Where the poll at a local authority mayoral election is taken together with the poll at a parliamentary election, the parliamentary elections rules contained in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 (as amended) (see PARA 388 post) have effect subject to the modifications contained in the Representation of the People (Combination of Polls) (England and Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/294, reg 8, Sch 2 (amended by SI 2006/3278): see the Representation of the People (Combination of Polls) (England and Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/294, reg 8.

Where the poll at a local authority mayoral election is taken together with the poll at a European parliamentary election, the European parliamentary elections rules contained in the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 9(1), Sch 1 (as amended) (see PARA 388 post) have effect in England and Wales subject to the modifications contained in reg 11(b), (i), Sch 3 Pt 1 (rr 1-28): see reg 11.

Where the poll at a local authority mayoral election, conducted under the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, is taken together with the poll at a local government election, the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, r 3, Sch 2 (see PARA 388 post) has effect subject to the modifications as set out in r 4, Sch 3 (see rr 2(1), (2)(d), 4); and the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 has effect subject to the modifications as set out in r 4, Sch 3 (see rr 2(1), (2)(d), 4). As to the rules that apply when the polls at London Authority elections (which are included in the definition of 'local government election' for the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983: see PARA 10 ante) are taken together with the poll at a local authority mayoral election see PARA 22 note 11 ante.

Where the poll at a local authority mayoral election is taken together with the poll at a referendum conducted under the Local Authorities (Conduct of Referendums) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1298, the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended) and the Local Elections (Principal Areas) Rules 1986, SI 1986/2214 (as amended; revoked with savings) are modified as specified in the Local Authorities (Conduct of Referendums) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1298, regs 15-17, Sch 5: see Sch 5 para 1 (substituted by SI 2004/226; and amended by SI 2005/2114). See further PARA 557 post.

Regulations made under the Local Government Act 2000 s 44 (as amended) may: (1) modify any form contained in, or in regulations or rules made under, the Representation of the People Acts so far as may be necessary to enable it to be used both for the original purpose and in relation to elections for the return of elected mayors or elected executive members (Local Government Act 2000 s 44(3)(b)); and (2) so far as may be necessary in consequence of any such regulations or any provision made by or under the provisions relating to arrangements with respect to executives, amend any provision of any enactment (whenever passed or made) relating to the registration of parliamentary electors or local government electors (s 44(3)(c)). As to the forms so modified see the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 3 Appendix of Forms (substituted by SI 2004/225; and amended by SI 2005/2114).

INTRODUCTION AND GENERAL FRAMEWORK/(5) COMBINED POLLS/ (ii) The Different Combinations of Polls/27. Combined poll at local authority referendum and election poll in England.

27. Combined poll at local authority referendum and election poll in England.

The Secretary of State¹ may by regulations² make provision for the combination of polls at local authority referendums with polls at any elections³. Such regulations may apply or incorporate, with or without modifications or exceptions, any provision of any enactment (whenever passed or made) relating to elections or referendums⁴.

Accordingly, when the polls at a local authority referendum and a parliamentary election⁵, a European parliamentary election⁶ or an ordinary local government election⁷ are to be taken on the same date, they must be taken together⁸. Where the polls at any such election are taken together, provision has been made in relation to the discharge of the functions of the respective returning officers⁹, the polling stations to be used¹⁰, and proceedings on the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers¹¹. The elections rules which apply at each election have effect subject to certain modifications¹².

28. Combined poll at election to the National Assembly for Wales and local government election.

Where the polls at an ordinary Assembly election¹ and an ordinary local government election² are to be taken on the same date, they must be taken together³. Where those polls are taken together, provision has been made in relation to the discharge of the functions of the respective returning officers⁴, the polling stations to be used⁵, and proceedings on the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers⁶.

Provision is made also for the conduct of polls at Assembly elections when they are taken together with polls at local government elections⁷.

1 'Ordinary election' means the holding of constituency and regional elections for the return of all Assembly members: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 2(1). For the meanings of 'Assembly election', 'constituency election' and 'regional election' see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

2 As to the meaning of 'local government election' for these purposes see PARA 17 note 3 ante.

3 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 15(1).

4 As to the transferred functions of returning officer where polls are combined see PARA 18 ante.

5 As to the polling stations to be used where polls are combined see PARA 19 ante.

6 As to proceedings on the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers where polls are combined see PARA 20 ante.

7 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 15(7). The provision referred to in the text is made by art 15(7), Sch 4, although where the poll at an Assembly election is combined with a mayoral election only Sch 4 Pt I (paras 1-3) (general: see PARA 18 ante) and Pt II (paras 4-22) apply: art 15(7).

Where the poll at an Assembly election is taken with the poll at a local government election under art 15(1) or art 15(2) (see PARA 29 post), then art 16(1), Sch 5 (see PARA 388 post) has effect subject to the modifications set out in Sch 4 Pt II paras 5-22: Sch 4 Pt II para 4. Where the poll at an election of county or county borough councillors is taken together with the poll at an Assembly election under art 15(1) or art 15(2), then the Local Elections (Principal Areas) Rules 1986, SI 1986/2214, r 5, Sch 2 (revoked with savings) (as to which see PARA 388 post) have effect subject to the modifications set out in the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 4 Pt III paras 24-43: Sch 4 Pt III para 23. Where the poll at an election of community councillors is taken together with the poll at an Assembly election under art 15(1) or art 15(2), the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) Rules 1986, SI 1986/2215, r 5, Sch 2 (revoked with savings) (as to which see PARA 388 post) have effect subject to the modifications set out in the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 4 Pt IV paras 45-64: Sch 4 Pt IV para 44.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/1. INTRODUCTION AND GENERAL FRAMEWORK/(5) COMBINED POLLS/ (ii) The Different Combinations of Polls/29. Combined polls at elections or referendums for related areas.

29. Combined polls at elections or referendums for related areas.

Where the polls at elections¹ for related areas (or the polls at elections and a local authority referendum for related areas²) are to be taken on the same date but are not required to be taken together³, they may nevertheless be so taken if the returning officer for each election thinks fit⁴. For these purposes two areas are related if one is coterminous with or situated wholly or partly within the other⁵.

The Secretary of State⁶ may by regulations⁷ make such provision as he thinks fit in connection with the combining of polls at such elections (or at such elections and a referendum) including provision modifying the Representation of the People Acts⁸ in relation to them⁹. Accordingly, provision has been made in relation to the discharge of the functions of the respective returning officers¹⁰, the polling stations to be used¹¹, and proceedings on the issue and receipt of postal ballot papers¹². Furthermore, where the polls at such elections or referendums are taken together, the rules which apply at each election or referendum have effect subject to certain modifications¹³.

1 The expression 'elections' includes European parliamentary elections but does not include elections under the local government Act which are not local government elections: Representation of the People Act 1985 s 15(3) (amended by the European Communities (Amendment) Act 1986 s 3). The Representation of the People Act 1983 and the Representation of the People Act 1985 ss 15-17 (as amended) have effect as if those provisions were contained in the Representation of the People Act 1983 Pt I (ss 1-66) (as amended): Representation of the People Act 1985 s 27(2). Accordingly, for the meanings of 'election under the local government Act' and 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. Section 15 (as amended) is applied and modified by regulations made under the Local Government Act 2000 ss 44, 105 (as amended) for the purposes of elections for the return of elected mayors or elected executive members: see the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(2), Sch 2 (as amended); and PARA 26 ante.

2 I.e. a referendum under the Local Authorities (Conduct of Referendums) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1298 (as amended): see PARA 27 ante. The Representation of the People Act 1985 s 15 (as amended) is applied and modified by regulations made under the Local Government Act 2000 ss 45, 105 (as amended) for the purposes of the conduct of local authority referendums: see the Local Authorities (Conduct of Referendums) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1298, regs 15-17, Sch 5 (as substituted and amended); and PARA 27 ante.

3 I.e. they are not required to be taken together by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 15(1) (as amended) and the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 36 (as amended) or by the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 15(1) (see PARAS 21-24 ante). (6) ELECTIONS IN THE CITY OF LONDON

30. City elections.

Certain provisions of the Representation of the People Act 1983¹ apply in relation to the City of London as if the City were a London borough and the Common Council of the City were a London borough council²; and expressions used for certain purposes in the Representation of the People Act 1983³ are modified so that 'local government election'⁴ and 'election under the local government Act'⁵ include a municipal election in the City of London⁶, 'local government area'⁷ includes the City, and 'electoral area'⁸ means, in relation to a ward election⁹, the ward and, in relation to any other municipal election in the City, the City¹⁰.

Further provision is made in relation to municipal elections in the City¹¹, subject to modifications affecting personation and other voting offences¹², broadcasting during the period of elections¹³, disturbances at election meetings¹⁴ and the payment of certain costs and expenses¹⁵. The Representation of the People Act 1983 also applies with modifications to ward elections in the City of London¹⁶. In relation to City elections generally, special provision is made regarding the expenses of candidates at certain elections¹⁷ and the effect of the avoidance of an election to corporate office¹⁸.

In most of its other respects, the law that applies to elections in the City of London is unique, being governed by custom, by certain local Acts and by various Acts of the Common Council, and is discussed elsewhere in this work¹⁹.

1 In the Representation of the People Act 1983 Pt I (ss 1-66A) (as amended), so far as it has effect for the purposes of parliamentary elections, and Pts I-III (ss 1-186) (as amended), so far as they have effect for the purposes of Authority elections, and subject to any express provision contained in the Part or Parts in question: s 203(2) (substituted by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 17, Sch 3 para 39(1), (6)). For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; and for the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante.

2 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1), s 203(2) (as substituted: see note 1 supra). For these purposes, the Inner Temple and the Middle Temple are treated as forming part of the City: s 203(2) (as so substituted). The modifications made by s 203(2) (as substituted) do not affect s 52(4) (as substituted) (duty of a district council or London borough council to assign officers to assist the registration officer: see PARA 155 post): s 203(3). As to London boroughs and London borough councils generally see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARAS 30, 35 et seq; as to the Temples see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 32; and as to the Court of Common Council see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 51 et seq.

3 In the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 60 (personation: see PARA 733 post), s 61 (as amended) (other voting offences: see PARA 703 post) and s 62A (as added) (offences associated with postal or proxy voting: see PARA 734 post), Pt II (ss 67-119) (as amended) (the election campaign: see PARA 237 et seq post) except s 96 (as substituted and amended) (schools and rooms for local election meetings: see PARA 342 post) and s 99 (as amended) (officials not to act for candidates: see PARA 749 post), Pt III (ss 120-186) (as amended) (legal proceedings: see PARA 759 et seq post), s 189 (voting offences at certain local elections: see PARA 703 post), s 193-198 (as amended) (City elections) and Pt V (ss 200-207) (as amended) (general and supplemental): s 191(1) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 ss 24, 28, Sch 4 para 66, Sch 5; and the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 74(1), Sch 1 Pt 7 paras 104, 125).

4 For the meaning of 'local government election' generally see PARA 10 ante.

5 As to the expression 'election under the local government Act' generally see PARA 10 ante.

6 For these purposes, a 'municipal election in the City of London' means an election to the office of mayor, alderman, common councilman or sheriff and also the election of any officer elected by the mayor, aldermen and liverymen in common hall: Representation of the People Act 1983 ss 191(1), 202(1). As to the election of the Lord Mayor of London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 44; as to the election of aldermen see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 49; as to the election of common councilmen see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 52; and as to elections in Common Hall see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 56.

7 For the meaning of 'local government area' see PARA 18 note 2 ante.

8 For the meaning of 'electoral area' generally see PARA 10 ante.

9 As to ward elections in the City of London see the text and note 16 infra.

10 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 191(1).

11 Ie the provisions of the Representation of the People Act 1983 listed at note 3 supra have effect.

12 See ibid s 191(1) (as amended: see note 3 supra), s 193 (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 74(1), Sch 1 Pt 7 paras 104, 126). As to personation and other voting offences generally see PARAS 703, 733-734 post.

13 See the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 191(1) (as amended: see note 3 supra), s 194. As to broadcasting offences generally see PARAS 336-337 post.

14 See ibid s 191(1) (as amended: see note 3 supra), s 195. As to disturbances at election meetings generally see PARA 343 post.

15 See ibid s 191(1) (as amended: see note 3 supra), s 196 (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 Sch 5). The text refers to any costs or expenses directed to be paid under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 132 (remuneration and allowances to be paid to the election commissioner: see PARA 776 post).

16 Without prejudice to the provisions applied by virtue of ibid ss 191-196 (as amended) (see the text and notes 3-15 supra), Sch 6 (as amended) (ward elections in the City) also has effect as regards the operation of the City of London (Various Powers) Act 1957 Pt II (ss 4-11) (as amended) (ward elections) and the City of London (Ward Elections) Act 2002: see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 191(2) (amended by the City of London (Ward Elections) Act 2002 s 9(1), Sch 1 Pt 2 para 4). See also the City of London (Various Powers) Act 1957 s 8 (as amended), which applies specified provisions of the Representation of the People Act 1983, in addition to the provisions which apply by virtue of ss 191-196 (as amended), to and in respect of ward elections. The City of London (Various Powers) Act 1957 Pt II (as amended) and the City of London (Ward Elections) Act 2002 both make provision with respect to the franchise and its exercise in relation to such elections: see further LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 41 et seq.

17 See the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 197 (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 Sch 4 para 67; the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 74(1), Sch 1 paras 104, 127; and the Representation of the People (Variation of Limits of Candidates' Election Expenses) (City of London) Order 2005, SI 2005/153, arts 3-4). The elections referred to in the text are ward and liverymen in common hall elections. As to candidates' expenses generally see PARA 274 et seq post.

18 See the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 198. For these purposes, 'corporate office' includes each of the offices referred to in the definition of a 'municipal election in the City of London' (see note 6 supra): s 191(1). A. CONSTITUTION, ADMINISTRATION AND PROCEEDINGS OF THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION

31. Establishment and constitution of the Electoral Commission.

The Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000¹ established a body corporate known as the Electoral Commission². The Commission consists of not less than five but not more than nine members, known as Electoral Commissioners³ and appointed by Her Majesty⁴, who also appoints one of their number to be the chairman⁵.

The Commission is not to be regarded as the servant or agent of the Crown⁶ or as enjoying any status, immunity or privilege of the Crown⁷, and the Commission's property is not to be regarded as property of the Crown or as property held on its behalf⁸.

1 The Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Pt I (ss 1-21) (as amended); see also PARA 32 et seq post. These provisions were enacted following the publication of Standards in Public Life (Fifth Report): The Funding of Political Parties in the United Kingdom (Cm 4057) (October 1998) (the 'Neill Report'). In the opinion of the authors of the report, a new body with widespread executive and investigative powers was required to oversee compliance with the serious and continuing duties they had proposed for political parties, to institute action where necessary, and to make proposals to government as to any necessary reforms in the working of the machinery: see PARA 2.32; Ch 11; and Recommendations R70-R82.

2 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 1(1). In Welsh, the Commission is known as 'Comisiwn Etholiadol': s 1(1).

Further provision in relation to the Electoral Commission is made by Sch 1: s 1(6). The Commission may do anything (except borrow money) which is calculated to facilitate, or is incidental or conducive to, the carrying out of any of its functions: Sch 1 para 2. For these purposes, 'functions' includes powers and duties: s 160(1). As to the Commission's functions generally see PARA 46 et seq post. The Electoral Commission is subject to investigation by the Parliamentary Commissioner: see the Parliamentary Commissioner Act 1967 s 4 (as substituted and amended), Sch 2 (as substituted); and ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 41 et seq.

The Secretary of State may by order provide for the transfer to the Commission of such property, rights and liabilities to which he is entitled or subject, and which are specified in the order, as he considers appropriate in connection with the establishment of the Commission: Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 1 para 14(7). Such an order may in particular provide for the order to have effect despite any provision (of whatever nature) which would prevent or restrict the transfer of any such property, rights or liabilities otherwise than by the order: Sch 1 para 14(8). At the date at which this volume states the law no such order had been made. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante.

Any power of the Secretary of State to make any order or regulations under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 must be exercised by statutory instrument: s 156(1). A statutory instrument containing any order or regulations so made by the Secretary of State is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament (s 156(2)) apart from: (1) any order under s 16(3) (see PARA 64 post) or s 163(2) (commencement) or Sch 1 para 14(7) (s 156(3)(a)); (2) any order made in pursuance of s 155(2)(a) (power to vary sums: see PARA 304 post) (s 156(3)(b)); and (3) any order under s 18(1) (see PARA 65 post), s 51(4) (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS), s 67(1) (see PARA 316 post), s 71F(13) (as added) (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS), s 71H(4) (as added) (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS), s 71U(1) (as added) (see PARA 317 post), s 101(4) (see PARA 519 post), s 108(3) (see PARA 522 post), s 109(6) (see PARA 522 post), s 129 (see PARA 546 post), s 71Q(5), Sch 6A para 9 (as added) (see PARA 317 post), s 71, Sch 7 para 3(4) (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS), s 71Y, Sch 7A paras 2(9), 4(4) (as added) (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS), s 72, Sch 8 para 4 (see PARA 304 post), s 95, Sch 11 para 3(4) (see PARA 330 post), s 111, Sch 13 para 4 (see PARA 527 post), s 118, Sch 14 para 2 (see PARA 533 post) or s 119, Sch 15 para 3(4) (see PARA 538 post) (s 156(4) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 61(4), (7), Sch 1 paras 97, 100)). No such order is to be made under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 156(4) (as amended), whether alone or with other provisions, unless a draft of the statutory instrument containing the order has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament: s 154(4). Any order or regulations made by the Secretary of State under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 may contain such consequential, incidental, supplementary or transitional provisions or savings (including provisions amending, repealing or revoking enactments) as the Secretary of State considers appropriate and may make different provision for different cases (s 156(5)); and nothing in the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 is to be read as affecting the generality of s 156(5), including s 156(5) as applied by s 19(9) (transfer of functions from the Local Boundary Commission for Scotland) (s 156(6)). As to provisions relating to regulations made by the Electoral Commission see Sch 1 paras 21-23 (see PARAS 42-43 post): s 156(7).

3 Ibid s 1(2), (3). Members of the Electoral Commission are disqualified for membership of the House of Commons: House of Commons Disqualification Act 1975 s 1(1), Sch 1 Pt II (amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 158(1), Sch 21 para 3(a)). See further PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARAS 905, 908.

4 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 1(4). The Commissioners are appointed by Her Majesty in accordance with s 3 (see PARA 32 post). As to the appointment of Deputy and Assistant Electoral Commissioners (whose functions are confined to serving on or assisting Boundary Committees) see PARA 61 post.

5 Ibid s 1(5). The chairman of the Commission is appointed by Her Majesty in accordance with s 3 (see PARA 32 post).

6 Ibid s 1(6), Sch 1 para 1(1)(a). As to the position of the staff of the Commission see PARA 35 et seq post.

7 Ibid Sch 1 para 1(1)(b).

8 Ibid Sch 1 para 1(2). For these purposes, 'property' includes any description of property: s 160(1).

The administrative and departmental records of the Electoral Commission are public records as defined for the purposes of the Public Records Act 1958 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 835): s 10, Sch 1 para 3, Table Pt II (amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 21 para 1).

Appointment of Electoral Commissioners and Commission chairman.

32. Appointment of Electoral Commissioners and Commission chairman.

The powers of Her Majesty to appoint Electoral Commissioners¹ and to appoint the chairman of the Commission² are exercisable on an address from the House of Commons³. Such an address must specify the period, not exceeding ten years, for which each proposed Electoral Commissioner to whom the address relates is to hold office as such Commissioner or (as the case may be) the period for which the proposed chairman of the Commission is to hold office as such chairman⁴.

A person may not be appointed as an Electoral Commissioner if the person: (1) is a member of a registered party⁵; (2) is an officer or employee of a registered party or of any accounting unit of such a party⁶; (3) holds a relevant elective office⁷; or (4) has at any time within the last ten years been such an officer or employee as is mentioned in head (2) above⁸, or has held such an office as is mentioned in head (3) above⁹, or has been named either as a donor in the register of donations¹⁰ or as a participant in the register of recordable transactions¹¹.

An Electoral Commissioner, or the chairman of the Commission, may be re-appointed, or further re-appointed¹².

1 Ie under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 1(4): see PARA 31 ante.

2 Ie under ibid s 1(5): see PARA 31 ante.

3 Ibid s 3(1). No motion is to be made for such an address except: (1) with the agreement of the Speaker of the House of Commons (s 3(2)(a)); and (2) after consultation with the registered leader of each registered party to which two or more members of the House of Commons then belong (s 3(2)(b)). For the purposes of head (2) supra, the reference to members of the House of Commons does not include any member of that House who at the time in question: (a) has not made and subscribed the oath required by the Parliamentary Oaths Act 1866 (or the corresponding affirmation); or (b) is disqualified from sitting and voting in that House: Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 3(6). For these purposes, 'registered party' means a party registered under Pt II (ss 22-40) (as amended) (see PARA 260 post): s 160(1). As to the disqualification of members of the House of Commons see PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 897 et seq; as to the Speaker of the House of Commons see PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 931 et seq; and as to the oath or affirmation required by the Parliamentary Oaths Act 1866 see PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 1001.

UPDATE

32 Appointment of Electoral Commissioners and Commission chairman

TEXT AND NOTES--Four of the Electoral Commissioners must each be a person whom the registered leader of a qualifying party put forward to be considered for appointment as an Electoral Commissioner (a 'nominated Commissioner'): Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 3A(1) (s 3A added by the Political Parties and Elections Act 2009 s 5(2)). 'Qualifying party' means a registered party with two or more members of the House of Commons at the time of the person's appointment: Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 3A(2). Three of the nominated Commissioners must each be a person put forward by the registered leader of one of the three largest nominating parties at the time of the person's appointment: s 3A(3). 'Nominating party' means a party whose registered leader (1) has put forward three persons to be considered for appointment as a nominated Commissioner, or (2) previously put forward persons one of whom was appointed as a nominated Commissioner and is expected to continue to hold office: s 3A(4). No appointment may be made that would result in two or more nominated Commissioners being persons put forward by the leader of the same party, and nothing in s 3A has effect so as to require that result: s 3A(5). A nominated Commissioner may not be appointed as the chairman of the Electoral Commission: s 3A(6). For the purposes of s 3A, the relative size of any two or more registered parties is to be determined according to the number of members of the House of Commons belonging to each party at the time in question, or, in the case of two parties with the same number of members, according to the total number of votes cast for persons standing for election in the name of each of those parties at the most recent parliamentary general election: s 3A(7). A reference in s 3A to a member of the House of Commons does not include any member of that House who at the time in question (a) has not made and subscribed the oath required by the Parliamentary Oaths Act 1866 (see PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 1001), or the corresponding affirmation, or (b) is disqualified from sitting and voting in that House: s 3A(8).

NOTE 3--A motion for such an address may be made only if (1) the Speaker of the House of Commons agrees that the motion may be made; (2) the motion has been the subject of consultation with the registered leader of each registered party to which two or more members of the House of Commons then belong; and (3) each person whose appointment is proposed in the motion has been selected in accordance with a procedure put in place and overseen by the Speaker's Committee: Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 3(2) (s 3(2) substituted, s 3(5A) added by the Political Parties and Elections Act 2009 s 4(1)-(3)). In the case of a re-appointment, or further re-appointment of an Electoral Commissioner, the reference in head (3) to being selected in accordance with a procedure put in place and overseen by the Speaker's Committee is to be read as including a reference to being recommended for re-appointment, or further re-appointment, by that Committee: Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 3(5A).

NOTES 5-11--Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 3 amended: Political Parties and Elections Act 2009 Sch 6 para 10.

NOTES 5, 8-11--The Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 3(4)(a), (d) do not apply to the appointment of a person as a nominated Electoral Commissioner, within the meaning of s 3A: s 3(4A) (added by the Political Parties and Elections Act 2009 s 5(1)).

TEXT AND NOTE 8--For 'within the last ten years' read 'within the last five years': Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 3(4)(d) (amended by the Political Parties and Elections Act 2009 s 7(1)).

33. Tenure of Electoral Commissioners and Commission chairman.

An Electoral Commissioner¹ holds office² as such Commissioner for the period for which he is appointed³, and otherwise in accordance with the terms of his appointment⁴. An Electoral Commissioner ceases to hold office on the occurrence of any of the following events: (1) he consents to being nominated as a candidate at a relevant election⁵ or to being included in a registered party's list of candidates at such an election⁶; (2) he takes up any office or employment in or with a registered party or any accounting unit⁷ of such a party⁸, a recognised third party⁹, or a permitted participant¹⁰; (3) he is named as a donor in the register of donations¹¹ or in any statement of donations included in a return delivered to the Commission¹²; (4) he is named as a participant in the register of recordable transactions¹³; (5) he becomes a member of a registered party¹⁴. An Electoral Commissioner may be removed from office by Her Majesty in pursuance of an address from the House of Commons¹⁵, or he may be relieved of his office by Her Majesty at his own request¹⁶.

The chairman of the Commission¹⁷ holds office¹⁸ as such chairman for the period for which he is appointed¹⁹, and otherwise in accordance with the terms of his appointment²⁰. The chairman of the Commission may be relieved of his office of chairman by Her Majesty at his own request²¹. If the chairman of the Commission ceases to be an Electoral Commissioner, he also ceases to be chairman²².

33 Tenure of Electoral Commissioners and Commission chairman

TEXT AND NOTES 5-14--Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 1 para 3(3) amended, Sch 1 para 3(3A) added: Political Parties and Elections Act 2009 Sch 6 para 27(2).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/2. THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION ETC/(1) THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/(i) The Commission and Bodies with Related Functions/A. CONSTITUTION, ADMINISTRATION AND PROCEEDINGS OF THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/34. Salaries, pensions etc of Electoral Commissioners.

34. Salaries, pensions etc of Electoral Commissioners.

There is paid to an Electoral Commissioner¹ such remuneration, and any such allowances or expenses, as may be specified in a resolution of the House of Commons². If a resolution of the House of Commons so provides in the case of any person who is an Electoral Commissioner or former Electoral Commissioner, such amounts are to be paid towards the provision of superannuation benefits for or in respect of him as may be specified in the resolution³ and, in the case of a former Electoral Commissioner, such pension⁴ is to be paid to or in respect of him as may be so specified⁵.

Any amount so payable (other than by way of expenses) must be charged on and issued out of the Consolidated Fund⁶; and any amount so payable by way of expenses must be paid by the Commission⁷.

1 As to the appointment and tenure of Electoral Commissioners see PARAS 32-33 ante.

2 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 1(6), Sch 1 para 5(1). A resolution for these purposes may: (1) specify the amounts to be paid (Sch 1 para 5(3)(a)); (2) provide that the amounts to be paid are the same as, or calculated on the same basis as, those payable to or in respect of a person employed in a specified office under, or in a specified capacity in the service of, the Crown (Sch 1 para 5(3)(b)); (3) specify the amounts to be paid and provide for them to be increased by reference to such variables as may be specified in the resolution (Sch 1 para 5(3)(c)); (4) have the effect of making different provision for different Electoral Commissioners or former Electoral Commissioners (Sch 1 para 5(3)(d)). A resolution for these purposes may take effect from the date on which it is passed or from any earlier or later date specified in the resolution: Sch 1 para 5(4).

THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION ETC/(1) THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/(i) The Commission and Bodies with Related Functions/A. CONSTITUTION, ADMINISTRATION AND PROCEEDINGS OF THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/35. The chief executive and staff of the Electoral Commission.

35. The chief executive and staff of the Electoral Commission.

The Electoral Commission¹ must appoint a chief executive² and may appoint such other staff as the Commission considers necessary to assist it and its committees³ in the performance of its functions⁴. A person may not be appointed as chief executive of the Commission if he is a person who⁵ may not be appointed as an Electoral Commissioner⁶ nor may a person be appointed as any other member of the staff of the Commission if he is a person who⁷ may not be appointed as an Electoral Commissioner⁸. The staff of the Commission are to be appointed on such terms and conditions as the Commission may determine; and the Commission must pay its staff such remuneration as may be provided for by or under their terms of appointment⁹. However, the appointment of any member of the staff of the Commission must terminate on the occurrence of such events as are specified¹⁰.

Service as an officer or employee of the Commission is included in the kinds of employment to which a scheme under the Superannuation Act 1972¹¹ can apply¹². The Commission must pay to the Minister for the Civil Service¹³, at such times as he may direct, such sums as he may determine in respect of any increase¹⁴ in the sums payable out of money provided by Parliament under the Superannuation Act 1972¹⁵.

No member of the staff of the Commission is to be regarded as the servant or agent of the Crown¹⁶ or as enjoying any status, immunity or privilege of the Crown¹⁷.

9 Ibid Sch 1 para 11(3). In determining the terms and conditions of staff under Sch 1 para 11(3), the Commission must have regard to the desirability of keeping the remuneration and other terms and conditions of employment of its staff broadly in line with those applying to persons employed in the civil service of the state: Sch 1 para 11(5).

10 Ibid Sch 1 para 11(4). The events mentioned in the text are those specified in any of Sch 1 para 3(3)(a)-(d) (see PARA 33 ante) if the member of staff in question is the chief executive (Sch 1 para 11(4)(a)) or those specified in any of Sch 1 para 3(3)(a)-(c) (see PARA 33 ante) in any other case (Sch 1 para 11(4)(b)).

The Superannuation Act 1972 s 1(2) (delegation of functions relating to civil service superannuation schemes by the Minister for the Civil Service to another officer of the Crown etc: see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 567) has effect as if the reference to an officer of the Crown other than a minister included the Commission's chief executive: Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 1 para 13(1). Any administration function so conferred on the Commission's chief executive, as it has effect in accordance with Sch 1 para 13(1), may be exercised by (or by employees of) such person as may be authorised in that behalf by the Commission's chief executive: Sch 1 para 13(2). For these purposes, an 'administration function' is a function of administering schemes made under the Superannuation Act 1972 s 1 (as amended) and from time to time in force: Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 1 para 13(3). An authorisation given by virtue of Sch 1 para 13(2) may authorise the exercise of an administration function: (1) either wholly or to such extent as may be specified in the authorisation (Sch 1 para 13(4)(a)); (2) either generally or in such cases as may be so specified (Sch 1 para 13(4)(b)); and (3) either unconditionally or subject to the fulfilment of such conditions as may be so specified (Sch 1 para 13(4)(c)). Such an authorisation is to be treated for all purposes as if it were given by virtue of an order under the Deregulation and Contracting Out Act 1994 s 69 (contracting out of functions of ministers and office-holders: see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 364) and may be revoked at any time by the Commission (as well as by the chief executive): Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 1 para 13(5).

THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION ETC/(1) THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/(i) The Commission and Bodies with Related Functions/A. CONSTITUTION, ADMINISTRATION AND PROCEEDINGS OF THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/35A. Political restrictions on staff.

35A. Political restrictions on staff.

A person may not be appointed as a member of the staff of the Electoral Commission if the person (1) is an officer or employee of a registered party or of any accounting unit of such a party; (2) holds a relevant elective office, within the meaning of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 7 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS); (3) has at any time within the relevant period been such an officer or employee as is mentioned in head (1), or held such an office as is mentioned in head (2), or been named as a donor in the register of donations reported under Pt IV (ss 62-69, 71; see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS), or been named as a participant in the register of recordable transactions reported under Pt IVA (ss 71F-71Z2; see PARA 317 and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): Sch 1 para 11A(1) (Sch 1 paras 11A, 11B added: Political Parties and Elections Act 2009 s 7(2)). The relevant period is (a) in relation to appointment as chief executive of the Electoral Commission, the last five years; (b) in relation to appointment to a post on the staff of the Electoral Commission that is designated by a notice in force under Sch 1 para 11B, the period, immediately preceding the appointment, specified by the notice; (c) in relation to appointment as any other member of the staff of the Electoral Commission, the last 12 months: Sch 1 para 11A(2). A member of a registered party may not be appointed as chief executive of the Electoral Commission: Sch 1 para 11A(3). As to the termination of the appointment of any member of the staff of the Electoral Commission see Sch 1 para 11A(4). The chief executive of the Electoral Commission may by giving notice to the Speaker's Committee (i) designate a particular post on the staff of the Electoral Commission; and (ii) specify as the relevant period for that post, for the purposes of head (b) above, a period of two years or more, if the chief executive reasonably believes that it is necessary to do so in order to maintain public confidence in the effectiveness of the Electoral Commission in carrying out any of its functions: Sch 1 para 11B(1). The period specified under head (ii) may not be more than five years: Sch 1 para 11B(2). In deciding what that period should be, the chief executive of the Electoral Commission must take into account the level of seniority of the post and how likely it is that any holder of the post will be required to deal with politically sensitive matters: Sch 1 para 11B(3). Each notice must relate to only one post: Sch 1 para 11B(4). As to further provisions regarding notices under Sch 1 para 11B(1) see Sch 1 paras 11B(5)-(9). Schedule 1 paras 11A, 11B do not apply to the appointment of a person to assist the Boundary Committee for England in the performance of its functions, to assist the Electoral Commission in carrying out functions transferred to them by an order under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 18(1) (see para 65) or to perform duties including either or both of those: Political Parties and Elections Act 2009 s 7(3).

NOTE 3--Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 1 para 10(1) amended: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Sch 7 Pt 3.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/2. THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION ETC/(1) THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/(i) The Commission and Bodies with Related Functions/A. CONSTITUTION, ADMINISTRATION AND PROCEEDINGS OF THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/39. Finances, financial estimates and the five-year plan.

39. Finances, financial estimates and the five-year plan.

The expenditure of the Electoral Commission¹, so far as it cannot be met out of income received by the Commission, must be met² out of money provided by Parliament³.

For each financial year⁴ the Commission must prepare, and submit to the Speaker's Committee⁵, an estimate of the Commission's income and expenditure⁶; and the Speaker's Committee must: (1) examine each such estimate submitted to it⁷; and (2) decide whether it is satisfied that the estimated level of income and expenditure is consistent with the economical, efficient and effective discharge by the Commission of its functions⁸; and (3) if it is not so satisfied, must make such modifications⁹ to the estimate as it considers appropriate for the purpose of achieving such consistency¹⁰. Before deciding whether it is so satisfied or making any such modifications, the Speaker's Committee must have regard to the most recent report made to it by the Comptroller and Auditor General¹¹ and to any recommendations contained in that report¹², and must consult the Treasury¹³ and have regard to any advice which the Treasury may give¹⁴. The Speaker's Committee must, after concluding its examination and making its modifications (if any) to the estimate, lay the estimate before the House of Commons¹⁵. If the Speaker's Committee, in the discharge of these functions¹⁶, does not follow any recommendation contained in the report of the Comptroller and Auditor General¹⁷, does not follow any advice given to it by the Treasury¹⁸, or makes any modification to the estimate¹⁹, it must include in the next statutory report which it makes to the House of Commons²⁰ a statement of its reasons for so doing²¹.

When the Commission submits to the Speaker's Committee such an estimate, the Commission must also submit to the Committee a plan prepared by the Commission setting out the Commission's aims and objectives for the period of five years beginning with the financial year to which the estimate relates²², and estimated requirements for resources during that five-year period²³. The Speaker's Committee must: (a) examine each plan submitted to it²⁴; (b) decide whether it is satisfied that the plan is consistent with the economical, efficient and effective discharge by the Commission of its functions²⁵; and (c) if it is not so satisfied, make such modifications to the plan as it considers appropriate for the purpose of achieving such consistency²⁶. Before deciding whether it is so satisfied or making any such modifications, the Speaker's Committee must have regard to the most recent report made to it by the Comptroller and Auditor General²⁷ and to any recommendations contained in that report²⁸, and must consult the Treasury and have regard to any advice which the Treasury may give²⁹. The Speaker's Committee must, after concluding its examination and making its modifications (if any) to the plan, lay the plan before the House of Commons³⁰. If the Speaker's Committee, in the discharge of these functions³¹, does not follow any recommendation contained in the report of the Comptroller and Auditor General³², does not follow any advice given to them by the Treasury³³, or makes any modification to the plan³⁴, it must include in the next statutory report which it makes to the House of Commons³⁵ a statement of its reasons for so doing³⁶.

For the purpose of assisting the Speaker's Committee to discharge its functions in relation to the Commission's financial estimates³⁷ and in relation to the Commission's five-year plan³⁸, the Comptroller and Auditor General must in each year: (i) carry out an examination into the economy, efficiency or effectiveness (or, if he so determines, any combination thereof) with which the Commission has used its resources in discharging its functions (or, if he so determines, any particular functions)³⁹; (ii) report to the Speaker's Committee the results of the examination⁴⁰; and (iii) include in his report such recommendations as he considers appropriate in the light of the examination⁴¹.

1 As to the establishment and constitution of the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

2 le in accordance with the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 1(6), Sch 1 para 14, except so far as it is: (1) reimbursed by the Secretary of State under s 18(9) (provision of advice to the Secretary of State relating to the transfer of functions of the Local Government Commission for England: see PARA 65 post) or the Scottish Ministers in pursuance of s 13(9) (education about electoral and democratic systems), s 19(11) (provision of advice relating to the transfer of functions of the Local Government Boundary Commission for Scotland) or s 145(6) (monitoring compliance with controls in relation to local government elections in Scotland) (Sch 1 para 14(1)(a)); or (2) met by the National Assembly for Wales in pursuance of s 5(3) (report on the administration of a poll regarding the functions of the National Assembly for Wales: see PARA 46 post) or s 20(12) (transfer of functions of the Local Government Boundary Commission for Wales: see PARA 66 post) (Sch 1 para 14(1)(b)).

If the Secretary of State designates the Electoral Commission as a CORE keeper (as to which see PARA 59 post), any grant which is paid to the Commission in pursuance of the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 3 (CORE scheme grants: see PARA 185 post) must be treated as income received by the Commission for the purposes of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 1 para 14(1): Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 4(2). The following payments made by the Secretary of State to the Electoral Commission under the Regional Assemblies (Preparations) Act 2003 also must be treated as income received by the Commission for the purposes of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 1 para 14(1): (a) payments made to enable the Boundary Committee for England to carry out its functions in relation to a local government review under the Regional Assemblies (Preparations) Act 2003 Pt 2 (ss 13-20) (see s 19; and PARA 553 post); and (b) payments made to enable the Electoral Commission to give advice under Pt 4 (ss 21-24) regarding the establishment of an elected assembly for a region (see s 24; and PARA 552 post). TEXT AND NOTES 1-3--2000 Act Sch 1 para 14(a) amended, Sch 1 para 14(b), (c) substituted for Sch 1 para 14(b): SI 2007/1388.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/2. THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION ETC/(1) THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/(i) The Commission and Bodies with Related Functions/A. CONSTITUTION, ADMINISTRATION AND PROCEEDINGS OF THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/40. Accounts of the Electoral Commission.

40. Accounts of the Electoral Commission.

The Electoral Commission¹ must keep proper accounting records² and, for each financial year³, must prepare accounts in accordance with directions given to the Commission by the Treasury⁴. Such directions include, in particular, directions as to: (1) the information to be contained in the accounts and the manner in which it is to be presented⁵; (2) the methods and principles in accordance with which the accounts are to be prepared⁶; and (3) the additional information, if any, that is to accompany the accounts⁷.

The accounts prepared by the Commission for any financial year must be submitted by the Commission to the Comptroller and Auditor General⁸, and to the Speaker's Committee⁹, as soon after the end of the financial year as may be practicable¹⁰. The Comptroller and Auditor General must examine and certify any accounts submitted to him in this way¹¹ and lay before each House of Parliament a copy of the accounts as certified by him together with his report on them¹².

The Speaker's Committee must designate a member of the Commission's staff to be the Commission's accounting officer¹³, who has, in relation to the Commission's accounts and finances, the responsibilities¹⁴ that are from time to time specified by the Speaker's Committee¹⁵.

1 As to the establishment and constitution of the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

2 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 1(6), Sch 1 para 17(1). For these purposes, 'record' means a record in whatever form it is kept: s 160(1).

3 For the meaning of 'financial year' for these purposes see PARA 39 note 4 ante.

4 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 1 para 17(2). As to the Treasury see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 512-517.

8 Ibid Sch 1 para 18(1)(a). As to the Comptroller and Auditor General see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 724-726.

9 Ibid Sch 1 para 18(1)(b). As to the Speaker's Committee see PARA 44 post.

10 Ibid Sch 1 para 18(1).

11 Ibid Sch 1 para 18(2)(a).

12 Ibid Sch 1 para 18(2)(b).

13 Ibid Sch 1 para 19(1). As to the Secretary of State's power to designate any member of the Commission's staff or other person to be the Commission's accounting officer until such time as the first designation took effect see Sch 1 para 19(6). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante.

14 For these purposes, references to responsibilities include in particular: (1) responsibilities in relation to the signing of accounts (ibid Sch 1 para 19(3)(a)); (2) responsibilities for the propriety and regularity of the Commission's finances (Sch 1 para 19(3)(b)); and (3) responsibilities for the economy, efficiency and effectiveness with which the Commission's resources are used (Sch 1 para 19(3)(c)).

15 Ibid Sch 1 para 19(2). The responsibilities which may be specified under Sch 1 para 19 include responsibilities owed to the Commission, the Speaker's Committee or the House of Commons or its Committee of Public Accounts (Sch 1 para 19(4)); and any reference to the Public Accounts Committee of the House of Commons must, if the name of the Committee is changed, be taken to be references to the Committee by its new name (Sch 1 para 19(5)).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/2. THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION ETC/(1) THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/(i) The Commission and Bodies with Related Functions/A. CONSTITUTION, ADMINISTRATION AND PROCEEDINGS OF THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/42. Regulations made by the Electoral Commission.

42. Regulations made by the Electoral Commission.

If the Electoral Commission¹ makes any regulations, it must give a copy to the Secretary of State² without delay³; and if the Commission alters or revokes any regulations, it must give notice to the Secretary of State without delay⁴.

Any power conferred on the Commission to make regulations⁵ is exercisable in writing⁶. An instrument by which regulations are made by the Commission (a 'regulation-making instrument') must specify the provision under which the regulations are made⁷ and, to the extent to which a regulation-making instrument does not comply with this requirement, it is void⁸. Immediately after a regulation-making instrument is made, it must be printed and made available to the public⁹. The Commission may charge a reasonable fee for providing a person with a copy of a regulation-making instrument¹⁰.

Regulations made by the Commission are not statutory instruments and are not recorded in this work¹¹.

1 As to the establishment and constitution of the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION ETC/(1) THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/(i) The Commission and Bodies with Related Functions/A. CONSTITUTION, ADMINISTRATION AND PROCEEDINGS OF THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/43. Proof of instruments.

43. Proof of instruments.

A document¹ purporting to be duly executed under the seal of the Electoral Commission², or signed on behalf of the Commission or a Boundary Committee³, must be received in evidence and, unless the contrary is proved, be taken to be so executed or signed⁴.

The production of a printed copy of a regulation-making instrument⁵ purporting to be made by the Commission on which is endorsed a certificate signed by a member of the Commission's staff authorised by the Commission for that purpose⁶, and which contains the required statements⁷, is evidence of the facts stated in the certificate⁸.

6 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 1 para 23(1)(a). A certificate purporting to be signed as mentioned in Sch 1 para 23(1) is to be taken to have been properly signed unless the contrary is shown: Sch 1 para 23(3).

7 Ibid Sch 1 para 23(1)(b). The required statements are: (1) that the instrument was made by the Commission (Sch 1 para 23(2)(a)); (2) that the copy is a true copy of the instrument (Sch 1 para 23(2)(b)); and (3) that on a specified date the instrument was made available to the public in accordance with Sch 1 para 22(4) (see PARA 42 ante) (Sch 1 para 23(2)(c)).

8 Ibid Sch 1 para 23(1). A person who wishes in any legal proceedings to rely on a regulation-making instrument may require the Commission to endorse a copy of the instrument with a certificate of the kind mentioned in Sch 1 para 23(1): Sch 1 para 23(4).

B. ESTABLISHMENT AND CONSTITUTION OF RELATED BODIES

44. Speaker's Committee.

A Committee known as the 'Speaker's Committee' performs the functions conferred on it by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000¹. The Committee consists of the Speaker of the House of Commons², who is the chairman of the Committee, and the following other members, namely: (1) the member of the House of Commons who is for the time being the Chairman of the Home Affairs Select Committee of the House of Commons³; (2) the Lord Chancellor⁴; (3) a member of the House of Commons who is a Minister of the Crown with responsibilities in relation to local government⁵; and (4) five members of the House of Commons who are not Ministers of the Crown⁶.

An appointed member of the Speaker's Committee⁷ ceases to be a member of the Speaker's Committee if he ceases to be a Member of the House of Commons⁸ or if another person is appointed to be a member of the Committee in his place⁹. An appointed member may resign from the Committee at any time by giving notice to the Speaker¹⁰ but is otherwise¹¹ a member of the Committee for the duration of the Parliament in which he is appointed¹². An appointed member may be re-appointed, or further re-appointed, to membership of the Committee¹³.

The validity of any proceedings of the Committee is not affected by any vacancy among¹⁴, or any defect in the appointment of any of¹⁵, the members of the Committee¹⁶. The Committee may determine its own procedure¹⁷ and may appoint a member of the Committee to act as chairman at any meeting of the Committee in the absence of the Speaker¹⁸.

The Committee must, at least once in each year, make to the House of Commons a report on the exercise by the Committee of its functions¹⁹.

1 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 2(1). As to the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 31 note 2 ante. 45. Parliamentary Parties Panel.

A panel known as the 'Parliamentary Parties Panel' consists of representatives of qualifying parties¹ and its function² is to submit representations or information to the Electoral Commission³ about such matters affecting political parties as the panel thinks fit⁴. Where the panel submits any such representations or information to the Commission, the Commission must consider the representations or information⁵ and decide whether, and (if so) to what extent, it should act on the representations or information⁶.

Each qualifying party is entitled to be represented on the panel by a person appointed to the panel by the treasurer of the party⁷. A person so appointed is a member of the panel for such period as the treasurer of the party may determine when making the appointment⁸ but a person so appointed ceases to be a member of the panel if at any time his appointment is terminated for any reason by the treasurer of the party⁹ or if the party ceases to be a qualifying party¹⁰. The validity of any proceedings of the panel is not affected by any failure by the treasurer of a qualifying party to make any appointment in accordance with these provisions¹¹.

The panel may determine its own procedure¹².

1 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 4(1). For these purposes, 'qualifying party' means a registered party: (1) to which two or more members of the House of Commons for the time being belong, who have made and subscribed to the oath required by the Parliamentary Oaths Act 1866 (or the corresponding affirmation) and are not disqualified from sitting or voting in the House; or (2) to which two or more such members belonged immediately after the most recent parliamentary general election: Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 4(9). The representatives of qualifying parties are appointed to the panel in accordance with s 4: s 4(1). For the meaning of 'registered party' for these purposes see PARA 32 note 3 ante. As to the disqualification of members of the House of Commons see PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 897 et seq; and as to the oath or affirmation required by the Parliamentary Oaths Act 1866 see PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 1001.

(ii) The Commission's General Functions

46. Reports on elections and referendums.

The Electoral Commission¹ must, after each relevant election² and each relevant referendum³, prepare and publish, in such manner as the Commission may determine, a report on the administration of the election or referendum⁴.

After a poll held with regard to the exercise of functions by the National Assembly for Wales⁵, the Commission must, if requested to do so by the National Assembly for Wales, at the Assembly's expense prepare and publish, in such manner as the Commission may determine, a report on the administration of the poll⁶.

1 As to the establishment and constitution of the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

2 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 5(1)(a). Section 5 (as amended) applies to the following elections, namely: (1) a parliamentary general election (s 5(2)(a)); (2) a European parliamentary general election (s 5(2)(b)); (3) a Scottish parliamentary general election (s 5(2)(c)); (4) a National Assembly for Wales ordinary election (s 5(2)(d)); (5) a Northern Ireland Assembly general election (s 5(2)(e)). The Commission has discretion also to prepare and publish, in such manner as the Commission may determine, a report on the administration of the following elections, namely: (a) a parliamentary by-election (s 5(2A)(a) (s 5(2A) added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 28)); (b) an election held under the Scotland Act 1998 s 9 (election for the Scottish Parliament in the case of a constituency vacancy) (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 5(2A)(b) (as so added)); or (c) an election held under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 8 (election for the National Assembly for Wales in the case of a constituency vacancy) (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 5(2A)(c) (as so added)). As to parliamentary general elections see PARA 9 et seq ante; as to National Assembly for Wales ordinary elections see PARA 12 et seq ante; and as to European parliamentary general elections see PARA 13 et seq ante. As to parliamentary by-elections see PARA 198 post; and as to elections for the National Assembly for Wales in the case of a constituency vacancy see PARA 221 post.

Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 28 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1. Accordingly, the power to report on the administration of the elections which are set out in heads (a)-(c) supra may not be exercised before that date. The provisions of the Government of Wales Act 1998 are to be superseded by the Government of Wales Act 2006 immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5). After that date, head (c) supra must be taken to refer to the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 10: see PARA 221 post.

3 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 5(1)(b). Section 5 (as amended) applies to referendums to which Pt VII (ss 101-129) (as amended) applies (see PARA 519 et seq post): s 5(1)(b).

4 Ibid s 5(1).

5 Ie under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 36 (see PARA 554 et seq post). Once the provisions of the Government of Wales Act 2006 take effect (see note 2 supra), the reference in the text is to be taken to refer to a poll held under the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 64 (with references to the Welsh Ministers replacing references to the National Assembly for Wales).

46 Reports on elections and referendums

NOTE 2--2000 Act s 5(2)(d) substituted, s 5(2A)(c) amended: SI 2007/1388.

TEXT AND NOTES 5, 6--2000 Act s 5(3) amended: SI 2007/1388.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/2. THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION ETC/(1) THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/(ii) The Commission's General Functions/47. Reviews of electoral and political matters.

47. Reviews of electoral and political matters.

The Electoral Commission¹ must keep under review, and from time to time submit reports to the Secretary of State² on, the following matters, namely:

- 36 (1) such matters relating to elections³ as the Commission may determine from time to time⁴;
- 37 (2) such matters relating to referendums⁵ as the Commission may so determine⁶;
- 38 (3) the redistribution of seats at parliamentary elections⁷;
- 39 (4) if any functions of the Local Government Commission for England or of the Local Government Boundary Commission for Scotland or of the Local Government Boundary Commission for Wales are transferred⁸, the matters in relation to which those functions are exercisable⁹;
- 40 (5) the registration of political parties and the regulation of their income and expenditure¹⁰;
- 41 (6) political advertising in the broadcast and other electronic media¹¹;
- 42 (7) the law relating to the matters mentioned in each of heads (1) to (6) above¹².

At the request of the Secretary of State, and within such time as the Secretary of State may specify, the Commission must review, and submit a report to the Secretary of State on such matter or matters, whether or not falling within heads (1) to (7) above, as the Secretary of State may specify¹³.

Each report so made by the Commission must be published by it in such manner as it may determine¹⁴.

1 As to the establishment and constitution of the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante.

3 I.e. elections to which the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 6 applies, namely: (1) a parliamentary general election (ss 5(2)(a), 6(6)(a)(i)); (2) a European parliamentary general election (ss 5(2)(b), 6(6)(a)(i)); (3) a Scottish parliamentary general election (ss 5(2)(c), 6(6)(a)(i)); (4) a National Assembly for Wales ordinary election (ss 5(2)(d), 6(6)(a)(i)); (5) a Northern Ireland Assembly general election (ss 5(2)(e), 6(6)(a)(i)); (6) local government elections in England or Wales (s 6(6)(a)(ii)); and (7) local elections in Northern Ireland (s 6(6)(a)(iii)). Where any review carried out under s 6 relates to elections in Northern Ireland, the Commission must consult the Chief Electoral Officer for Northern Ireland with respect to such elections: s 6(4). For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to parliamentary general elections see PARA 9 et seq ante; as to ordinary elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 12 et seq ante; and as to European parliamentary general elections see PARA 13 et seq ante.

4 Ibid s 6(1)(a).

5 I.e. referendums to which ibid s 6 applies, namely referendums to which Pt VII (ss 101-129) (as amended) applies (see PARA 519 et seq post) and those under the Local Government Act 2000 Pt II (ss 10-48) (as amended) (see PARA 560 et seq post). The Commission must not, however, carry out any review or make any report under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 6 with respect to: (1) the conduct of any poll under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 36 (see PARA 554 et seq post) (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 6(3)(b)); or (2) the law relating to such matters as are mentioned in head (1) supra (s 6(3)(c)). The provisions of the Government of Wales Act 1998 are superseded by the Government of Wales Act 2006 immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5). After that date, head (1) supra is to be taken to refer to the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 64: see PARA 554 et seq post.

6 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 6(1)(b).

7 Ibid s 6(1)(c). For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante. As to the redistribution of seats at parliamentary elections see PARA 77 et seq post.

8 le by an order under ibid s 18(1) (transfer of functions of the Local Government Commission for England: see PARA 65 post), s 19(1) (transfer of functions of the Local Government Boundary Commission for Scotland) or s 20(1) (transfer of functions of the Local Government Boundary Commission for Wales: see PARA 66 post). As to the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 31 note 2 ante.

9 Ibid s 6(1)(d).

10 Ibid s 6(1)(e). The Commission must not, however, carry out any review or make any report under s 6 with respect to: (1) the funding of political parties under the Scotland Act 1998 s 97 or for the purpose of assisting members of the Northern Ireland Assembly connected with such parties to perform their Assembly duties (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 6(3)(a)); or (2) the law relating to the matters mentioned in head (1) supra (s 6(3)(c)). As to the registration of political parties and the regulation of their income and expenditure see PARA 260 post.

UPDATE

47 Reviews of electoral and political matters

NOTE 5--2000 Act s 6(3)(b) amended: SI 2007/1388.

NOTE 10--2000 Act s 6(3)(a) amended: SI 2007/1388.

Commission representatives and accredited observers to attend electoral proceedings and observe working practices.

48. Commission representatives and accredited observers to attend electoral proceedings and observe working practices.

A representative of the Electoral Commission¹ may² attend: (1) proceedings relating to a specified election³ which are the responsibility of the returning officer for the election⁴; or (2) proceedings relating to a referendum under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000⁵ which are the responsibility of the relevant counting officer⁶. A representative of the Commission⁷ may observe the working practices of any of the following: (a) an electoral registration officer⁸; (b) a returning officer⁹; (c) a relevant counting officer¹⁰; or (d) any person acting under the direction of a person mentioned in heads (a) to (c) above¹¹.

A person who is aged 16 or over may apply to the Commission to be an accredited observer¹² at any of the following proceedings relating to a specified election¹³ or relating to a referendum under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000¹⁴, namely: (i) proceedings at the issue or receipt of postal ballot papers¹⁵; (ii) proceedings at the poll¹⁶; or (iii) proceedings at the counting of votes¹⁷. If the Commission grants the application, the accredited observer may¹⁸ attend the proceedings in question¹⁹. An organisation²⁰ may apply to the Commission to be accredited for the purpose of nominating observers²¹ at any of the proceedings listed in heads (i) to (iii) above relating to a specified election²² or to a referendum under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000²³. If the Commission grants such an application, the organisation may²⁴ nominate members who may attend the proceedings in question²⁵, although the Commission, in so granting an application, may specify a limit on the number of observers nominated by the organisation who may attend²⁶, at the same time, specified proceedings²⁷. A relevant officer²⁸ may also limit the number of accredited persons who may be present at any proceedings²⁹ at the same time³⁰. If a person who is entitled to attend any proceedings as an accredited observer³¹ misconducts himself while attending the proceedings, the relevant officer may cancel the person's entitlement³².

The Commission must prepare a code of practice on the attendance of representatives of the Commission³³, accredited observers³⁴, and nominated members of accredited organisations³⁵, at specified elections³⁶ or at referendums under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000³⁷. The code must in particular:

- 43 (A) specify the manner in which applications for accreditation³⁸ are to be made to the Commission³⁹;
- 44 (B) specify the criteria to be taken into account by the Commission in determining such applications⁴⁰;
- 45 (C) give guidance to relevant officers⁴¹ as to the exercise of the power conferred⁴² in relation to limiting the number of persons who may be present at any proceedings at the same time⁴³;
- 46 (D) give guidance to such officers as to the exercise of the power⁴⁴ to cancel the entitlement to attend proceedings of a person who misconducts himself⁴⁵;
- 47 (E) give guidance to such officers as to the exercise of any power under any enactment to control the number of persons present at any proceedings relating to an election or referendum as it relates to a person having such permission⁴⁶;

- 48 (F) give guidance to representatives of the Commission, accredited observers and nominated members of accredited organisations on the exercise of the rights conferred⁴⁷ on them⁴⁸.

The code may make different provision for different purposes⁴⁹. Before preparing the code, the Commission must consult the Secretary of State⁵⁰ and it must lay the code before each House of Parliament⁵¹. The Commission must publish the code, in such manner as the Commission may determine⁵², and the Commission may at any time revise the code⁵³. In exercising any function conferred in relation to the attendance of representatives of the Commission at elections⁵⁴, the observation of working practices by representatives of Commission⁵⁵, the accreditation of observers⁵⁶ or the attendance and conduct of observers⁵⁷, the Commission⁵⁸, representatives of the Commission⁵⁹, relevant officers⁶⁰, and relevant counting officers⁶¹ must each have regard to the code⁶².

1 For these purposes, 'representative of the Electoral Commission' means any of the following: (1) a member of the Commission (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 6A(3)(a) (ss 6A-6F added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 29)); (2) a member of staff of the Commission (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 6A(3)(b) (as so added)); (3) a person appointed by the Commission for the purposes of s 6A (as added) (s 6A(3)(c) (as so added)). As to the establishment and constitution of the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante; and as to the staff of the Commission see PARA 35 ante.

2 Ie subject to any enactment which regulates attendance at the proceedings in question: ibid s 6A(2) (as added: see note 1 supra). For these purposes, 'enactment' includes any provision of an Act (including the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000) and any provision of subordinate legislation (within the meaning of the Interpretation Act 1978: see STATUTES vol 44(1) (Reissue) PARA 1232): Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 160(1).

3 Ie an election specified in ibid s 6A(5) (as added), namely: (1) a parliamentary general election (ss 5(2)(a), 6A(1)(a), (5)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra)); (2) a European parliamentary general election (ss 5(2)(b), 6A(1)(a), (5)(a) (as so added)); (3) a Scottish parliamentary general election (ss 5(2)(c), 6A(1)(a), (5)(a) (as so added)); (4) a National Assembly for Wales ordinary election (ss 5(2)(d), 6A(1)(a), (5)(a) (as so added)); (5) a Northern Ireland Assembly general election (ss 5(2)(e), 6A(1)(a), (5)(a) (as so added)); (6) a parliamentary by-election (s 6A(1)(a), (5)(b) (as so added)); (7) an election held under the Scotland Act 1998 s 9 (election for the Scottish Parliament in the case of a constituency vacancy) (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 6A(1)(a), (5)(c) (as so added)); (8) an election held under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 8 (election for the National Assembly for Wales in the case of a constituency vacancy) (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 6A(1)(a), (5)(d) (as so added)); (9) a local government election in England or Wales (s 6A(1)(a), (5)(e) (as so added)); or (10) a local election in Northern Ireland (s 6A(1)(a), (5)(f) (as so added)). For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to parliamentary general elections see PARA 9 et seq ante; and as to parliamentary by-elections see PARA 198 post. As to ordinary elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 12 et seq ante; and as to Welsh Assembly elections in the case of a constituency vacancy see PARA 221 post. As to European parliamentary general elections see PARA 13 et seq ante. The provisions of the Government of Wales Act 1998 are to be superseded by the Government of Wales Act 2006 immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5). After that date, head (8) supra is to be taken to refer to the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 10: see PARA 221 post.

4 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 6A(1)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra). As to returning officers for the various elections see PARA 355 et seq post.

5 Ie referendums to which ibid Pt VII (ss 101-129) (as amended) applies (see PARA 519 et seq post).

6 Ibid s 6A(1)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra). A reference to the relevant counting officer must be construed: (1) if the area to which the proceedings relates is in Great Britain, in accordance with s 128(3) (Chief Counting Officer to appoint a counting officer for each relevant area in Great Britain: see PARA 545 post); (2) if the area to which the proceedings relates is Northern Ireland, as a reference to the Chief Electoral Officer for Northern Ireland: s 6A(4) (as so added). For the meaning of 'Great Britain' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

7 For these purposes, 'representative of the Commission' must be construed in accordance with ibid s 6A (as added) (see note 1 supra): s 6B(2)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra).

8 Ibid s 6B(1)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra). As to electoral registration officers see PARA 154 et seq post.

- 9 Ibid s 6B(1)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra).
- 10 Ibid s 6B(1)(c) (as added: see note 1 supra). For these purposes, 'relevant counting officer' must be construed in accordance with s 6A (as added) (see note 6 supra): s 6B(2)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra).
- 11 Ibid s 6B(1)(d) (as added: see note 1 supra).
- 12 An application under ibid s 6C(1) (as added) must be made in the manner specified in the code of practice issued under s 6F (as added) (see head (A) in the text): s 6C(3) (as added: see note 1 supra).
- 13 Ie an election specified in ibid s 6A(5) (as added) (see note 3 supra).
- 14 Ie referendums to which ibid Pt VII (as amended) applies (see PARA 519 et seq post).
- 15 Ibid s 6C(1)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra). As to proceedings at the issue or receipt of postal ballot papers see PARA 411 et seq post.
- 16 Ibid s 6C(1)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra). As to proceedings at the poll see PARA 368 et seq post.
- 17 Ibid s 6C(1)(c) (as added: see note 1 supra). As to proceedings at the counting of votes see PARA 431 et seq post.
- 18 Ie subject to any enactment which regulates attendance at the proceedings in question: ibid s 6C(6) (as added: see note 1 supra).
- 19 Ibid s 6C(2) (as added: see note 1 supra). The Commission may at any time revoke the grant of an application under s 6C(1) (as added): s 6C(4) (as so added). If the Commission either refuses such an application or revokes the grant of any such application, it must give its decision in writing and must at the same time give reasons in writing for the refusal or revocation: s 6C(5) (as so added).
- 20 For these purposes, 'organisation' includes any body corporate and any combination of persons or other unincorporated association: ibid s 160(1).
- 21 An application under ibid s 6D(1) (as added) must be made in the manner specified in the code of practice issued under s 6F (as added) (see the text and notes 33-62 infra): s 6D(4) (as added: see note 1 supra).
- 22 See note 13 supra.
- 23 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 6D(1) (as added: see note 1 supra). As to referendums under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 see note 14 supra.
- 24 Ie subject to any enactment which regulates attendance at the proceedings in question: ibid s 6D(7) (as added: see note 1 supra).
- 25 Ibid s 6D(2) (as added: see note 1 supra). The Commission may at any time revoke the grant of an application under s 6D(1) (as added): s 6D(5) (as so added). If the Commission either refuses such an application or revokes the grant of any such application, it must give its decision in writing and must at the same time give reasons in writing for the refusal or revocation: s 6D(6) (as so added).
- 26 Ie by virtue of ibid s 6D (as added).
- 27 Ibid s 6D(3) (as added: see note 1 supra).
- 28 For these purposes, a relevant officer is: (1) in the case of proceedings at a polling station, the presiding officer (ibid s 6E(4)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra)); (2) in the case of any other proceedings at an election, the returning officer (s 6E(4)(b) (as so added)); (3) in the case of any other proceedings at a referendum, the relevant counting officer within the meaning of s 6A (as added) (see note 6 supra) (s 6E(4)(c) (as so added)); (4) such other person as a person mentioned in head (1), (2) or (3) supra authorises for the purposes of the proceedings mentioned in the relevant head (s 6E(4)(d) (as so added)). As to presiding officers at an election see PARA 398 post; and as to presiding officers at a referendum or poll see PARA 618 post.
- 29 Ie in pursuance of ibid s 6C (as added) (see the text and notes 12-19 supra) or s 6D (as added) (see the text and notes 20-27 supra).
- 30 Ibid s 6E(1) (as added: see note 1 supra).
- 31 Ie by virtue of ibid s 6C (as added) (see the text and notes 12-19 supra) or s 6D (as added) (see the text and notes 20-27 supra).

- 32 Ibid s 6E(2) (as added: see note 1 supra). This provision does not affect any power a relevant officer has by virtue of any enactment or rule of law to remove a person from any place: s 6E(3) (as so added).
- 33 Ibid s 6F(1)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra). For these purposes, 'representative of the Commission' has the same meaning as in s 6A (as added) (see note 1 supra): s 6F(10)(d) (as so added).
- 34 Ibid s 6F(1)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra). For these purposes, 'accredited observer' must be construed in accordance with s 6C (as added) (see the text and notes 12-19 supra): s 6F(10)(a) (as so added).
- 35 Ibid s 6F(1)(c) (as added: see note 1 supra). For these purposes, 'accredited organisation' must be construed in accordance with s 6D (as added) (see the text and notes 20-27 supra); and 'nominated member' must be construed accordingly: s 6F(10)(b) (as so added).
- 36 See note 13 supra.
- 37 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 6F(1) (as added: see note 1 supra). As to referendums under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 see note 14 supra.

49 Commission to be consulted on certain instruments relating to electoral law

TEXT AND NOTES 10, 11--2000 Act s 7(2)(f) substituted: SI 2007/1388.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/2. THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION ETC/(1) THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/(ii) The Commission's General Functions/50. Involvement of Commission in changes in electoral procedures.

50. Involvement of Commission in changes in electoral procedures.

The Electoral Commission¹ may participate with any relevant local authority² in the joint submission of proposals relating to pilot schemes for local elections in England and Wales³ and has such other functions⁴ in relation to orders and schemes relating to such proposals⁵, and orders relating to the revision of procedures in the light of such schemes⁶, as are conferred on the Commission⁷. Where any pilot scheme for local elections in England and Wales⁸ falls to be implemented following the approval by the Secretary of State⁹ of proposals jointly submitted by the Commission and a relevant local authority¹⁰, the Commission may, in connection with the implementation of the scheme, provide that authority with such assistance (except financial assistance) as the Commission thinks fit¹¹.

2 For these purposes, 'relevant local authority' has the same meaning as in the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 10 (as amended) (see PARA 513 note 1 post): Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 9(3).

3 Ibid s 9(1)(a). The text refers to the joint submission of proposals falling within the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 10(1) (see PARA 513 post).

4 As to the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 31 note 2 ante.

5 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 9(1)(b)(i). The text refers to orders and schemes under the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 10 (as amended) (see PARA 513 post).

6 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 9(1)(b)(ii). The text refers to orders under the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 11 (as amended) (see PARA 515 post).

7 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 9(1). The text refers to such other functions as are conferred on the Commission by the Representation of the People Act 2000 ss 10-11 (as amended) (see PARAS 513-515 post).

8 Ie under ibid s 10 (as amended) (see PARA 513 post).

9 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante.

10 Ie a relevant local authority as mentioned in the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 9(1)(a) (see note 2 supra). As to the approval of proposals by the Secretary of State as mentioned in the text see PARA 513 post.

THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION ETC/(1) THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/(ii) The Commission's General Functions/51. Powers with respect to elections exercisable only on Commission recommendation.

51. Powers with respect to elections exercisable only on Commission recommendation.

The function of giving directions as to the discharge of registration duties¹ is exercisable only on, and in accordance with, a recommendation of the Electoral Commission².

Unless the Secretary of State³ considers that the exercise of any of the following functions⁴, namely:

- 56 (1) the making of orders limiting expenses in connection with elections to the Greater London Authority⁵;
- 57 (2) the making of orders limiting expenses in connection with elections to the National Assembly for Wales⁶; and
- 58 (3) the making of regulations limiting expenses in connection with elections to the European Parliament⁷, is expedient in consequence of changes in the value of money, it is exercisable only on, and in accordance with, a recommendation of the Commission⁸.

1 Ie under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 52(1) (as amended) (see PARA 156 post).

2 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 ss 8(1), 160(1). As to the establishment and constitution of the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

3 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante.

4 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 8(2). As to the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 31 note 2 ante.

5 Ibid s 8(3)(a). The text refers to an order made under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 76(2A) (as added) (see PARA 278 post).

6 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 8(3)(b). As to the orders referred to in head (2) in the text see PARA 12 note 17 ante.

7 Ibid s 8(3)(c) (amended by the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 15, Sch 3 para 8(1), (3)). As to the regulations under the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 7(2)(a) referred to in the text see PARA 13 note 13 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/2. THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION ETC/(1) THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/(ii) The Commission's General Functions/52. Setting of performance standards for electoral officers.

52. Setting of performance standards for electoral officers.

The Electoral Commission¹ may from time to time determine standards of performance for relevant officers², and publish, in such form and in such manner as it considers appropriate, the standards so determined³. Before so determining standards, the Commission must consult the Secretary of State⁴, and any other person it thinks appropriate⁵. When the Commission publishes standards in this way, it must send a copy of the published standards to the Secretary of State who must lay a copy of the published standards before each House of Parliament⁶.

The Commission may from time to time issue directions to relevant officers to provide the Commission with such reports regarding their level of performance against the standards so determined⁷ as may be specified in the direction⁸. Such a direction: (1) must specify the relevant officer or officers to whom it is issued (and may specify a description or descriptions of relevant officers)⁹; (2) may require the report or reports to relate to such elections or referendums (or both) as may be specified in the direction¹⁰; and (3) may require the report or reports to be provided in a form specified in the direction¹¹. A report so provided to the Commission¹² may be published by the relevant officer to whom it relates¹³. The Commission must from time to time prepare and publish, in such manner as the Commission may determine, assessments of the level of performance by relevant officers against the determined¹⁴ standards¹⁵. Such an assessment: (a) must specify the relevant officer or officers to whom it relates¹⁶; (b) must specify the period to which it relates¹⁷; and (c) may specify the elections or referendums (or both) to which it relates¹⁸. However, the Commission must not prepare such an assessment unless it has received reports¹⁹ from the relevant officer or officers for the matters to which the assessment relates²⁰. Before publishing such an assessment, the Commission must provide to each relevant officer a copy of those parts of the assessment which relate to him²¹, and have regard to any comments made by him regarding the factual accuracy of the assessment²².

The Commission may by notice in writing also direct a relevant officer to provide the Commission with such expenditure information²³ as may be specified in the direction²⁴. Such a direction: (i) may require the information to relate to such elections or (as the case may be) referendums as may be specified in the direction²⁵; (ii) may require the information to be provided in a form specified in the direction²⁶; (iii) may specify the time within which the information must be provided²⁷.

2 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 9A(1)(a) (ss 9A-9C added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 67). For these purposes, the relevant officers are: (1) electoral registration officers (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 9A(8)(a) (as so added)); (2) in relation to elections within s 9A(6) (as added), returning officers (s 9A(8)(b) (as so added)); (3) in relation to referendums within s 9A(7) (as added), counting officers (s 9A(8)(c) (as so added)). The standards of performance are such standards as the Commission thinks ought to be achieved by: (a) electoral registration officers in the performance of their functions (s 9A(2)(a) (as so added)); (b) returning officers in the administration of the elections specified in s 9A(6) (as added) (s 9A(2)(b) (as so added)); (c) counting officers in the administration of the referendums specified in s 9A(7) (as added) (s 9A(2)(c) (as so added)). The Commission may determine different standards for different descriptions of relevant officers: s 9A(4) (as so added). As to the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 31 note 2 ante. As to electoral registration officers see PARA 154 et seq post; as to returning officers see PARA 355 et seq post; and as to counting officers see PARA 545 et seq post.

The elections specified in s 9A(6) (as added) are: (i) a parliamentary general election (ss 5(2)(a), 9A(6)(a) (as so added)); (ii) a European parliamentary general election (ss 5(2)(b), 9A(6)(a) (as so added)); (iii) a Scottish parliamentary general election (ss 5(2)(c), 9A(6)(a) (as so added)); (iv) a National Assembly for Wales ordinary election (ss 5(2)(d), 9A(6)(a) (as so added)); (v) a Northern Ireland Assembly general election (ss 5(2)(e), 9A(6)(a) (as so added)); (vi) a parliamentary by-election (s 9A(6)(b) (as so added)); (vii) an election held under the Scotland Act 1998 s 9 (election for the Scottish Parliament in the case of a constituency vacancy) (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 9A(6)(c) (as so added)); (viii) an election held under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 8 (election for the National Assembly for Wales in the case of a constituency vacancy) (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 9A(6)(d) (as so added)); (ix) a local government election in England or Wales (s 9A(6)(e) (as so added)). For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to parliamentary general elections see PARA 9 et seq ante; and as to parliamentary by-elections see PARA 198 post. As to ordinary elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 12 et seq ante; and as to Welsh Assembly elections in the case of a constituency vacancy see PARA 221 post. As to European parliamentary general elections see PARA 13 et seq ante. The provisions of the Government of Wales Act 1998 are to be superseded by the Government of Wales Act 2006 immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5). After that date, head (viii) supra is to be taken to refer to the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 10: see PARA 221 post.

The referendums specified in the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 9A(7) (as added) are a referendum to which Pt VII (ss 101-129) (as amended) applies (see PARA 519 et seq post) (s 9A(7)(a) (as so added)) and a referendum under the Local Government Act 2000 Pt II (ss 10-48) (as amended) (see PARA 560 et seq post) (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 9A(7)(b) (as so added)).

3 Ibid s 9A(1)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra).

4 Ibid s 9A(3)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante.

5 Ibid s 9A(3)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra).

6 Ibid s 9A(5) (as added: see note 2 supra).

7 Ie determined under ibid s 9A(1) (as added) (see the text and notes 1-3 supra).

8 Ibid s 9B(1) (as added: see note 2 supra).

9 Ibid s 9B(2)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra).

10 Ibid s 9B(2)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra).

11 Ibid s 9B(2)(c) (as added: see note 2 supra).

12 Ie in pursuance of ibid s 9B(1) (as added) (see the text and notes 7-8 supra).

13 Ibid s 9B(3) (as added: see note 2 supra).

14 Ie determined under ibid s 9A(1) (as added) (see the text and notes 1-3 supra).

15 Ibid s 9B(4) (as added: see note 2 supra).

16 Ibid s 9B(5)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra).

17 Ibid s 9B(5)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra).

18 Ibid s 9B(5)(c) (as added: see note 2 supra).

19 Ie in pursuance of ibid s 9B(1) (as added) (see the text and notes 7-8 supra).

20 Ibid s 9B(6) (as added: see note 2 supra).

21 Ibid s 9B(7)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra).

22 Ibid s 9B(7)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra).

23 For these purposes, expenditure information is information relating to: (1) in the case of an electoral registration officer, expenditure in connection with the performance of his functions (ibid s 9C(2)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra)); (2) in the case of a returning officer, expenditure in connection with the election or elections specified in s 9A(6) (as added) (see note 2 supra) for which he is appointed or otherwise holds office (s 9C(2)(b) (as so added)); (3) in the case of a counting officer, expenditure in connection with the referendum or referendums specified in s 9A(7) (as added) (see note 2 supra) for which he is appointed (s 9C(2)(c) (as so added)).

24 Ibid s 9C(1) (as added: see note 2 supra). Section 9C (as added) does not affect any other power of the Commission to request information: s 9C(4) (as so added).

25 Ibid s 9C(3)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra).

26 Ibid s 9C(3)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra).

27 Ibid s 9C(3)(c) (as added: see note 2 supra).

52 Setting of performance standards for electoral officers

NOTE 2--2000 Act s 9A(6)(d) amended: SI 2007/1388.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/2. THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION ETC/(1) THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/(ii) The Commission's General Functions/53. Giving of advice and assistance.

53. Giving of advice and assistance.

The Electoral Commission¹ may, at the request of any relevant body², provide the body with advice and assistance³ as respects any matter in which the Commission has skill and experience⁴. The Commission may also: (1) provide advice and assistance to registration officers⁵, returning officers at relevant elections⁶, registered parties⁷, recognised third parties⁸ and permitted participants⁹; and (2) provide advice and assistance to other persons which is incidental to, or otherwise connected with, the discharge by the Commission of its functions¹⁰.

The Commission may make charges for advice or assistance provided by it at the request of any relevant body¹¹ but may not make charges for the advice and assistance provided under heads (1) and (2) above¹².

1 As to the establishment and constitution of the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

2 For these purposes, 'relevant body' means: (1) the Scottish Parliament (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 10(6)(a)); (2) the Scottish Executive (s 10(6)(b)); (3) the National Assembly for Wales (s 10(6)(c)); (4) the Northern Ireland Assembly (s 10(6)(d)); (5) the Executive Committee of the Northern Ireland Assembly (s 10(6)(e)); (6) any of the following local authorities: (a) in England, the council of a county, district or London borough (s 10(6)(f)(i)); (b) in Wales, the council of a county or county borough (s 10(6)(f)(ii)); and (c) in Scotland, a council constituted under the Local Government etc (Scotland) Act 1994 s 2 (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 10(6)(f)(iii)); (7) a national or regional parliament or government in a country other than the United Kingdom (s 10(6)(g)); (8) a body in any such other country having functions corresponding to any of the functions of the Commission (s 10(6)(h)); (9) an organisation of which two or more countries (or their governments) are members or a subordinate body of such an organisation (s 10(6)(i)). For these purposes, 'body', without more, means a body corporate or any combination of persons or other unincorporated association: s 160(1). As to the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 31 note 2 ante. For the meanings of 'United Kingdom', 'England' and 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante. As to the National Assembly for Wales see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. As to the council of a county, district or London borough in England and the council of a county or county borough in Wales see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 23.

3 The assistance which may be so provided includes (in particular) the secondment of members of the Commission's staff: ibid s 10(2). However, nothing in s 10 authorises the Commission to provide any form of financial assistance: s 10(5). As to the staff of the Electoral Commission see PARA 35 ante.

4 Ibid s 10(1).

5 Ibid s 10(3)(a)(i). As to electoral registration officers see PARA 154 et seq post.

6 Ibid s 10(3)(a)(ii). For these purposes, 'relevant election' means any election falling within s 22(5) (see PARA 260 post): s 10(7). As to returning officers see PARA 355 et seq post.

7 Ibid s 10(3)(a)(iii). For the meaning of 'registered party' for these purposes see PARA 32 note 3 ante.

8 Ibid s 10(3)(a)(iv). The text refers to recognised third parties within the meaning of Pt VI (ss 85-100) (as amended) (controls relating to third party national election campaigns: see PARA 318 et seq post).

9 Ibid s 10(3)(a)(v). The text refers to permitted participants within the meaning of Pt VII (ss 101-129) (as amended) (referendums: see PARA 519 et seq post).

10 Ibid s 10(3)(b).

11 Ibid s 10(4)(a). The text refers to the advice or assistance provided by the Commission under s 10(1) (see the text and notes 1-4 supra).

12 Ibid s 10(4)(b).

THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION ETC/(1) THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/(ii) The Commission's General Functions/54. Views expressed by Commission on political, election and referendum campaign broadcasts.

54. Views expressed by Commission on political, election and referendum campaign broadcasts.

The following bodies must have regard to any views expressed by the Electoral Commission¹ in the following circumstances relating to political, election and referendum campaign broadcasting²:

- 59 (1) the British Broadcasting Corporation ('the BBC')³, in determining its policy with respect to party political broadcasts⁴;
- 60 (2) the Office of Communications ('OFCOM')⁵, before making any rules with respect to party political broadcasts and referendum campaign broadcasts⁶; and
- 61 (3) a broadcasting authority⁷, before drawing up a code of practice with respect to the participation of candidates at a parliamentary or local government election in items about the constituency or electoral area in question⁸.

1 As to the establishment and constitution of the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

2 As to party political and campaign broadcasting generally see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 221 et seq; TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARAS 291, 506 et seq. A broadcaster may not include in its broadcasting services any party political broadcast made on behalf of a party which is not a registered party: see the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 37 (as amended); and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. As to the registration of parties see PARA 260 post. Similar restrictions apply in relation to referendum campaign broadcasts which may be made only on behalf of a designated person or body: see s 127; and PARA 544 post.

3 As to the BBC see TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 306 et seq.

4 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 11(3) (amended by the Communications Act 2003 s 406(1), Sch 17 para 167(1), (2)). See also CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 222-223; TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARAS 506, 509.

6 See the Communications Act 2003 s 333; and TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 291.

7 For the meaning of 'broadcasting authority' see PARA 337 note 1 post.

8 See the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 93 (as substituted and amended); and PARA 337 post.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/2. THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION ETC/(1) THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/(ii) The Commission's General Functions/55. Policy development grants.

55. Policy development grants.

The Electoral Commission¹ must submit recommendations to the Secretary of State² for the terms of a scheme for the making by the Commission of policy development grants³. Where the Secretary of State receives such recommendations, he must make an order⁴ setting out such a scheme in terms which, with any modifications⁵ he considers appropriate, give effect to the recommendations⁶. The scheme must, in particular, specify or provide for the determination of: (1) the parties eligible for policy development grants⁷; and (2) how any money provided to the Commission for the making of policy development grants is to be allocated between the parties eligible for such grants⁸. The Commission must keep under review the terms of any such scheme and must make recommendations to the Secretary of State for any variations to the scheme which it considers appropriate⁹. Where the Secretary of State receives such recommendations for variation, he must make an order giving effect, with any modifications he considers appropriate, to the recommendations¹⁰. However, where any modifications that are made following recommendations of the Commission in respect of either the terms of a scheme¹¹ or any variations to the scheme¹² would result in an order giving effect with modifications to any recommendations of the Commission in respect of either of the matters mentioned in heads (1) and (2) above, the order must not be made without the agreement of the Commission to the modifications so far as relating to those matters¹³.

The Commission must make such grants as are provided for under any scheme made under these provisions, and any such grants may be made subject to such conditions¹⁴ as (consistently with the terms of the scheme) the Commission considers appropriate¹⁵.

1 As to the establishment and constitution of the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante.

3 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 12(2). For these purposes, a 'policy development grant' is a grant to a represented registered party to assist the party with the development of policies for inclusion in any manifesto on the basis of which candidates authorised to stand by the party will seek to be elected at an election which is a relevant election for the purposes of Pt II (ss 22-40) (as amended) (see PARA 260 post), or the party itself will seek to be so elected (in the case of such an election for which the party itself may be nominated) (s 12(1)(a)); and a registered party is 'represented' if there are at least two members of the House of Commons belonging to the party who have made and subscribed the oath required by the Parliamentary Oaths Act 1866 (or the corresponding affirmation), and are not disqualified from sitting or voting in that House (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 12(1)(b)). For these purposes, a person stands for election in the name of a registered party if his nomination paper includes a description authorised by a certificate issued by or on behalf of the registered nominating officer of the party: see s 22(6); and PARA 260 post. For the meaning of 'registered party' for these purposes see PARA 32 note 3 ante. As to the disqualification of members of the House of Commons see PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 897 et seq; and as to the oath or affirmation required by the Parliamentary Oaths Act 1866 see PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 1001. For the meaning of 'financial year' for these purposes see PARA 39 note 4 ante. The sum for the time being specified in s 12(8) may be varied by the Secretary of State by order made with the consent of the Treasury: s 12(9). At the date at which this volume states the law, no order had been made under s 12(9) and, accordingly, the amount available for allocation by the Commission in each year for which the Scheme under the Elections (Policy Development Grants Scheme) Order 2006, SI 2006/602 has effect is £2 million: see art 2, Schedule para 4. 56. Education about electoral and democratic systems.

The Electoral Commission¹ must promote public awareness of: (1) current electoral systems in the United Kingdom² and any pending³ such systems, together with such matters connected with any such existing or pending systems as the Commission may determine⁴; (2) current systems of local government and national government in the United Kingdom and any such systems as are pending⁵; and (3) the institutions of the European Union⁶. The Commission must perform these functions⁷ in such manner as it thinks fit but may, in particular, do so by: (a) carrying out programmes of education or information to promote public awareness of any of the matters mentioned in heads (1) to (3) above⁸; or (b) making grants to other persons or bodies for the purpose of enabling them to carry out such programmes⁹.

The total expenditure incurred in any financial year¹⁰ by the Commission in performing its functions in promoting public awareness¹¹ (whether by making grants or otherwise) must not exceed such sum as is for the time being specified for these purposes by an order made by the Secretary of State¹² with the consent of the Treasury¹³.

57 Monitoring compliance with controls

TEXT AND NOTES--The Electoral Commission may prepare and publish guidance setting out, in relation to any requirement referred to in the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 145(1), their opinion on any of the following matters: (1) what it is necessary, or is sufficient, to do, or avoid doing, in order to comply with the requirement; (2) what it is desirable to do, or avoid doing, in view of the purpose of the requirement: s 145(6A) (added by the Political Parties and Elections Act 2009 s 1(3)).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/2. THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION ETC/(1) THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/(ii) The Commission's General Functions/58. Supervisory powers of the Commission.

58. Supervisory powers of the Commission.

The Electoral Commission¹ may by notice require the relevant person² in the case of any supervised organisation or individual or former supervised organisation or individual³:

- 62 (1) to produce, for inspection by the Commission or a person authorised by the Commission, any such books, documents⁴ or other records⁵ relating to the income and expenditure of the organisation or individual as the Commission may reasonably require for the purposes of the carrying out by it of its functions⁶; or
- 63 (2) to furnish the Commission, or a person authorised by the Commission, with such information or explanation relating to the income and expenditure of the organisation or individual as the Commission may reasonably so require⁷, and to do so within such reasonable time as is specified in the notice⁸. The Commission, or a person authorised by the Commission, may make copies of, or records of any information contained in, any books, documents or other records produced under head (1) above⁹ and make copies or records of any information or explanation furnished under head (2) above¹⁰.

A person authorised in writing by the Commission may, for the purposes of the carrying out by the Commission of its functions, enter at any reasonable time premises occupied by a supervised organisation or individual; and, having entered any such premises, he may¹¹: (a) inspect any books, documents or other records relating to the income and expenditure of the organisation or individual¹²; and (b) make copies of, or records of any information contained in, any such books, documents or other records¹³.

Where any such records as are mentioned in head (1) above or in head (a) or (b) above are kept in electronic form, then:

- 64 (i) the power of the Commission¹⁴ to require any such records to be produced for inspection includes power to require a copy of the records to be made available for inspection in legible form¹⁵; and
- 65 (ii) the power of any person ('the inspector') to inspect any such records¹⁶ includes power to require any person on the premises in question to give the inspector such assistance as he may reasonably require to enable him¹⁷ to inspect and make copies of the records in legible form or to make records of information contained in them¹⁸, or to inspect and check the operation of any computer, and any associated apparatus or material, that is or has been in use in connection with the keeping of the records¹⁹.

A person commits an offence if he fails, without reasonable excuse, to comply with any requirement imposed under these provisions²⁰. A person also commits an offence if he intentionally obstructs an authorised²¹ person in the carrying out of that person's functions²².

1 As to the establishment and constitution of the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

2 For these purposes, 'relevant person', in relation to a supervised organisation or individual, means, in the case of an organisation, any person who is or has been the treasurer or another officer of the organisation and, in the case of an individual, that individual; and 'supervised organisation or individual' means a registered party or (in the case of such a party with accounting units) the central organisation of the party or any of its accounting units, a recognised third party within the meaning of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Pt VI (ss 85-100) (as amended) (see PARA 318 et seq post) or a permitted participant within the meaning of Pt VII (ss 101-129) (as amended) (see PARA 519 et seq post): s 146(9). For the meaning of 'registered party' for these purposes see PARA 32 note 3 ante; for the meaning of 'treasurer' see PARA 45 note 7 ante; and for the meanings of 'accounting unit' and 'central organisation', in relation to a registered party, see PARA 260 note 15 post.

Section 146(1) applies also in relation to:

- 12 (1) a regulated donee or former regulated donee (s 146(7)(a));
- 13 (2) a regulated participant (or former regulated participant) (s 146(7)(aa) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 74(1), Sch 1 Pt 7 paras 138, 150(1), (2))); or
- 14 (3) a person who is, or has been, a candidate at an election (other than a local government election in Scotland) or the election agent for such a candidate (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 146(7)(b)), as it applies to a supervised organisation or individual or former supervised organisation or individual (s 146(7)); and the provisions of s 146(2), (4), (5) (see the text and notes 9-10, 14-20 infra) apply accordingly (s 146(7)). However, the powers conferred by virtue of s 146(7) may only be exercised by the Commission or, as the case may be, by a person authorised by it for or in connection with obtaining:

- 15 (a) such information or explanations relating to the income and expenditure of regulated donees in connection with their political activities as the Commission reasonably requires for the purpose of monitoring compliance on the part of regulated donees with the requirements imposed by or by virtue of s 71, Sch 7 (as amended) (control of donations to individuals and members associations: see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS) (s 146(8)(a));
- 16 (b) such information or explanations relating to the income and expenditure of regulated participants in connection with the political activities as the Commission reasonably requires for the purpose of monitoring compliance on the part of regulated participants with the requirements imposed on them by or by virtue of Sch 7A (as added) (control of loans and certain other transactions to individuals and members associations: see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS) (s 146(8)(aa) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 Pt 7 paras 138, 150(1), (3))); or
- 17 (c) such information or explanations relating to the income and expenditure of candidates within head (3) supra and their election agents as the Commission reasonably requires for the purpose of monitoring compliance on the part of such candidates and their agents with restrictions and other requirements falling within the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 145(1)(b) (see PARA 57 ante) (s 146(8)(b)), as the case may be (s 146(8)). For these purposes, 'regulated donee' and 'political activities', in relation to a regulated donee, each have the same meaning as in Sch 7 (as amended) (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS) (s 146(9)); and 'regulated participant' and 'political activities', in relation to a regulated participant, must be construed in accordance with Sch 7A (as added) (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS) (s 146(9) (definitions added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 Pt 7 paras 138, 150(1), (4))).

59. Designation of Electoral Commission as keeper of co-ordinated on-line record of electors ('CORE').

For the purposes of a scheme in connection with the keeping and use of specified electoral registration information by a person designated by such a scheme (a 'CORE scheme')¹, the Electoral Commission² may be designated as a CORE keeper³.

1 For the meaning of 'CORE scheme' see PARA 185 note 3 post. Such schemes are established under the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 1 (see PARA 185 post).

2 As to the establishment and constitution of the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

ESTABLISHMENT AND CONSTITUTION OF THE BOUNDARY COMMITTEES/60. The Boundary Committees.

(iii) The Commission's Functions relating to the Review of Electoral Boundaries

A. ESTABLISHMENT AND CONSTITUTION OF THE BOUNDARY COMMITTEES

60. The Boundary Committees.

The Electoral Commission¹ must establish four Boundary Committees, one for each of England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland². Each Boundary Committee consists of a chairman³ and not less than the appropriate number⁴ of other members⁵, appointed by the Commission⁶. Only an Electoral Commissioner⁷ or a Deputy Electoral Commissioner⁸ may be appointed a member of a Boundary Committee⁹; and only an Electoral Commissioner may be appointed chairman of a Boundary Committee¹⁰. Assessors to each Boundary Committee are also appointed¹¹.

2 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 14(1). For the meanings of 'England' and 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

Section 14 comes into force as from a day to be appointed under s 163(2). In relation to England the appointed day is 30 October 2001 (see the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 (Commencement No 2) Order 2001, SI 2001/3526, art 2(b)) but, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Scotland, Wales or Northern Ireland.

3 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 14(2)(a). See note 2 supra.

4 For these purposes, the 'appropriate number', in relation to a Boundary Committee, is: (1) two, if no functions fall to be exercised by the Committee by virtue of s 18(1) (transfer of functions of the Local Government Commission for England: see PARA 65 post), s 19(1) (transfer of functions of the Local Government Boundary Commission for Scotland) or s 20(1) (transfer of functions of the Local Government Boundary Commission for Wales: see PARA 66 post), as the case may be (s 14(3)(a)); and (2) four, if any functions fall to be so exercised (s 14(3)(b)). See note 2 supra. As to the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 31 note 2 ante.

5 Ibid s 14(2)(b). See note 2 supra.

6 Ibid s 14(2). The Commission must, where any functions fall to be exercised by a Boundary Committee as mentioned in note 4 head (1) supra, so exercise its powers of appointment under s 14 and s 15 (see PARA 61 post) as to secure: (1) that at least one of the members of the Committee is a person with experience of local government matters in England, Scotland or Wales, as the case may be (s 14(5)(a)); and (2) that, in the case of the Boundary Committee for Wales, at least one of the members of the Committee is a person able to speak the Welsh language (s 14(5)(b)). See note 2 supra.

UPDATE

60-66 The Commission's Functions relating to the Review of Electoral Boundaries

TEXT AND NOTES--Replaced. Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 ss 14-20 repealed: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 61(2), (3), s 66(b), Sch 7 Pt 3.

The old Local Government Boundary Commission for England was established under the Local Government Act 1972 s 46, and was the body responsible for reviewing the boundaries of the local government areas in England and their electoral arrangements. It was replaced by the Local Government Commission for England, which was established under the Local Government Act 1992 s 12. On 1 April 2002, the functions of the Local Government Commission for England were transferred to the Electoral Commission by virtue of the Local Government Commission for England (Transfer of Functions) Order 2001, SI 2001/3962. On the same day, the Boundary Committee for England was established under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 14, which was a statutory committee of the Electoral Commission. The new Local Government Boundary Commission for England is established by the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 55 and provides for the transfer to it of all the boundary-related functions of the Electoral Commission and the Boundary Commission for England.

The duty of the Electoral Commission to establish Boundary Committees is abolished so far as relating to England: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 61(1). The functions of the Electoral Commission's Boundary Committee relating to boundary change are transferred to the Local Government Boundary Commission for England: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 60(1).

The Local Government Boundary Commission for England is established as a body corporate (Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 55(1)), is not to be regarded as a servant or agent of the Crown or as enjoying any status, immunity or privilege of the Crown (s 55(2)), and its property is not to be regarded as the property of the Crown or as property held on behalf of the Crown (s 55(3)). The Local Government Boundary Commission for England may do anything, except borrow money, which is calculated to facilitate, or is incidental or conducive to, the exercise of its functions (s 55(4)). Further provision about the constitution and administration of the Local Government Boundary Commission for England is made: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Sch 1. The Local Government Boundary Commission for England must from time to time, and may at any time, conduct a review of the area of each principal council, and recommend whether a change should be made to the electoral arrangements for that area: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 56(1), (2). 'Principal council' means a county council in England, a district council, the Council of the Isles of Scilly and a London borough council: s 56(3). As to the meaning of 'electoral arrangements' in relation to the area of a principal council, see s 56(4). Where the Local Government Boundary Commission for England recommends that a change should be made to the electoral arrangements for the area of a principal council, the Commission must also recommend whether, in consequence, a change should be made to the electoral arrangements for the area of any parish council, where that area is within the area of the principal council: s 56(5). As to the meaning of 'electoral arrangements' in relation to the area of a parish council, see s 56(6). A principal council or parish council must, if requested by the Local Government Boundary Commission for England to do so, provide, by such date as it may specify, with any information that it may reasonably require in connection with its functions under s 56: s 56(9). Further provision relating to recommendations under s 56 is made: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Sch 2.

A principal council which falls within the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 57(3) may request the Local Government Boundary Commission for England to conduct a review of the council's area under s 56(2)(a) and make recommendations as to single-member electoral areas under s 56(2)(b): Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 57(1).

'Recommendations as to single-member electoral areas' means recommendations, for each electoral area in the area of a principal council, as to whether the electoral area should return one member of the council: s 57(2). A principal council falls within s 57(3) if it is not the case that each of the electoral areas in the council's area returns one member of the council and the council is subject to a scheme for whole-council elections: s 57(3), (4). Further provision is made: see s 57(5)-(8).

As soon as reasonably practicable after deciding to conduct a review under s 56, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England must take such steps as it considers sufficient to secure that persons who may be interested in the review are informed of the fact that the review is to take place and any particular matters to which the review is to relate: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 58(1). In conducting such a review, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England must (1) prepare and publish draft recommendations; (2) take such steps as it considers sufficient to secure that persons who may be interested in the recommendations are informed to them and of the period within which representations with respect to them may be made; and (3) take into consideration any representations made to the Local Government Boundary Commission for England within that period: s 58(2). The Local Government Boundary Commission for England may at any time before publishing draft recommendations under s 58(2)(a) consult such persons as it considers appropriate: s 58(3). As soon as practicable after conducting a review, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England must publish a report stating its recommendations, and take such steps as it considered sufficient to secure that persons who may be interest in the recommendations are informed of them: s 58(4). Where a report under s 58(4) contains recommendations for electoral changes, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England may by order give effect to all or any of the recommendations: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 59(1). Further provision as to the implementation of review recommendations is made: see s 59(2)-(9).

For the purpose of the exercise of functions conferred on the Local Government Boundary Commission for England by or under the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Pt 3 (ss 55-68), the Electoral Commission must make one or more schemes for the transfer of property, rights and liabilities from the Electoral Commission to the Local Government Boundary Commission for England: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 62(1). The Electoral Commission may not make a scheme under s 62 (1) without consulting the Secretary of State; (2) without the consent of the Electoral Commission's Boundary Committee: s 62(2). If the Electoral Commission and the Electoral Commission's Boundary Committee fail to agree on the provision to be included in a scheme under s 62, the Secretary of State may by order specify the provision to be included in the scheme: s 62(3). A scheme under s 62 must be made on or before (a) 31 December 2009, or (b) such later date as the Secretary of State may by order specify: s 62(4). A transfer under a scheme under s 62 has effect in accordance with the terms of the scheme: s 62(5). A transfer under a scheme under s 62 may have effect (i) whether or not the property, rights and liabilities would otherwise be capable of being transferred; (ii) without any instrument or other formality being required: s 62(6). The rights and liabilities which may be transferred by a scheme under s 62 include rights and liabilities in relation to a contract of employment: s 62(7). The Transfer of Undertakings (Protection of Employment) Regulations 2006 (SI 2006/246) apply to the transfer under a scheme under the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 62 (whether or not the transfer is a relevant transfer for the purposes of those regulations): s 62(8). A scheme under s 62 may define the property, rights and liabilities to be transferred by specifying or describing them: s 62(9). Further provision with respect to transfer schemes is made: see s 62(10)-(13).

61. Appointment of Deputy Electoral Commissioners and Assistant Electoral Commissioners.

The Electoral Commission¹ may appoint Deputy Electoral Commissioners². The number of Deputy Electoral Commissioners must not exceed such number as the Commission, with the agreement of the Speaker's Committee³, may determine⁴. However, a person is not to be appointed as a Deputy Electoral Commissioner if he is a person who⁵ may not be appointed as an Electoral Commissioner⁶. The functions⁷ of a Deputy Electoral Commissioner are limited to serving as a member of any Boundary Committee to which he is appointed⁸.

The Electoral Commission may appoint one or more Assistant Electoral Commissioners to inquire into, and report to the Commission or a Boundary Committee on, such matters as the Commission or a Boundary Committee thinks fit⁹. However, a person is not to be appointed as an Assistant Electoral Commissioner if he is a person who¹⁰ may not be appointed as an Electoral Commissioner¹¹.

UPDATE

60-66 The Commission's Functions relating to the Review of Electoral Boundaries

TEXT AND NOTES--Replaced. Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 ss 14-20 repealed: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 61(2), (3), s 66(b), Sch 7 Pt 3.

The old Local Government Boundary Commission for England was established under the Local Government Act 1972 s 46, and was the body responsible for reviewing the boundaries of the local government areas in England and their electoral arrangements. It was replaced by the Local Government Commission for England, which was established under the Local Government Act 1992 s 12. On 1 April 2002, the functions of the Local Government Commission for England were transferred to the Electoral Commission by virtue of the Local Government Commission for England (Transfer of Functions) Order 2001, SI 2001/3962. On the same day, the Boundary Committee for England was established under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 14, which was a statutory committee of the Electoral Commission. The new Local Government Boundary Commission for England is established by the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 55 and provides for the transfer to it of all the boundary-related functions of the Electoral Commission and the Boundary Commission for England.

The duty of the Electoral Commission to establish Boundary Committees is abolished so far as relating to England: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 61(1). The functions of the Electoral Commission's Boundary Committee relating to boundary change are transferred to the Local Government Boundary Commission for England: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 60(1).

The Local Government Boundary Commission for England is established as a body corporate (Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 55(1)), is not to be regarded as a servant or agent of the Crown or as enjoying any status, immunity or privilege of the Crown (s 55(2)), and its property is not to be regarded as the property of the Crown or as property held on behalf of the Crown (s 55(3)). The Local Government Boundary Commission for England may do anything, except borrow money, which is calculated to facilitate, or is incidental or conducive to, the exercise of its functions (s 55(4)). Further provision about the constitution and administration of the Local Government Boundary Commission for England is made: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Sch 1. The Local Government Boundary Commission for England must from time to time, and may at any time, conduct a review of the area of each principal council, and recommend whether a change should be made to the electoral arrangements for that area: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 56(1), (2). 'Principal council' means a county council in England, a district council, the Council of the Isles of Scilly and a London borough council: s 56(3). As to the meaning of 'electoral arrangements' in relation to the area of a principal council, see s 56(4). Where the Local Government Boundary Commission for England recommends that a change should be made to the electoral arrangements for the area of a principal council, the Commission must also recommend whether, in consequence, a change should be made to the electoral arrangements for the area of any parish council, where that area is within the area of the principal council: s 56(5). As to the meaning of 'electoral arrangements' in relation to the area of a parish council, see s 56(6). A principal council or parish council must, if requested by the Local Government Boundary Commission for England to do so, provide, by such date as it may specify, with any information that it may reasonably require in connection with its functions under s 56: s 56(9). Further provision relating to recommendations under s 56 is made: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Sch 2.

A principal council which falls within the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 57(3) may request the Local Government Boundary Commission for England to conduct a review of the council's area under s 56(2)(a) and make recommendations as to single-member electoral areas under s 56(2)(b): Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 57(1).

'Recommendations as to single-member electoral areas' means recommendations, for each electoral area in the area of a principal council, as to whether the electoral area should return one member of the council: s 57(2). A principal council falls within s 57(3) if it is not the case that each of the electoral areas in the council's area returns one member of the council and the council is subject to a scheme for whole-council elections: s 57(3), (4). Further provision is made: see s 57(5)-(8).

As soon as reasonably practicable after deciding to conduct a review under s 56, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England must take such steps as it considers sufficient to secure that persons who may be interested in the review are informed of the fact that the review is to take place and any particular matters to which the review is to relate: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 58(1). In conducting such a review, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England must (1) prepare and publish draft recommendations; (2) take such steps as it considers sufficient to secure that persons who may be interested in the recommendations are informed to them and of the period within which representations with respect to them may be made; and (3) take into consideration any representations made to the Local Government Boundary Commission for England within that period: s 58(2). The Local Government Boundary Commission for England may at any time before publishing draft recommendations under s 58(2)(a) consult such persons as it considers appropriate: s 58(3). As soon as practicable after conducting a review, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England must publish a report stating its recommendations, and take such steps as it considers sufficient to secure that persons who may be interest in the recommendations are informed of them: s 58(4). Where a report under s 58(4) contains recommendations for electoral changes, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England may by order give effect to all or any of the recommendations: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 59(1). Further provision as to the implementation of review recommendations is made: see s 59(2)-(9).

For the purpose of the exercise of functions conferred on the Local Government Boundary Commission for England by or under the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Pt 3 (ss 55-68), the Electoral Commission must make one or more schemes for the transfer of property, rights and liabilities from the Electoral Commission to the Local Government Boundary Commission for England: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 62(1). The Electoral Commission may not make a scheme under s 62 (1) without consulting the Secretary of State; (2) without the consent of the Electoral Commission's Boundary Committee: s 62(2). If the Electoral Commission and the Electoral Commission's Boundary Committee fail to agree on the provision to be included in a scheme under s 62, the Secretary of State may by order specify the provision to be included in the scheme: s 62(3). A scheme under s 62 must be made on or before (a) 31 December 2009, or (b) such later date as the Secretary of State may by order specify: s 62(4). A transfer under a scheme under s 62 has effect in accordance with the terms of the scheme: s 62(5). A transfer under a scheme under s 62 may have effect (i) whether or not the property, rights and liabilities would otherwise be capable of being transferred; (ii) without any instrument or other formality being required: s 62(6). The rights and liabilities which may be transferred by a scheme under s 62 include rights and liabilities in relation to a contract of employment: s 62(7). The Transfer of Undertakings (Protection of Employment) Regulations 2006 (SI 2006/246) apply to the transfer under a scheme under the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 62 (whether or not the transfer is a relevant transfer for the purposes of those regulations): s 62(8). A scheme under s 62 may define the property, rights and liabilities to be transferred by specifying or describing them: s 62(9). Further provision with respect to transfer schemes is made: see s 62(10)-(13).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/2. THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION ETC/(1) THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/(iii) The Commission's Functions relating to the Review of Electoral Boundaries/A. ESTABLISHMENT AND CONSTITUTION OF THE BOUNDARY COMMITTEES/62. Tenure of Deputy Electoral Commissioners and Assistant Electoral Commissioners.

62. Tenure of Deputy Electoral Commissioners and Assistant Electoral Commissioners.

A Deputy Electoral Commissioner¹ holds and vacates his office in accordance with the terms of his appointment² but ceases to hold office on the occurrence of such an event as terminates the tenure of an Electoral Commissioner³. A Deputy Electoral Commissioner may be removed from office by the Electoral Commission⁴, but only if it is satisfied that one or more of the following grounds is made out in his case⁵:

- 66 (1) he has failed to discharge the functions⁶ of his office for a continuous period of at least three months⁷;
- 67 (2) he has failed to comply with the terms of his appointment⁸;
- 68 (3) he has been convicted of a criminal offence⁹;
- 69 (4) he is an undischarged bankrupt or his estate has been sequestrated in Scotland and he has not been discharged¹⁰;
- 70 (5) he has made an arrangement or composition contract with, or has granted a trust deed for, his creditors¹¹;
- 71 (6) he is otherwise unfit to hold his office or unable to carry out its functions¹².

An Assistant Electoral Commissioner¹³ is appointed either for a fixed term or for the purposes of a particular inquiry¹⁴. He holds and vacates office in accordance with the terms of his appointment¹⁵ but ceases to hold office on the occurrence of such an event as terminates the tenure of an Electoral Commissioner¹⁶.

TEXT AND NOTES--Replaced. Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 ss 14-20 repealed: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 61(2), (3), s 66(b), Sch 7 Pt 3.

The old Local Government Boundary Commission for England was established under the Local Government Act 1972 s 46, and was the body responsible for reviewing the boundaries of the local government areas in England and their electoral arrangements. It was replaced by the Local Government Commission for England, which was established under the Local Government Act 1992 s 12. On 1 April 2002, the functions of the Local Government Commission for England were transferred to the Electoral Commission by virtue of the Local Government Commission for England (Transfer of Functions) Order 2001, SI 2001/3962. On the same day, the Boundary Committee for England was established under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 14, which was a statutory committee of the Electoral Commission. The new Local Government Boundary Commission for England is established by the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 55 and provides for the transfer to it of all the boundary-related functions of the Electoral Commission and the Boundary Commission for England.

The duty of the Electoral Commission to establish Boundary Committees is abolished so far as relating to England: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 61(1). The functions of the Electoral Commission's Boundary Committee relating to boundary change are transferred to the Local Government Boundary Commission for England: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 60(1).

The Local Government Boundary Commission for England is established as a body corporate (Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 55(1)), is not to be regarded as a servant or agent of the Crown or as enjoying any status, immunity or privilege of the Crown (s 55(2)), and its property is not to be regarded as the property of the Crown or as property held on behalf of the Crown (s 55(3)). The Local Government Boundary Commission for England may do anything, except borrow money, which is calculated to facilitate, or is incidental or conducive to, the exercise of its functions (s 55(4)). Further provision about the constitution and administration of the Local Government Boundary Commission for England is made: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Sch 1. The Local Government Boundary Commission for England must from time to time, and may at any time, conduct a review of the area of each principal council, and recommend whether a change should be made to the electoral arrangements for that area: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 56(1), (2). 'Principal council' means a county council in England, a district council, the Council of the Isles of Scilly and a London borough council: s 56(3). As to the meaning of 'electoral arrangements' in relation to the area of a principal council, see s 56(4). Where the Local Government Boundary Commission for England recommends that a change should be made to the electoral arrangements for the area of a principal council, the Commission must also recommend whether, in consequence, a change should be made to the electoral arrangements for the area of any parish council, where that area is within the area of the principal council: s 56(5). As to the meaning of 'electoral arrangements' in relation to the area of a parish council, see s 56(6). A principal council or parish council must, if requested by the Local Government Boundary Commission for England to do so, provide, by such date as it may specify, with any information that it may reasonably require in connection with its functions under s 56: s 56(9). Further provision relating to recommendations under s 56 is made: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Sch 2.

A principal council which falls within the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 57(3) may request the Local Government Boundary Commission for England to conduct a review of the council's area under s 56(2)(a) and make recommendations as to single-member electoral areas under s 56(2)(b): Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 57(1).

'Recommendations as to single-member electoral areas' means recommendations, for each electoral area in the area of a principal council, as to whether the electoral area should return one member of the council: s 57(2). A principal council falls within s 57(3) if it is not the case that each of the electoral areas in the council's area returns one member of the council and the council is subject to a scheme for whole-council elections: s 57(3), (4). Further provision is made: see s 57(5)-(8).

As soon as reasonably practicable after deciding to conduct a review under s 56, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England must take such steps as it considers sufficient to secure that persons who may be interested in the review are informed of the fact that the review is to take place and any particular matters to which the review is to relate: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 58(1). In conducting such a review, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England must (1) prepare and publish draft recommendations; (2) take such steps as it considers sufficient to secure that persons who may be interested in the recommendations are informed of them and of the period within which representations with respect to them may be made; and (3) take into consideration any representations made to the Local Government Boundary Commission for England within that period: s 58(2). The Local Government Boundary Commission for England may at any time before publishing draft recommendations under s 58(2)(a) consult such persons as it considers appropriate: s 58(3). As soon as practicable after conducting a review, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England must publish a report stating its recommendations, and take such steps as it considers sufficient to secure that persons who may be interested in the recommendations are informed of them: s 58(4). Where a report under s 58(4) contains recommendations for electoral changes, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England may by order give effect to all or any of the recommendations: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 59(1). Further provision as to the implementation of review recommendations is made: see s 59(2)-(9).

For the purpose of the exercise of functions conferred on the Local Government Boundary Commission for England by or under the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Pt 3 (ss 55-68), the Electoral Commission must make one or more schemes for the transfer of property, rights and liabilities from the Electoral Commission to the Local Government Boundary Commission for England: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 62(1). The Electoral Commission may not make a scheme under s 62 (1) without consulting the Secretary of State; (2) without the consent of the Electoral Commission's Boundary Committee: s 62(2). If the Electoral Commission and the Electoral Commission's Boundary Committee fail to agree on the provision to be included in a scheme under s 62, the Secretary of State may by order specify the provision to be included in the scheme: s 62(3). A scheme under s 62 must be made on or before (a) 31 December 2009, or (b) such later date as the Secretary of State may by order specify: s 62(4). A transfer under a scheme under s 62 has effect in accordance with the terms of the scheme: s 62(5). A transfer under a scheme under s 62 may have effect (i) whether or not the property, rights and liabilities would otherwise be capable of being transferred; (ii) without any instrument or other formality being required: s 62(6). The rights and liabilities which may be transferred by a scheme under s 62 include rights and liabilities in relation to a contract of employment: s 62(7). The Transfer of Undertakings (Protection of Employment) Regulations 2006 (SI 2006/246) apply to the transfer under a scheme under the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 62 (whether or not the transfer is a relevant transfer for the purposes of those regulations): s 62(8). A scheme under s 62 may define the property, rights and liabilities to be transferred by specifying or describing them: s 62(9). As to the meaning of 'electoral arrangements' in relation to the area of a parish council, see s 56(6). A principal council or parish council must, if requested by the Local Government Boundary Commission for England to do so, provide, by such date as it may specify, with any information that it may reasonably require in connection with its functions under s 56: s 56(9). Further provision relating to recommendations under s 56 is made: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Sch 2.

A principal council which falls within the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 57(3) may request the Local Government Boundary Commission for England to conduct a review of the council's area under s 56(2)(a) and make recommendations as to single-member electoral areas under s 56(2)(b): Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 57(1). 'Recommendations as to single-member electoral areas' means recommendations, for each electoral area in the area of a principal council, as to whether the electoral area should return one member of the council: s 57(2). A principal council falls within s 57(3) if it is not the case that each of the electoral areas in the council's area returns one member of the council and the council is subject to a scheme for whole-council elections: s 57(3), (4). Further provision is made: see s 57(5)-(8).

As soon as reasonably practicable after deciding to conduct a review under s 56, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England must take such steps as it considers sufficient to secure that persons who may be interested in the review are informed of the fact that the review is to take place and any particular matters to which the review is to relate: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 58(1). In conducting such a review, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England must (1) prepare and publish draft recommendations; (2) take such steps as it considers sufficient to secure that persons who may be interested in the recommendations are informed to them and of the period within which representations with respect to them may be made; and (3) take into consideration any representations made to the Local Government Boundary Commission for England within that period: s 58(2). The Local Government Boundary Commission for England may at any time before publishing draft recommendations under s 58(2)(a) consult such persons as it considers appropriate: s 58(3). As soon as practicable after conducting a review, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England must publish a report stating its recommendations, and take such steps as it considered sufficient to secure that persons who may be interest in the recommendations are informed of them: s 58(4). Where a report under s 58(4) contains recommendations for electoral changes, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England may by order give effect to all or any of the recommendations: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 59(1). Further provision as to the implementation of review recommendations is made: see s 59(2)-(9).

For the purpose of the exercise of functions conferred on the Local Government Boundary Commission for England by or under the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Pt 3 (ss 55-68), the Electoral Commission must make one or more schemes for the transfer of property, rights and liabilities from the Electoral Commission to the Local Government Boundary Commission for England: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 62(1). The Electoral Commission may not make a scheme under s 62 (1) without consulting the Secretary of State; (2) without the consent of the Electoral Commission's Boundary Committee: s 62(2). If the Electoral Commission and the Electoral Commission's Boundary Committee fail to agree on the provision to be included in a scheme under s 62, the Secretary of State may by order specify the provision to be included in the scheme: s 62(3). A scheme under s 62 must be made on or before (a) 31 December 2009, or (b) such later date as the Secretary of State may by order specify: s 62(4). A transfer under a scheme under s 62 has effect in accordance with the terms of the scheme: s 62(5). A transfer under a scheme under s 62 may have effect (i) whether or not the property, rights and liabilities would otherwise be capable of being transferred; (ii) without any instrument or other formality being required: s 62(6). The rights and liabilities which may be transferred by a scheme under s 62 include rights and liabilities in relation to a contract of employment: s 62(7). The Transfer of Undertakings (Protection of Employment) Regulations 2006 (SI 2006/246) apply to the transfer under a scheme under the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 62 (whether or not the transfer is a relevant transfer for the purposes of those regulations): s 62(8). A scheme under s 62 may define the property, rights and liabilities to be transferred by specifying or describing them: s 62(9). Further provision with respect to transfer schemes is made: see s 62(10)-(13).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/2. TRANSFER OF FUNCTIONS AND PROPERTY FROM THE BOUNDARY COMMISSIONS/64. Power to transfer functions and property from the parliamentary Boundary Commissions.

B. TRANSFER OF FUNCTIONS AND PROPERTY FROM THE BOUNDARY COMMISSIONS

64. Power to transfer functions and property from the parliamentary Boundary Commissions.

As from a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect¹.

The functions² of each of the Boundary Commissions³ with respect to keeping under review, and reporting on, representation in the House of Commons of the part of the United Kingdom with which it is concerned⁴ are transferred to the Electoral Commission⁵. The functions of each of the Boundary Commissions with respect to the carrying out of reviews under the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 with respect to a particular part of the United Kingdom⁶, and the submission to the Electoral Commission of proposed recommendations following any such review⁷, are conferred on the Boundary Committee established⁸ for that part of the United Kingdom⁹. A Boundary Commission ceases to exist at such time as the Secretary of State¹⁰, being satisfied that it has no further functions to perform, by order directs¹¹.

All property, rights and liabilities to which a Boundary Commission is entitled or subject when its functions are transferred to the Electoral Commission¹² are transferred to and vest in the Electoral Commission¹³. A certificate issued by the Secretary of State that any property has been so transferred is conclusive evidence of the transfer¹⁴.

1 As from a day to be appointed under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 163(2), the transfer of functions set out in s 16 (see the text and notes 2-11 infra) is effected through amendments to the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 and other Acts: see the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 16(1), (2), Sch 3 Pts I, II. In so far as conferring power to make an order under s 16(3) (see the text and notes 10-11 infra), the appointed day is 30 November 2000 (see s 163(3)(d)) but, at the date at which this volume states the law, no day had been appointed under s 163(2) for remaining purposes.

Section 17 (see the text and notes 12-14 infra) comes into force as from a day to be appointed under s 163(2). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

2 As to the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 31 note 2 ante.

3 For these purposes, 'Boundary Commission' means one of the Boundary Commissions constituted under the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986: Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 16(4). See note 1 supra. As to the Boundary Commissions so constituted see PARA 67 et seq post.

UPDATE

60-66 The Commission's Functions relating to the Review of Electoral Boundaries

TEXT AND NOTES--Replaced. Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 ss 14-20 repealed: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 61(2), (3), s 66(b), Sch 7 Pt 3.

The old Local Government Boundary Commission for England was established under the Local Government Act 1972 s 46, and was the body responsible for reviewing the boundaries of the local government areas in England and their electoral arrangements. It was replaced by the Local Government Commission for England, which was established under the Local Government Act 1992 s 12. On 1 April 2002, the functions of the Local Government Commission for England were transferred to the Electoral Commission by virtue of the Local Government Commission for England (Transfer of Functions) Order 2001, SI 2001/3962. On the same day, the Boundary Committee for England was established under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 14, which was a statutory committee of the Electoral Commission. The new Local Government Boundary Commission for England is established by the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 55 and provides for the transfer to it of all the boundary-related functions of the Electoral Commission and the Boundary Commission for England.

The duty of the Electoral Commission to establish Boundary Committees is abolished so far as relating to England: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 61(1). The functions of the Electoral Commission's Boundary Committee relating to boundary change are transferred to the Local Government Boundary Commission for England: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 60(1).

The Local Government Boundary Commission for England is established as a body corporate (Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 55(1)), is not to be regarded as a servant or agent of the Crown or as enjoying any status, immunity or privilege of the Crown (s 55(2)), and its property is not to be regarded as the property of the Crown or as property held on behalf of the Crown (s 55(3)). The Local Government Boundary Commission for England may do anything, except borrow money, which is calculated to facilitate, or is incidental or conducive to, the exercise of its functions (s 55(4)). Further provision about the constitution and administration of the Local Government Boundary Commission for England is made: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Sch 1. The Local Government Boundary Commission for England must from time to time, and may at any time, conduct a review of the area of each principal council, and recommend whether a change should be made to the electoral arrangements for that area: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 56(1), (2). 'Principal council' means a county council in England, a district council, the Council of the Isles of Scilly and a London borough council: s 56(3). As to the meaning of 'electoral arrangements' in relation to the area of a principal council, see s 56(4). Where the Local Government Boundary Commission for England recommends that a change should be made to the electoral arrangements for the area of a principal council, the Commission must also recommend whether, in consequence, a change should be made to the electoral arrangements for the area of any parish council, where that area is within the area of the principal council: s 56(5). As to the meaning of 'electoral arrangements' in relation to the area of a parish council, see s 56(6). A principal council or parish council must, if requested by the Local Government Boundary Commission for England to do so, provide, by such date as it may specify, with any information that it may reasonably require in connection with its functions under s 56: s 56(9). Further provision relating to recommendations under s 56 is made: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Sch 2.

A principal council which falls within the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 57(3) may request the Local Government Boundary Commission for England to conduct a review of the council's area under s 56(2)(a) and make recommendations as to single-member electoral areas under s 56(2)(b): Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 57(1).

'Recommendations as to single-member electoral areas' means recommendations, for each electoral area in the area of a principal council, as to whether the electoral area should return one member of the council: s 57(2). A principal council falls within s 57(3) if it is not the case that each of the electoral areas in the council's area returns one member of the council and the council is subject to a scheme for whole-council elections: s 57(3), (4). Further provision is made: see s 57(5)-(8).

As soon as reasonably practicable after deciding to conduct a review under s 56, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England must take such steps as it considers sufficient to secure that persons who may be interested in the review are informed of the fact that the review is to take place and any particular matters to which the review is to relate: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 58(1). In conducting such a review, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England must (1) prepare and publish draft recommendations; (2) take such steps as it considers sufficient to secure that persons who may be interested in the recommendations are informed of them and of the period within which representations with respect to them may be made; and (3) take into consideration any representations made to the Local Government Boundary Commission for England within that period: s 58(2). The Local Government Boundary Commission for England may at any time before publishing draft recommendations under s 58(2)(a) consult such persons as it considers appropriate: s 58(3). As soon as practicable after conducting a review, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England must publish a report stating its recommendations, and take such steps as it considers sufficient to secure that persons who may be interested in the recommendations are informed of them: s 58(4). Where a report under s 58(4) contains recommendations for electoral changes, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England may by order give effect to all or any of the recommendations: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 59(1). Further provision as to the implementation of review recommendations is made: see s 59(2)-(9).

For the purpose of the exercise of functions conferred on the Local Government Boundary Commission for England by or under the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Pt 3 (ss 55-68), the Electoral Commission must make one or more schemes for the transfer of property, rights and liabilities from the Electoral Commission to the Local Government Boundary Commission for England: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 62(1). The Electoral Commission may not make a scheme under s 62 (1) without consulting the Secretary of State; (2) without the consent of the Electoral Commission's Boundary Committee: s 62(2). If the Electoral Commission and the Electoral Commission's Boundary Committee fail to agree on the provision to be included in a scheme under s 62, the Secretary of State may by order specify the provision to be included in the scheme: s 62(3). A scheme under s 62 must be made on or before (a) 31 December 2009, or (b) such later date as the Secretary of State may by order specify: s 62(4). A transfer under a scheme under s 62 has effect in accordance with the terms of the scheme: s 62(5). A transfer under a scheme under s 62 may have effect (i) whether or not the property, rights and liabilities would otherwise be capable of being transferred; (ii) without any instrument or other formality being required: s 62(6). The rights and liabilities which may be transferred by a scheme under s 62 include rights and liabilities in relation to a contract of employment: s 62(7). The Transfer of Undertakings (Protection of Employment) Regulations 2006 (SI 2006/246) apply to the transfer under a scheme under the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 62 (whether or not the transfer is a relevant transfer for the purposes of those regulations): s 62(8). A scheme under s 62 may define the property, rights and liabilities to be transferred by specifying or describing them: s 62(9). Further provision with respect to transfer schemes is made: see s 62(10)-(13).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/2. THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION ETC/(1) THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/(iii) The Commission's Functions relating to the Review of Electoral Boundaries/B. TRANSFER OF FUNCTIONS AND PROPERTY FROM THE BOUNDARY COMMISSIONS/65. Transfer of functions from the Local Government Commission for England.

65. Transfer of functions from the Local Government Commission for England.

The Secretary of State¹ has power to make provision by order² for and in connection with transferring to any extent to the Electoral Commission³, or to the Boundary Committee for England⁴, any of the functions⁵ of the Local Government Commission for England (the 'English Commission')⁶. This includes power to make provision for:

- 72 (1) transferring (to any extent) any relevant function⁷ of the Secretary of State to the Electoral Commission⁸;
- 73 (2) terminating (to any extent) any relevant function of the Secretary of State or the English Commission without transferring it to the Electoral Commission or the Boundary Committee for England⁹;
- 74 (3) modifying¹⁰ (to any extent) any relevant function of the Secretary of State¹¹;
- 75 (4) preventing the Secretary of State from exercising any relevant function (including one so modified) unless he has sought and obtained such advice of the Electoral Commission as may be prescribed by the order, or authorising him to seek such advice in connection with the exercise of any such function¹²;
- 76 (5) modifying any relevant or other function transferred by an order¹³ so far as it is to be exercisable by the Electoral Commission or the Boundary Committee for England¹⁴;
- 77 (6) conferring on the Electoral Commission functions with respect to electoral areas or other electoral arrangements relating to the Isles of Scilly¹⁵.

Under the above power provision has been made for the transfer to the Electoral Commission of all the functions of the English Commission and of the functions of the Secretary of State in relation to local government and London Assembly electoral changes¹⁶.

The Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 provides that the English Commission is to cease to exist at such time as the Secretary of State, being satisfied that it has no further functions to perform, by order directs¹⁷. Such an order has been made, providing for the cessation of the English Commission at the start of the day on 1 August 2002¹⁸.

The Secretary of State has power to pay to the Electoral Commission such amount as he may determine to be appropriate by way of reimbursement for any expenditure incurred by it which is attributable to the provision by it of advice to the Secretary of State in pursuance of an order made in relation to the transfer of functions from the English Commission¹⁹.

5 As to the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 31 note 2 ante.

6 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 18(1). The provision made by order under s 18(1) as respects the distribution of functions between the Electoral Commission and the Boundary Committee for England must broadly correspond to that made by Sch 3 Pt I (amendments of the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986: see PARA 77 et seq post) as respects the distribution of functions between those bodies: Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 ss 18(5), 160(1). See also note 17 infra. As to the order that has been made see the Local Government Commission for England (Transfer of Functions) Order 2001, SI 2001/3962; and the text and note 16 infra.

As to the prospective transfer of functions from the Local Government Boundary Commission for Wales see PARA 66 post. As to the prospective transfer of functions from the Local Boundary Commission for Scotland see the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 19.

7 For these purposes, 'relevant function' means a function under:

- 18 (1) any of the Local Government Act 1992 ss 13-15, 17 (s 13 as substituted; ss 14-15, 17 as amended) (local government changes in England: see PARA 92 post) (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 18(3)(a));
- 19 (2) any of the Local Government and Rating Act 1997 ss 13-14, 17(4) (as amended) (parishes and parish councils: see PARA 93 post) so far as having effect in relation to electoral arrangements within the meaning of Pt II (ss 9-25) (as amended) (see PARA 93 post) (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 18(3)(b)); or
- 20 (3) the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 2(4) (as amended) or s 2(5), Sch 1 (as amended) (London Assembly constituencies: see PARA 95 et seq post) (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 18(3)(c)).

Nothing in s 18(2) (see the text and notes 8-15 infra) authorises the transfer to the Electoral Commission of any power of the Secretary of State under any of the provisions mentioned in s 18(3)(a) (see head (1) supra) to make orders other than those effecting electoral changes within the meaning of the Local Government Act 1992 Pt II (ss 12-27) (as amended) (see PARA 92 post); but, subject to that, the functions which may be transferred by virtue of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 18(2) include functions with respect to the making of orders by statutory instrument: ss 18(4), 160(1).

An order under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 18(1) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra) or s 18(6) may include provision for the transfer to the Electoral Commission: (1) of the staff of the English Commission (ss 18(7)(a), 160(1)); and (2) of any property, rights and liabilities to which the English Commission is entitled or subject (ss 18(7)(b), 160(1)). An order which contains provision such as is mentioned in s 18(7)(b) may in particular provide for the order to have effect despite any provision (of whatever nature) which would otherwise prevent or restrict the transfer of the property, rights or liabilities: see s 18(7). As to the meaning of 'property' see PARA 31 note 8 ante. An order under s 18(6) may include provision for the abolition of any duty in compliance with which the English Commission was established or constituted: s 18(8). See further the Local Government Commission for England (Transfer of Functions) Order 2001, SI 2001/3962, art 4 (which makes provision in relation to the Local Government Commission for England's final accounts), art 5 (which provides for the transfer of the Local Government Commission for England's staff to the Electoral Commission), art 6 (which provides for continuity in the exercise of functions) and art 7 (which deals with the future handling of complaints of maladministration made against the Local Government Commission for England).

UPDATE

60-66 The Commission's Functions relating to the Review of Electoral Boundaries

TEXT AND NOTES--Replaced. Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 ss 14-20 repealed: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 61(2), (3), s 66(b), Sch 7 Pt 3.

The old Local Government Boundary Commission for England was established under the Local Government Act 1972 s 46, and was the body responsible for reviewing the boundaries of the local government areas in England and their electoral arrangements. It was replaced by the Local Government Commission for England, which was established under the Local Government Act 1992 s 12. On 1 April 2002, the functions of the Local Government Commission for England were transferred to the Electoral Commission by virtue of the Local Government Commission for England (Transfer of Functions) Order 2001, SI 2001/3962. On the same day, the Boundary Committee for England was established under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 14, which was a statutory committee of the Electoral Commission. The new Local Government Boundary Commission for England is established by the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 55 and provides for the transfer to it of all the boundary-related functions of the Electoral Commission and the Boundary Commission for England.

The duty of the Electoral Commission to establish Boundary Committees is abolished so far as relating to England: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 61(1). The functions of the Electoral Commission's Boundary Committee relating to boundary change are transferred to the Local Government Boundary Commission for England: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 60(1).

The Local Government Boundary Commission for England is established as a body corporate (Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 55(1)), is not to be regarded as a servant or agent of the Crown or as enjoying any status, immunity or privilege of the Crown (s 55(2)), and its property is not to be regarded as the property of the Crown or as property held on behalf of the Crown (s 55(3)). The Local Government Boundary Commission for England may do anything, except borrow money, which is calculated to facilitate, or is incidental or conducive to, the exercise of its functions (s 55(4)). Further provision about the constitution and administration of the Local Government Boundary Commission for England is made: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Sch 1. The Local Government Boundary Commission for England must from time to time, and may at any time, conduct a review of the area of each principal council, and recommend whether a change should be made to the electoral arrangements for that area: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 56(1), (2). 'Principal council' means a county council in England, a district council, the Council of the Isles of Scilly and a London borough council: s 56(3). As to the meaning of 'electoral arrangements' in relation to the area of a principal council, see s 56(4). Where the Local Government Boundary Commission for England recommends that a change should be made to the electoral arrangements for the area of a principal council, the Commission must also recommend whether, in consequence, a change should be made to the electoral arrangements for the area of any parish council, where that area is within the area of the principal council: s 56(5). As to the meaning of 'electoral arrangements' in relation to the area of a parish council, see s 56(6). A principal council or parish council must, if requested by the Local Government Boundary Commission for England to do so, provide, by such date as it may specify, with any information that it may reasonably require in connection with its functions under s 56: s 56(9). Further provision relating to recommendations under s 56 is made: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Sch 2.

A principal council which falls within the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 57(3) may request the Local Government Boundary Commission for England to conduct a review of the council's area under s 56(2)(a) and make recommendations as to single-member electoral areas under s 56(2)(b): Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 57(1).

'Recommendations as to single-member electoral areas' means recommendations, for each electoral area in the area of a principal council, as to whether the electoral area should return one member of the council: s 57(2). A principal council falls within s 57(3) if it is not the case that each of the electoral areas in the council's area returns one member of the council and the council is subject to a scheme for whole-council elections: s 57(3), (4). Further provision is made: see s 57(5)-(8).

As soon as reasonably practicable after deciding to conduct a review under s 56, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England must take such steps as it considers sufficient to secure that persons who may be interested in the review are informed of the fact that the review is to take place and any particular matters to which the review is to relate: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 58(1). In conducting such a review, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England must (1) prepare and publish draft recommendations; (2) take such steps as it considers sufficient to secure that persons who may be interested in the recommendations are informed of them and of the period within which representations with respect to them may be made; and (3) take into consideration any representations made to the Local Government Boundary Commission for England within that period: s 58(2). The Local Government Boundary Commission for England may at any time before publishing draft recommendations under s 58(2)(a) consult such persons as it considers appropriate: s 58(3). As soon as practicable after conducting a review, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England must publish a report stating its recommendations, and take such steps as it considers sufficient to secure that persons who may be interested in the recommendations are informed of them: s 58(4). Where a report under s 58(4) contains recommendations for electoral changes, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England may by order give effect to all or any of the recommendations: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 59(1). Further provision as to the implementation of review recommendations is made: see s 59(2)-(9).

For the purpose of the exercise of functions conferred on the Local Government Boundary Commission for England by or under the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Pt 3 (ss 55-68), the Electoral Commission must make one or more schemes for the transfer of property, rights and liabilities from the Electoral Commission to the Local Government Boundary Commission for England: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 62(1). The Electoral Commission may not make a scheme under s 62 (1) without consulting the Secretary of State; (2) without the consent of the Electoral Commission's Boundary Committee: s 62(2). If the Electoral Commission and the Electoral Commission's Boundary Committee fail to agree on the provision to be included in a scheme under s 62, the Secretary of State may by order specify the provision to be included in the scheme: s 62(3). A scheme under s 62 must be made on or before (a) 31 December 2009, or (b) such later date as the Secretary of State may by order specify: s 62(4). A transfer under a scheme under s 62 has effect in accordance with the terms of the scheme: s 62(5). A transfer under a scheme under s 62 may have effect (i) whether or not the property, rights and liabilities would otherwise be capable of being transferred; (ii) without any instrument or other formality being required: s 62(6). The rights and liabilities which may be transferred by a scheme under s 62 include rights and liabilities in relation to a contract of employment: s 62(7). The Transfer of Undertakings (Protection of Employment) Regulations 2006 (SI 2006/246) apply to the transfer under a scheme under the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 62 (whether or not the transfer is a relevant transfer for the purposes of those regulations): s 62(8). A scheme under s 62 may define the property, rights and liabilities to be transferred by specifying or describing them: s 62(9). Further provision with respect to transfer schemes is made: see s 62(10)-(13).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/2. THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION ETC/(1) THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION/(iii) The Commission's Functions relating to the Review of Electoral Boundaries/B. TRANSFER OF FUNCTIONS AND PROPERTY FROM THE BOUNDARY COMMISSIONS/66. Power to transfer functions from the Local Government Boundary Commission for Wales.

66. Power to transfer functions from the Local Government Boundary Commission for Wales.

As from a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect¹.

The National Assembly for Wales² may by order³ make provision for and in connection with transferring to any extent to the Electoral Commission⁴ or the Boundary Committee for Wales⁵, any of the functions⁶ of the Local Government Boundary Commission for Wales (the 'Welsh Commission')⁷. Such an order may make provision for:

- 78 (1) transferring (to any extent) any relevant function⁸ of the National Assembly for Wales to the Electoral Commission⁹;
- 79 (2) terminating (to any extent) any relevant function of the Assembly or the Welsh Commission without transferring it to the Electoral Commission or the Boundary Committee for Wales¹⁰;
- 80 (3) modifying¹¹ (to any extent) any relevant function of the Assembly¹²;
- 81 (4) preventing the Assembly from exercising any relevant function (including one so modified) unless it has sought and obtained such advice of the Electoral Commission as may be prescribed by the order, or authorising the Assembly to seek such advice in connection with the exercise of any such function¹³;
- 82 (5) modifying any relevant or other function transferred by an order¹⁴ so far as it is to be exercisable by the Electoral Commission or the Boundary Committee for Wales¹⁵.

The Welsh Commission ceases to exist at such time as the National Assembly for Wales, being satisfied that it has no further functions to perform, by order directs¹⁶.

The expenditure of the Electoral Commission, so far as attributable to the exercise of any functions in consequence of an order made in relation to the transfer of functions from the Local Government Boundary Commission for Wales, must be met by the National Assembly for Wales¹⁷.

1 The Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 20 comes into force as from a day to be appointed under s 163(2). In so far as conferring power to make an order, the appointed day is 30 November 2000 (see s 163(3)(d)) but, at the date at which this volume states the law, no day had been appointed under s 163(2) for remaining purposes.

2 As to the National Assembly for Wales see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

3 As to the making of orders under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 generally see PARA 31 note 2 ante. An order under s 20 may contain any appropriate consequential, incidental, supplementary or transitional provisions or savings, including provisions amending, repealing or revoking enactments (s 20(9)); and nothing in s 20 is to be read as affecting the generality of s 20(9) (s 20(10)). Any power of the National Assembly for Wales to make an order under s 20 is exercisable by statutory instrument: s 20(11). See note 1 supra. As to the meaning of 'enactment' see PARA 48 note 2 ante.

4 Ibid ss 20(1)(a), 160(1). See note 1 supra. As to the establishment and constitution of the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

5 Ibid s 20(1)(b). See note 1 supra. As to the establishment and constitution of the Boundary Committees see PARA 60 et seq ante.

6 As to the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 31 note 2 ante.

7 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 20(1). The provision made by order under s 20(1) as respects the distribution of functions between the Electoral Commission and the Boundary Committee for Wales must broadly correspond to that made by Sch 3 Pt I (amendments of the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986: see PARA 77 et seq post) as respects the distribution of functions between those bodies: Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 ss 20(5), 160(1). See note 1 supra. See also note 16 infra. As to the establishment and constitution of the Local Government Boundary Commission for Wales see PARA 71 post.

8 For these purposes, 'relevant function' means a function under:

- 21 (1) the Local Government Act 1972 ss 30(3), (4), 31(3) (s 30(3), (4) as amended) (restriction on community applications during and after reviews: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 44) (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 20(3)(a)); or
- 22 (2) any of the Local Government Act 1972 ss 54-60, 69, 71, 78(2), Sch 11 para 1A (ss 54-60, 69, 71, 78(2) as amended; Sch 11 para 1A as added) (changes in local government areas in Wales: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 77 et seq) (Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 20(3)(b)).

Nothing in s 20(2) (see the text and notes 9-15 infra) authorises the transfer to the Electoral Commission of any power of the Assembly under any of the provisions mentioned in s 20(3)(b) (see head (2) supra) to make orders other than those effecting alterations in electoral arrangements within the meaning of the Local Government Act 1972 Pt IV (ss 53-78) (as amended) (changes in local government areas: see PARA 97 et seq post); but, subject to that, the functions which may be transferred by virtue of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 20(2) include functions with respect to the making of orders by statutory instrument: ss 20(4), 160(1). See note 1 supra.

10 Ibid ss 20(2)(b), 160(1). See note 1 supra.

11 As to the meaning of 'modify' see PARA 39 note 9 ante.

12 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 20(2)(c). See note 1 supra.

13 Ibid ss 20(2)(d), 160(1). See note 1 supra.

14 Ie an order under ibid s 20(1) (see the text and notes 2-7 supra). See note 1 supra.

15 Ibid ss 20(2)(e), 160(1). See note 1 supra.

16 Ibid s 20(6). An order under s 20(1) (see the text and notes 2-7 supra) or s 20(6) may include provision for the transfer to the Electoral Commission: (1) of the staff of the Welsh Commission (ss 20(7)(a), 160(1)); and (2) of any property, rights and liabilities to which the Welsh Commission is entitled or subject (ss 20(7)(b), 160(1)). An order which contains provision such as is mentioned in s 20(7)(b) may in particular provide for the order to have effect despite any provision (of whatever nature) which would prevent or restrict the transfer of the property, rights or liabilities otherwise than by the order: s 20(7). As to the meaning of 'property' see PARA 31 note 8 ante. An order under s 20(6) may include provision for the abolition of any duty in compliance with which the Welsh Commission was established or constituted: s 20(8). See note 1 supra.

17 Ibid ss 20(12), 160(1). The text refers to an order made under s 20(1) (see the text and notes 2-7 supra). See note 1 supra.

UPDATE

60-66 The Commission's Functions relating to the Review of Electoral Boundaries

TEXT AND NOTES--Replaced. Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 ss 14-20 repealed: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 61(2), (3), s 66(b), Sch 7 Pt 3.

The old Local Government Boundary Commission for England was established under the Local Government Act 1972 s 46, and was the body responsible for reviewing the boundaries of the local government areas in England and their electoral arrangements. It was replaced by the Local Government Commission for England, which was established under the Local Government Act 1992 s 12. On 1 April 2002, the functions of the Local Government Commission for England were transferred to the Electoral Commission by virtue of the Local Government Commission for England (Transfer of Functions) Order 2001, SI 2001/3962. On the same day, the Boundary Committee for England was established under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 14, which was a statutory committee of the Electoral Commission. The new Local Government Boundary Commission for England is established by the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 55 and provides for the transfer to it of all the boundary-related functions of the Electoral Commission and the Boundary Committee for England.

The duty of the Electoral Commission to establish Boundary Committees is abolished so far as relating to England: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 61(1). The functions of the Electoral Commission's Boundary Committee relating to boundary change are transferred to the Local Government Boundary Commission for England: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 60(1).

The Local Government Boundary Commission for England is established as a body corporate (Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 55(1)), is not to be regarded as a servant or agent of the Crown or as enjoying any status, immunity or privilege of the Crown (s 55(2)), and its property is not to be regarded as the property of the Crown or as property held on behalf of the Crown (s 55(3)). The Local Government Boundary Commission for England may do anything, except borrow money, which is calculated to facilitate, or is incidental or conducive to, the exercise of its functions (s 55(4)). Further provision about the constitution and administration of the Local Government Boundary Commission for England is made: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Sch 1. The Local Government Boundary Commission for England must from time to time, and may at any time, conduct a review of the area of each principal council, and recommend whether a change should be made to the electoral arrangements for that area: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 56(1), (2). 'Principal council' means a county council in England, a district council, the Council of the Isles of Scilly and a London borough council: s 56(3). As to the meaning of 'electoral arrangements' in relation to the area of a principal council, see s 56(4). Where the Local Government Boundary Commission for England recommends that a change should be made to the electoral arrangements for the area of a principal council, the Commission must also recommend whether, in consequence, a change should be made to the electoral arrangements for the area of any parish council, where that area is within the area of the principal council: s 56(5). As to the meaning of 'electoral arrangements' in relation to the area of a parish council, see s 56(6). A principal council or parish council must, if requested by the Local Government Boundary Commission for England to do so, provide, by such date as it may specify, with any information that it may reasonably require in connection with its functions under s 56: s 56(9). Further provision relating to recommendations under s 56 is made: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Sch 2.

A principal council which falls within the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 57(3) may request the Local Government Boundary Commission for England to conduct a review of the council's area under s 56(2)(a) and make recommendations as to single-member electoral areas under s 56(2)(b): Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 57(1).

'Recommendations as to single-member electoral areas' means recommendations, for each electoral area in the area of a principal council, as to whether the electoral area should return one member of the council: s 57(2). A principal council falls within s 57(3) if it is not the case that each of the electoral areas in the council's area returns one member of the council and the council is subject to a scheme for whole-council elections: s 57(3), (4). Further provision is made: see s 57(5)-(8).

As soon as reasonably practicable after deciding to conduct a review under s 56, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England must take such steps as it considers sufficient to secure that persons who may be interested in the review are informed of the fact that the review is to take place and any particular matters to which the review is to relate: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 58(1). In conducting such a review, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England must (1) prepare and publish draft recommendations; (2) take such steps as it considers sufficient to secure that persons who may be interested in the recommendations are informed of them and of the period within which representations with respect to them may be made; and (3) take into consideration any representations made to the Local Government Boundary Commission for England within that period: s 58(2). The Local Government Boundary Commission for England may at any time before publishing draft recommendations under s 58(2)(a) consult such persons as it considers appropriate: s 58(3). As soon as practicable after conducting a review, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England must publish a report stating its recommendations, and take such steps as it considers sufficient to secure that persons who may be interested in the recommendations are informed of them: s 58(4). Where a report under s 58(4) contains recommendations for electoral changes, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England may by order give effect to all or any of the recommendations: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 59(1). Further provision as to the implementation of review recommendations is made: see s 59(2)-(9).

For the purpose of the exercise of functions conferred on the Local Government Boundary Commission for England by or under the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Pt 3 (ss 55-68), the Electoral Commission must make one or more schemes for the transfer of property, rights and liabilities from the Electoral Commission to the Local Government Boundary Commission for England: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 62(1). The Electoral Commission may not make a scheme under s 62 (1) without consulting the Secretary of State; (2) without the consent of the Electoral Commission's Boundary Committee: s 62(2). If the Electoral Commission and the Electoral Commission's Boundary Committee fail to agree on the provision to be included in a scheme under s 62, the Secretary of State may by order specify the provision to be included in the scheme: s 62(3). A scheme under s 62 must be made on or before (a) 31 December 2009, or (b) such later date as the Secretary of State may by order specify: s 62(4). A transfer under a scheme under s 62 has effect in accordance with the terms of the scheme: s 62(5). A transfer under a scheme under s 62 may have effect (i) whether or not the property, rights and liabilities would otherwise be capable of being transferred; (ii) without any instrument or other formality being required: s 62(6). The rights and liabilities which may be transferred by a scheme under s 62 include rights and liabilities in relation to a contract of employment: s 62(7). The Transfer of Undertakings (Protection of Employment) Regulations 2006 (SI 2006/246) apply to the transfer under a scheme under the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 62 (whether or not the transfer is a relevant transfer for the purposes of those regulations): s 62(8). A scheme under s 62 may define the property, rights and liabilities to be transferred by specifying or describing them: s 62(9). Further provision with respect to transfer schemes is made: see s 62(10)-(13).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/2. THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION ETC/ (2) THE BOUNDARY COMMISSIONS/(i) Parliamentary Boundaries/67. The permanent parliamentary Boundary Commissions.

(2) THE BOUNDARY COMMISSIONS

(i) Parliamentary Boundaries

67. The permanent parliamentary Boundary Commissions.

Until a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect¹.

For the purpose of the continuous review of the distribution of seats at parliamentary elections², there are four permanent Boundary Commissions³, namely a Boundary Commission for England⁴, a Boundary Commission for Scotland, a Boundary Commission for Wales⁵ and a Boundary Commission for Northern Ireland⁶.

1 As from a day to be appointed under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 163(2): (1) the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 s 2 is repealed by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 158(2), Sch 22; (2) the functions of each of the Boundary Commissions with respect to keeping under review, and reporting on, representation in the House of Commons of the part of the United Kingdom with which it is concerned will be transferred to the Electoral Commission under s 16 (see PARA 64 ante). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to either head (1) or head (2) supra. As to the establishment and constitution of the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

2 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

3 The Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 s 2(2), Sch 1 (as amended; prospectively repealed) has effect with respect to the constitution of, and other matters relating to, the Boundary Commissions: see s 2(2); and PARAS 68-69 post. See note 1 supra.

4 For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

68. Constitution of the Boundary Commissions.

Until a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect¹.

Each Boundary Commission² consists of: (1) the chairman (who, for each of the four Commissions, is the Speaker of the House of Commons)³; (2) a deputy chairman (who must be a judge)⁴; and (3) two other members appointed by the Secretary of State⁵. The deputy chairmen and the two remaining members hold their appointments on terms and conditions determined by the person appointing them in each case⁶. Assistant commissioners may be appointed by the Secretary of State at the request of any Commission to inquire into, and report to the Commission upon, such matters as the Commission think fit⁷. Provision is made as to their appointment, duties and remuneration⁸. The officers of each Commission include a secretary⁹ and assessors¹⁰. The expenses of each Commission, including the remuneration and travelling and other expenses of the members, assistant commissioners, secretary and other officers, are defrayed out of money provided by Parliament¹¹.

1 As from a day to be appointed under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 163(2): (1) the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 s 2(2), Sch 1 is repealed by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 158(2), Sch 22; (2) the functions of each of the Boundary Commissions with respect to keeping under review, and reporting on, representation in the House of Commons of the part of the United Kingdom with which it is concerned will be transferred to the Electoral Commission under s 16 (not yet fully in force) (see PARA 64 ante). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to either head (1) or head (2) supra. As to the establishment and constitution of the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

2 As to the provision made for the permanent parliamentary Boundary Commissions see PARA 64 ante. See also PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 896.

3 Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 s 2(2), Sch 1 paras 1, 2. See note 1 supra. As to the Speaker of the House of Commons see PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 931 et seq.

4 Ibid Sch 1 paras 2, 3. The deputy chairmen of the commissions for England and for Wales are judges of the High Court appointed by the Lord Chancellor; the deputy chairman of the commission for Scotland is a judge of the Court of Session appointed by the Lord President of the Court of Session; and the deputy chairman of the commission for Northern Ireland is a judge of the High Court in Northern Ireland appointed by the Lord Chief Justice of Northern Ireland: Sch 1 para 3(a)-(d). See note 1 supra. For the meanings of 'England' and 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante. As to the Lord Chancellor see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 477 et seq.

5 Ibid Sch 1 para 2. See note 1 supra.

Until a day to be appointed, members of a Boundary Commission appointed under Sch 1 (as amended) are disqualified for membership of the House of Commons: House of Commons Disqualification Act 1975 s 1(1), Sch 1 Pt III (entry repealed by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 158(2), Sch 22). See further PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARAS 905, 908. At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

6 Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 Sch 1 para 4. In the case of members other than the chairman or deputy chairman, the conditions referred to in Sch 1 para 4 may include such provisions with respect to remuneration as the Secretary of State may determine with the approval of the Treasury: Sch 1 para 4A (added by the Boundary Commissions Act 1992 s 1(1), (2)). See note 1 supra. As to the Treasury see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 512-517.

7 Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 Sch 1 para 6(1). See note 1 supra.

Until a day to be appointed, assistant commissioners appointed under Sch 1 (as amended) are disqualified for membership of the House of Commons: House of Commons Disqualification Act 1975 s 1(1), Sch 1 Pt III (entry repealed by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 22). See further PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARAS 905, 908. At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

8 Any such assistant commissioner is appointed either for a certain term or for the purposes of a particular inquiry, and on such conditions as to remuneration and otherwise as may be determined before his appointment by the Secretary of State with the approval of the Treasury: Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 Sch 1 para 6(2). See note 1 supra.

9 See ibid Sch 1 para 7. The Secretary of State must appoint a secretary to each of the Commissions and may appoint such other officers of any Commission as he may determine with the approval of the Treasury: Sch 1 para 7. The terms and conditions of any such appointment are to be such as may be so determined: Sch 1 para 7. See note 1 supra.

10 See ibid Sch 1 para 5. In the case of the Boundary Commission for England and the Boundary Commission for Wales, the Registrar General for England and Wales and the Director General of Ordnance Survey are the appointed assessors: Sch 1 para 5(a), (c). As to the appointments made in the case of the Boundary Commission for Scotland and the Boundary Commission for Northern Ireland see Sch 1 para 5(b), (d). See note 1 supra. As to the Ordnance Survey see NATIONAL CULTURAL HERITAGE vol 77 (2010) PARA 1110 et seq; and as to the Registrar General for England and Wales see REGISTRATION CONCERNING THE INDIVIDUAL vol 39(2) (Reissue) PARA 504.

(ii) Local Government Boundaries

70. Transfer of functions from the Local Government Commission for England to the Electoral Commission.

On 1 April 2002, all functions, property, rights and liabilities of the Local Government Commission for England¹ were transferred to the Electoral Commission². The Local Government Commission for England ceased to exist at the start of the day on 1 August 2002³.

70 Transfer of functions from the Local Government Commission for England to the Electoral Commission

NOTE 1--Local Government Act 1992 s 12, Sch 2 repealed: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 66, Sch 7 Pt 3.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/2. THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION ETC/ (2) THE BOUNDARY COMMISSIONS/(ii) Local Government Boundaries/71. The Local Government Boundary Commission for Wales.

71. The Local Government Boundary Commission for Wales.

The Local Government Boundary Commission for Wales (the 'Welsh Commission') was established under the Local Government Act 1972¹ with the functions of carrying out reviews² and of making proposals for changes in local government areas³ in Wales⁴.

The Welsh Commission is a body corporate consisting of a chairman, a deputy chairman and not more than three other members⁵. At least one of the members of the Welsh Commission must be a person able to speak the Welsh language⁶. The members of the Welsh Commission are to be appointed by the National Assembly for Wales⁷, and they hold and vacate office in accordance with the terms of their respective appointments⁸. Provision is made for the payment of salary or fees and allowances to each member of the Welsh Commission⁹. The National Assembly for Wales may appoint, to assist and advise the Welsh Commission in the exercise of its functions, such persons as it thinks fit, being persons having expert knowledge likely to be of value to the Welsh Commission¹⁰. Provision is made for the payment of fees and allowances to such persons¹¹. The National Assembly for Wales may also appoint a secretary to the Welsh Commission¹², and other officers and servants¹³. Provision is made for the terms and conditions of their appointment¹⁴. The expenses of the Welsh Commission including the salaries, fees and allowances of its members, the remuneration and any expenses paid to an assistant commissioner, the remuneration and any expenses paid to the secretary and other officers and servants, together with the fees and allowances paid to persons appointed to assist and advise the Welsh Commission¹⁵, must be defrayed out of moneys provided by the National Assembly for Wales¹⁶.

At any meeting of the Welsh Commission the quorum is two¹⁷. All acts done at a meeting of the Welsh Commission, notwithstanding that it is afterwards discovered that there was a defect in the appointment of a person purporting to be a member of the Welsh Commission, are as valid as if the defect had not existed¹⁸. The procedure of the Welsh Commission at and in connection with its meetings is to be such as it may from time to time determine¹⁹. Every document purporting to be an instrument made or issued by the Welsh Commission and to be duly sealed with the seal of the Welsh Commission or to be signed by the secretary or any person authorised to act in that behalf is to be received in evidence and, unless the contrary is proved, is deemed to be an instrument made or issued by the Welsh Commission²⁰.

The Welsh Commission may appoint one or more of its members²¹: (1) to hold any local inquiry²² or to carry out any consultation or investigation which the Welsh Commission is required or authorised to hold or carry out under the Local Government Act 1972²³; and (2) to report to the Welsh Commission accordingly²⁴. At the request of the Welsh Commission, the National Assembly for Wales may appoint one or more persons as assistant commissioners for all or any of the purposes specified in head (1) or head (2) above²⁵.

4 See LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 78. The Welsh Commission has the function of making proposals arising out of a review by a district council in addition to making proposals on its own review: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 80.

5 Local Government Act 1972 s 53(2), Sch 8 para 1(1). The common seal of the Welsh Commission is authenticated by the signature of a member or of some other person authorised in that behalf by the Welsh Commission: Sch 8 para 1(4).

6 Ibid Sch 8 para 1(2).

7 The Local Government Act 1972 refers to the Secretary of State, but certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, have been transferred to the National Assembly for Wales: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 97.

8 Ibid Sch 8 para 1(3).

9 There is to be paid to each member of the Welsh Commission such salary or fees and allowances as may from time to time be determined by the National Assembly for Wales with the consent of the Treasury: ibid Sch 8 para 2. The Local Government Act 1972 refers to the Minister for the Civil Service, but functions under s 65 (as amended) (see the text and notes 21-25 infra) and Sch 8 (as amended) were transferred to the Treasury by the Transfer of Functions (Minister for the Civil Service and Treasury) Order 1981, SI 1981/1670. As to the Treasury see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 512-517.

72. Establishment of constituencies for the purpose of parliamentary elections.

There are for the purpose of parliamentary elections¹ county and borough constituencies² which are described in Orders in Council under the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986³, each returning a single member⁴.

Provision exists for the continuous review of the distribution of seats by four Boundary Commissions⁵ and for machinery to give effect to the recommendations of these Commissions with or without modifications⁶.

1 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'constituency' for these purposes see PARA 9 ante. Constituencies are designated as either county or borough constituencies in the Orders in Council by which they are constituted (see note 4 infra). See further PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARAS 892-893.

3 Such an order gives effect, whether with or without modifications, to the recommendations contained in the report of a Boundary Commission: see PARA 77 et seq post.

Under the Representation of the People Act 1948 Sch 1 (as originally enacted; now repealed), England was allotted 215 county constituencies and 291 borough constituencies, Wales 26 county constituencies and 10 borough constituencies, Scotland 39 county constituencies and 32 burgh constituencies and Northern Ireland 8 county constituencies and 4 borough constituencies. As to the rules for apportioning constituencies in subsequent redistributions see PARA 80 post.

NOTE 4--SI 1995/1626 replaced: Parliamentary Constituencies (England) Order 2007, SI 2007/1681 (amended by SI 2009/698). SI 2006/1041 amended: SI 2008/1791.

ESTABLISHMENT AND REVIEW OF ELECTORAL BOUNDARIES/(1) THE ESTABLISHMENT OF ELECTORAL BOUNDARIES/73. Establishment of electoral areas for the purpose of local government elections.

73. Establishment of electoral areas for the purpose of local government elections.

Councillors for a principal area¹ are elected by the local government electors² for that area in accordance with the Local Government Act 1972 and Part I of the Representation of the People Act 1983³. In England⁴: (1) every non-metropolitan county⁵ is divided into electoral divisions, each returning one councillor⁶; (2) every metropolitan district⁷ is divided into wards, each returning a number of councillors divisible by three⁸; and (3) every non-metropolitan district⁹ is divided into wards, each returning a specified number of councillors¹⁰. In Wales¹¹, every principal area is divided into electoral divisions, each returning such number of councillors as may be provided by order¹². There must be a separate election for each electoral division (in Wales) or each electoral division or ward (in England)¹³. For the purposes of the election of London borough councillors¹⁴, every London borough is divided into wards¹⁵; each ward returns a specified number of councillors¹⁶, and there must be a separate election for each ward¹⁷.

Parish or community councillors are elected by the local government electors for the parish¹⁸ or community¹⁹ in accordance with the Local Government Act 1972 and Part I of the Representation of the People Act 1983²⁰. In England, where a parish is not divided into parish wards there must be one election of parish councillors for the whole parish²¹, but where a parish is divided into parish wards there must be a separate election of parish councillors for each ward²². In Wales, where a community is not divided into community wards there must be one election of community councillors for the whole community²³, but where a community is divided into community wards there must be a separate election of community councillors for each ward²⁴.

Provision is made for the continuous review of local government electoral areas in England and Wales²⁵.

Establishment of constituencies and electoral regions for the purpose of elections to the National Assembly for Wales.

75. Establishment of constituencies and electoral regions for the purpose of elections to the National Assembly for Wales.

As from the appointed day, the following provisions have effect¹.

The National Assembly for Wales² consists of one member for each Assembly constituency³, and members for each Assembly electoral region⁴. The Assembly constituencies are the parliamentary constituencies in Wales⁵. There are five Assembly electoral regions⁶ and there are four Assembly seats for each Assembly electoral region⁷.

Provision is made for the continuous review of Assembly electoral regions and parliamentary constituencies in Wales⁸.

1 The provisions of the Government of Wales Act 2006 come into force immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5).

2 As to the National Assembly for Wales see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

3 Government of Wales Act 2006 s 1(2)(a). As to the date at which this provision takes effect see note 1 supra. As to the provision that applies for these purposes until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 2(1)(a).

4 Government of Wales Act 2006 s 1(2)(b). As to the date at which this provision takes effect see note 1 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 2(1)(b).

5 Government of Wales Act 2006 s 2(1). The parliamentary constituencies in Wales are as specified in the Parliamentary Constituencies and Assembly Electoral Regions (Wales) Order 2006, SI 2006/1041 (see PARA 72 ante): Government of Wales Act 2006 s 2(1). The provisions of s 2(1) and s 2(3), (4) (see the text and notes 6-7 infra) are subject to any Order in Council under the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 (see PARA 77 et seq post), as that Act has effect as extended by the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 2(5), Sch 1 (see PARA 103 et seq post): s 2(6). As to the date at which s 2 takes effect see note 1 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 2(2), Sch 1 para 1. Schedule 1 para 1 and Sch 1 para 2(2), (3) (see the text and notes 6-7 infra) are subject to any Order in Council under the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 (see PARA 77 et seq post), as that Act has effect as extended by the Government of Wales Act 1998 Sch 1 (as amended): Sch 1 para 3.

6 Government of Wales Act 2006 s 2(2). The Assembly electoral regions are as specified in the Parliamentary Constituencies and Assembly Electoral Regions (Wales) Order 2006, SI 2006/1041 (see PARA 72 ante): Government of Wales Act 2006 s 2(3). As to the date at which s 2 takes effect see note 1 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 Sch 1 para 2(1), (2). See also note 5 supra.

7 Government of Wales Act 2006 s 2(4). As to the date at which s 2 takes effect see note 1 supra. As to the provision that applies until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 Sch 1 para 2(3). See also note 5 supra.

8 For the purposes of the Government of Wales Act 2006, provision is made for alterations in the Assembly electoral regions and in the allocation of seats to those regions under Sch 1 (see PARA 103 et seq post): s 2(5), Sch 1 para 1(1). See note 1 supra. For the purposes of the Government of Wales Act 1998, the Assembly constituencies and Assembly electoral regions, and the number of Assembly seats for each Assembly electoral region, are as provided for by or in accordance with Sch 1 (as amended) (see PARA 100 et seq post): s 2(2). As to the review of parliamentary constituencies in Wales see PARA 77 et seq post; and PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 896.

76. Establishment of electoral regions for the purpose of European parliamentary elections.

For the purposes of electing the 78 members of the European Parliament ('MEPs') for the United Kingdom¹, the area of England² and Gibraltar³ is divided into nine specified electoral regions⁴ and Scotland, Wales⁵ and Northern Ireland are each single electoral regions⁶.

Provision is made for periodic reviews by the Electoral Commission⁷ of the distribution of MEPs between the electoral regions⁸.

1 European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 1(1) (s 1 substituted by the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 s 1; and the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 1(1) amended by the European Parliament (Number of MEPs) (United Kingdom and Gibraltar) Order 2004, SI 2004/1245, art 2(1), (2)). For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

3 In Application 24833/94 Matthews v United Kingdom (1999) 28 EHRR 361, ECtHR, it was held that the United Kingdom was responsible for securing for the citizens of Gibraltar the right to free elections to the European Parliament, as that body forms part of Gibraltar's legislature. Accordingly, Gibraltar is combined with an existing electoral region in England and Wales to form a new electoral region (the 'combined region') for the purposes of European parliamentary elections taking place after 1 April 2004: see the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 s 9. For these purposes, 'combined region' means the electoral region which includes Gibraltar; 'electoral region' means an electoral region of the United Kingdom established under the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 for the purposes of European parliamentary elections; and 'existing electoral region' means an electoral region existing immediately before the passing of the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 (ie 8 May 2003): s 27(1). In exercise of powers conferred by ss 11-13, 23(2), 25(3) and 26, the combined region is specified in the European Parliamentary Elections (Combined Region and Campaign Expenditure) (United Kingdom and Gibraltar) Order 2004, SI 2004/366, which also makes consequential amendments and extends certain provisions to Gibraltar (see eg note 4 infra).

4 European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 1(2)(a) (as substituted (see note 1 supra); and amended by the European Parliament (Number of MEPs) (United Kingdom and Gibraltar) Order 2004, SI 2004/1245, art 2(1), (2)). As to the nine electoral regions in England and Gibraltar and the areas included therein see the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 1(2) (as so substituted); and the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 Sch 1 (amended by the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 s 8(1), (3); and the European Parliamentary Elections (Combined Region and Campaign Expenditure) (United Kingdom and Gibraltar) Order 2004, SI 2004/366, art 3(1), (6)(b)-(d)). Gibraltar is included in the South West region: see the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 Sch 1 para 1, Table (amended by the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 s 8(1), (3); and by the European Parliamentary Elections (Combined Region and Campaign Expenditure) (United Kingdom and Gibraltar) Order 2004, SI 2004/366, art 3(1), (6)(b)-(d)).

5 For the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

6 European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 1(2)(b) (as substituted: see note 1 supra).

The number of MEPs to be elected for each electoral region is as follows: (1) six for the East Midlands region; (2) seven for the Eastern region; (3) nine for the London region; (4) three for the North East region; (5) nine for the North West region; (6) ten for the South East region; (7) seven for the South West region; (8) seven for the West Midlands region; (9) six for the Yorkshire and the Humber region; (10) seven for Scotland; (11) four for Wales; and (12) three for Northern Ireland: s 1(3) (as so substituted; and further substituted by the European Parliament (Number of MEPs) (United Kingdom and Gibraltar) Order 2004, SI 2004/1245, art 2(1), (3)).

A. REVIEW BY THE BOUNDARY COMMISSIONS

77. Reports of the Boundary Commissions.

Until a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect¹.

Each Boundary Commission² must keep under review the representation in the House of Commons of the part of the United Kingdom³ with which it is concerned and must submit periodical reports⁴ with respect to the whole of that area to the Secretary of State⁵, either: (1) showing the constituencies⁶ into which it recommends that that area should be divided in order to give effect to the statutory rules laid down for its guidance⁷; or (2) stating that, in the opinion of the Commission, no alteration is required to be made in respect of that part of the United Kingdom in order to give effect to those rules⁸. Any Boundary Commission may also from time to time submit to the Secretary of State reports with respect to the area comprised in any particular constituency or constituencies in the part of the United Kingdom with which it is concerned, showing the constituencies into which it recommends that that area should be divided in order to give effect to those statutory rules⁹. A report of a Boundary Commission under the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 showing the constituencies into which the Commission recommends that any area should be divided must state, as respects each constituency, the name by which the Commission recommends that it should be known and whether the Commission recommends that it should be a county constituency or a borough constituency¹⁰.

A Boundary Commission must give written notice to the Secretary of State of its intention to make a report, and a copy of the notice must, where it is given by the Boundary Commission for England or the Boundary Commission for Wales, be published in the London Gazette¹¹. As soon as may be after the report has been submitted to the Secretary of State, he must lay it before Parliament and, unless a Commission has recommended that no alteration is required, drafts of Orders in Council to give effect to the report, whether with or without modifications, must be laid at the same time¹².

The first report of a Boundary Commission with regard to its area as a whole was submitted in November 1954¹³. Subsequent reports on an area as a whole¹⁴ must be submitted not less than eight or more than twelve years from the date of a Commission's last such report on the area as a whole¹⁵. A failure by a Boundary Commission to submit a report within the time limit which is appropriate to that report is not, however, to be regarded as invalidating the report for the purposes of any enactment¹⁶.

1 As from a day to be appointed under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 163(2), the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 ss 3-4, Sch 2 (as amended) is further amended, s 3A is added, and s 5 is substituted, by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 16(1), Sch 3 Pt I to reflect the fact that the functions of each of the Boundary Commissions with respect to keeping under review, and reporting on, representation in the House of Commons of the part of the United Kingdom with which it is concerned is to be transferred to the Electoral Commission: see PARAS 67 et seq ante, 84 et seq post. At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed. As to the establishment and constitution of the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

11 Ibid s 5(1)(a). The notice given by the Boundary Commission for Scotland must be published in the Edinburgh Gazette (see s 5(1)(b)); and the notice given by the Boundary Commission for Northern Ireland must be published in the Belfast Gazette (see s 5(1)(c)). See note 1 supra.

12 Ibid s 3(5).

The draft of any Order in Council laid before Parliament by the Secretary of State under the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 for giving effect, whether with or without modifications, to the recommendations contained in the report of a Boundary Commission may make provision for any matters which appear to him to be incidental to, or consequential on, the recommendations: s 4(1). Where any such draft gives effect to any such recommendations with modifications, the Secretary of State must lay before Parliament together with the draft a statement of the reasons for the modifications: s 4(2). If any such draft is approved by resolution of each House of Parliament, the Secretary of State must submit it to Her Majesty in Council: s 4(3). However, if a motion for the approval of any such draft is rejected by either House of Parliament or withdrawn by leave of the House, the Secretary of State may amend the draft and lay the amended draft before Parliament, and if the draft as so amended is approved by resolution of each House of Parliament, the Secretary of State must submit it to Her Majesty in Council: s 4(4). Where the draft of an Order in Council is so submitted to Her Majesty in Council, Her Majesty in Council may make an order in terms of the draft which comes into force on such date as may be specified in the order and has effect notwithstanding anything in any enactment: s 4(5). However, the coming into force of any such order does not affect any parliamentary election until a proclamation is issued by Her Majesty summoning a new Parliament, nor does it affect the constitution of the House of Commons until the dissolution of the Parliament then in being: s 4(6). The validity of any Order in Council purporting to be made under the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 and reciting that a draft of the order has been approved by resolution of each House of Parliament must not be called in question in any legal proceedings whatsoever: s 4(7). See note 1 supra. See also PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 896.

78. Procedure relating to reviews and proposed recommendations.

Until a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect¹.

Where a Boundary Commission has provisionally determined to make recommendations affecting any constituency², it must publish in at least one newspaper circulating in the constituency a notice stating the effect of its proposed recommendations³. Except in a case where the Commission proposes to recommend that no alteration be made in respect of the constituency, the notice must also state that a copy of the recommendations is open to inspection at a specified place within the constituency⁴. In either case, it must state that representations with respect to the proposed recommendations may be made to the Commission within one month after the publication of the notice⁵. The Commission must take into consideration any representations duly made in accordance with any such notice⁶.

A Boundary Commission may, if it thinks fit, cause a local inquiry to be held in respect of any constituency or constituencies⁷. Where, on the publication of a notice of a recommendation for the alteration of any constituencies⁸, the Commission receives any representation objecting to the proposed recommendation from a local authority⁹ the area of which is wholly or partly comprised in the constituencies affected by the recommendation, or from a body of parliamentary electors for any of those constituencies numbering 100 or more, the Commission may not make the recommendation unless: (1) a local inquiry has been held in respect of the constituencies since the publication of the notice¹⁰; or (2) a local inquiry was held in respect of the constituencies before the publication of the notice and the Commission, after considering the matters discussed at that inquiry, the nature of the representations received on the publication of the notice and any other relevant circumstances, is of opinion that a further local inquiry would not be justified¹¹.

Until a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect¹.

In discharging its functions, a Boundary Commission² must observe certain rules³. It is not, however, a Boundary Commission's duty to aim at giving full effect in all circumstances to the rules; it must take account, so far as it reasonably can⁴: (1) of the inconveniences attendant on alterations of constituencies⁵ other than alterations made for the purpose of adjusting constituencies to local authority boundaries⁶; and (2) of any local ties which would be broken by such alterations⁷. In so far as the working out and application of the rules is not within the discretion of the Commission, it is a matter for Parliament to determine; it is not for the court to determine whether a particular line of approach which commended itself to the commission was the best⁸.

In any redistribution of seats recommended by a Boundary Commission² the number of constituencies³ must not be substantially greater or less than 613 in Great Britain⁴; and in Wales⁵ not less than 35⁶. Every constituency must return a single member⁷.

1 As from a day to be appointed under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 163(2), the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 s 3(6), Sch 2 (as amended) is further amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 16(1), Sch 3 Pt I to reflect the fact that the functions of each of the Boundary Commissions with respect to keeping under review, and reporting on, representation in the House of Commons of the part of the United Kingdom with which it is concerned is to be transferred to the Electoral Commission: see PARAS 67 et seq ante, 84 et seq post. 5 For the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

6 Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 Sch 2 para 1(3). In Northern Ireland, the number of constituencies must not be greater than 18 nor less than 16 and must be 17 unless it appears to the Boundary Commission for Northern Ireland that Northern Ireland should for the time being be divided into 16 or 18 constituencies: see Sch 2 para 1(4). See note 1 supra. The number of seats at the general election of May 2005 was in England 529, in Wales 40, in Northern Ireland 18, and in Scotland 59.

Provision must be made for the continuation of a constituency to include the whole of the City of London, the name of which must refer to the City of London: see Sch 2 para 3. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante.

A constituency which includes the Orkney Islands or the Shetland Islands must not include the whole or any part of a local government area other than the Orkney Islands and the Shetland Islands: Sch 2 para 3A (added by the Scotland Act 1998 s 86(3)).

81. Rules relating to local authority boundaries.

Until a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect¹.

So far as is practicable having regard to the statutory rules², the recommendations of a Boundary Commission as to the redistribution of seats³ must take account of local authority boundaries in the following manner⁴. In England⁵, no county or part of a county may be included in a constituency⁶ which includes the whole or part of any other county or the whole or part of a London borough⁷; and no London borough or part of a London borough may be included in a constituency which includes the whole or part of any other London borough⁸. In Wales, no part of a preserved county⁹ may be included in a constituency which includes the whole or part of any other preserved county¹⁰.

4 See the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 Sch 2 para 4(1) (amended by the Scotland Act 1998 s 86(3)).

For the purposes of the application of the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 Sch 2 para 4 (as amended), a report of a Boundary Commission under s 3(1) (see PARA 77 ante) may take account only of those boundaries, whether of counties, London boroughs, local authority areas in Scotland or wards in Northern Ireland, which are in operation at whichever is the earlier of the date of the report and the tenth anniversary of the date of the submission of the most recent report of the Commission under s 3(1); but nothing in this provision prevents a Boundary Commission publishing proposed recommendations which take account of boundaries which at the time of publication are prospective only; and a boundary is regarded as prospective at any time if, at that time, it is specified in a provision of an Act, Measure of the Northern Ireland Assembly, statutory instrument or statutory rule but the boundary has not yet come into operation: s 3(7), (8) (added by the Boundary Commissions Act 1992 s 3(1)). In Scotland, regard must be had to the boundaries of local authority areas and in Northern Ireland no ward may be included partly in one constituency and partly in another: see the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 Sch 2 para 4(1)(b), (c), (2). See note 1 supra.

Until a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect¹.

The electorate² of any constituency recommended for redistribution by a Boundary Commission must be as near the electoral quota³ as is practicable having regard to the statutory rules⁴ laid down for the Commission's guidance⁵. A Boundary Commission may depart from the strict application of the rule relating to local authority boundaries⁶ if it appears to that Commission that a departure is desirable to avoid an excessive disparity between the electorate of any constituency and the electoral quota, or between the electorate of that constituency and that of neighbouring constituencies in the part of the United Kingdom with which the particular Commission is concerned⁷.

A Boundary Commission² may depart from the strict application of the rules relating to local authority boundaries³ and to the electoral quota⁴ if special geographical considerations, including in particular the size, shape and accessibility of a constituency⁵, appear to that Commission to render a departure desirable⁶.

B. REVIEW BY THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION AND BOUNDARY COMMITTEES

84. Reports of the Electoral Commission.

As from a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect¹.

The Electoral Commission² must keep under review the representation in the House of Commons of each of England³, Scotland, Wales⁴ and Northern Ireland and must submit separate periodical reports⁵ with respect to the whole of each of those parts of the United Kingdom to the Secretary of State⁶, either: (1) showing the constituencies⁷ into which it recommends that that area should be divided in order to give effect to the statutory rules laid down for its guidance⁸; or (2) stating that, in the opinion of the Commission, no alteration is required to be made in respect of that part of the United Kingdom in order to give effect to those rules⁹. The Commission may also from time to time submit to the Secretary of State reports with respect to the area comprised in any particular constituency or constituencies in any part of the United Kingdom, showing the constituencies into which it recommends that that area should be divided in order to give effect to those statutory rules¹⁰. A report of the Commission under the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 showing the constituencies into which the Commission recommends that any area should be divided must state, as respects each constituency, the name by which the Commission recommends that it should be known and whether the Commission recommends that it should be a county constituency or a borough constituency¹¹.

The Commission must give written notice to the Secretary of State of its intention to consider making a report, and a copy of the notice must be published, if the report would be with respect to England or Wales (or an area comprised therein), in the London Gazette¹². As soon as practicable after the Commission has submitted a report to the Secretary of State, he must lay it before Parliament and, except where the report states that no alteration is required to be made in respect of the part of the United Kingdom to which it relates, the draft of an Order in Council for giving effect to the recommendations contained in the report must be laid at the same time¹³.

Reports¹⁴ with respect to a particular part of the United Kingdom¹⁶ must be submitted by the Electoral Commission not less than eight nor more than twelve years from the date of the last such report with respect to that part of the United Kingdom¹⁷. A failure by the Electoral Commission to submit a report within the time limit which is appropriate to that report is not, however, to be regarded as invalidating the report for the purposes of any enactment¹⁸.

In R (on the application of Elliot) v Electoral Commission [2003] EWHC 395 (Admin), [2003] All ER (D) 218 (Feb), a representative of local electors made an application for judicial review to challenge new boundaries made for electoral wards. Although proceedings had been issued within the limitation period, which ran from the date of the order by which the Commission had given legal effect to its decision to change the boundaries, the court held that the challenge had not been made with sufficient promptness in the circumstances and that to allow the action to proceed would cause a substantial degree of prejudice with regard to the impending local elections.

85. Reviews and recommendations proposed by Boundary Committees.

As from a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect¹.

Where the Electoral Commission² intends to consider making a report under the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986³ with respect to⁴: (1) a particular part of the United Kingdom⁵; or (2) any area comprised in a particular part of the United Kingdom⁶, the Boundary Committee for that part of the United Kingdom⁷ must⁸ carry out a review in accordance with the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 for the purpose of enabling it to submit to the Commission proposals as to the recommendations⁹ to be included in the report¹⁰. Once the Boundary Committee has carried out such a review, it must accordingly submit to the Commission a report containing the recommendations which the Committee proposes should be included in the report¹¹ in the light of the review¹². Where the Commission has received such a report of a Boundary Committee, the Commission may¹³:

- 83 (a) accept in full the proposed recommendations contained in the Boundary Committee report and include them in its report¹⁴;
- 84 (b) accept those proposed recommendations subject to modifications agreed with the Boundary Committee and include them, as so modified, in its report¹⁵;
- 85 (c) reject those proposed recommendations and either¹⁶: (i) require the Boundary Committee to reconsider its proposed recommendations with a view to deciding whether to submit a further report¹⁷ containing different proposed recommendations¹⁸; (ii) require the Boundary Committee to carry out a fresh review¹⁹ with respect to the whole, or any specified part, of the area which was the subject of the original review²⁰; or (iii) in the case only of a review carried out for the purposes of a report that the Commission has discretion to submit²¹, take no further action²².

1 As from a day to be appointed under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 163(2), the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 s 3A is added by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 16(1), Sch 3 Pt I to reflect the fact that the functions of each of the Boundary Commissions with respect to keeping under review, and reporting on, representation in the House of Commons of the part of the United Kingdom with which it is concerned is to be transferred to the Electoral Commission: see PARAS 67 et seq ante, 86 et seq post. Procedure relating to reviews and proposed recommendations.

86. Procedure relating to reviews and proposed recommendations.

As from a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect¹.

Where a Boundary Committee² has provisionally determined to make recommendations³ affecting any constituency⁴ which it is minded to include in a report following its review of a report by the Electoral Commission⁵, the Committee must publish in at least one newspaper circulating in the constituency a notice stating the effect of the proposed recommendations⁶. Except where the effect of the Committee's recommendations is that no alteration should be made in respect of the constituency, the notice must also state that a copy of the recommendations is open to inspection at a specified place within the constituency⁷. In either case, it must state that representations with respect to the proposed recommendations may be made to the Committee within one month after the publication of the notice⁸. The Committee must take into consideration any representations duly made in accordance with any such notice⁹.

In connection with carrying out any review where the Electoral Commission intends to consider making a report¹⁰, a Committee may, if it thinks fit, cause a local inquiry to be held in respect of any constituency or constituencies¹¹. Where, on the publication of a notice of a recommendation for the alteration of any constituencies¹², the Committee receives any representation objecting to the proposed recommendation from a local authority¹³ the area of which is wholly or partly comprised in the constituencies affected by the recommendation ('an interested authority'), or from a body of parliamentary electors for any of those constituencies numbering 100 or more, the Committee may not proceed with the proposed recommendation unless: (1) a local inquiry has been held in respect of the constituencies since the publication of the notice¹⁴; or (2) a local inquiry was held in respect of the constituencies before the publication of the notice and the Committee, after considering the matters discussed at that inquiry, the nature of the representations received on the publication of the notice and any other relevant circumstances, is of opinion that a further local inquiry would not be justified¹⁵.

Where a Committee has caused a local inquiry to be held in pursuance of the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986: (a) the Committee must take into consideration the findings of the inquiry¹⁶; and (b) where the Electoral Commission is minded to exercise in relation to the Committee's proposed recommendations any of its powers to modify or reject them¹⁷, the Electoral Commission must have regard to the findings of the inquiry¹⁸ or (where it is minded to exercise any of those powers in relation to part only of the area which was the subject of the Committee's review) the findings of the inquiry so far as relating to that part of that area¹⁹.

As from a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect¹.

In discharging its functions, the Electoral Commission² or (as the case may be) a Boundary Committee³ must observe certain rules⁴. It is not, however, the duty of either the Commission or of such a Committee to aim at giving full effect in all circumstances to the rules⁵, but they must take account, so far as they reasonably can⁶: (1) of the inconveniences attendant on alterations of constituencies⁷ other than alterations made for the purpose of adjusting constituencies to local authority boundaries⁸; and (2) of any local ties which would be broken by such alterations⁹. In so far as the working out and application of the rules is not within the discretion of the Commission or of such a Committee, it is a matter for Parliament to determine; it is not for the court to determine whether a particular line of approach which commended itself to the body concerned was the best¹⁰.

88. Rules for apportioning constituencies.

As from a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect¹.

In any redistribution of seats following a report of the Electoral Commission², the number of constituencies³ must not be substantially greater or less than 613 in Great Britain⁴; and in Wales⁵ not less than 35⁶. Every constituency must return a single member⁷.

1 As from a day to be appointed under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 163(2), the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 s 3(6), Sch 2 (as amended) is further amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 16(1), Sch 3 Pt I to reflect the fact that the functions of each of the Boundary Commissions with respect to keeping under review, and reporting on, representation in the House of Commons of the part of the United Kingdom with which it is concerned is to be transferred to the Electoral Commission: see PARAS 67 et seq, 84 et seq ante. At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed. As to the system until that day is appointed see PARA 77 et seq ante.

5 For the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

6 Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 Sch 2 para 1(3). In Northern Ireland, the number of constituencies must not be greater than 18 nor less than 16 and must be 17 unless it appears to the Electoral Commission or (as the case may be) the Boundary Committee for Northern Ireland that Northern Ireland should for the time being be divided into 16 or 18 constituencies: see Sch 2 para 1(4) (prospectively amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 3 paras 1, 7(1), (2)). See note 1 supra. For the meaning of 'Boundary Committee' see PARA 85 note 7 ante. The number of seats at the general election of May 2005 was in England 529, in Wales 40, in Northern Ireland 18, and in Scotland 59.

Provision must be made for the continuation of a constituency to include the whole of the City of London, the name of which must refer to the City of London: see the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 Sch 2 para 3. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante.

A constituency which includes the Orkney Islands or the Shetland Islands must not include the whole or any part of a local government area other than the Orkney Islands and the Shetland Islands: Sch 2 para 3A (added by the Scotland Act 1998 s 86(3)).

89. Rules relating to local authority boundaries.

As from a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect¹.

So far as is practicable having regard to the statutory rules², recommendations as to the redistribution of seats³ must take account of local authority boundaries in the following manner⁴. In England⁵, no county or part of a county may be included in a constituency⁶ which includes the whole or part of any other county or the whole or part of a London borough⁷; and no London borough or part of a London borough may be included in a constituency which includes the whole or part of any other London borough⁸. In Wales, no part of a preserved county⁹ may be included in a constituency which includes the whole or part of any other preserved county¹⁰.

1 As from a day to be appointed under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 163(2), the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 s 3(6), Sch 2 (as amended) is further amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 16(1), Sch 3 Pt I to reflect the fact that the functions of each of the Boundary Commissions with respect to keeping under review, and reporting on, representation in the House of Commons of the part of the United Kingdom with which it is concerned is to be transferred to the Electoral Commission: see PARAS 67 et seq, 84 et seq ante. 4 See the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 Sch 2 para 4(1) (amended by the Scotland Act 1998 s 86(3)). See note 1 supra.

For the purposes of the application of the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 Sch 2 para 4 (as amended), a report of the Electoral Commission under s 3(1) (prospectively amended) (see PARA 77 ante) with respect to a particular part of the United Kingdom may take account only of those boundaries, whether of counties, London boroughs, local authority areas in Scotland or wards in Northern Ireland, which are in operation at whichever is the earlier of the date of the report and the tenth anniversary of the date of the submission of the most recent report under s 3(1) (prospectively amended) with respect to that part of the United Kingdom; but nothing in this provision prevents a Boundary Committee publishing under s 5 (prospectively substituted) (see PARA 86 ante) proposed recommendations which take account of boundaries which at the time of publication are prospective only: s 3(7) (added by the Boundary Commissions Act 1992 s 3(1); and prospectively amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 3 paras 1, 2(1), (8)(a)-(c), (10)). For these purposes, a boundary is regarded as prospective at any time if, at that time, it is specified in a provision of an Act, Measure of the Northern Ireland Assembly, statutory instrument or statutory rule but the boundary has not yet come into operation: Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 s 3(8) (added by the Boundary Commissions Act 1992 s 3(1)). In Scotland, regard must be had to the boundaries of local authority areas and in Northern Ireland no ward may be included partly in one constituency and partly in another: see the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 Sch 2 para 4(1)(b), (c), (2).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/3. 90. Rules relating to the electoral quota.

As from a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect¹.

The electorate² of any constituency recommended for redistribution³ must be as near the electoral quota⁴ as is practicable having regard to the statutory rules⁵ laid down for guidance⁶. The Electoral Commission or (as the case may be) a Boundary Committee may depart from the strict application of the rule relating to local authority boundaries⁷ if it appears to it that a departure is desirable to avoid an excessive disparity between the electorate of any constituency and the electoral quota, or between the electorate of that constituency and that of neighbouring constituencies in the part of the United Kingdom with which it is concerned⁸.

1 As from a day to be appointed under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 163(2), the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 s 3(6), Sch 2 (as amended) is further amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 16(1), Sch 3 Pt I to reflect the fact that the functions of each of the Boundary Commissions with respect to keeping under review, and reporting on, representation in the House of Commons of the part of the United Kingdom with which it is concerned is to be transferred to the Electoral Commission: see PARAS 67 et seq, 84 et seq ante. At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed. As to the system until that day is appointed see PARA 77 et seq ante.

2 In relation to a constituency, 'electorate' means the number of persons whose names appear on the register of parliamentary electors in force under the Representation of the People Acts for the constituency on the enumeration date; and in relation to each part of the United Kingdom, 'electorate' means the aggregate electorate (as so defined) of all the constituencies in it: Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 Sch 2 para 8(b). In relation to any report of the Electoral Commission (or one made by a Boundary Committee for these purposes) under the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986, 'enumeration date' means the date on which the notice with respect to that report is published under s 5(1) (prospectively substituted) (see PARA 84 ante): Sch 2 para 8(c) (prospectively amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 3 paras 1, 7(1), (6)(b)). As to the registration of parliamentary electors see PARA 128 et seq post. As to the establishment and constitution of the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

3 As to the redistribution of seats see PARA 84 et seq ante.

4 'Electoral quota' means the number obtained by dividing the electorate for each part of the United Kingdom by the number of constituencies existing in it on the enumeration date: Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 Sch 2 para 8(a). See note 1 supra.

91. Taking into account geographical considerations.

As from a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect¹.

The Electoral Commission² or (as the case may be) a Boundary Committee³ may depart from the strict application of the rules relating to local authority boundaries⁴ and to the electoral quota⁵ if special geographical considerations, including in particular the size, shape and accessibility of a constituency⁶, appear to render a departure desirable⁷.

Review of electoral arrangements by the Electoral Commission.

(ii) Review of Local Government Electoral Areas

A. ENGLAND

(A) PRINCIPAL AREAS AND PARISHES

92. Review of electoral arrangements by the Electoral Commission.

The Electoral Commission¹:

- 86 (1) may direct the Boundary Committee for England² to conduct a review of a specified area in England³, and to recommend whether an electoral change⁴ should be made in respect of that area⁵; and
- 87 (2) must from time to time direct the Boundary Committee for England to conduct a review of each principal area in England, and to recommend whether an electoral change should be made in respect of that area⁶.

In carrying out a function under head (1) or head (2) above, the Commission or the Boundary Committee for England must have regard to the need to reflect the identities and interests of local communities, the need to secure effective and convenient local government, the need to secure equality of representation⁷, and any scheme for elections specified by order under the power to specify a scheme for elections⁸. The Commission may give a direction to the Boundary Committee for England about the exercise of a function under head (1) or head (2) above⁹; and such a direction may, in particular, require the Boundary Committee for England to have regard to guidance given by the Commission as to matters to be taken into account in considering electoral changes¹⁰.

Provision is made for the procedure on a review of electoral arrangements, structural changes or boundary changes¹¹.

Where the Boundary Committee for England makes recommendations to the Commission for electoral changes, the Commission may by order give effect to all or any of the recommendations, subject to any modifications to those recommendations agreed with that Committee¹².

1 As to the establishment and constitution of the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

2 As to the establishment of the Boundary Committee for England see PARA 60 et seq ante.

3 Local Government Act 1992 s 13(3)(a) (s 13 substituted by the Local Government Commission for England (Transfer of Functions) Order 2001, SI 2001/3962, art 8, Sch 1 para 1). For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

4 For these purposes, an 'electoral change' is a change of electoral arrangements for any local government area, whether made in consequence of any structural or boundary change or independently of any such change: Local Government Act 1992 s 14(1)(c). For the purposes of s 14(1)(c), 'electoral arrangements' means:

- 23 (1) in relation to a principal area: (a) the number of councillors of the council for that area (s 14(4)(a)(i)); (b) the number and boundaries of the electoral areas into which that area is for the time being divided for the purposes of the election of councillors (s 14(4)(a)(ii)); (c) the number of councillors to be elected for any electoral area in that principal area (s 14(4)(a)(iii) (amended by the Local Government Commission for England (Transfer of Functions) Order 2001, SI 2001/3962, art 8, Sch 1 para 2(1), (3))); and (d) the name of any electoral area (Local Government Act 1992 s 14(4)(a)(iv));
- 24 (2) in relation to a parish council: (a) the number of councillors (s 14(4)(b)(i)); (b) the question whether or not the parish or, in the case of a common parish council, any of the parishes should be divided into wards for the purposes of the election of councillors (s 14(4)(b)(ii)); (c) the number and boundaries of any such wards (s 14(4)(b)(iii)); (d) the number of councillors to be elected for any such ward or, in the case of a common parish, for each parish (s 14(4)(b)(iv)); and (e) the name of any such ward (s 14(4)(b)(v)).

For the meanings of 'boundary change', 'local government area', 'principal area' and 'structural change' for the purposes of the Local Government Act 1992 see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 56. As to parishes see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 27 et seq. As to the election of councillors see PARA 204 et seq post; and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 126 et seq.

In considering the electoral arrangements for any local government area for the purposes of Pt II (ss 12-27) (as amended), the Electoral Commission and the Boundary Committee for England must comply, so far as is reasonably practicable, with the rules set out in the Local Government Act 1972 s 78, Sch 11 (as amended): see the Local Government Act 1992 s 27(2). As to the rules to be observed in relation to electoral arrangements see the Local Government Act 1972 Sch 11 para 1 (as amended) (counties in England), Sch 11 para 3 (as amended) (districts and London boroughs), Sch 11 para 4 (as amended) (parishes); and PARA 94 post. 5 Local Government Act 1992 s 13(3)(b) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). Notwithstanding the Local Government Act 1972 s 6(2)(a) (as amended) (see PARA 73 ante), the Boundary Committee for England may recommend under the Local Government Act 1992 s 13(3) (as substituted) that an electoral division of a non-metropolitan county should return more than one councillor: s 14(8) (added by the Local Government Act 2000 s 89(2); and amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 158(1), Sch 21 para 10; and the Local Government Commission for England (Transfer of Functions) Order 2001, SI 2001/3962, art 8, Sch 1 para 2(1), (4)(a), (b)). For the meaning of 'non-metropolitan county' see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 24.

6 Local Government Act 1992 s 13(4) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). Notwithstanding the Local Government Act 1972 s 6(2)(a) (as amended) (see PARA 73 ante), the Boundary Committee for England may recommend under the Local Government Act 1992 s 13(4) (as substituted) that an electoral division of a non-metropolitan county should return more than one councillor: s 14(8) (as added and amended: see note 5 supra).

92 Review of electoral arrangements by the Electoral Commission

TEXT AND NOTES--Repealed: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Sch 7 Pt 3.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/3. ESTABLISHMENT AND REVIEW OF ELECTORAL BOUNDARIES/(2) THE REVIEW OF ELECTORAL BOUNDARIES/(ii) Review of Local Government Electoral Areas/A. ENGLAND/(A) Principal Areas and Parishes/93. Review of electoral arrangements in relation to parishes.

93. Review of electoral arrangements in relation to parishes.

In addition to the duty of the Electoral Commission¹ to conduct reviews of electoral arrangements under the Local Government Act 1992², there is a power under Part II of the Local Government and Rating Act 1997³ for certain local authorities to conduct reviews of electoral arrangements⁴ in relation to parishes⁵. A district council or unitary county council⁶ may conduct a review of the electoral arrangements for the council of a parish in its area for the purpose of considering whether or not to make any changes to the arrangements and, if so, what changes⁷. If, following such a review, the council decides that changes should be made to the electoral arrangements, it may by order give effect to all or any of the changes⁸.

1 As to the establishment and constitution of the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

2 Reviews of electoral arrangements are made by the Boundary Committee for England under the direction of the Electoral Commission: see PARA 92 ante.

3 Ie the Local Government and Rating Act 1997 Pt II (ss 9-25) (as amended).

4 'Electoral arrangements', in relation to an existing or proposed parish council, means: (1) the number of councillors (ibid s 24(1), (2)(a)); (2) the question whether or not the parish or (in the case of a common parish council) any of the parishes should be, or continue to be, divided into wards for the purposes of the election of councillors (s 24(1), (2)(b)); (3) the number and boundaries of any such wards (s 24(1), (2)(c)); (4) the number of councillors to be elected for any such ward or (in the case of a common parish council) for each parish (s 24(1), (2)(d)); and (5) the name of any such ward (s 24(1), (2)(e)). 'Electoral arrangements' are defined also for the purposes of the Local Government Act 1972 Pt IV (ss 53-78) (as amended) (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 77 et seq) in relation to a parish council or a common parish council: see s 78(1)(b); and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 91. As to parishes see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 27 et seq.

5 See the Local Government and Rating Act 1997 s 17 (as amended); and the text and notes 6-8 infra.

6 For the meaning of 'unitary county council' see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 240.

7 Local Government and Rating Act 1997 s 17(2). As to the factors to be considered in exercising functions under s 17 (as amended) see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 56.

In the consideration by a district council of the electoral arrangements for a parish having a parish council (whether separate or common) the rules set out in s 78, Sch 11 para 4 (as amended) must be complied with: see PARA 94 post. Principal councils must also keep under review polling districts and places: see PARA 348 et seq post.

8 Local Government and Rating Act 1997 s 17(3). As to the power to make orders, and the provision that may be made, under s 17 (as amended) see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 56. The power of a council to make an order under s 17 (as amended) includes power to vary or revoke any order previously made under s 16 (establishment of new parish councils by local authorities: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 69) or s 17 (as amended): s 17(5). Where a council makes an order under s 17 (as amended), it must send two copies of the order to the Secretary of State and to the Electoral Commission: s 23(8) (amended by the Local Government Commission for England (Transfer of Functions) Order 2001, SI 2001/3962, art 9, Sch 2 para 12(1), (3)). As to the Secretary of State for these purposes see PARA 2 ante. The Local Government and Rating Act 1997 s 17(3) does not apply if the electoral arrangements for the parish council have been made or altered by or in pursuance of an order under s 14 (as amended) (implementation by Secretary of State: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 69), or by an order under the Local Government Act 1972 Pt IV (as amended) or the Local Government Act 1992 s 17 (as amended) (see PARA 92 ante), and: (1) the period of five years beginning with the day on which the order was made has not expired; and (2) the Electoral Commission has not consented to the council making the changes: Local Government and Rating Act 1997 s 17(4) (amended in relation to England by the Local Government Commission for England (Transfer of Functions) Order 2001, SI 2001/3962, art 9, Sch 2 para 9).

Agreements may be made as to incidental matters when an order is made under the Local Government Act 1992 s 17 (as amended): see s 23(9), which applies s 20 (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 69) to an order under the Local Government and Rating Act 1997 s 17 (as amended) as it applies to an order under the Local Government Act 1992 Pt II (ss 12-27) (as amended).

In considering the electoral arrangements¹ for any local government area in England², the Electoral Commission³ and the Boundary Committee for England⁴ (or, as the case may be, a district council⁵) must comply, so far as is reasonably practicable, with the rules set out below⁶.

In the consideration of the electoral arrangements for elections of county councillors⁷ in England⁸ and having regard to any change in the number or distribution of the local government electors⁹ of the county likely to take place within the period of five years immediately following the consideration¹⁰:

- 88 (1) the number of local government electors must be, as nearly as may be, the same in every electoral division¹¹ of the county¹²;
- 89 (2) every electoral division must lie wholly within a single district¹³;
- 90 (3) every ward of a parish¹⁴ having a parish council (whether separate or common) must lie wholly within a single electoral division¹⁵; and
- 91 (4) every parish which is not divided into parish wards must lie wholly within a single electoral division¹⁶.

In the consideration of the electoral arrangements for elections of councillors of a district¹⁷ or London borough¹⁸ and having regard to any change in the number or distribution of the local government electors of the district or borough likely to take place within the period of five years immediately following the consideration¹⁹:

- 92 (a) the ratio of the number of local government electors to the number of councillors to be elected must be, as nearly as may be, the same in every ward of the district or borough²⁰;
- 93 (b) in a district, every ward of a parish having a parish council (whether separate or common) must lie wholly within a single ward of the district²¹;
- 94 (c) in a district, every parish which is not divided into parish wards must lie wholly within a single ward of the district²².

In the consideration of the electoral arrangements for a parish having a parish council (whether separate or common)²³:

- 95 (i) in considering whether any such parish is to be divided into parish wards, regard must be had to the questions whether: (A) the number or distribution of the local government electors for the parish is such as to make a single election of parish councillors impracticable or inconvenient²⁴; and (B) it is desirable that any area or areas of the parish should be separately represented on the parish council²⁵; and
- 96 (ii) where it is decided to divide any such parish into parish wards, in considering the size and boundaries of the wards and in fixing the number of parish councillors to be elected for each ward, regard must be had to²⁶: (A) any change in the number or distribution of the local government electors of the parish which is likely to take place within the period of five years immediately following the consideration²⁷; (B) the desirability of fixing boundaries which are and will remain easily identifiable²⁸; and (c) any local ties which will be broken by the fixing of any particular boundaries²⁹;

- 97 (iii) where it is decided not to divide the parish into parish wards, in fixing the number of councillors to be elected for each parish, regard must be had to the number and distribution of the local government electors of the parish and any change in either which is likely to take place within the period of five years immediately following the fixing of the number of parish councillors³⁰.

Review of London Assembly constituencies.

(B) LONDON ASSEMBLY CONSTITUENCIES

95. Review of London Assembly constituencies.

If the Electoral Commission¹ at any time so directs², the Boundary Committee for England³ must carry out a comprehensive review of Assembly constituencies⁴ and must submit to the Commission a report⁵ showing the areas into which it recommends Greater London⁶ should be divided to form the Assembly constituencies⁷ and stating the name by which it recommends that each Assembly constituency should be known⁸. No recommendations may be made by the Boundary Committee for England in such a report unless the recommendations comply with the rules about Assembly constituencies⁹.

Where a report of a review of the Assembly constituencies is submitted to the Commission¹⁰, the Commission may, if it thinks fit, direct the Boundary Committee for England¹¹ to review such of the recommendations made in the report as may be specified in the direction¹² and to submit a further report¹³ making revised recommendations as respects the areas into which Greater London should be divided to form the Assembly constituencies¹⁴ and the name by which each Assembly constituency should be known¹⁵. No recommendations may be made by the Boundary Committee for England in a further report unless the recommendations comply with the rules about Assembly constituencies¹⁶.

Provision is made for the procedure where, in consequence of recommendations of the Commission for certain structural or boundary changes following a review conducted under the Local Government Act 1992¹⁷, changes are required to Assembly constituencies in order to comply with the rules about Assembly constituencies¹⁸.

1 As to the establishment and constitution of the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

2 A direction to submit a report under the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 2(5), Sch 1 para 2(1) (as amended) must specify the timetable in accordance with which the report is to be prepared, submitted and available for inspection under Sch 1 (as amended): Sch 1 para 3(1). As to the giving of such directions generally see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 13.

3 As to the establishment of the Boundary Committee for England see PARA 60 et seq ante. The Electoral Commission may give directions as to the exercise by the Committee of any of its functions under ibid Sch 1 (as amended): Sch 1 para 5 (amended by the Local Government Commission for England (Transfer of Functions) Order 2001, SI 2001/3962, art 9, Sch 2 para 14(1), (6)). In particular, the directions may specify matters which the Committee must take into account in preparing a report (Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 1 para 5(a) (amended by the Local Government Commission for England (Transfer of Functions) Order 2001, SI 2001/3962, art 9, Sch 2 para 14(1), (6))) and require the Committee to have regard to any guidance given by the Commission as respects matters to be taken into account in preparing a report (Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 1 para 5(b) (amended by the Local Government Commission for England (Transfer of Functions) Order 2001, SI 2001/3962, art 9, Sch 2 para 14(1), (6))).

4 As to the establishment of London Assembly constituencies see PARA 74 ante.

5 As soon as reasonably practicable after being directed to submit a report under the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 1 para 2(1) (as amended), the Boundary Committee for England must take such steps as it considers sufficient to secure that persons who may be interested in the subject-matter of the report are informed of the direction requiring the report to be submitted, including, in particular, the period specified in the timetable within which representations with respect to the subject-matter of the report may be made to the Committee (Sch 1 para 3(2)(a) (amended by the Local Government Commission for England (Transfer of Functions) Order 2001, SI 2001/3962, art 9, Sch 2 para 14(1), (4))), and any direction under the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 1 para 5 (as amended) (see note 3 supra) (Sch 1 para 3(2)(b)). Before submitting its report, the Boundary Committee for England must: (1) take into consideration any representations made to it within the period mentioned in Sch 1 para 3(2)(a) (as amended) (Sch 1 para 3(3)(a) (amended by the Local Government Commission for England (Transfer of Functions) Order 2001, SI 2001/3962, art 9, Sch 2 para 14(1), (4))); (2) prepare a draft report and take such steps as it considers sufficient to secure that persons who may be interested in the report are informed of it and of the period specified in the timetable within which representations with respect to it may be made (Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 1 para 3(3)(b) (amended by the Local Government Commission for England (Transfer of Functions) Order 2001, SI 2001/3962, art 9, Sch 2 para 14(1), (4))); (3) deposit copies of the draft report at the principal office of the Greater London Authority, each London borough council and the Common Council of the City of London (Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 1 para 3(3)(c)); and (4) take into consideration representations made to the Boundary Committee for England within the period mentioned in Sch 1 para 3(3)(b) (as amended) (Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 1 para 3(3)(d) (amended by the Local Government Commission for England (Transfer of Functions) Order 2001, SI 2001/3962, art 9, Sch 2 para 14(1), (4))). As to the establishment of the Greater London Authority see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 79; as to the London boroughs and their councils see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARAS 30, 35-39, 59 et seq; and as to the Common Council of the City of London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 51 et seq.

As soon as the Boundary Committee for England is in a position to submit its report to the Electoral Commission (and in any event not later than the date specified in the timetable for submission of the report), it must: (a) so submit the report (Sch 1 para 3(4)(a) (amended by the Local Government Commission for England (Transfer of Functions) Order 2001, SI 2001/3962, art 9, Sch 2 para 14(1), (4))); (b) take such steps as it considers sufficient to secure that persons who may be interested in the report are informed of it and of the period specified in the timetable within which it may be inspected (Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 1 para 3(4)(b) (amended by the Local Government Commission for England (Transfer of Functions) Order 2001, SI 2001/3962, art 9, Sch 2 para 14(1), (4))); and (c) deposit copies of the report at the principal office of each London borough council and the Common Council of the City of London (Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 1 para 3(4)(c)).

Copies of the draft report deposited under Sch 1 para 3(3)(c) (see head (3) supra), and of the report deposited under Sch 1 para 3(4)(c) (see head (c) supra), must be kept available for inspection at the offices concerned in accordance with the timetable: Sch 1 para 3(5).

Statutory rules to be observed in considering electoral arrangements of London Assembly constituencies.

96. Statutory rules to be observed in considering electoral arrangements of London Assembly constituencies.

For the purpose of elections to the London Assembly¹, there are, under the rules relating to London Assembly constituencies², 14 Assembly constituencies³, each of which consists of two or more entire London boroughs⁴. A part of the boundary⁵ of each London borough contained within an Assembly constituency must adjoin a part of the boundary of at least one other London borough contained within that constituency⁶, and no London borough is to be included in more than one Assembly constituency⁷. The electorate for an Assembly constituency must be as near the electorate for each other Assembly constituency as is reasonably practicable⁸.

2 Ie the rules contained in the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 2(5), Sch 1 para 7(1): see the text and notes 3-8 infra. As to the establishment of London Assembly constituencies see PARA 74 ante.

3 Ibid Sch 1 para 7(1), r 1.

4 Ibid Sch 1 para 7(1), r 2. As to the London boroughs see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 30. For the purposes of Sch 1 para 7(1), any reference to a London borough includes a reference to the City of London, which for these purposes is taken to include the Inner Temple and the Middle Temple: Sch 1 para 7(2) (a). As to the City of London and the Temples see PARA 30 ante; and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 31 et seq.

5 For the purposes of ibid Sch 1 para 7(1), a part of a boundary which would, except for the River Thames or a tributary of the River Thames, adjoin a part of another boundary is deemed to adjoin that part of that other boundary: Sch 1 para 7(2)(b).

ESTABLISHMENT AND REVIEW OF ELECTORAL BOUNDARIES/(2) THE REVIEW OF ELECTORAL BOUNDARIES/(ii) Review of Local Government Electoral Areas/B. WALES/97. Review of electoral arrangements for principal areas by the Local Government Boundary Commission for Wales.

B. WALES

97. Review of electoral arrangements for principal areas by the Local Government Boundary Commission for Wales.

It is the duty of the Local Government Boundary Commission for Wales (the 'Welsh Commission')¹, not less than ten nor more than 15 years after the completion of the initial review² of the electoral arrangements³ for principal areas and thereafter, so far as is reasonably practicable, at intervals of not less than ten nor more than 15 years from the submission of the last report on the previous review for the area in question, to review the electoral arrangements for every principal area in Wales for the purpose of considering whether or not to make proposals to the National Assembly for Wales⁴ for a substantive change⁵ in those arrangements and what proposals, if any, to make⁶. The Welsh Commission must, if it thinks fit, formulate such proposals accordingly⁷.

In addition, the Welsh Commission has power at any time, whether at the request of a local authority or otherwise, to review the electoral arrangements for a principal area in Wales for the purpose of considering whether or not to make proposals to the National Assembly for Wales for a substantive change in those arrangements and what proposals, if any, to make⁸. If it thinks fit, the Welsh Commission may formulate proposals accordingly⁹.

Provision is made for the procedure on a review of electoral arrangements, structural changes or boundary changes¹⁰.

Where the Welsh Commission has¹¹ been conducting a review of electoral arrangements on which it has a power or duty to formulate proposals to, or submit a report to, the National Assembly for Wales¹², and the Commission is of the opinion that it is in a position to submit to the Assembly a report on the review or any part of it or any of the recommendations, the Commission must submit a report to the Assembly on the review or that part or those recommendations, together with the proposals the Commission has formulated thereon, or, as the case may be, a notification that it has no proposals to put forward thereon¹³. The National Assembly for Wales may if it thinks fit by order give effect to any proposals made to it by the Welsh Commission, either as submitted to it or with modifications¹⁴.

1 As to the Local Government Boundary Commission for Wales see PARA 71 ante.

2 As to the initial review see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 83.

3 'Electoral arrangements', in relation to a Welsh principal area, means the number of councillors of the council for that area, the number and boundaries of the electoral areas into which that area is for the time being divided for the purpose of the election of councillors, the number of councillors to be elected for any electoral area in that principal area and the name of any electoral area: Local Government Act 1972 s 78(1)(a). 'Electoral area' means any area for which councillors are elected to any local authority: s 270(1). For the meanings of 'local authority' and 'principal area' see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 23. As to the election of councillors see PARA 204 et seq post; and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 126 et seq.

Bodies considering the electoral arrangements for the purposes of Pt IV (ss 53-78) (as amended) (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 77 et seq) must so far as is reasonably practicable comply with the rules set out in s 78, Sch 11 (as amended): see s 78(2) (amended by the Education Reform Act 1988 s 237(1), Sch 12 Pt II para 42; the Local Government Act 1992 s 27(1), Sch 3 para 18; and the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 66(5), Sch 15 paras 1, 22). As to the rules to be observed in relation to electoral arrangements for elections of councillors for principal areas in Wales see the Local Government Act 1972 Sch 11 para 1A (as added); and PARA 99 post.

4 The Local Government Act 1972 refers to the Secretary of State, but certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, have been transferred to the National Assembly for Wales: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 97.

5 For the meaning of 'substantive change' for these purposes see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 78.

6 Local Government Act 1972 s 57(2) (amended by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 Sch 15 paras 1, 10). Reviews for the purpose of making proposals for a substantive change of electoral arrangements may not be conducted under the Local Government Act 1972 s 55 (as amended) (review of local government areas in Wales: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARAS 79-80) or s 56 (as amended) (power of National Assembly for Wales to direct holding of reviews: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 81): see s 57(1).

7 Ibid s 57(2) (as amended: see note 6 supra).

8 Ibid s 57(3).

9 Ibid s 57(3).

13 Ibid s 58(1).

14 Ibid s 58(2). An order giving effect to any such proposals may not be made until after the expiry of six weeks from the day on which those proposals were submitted to the National Assembly for Wales: s 58(2) proviso. See further LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 86.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/3. ESTABLISHMENT AND REVIEW OF ELECTORAL BOUNDARIES/(2) THE REVIEW OF ELECTORAL BOUNDARIES/(ii) Review of Local Government Electoral Areas/B. WALES/98. Review of electoral arrangements for communities by principal councils.

98. Review of electoral arrangements for communities by principal councils.

It is the duty of each principal council¹ in Wales² to keep under review the electoral arrangements³ for the communities⁴ in its area for the purpose of considering whether or not to make substantive changes⁵ in those arrangements and what changes, if any, to make⁶. The principal council must consider any requests made with respect to those arrangements by the council for, or not less than 30 local government electors⁷ of, any community appearing to the principal council to be likely to be affected by those changes⁸. The principal council may, if it thinks fit, make an order giving effect to those changes⁹. On a request made by a council for, or not less than 30 local government electors of, any community, the Local Government Boundary Commission for Wales (the 'Welsh Commission')¹⁰ may review the electoral arrangements for the community for the purpose of considering whether or not to make proposals to the principal council for an order changing those arrangements, and what proposals, if any, to make¹¹. If it thinks fit, the Welsh Commission may formulate such proposals and send them to the principal council accordingly¹². Where a principal council has received proposals from the Welsh Commission for such an order, it may, if it thinks fit, make the order proposed or suggest modifications to the proposals; and where the Welsh Commission agrees to the modifications suggested, the principal council may make the order with those modifications¹³.

If after receiving any such proposals a principal council informs the Welsh Commission that in its opinion the order proposed should not be made (whether with or without modifications) or if, within six months of receiving any such proposals, the principal council has not made the order proposed (whether with or without modifications), the Welsh Commission may report that fact to the National Assembly for Wales and make to the Assembly the proposals which it made to the principal council¹⁴.

Provision is made for the procedure on a review of electoral arrangements, structural changes or boundary changes¹⁵.

Where the Welsh Commission has¹⁶ been conducting a review of electoral arrangements on which it has a power or duty to formulate proposals to, or submit a report to, the National Assembly for Wales¹⁷, and the Commission is of the opinion that it is in a position to submit to the Assembly a report on the review or any part of it or any of the recommendations, the Commission must submit a report to the Assembly on the review or that part or those recommendations, together with the proposals the Commission has formulated thereon, or, as the case may be, a notification that it has no proposals to put forward thereon¹⁸. The National Assembly for Wales may if it thinks fit by order give effect to any proposals made to it by the Welsh Commission, either as submitted to it or with modifications¹⁹.

1 For the meaning of 'principal council' see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 23.

2 For the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

3 'Electoral arrangements', in relation to a community council or a common community council, means the number of councillors, the question whether the community or any community, as the case may be, should or should not be or continue to be divided into wards for the purpose of the election of councillors, the number and boundaries of any such wards, the number of councillors to be elected for any such ward or, in the case of a common community council, for each community, and the name of any such ward: Local Government Act 1972 s 78(1)(b).

Bodies considering the electoral arrangements for the purposes of Pt IV (ss 53-78) (as amended) (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 77 et seq) must so far as is reasonably practicable comply with the rules set out in s 78, Sch 11 (as amended): see s 78(2) (amended by the Education Reform Act 1988 s 237(1), Sch 12 Pt II para 42; the Local Government Act 1992 s 27(1), Sch 3 para 18; and the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 66(5), Sch 15 paras 1, 22). 99. Statutory rules to be observed in considering electoral arrangements in Wales.

In considering the electoral arrangements¹ for any local government area in Wales², the National Assembly for Wales³ and the Local Government Boundary Commission for Wales⁴ (or, as the case may be, a Welsh principal council⁵) must comply, so far as is reasonably practicable, with the rules set out below⁶.

In the consideration of the electoral arrangements for elections of councillors for principal areas⁷ in Wales⁸ and having regard to any change in the number or distribution of the local government electors⁹ of the principal area likely to take place within the period of five years immediately following the consideration¹⁰:

- 98 (1) the number of local government electors must be, as nearly as may be, the same in every electoral division¹¹ of the principal area¹²;
- 99 (2) every ward of a community¹³ having a community council (whether separate or common) must lie wholly within a single electoral division¹⁴; and
- 100 (3) every community which is not divided into community wards must lie wholly within a single electoral division¹⁵.

In the consideration of the electoral arrangements for a community having a community council (whether separate or common)¹⁶:

- 101 (a) in considering whether any such community is to be divided into community wards, regard must be had to the questions whether: (i) the number or distribution of the local government electors for the community is such as to make a single election of community councillors impracticable or inconvenient¹⁷; and (ii) it is desirable that any area or areas of the community should be separately represented on the community council¹⁸; and
- 102 (b) where it is decided to divide any such community into community wards, in considering the size and boundaries of the wards and in fixing the number of community councillors to be elected for each ward, regard must be had to¹⁹: (i) any change in the number or distribution of the local government electors of the community which is likely to take place within the period of five years immediately following the consideration²⁰; (ii) the desirability of fixing boundaries which are and will remain easily identifiable²¹; and (iii) any local ties which will be broken by the fixing of any particular boundaries²²;
- 103 (c) where it is decided not to divide the community into community wards, in fixing the number of councillors to be elected for each community, regard must be had to the number and distribution of the local government electors of the community and any change in either which is likely to take place within the period of five years immediately following the fixing of the number of community councillors²³.

2 le for the purposes of the Local Government Act 1972 Pt IV (ss 53-78) (as amended) (see PARAS 97-98 ante). For the meaning of 'local government area' in relation to Wales see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 22. For the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

3 The Local Government Act 1972 refers to the Secretary of State, but certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, have been transferred to the National Assembly for Wales: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 97.

6 See the Local Government Act 1972 s 78(2); and PARAS 97-98 ante. The rules referred to in the text are those set out in s 78, Sch 11 (as amended) (see the text and notes 7-23 infra).

7 As to the election of councillors see PARA 204 et seq post; and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 126 et seq. For the meaning of 'principal area' see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 37.

8 Local Government Act 1972 Sch 11 para 1A(1) (Sch 11 para 1A added by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 7(3)). For the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante. Subject to any direction under the Local Government Act 1972 Sch 11 para 1A(3) (as added), the Welsh Commission must, when considering the arrangements for elections of councillors for any principal area in Wales, provide for there to be a single member for each electoral division: Sch 11 para 1A(2) (as so added). The National Assembly for Wales may give a direction to the Welsh Commission requiring it to consider the desirability of providing for multi-member electoral divisions for the area to which the direction relates (which may be the whole or a specified part of a principal area in Wales) (Sch 11 para 1A(3) (as so added)); and for these purposes, an electoral division is a multi-member division if the arrangements made for the elections of councillors provide for a specified number of councillors (greater than one) to be elected for that division (Sch 11 para 1A(4) (as so added)).

Subject to the Local Government Act 1972 Sch 11 para 1A(5) (as added) (see the text and notes 9-15 infra), in considering the electoral arrangements referred to in Sch 11 para 1A(1) (as added), regard must be had also to the desirability of fixing boundaries which are and will remain easily identifiable and any local ties which would be broken by the fixing of any particular boundary: Sch 11 para 1A(6) (as so added).

9 For the meaning of 'local government electors' see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 127.

10 Local Government Act 1972 Sch 11 para 1A(5) (as added: see note 8 supra).

11 As to the establishment of electoral areas for the purpose of local government elections see PARA 73 ante.

12 Local Government Act 1972 Sch 11 para 1A(5)(a) (as added: see note 8 supra). This is subject to the rule that where there are one or more multi-member divisions, the ratio of the number of local government electors to the number of councillors to be elected must be, as nearly as may be, the same in every electoral division in the principal area (including any that are not multi-member divisions): Sch 11 para 1A(5)(b) (as so added).

REVIEW BY THE BOUNDARY COMMISSION FOR WALES/100. Reports of the Boundary Commission for Wales.

(iii) Review of National Assembly for Wales Electoral Regions

A. REVIEW BY THE BOUNDARY COMMISSION FOR WALES

100. Reports of the Boundary Commission for Wales.

Until a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect¹.

When the Boundary Commission for Wales² provisionally determines³ to recommend the making of alterations affecting any parliamentary constituencies⁴, it must consider whether any alteration either in the Assembly electoral regions⁵ or in the allocation of seats to the Assembly electoral regions⁶ is required in order to give effect to the statutory rules set out in relation to Assembly electoral regions⁷.

Where the Commission submits to the National Assembly for Wales⁸ a report recommending alterations in parliamentary constituencies either as a result of a mandatory periodical review⁹ or in exercise of the Commission's discretion to submit such a report¹⁰, the report must show any alteration in the Assembly electoral regions¹¹ or in the allocation of seats to the Assembly electoral regions¹² which the Commission recommends in order to give effect to the statutory rules set out in relation to Assembly electoral regions¹³. If, in the opinion of the Commission, no alteration is required for that purpose, it must state that in the report¹⁴; but if the report recommends any alteration in any Assembly electoral regions, it must state the name (in English and in Welsh) by which the Commission recommends that the Assembly electoral regions (as proposed to be altered) should be known¹⁵. The Commission must send a copy of the report to the Assembly¹⁶.

An Order in Council under the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 for giving effect, with or without modifications, to the recommendations contained in a report of the Boundary Commission for Wales¹⁷ may specify different dates for its coming into force for the purposes of elections to the House of Commons and for the purposes of the return of Assembly members¹⁸.

1 As from a day to be appointed under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 163(2), the Government of Wales Act 1998 2(2), Sch 1 para 4 is substituted and Sch 1 paras 7, 9 are amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 16(2), Sch 3 Pt II to reflect the fact that the functions of the Boundary Commission for Wales with respect to keeping under review, and reporting on, representation in the National Assembly for Wales is to be transferred to the Boundary Committee for Wales. At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

Immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS), the provisions of the Government of Wales Act 1998 are repealed and those of the Government of Wales Act 2006 come into force: see s 161(1), (4), (5). ESTABLISHMENT AND REVIEW OF ELECTORAL BOUNDARIES/(2) THE REVIEW OF ELECTORAL BOUNDARIES/ (iii) Review of National Assembly for Wales Electoral Regions/A. REVIEW BY THE BOUNDARY COMMISSION FOR WALES/101. Statutory rules to be observed regarding Welsh Assembly electoral regions.

101. Statutory rules to be observed regarding Welsh Assembly electoral regions.

Until a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect¹.

The statutory rules regarding Assembly electoral regions² to which the Boundary Commission for Wales³ must have regard when provisionally determining to recommend the making of alterations affecting any parliamentary constituencies⁴, or when making a report recommending alterations in parliamentary constituencies either as a result of a mandatory periodical review or in exercise of the Commission's discretion to submit such a report⁵, are as follows⁶:

- 104 (1) each Assembly constituency must be wholly included in one Assembly electoral region⁷;
- 105 (2) the regional electorate⁸ for an Assembly electoral region must be as near the regional electorate for each other Assembly electoral region as is reasonably practicable, having regard (where appropriate) to special geographical considerations⁹;
- 106 (3) the total number of Assembly seats for the Assembly electoral regions must be either one-half of the total number of the Assembly constituencies¹⁰ or (if that total number is not exactly divisible by two) one-half of the number produced by adding one to that total number¹¹;
- 107 (4) the number of Assembly seats for an Assembly electoral region must be either one-fifth of the total number of Assembly seats for the electoral Assembly regions¹² or (if that total number is not exactly divisible by five) either one-fifth of the highest number which is less than that total number and exactly divisible by five or the number produced by adding one to one-fifth of that highest number¹³.

1 As from a day to be appointed under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 163(2), the Government of Wales Act 1998 2(2), Sch 1 paras 8, 10 are amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 16(2), Sch 3 Pt II to reflect the fact that the functions of the Boundary Commission for Wales with respect to keeping under review, and reporting on, representation in the National Assembly for Wales is to be transferred to the Boundary Committee for Wales. At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

Immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS), the provisions of the Government of Wales Act 1998 are repealed and those of the Government of Wales Act 2006 come into force: see s 161(1), (4), (5). As to the provisions with respect to keeping under review, and reporting on, representation in the National Assembly for Wales that operate under the Government of Wales Act 2006 see PARA 103 et seq post.

2 As to electoral regions established for the purposes of elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 75 ante.

3 As to the constitution of the Boundary Commissions see PARA 67 et seq ante.

4 Ie under the Government of Wales Act 1998 Sch 1 para 4 (see PARA 100 ante). See note 1 supra.

5 Ie under ibid Sch 1 para 7(2) (see PARA 100 ante). See note 1 supra.

6 Ibid Sch 1 para 8(1). See note 1 supra.

7 Ibid Sch 1 para 8(1) r 1. See note 1 supra.

8 For the purposes of any report of the Boundary Commission, the 'regional electorate for an Assembly electoral region' is the number of persons who, on the enumeration date, are registered in the register of local government electors at addresses within any of the Assembly constituencies included in the Assembly electoral region (ibid Sch 1 para 10(1)); and the 'enumeration date' means the date on which notice that the Commission intended to consider making the report was published in accordance with the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 s 5(1) (see PARA 77 ante) (Government of Wales Act 1998 Sch 1 para 10(2)). See note 1 supra.

9 Ibid Sch 1 para 8(1) r 2. See note 1 supra.

10 Ibid Sch 1 para 8(1) r 3(a). See note 1 supra.

11 Ibid Sch 1 para 8(1) r 3(b). See note 1 supra.

12 Ibid Sch 1 para 8(1) r 4(a). See note 1 supra.

13 Ibid Sch 1 para 8(1) r 4(b). See note 1 supra.

If the total number of Assembly seats for the electoral Assembly regions is not exactly divisible by five, the Boundary Commission must calculate the difference between:

25 (1) the total number of seats for the Assembly electoral regions (Sch 1 para 8(2)(a)); and

26 (2) the highest number which is less than that total number and exactly divisible by five (Sch 1 para 8(2)(b)), and that is the number of residual seats to be allocated by the Commission (Sch 1 para 8(2)). The Commission must not allocate more than one residual seat to an Assembly electoral region (Sch 1 para 8(3)); and must divide the regional electorate for each Assembly electoral region by the aggregate of: (a) the number of Assembly constituencies in the Assembly electoral region (Sch 1 para 8(4)(a)); and (b) one-fifth of the highest number which is less than the total number of seats for the electoral Assembly regions and exactly divisible by five (Sch 1 para 8(4)(b)). In allocating the residual seat or seats to an Assembly electoral region or Assembly electoral regions, the Commission must have regard to the desirability of allocating the residual seat or seats to the Assembly electoral region or regions for which that calculation produces the highest number or numbers: Sch 1 para 8(4).

REVIEW BY THE BOUNDARY COMMISSION FOR WALES/102. Procedure relating to reviews and proposed recommendations.

102. Procedure relating to reviews and proposed recommendations.

Until a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect¹.

Where the Boundary Commission for Wales² has provisionally determined, after the required consideration³, to make recommendations affecting any Assembly electoral region, it must publish a notice in at least one newspaper circulating in the Assembly electoral region⁴, stating: (1) the effect of the proposed recommendations⁵; (2) except where the Commission proposes to recommend that no alteration affecting the Assembly electoral region be made, that a copy of the proposed recommendations is open to inspection at one or more specified places within each Assembly constituency included in the Assembly electoral region⁶; and (3) that representations with respect to the proposed recommendations may be made to the Commission within one month after the publication of the notice⁷. The Commission must take into consideration any representations duly made in accordance with any such notice⁸. Where the Commission revises any proposed recommendations after publishing a notice of them, the Commission must comply again with the provisions⁹ in relation to the revised proposed recommendations, as if no earlier notice had been published¹⁰.

The Commission may, if it thinks fit, cause a local inquiry to be held in respect of an Assembly electoral region or regions¹¹. Where, on the publication of a notice of a proposed recommendation of the Commission for an alteration affecting any Assembly electoral regions¹², the Commission receives any representation objecting to the proposed recommendation from an interested local authority¹³ (the area of which is wholly or partly included in the Assembly electoral regions affected by the proposed recommendation¹⁴), or from a body of electors¹⁵ numbering 500 or more, the Commission may not make the recommendation unless: (a) a local inquiry has been held in respect of those Assembly electoral regions since the publication of the notice¹⁶; or (b) a local inquiry was held in respect of those Assembly electoral regions before the publication of the notice and the Commission, after considering the matters discussed at that inquiry, the nature of the representations received on the publication of the notice and any other relevant circumstances, is of opinion that a further local inquiry would not be justified¹⁷.

1 As from a day to be appointed under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 163(2), the Government of Wales Act 1998 2(2), Sch 1 paras 5, 6 are amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 16(2), Sch 3 Pt II to reflect the fact that the functions of the Boundary Commission for Wales with respect to keeping under review, and reporting on, representation in the National Assembly for Wales is to be transferred to the Boundary Committee for Wales. At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

Immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS), the provisions of the Government of Wales Act 1998 are repealed and those of the Government of Wales Act 2006 come into force: see s 161(1), (4), (5). As to the provisions with respect to keeping under review, and reporting on, representation in the National Assembly for Wales that operate under the Government of Wales Act 2006 see PARA 103 et seq post.

2 As to the constitution of the Boundary Commissions see PARA 67 et seq ante.

3 Ie the consideration required by the Government of Wales Act 1998 Sch 1 para 4 (see PARA 100 ante).

4 Ibid Sch 1 para 5(1). The Commission is not required to comply with Sch 1 para 5(1) if the proposed recommendations are only for an alteration in the number of Assembly seats for the Assembly electoral region and the proposed total number of Assembly seats for the Assembly electoral regions is exactly divisible by five: Sch 1 para 5(5). Where the proposed total number of Assembly seats for the Assembly electoral regions is not exactly divisible by five, a recommendation for an alteration in the number of Assembly seats for any Assembly electoral region must be taken, for the purposes of Sch 1 para 5 and Sch 1 para 6 (see the text and notes 11-17 infra), to be one which also affects all the other Assembly electoral regions: Sch 1 para 5(6). 9 Ibid Sch 1 para 5(1) (see the text and notes 2-4 supra).

10 Ibid Sch 1 para 5(4). The Commission is not required to comply with Sch 1 para 5(4) if the revised proposed recommendations are only for an alteration in the number of Assembly seats for the Assembly electoral region and the revised proposed total number of Assembly seats for the Assembly electoral regions is exactly divisible by five: Sch 1 para 5(5). Where the revised proposed total number of Assembly seats for the Assembly electoral regions is not exactly divisible by five, a recommendation for an alteration in the number of Assembly seats for any Assembly electoral region must be taken, for the purposes of Sch 1 para 5 and Sch 1 para 6 (see the text and notes 11-17 infra), to be one which also affects all the other Assembly electoral regions: Sch 1 para 5(6). B. REVIEW BY THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION AND BOUNDARY COMMITTEE FOR WALES

103. Reports of the Electoral Commission and Boundary Committee for Wales.

As from the appointed day, the following provisions have effect¹.

Where the Electoral Commission² intends to consider making a report³ with respect to Wales or any area comprised in Wales⁴ and, accordingly, the Boundary Committee for Wales⁵ is required to submit a report to the Commission⁶ containing the recommendations⁷ which the Committee proposes should be included in the Commission's report⁸, the following provisions apply⁹.

If the Committee provisionally determines proposed recommendations which it is minded to include in a report to the Commission¹⁰, and which would involve any alterations in any parliamentary constituencies¹¹ in Wales¹², the Committee must consider the issue of whether any alteration either in the Assembly electoral regions¹³ or in the allocation of seats to the Assembly electoral regions¹⁴ is required in order to give effect to the statutory rules set out in relation to Assembly electoral regions¹⁵. Any such report of the Committee must contain, in addition, the recommendations which, in the light of: (1) the required consideration of the Assembly electoral region issue¹⁶; (2) any representations duly made¹⁷ with respect to the recommendations¹⁸; and (3) the findings of any inquiry held¹⁹ in respect of the Assembly electoral regions affected by the recommendations²⁰, the Committee proposes should be included²¹ in the Commission's report²².

Where the Commission submits to the Secretary of State²³ a report recommending alterations in parliamentary constituencies in Wales as a result of a mandatory periodical review²⁴ or in exercise of the Commission's discretion to submit such a report which relates to any constituency or constituencies in Wales²⁵, the report must show any alteration in the Assembly electoral regions²⁶ or in the allocation of seats to the Assembly electoral regions²⁷ which the Commission recommends in order to give effect to the statutory rules set out in relation to Assembly electoral regions²⁸. If, in the opinion of the Commission, no alteration is required for that purpose, it must state that in the report²⁹; but if the report recommends any alteration in any Assembly electoral regions, it must state the name (in English and in Welsh) by which the Commission recommends that the Assembly electoral regions (as proposed to be altered) should be known³⁰. The Commission must lay a copy of the report before the Assembly³¹.

An Order in Council under the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 for giving effect to the recommendations contained in a report of the Commission³² may specify different dates for its coming into force for the purposes of elections to the House of Commons and for the purposes of the return of Assembly members³³.

1 The provisions of the Government of Wales Act 2006 come into force immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5). REVIEW BY THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION AND BOUNDARY COMMITTEE FOR WALES/104. Statutory rules regarding Welsh Assembly electoral regions.

104. Statutory rules regarding Welsh Assembly electoral regions.

As from the appointed day, the following provisions have effect¹.

The statutory rules regarding Assembly electoral regions² to which the relevant bodies³ must have regard when provisionally determining to recommend the making of alterations affecting any parliamentary constituencies⁴, or when making a report recommending alterations in parliamentary constituencies either as a result of a mandatory periodical review or in exercise of the Boundary Committee's discretion to submit such a report⁵, are as follows⁶:

- 108 (1) each Assembly constituency must be wholly included in one Assembly electoral region⁷;
- 109 (2) the regional electorate for an Assembly electoral region⁸ must be as near the regional electorate for each other Assembly electoral region as is reasonably practicable, having regard (where appropriate) to special geographical considerations⁹;
- 110 (3) the total number of Assembly seats for the Assembly electoral regions must be either one-half of the total number of the Assembly constituencies¹⁰ or (if that total number is not exactly divisible by two) one-half of the number produced by adding one to that total number¹¹;
- 111 (4) the number of Assembly seats for an Assembly electoral region must be either one-fifth of the total number of Assembly seats for the electoral Assembly regions¹² or (if that total number is not exactly divisible by five) either one-fifth of the highest number which is less than that total number and exactly divisible by five or the number produced by adding one to one-fifth of that highest number¹³.

1 The provisions of the Government of Wales Act 2006 come into force immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS); see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5). As to the system that operates under the Government of Wales Act 1998 until that date see PARA 100 et seq ante.

2 As to electoral regions established for the purposes of elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 75 ante.

3 I.e. the Electoral Commission or (as the case may be) the Boundary Committee for Wales. As to the establishment and constitution of the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante; and as to the Boundary Committee for Wales see PARA 103 note 5 ante.

4 I.e. under the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 2(5), Sch 1 para 2 (see PARA 103 ante). See note 1 supra.

5 I.e. under ibid Sch 1 para 8(2) (see PARA 103 ante).

6 Ibid Sch 1 para 9(1). See note 1 supra.

7 Ibid Sch 1 para 9(1) r 1. See note 1 supra.

8 For the purposes of any report of the Electoral Commission, the 'regional electorate for an Assembly electoral region' is the number of persons who, on the enumeration date, are registered in the register of local government electors at addresses within any of the Assembly constituencies included in the Assembly electoral region (ibid Sch 1 para 11(1)); and the 'enumeration date' means the date on which notice that the Electoral Commission intended to consider making the report was published in accordance with the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 s 5(1) (prospectively substituted) (see PARA 84 ante) (Government of Wales Act 2006 Sch 1 para 11(2)). The provisions of Sch 1 para 11(1), (2) also apply for construing references to the regional electorate for an Assembly electoral region in relation to any report of the Boundary Committee for Wales made for the purposes of any such report of the Electoral Commission: Sch 1 para 11(3). See note 1 supra.

9 Ibid Sch 1 para 9(1) r 2. See note 1 supra.

10 Ibid Sch 1 para 9(1) r 3(a). See note 1 supra.

11 Ibid Sch 1 para 9(1) r 3(b). See note 1 supra.

12 Ibid Sch 1 para 9(1) r 4(a). See note 1 supra.

13 Ibid Sch 1 para 9(1) r 4(b). If the total number of Assembly seats for the electoral Assembly regions is not exactly divisible by five, the Electoral Commission or (as the case may be) the Boundary Committee for Wales must calculate the difference between:

27 (1) the total number of seats for the Assembly electoral regions (Sch 1 para 9(2)(a)); and

28 (2) the highest number which is less than that total number and exactly divisible by five (Sch 1 para 9(2)(b)), and that difference is the number of residual seats to be allocated (Sch 1 para 9(3)). No more than one residual seat may be allocated to an Assembly electoral region (Sch 1 para 9(4)); and the regional electorate for each Assembly electoral region must be divided by the aggregate of: (a) the number of Assembly constituencies in the Assembly electoral region (Sch 1 para 9(5)(a)); and (b) one-fifth of the highest number which is less than the total number of seats for the electoral Assembly regions and exactly divisible by five (Sch 1 para 9(5)(b)). In allocating the residual seat or seats to an Assembly electoral region or regions, regard must be had to the desirability of allocating the residual seat or seats to the Assembly electoral region or regions for which that calculation produces the highest number or numbers: Sch 1 para 9(6). See note 1 supra.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/3. REVIEW BY THE ELECTORAL COMMISSION AND BOUNDARY COMMITTEE FOR WALES/105. Procedure relating to reviews and proposed recommendations.

105. Procedure relating to reviews and proposed recommendations.

As from the appointed day, the following provisions have effect¹.

Where the Boundary Committee for Wales², having considered the Assembly electoral region issue³, has provisionally determined to propose recommendations⁴ affecting any Assembly electoral region, it must publish a notice in at least one newspaper circulating in the Assembly electoral region⁵, stating: (1) the effect of the proposed recommendations⁶; (2) except where their effect is that no alteration affecting the Assembly electoral region be made, that a copy of the proposed recommendations is open to inspection at one or more specified places within each Assembly constituency included in the Assembly electoral region⁷; and (3) that representations with respect to the proposed recommendations may be made to Committee within one month after the publication of the notice⁸. The Committee must take into consideration any representations duly made in accordance with any such notice⁹. Where the Committee revises any proposed recommendations after publishing a notice of them, the Committee must comply again with the provisions¹⁰ in relation to the revised proposed recommendations, as if no earlier notice had been published¹¹.

The Committee may¹², if it thinks fit, cause a local inquiry to be held in respect of an Assembly electoral region or regions¹³. Where, on the publication of a notice of a proposed recommendation of the Committee for an alteration affecting any Assembly electoral regions¹⁴, the Committee receives any representation objecting to the proposed recommendation¹⁵ either from an interested local authority¹⁶ (the area of which is wholly or partly included in the Assembly electoral regions affected by the proposed recommendation¹⁷) or from a body of electors¹⁸ numbering 500 or more¹⁹, the Committee may not proceed with the proposed recommendation unless: (a) a local inquiry has been held in respect of those Assembly electoral regions since the publication of the notice²⁰; or (b) a local inquiry was held in respect of those Assembly electoral regions before the publication of the notice and the Committee, having regard to the matters discussed at that previous inquiry, the nature of the representations received on the publication of the notice and any other relevant circumstances, is of the opinion that a further local inquiry would not be justified²¹. Where the Committee has caused a local inquiry to be so held, the Committee must take into consideration the findings of the inquiry²². The Electoral Commission must have regard to the findings of the inquiry in respect of the Assembly electoral regions affected by the recommendations²³ or where, in the case of an Assembly electoral region in respect of which the inquiry was held, the Commission is minded to exercise any of its powers²⁴ to modify or reject the recommendations in relation to part only of the region, the Commission must have regard to the findings of the inquiry so far as relating to that part of the region²⁵.

1 The provisions of the Government of Wales Act 2006 come into force immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5). 5 Government of Wales Act 2006 Sch 1 para 3(1). The Boundary Committee is not required to comply with Sch 1 para 3(1) if the proposed recommendations are only for an alteration in the number of Assembly seats for the Assembly electoral region and the proposed total number of Assembly seats for the Assembly electoral regions is exactly divisible by five: Sch 1 para 3(5). Where the proposed total number of Assembly seats for the Assembly electoral regions is not exactly divisible by five, a recommendation for an alteration in the number of Assembly seats for any Assembly electoral region must be taken, for the purposes of Sch 1 para 3 and Sch 1 para 4 (see the text and notes 12-22 infra), to be one which also affects all the other Assembly electoral regions: Sch 1 para 3(6).

Where the Electoral Commission is minded to exercise any of the powers conferred by the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 s 3A(3)(b), (c) (prospectively added) (see PARA 85 ante) in relation to the Committee's proposed recommendations under the Government of Wales Act 2006 Sch 1 para 5(1) (see PARA 103 ante) (Sch 1 para 6(2)), it must have regard to any representations duly made with respect to the recommendations in accordance with any notice published under Sch 1 para 3 or (where it is minded to exercise any of those powers in relation to part only of the Assembly electoral region) any representations so made with respect to the recommendations so far as relating to that part of the region: Sch 1 para 6(3). Where the Boundary Committee's proposed recommendations under Sch 1 para 5(1) have been modified by the Electoral Commission under the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 s 3A(3)(b) (prospectively added), the Boundary Committee must publish in at least one newspaper circulating in the Assembly electoral region a notice stating the effect of those recommendations as so modified: Government of Wales Act 2006 Sch 1 para 6(5). The Boundary Committee is not required to comply with Sch 1 para 3(4) if the revised proposed recommendations are only for an alteration in the number of Assembly seats for the Assembly electoral region and the revised proposed total number of Assembly seats for the Assembly electoral regions is exactly divisible by five: Sch 1 para 3(5). Where the revised proposed total number of Assembly seats for the Assembly electoral regions is not exactly divisible by five, a recommendation for an alteration in the number of Assembly seats for any Assembly electoral region must be taken, for the purposes of Sch 1 para 3 and Sch 1 para 4 (see the text and notes 12-22 infra), to be one which also affects all the other Assembly electoral regions: Sch 1 para 3(6). 105 Procedure relating to reviews and proposed recommendations

NOTES--Certain functions under provisions mentioned in this paragraph are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3, see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

(iv) Review of European Parliamentary Electoral Regions

106. Recommendations by Electoral Commission as to the distribution of United Kingdom MEPs.

The Secretary of State¹ may by notice require the Electoral Commission² to make a recommendation³ to him as to the distribution between the electoral regions of⁴: (1) a total number of members of the European Parliament ('MEPs')⁵ specified in the notice⁶; or (2) if the notice specifies more than one total number of MEPs, each of the total numbers so specified⁷. The power to give such a notice is exercisable with a view to the implementation of any change or anticipated change under Community law⁸ in the total number of MEPs to be elected for the United Kingdom⁹. The Electoral Commission must comply with such a notice within the period specified therein¹⁰; and in determining what recommendation to make for the distribution of any total number of MEPs, the Electoral Commission must ensure that: (a) each electoral region is allocated at least three MEPs¹¹; and (b) the ratio of electors¹² to MEPs is as nearly as possible the same in each electoral region¹³.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante.

2 As to the establishment and constitution of the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

3 A recommendation under the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 s 3 (as amended) must be published by the Electoral Commission and laid before Parliament by the Secretary of State and ceases to have effect at the end of the period of one year beginning with the day on which it is made: s 3(5).

4 Ibid s 3(1) (amended by the Secretary of State for Constitutional Affairs Order 2003, SI 2003/1887, art 9, Sch 2 para 15(1)(a)). For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante; and for the meaning of 'electoral region' for these purposes see PARA 76 note 3 ante.

5 For these purposes, 'MEP' means a member of the European Parliament: European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 s 27(1). As to MEPs see PARA 13 ante.

6 Ibid s 3(1)(a).

7 Ibid s 3(1)(b).

8 For the purposes of ibid Pt 1 (ss 1-8) (as amended), 'change under Community law', in relation to a change in the number of MEPs to be elected for the United Kingdom, means a change made by: (1) a treaty provision that is part of the Community Treaties (European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 s 2(1)(a)); or any provision of a European Council Decision, or of any other instrument, made under a treaty provision that is part of the Community Treaties (European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 s 2(1)(b)). A reference to a treaty provision being part of the Community Treaties is to it being, or being included in provisions which are, specified in the European Communities Act 1972 s 1(2) (as amended) by virtue of an amendment made by an Act, whether passed before or after the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 (s 2(2)); and 'treaty' includes any international agreement (however described) and a protocol or annex to a treaty or other international agreement (s 2(3)).

9 Ibid s 3(2).

11 Ibid s 3(4)(a).

12 For the purposes of ibid s 3(4), an 'elector', in relation to an electoral region, is a person whose name appears on the relevant day in (or in any part of) a relevant register which relates to the region: s 4(1). 'Relevant day' means 1 December preceding the day on which the notice under s 3 (as amended) is given; and 'relevant register' has the same meaning as in the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 1A, Sch 1A (as added and amended) (periodic reviews: see PARA 107 note 6 post): European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 s 4(2).

13 Ibid s 3(4)(b).

In calculating the total number of electors for any electoral region: (1) persons who are registered but have not attained the age of 18 are to be counted as electors (s 4(3)(a)); (2) a citizen of the European Union (not being a Commonwealth citizen or a citizen of the Republic of Ireland) who is registered only for the purposes of local government elections is to be disregarded (s 4(3)(b)); and (3) the Electoral Commission may assume that each relevant register is accurate and that names appearing more than once on registers (or parts of registers) which relate to an electoral region are the names of different electors (s 4(3)(c)). As to the registration of electors generally see PARA 128 et seq post.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/3. ESTABLISHMENT AND REVIEW OF ELECTORAL BOUNDARIES/(2) THE REVIEW OF ELECTORAL BOUNDARIES/(iv) Review of European Parliamentary Electoral Regions/107. Periodic reviews by the Electoral Commission of the distribution of MEPs between the electoral regions.

107. Periodic reviews by the Electoral Commission of the distribution of MEPs between the electoral regions.

As soon as possible after 1 May in a pre-election year¹, the Electoral Commission² must carry out a review (the 'periodic review') of the distribution of members of the European Parliament ('MEPs');³ between the electoral regions⁴, and report its conclusions to the Secretary of State⁵. In carrying out the periodic review, the Commission must consider whether, assuming that each region is entitled to be allocated at least three MEPs, the ratio of electors⁶ to MEPs is as nearly as possible the same for every electoral region⁷. If the Commission concludes that such a result is not achieved by the current distribution of MEPs, it must include in its report a recommendation specifying a distribution that would achieve that result⁸. The report must be published by the Commission and laid before Parliament by the Secretary of State⁹.

The Commission may not take any step (or further step) in carrying out a periodic review if an order implementing changes in the number of United Kingdom MEPs¹⁰ is made or a suspension notice¹¹ is given to the Commission: (1) within the period of 12 months ending with 1 May in the pre-election year in question¹²; or (2) after the end of that period but before the Commission makes its report¹³, unless and until the duties in relation to carrying out a periodic review revive¹⁴.

1 For these purposes, 'pre-election year' means a year which immediately precedes a year in which a general election of MEPs is to be held; and 'general election of MEPs' means an election required to be held in the United Kingdom by virtue of art 11(2) of the Act annexed to Council Decision 76/787: European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 1A, Sch 1A para 6(1) (added by the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 s 7(1), (2), Schedule; definition amended by the European Parliamentary Elections (Common Electoral Principles) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1374, reg 2(1), (4)). The 'Act annexed to Council Decision 76/787' is the Act concerning the election of the representatives of the European Parliament by direct universal suffrage annexed to ECSC, EEC and Euratom Decision 76/787 (OJ L278, 08.10.76, p 1) (as amended) (the '1976 Act') (see PARA 6 ante); European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 17. For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

3 As to MEPs see PARA 13 ante.

4 European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 Sch 1A para 1(1)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra). As to electoral regions established for the purposes of European parliamentary elections see PARA 76 ante.

5 Ibid Sch 1A para 1(1)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante.

6 For the purposes of ibid Sch 1A para 1(2) (as added), a person is an 'elector', in relation to an electoral region, if his name appears on 1 May in the pre-election year concerned in (or in any part of) a relevant register which relates to the region: Sch 1A para 6(2) (as added: see note 1 supra). 'Relevant register' means: (1) a register of parliamentary electors (Sch 1A para 6(1)(a) (as so added)); (2) a register of local government electors (Sch 1A para 6(1)(b) (as so added)); (3) a register of peers maintained under the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3 (as substituted and amended) (extension of European parliamentary franchise to peers resident outside the United Kingdom: see PARA 116 post) (European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 Sch 1A para 6(1)(c) (as so added)); and (4) a register maintained under the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 5 (citizens of the European Union other than Commonwealth and Republic of Ireland citizens) (see PARA 156 post) (European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 Sch 1A para 6(1)(d) (as so added)). As to the form and content of the register of parliamentary and local government electors see PARA 160 post.

In calculating the total number of electors for any electoral region: (a) persons who are registered but have not attained the age of 18 are to be counted as electors (Sch 1A para 6(3)(a) (as so added)); (b) a citizen of the European Union (not being a Commonwealth citizen or a citizen of the Republic of Ireland) who is registered only for the purposes of local government elections is to be disregarded (Sch 1A para 6(3)(b) (as so added)); and (c) the Electoral Commission may assume that each relevant register is accurate and that names appearing more than once on registers (or parts of registers) which relate to an electoral region are the names of different electors (Sch 1A para 6(3)(c) (as so added)). For these purposes, 'citizen of the European Union' is to be determined in accordance with the Treaty Establishing the European Community (Rome, 25 March 1957; TS 1 (1973); Cmnd 5179) art 17 (formerly art 8 and renumbered by virtue of the Treaty of Amsterdam: see Treaty Citation (No 2) (Note) [1999] All ER (EC) 646, ECJ), which states that every person holding the nationality of a member state is a citizen of the Union: European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 17.

8 Ibid Sch 1A para 1(3) (as added: see note 1 supra).

9 Ibid Sch 1A para 1(4) (as added: see note 1 supra).

10 Ie an order under the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 s 5 (as amended) (a '2003 Act order') (see PARA 109 post), which takes effect in relation to the next general election of MEPs after it is made: European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 Sch 1A para 2(3) (as added: see note 1 supra).

11 Ie a notice stating that the Secretary of State considers it likely that a 2003 Act order will be made before the next general election of MEPs: ibid European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 Sch 1A para 2(3) (as added: see note 1 supra).

12 Ibid Sch 1A para 2(1)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra).

13 Ibid Sch 1A para 2(1)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra).

14 Ibid Sch 1A para 2(1) (as added: see note 1 supra). The duties under Sch 1A para 1 (as added) revive if the Secretary of State withdraws a suspension notice more than nine months before the date of the poll for the next general election of MEPs: Sch 1A para 2(2) (as so added). Such a revival is subject again to Sch 1A para 2(2) (as added): see Sch 1A para 2(2) (as so added). As to the date of the poll at a European parliamentary election see PARA 229 post.

107 Periodic reviews by the Electoral Commission of the distribution of MEPs between the electoral regions

NOTE 1--By virtue of art 97, the ECSC Treaty has now expired as from 24 July 2002.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/3. ESTABLISHMENT AND REVIEW OF ELECTORAL BOUNDARIES/(2) THE REVIEW OF ELECTORAL BOUNDARIES/(iv) Review of European Parliamentary Electoral Regions/108. Implementation of Electoral Commission recommendation following periodic review.

108. Implementation of Electoral Commission recommendation following periodic review.

Where a recommendation specifying a revised distribution of members of the European Parliament ('MEPs') is made to the Secretary of State¹ following a periodic review², the Secretary of State must lay before Parliament a draft of an order giving effect to the recommendation by amending any of the numbers specified in the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002³ and, if the draft is approved by resolution of each House, make an order in the terms of the draft⁴. The Secretary of State must consult the Electoral Commission before laying such an order before Parliament⁵.

The Secretary of State may not take any step (or further step) in laying an order⁶ if an order implementing changes in the number of United Kingdom MEPs⁷ is made before he would otherwise have taken it⁸. Subject to that, the Secretary of State is not required to take any such step (or such further step) if and so long as he is of the opinion that it is likely that an order implementing changes in the number of United Kingdom MEPs will be made before the next general election of MEPs⁹. However, if he ceases to be of that opinion, the Secretary of State may not make an order¹⁰ on or after the relevant day¹¹; and he is not required to take any other step in laying an order¹² if he does not consider that it will be practicable to make an order¹³ before the relevant day¹⁴.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante.

2 I.e. under the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 1A, Sch 1A para 1(3) (as added) (see PARA 107 ante).

3 Ibid Sch 1A para 3(1)(a) (Sch 1A added by the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 s 7(2), Schedule). The text refers to the numbers specified in the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 1(3) (as substituted) (see PARA 76 ante).

If a motion for the approval of a draft of an order under Sch 1A para 3 (as added) is rejected by either House or withdrawn by leave of the House, the Secretary of State may, after consulting the Electoral Commission, alter the draft order and lay it before Parliament for approval: Sch 1A para 4(1) (as so added). However, the Secretary of State may not, without the consent of the Commission, alter a draft order so as to propose a distribution of MEPs other than that recommended under Sch 1A para 1(3) (as added) (see PARA 107 ante): Sch 1A para 4(2) (as so added). The Commission may not give its consent under Sch 1A para 4(2) (as added) unless it is satisfied that the distribution of MEPs could have been recommended under Sch 1A para 1(3) (as added): Sch 1A para 4(3) (as so added). If an altered draft order is approved by both Houses, the Secretary of State must make an order under Sch 1A para 3 (as added) in the terms of the altered draft: Sch 1A para 4(4) (as so added). Schedule 1A para 4 (as added) has effect subject to Sch 1A para 5 (see the text and notes 6-14 infra): Sch 1A para 4(5) (as so added). As to the establishment and constitution of the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

4 Ibid Sch 1A para 3(1)(b) (as added: see note 3 supra). Such an order may make consequential, transitional or saving provision (Sch 1A para 3(2) (as so added)); and such provision may modify any enactment (Sch 1A para 3(3) (as so added)). As to the making of orders under the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 generally see PARA 13 note 12 ante.

5 Ibid Sch 1A para 3(4) (as added: see note 3 supra). Schedule 1A para 3 (as added) has effect subject to Sch 1A para 4 (as added) (see note 3 supra) and Sch 1A para 5 (as added) (see the text and notes 6-14 infra): Sch 1A para 3(5) (as so added).

11 Ibid Sch 1A para 5(3)(a) (as added: see note 3 supra). For this purpose, the 'relevant day' means the first day of the period of four months ending with the day on which the poll for the next general election of MEPs is to be held: Sch 1A para 5(4) (as so added).

12 le any step or further step under ibid Sch 1A paras 3, 4 (see the text and notes 1-5 supra).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/3. ESTABLISHMENT AND REVIEW OF ELECTORAL BOUNDARIES/(2) THE REVIEW OF ELECTORAL BOUNDARIES/(iv) Review of European Parliamentary Electoral Regions/109. Order giving effect to a change under Community law in the number of MEPs to be elected for the United Kingdom.

109. Order giving effect to a change under Community law in the number of MEPs to be elected for the United Kingdom.

The Secretary of State¹ may by order² give effect to a change under Community law³ in the number of members of the European Parliament ('MEPs') to be elected for the United Kingdom⁴ by amending⁵: (1) the figure in the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002⁶ specifying the total number of MEPs to be elected for the United Kingdom⁷; and (2) any of the figures⁸ specifying the numbers of MEPs to be elected in the electoral regions⁹. The distribution of MEPs resulting from the provision made under head (2) above must¹⁰ be the distribution proposed in a recommendation of the Electoral Commission¹¹ which is effective on the day on which the order is made¹².

An order making an amendment to the number of MEPs and electoral regions¹³ may be made before the provision making the relevant change¹⁴ has entered into force¹⁵. If the relevant change is made by a provision of a treaty, an order making such an amendment may also be made before that provision has become part of the Community Treaties and, if the treaty requires ratification, before it is ratified by the United Kingdom¹⁶. However, no such amendment¹⁷ may be made so as to come into force¹⁸: (a) if the relevant change is made by any provision of a European Council Decision, or of any other instrument, made under a treaty provision that is part of the Community Treaties¹⁹, before that provision has entered into force²⁰; and (b) if the relevant change is made by a treaty provision, before that provision has both entered into force and become part of the Community Treaties²¹.

The Secretary of State must consult the Electoral Commission before making such an order giving effect to a change under Community law in the number of MEPs to be elected for the United Kingdom²².

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante.

2 The power to make an order under the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 s 5 (as amended) is exercisable by statutory instrument: s 6(1), (2). Such an order may make consequential, transitional or saving provision (s 6(3)); and such provision may modify any enactment (s 6(4)). For these purposes, 'enactment' means a provision of an Act (whether passed before or after the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003, which was passed on 8 May 2003), including a provision modified by the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003, or a provision of subordinate legislation (whenever made): s 27(2). This definition is extended for certain purposes in relation to the Gibraltar franchise: see s 27(3).

If a motion for the approval of a draft order is rejected by either House or withdrawn by leave of the House the Secretary of State may, after consulting the Electoral Commission, alter the draft order: s 6(6) (s 6(6), (7) amended by the Secretary of State for Constitutional Affairs Order 2003, SI 2003/1887, art 9, Sch 2 para 15(1) (a)). However, the Secretary of State may not, without the consent of the Electoral Commission, alter any amendments to the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 1(3) (as substituted) (see PARA 76 ante) contained in the draft order: European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 s 6(7) (as so amended). The Electoral Commission may not give its consent under s 6(7) (as amended) unless it is satisfied that the distribution of members of the European Parliament ('MEPs') proposed by the altered draft order could have been recommended under s 3 (see PARA 106 ante): s 6(8). A statutory instrument containing an order that is not subject to approval in draft under s 6(5) (see note 15 infra) is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: s 6(9).

14 For the purposes of the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 s 5(3)-(5) (see the text and notes 15-21 infra), the 'relevant change', in relation to an order under s 5 (as amended) amending the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 1 (as substituted and amended) (see PARA 76 ante), means the change under Community law being implemented by the order: European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 s 5(6).

15 Ibid s 5(3). However, such an order may not be made unless a draft of it has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament: s 6(5).

UPDATE

109 Order giving effect to a change under Community law in the number of MEPs to be elected for the United Kingdom

NOTE 7--SI 2004/1245 replaced by the European Parliament (Number of MEPs and Distribution between Electoral Regions) (United Kingdom and Gibraltar) Order 2008, SI 2008/1954.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(1) THE RIGHT TO VOTE/(i) Entitlement to Vote in Elections/A. PARLIAMENTARY AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT ELECTIONS/110. Entitlement to vote as parliamentary elector.

4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS

(1) THE RIGHT TO VOTE

(i) Entitlement to Vote in Elections

A. PARLIAMENTARY AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT ELECTIONS

110. Entitlement to vote as parliamentary elector.

A person¹ is entitled to vote² as an elector at a parliamentary election³ in any constituency⁴ if on the date of the poll⁵ he is⁶:

- 112 (1) registered in the register of parliamentary electors for that constituency⁷;
- 113 (2) not subject to any legal incapacity⁸ to vote (age apart)⁹;
- 114 (3) either a Commonwealth citizen¹⁰ or a citizen of the Republic of Ireland¹¹; and
- 115 (4) of voting age¹².

Different qualifications apply in respect of British citizens overseas¹³.

A person is not so entitled to vote as an elector more than once¹⁴ in the same constituency at any parliamentary election¹⁵ or in more than one constituency at a general election¹⁶.

1 Under the Interpretation Act 1978, 'person' includes a body of persons corporate or unincorporate: ss 5, 22(1), 23(1), Sch 1, Sch 2 para 4(1)(a). For the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 (without prejudice to the provisions of the Interpretation Act 1978 and unless the context otherwise requires), 'person' includes an association corporate or unincorporate: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1). For these purposes, the context does otherwise require and a company is not a person entitled to vote: see Wills v Tozer (1904) 53 WR 74.

2 'Voter' means a person voting at an election and includes a person voting as proxy and, except in the parliamentary elections rules, and the rules under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 36 (as amended) (see PARA 388 post), a person voting by proxy; and 'vote' (whether noun or verb) must be construed accordingly, except that in those rules any reference to an elector voting or an elector's vote must include a reference to an elector voting by proxy or an elector's vote given by proxy: s 202(1). For the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983, 'elector', in relation to an election, means any person who has for the time being an entry on the register to be used at that election, but does not include those shown in the register (or, in the case of a person who has an anonymous entry in the register, in the record of anonymous entries) as below voting age on the day fixed for the poll: s 202(1) (definition amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 10(2), Sch 1 paras 2, 13(1), (3)). 'Voting age', in the context of parliamentary elections, means 18 years or over: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 1(1)(d) (s 1 substituted by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 1(1)). For the purposes of the Representation of the People Acts, a person is deemed not to have attained a given age until the commencement of the relevant anniversary of the day of his birth: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(2). For the meaning of 'the Representation of the People Acts' see PARA 3 note 1 ante; for the meaning of 'election' for these purposes see PARA 3 note 1 ante; for the meaning of 'anonymous entry' in relation to a register of electors see PARA 174 post; and for the meaning of 'parliamentary elections rules' see PARA 388 note 2 post. As to the form and content of registers of electors and the record of anonymous entries see PARA 160 et seq post; and as to applications to vote by proxy see PARA 372 et seq post.

3 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'constituency' for these purposes see PARA 9 ante.

5 As to the date of the poll at a parliamentary general election or by-election see PARA 202 post.

6 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 1(1) (as substituted: see note 2 supra).

7 Ibid s 1(1)(a) (as substituted: see note 2 supra).

8 'Legal incapacity' includes (in addition, where applicable, to any incapacity by virtue of any subsisting provision of the common law) any disqualification imposed by the Representation of the People Act 1983 or any other Act: s 202(1) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 73(1), (2)). As to the common law rule which formerly provided that a person was subject to a legal incapacity to vote by reason of his mental state see PARA 122 post; and as to legal incapacities to vote see also PARA 123 et seq post. At common law, a peer of Parliament was also legally incapable of voting at a parliamentary election, even though his name may have been placed upon the register without objection: see Earl Beauchamp v Madresfield (1872) LR 8 CP 245; 4 Co Inst 2, 15; Marquis of Bristol v Beck (1907) 96 LT 55; Pembroke Boroughs Case (1901) 5 O'M & H 135 at 142; Petersfield Case, Stowe v Jolliffe (1874) LR 9 CP 734 at 750 per Lord Coleridge CJ; Droitwich Case, Viscount Southwell's Case (1835) Kn & Omb 44 at 65. See also Bedford Borough Case, Marquis of Tavistock's Case (1833) Cockb & Rowe 37 at 95, Per & Kn 112 at 146, explained in Re Parliamentary Election for Bristol South East [1964] 2 QB 257 at 281-282, sub nom Re Bristol South East Parliamentary Election [1961] 3 All ER 354 at 366-367, DC, per Gorman J. However, by virtue of the House of Lords Act 1999 s 3, the holder of a hereditary peerage is not disqualified by virtue of that peerage (unless excepted under ss 1, 2) for voting at elections to the House of Commons: see PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 897.

9 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 1(1)(b) (as substituted: see note 2 supra).

10 As to who are Commonwealth citizens see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 11.

11 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 1(1)(c) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). As to who are citizens of the Republic of Ireland see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 12.

12 Ibid s 1(1)(d) (as substituted: see note 2 supra).

13 See PARA 111 post.

14 The restrictions on voting more than once do not affect the right of an elector to vote by proxy at any relevant election, subject to the rules regarding proxy voting being met in each case: see PARA 372 et seq post.

15 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 1(2)(a) (as substituted: see note 2 supra).

16 Ibid s 1(2)(b) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). As to parliamentary general elections see PARA 196 et seq post.

RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(1) THE RIGHT TO VOTE/(i) Entitlement to Vote in Elections/A. PARLIAMENTARY AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT ELECTIONS/111. Extension of parliamentary franchise to British citizens overseas.

111. Extension of parliamentary franchise to British citizens overseas.

A person¹ is entitled to vote² as an elector³ at a parliamentary election⁴ in any constituency⁵ if:

- 116 (1) he qualifies as an overseas elector in respect of that constituency on the relevant date⁶;
- 117 (2) on that date and on the date of the poll⁷ he is not subject to any legal incapacity to vote⁸ and is a British citizen⁹; and
- 118 (3) on the date of the poll he is registered in a register of parliamentary electors¹⁰ for that constituency¹¹.

A person qualifies as an overseas elector in respect of a constituency on the relevant date¹² if on that date he is not resident in the United Kingdom¹³ and he satisfies one of the following sets of conditions¹⁴. The first set of conditions is that:

- 119 (a) the person was included in a register of parliamentary electors in respect of an address at a place¹⁵ that is situated within the constituency concerned¹⁶;
- 120 (b) that entry in the register was made on the basis that he was resident¹⁷ or to be treated for the purposes of registration as resident at that address¹⁸;
- 121 (c) that entry in the register was in force at any time falling within the period of 15 years ending immediately before the relevant date¹⁹; and
- 122 (d) subsequent to that entry ceasing to have effect, no entry was made in any register of parliamentary electors on the basis that he was resident, or to be treated for the purposes of registration as resident, at any other address²⁰.

The second set of conditions is that:

- 123 (i) the person was last resident in the United Kingdom within the period of 15 years ending immediately before the relevant date²¹;
- 124 (ii) he was by reason only of his age incapable of being included in any register of parliamentary electors in force on the last day on which he was resident in the United Kingdom²²; and
- 125 (iii) the address at which he was resident on that day was at a place that is situated within the constituency concerned and a parent or guardian of his was included, in respect of that address, in a register of parliamentary electors or a register of local government electors in force on that day²³.

The restrictions on the registration of such persons are described elsewhere in this title²⁴.

¹ The Representation of the People Act 1985 s 1 (as substituted and amended) has effect as if contained in the Representation of the People Act 1983 Pt I (ss 1-66A) (as amended): Representation of the People Act 1985 s 27(2). Accordingly, as to the meaning of 'person' see PARA 110 note 1 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'elector' see PARA 110 note 2 ante; definition applied by virtue of ibid s 27(2) (see note 1 supra).

4 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

5 Ie without prejudice to the qualification set out in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 1 (as substituted) (see PARA 110 ante). For the meaning of 'constituency' for these purposes see PARA 9 ante.

6 Representation of the People Act 1985 s 1(1)(a) (s 1 substituted by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 8, Sch 2 paras 1, 2). The reference in the text to the 'relevant date' is to the date on which a person makes a declaration under and in accordance with the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2 (as substituted) (an 'overseas elector's declaration') (see PARA 129 post).

7 As to the date of the poll at a parliamentary general election or by-election see PARA 202 post.

8 Representation of the People Act 1985 s 1(1)(b)(i) (as substituted: see note 6 supra). As to the meaning of 'legal incapacity (to vote)' for these purposes see PARA 110 note 8 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 27(2) (see note 1 supra). However, the reference in s 1(1) (as substituted) to a person being subject to a legal incapacity to vote on the relevant date does not include a reference to his being under the age of 18 on that date: s 1(5) (as so substituted). As to voting age for parliamentary elections see PARA 110 note 2 ante.

9 Ibid s 1(1)(b)(ii) (as substituted: see note 6 supra). As to who are British citizens see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 8 et seq. As to the entitlement under which Commonwealth citizens and citizens of the Republic of Ireland are entitled to vote see PARA 110 ante.

11 Representation of the People Act 1985 s 1(1)(c) (as substituted: see note 6 supra).

12 Ie for the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 and the Representation of the People Act 1985: s 1(2) (as substituted: see note 6 supra), s 27(1).

13 Ibid s 1(2)(a) (as substituted: see note 6 supra). For the purposes of s 1 (as substituted and amended), where a person is registered in a register of parliamentary electors for any constituency or part of a constituency in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration (see note 6 supra), it is conclusively presumed that he was not resident in the United Kingdom on the relevant date: s 2(7) (substituted by the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 2 paras 1, 3). For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

14 Representation of the People Act 1985 s 1(2)(b) (as substituted: see note 6 supra).

In the case of the holder of a hereditary peerage to whom the House of Lords Act 1999 s 3(1) applies (see PARA 110 note 8 ante; and PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 897), any reference in the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 1(3) (as substituted) (see heads (a)-(d) in the text) or s 1(4)(b) (as substituted) (see head (ii) in the text) to a register of parliamentary electors includes any register of local government electors in Great Britain which was required to be published on any date not later than 15 February 2000: Holders of Hereditary Peerages (Overseas Electors) (Transitional Provisions) Order 2001, SI 2001/84, art 2. A peer had the right to be registered in the register of local government electors under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 15 (as amended): see PARA 141 post. For the meaning of 'Great Britain' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

15 The provision is so worded that the entitlement arises even if the premises in respect of which the person was registered are subsequently destroyed. A person might be included in respect of an address even if the address itself is not shown in the register of electors because the person's name only is included (as to which see PARA 160 post).

16 Representation of the People Act 1985 s 1(3)(a) (as substituted: see note 6 supra). See note 14 supra.

17 As to residence see PARA 132 et seq post; provisions applied by virtue of ibid s 27(2) (see note 1 supra).

18 Ibid s 1(3)(b) (as substituted: see note 6 supra). See note 14 supra.

19 Ibid s 1(3)(c) (as substituted (see note 6 supra); and amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 141(a)). See note 14 supra.

20 Representation of the People Act 1985 s 1(3)(d) (as substituted: see note 6 supra). An electoral registration officer may have mistakenly included the person in the register as resident at an address even though that person was not resident (or treated for the purposes of registration as resident) there on the qualifying date to which the register relates. See note 14 supra.

RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(1) THE RIGHT TO VOTE/(i) Entitlement to Vote in Elections/A. PARLIAMENTARY AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT ELECTIONS/112. Entitlement to vote as local government elector.

112. Entitlement to vote as local government elector.

A person¹ is entitled to vote² as an elector³ at a local government election⁴ in any electoral area⁵ if, on the date of the poll⁶, he⁷:

- 126 (1) is registered in the register of local government electors for that area⁸;
- 127 (2) is not subject to any legal incapacity⁹ to vote (age apart)¹⁰;
- 128 (3) is a Commonwealth citizen¹¹, a citizen of the Republic of Ireland¹², or a relevant citizen of the Union¹³; and
- 129 (4) is of voting age¹⁴.

However, a person is not so entitled to vote as an elector more than once¹⁵ in the same electoral area at any local government election¹⁶ or in more than one electoral area at an ordinary election¹⁷ for a local government area which is not a single electoral area¹⁸.

1 As to the meaning of 'person' see PARA 110 note 1 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'vote' see PARA 110 note 2 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'elector' see PARA 110 note 2 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. Local government electors are entitled to vote at a parish or community meeting or at a poll consequent thereon: see PARA 121 post. Elections of the Mayor of London and the members of the London Assembly are treated as local government elections for the purposes of the Representation of the People Acts: see PARA 10 ante; and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 88 et seq. As to the entitlement to vote in local authority mayoral elections see PARA 113 post.

13 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 2(1)(c) (as substituted: see note 7 supra). 'Citizen of the Union' must be construed in accordance with the Treaty Establishing the European Community (Rome, 25 March 1957; TS 1 (1973); Cmnd 5179) art 17 (formerly art 8 and renumbered by virtue of the Treaty of Amsterdam: see Treaty Citation (No 2) (Note) [1999] All ER (EC) 646, ECJ), which states that every person holding the nationality of a member state is a citizen of the Union; and 'relevant citizen of the Union' means such a citizen who is not a Commonwealth citizen or a citizen of the Republic of Ireland: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1) (definition added by the Local Government Elections (Changes to the Franchise and Qualification of Members) Regulations 1995, SI 1995/1948, reg 4(2)).

14 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 2(1)(d) (as substituted: see note 7 supra). 'Voting age', for the purposes of local government elections, means 18 years or over: s 2(1)(d) (as so substituted). A person entitled to vote is, subject to restrictions, entitled to be registered: see PARA 127 post.

15 The restrictions on voting more than once do not affect the right of an elector to vote by proxy at any relevant election, subject to the rules regarding proxy voting being met in each case: see PARA 372 et seq post.

Entitlement to vote for the return of an elected local authority mayor or executive member.

113. Entitlement to vote for the return of an elected local authority mayor or executive member.

The persons entitled to vote as electors at an election for the return of an elected mayor¹ or elected executive member² are those who on the day of the poll: (1) would be entitled to vote as electors at an election of councillors³ for an electoral area⁴ which is situated within the area of the local authority concerned⁵; and (2) are registered in the register of local government electors⁶ at an address within the authority's area⁷.

However, a person is not so entitled as an elector to cast more than one first preference vote, or more than one second preference vote⁸, at an election for the return of an elected mayor⁹.

1 As to the return of an elected mayor for a local authority see PARA 205 et seq post; and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 320 et seq. Elections of the Mayor of London and the members of the London Assembly are treated as local government elections for the purposes of the Representation of the People Acts: see PARA 10 ante; and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 88 et seq.

2 As to provision made for the return of elected executive members see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 320. At the date at which this volume states the law, no regulations had been made in relation to elections for the return of elected executive members.

3 As to the election of councillors generally see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 126 et seq.

Entitlement to vote at an election of Welsh Assembly members.

B. ELECTIONS TO THE NATIONAL ASSEMBLY FOR WALES

114. Entitlement to vote at an election of Welsh Assembly members.

The persons entitled to vote at an election of Assembly members¹ (or of an Assembly member) in an Assembly constituency² are those who on the day of the poll³ would be entitled to vote as electors at a local government election⁴ in an electoral area⁵ wholly or partly included in the Assembly constituency⁶, and are registered in the register of local government electors⁷ at an address within the Assembly constituency⁸.

However, a person is not entitled as an elector at an election of Assembly members: (1) to cast more than one constituency vote⁹, or more than one electoral region vote¹⁰, in the same Assembly constituency at any ordinary general election¹¹; (2) to vote in more than one Assembly constituency at any such election¹²; or (3) to cast more than one vote in an election held¹³ to fill a vacancy for the seat of an Assembly member returned for an Assembly constituency¹⁴.

C. EUROPEAN PARLIAMENTARY ELECTIONS

115. Entitlement to vote as European parliamentary elector.

A person is entitled to vote as an elector at an election to the European Parliament¹ in an electoral region² if he is within any of the following categories³, namely if:

- 130 (1) on the day of the poll⁴, he would be entitled to vote as an elector at a parliamentary election⁵ in a parliamentary constituency⁶ wholly or partly comprised in the electoral region⁷, and: (a) the address in respect of which he is registered in the relevant register of parliamentary electors⁸ is within the electoral region⁹; or (b) his registration in the relevant register of parliamentary electors results from an overseas elector's declaration¹⁰ which specifies an address within the electoral region¹¹;
- 131 (2) he is a peer who on the day of the poll would be entitled to vote at a local government election¹² in an electoral area¹³ wholly or partly comprised in the electoral region¹⁴, and the address in respect of which he is registered in the relevant register of local government electors is within the electoral region¹⁵;
- 132 (3) he is entitled to vote in the electoral region by virtue of the provision made which extends the franchise for European parliamentary elections to peers resident outside the United Kingdom¹⁶; or
- 133 (4) he is entitled to vote in the electoral region by virtue of the provision made for relevant citizens of the European Union¹⁷ (other than Commonwealth citizens¹⁸ and citizens of the Republic of Ireland¹⁹) to vote as European Parliamentary electors²⁰.

1 As to elections to the European Parliament generally see PARA 13 et seq ante. An elector who votes more than once at an election to the European Parliament commits an offence: see PARA 703 post.

2 As to electoral regions constituted for the purposes of European parliamentary elections see PARA 76 ante.

The entitlement to vote under the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 8 (as amended) does not apply to voting in Gibraltar: s 8(8) (added by the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 s 15(3)). Further provision as to the Gibraltar franchise for European parliamentary elections is made by the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 ss 14-15, 17-18. As to Gibraltar see further PARA 76 note 3 ante.

3 European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 8(1). This provision has effect subject to any provision of regulations made under the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 which provides for alterations made after a specified date in a register of electors to be disregarded: s 8(6). As to the making of regulations under the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 generally see PARA 13 note 12 ante.

4 As to the poll at a European parliamentary election see PARA 224 et seq post.

UPDATE

115 Entitlement to vote as European parliamentary elector

NOTES 11, 16--SI 2004/293 reg 2(1) substituted: SI 2009/186.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(1) THE RIGHT TO VOTE/(i) Entitlement to Vote in Elections/C. EUROPEAN PARLIAMENTARY ELECTIONS/116. Extension of European parliamentary franchise to peers resident outside the United Kingdom.

116. Extension of European parliamentary franchise to peers resident outside the United Kingdom.

A person¹ is entitled² to vote³ as an elector⁴ at a European parliamentary election⁵ in any electoral region⁶ if:

- 134 (1) he qualifies in respect of that region on the relevant date⁷;
- 135 (2) on that date and on the day appointed for the election⁸ he is not subject to any legal incapacity to vote⁹ and is a British citizen¹⁰; and
- 136 (3) on the day so appointed he is registered in the electoral region¹¹.

A peer so qualifies in respect of an electoral region on the relevant date¹² if on that date he is not resident in the United Kingdom¹³ and he satisfies one of the following sets of conditions¹⁴. The first set of conditions is that:

- 137 (a) the peer was included in a register of local government electors in respect of an address at a place¹⁵ that is situated within the electoral region concerned¹⁶;
- 138 (b) that entry in the register was made on the basis that he was resident¹⁷, or to be treated for the purposes of registration as resident, at that address¹⁸;
- 139 (c) that entry in the register was in force at any time falling within the period of 15 years ending immediately before the relevant date¹⁹; and
- 140 (d) subsequent to that entry ceasing to have effect, no entry was made in any register of local government electors on the basis that he was resident, or to be treated for the purposes of registration as resident, at any other address²⁰.

The second set of conditions is that:

- 141 (i) the peer was last resident in the United Kingdom within the period of 15 years ending immediately before the relevant date²¹;
- 142 (ii) he was by reason only of his age incapable of being included in any register of local government electors in force on the last day on which he was resident in the United Kingdom²²; and
- 143 (iii) the address at which he was resident on that day was at a place that is situated within the electoral region concerned and a parent or guardian of his was included, in respect of that address, in a register of parliamentary electors or a register of local government electors in force on that day²³.

The restrictions on the registration of such persons are described elsewhere in this title²⁴.

1 The Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3 (as substituted and amended) has effect as if contained in the Representation of the People Act 1983 Pt I (ss 1-66A) (as amended): Representation of the People Act 1985 s 27(2). Accordingly, as to the meaning of 'person' see PARA 110 note 1 ante.

2 le by virtue of ibid s 3 (as substituted and amended) and without prejudice to the qualification set out in the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 8 (as amended) (see PARA 115 ante).

3 For the meaning of 'vote' see PARA 110 note 2 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 27(2) (see note 1 supra).

4 For the meaning of 'elector' see PARA 110 note 2 ante; definition applied by virtue of ibid s 27(2) (see note 1 supra).

5 For the meaning of 'European parliamentary election' for these purposes see PARA 21 note 2 ante.

6 As to electoral regions established for the purpose of European parliamentary elections see PARA 76 ante.

7 Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3(1)(a) (s 3 substituted by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 8, Sch 2 paras 1, 4). The relevant date referred to in the text is the date on which a person makes a declaration under and in accordance with regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3 (as substituted and amended): s 3(1)(a) (as so substituted).

Regulations under s 3 (as substituted and amended) may:

- 29 (1) provide for a person seeking registration under s 3 (as substituted and amended) to make a declaration for the purpose, being a declaration of the prescribed facts and containing the prescribed information (s 3(5)(a) (as so substituted));
- 30 (2) require such declarations to be attested and provide for the charging of fees in respect of their attestation (s 3(5)(b) (as so substituted));
- 31 (3) make provision for and in connection with the cancellation of such declarations (s 3(5)(c) (as so substituted));
- 32 (4) provide for the registration, subject to prescribed exceptions and on satisfying prescribed conditions, of those peers who (apart from the requirements of registration) may be entitled by virtue of s 3 (as substituted and amended) to vote as electors at European parliamentary elections (s 3(6)(a) (as so substituted));
- 33 (5) apply with such modifications or exceptions as may be prescribed any provision in respect of the registration of parliamentary or local government electors made by or under the Representation of the People Act 1983 or the Representation of the People Act 1985 (s 3(6)(b) (as so substituted), s 27(1)).

Such regulations must require each registration officer to prepare and publish, in respect of any year for which any peers are to be registered under s 3 (as substituted and amended), a register of the peers so registered; and any such register must so far as practicable be combined with the registers of parliamentary electors and of local government electors, the entries of peers registered under s 3 (as substituted and amended) being marked to indicate that fact: s 3(7) (as so substituted; and amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 10(2), Sch 1 para 17(1), (3)). As to persons who have an anonymous entry in a register see note 16 infra. For the meaning of 'registration officer' see PARA 154 post; definition applied by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 27(2) (see note 1 supra). As to the registration of parliamentary or local government electors see PARA 127 et seq post; and as to the registers of electors see PARA 160 et seq post. For these purposes, references to the register of local government elections include a reference to a register of electors prepared for the purposes of municipal elections in the City of London (ie, elections to the office of mayor, alderman, common councilman or sheriff and also elections of officers elected by the mayor, aldermen and liverymen in common hall): s 3(8)(c) (as so substituted). As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante.

'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); definition applied by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 27(2) (see note 1 supra). As to the regulations made under s 3 (as substituted and amended) see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13 and Sch 4, which apply with modifications specified provisions for the registration of European parliamentary overseas electors. For these purposes, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 4(5) (as substituted) (attainers: see PARA 128 post), s 9 (as substituted and amended) (register of electors: see PARA 160 post), s 13 (as substituted) (publication of registers: see PARA 164 post), ss 13A-13B (as added and amended) (alteration of registers: see PARA 175 post), s 50 (effect of misdescription: see PARA 159 post), s 52 (as amended) (discharge of registration duties: see PARA 156 post), s 54 (as amended) (payment of expenses of registration: see PARA 158 post), s 56 (as amended) (registration appeals: see PARA 189 post), s 63 (as substituted and amended) (breach of official duty: see PARA 740 post) and the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2 (as substituted) (registration of British citizens overseas: see PARA 129 post), s 12 (offences as to declarations etc: see PARA 738 post) must, subject to any modifications and exceptions specified in relation to those provisions in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(4), Sch 4, apply for the purposes of the registration of peers who (subject to the requirement of registration) are entitled to vote at a European parliamentary election as they apply for the purpose of the registration of parliamentary electors: reg 13(4). Unless the context otherwise requires, in the provisions applied by Sch 4: (a) any reference to an overseas elector's declaration must be construed as a reference to a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration; (b) any reference to a constituency must be construed as a reference to an electoral region; (c) any reference to a register of parliamentary electors must be construed as a reference to a register kept under the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3 (as substituted and amended) and any reference to the register of local government electors must be disregarded; and (d) any reference to a provision which is also applied by the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, Sch 4 must be construed as a reference to such a provision as so applied: reg 13(5). Regulations 3, 5-8, 11 (general, interpretation and miscellaneous), regs 18-22 (as amended) (overseas electors' declarations: see PARAS 147-151 post) and regs 23-25, 27-32, 36(2), 38-43, 45 (as amended) (registration: see PARA 160 et seq post) also apply, by virtue of reg 13(6), (7), to a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration and registration in pursuance of it as they apply to an overseas elector's declaration and registration in pursuance of it: reg 13(6). For the purposes set out in reg 13(6), those regulations, unless the context otherwise requires, have effect as if: (i) any reference to a parliamentary elector were a reference to a peer entitled to vote at a European parliamentary election under the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3 (as substituted and amended); (ii) any reference to an overseas elector were a reference to a European parliamentary overseas elector; (iii) any reference to an overseas elector's declaration were a reference to a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration; and (iv) any reference to a provision which is applied by the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, Sch 4 were a reference to that provision as so applied: reg 13(7). For these purposes, unless the context otherwise requires, 'European parliamentary overseas elector' means a peer who has made a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration and is registered or is entitled to be registered in pursuance of it; and 'European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration' means a declaration made in pursuance of the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2 (as substituted) as applied by the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13 and Sch 4.

8 As to the poll at a European parliamentary election see PARA 229 et seq post.

9 Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3(1)(b)(i) (as substituted: see note 7 supra). For these purposes, 'legal incapacity' has the same meaning in relation to Great Britain as it has in the Representation of the People Act 1983 for the purposes of local government elections (see PARA 110 note 8 ante), but the reference in the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3(1)(b) (as substituted) to a person being subject to a legal incapacity to vote on the relevant date does not include a reference to his being below the age of 18 on that date: s 3(8) (a) (as so substituted). For the meaning of 'Great Britain' see PARA 13 note 1 ante. For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 27(2) (see note 1 supra). As to voting age for local government elections see PARA 112 note 14 ante.

10 Ibid s 3(1)(b)(ii) (as substituted: see note 7 supra). As to who are British citizens see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 8 et seq.

11 Ibid s 3(1)(c) (as substituted: see note 7 supra).

12 Ie for the purposes of head (1) in the text: ibid s 3(2) (as substituted: see note 7 supra), s 27(1).

13 Ibid s 3(2)(a) (as substituted: see note 7 supra). For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

14 Ibid s 3(2)(b) (as substituted: see note 7 supra). The rules as to the qualification of a peer under s 3 (as substituted and amended) are the same as those for a person to qualify as an overseas elector under s 1 (as substituted and amended) (see PARA 111 ante), but with the substitution of references to the register of local government electors for references to the register of parliamentary electors.

15 The provision is so worded that the entitlement arises even if the premises in respect of which the person was registered are subsequently destroyed. A person might be included in respect of an address even if the address itself is not shown in the register of electors because the person's name only is included (see PARA 160 post).

16 Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3(3)(a) (as substituted: see note 7 supra). For the purposes of s 3(3)(a) (as substituted) and s 3(4)(c) (as substituted) (see head (iii) in the text), a person who has an anonymous entry in a register of parliamentary electors or local government electors is not to be regarded as being included in that register: s 3(4A) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 para 17(1), (2)). For the meaning of 'anonymous entry' in relation to a register of electors see PARA 174 post.

17 As to residence see PARA 132 et seq post; provisions applied by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 27(2) (see note 1 supra).

18 Ibid s 3(3)(b) (as substituted: see note 7 supra).

19 Ibid s 3(3)(c) (as substituted (see note 7 supra); and amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 141(b)).

20 Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3(3)(d) (as substituted: see note 7 supra). An electoral registration officer may have mistakenly included the person in the register as resident at an address even though that person was not resident (or treated for the purposes of registration as resident) there on the qualifying date to which the register relates.

21 Ibid s 3(4)(a) (as substituted (see note 7 supra); and amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 141(b)).

22 Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3(4)(b) (as substituted: see note 7 supra).

23 Ibid s 3(4)(c) (as substituted: see note 7 supra). As to persons who have an anonymous entry in a register see note 16 supra.

24 See PARA 125 et seq post.

116 Extension of European parliamentary franchise to peers resident outside the United Kingdom

NOTE 7--SI 2001/341 reg 13, Sch 4 amended; Sch 4A (application with modifications of specified provisions of SI 2001/341 for registration of European parliamentary overseas electors) added: SI 2009/725.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(1) THE RIGHT TO VOTE/(i) Entitlement to Vote in Elections/C. EUROPEAN PARLIAMENTARY ELECTIONS/117. Entitlement of relevant citizens of the European Union to vote as European parliamentary electors.

117. Entitlement of relevant citizens of the European Union to vote as European parliamentary electors.

A person is entitled to vote as an elector at a European parliamentary election¹ in an electoral region² if on the date of the poll³ he:

- 144 (1) is registered in the region in the register of relevant citizens of the Union⁴ entitled to vote at European parliamentary elections⁵;
- 145 (2) is not subject to any legal incapacity⁶ to vote (age apart)⁷;
- 146 (3) is a relevant citizen of the Union⁸; and
- 147 (4) is of voting age⁹.

However, a person is not so entitled to vote as an elector more than once in the same electoral region at any European parliamentary election¹⁰, or in more than one electoral region at a European parliamentary general election¹¹.

The restrictions on the registration of such persons are described elsewhere in this title¹².

1 Ie by virtue of the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184 (as amended) and without prejudice to the qualifications set out in the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 8 (as amended) (see PARA 115 ante) and the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3 (as substituted and amended) (extension of European parliamentary franchise to peers resident outside the United Kingdom: see PARA 116 ante). As to European parliamentary elections generally see PARA 13 et seq ante.

2 As to electoral regions established for the purpose of European parliamentary elections see PARA 76 ante.

3 As to the date of the poll at a European parliamentary election see PARA 229 post.

4 For these purposes, 'citizen of the Union' is to be determined in accordance with the Treaty Establishing the European Community (Rome, 25 March 1957; TS 1 (1973); Cmnd 5179) art 17 (formerly art 8 and renumbered by virtue of the Treaty of Amsterdam: see Treaty Citation (No 2) (Note) [1999] All ER (EC) 646, ECJ), which states that every person holding the nationality of a member state is a citizen of the Union; and 'relevant citizen of the Union' means such a citizen who is not a Commonwealth citizen or citizen of the Republic of Ireland: European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 1(2). As to who are Commonwealth citizens see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 11; and as to who are citizens of the Republic of Ireland see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 12.

5 Ibid reg 3(1)(a). The text refers to the register maintained under reg 5(2) (see PARA 156 post). The register must, so far as practicable, be combined with the registers of parliamentary and local government electors and with any register of peers kept under the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3 (as substituted and amended) (extension of European parliamentary franchise to peers resident outside the United Kingdom: see PARA 116 ante), the names of the persons so registered being marked to indicate that fact: see PARA 160 post.

For the purposes of the registration of relevant citizens of the Union as European parliamentary electors, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 5 (as substituted) (general residence requirement: see PARA 132 post), s 6 (as amended) (deemed residence for merchant seamen: see PARA 133 post), s 7 (as substituted and amended) (deemed residence for persons in mental hospitals who are not detained offenders or on remand: see PARA 134 post), s 7A (as added and amended) (deemed residence for persons on remand: see PARA 135 post), ss 7B-7C (as added and amended) (residence deemed by way of declaration of local connection: see PARAS 136-139 post), s 9 (as substituted and amended) (register of electors: see PARA 160 post), s 13 (as substituted) (publication of registers: see PARA 164 post), ss 13A-13B (as added and amended) (alteration of registers: see PARA 175 post), s 50 (effect of misdescription: see PARA 159 post), s 52 (as amended) (discharge of registration duties: see PARA 156 post), s 54 (as amended) (payment of expenses of registration: see PARA 158 post), s 56 (as amended) (registration appeals: see PARA 189 post), s 62 (as substituted and amended) (offences as to declarations: see PARA 738 post), s 63 (as substituted and amended) (breach of official duty: see PARA 740 post), s 202 (as amended) (general provisions as to interpretation) and the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, regs 3, 5-8, 11 (general, interpretation and miscellaneous) and regs 24, 27-32, 36, 38-41 (as amended) (registration: see PARA 160 et seq post) apply as they apply for the purposes of the registration of parliamentary and local government electors, subject to any modification and exceptions specified in relation to those provisions in the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule, and, unless the context otherwise requires, in the provisions so applied: (1) any reference to a parliamentary elector is a reference to a European parliamentary elector; (2) any reference to a register is to the register maintained under reg 5(2) (see PARA 156 post); (3) any reference to a constituency is a reference to an electoral region; and (4) any reference in such a provision to another provision which is so applied, is to that provision as so applied: reg 9.

For the purpose of extending the rights of citizens and nationals of accession states who (subject to the requirements of registration) may vote at local government and European parliamentary elections, reg 9 is applied with modifications: see the Local and European Parliamentary Elections (Registration of Citizens of Accession States) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/1557, reg 6, Sch 1 para 6.

6 For these purposes, 'legal incapacity' has the same meaning in relation to European parliamentary elections as it has in the Representation of the People Act 1983 in relation to parliamentary elections (see PARA 110 note 8 ante): European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 3(3).

7 Ibid reg 3(1)(b).

8 Ibid reg 3(1)(c).

9 Ibid reg 3(1)(d). For these purposes, 'voting age' is 18 years or over: reg 3(1)(d).

117 Entitlement of relevant citizens of the European Union to vote as European parliamentary electors

NOTE 5--SI 2001/1184 reg 9 amended, Schedule substituted: SI 2009/726.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(1) THE RIGHT TO VOTE/ (ii) Entitlement to Vote in Referendums and Polls/118. Persons entitled to vote in a referendum under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000.

(ii) Entitlement to Vote in Referendums and Polls

118. Persons entitled to vote in a referendum under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000.

The framework for referendums to which the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 applies does not make provision for entitlement to vote in any individual referendum¹. Any such provision must be made by the further legislation that is required to provide for the holding of any particular referendum within the framework².

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(1) THE RIGHT TO VOTE/ (ii) Entitlement to Vote in Referendums and Polls/119. Persons entitled to vote in a local authority referendum under the Local Government Act 2000.

119. Persons entitled to vote in a local authority referendum under the Local Government Act 2000.

The persons entitled to vote in a referendum held by a local authority¹ are those who on the day of the referendum: (1) would be entitled to vote as electors at an election of councillors² for an electoral area³ which is situated within the authority's area⁴; and (2) are registered in the register of local government electors⁵ at an address within the authority's area⁶.

1 le a referendum held under the Local Government Act 2000 s 27 or by virtue of regulations or an order made under any provision of Pt II (ss 10-48) (as amended) (see PARA 15 et seq ante; and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 314 et seq). For the meaning of 'local authority' for these purposes see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 23.

2 As to entitlement to vote at local government elections see PARA 112 ante. As to the election of councillors generally see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 126 et seq.

3 For the meaning of 'electoral area' see PARA 10 ante; definition applied by the Local Government Act 2000 s 48(1).

4 Ibid s 45(4)(a).

5 For the meaning of 'local government elector' for these purposes see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 127; definition applied by ibid s 48(1). As to the registers of electors see PARA 160 et seq post.

RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(1) THE RIGHT TO VOTE/ (ii) Entitlement to Vote in Referendums and Polls/120. Persons entitled to vote in a poll held to ascertain views about whether or how any of the functions of the Welsh Ministers should be exercised.

120. Persons entitled to vote in a poll held to ascertain views about whether or how any of the functions of the Welsh Ministers should be exercised.

The persons entitled to vote in a poll for the purpose of ascertaining views about whether or how any of the functions of the Welsh Ministers should be exercised¹ are those who: (1) would be entitled to vote as electors at a local government election² in an electoral area³ wholly or partly included in the area in which the poll is held⁴; and (2) are registered in the register of local government electors⁵ at an address within the area in which the poll is held⁶.

1 In a poll held under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 36 (see PARA 554 et seq post). The provisions of the Government of Wales Act 1998 are superseded by the Government of Wales Act 2006 immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5). As to the provision that applies for these purposes after that date see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 64; and PARA 554 et seq post. As to the Welsh Ministers see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

121 Persons entitled to vote in poll consequent on parish or community meeting

NOTE 2--Local Government Act 1972 s 99 further amended: Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Sch 6 para 17.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(1) THE RIGHT TO VOTE/ (iii) Restrictions on Entitlement to Vote/A. DISFRANCHISEMENT OF CERTAIN PARLIAMENTARY AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT ELECTORS/122. Disfranchisement of serving prisoners and detained offenders.

(iii) Restrictions on Entitlement to Vote

A. DISFRANCHISEMENT OF CERTAIN PARLIAMENTARY AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT ELECTORS

122. Disfranchisement of serving prisoners and detained offenders.

Under the Representation of the People Act 1983, during the time that a convicted person¹ is detained in a penal institution² in pursuance of his sentence³ or unlawfully at large when he would otherwise be so detained, he is legally incapable of voting at any parliamentary⁴ or local government election⁵. However, the European Court of Human Rights has found this restriction, constituting an absolute bar on voting by any serving prisoner in any circumstances, to offend against the principle of proportionality⁶.

A person in respect of whom a court has made certain hospital orders or directions on grounds of mental health or insanity⁷, during the time that he is detained at any place in pursuance of such an order or direction⁸ or is unlawfully at large when he would otherwise be so detained⁹, is also legally incapable of voting at any parliamentary or local government election¹⁰.

Any rule of the common law which provided that a person is subject to a legal incapacity to vote by reason only of his mental state¹¹ no longer applies¹².

1 'Convicted person' means any person found guilty of an offence (whether under the law of the United Kingdom or not), including a person found guilty by a court-martial under the Army Act 1955, the Air Force Act 1955 or the Naval Discipline Act 1957 (see ARMED FORCES vol 2(2) (Reissue) PARA 448 et seq) or by a standing civilian court established under the Armed Forces Act 1976 (see ARMED FORCES vol 2(2) (Reissue) PARA 520 et seq), but not including a person dealt with by committal or other summary process for contempt of court (see CONTEMPT OF COURT): Representation of the People Act 1983 s 3(2)(a). For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

2 'Penal institution' means an institution to which the Prison Act 1952 applies (see PRISONS vol 36(2) (Reissue) PARA 501 et seq): Representation of the People Act 1983 s 3(2)(b).

3 For these purposes, a person detained for default in complying with his sentence is not treated as detained in pursuance of the sentence, whether or not the sentence provided for detention in the event of default, but a person detained by virtue of a conditional pardon in respect of an offence is treated as detained in pursuance of his sentence: ibid s 3(2)(c).

4 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

5 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 3(1) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 24, Sch 4 para 1). It is immaterial for the purposes of this provision whether a conviction or sentence was before or after the passing of the Representation of the People Act 1983 (ie 8 February 1983): s 3(3). For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to the registration to vote of persons remanded in custody see PARA 135 post.

6 See Application 74025/01 Hirst v United Kingdom (No 2) (2004) 38 EHRR 825, (2004) 16 BHRC 409, (2004) Times, 8 April, ECtHR; on appeal (2005) 19 BHRC 546, (2005) Times, 10 October, [2005] All ER (D) 59 (Oct), ECtHR (Grand Chamber) (the principle of proportionality required a discernible and sufficient link to be made between the sanction of disenfranchisement and the conduct and circumstances of the individual). In particular, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 3 (as amended) was found to contravene the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms (Rome, 4 November 1950; TS 71 (1953); Cmd 8969), First Protocol (Paris, 20 March 1952; Cmd 9221) art 3. See PARA 7 ante.

7 The Representation of the People Act 1983 s 3A (as added and amended) applies, as respects England and Wales, to: (1) any person in respect of whom an order has been made under the Mental Health Act 1983 s 37 (as amended) (powers of courts to order hospital admission or guardianship: see MENTAL HEALTH vol 30(2) (Reissue) PARA 491), s 38 (as amended) (interim hospital orders: see MENTAL HEALTH vol 30(2) (Reissue) PARAS 491, 494), s 44 (committal to hospital for restriction order: see MENTAL HEALTH vol 30(2) (Reissue) PARA 498) or s 51(5) (hospital order in person's absence and without conviction: see MENTAL HEALTH vol 30(2) (Reissue) PARA 539) or a direction has been given under s 45A (as added and amended) (power of higher courts to direct hospital admission: see MENTAL HEALTH vol 30(2) (Reissue) PARA 490), s 46 (repealed) or s 47 (as amended) (removal to hospital of persons serving sentences of imprisonment: see MENTAL HEALTH vol 30(2) (Reissue) PARA 535); (2) any person in respect of whom an order has been made under the Criminal Procedure (Insanity) Act 1964 s 5(2)(a) (as substituted) (hospital orders where persons not guilty by reason of insanity or unfit to plead: see MENTAL HEALTH vol 30(2) (Reissue) PARA 499); and (3) any person in respect of whom the Court of Appeal has made an order under the Criminal Appeal Act 1968 s 6(2)(a) (as substituted) or s 14(2)(a) (as substituted) (hospital orders where findings of insanity or of unfitness to plead substituted: see MENTAL HEALTH vol 30(2) (Reissue) PARA 500): Representation of the People Act 1983 s 3A(2) (s 3A added by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 2). The Representation of the People Act 1983 s 3A (as added and amended) also applies to any person in respect of whom a hospital order has been made by virtue of the Army Act 1955 s 116A (as added), the Air Force Act 1955 s 116A (as added) or the Naval Discipline Act 1957 s 63A (as added) (powers to deal with person unfit to stand trial or not guilty by reason of insanity), or the Courts-Martial (Appeals) Act 1968 s 16 (as substituted) (substitution of finding of insanity or findings of unfitness to stand trial etc) or s 23 (as substituted) (substitution of findings of unfitness to stand trial) (see MENTAL HEALTH vol 30(2) (Reissue) PARA 499): Representation of the People Act 1983 s 3A(5) (as so added; and substituted by the Domestic Violence, Crime and Victims Act 2004 s 58(1), Sch 10 para 17). As to the application of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 3A (as added and amended) to Scotland see s 3A(3) (as so added; and amended in relation to England and Wales by the Mental Health (Care and Treatment) (Scotland) Act 2003 (Consequential Provisions) Order 2005, SI 2005/2078, art 15, Sch 1 para 1(1), (2) and in relation to Scotland by the Mental Health (Care and Treatment) (Scotland) Act 2003 (Modification of Enactments) Order 2005, SSI 2005/465, art 2, Sch 1 para 12(1), (2)); and as to its application as respects Northern Ireland see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 3A(4) (as so added). Any reference in s 3A (as added and amended) to a person in respect of whom any order or direction falling within s 3A(2)-(4) (as added and amended) has been made or given includes a reference to a person in respect of whom any such order or direction is, by virtue of any enactment, to be treated as having been made or given in connection with his transfer to a place in the part of the United Kingdom mentioned in s 3A(2)-(4) (as added and amended): s 3A(6) (as so added). Any reference in any of s 3A(2)-(4) (as added and amended) to a provision of any Act or order includes a reference to any earlier provision (whether of that Act or order as originally enacted or made or as previously amended, or otherwise) to the like effect: s 3A(7) (as so added).

B. INCAPACITIES IMPOSED ON ELECTORS FOR OFFENCES

123. Incapacity imposed for offences against electoral law during parliamentary or local government election.

A candidate at a parliamentary or local government election¹ or other person² reported by an election court³ personally guilty of a corrupt or illegal practice or convicted of such a practice⁴ is, during the relevant period⁵, incapable of being registered as an elector⁶ or voting⁷ at any parliamentary election⁸ in the United Kingdom⁹ or at any local government election¹⁰ in Great Britain¹¹.

1 As to candidacy at a parliamentary or local government election see PARA 231 et seq post.

2 As to the meaning of 'person' see PARA 110 note 1 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'election court' for these purposes see PARA 759 note 14 post.

4 The incapacity imposed by the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 160(4)(a)(i) (as substituted) or by s 173(1)(a)(i) (as substituted) (see the text and notes 5-11 infra) applies only to a candidate or other person reported personally guilty, or convicted, of a corrupt practice under s 60 (personation: see PARA 733 post) or of an illegal practice under s 61 (as amended) (other voting offences: see PARA 703 post): see s 160(4A) (as added), s 173(2) (as substituted); and PARA 904 post.

5 For these purposes, the relevant period is the period beginning with the date of the report or conviction (as the case may be) and ending, in the case of a person reported personally guilty, or convicted, of a corrupt practice, five years after that date, or, in the case of a person reported personally guilty, or convicted, of an illegal practice, three years after that date: see the Representation of the People Act 1983 ss 160(5), 173(3) (both as substituted); and PARA 904 post.

6 For the meaning of 'elector' see PARA 110 note 2 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'vote' see PARA 110 note 2 ante.

8 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

9 For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

10 For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante.

11 See the Representation of the People Act 1983 ss 160(4)(a)(i), 173(1)(a)(i) (both as substituted); and PARA 904 post. The incapacity so imposed is subject to mitigation or remission under s 174 (as amended): see PARA 907 post. For the meaning of 'Great Britain' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(1) THE RIGHT TO VOTE/ (iii) Restrictions on Entitlement to Vote/B. INCAPACITIES IMPOSED ON ELECTORS FOR OFFENCES/124. Incapacity imposed for offences against electoral law during Welsh Assembly election.

124. Incapacity imposed for offences against electoral law during Welsh Assembly election.

A candidate at an Assembly election¹ or other person reported by an election court² personally guilty of a corrupt practice³ is for five years from the date of the report incapable of being registered as an elector⁴ or voting⁵ at any Assembly election, election to the House of Commons, election to the European Parliament, or election in Great Britain⁶ to any public office⁷. A candidate or other person reported by an election court personally guilty of an illegal practice⁸ is for three years from the date of the report incapable of being registered as an elector or voting at any Assembly election, any parliamentary election, any European parliamentary election⁹ or at any election to a public office held: (1) if the offence was committed in relation to a constituency election¹⁰, for or in the Assembly constituency for which the election was held, any other Assembly constituency in the Assembly electoral region¹¹ in which the first mentioned constituency is situated, the Assembly electoral region in which the first mentioned constituency is situated, or any Assembly constituency or electoral region which includes the whole or any part of the first mentioned constituency as constituted for the purposes of the election (or any other Assembly constituency within that Assembly electoral region)¹²; or (2) if the offence was committed in relation to a regional election¹³, for or in the Assembly electoral region for which the election was held, any Assembly constituency situated in that electoral region, or any Assembly constituency or electoral region which includes the whole or part of the first mentioned electoral region as constituted for the purposes of the election (or any other Assembly constituency in that second mentioned Assembly electoral region)¹⁴.

A person convicted of a corrupt practice is subject to the incapacities imposed in relation to a candidate or other person reported by an election court personally guilty of a corrupt practice¹⁵ as if at the date of the conviction he had been reported personally guilty of that corrupt practice¹⁶. A person convicted of an illegal practice: (a) in relation to a constituency election, is subject to the incapacities imposed under head (1) above¹⁷; or (b) in relation to a regional election, is subject to the incapacities imposed under head (2) above¹⁸, as if at the date of the conviction he had been reported personally guilty of that illegal practice¹⁹.

Persons reported personally guilty of, or convicted of, corrupt or illegal practices at parliamentary elections or local government elections²⁰ or at European parliamentary elections are also subject²¹ to being declared incapable of being registered as an elector or voting at any Assembly election²².

1 For the meaning of 'Assembly election' see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to candidacy at such elections see PARA 234 post.

2 For the meaning of 'election court' for these purposes see PARA 762 note 6 post. For these purposes, 'person' includes (without prejudice to the provisions of the Interpretation Act 1978: see PARA 110 note 1 ante) an association corporate or unincorporate: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 2(1).

3 The incapacities imposed by ibid 109(3)(a) (see the text and notes 4-7 infra) apply only to a candidate or other person reported personally guilty of a corrupt practice under art 28 (personation: see PARA 733 post): see art 109(4); and PARA 905 post.

4 For these purposes, 'elector' means any person whose name is for the time being on the register of electors to be used at an Assembly election, but does not include those shown in the register as below voting age on the day fixed for the poll: ibid art 2(1). For the meaning of 'Assembly election' for these purposes see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to the registers of electors see PARA 156 et seq post; and as to the poll at an election of Assembly members see PARA 220 et seq post. Voting age is determined by reference to entitlement to vote as an elector at a local government election, ie 18 years (see PARA 112 note 14 ante).

5 For these purposes, 'voter' means a person voting at an Assembly election and includes a person voting as proxy and, except in ibid art 16(1), Sch 5 (as amended) (conduct of Assembly elections and return of Assembly members: see PARA 388 post), a person voting by proxy; and 'vote' (whether noun or verb) must be construed accordingly, except that in Sch 5 (as amended) any reference to an elector voting or an elector's vote must include a reference to an elector voting by proxy or elector's vote given by proxy: art 2(1). As to voting by proxy see PARA 372 et seq post.

6 For the meaning of 'Great Britain' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

7 See the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 109(3) (a); and PARA 905 post. The incapacity so imposed is subject to mitigation or remission under art 125: see PARA 907 post.

8 The incapacities imposed by ibid art 109(5)(a) (see head (1) in the text) or, as the case may be, by art 109(5)(b) (see head (2) in the text) apply only to a candidate or other person reported personally guilty of an illegal practice under art 29 (other voting offences: see PARA 703 post): see art 109(6); and PARA 905 post.

9 'European parliamentary election' has the same meaning as in the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 27(1) (as to which see PARA 21 note 2 ante): National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 2(1).

10 For the meaning of 'constituency election' for these purposes see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

11 For the meaning of 'Assembly electoral region' for these purposes see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

12 See the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 109(5) (a); and PARA 905 post. The incapacity so imposed is subject to mitigation or remission under art 125: see PARA 907 post.

13 For the meaning of 'regional election' for these purposes see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

14 See the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 109(5) (b); and PARA 905 post. The incapacity so imposed is subject to mitigation or remission under art 125: see PARA 907 post.

15 Ie the incapacities imposed by ibid art 109(3) (see the text and notes 1-7 supra). This is in addition to any punishment imposed otherwise for the same offence but subject to mitigation or remission under art 125 (see PARA 907 post).

16 See ibid art 122(1)(a); and PARA 905 post.

17 See ibid art 122(1)(b); and PARA 905 post.

18 See ibid art 122(1)(b); and PARA 905 post.

19 See ibid art 122(1)(b); and PARA 905 post.

20 For the meaning of 'local government election' for these purposes see PARA 17 note 3 ante.

21 Ie in addition to being subject to the incapacities set out in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 160(4) (as substituted) (see PARA 904 post) or s 173 (as substituted) (see PARA 904 post) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 107 (see PARA 906 post) (as the case may be). Note that the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, make no provision for incapacity arising from a candidate or other person having been reported by an election court personally guilty of a corrupt practice: see PARA 125 post.

22 See the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, arts 110-111, 123-124; and PARA 905 post.

125. Incapacity imposed for offences against electoral law during European parliamentary election.

A candidate at a European parliamentary election¹ or other person² convicted of a corrupt or illegal practice³ is, during the relevant period⁴, incapable of being registered as an elector⁵ or voting⁶ at any parliamentary⁷ or European parliamentary election in the United Kingdom⁸ or at any local government election⁹ in Great Britain¹⁰.

1 As to candidacy at a European parliamentary election see PARA 235 et seq post.

2 For these purposes, 'person' includes (without prejudice to the provisions of the Interpretation Act 1978: see PARA 110 note 1 ante) an association corporate or unincorporate: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 2(1).

3 The incapacity imposed by ibid reg 107(1)(a)(i) applies only to a candidate or other person convicted of a corrupt practice under reg 23 (personation: see PARA 733 post) or of an illegal practice under reg 24 (as amended) (other voting offences: see PARA 703 post): see reg 107(2); and PARA 906 post.

The European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, make no provision for incapacity arising from a candidate or other person having been reported by an election court personally guilty of a corrupt practice; cf the equivalent provisions in the Representation of the People Act 1983 (see PARA 123 ante) or the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284 (as amended) (see PARA 124 ante).

4 For these purposes, the relevant period is the period beginning with the date of the conviction and ending, in the case of a person convicted of a corrupt practice, five years after that date or, in the case of a person convicted of an illegal practice, three years after that date: see the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 107(3); and PARA 906 post.

5 For these purposes, 'elector' in relation to a European parliamentary election, means any person whose name is for the time being on the register of electors, but does not include those shown in the register as below voting age on the day fixed for the poll: ibid reg 2(1). 'Register of electors' means any part of: (1) a register of parliamentary or, in the case of peers, local government electors; (2) a register under the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3 (as substituted and amended) (peers resident outside the United Kingdom registered as European parliamentary electors: see PARA 116 ante); (3) a register under the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 5 (see PARA 156 post); and (4) the Gibraltar register (see PARA 131 note 2 post), in force within an electoral region at the time of a European parliamentary election in that region: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 2(1). As to the registers of electors see PARA 156 et seq post; as to electoral regions established for the purposes of European parliamentary elections see PARA 76 ante; and as to the poll at such an election see PARA 224 et seq post. 'Voting age' is currently 18 years for all purposes: see PARAS 110 note 2, 112 note 14, 117 note 9 ante.

6 For these purposes, 'voter' means a person voting at a European parliamentary election and includes a person voting as proxy and, except in the European parliamentary elections rules (ie the rules contained in ibid reg 9(1), Sch 1 (as amended): see PARA 388 post), a person voting by proxy; and 'vote' (whether noun or verb) must be construed accordingly, except that in the rules contained in Sch 1 (as amended) any reference to an elector voting or an elector's vote includes a reference to an elector voting by proxy or elector's vote given by proxy: reg 2(1). As to voting by proxy see PARA 372 et seq post.

7 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

8 For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

9 For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante.

10 See the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 107(1)(a)(i); and PARA 906 post. The incapacity so imposed is subject to mitigation or remission under reg 112: see PARA 907 post. For the meaning of 'Great Britain' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

UPDATE

125 Incapacity imposed for offences against electoral law during European parliamentary election

NOTES 2, 5, 6--SI 2004/293 reg 2(1) substituted: SI 2009/186.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(1) THE RIGHT TO VOTE/ (iii) Restrictions on Entitlement to Vote/B. INCAPACITIES IMPOSED ON ELECTORS FOR OFFENCES/126. Incapacity of public officials convicted of bribery or corruption.

126. Incapacity of public officials convicted of bribery or corruption.

Every person who is convicted for the second time of the statutory offence of bribery or corruption of or by members, officers or employees of public bodies¹ is liable, at the discretion of the court before which he is convicted, to be adjudged incapable for five years of being registered as an elector or voting at an election of members to serve in Parliament or of members of any public body².

¹ For the meaning of 'public body' in this context see CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(1) (2006 Reissue) PARA 529.

² Public Bodies Corrupt Practices Act 1889 ss 2(d), 7 (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1948 s 52(7)). See further CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(1) (2006 Reissue) PARA 529.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(i) In general/127. General provision made as to registration etc.

(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS

(i) In general

127. General provision made as to registration etc.

Provision may be made by regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983¹:

- 148 (1) with respect to the form of the register of electors and of any special lists or records required by the Representation of the People Act 1983 in connection with the register or with any election²;
- 149 (2) with respect to the procedure to be followed in the preparation of the register and the place and manner of its publication³, and the procedure to be followed in the preparation of any such special lists or records, and the time, place and manner of their publication⁴;
- 150 (3) generally with respect to any matters incidental to the provisions of the Representation of the People Act 1983 so far as those provisions relate to the registration of electors or to voting by post or proxy⁵; and
- 151 (4) for the supply of any such record or special list as is mentioned in heads (1) and (2) above to such persons as are prescribed⁶, with respect to any conditions subject to which the supply is made⁷, and making it an offence for a person to fail to comply with any such condition⁸.

For the purposes of elections for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales, the power to make provision by order as to the conduct of such elections includes, in particular, the power to make provision about the registration of electors and for disregarding alterations in a register of electors⁹. Entitlement to vote in such elections is otherwise dependent upon entries in the relevant register of local government electors made under the Representation of the People Act 1983¹⁰.

For the purposes of European parliamentary elections, special provision is made for the registration of peers resident outside the United Kingdom¹¹ and for the registration of relevant citizens of the European Union who are entitled to vote at such elections¹². Entitlement to vote in such elections is otherwise dependent upon entries in the relevant register made under the Representation of the People Act 1983, that is, the relevant register of parliamentary electors or (if a peer resident in the United Kingdom) the relevant register of local government electors¹³.

Without prejudice to the generality of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 53(1) (as amended), regulations made with respect to the matters mentioned in heads (1)-(3) in the text may contain any such provisions as are mentioned in Sch 2 paras 1-13 (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 ss 4, 11, 24, 28, Sch 2 Pt I, Sch 4 para 85, Sch 5; the Representation of the People Act 1989 s 5; the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 66(6), Sch 16 para 68(18); the Data Protection Act 1998 s 74(1), Sch 15 para 7;

As from a day to be appointed under the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 77(2), regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 53(4) (as added) (see head (4) in the text) or Sch 2 paras 10A, 10B (as added), Sch 2 para 11 (as substituted), Sch 2 para 11A (as added and amended) or Sch 2 para 13 (as amended) so far as relating to Sch 2 paras 10A-11A (as added and amended) have effect in relation to a CORE keeper and any information kept by him in pursuance of a CORE scheme as they have effect in relation to an electoral registration officer and any registers he is required to maintain under the Representation of the People Act 1983: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 2(2). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed. A CORE scheme may make such modifications of the regulations mentioned in s 2(2) in their application to a CORE keeper or the information kept by him as the Secretary of State thinks appropriate: s 2(3). As to CORE schemes and CORE keepers see PARA 185 post.

10 See PARA 114 ante.

11 Peers who are resident outside the United Kingdom may be registered under the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3 (as substituted and amended): see PARA 116 ante. The register must be published and, so far as practicable, combined with the registers of parliamentary electors and of local government electors, the names of the peers so registered being marked to indicate that fact: see PARA 116 note 7 ante.

12 A register of relevant citizens of the Union who are entitled to vote at European parliamentary elections is maintained under the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 4 (see PARA 131 post) and reg 5(2) (see PARA 156 post). For the meaning of 'relevant citizen of the Union' see PARA 117 note 4 ante. The register must, so far as practicable, be combined with the registers of parliamentary electors and of local government electors and with any register of peers kept under the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3 (as substituted and amended) (see note 12 supra), the names of the persons so registered being marked to indicate that fact: see PARA 160 post.

RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(ii) Entitlement to Registration/A. GENERAL ENTITLEMENT/128. Entitlement to be registered as a parliamentary or local government elector.

(ii) Entitlement to Registration

A. GENERAL ENTITLEMENT

128. Entitlement to be registered as a parliamentary or local government elector.

A person¹ is entitled to be registered in the register of parliamentary electors² for any constituency³ or part of a constituency if on the relevant date⁴ he:

- 152 (1) is resident⁵ in the constituency or that part of it⁶;
- 153 (2) is not subject to any legal incapacity⁷ to vote (age apart)⁸;
- 154 (3) is either a qualifying Commonwealth citizen⁹ or a citizen of the Republic of Ireland¹⁰; and
- 155 (4) is of voting age¹¹.

A person is entitled to be registered in the register of local government electors for any electoral area¹² if on the relevant date he:

- 156 (a) is resident in that area¹³;
- 157 (b) is not subject to any legal incapacity to vote (age apart)¹⁴;
- 158 (c) is a qualifying Commonwealth citizen, a citizen of the Republic of Ireland or a relevant citizen of the Union¹⁵; and
- 159 (d) is of voting age¹⁶.

These provisions¹⁷ have effect: (i) subject to any enactment imposing a disqualification for registration as a parliamentary or (as the case may be) local government elector¹⁸ and compliance with any prescribed¹⁹ requirements²⁰; and (ii) (as respects registration as a parliamentary elector) without prejudice to the provisions regarding the registration of British citizens overseas²¹.

A person otherwise qualified is entitled²² to be registered in a register of parliamentary electors or local government electors if he will attain voting age before the end of the period of 12 months beginning with 1 December next following the relevant date²³. However, his entry in the register must give the date on which he will attain that age²⁴ and until the date given in the entry he must not by virtue of the entry be treated as an elector for any purposes other than those of an election the date of the poll for which is the date so given or any later date²⁵.

1 As to the meaning of 'person' see PARA 110 note 1 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'elector' see PARA 110 note 2 ante. As to the registers of electors see PARA 160 et seq post.

3 For the meaning of 'constituency' for these purposes see PARA 9 ante.

4 For these purposes, 'the relevant date', in relation to a person, means: (1) the date on which an application for registration is made or, by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 10A(2) (as added) (see PARA 167 post), is treated as having been made, by him; (2) in the case of a person applying for registration in pursuance of a declaration of local connection or a service declaration, the date on which the declaration was made: s 4(6) (s 4 substituted by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 1(2)). As to declarations of local connection see PARA 136 et seq post; as to service declarations see PARA 140 et seq post; and as to applications for registration see PARA 167 et seq post. The Representation of the People Act 2000 changed the system for the registration of parliamentary and local government electors, removing the requirement for residence on a qualifying date for inclusion in a register of electors which had effect for one year and replacing it with a system of registration under which the registers of electors have continuing effect, subject to amendment ('rolling registration').

5 As to the residence requirement see PARA 132 et seq post.

6 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 4(1)(a) (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

7 As to the meaning of 'legal incapacity' for these purposes see PARA 110 note 8 ante.

8 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 4(1)(b) (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

9 For these purposes, 'qualifying Commonwealth citizen' means a Commonwealth citizen who: (1) is not a person who requires leave under the Immigration Act 1971 to enter or remain in the United Kingdom (see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 86 et seq); or (2) is such a person but for the time being has, or is, by virtue of any enactment, to be treated as having, any description of such leave: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 4(6) (as so substituted). For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante. As to who are Commonwealth citizens see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 11.

10 Ibid s 4(1)(c) (as substituted: see note 4 supra). As to who are citizens of the Republic of Ireland see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 12.

11 Ibid s 4(1)(d) (as substituted: see note 4 supra). As to voting age for the purposes of parliamentary elections see PARA 110 note 2 ante.

12 For the meaning of 'electoral area' see PARA 10 ante.

13 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 4(3)(a) (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

14 Ibid s 4(3)(b) (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

15 Ibid s 4(3)(c) (as substituted: see note 4 supra). For the meaning of 'relevant citizen of the Union' see PARA 112 note 13 ante.

For the purposes of extending the rights of citizens and nationals of accession states who (subject to the requirements of registration) may vote at local government and European parliamentary elections, s 4(3) (as substituted) is applied with modifications: see the Local and European Parliamentary Elections (Registration of Citizens of Accession States) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/1557, reg 2(1), (2), (3)(a).

18 Ibid s 4(4)(a)(i) (as substituted: see note 4 supra). As to restrictions on the entitlement to vote see PARA 122 et seq ante.

19 For these purposes, 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: ibid s 202(1). As to the making of regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983 generally see PARA 24 note 16 ante. As to the regulations made under s 4 (as substituted) see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, Pt III (regs 23-45) (as amended).

20 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 4(4)(a)(ii) (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

21 Ibid s 4(4)(b) (as substituted: see note 4 supra). The provisions referred to in the text are those contained in the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2(1) (as substituted) (see PARA 129 post).

22 Ie despite the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 4(1)(d) (as substituted) (see head (4) in the text) or s 4(3)(d) (as substituted) (see head (d) in the text), as the case may be.

23 Ibid s 4(5) (as substituted: see note 4 supra). For the purposes of extending the rights of peers who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, s 4(5) (as substituted) is applied with modifications: see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(4), Sch 4; and PARA 116 note 7 ante.

24 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 4(5)(a) (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

If a person entitled to be registered by virtue of s 4(5) (as substituted) has an anonymous entry in the register, the references in s 4(5)(a) (as substituted) and s 4(5)(b) (as substituted) (see the text and note 25 infra) to his entry in the register are to be read as references to his entry in the record of anonymous entries prepared in pursuance of s 53(1) (as amended), Sch 2 para 8A (as added) (provisions requiring the registration officer to prepare a record of those persons with anonymous entries in the register: see PARA 127 ante); s 4(5A) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 10(2), Sch 1 paras 2, 3). For the meaning of 'anonymous entry' in relation to a register of electors see PARA 174 post.

Entitlement to be registered as an overseas parliamentary elector.

129. Entitlement to be registered as an overseas parliamentary elector.

A person¹ is entitled to be registered in a register of parliamentary electors² in pursuance of a declaration (an 'overseas elector's declaration') made by him³ if: (1) the register is for the constituency⁴ or part of the constituency within which is situated the place in the United Kingdom⁵ specified in the declaration⁶ as having been the address in respect of which he was registered, or at which he was resident⁷, as the case may be⁸; and (2) the registration officer⁹ concerned is satisfied that, on the relevant date¹⁰, he qualifies as an overseas elector in respect of that constituency for which that register is prepared¹¹.

1 The Representation of the People Act 1985 ss 1-12 (as substituted) have effect as if contained in the Representation of the People Act 1983 Pt I (ss 1-66A) (as amended): Representation of the People Act 1985 s 27(2). As to the meaning of 'person' see PARA 110 note 1 ante; definition applied by virtue of s 27(2).

2 For the meaning of 'elector' see PARA 110 note 2 ante; definition applied by virtue of ibid s 27(2) (see note 1 supra). As to the registers of electors see PARA 160 et seq post.

3 Ie made under and in accordance with ibid s 2 (as substituted). As to the formalities of such a declaration see PARA 147 post.

For the purposes of extending the rights of peers who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, s 2 (as substituted) is applied with modifications: see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(4), Sch 4; and PARA 116 note 7 ante.

5 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(1). For the meaning of 'registration officer' see PARA 154 post. The register mentioned in the text must be prepared and published in accordance with reg 13 and the provisions applied by it: reg 13(1). As to the provisions so applied see PARA 116 note 7 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(ii) Entitlement to Registration/A. GENERAL ENTITLEMENT/131. Entitlement of relevant citizen of the European Union to be registered as a European parliamentary elector.

131. Entitlement of relevant citizen of the European Union to be registered as a European parliamentary elector.

A person is entitled to be registered in the register of relevant citizens of the Union¹ entitled to vote at European parliamentary elections² for part of an electoral region³ if on the relevant date⁴:

- 160 (1) he is resident in that part of the region⁵;
- 161 (2) he is not subject to any legal incapacity to vote (age apart)⁶;
- 162 (3) he is a relevant citizen of the Union⁷; and
- 163 (4) he is of voting age⁸,

and the registration officer⁹ has received in respect of him an application and declaration which has been duly made¹⁰. These provisions¹¹ have effect subject to: (a) any enactment¹² imposing a disqualification for registration as a European parliamentary elector¹³; and (b) compliance with the requirements of the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001¹⁴ and any provision applied by the regulations¹⁵.

A person otherwise qualified is¹⁶ entitled to be registered in a register of relevant citizens of the Union entitled to vote at European parliamentary elections¹⁷ if he will attain voting age before the end of the period of 12 months beginning with 1 December next following the relevant date¹⁸. However, his entry in the register must give the date on which he will attain that age¹⁹ and, until the date given in the entry, he must not by virtue of the entry be treated as an elector for any purposes other than those of an election the date of the poll for which is the date so given or any later date²⁰.

RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(ii) Entitlement to Registration/B. THE RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT/132. Determination of residence for registration as a parliamentary or local government elector.

B. THE RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

132. Determination of residence for registration as a parliamentary or local government elector.

For the purposes of ascertaining the entitlement of a person¹ to be registered as a parliamentary or local government elector², where the question as to whether a person is resident at a particular address on the relevant date³ falls to be determined⁴, regard must be had, in particular, to the purpose and other circumstances, as well as to the fact, of his presence at, or absence from, the address on that date⁵. For example, where at a particular time a person is staying at any place otherwise than on a permanent basis, he may in all the circumstances be taken to be at that time resident there if he has no home elsewhere, or not resident there if he does have a home elsewhere⁶. At common law, it has been held that a person's residence is by implication that person's home⁷, where at least he has a sleeping apartment⁸ or shares one, although merely sleeping on the premises is not conclusive of residence⁹. A person may reside on premises as a guest¹⁰, or as a trespasser¹¹ or otherwise unlawfully¹². When a person has a country and a town house, it is a mere question of fact whether he has two residences or only one residence¹³. A short-stay visitor is not resident¹⁴. One test of residence that has been applied is whether the person's presence at the address had, on the relevant date, a considerable degree of permanence¹⁵. However, permanence, like most aspects of residence, is a question of fact and degree¹⁶.

A person may be resident at an address even though he is temporarily absent from it¹⁷. His residence will, however, be interrupted if he is unable to return at will without the breach of a legal obligation, subject to the statutory provisions mentioned below¹⁸. For the statutory purpose of determining whether a person is resident in a dwelling¹⁹ on the relevant date²⁰, his residence in the dwelling is not deemed for registration purposes to have been interrupted by reason of his absence in the performance of any duty arising from or incidental to any office, service or employment²¹ held or undertaken by him²² if: (1) he intends to resume actual residence within six months of giving up such residence, and will not be prevented from doing so by the performance of that duty²³; or (2) the dwelling serves as a permanent place of residence (whether for himself or for himself and other persons) and he would be in actual residence there but for his absence in the performance of that duty²⁴. Special provision is made for the registration of persons by way of a declaration of local connection for which an address must be provided by the declarant so that the registration officer concerned or the returning officer may correspond with him (unless he is willing to collect such correspondence periodically from the registration officer's office)²⁵. A person who is detained at any place in legal custody is not, by reason of his presence there, to be treated as resident for the purposes of registration²⁶.

² For the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 4 (as substituted) (see PARA 128 ante). For the meaning of 'elector' see PARA 110 note 2 ante. As to the registers of electors see PARA 160 et seq post.

³ As to the relevant date for this purpose see PARA 128 note 4 ante. The scheme introduced by the Representation of the People Act 2000, which makes a person's registration dependent upon residence at a relevant date ('rolling registration'), operates in contrast to the schemes under the Representation of the People Act 1918 (and earlier enactments, all of which are now repealed) whereby a person had to be resident for a qualifying period before he was entitled to be registered or under the Representation of the People Act 1948 (now repealed) which required a person to be resident on a (fixed) qualifying date.

133. Residence of merchant seamen may be deemed.

For the purposes of entitlement to be registered as a parliamentary or local government elector¹, a merchant seaman², at any time when he is not resident³ in the United Kingdom⁴ and would have been resident there but for the nature of his occupation, is entitled to be treated as a resident⁵ at any place at which he would have been resident but for the nature of his occupation⁶, or at any hostel or club providing accommodation for merchant seamen at which he commonly stays in the course of his occupation⁷.

1 le for the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 4 (as substituted) (see PARA 128 ante). For the meaning of 'elector' see PARA 110 note 2 ante.

2 For these purposes, 'merchant seaman' means any person not having a service qualification whose employment or the greater part of it is carried out on board seagoing ships, and includes any such person while temporarily without employment: ibid s 6. As to the meaning of 'person' see PARA 110 note 1 ante. As to the service qualification see PARA 140 et seq post.

For the purposes of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, s 6 (as amended) is applied with modifications: see the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule; and PARA 117 note 5 ante. Residence of patients in mental hospitals who are not detained offenders or on remand may be deemed.

134. Residence of patients in mental hospitals who are not detained offenders or on remand may be deemed.

For the purposes of ascertaining entitlement to be registered as a parliamentary or local government elector¹, a person² who is a patient in a mental hospital³ (whether or not he is liable to be detained there)⁴ but who is not a detained offender⁵ or on remand⁶, must be regarded as resident at the mental hospital in question if the length of the period which he is likely to spend at the hospital is sufficient for him to be regarded as being resident there for the purposes of electoral registration⁷.

1 He for the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 4 (as substituted) (see PARA 128 ante). For the meaning of 'elector' see PARA 110 note 2 ante.

2 As to the meaning of 'person' see PARA 110 note 1 ante.

3 For these purposes, 'mental hospital' means any establishment (or part of an establishment) maintained wholly or mainly for the reception and treatment of persons suffering from any form of mental disorder: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7(6) (s 7 substituted by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 4). 'Mental disorder', in relation to England or Wales, has the same meaning as in the Mental Health Act 1983 (see MENTAL HEALTH vol 30(2) (Reissue) PARA 402): Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7(6)(a) (as so substituted).

For the purposes of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, s 7 (as substituted and amended) is applied with modifications: see the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule; and PARA 117 note 5 ante. 4 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7(1)(a) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra. The text refers to a person who may be a voluntary patient in a mental hospital.

5 He is not a person to whom ibid s 3A (as added and amended) (see PARA 122 ante) applies.

6 Ibid s 7(1)(b) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra. The text refers to a person to whom s 7A (as added and amended) (see PARA 135 post) applies.

7 Ibid s 7(2) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). However, s 7(2) (as substituted) must not be taken as precluding the registration of a person to whom s 7 (as substituted and amended) applies either by virtue of his residence at some place other than the mental hospital in which he is a patient (s 7(5)(a) (as so substituted)) or in pursuance of a declaration of local connection (s 7(5)(b) (as so substituted)). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra. As to the removal from the register of entries made in pursuance of a deemed residence see PARA 187 post.

RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(ii) Entitlement to Registration/B. THE RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT/135. Residence of persons remanded in custody may be deemed.

135. Residence of persons remanded in custody may be deemed.

For the purposes of ascertaining entitlement to be registered as a parliamentary or local government elector¹, a person² who is detained at any place pursuant to a relevant order or direction³ and is so detained otherwise than after⁴ being convicted of any offence⁵, or a finding in criminal proceedings that he did the act or made the omission charged⁶, must be regarded as resident at the place at which he is detained if the length of the period which he is likely to spend at that place is sufficient for him to be regarded as being resident there for the purposes of electoral registration⁷.

1 le for the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 4 (as substituted) (see PARA 128 ante). For the meaning of 'elector' see PARA 110 note 2 ante.

2 As to the meaning of 'person' see PARA 110 note 1 ante.

3 le a remand or committal in custody, a remand to a hospital under the Mental Health Act 1983 s 35 (remand for report on accused's mental condition: see MENTAL HEALTH vol 30(2) (Reissue) PARA 489) or s 36 (remand of accused person to hospital for treatment: see MENTAL HEALTH vol 30(2) (Reissue) PARA 489) or a direction for removal to a hospital under s 48 (as amended) (removal to hospital of certain prisoners: see MENTAL HEALTH vol 30(2) (Reissue) PARA 536): Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7A(6) (s 7A added by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 5).

For the purposes of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirements of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7A (as added and amended) is applied with modifications: see the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule; and PARA 117 note 5 ante. Residence deemed by way of declaration of local connection.

136. Residence deemed by way of declaration of local connection.

A declaration of local connection may be made by any person¹ who on the date when he makes such a declaration is:

- 164 (1) a person who is a patient in a mental hospital² (whether or not he is liable to be detained there) but who is not a detained offender or on remand³ and who would not be entitled to be registered by virtue of residence⁴ at any place other than the mental hospital⁵ at which he is a patient⁶; or
- 165 (2) a person who is detained at any place pursuant to a relevant committal, custodial or hospital order or direction⁷ and is so detained otherwise than after being convicted of any offence, or a finding in criminal proceedings that he did the act or made the omission charged⁸ and who would not be entitled to be registered by virtue of residence at any place other than the place at which he is detained⁹; or
- 166 (3) a person who does not fall within head (1) or head (2) above (and is not otherwise in legal custody) and who is not, for the purposes of ascertaining his entitlement to be registered as a parliamentary or local government elector¹⁰, resident at any address in the United Kingdom¹¹ (a 'homeless person')¹².

Such a declaration may be made only by a person to whom head (1), (2) or (3) above applies¹³, but may be made by such a person despite the fact that by reason of his age he is not entitled to vote¹⁴.

A declaration of local connection may be cancelled at any time by the declarant¹⁵.

137. Formalities associated with declaration of local connection.

A declaration of local connection¹ must state:

- 167 (1) the name of the declarant and either an address to which correspondence for him from either the registration officer² concerned or the returning officer can be delivered³, or that he is willing to collect such correspondence periodically from the registration officer's office⁴;
- 168 (2) the date of the declaration⁵;
- 169 (3) that on the date of the declaration the declarant falls into one of the categories of persons who may make such a declaration⁶, specifying the category in question⁷, and (in the case of a person⁸ whose category is not that of a homeless person) the name and address of the mental hospital⁹ at which he is a patient or (as the case may be) of the place at which he is detained¹⁰;
- 170 (4) the required address¹¹;
- 171 (5) that on the date of the declaration the declarant is a Commonwealth citizen¹² or a citizen of the Republic of Ireland¹³ or (if the declaration is made for the purposes only of local government elections¹⁴) a relevant citizen of the Union¹⁵;
- 172 (6) whether the declarant has on the date of the declaration attained the age of 18 years, and, if he has not, the date of his birth¹⁶.

1 As to who may make a declaration of local connection and the effect of such a declaration see PARA 136 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'registration officer' see PARA 154 post.

3 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7B(3)(a)(i) (s 7B added by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 6). As to returning officers see PARA 355 post.

For the purposes of extending the rights of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, and of citizens and nationals of accession states who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at local government and European parliamentary elections, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7B (as added) is applied with modifications: see the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule (cited in PARA 117 note 5 ante); and the Local and European Parliamentary Elections (Registration of Citizens of Accession States) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/1557, reg 2(1), (3)(b), (c). For the meaning of 'relevant citizen of the Union' for these purposes see PARA 117 note 4 ante.

4 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7B(3)(a)(ii) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra. There is no attestation required for a declaration of local connection, as this might be difficult for eg a homeless person to comply with; cf service or overseas electors declarations.

5 Ibid s 7B(3)(b) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra.

6 Ie one of the categories of persons to whom ibid s 7B (as added) applies (see PARA 136 ante).

7 Ibid s 7B(3)(c)(i) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra.

8 le a person falling within ibid s 7B(2)(a) (as added) (see PARA 136 ante) or s 7B(2)(b) (as added) (see PARA 136 ante).

9 For the meaning of 'mental hospital' see PARA 134 note 3 ante.

10 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7B(3)(c)(ii) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra. The text refers to the place at which the person in question is detained as mentioned in s 7A(1) (as added) (see PARA 135 ante).

11 Ibid s 7B(3)(d) (as added: see note 3 supra). For these purposes, the 'required address' is:

- 34 (1) in the case of a person falling within s 7B(2)(a), (b) (as added) (see PARA 136 ante): (a) the address in the United Kingdom where he would be residing if he were not such a patient, or detained, as mentioned in that provision (s 7B(4)(a)(i) (as so added)); or (b) if he cannot give such an address, an address in the United Kingdom at which he has resided (s 7B(4)(a)(ii) (as so added));
- 35 (2) in the case of a homeless person, the address of, or which is nearest to, a place in the United Kingdom where he commonly spends a substantial part of his time (whether during the day or at night) (s 7B(4)(b) (as so added)).

For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

Where a declaration of local connection made by a homeless person is delivered to the registration officer concerned during the period (s 7B(6) (as so added)):

- 36 (i) beginning with the date when a vacancy occurs: (A) in the seat for the parliamentary constituency within which the required address falls (s 7B(6)(a)(i) (as so added)); or (B) in the seat for any National Assembly for Wales constituency within which it falls (s 7B(6)(a)(ii) (as so added)); and
- 37 (ii) ending on the final nomination day, within the meaning of s 13B (as added and amended) (alteration of registers (pending elections): see PARA 175 post), for the parliamentary by-election, or (as the case may be) the election under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 8 (election to fill a vacancy for the seat of an Assembly member returned for an Assembly constituency: see PARA 221 post), held in respect of that vacancy (Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7B(6)(b) (as so added)), the declaration must state that, during the period of three months ending on the date of the declaration, the declarant has commonly been spending a substantial part of his time (whether during the day or at night) at, or near, the required address (s 7B(6) (as so added)). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra. The provisions of the Government of Wales Act 1998 are superseded by the Government of Wales Act 2006 immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5). After that date head (ii) supra is to be taken to refer to the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 10: see PARA 221 post.

137 Formalities associated with declaration of local connection

NOTE 11--Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7B(6)(b) amended: SI 2007/1388.

138. Invalid declaration of local connection.

If a person makes a declaration of local connection¹ stating more than one address², or makes more than one declaration of local connection bearing the same date and stating different addresses³, the declaration or declarations are void⁴.

A declaration of local connection is of no effect unless it is received by the registration officer⁵ concerned within the period of three months beginning with the date of the declaration⁶.

1 See PARAS 136-137 ante.

2 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7B(8)(a) (s 7B added by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 6). The text refers to the address stated under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7B(3)(d) (as added) (see PARA 137 ante).

3 Ibid s 7B(8)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra).

4 Ibid s 7B(8) (as added: see note 2 supra). As to offences associated with declarations of local connection see PARA 738 post.

6 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7B(10) (as added: see note 2 supra).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(ii) Entitlement to Registration/B. THE RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT/139. Effect of declaration of local connection.

139. Effect of declaration of local connection.

Where a person's declaration of local connection is in force¹ when he applies for registration², he must be regarded for the purposes of ascertaining his entitlement to be registered as a parliamentary or local government elector³ as resident on the date of the declaration at the address stated in it⁴.

No declaration of local connection is to be specially made by a person for the purposes of local government elections, and any such declaration made for the purposes of parliamentary elections⁵ is to have effect also for the purposes of local government elections⁶. However, a declaration of local connection may be made for the purposes only of local government elections by a person who is as a peer subject to a legal incapacity to vote at parliamentary elections⁷ or by a relevant citizen of the Union⁸ and, where so made, is to be marked to show that it is available for local government elections only, but must in all other respects be the same as other declarations of local connection⁹.

1 As to the formalities associated with a declaration of local connection see PARA 137 ante; and as to the removal from the register of entries made in pursuance of such a declaration see PARA 187 post. As to the registration officer's duty to send reminders to electors registered pursuant to a declaration see PARA 156 post.

2 As to applications for registration see PARA 167 et seq post.

3 le for the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 4 (as substituted) (see PARA 128 ante).

4 Ibid s 7C(1)(a) (ss 7B, 7C added by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 6). The text refers to the address stated in accordance with the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7B(3)(d) (as added) (see PARA 137 ante). The provisions of s 7C (as added and amended) must not be taken as precluding the registration of a person falling within s 7B(2)(a), (b) (as added) (see PARA 136 ante) in pursuance of an application made by virtue of s 7(2) (as substituted) (see PARA 134 ante) or s 7A(2) (as added) (see PARA 135 ante): s 7C(4) (as so added).

For the purposes of extending the rights of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, and of citizens and nationals of accession states who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at local government and European parliamentary elections, s 7B (as added) and s 7C (as added and amended) are applied with modifications: see the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule (cited in PARA 117 note 5 ante); and the Local and European Parliamentary Elections (Registration of Citizens of Accession States) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/1557, reg 2(1), (3)(b), (c). C. SERVICE QUALIFICATION AND SERVICE DECLARATIONS

140. Service qualification.

For the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983, a person¹ has a service qualification who:

- 173 (1) is a member of the forces²;
- 174 (2) (not being such a member) is employed in the service of the Crown in a post outside the United Kingdom of any prescribed class or description³;
- 175 (3) is employed by the British Council⁴ in a post outside the United Kingdom⁵;
- 176 (4) is the spouse or civil partner of a member of the forces⁶;
- 177 (5) is the spouse or civil partner of a person mentioned in head (2) or head (3) above and is residing outside the United Kingdom to be with that person⁷.

Where a person leaves the United Kingdom to take up employment or residence as mentioned in heads (1) to (5) above or returns to the United Kingdom at the end of such employment or residence, the employment or residence is deemed to begin from the time of leaving or to continue until the time of returning, as the case may be⁸.

Statutory guidance must be made available to persons having a service qualification by virtue of heads (1) to (3) above⁹.

RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(ii) Entitlement to Registration/C. SERVICE QUALIFICATION AND SERVICE DECLARATIONS/141. Service declaration.

141. Service declaration.

A service declaration may be made only by a person who has a service qualification¹, or by a person about to leave the United Kingdom² in such circumstances as to acquire a service qualification³. A service declaration may be made by such a person notwithstanding the fact that by reason of his age he is not yet entitled to vote⁴.

A service declaration may at any time be cancelled by the declarant⁵.

1 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 15(1)(a). As to the persons who have a service qualification see PARA 140 ante. If a service declaration fails to comply with the requirements of s 15 (as amended), it should be returned to the declarant: see PARA 144 post.

For the purposes of the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284 (as amended), and the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, 'service voter' means a person who has made a service declaration under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 15 (as amended) and is registered or entitled to be registered in pursuance of it: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 2(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 2(1).

2 For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

3 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 15(1)(b). Conditions may be prescribed in respect of a person about to leave the United Kingdom in such circumstances as to acquire a service qualification: s 15(1)(b). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: s 202(1). At the date at which this volume states the law, no regulations had been made under s 15(1)(b). As to the making of regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983 generally see PARA 24 note 16 ante. See note 1 supra.

4 Ibid s 15(1). See note 1 supra. As to entitlement to vote see PARA 110 et seq ante.

5 Ibid s 15(7) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 2000 ss 8, 15(2), Sch 1 paras 1, 8(1), (3), Sch 7 Pt I). See note 1 supra. A cancellation as mentioned in the text terminates the entitlement to vote in pursuance of a service declaration: see PARA 188 post.

UPDATE

141 Service declaration

NOTE 1--SI 2004/293 reg 2(1) substituted: SI 2009/186.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(ii) Entitlement to Registration/C. SERVICE QUALIFICATION AND SERVICE DECLARATIONS/142. Formalities associated with service declarations.

142. Formalities associated with service declarations.

A service declaration¹ must state:

- 178 (1) the date of the declaration²;
- 179 (2) that on that date the declarant is or but for the circumstances entitling him to make the declaration would have been residing in the United Kingdom³;
- 180 (3) the address where the declarant is or (as the case may be) would have been residing in the United Kingdom or, if he cannot give any such address, an address at which he has resided in the United Kingdom⁴;
- 181 (4) that on the date of the declaration the declarant is a Commonwealth citizen⁵ or a citizen of the Republic of Ireland⁶ or a relevant citizen of the Union⁷;
- 182 (5) whether the declarant had on the date of the declaration attained the age of 18 years, and, if he had not, the date of his birth⁸;
- 183 (6) such particulars, if any, of the declarant's identity and service qualification as may be prescribed⁹.

Except where the declarant is a member of the forces or the spouse or civil partner of such a member, a service declaration must be attested in the manner prescribed¹⁰.

1 As to service declarations see PARA 141 ante.

2 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 16(a).

3 Ibid s 16(b) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 2000 ss 8, 15(2), Sch 1 paras 1, 9(a), Sch 7 Pt I). For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

4 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 16(d) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 1 paras 1, 9(c), Sch 7 Pt I). Examples might assist to explain the variety of possible circumstances envisaged by this provision. A declarant who is, for example, a member of the forces might be serving in the United Kingdom at the time of making the declaration and therefore residing at an address here; or although at that time he is serving abroad, he can give an address at which he will reside on his return to the United Kingdom (notwithstanding that he has possibly not resided there in the past); or he might be able to give an address at which he would have been residing but for his service elsewhere; finally if he has permanently left his previous home in the United Kingdom because of his service with the forces, he must give an address at which he has resided here.

5 As to who are Commonwealth citizens see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 11.

6 As to who are citizens of the Republic of Ireland see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 12.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 16(e) (amended by the Local Government Elections (Changes to the Franchise and Qualification of Members) Regulations 1995, SI 1995/1948, reg 5(2), Sch 2 para 3). For the meaning of 'relevant citizen of the Union' see PARA 112 note 13 ante.

For the purposes of extending the rights of citizens and nationals of accession states who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at local government and European parliamentary elections, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 16(e) (as amended) is applied with modifications: see the Local and European Parliamentary Elections (Registration of Citizens of Accession States) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/1557, reg 2(1), (3)(e).

8 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 16(f).

9 Ibid s 16(g). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: s 202(1). Accordingly, in addition to the matters specified in s 16(a)-(f) (as amended) (see heads (1)-(5) in the text), a service declaration must state:

- 38 (1) the declarant's full name and present address, the grounds on which the declarant claims a service declaration, and such of the particulars specified in head (2), (3) or (4) infra as are relevant to the service qualification claimed by the declarant (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 15(1));
- 39 (2) where the declarant claims a service qualification on the grounds that he is a member of the forces (within the meaning of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 59(1) (as amended): see PARA 140 note 2 ante) or the spouse or civil partner of such a member, the service declaration must state the service (whether naval, military or air forces) in which that member serves, the rank or rating of that member, and the service number of that member, and where that member serves in the military forces, the service declaration must in addition state the regiment or corps in which he serves (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 15(2) (reg 15(2)-(4) amended by SI 2005/2114));
- 40 (3) where the declarant claims a service qualification on the grounds that he is a Crown servant to whom the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 14 applies (see PARA 140 note 3 ante) or the spouse or civil partner of such a servant, the service declaration must state the name of the government department in which that servant works and a description of the post of that servant (reg 15(3) (as so amended));
- 41 (4) where the declarant claims a service qualification on the grounds that he is a British Council employee or the spouse or civil partner of such an employee, the service declaration must state a description of the post of that employee (reg 15(4) (as so amended)).

For these purposes, 'British Council employee' means a person employed by the British Council in a post outside the United Kingdom; and 'Crown servant' means a person who is employed in a post falling within the class or description set out in reg 14 (see PARA 140 note 3 ante): reg 3(1). If a declaration fails to contain the required particulars, it should be returned to the declarant: see PARA 144 post.

10 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 16 (amended by the Civil Partnership Act 2004 s 261(1), Sch 27 para 81). At the date at which this volume states the law, no regulations had been made regarding the manner in which a service declaration must be attested.

143. Transmission of service declaration.

A service declaration¹ made by a member of the forces or his spouse or civil partner must be transmitted to the appropriate registration officer².

A service declaration by a person who is or will be a Crown servant³ or by his spouse or civil partner must be transmitted by the declarant to the government department under which that person or his spouse is or will be employed or to an officer designated by that department, and transmitted by that department or officer to the appropriate registration officer⁴.

A service declaration by a person who is or will be a British Council employee⁵ or by his spouse or civil partner must be transmitted by the declarant to the British Council and transmitted by the British Council to the appropriate registration officer⁶.

Where the registration officer is satisfied that the declaration is duly made out, he is required so to notify the declarant⁷.

1 As to the making of service declarations see PARAS 141-142 ante.

2 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 16(1) (reg 16(1)-(3) amended by the Civil Partnership Act 2004 (Amendments to Subordinate Legislation) Order 2005, SI 2005/2114, art 2(8), Sch 8 para 1(1), (3)). For these purposes, 'appropriate registration officer' means the registration officer for the area within which is situated the address specified in the declaration in accordance with the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 16(d) (as amended) (see PARA 142 ante): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 16(4). For the meaning of 'registration officer' see PARA 154 note 1 post. Where a declaration is transmitted too late for the declarant's name to be included in the electors' lists, it is treated as a claim to be registered: see PARA 167 post.

3 See PARA 140 note 3 ante. For the meaning of 'Crown servant' see PARA 142 note 9 ante.

4 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 16(2) (as amended: see note 2 supra). If the declaration is sent direct to the registration officer by the declarant, it should be returned to the declarant: see PARA 144 post.

144. Invalid declarations.

A service declaration¹ is of no effect unless it is received by the registration officer² concerned within the period of three months beginning with the date of the declaration³.

If a person makes a service declaration declaring to more than one address⁴ or makes more than one service declaration bearing the same date and declaring to different addresses⁵, the declaration or declarations are void⁶.

Where the registration officer rejects an application for registration⁷ in pursuance of a service declaration because it either does not contain the required particulars⁸ or because it does not comply with the requirements as to the service qualification⁹, the making of service declarations¹⁰, the qualification for Crown servants¹¹, or the transmission of such declarations¹², he must return the declaration to the declarant setting out his reasons for so doing¹³.

145. Effect of service declaration.

Where a person's service declaration¹ is in force when he applies for registration², he must be regarded for the purposes of ascertaining his entitlement to be registered as a parliamentary or local government elector³ as resident on the date of the declaration at the address specified in it⁴ and, until the contrary is proved, as being a Commonwealth citizen⁵ or a citizen of the Republic of Ireland⁶ or a relevant citizen of the Union⁷ of the age appearing from the declaration⁸ and as not being subject to any legal incapacity⁹ except as so appearing¹⁰. Where a service declaration appearing to be properly made out¹¹ and (where required) attested is transmitted to the registration officer in the proper manner¹², then until the contrary is proved the declarant must be treated for the purposes of registration as having had from the date of the declaration, or such later date, if any, as appears from it¹³, and as continuing to have, a service qualification¹⁴.

A service declaration made for the purpose of parliamentary elections has effect also for the purpose of local government elections¹⁵. No service declaration may be specially made for the purpose of local government elections¹⁶, except by a peer who is subject to a legal incapacity to vote at parliamentary elections or by a relevant citizen of the Union¹⁷; in such a case, the declaration must be marked to show that it is available for local government elections only but must in other respects be the same as other service declarations¹⁸.

Until a day to be appointed¹, arrangements must be made by the appropriate government department² for securing that (so far as circumstances permit) every person having a service qualification either as a member of the forces³ or on account of being employed in the service of the Crown⁴ has an effective opportunity of exercising from time to time as occasion may require the rights conferred on him in relation to the making and cancellation of service declarations⁵ and of appointments of a proxy⁶ and in relation to voting by post⁷. The appropriate government department must also arrange for him to receive instructions as to the effect of the Representation of the People Act 1983 and any regulations made under it, and such other assistance as may reasonably suffice in connection with the exercise by that person and any spouse or civil partner of that person of any rights conferred on them by the Act in relation to the making and cancellation of service declarations and of appointments of a proxy and in relation to voting by post⁸.

As from a day to be appointed⁹, arrangements must be made by the appropriate government department¹⁰ for securing that every person having a service qualification either as a member of the forces¹¹ or on account of being employed in the service of the Crown¹² has (so far as circumstances permit) an effective opportunity of exercising from time to time as occasion may require the rights conferred on him by the Representation of the People Act 1983 in relation to: (1) registration in a register of electors (and in particular in relation to the making and cancellation of service declarations)¹³; (2) the making and cancellation of appointments of a proxy¹⁴; and (3) voting in person, by post or by proxy¹⁵. Arrangements must be made by the appropriate government department for securing that every such person receives such instructions as to the effect of the Representation of the People Act 1983 and any regulations made under it, and such other assistance, as may be reasonably sufficient in connection with the exercise by that person and any spouse or civil partner of that person of any rights conferred on them as mentioned in heads (1) to (3) above¹⁶. The Ministry of Defence must maintain, in relation to each member of the forces who provides information relating to his registration as an elector, a record of such information¹⁷ and must make arrangements to enable each member of the forces to update annually the information so recorded¹⁸.

In relation to British Council employees¹⁹ and their spouses and partners, the British Council has obligations with regard to the making of arrangements, corresponding to those imposed on the appropriate government department²⁰.

1 As from a day to be appointed under the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 77(2), the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 59(3) (as amended) is substituted, and s 59(3A)-(3D) is added, by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 13(2). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

2 'Appropriate government department', in relation to members of the forces, means the Ministry of Defence and, in relation to any other person, means the government department under which he is employed in the employment giving the service qualification: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 59(3). 146 Guidance for service voters

NOTES 1, 20--Day now appointed: SI 2007/3376.

D. OVERSEAS ELECTORS DECLARATIONS

147. Formalities associated with overseas elector's declarations.

An overseas elector's declaration¹ must:

- 184 (1) state:
 5. (a) the date of the declaration²;
 6. (b) that the declarant is a British citizen³;
 7. (c) that the declarant will not be resident in the United Kingdom⁴ on the relevant date⁵; and
 8. (d) when he ceased to be so resident or, in the case of a person relying on registration in pursuance of a service declaration⁶, when he ceased to have a service qualification⁷ or, if later, ceased to be so resident⁸;
- 185 (2) show which of the two sets of conditions⁹ the declarant claims to satisfy¹⁰;
- 186 (3) in the case of the first set of conditions, specify the address in respect of which he was registered¹¹; and
- 187 (4) in the case of the second set of conditions, specify:
 9. (a) the date of the declarant's birth¹²;
 10. (b) the address in the United Kingdom at which he was resident¹³; and
 11. (c) the name of the parent or guardian on whose registration in respect of that address he relies, and whether the person named was a parent or guardian¹⁴.

The declaration must contain such other information and satisfy such other requirements as may be prescribed¹⁵. Accordingly, in addition to the information required by heads (1) to (4) above, an overseas elector's declaration must state the declarant's full name and present address¹⁶ and certain other information¹⁷ where appropriate¹⁸.

An overseas elector's declaration may be cancelled at any time by the declarant¹⁹.

1 For the meaning of 'overseas elector's declaration' see PARA 129 ante.

2 Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2(3)(a) (s 2 substituted by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 8, Sch 2 paras 1, 3).

For the purposes of the registration of peers who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2 (as substituted) is applied with modifications: see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(4), Sch 4; and PARA 116 note 7 ante.

3 Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2(3)(b) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra. As to who are British citizens see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 8 et seq.

4 For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

5 Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2(3)(c) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra. As to the relevant date for these purposes see PARAS 111 note 6, 129 note 10 ante.

6 As to service declarations see PARA 140 et seq ante.

7 As to when a person ceases to have a service qualification see PARAS 141, 144 ante.

8 Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2(3)(d) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra. This date is relevant for the purposes of the registration officer determining whether the conditions as to qualification as an overseas elector are satisfied (as to which see PARA 111 ante).

9 Ie the conditions in ibid s 1(3), (4) (as substituted and amended) (see PARA 111 ante).

10 Ibid s 2(4)(a) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra.

11 Ibid s 2(4)(b) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). It is with reference to this address that the declarant claims to be registered (see PARA 129 ante). An overseas elector's declaration may not, in the case of either set of conditions, specify more than one such address: s 2(4) (as so substituted). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra.

12 Ibid s 2(4)(c)(i) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra.

13 Ibid s 2(4)(c)(ii) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra. See also note 11 supra.

14 Ibid s 2(4)(c)(iii) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra. The text refers to the name of the parent or guardian upon whose registration a declarant must rely where he cannot rely upon his own previous inclusion in a register of parliamentary electors on account of his age and where the conditions specified in s 1(4) (as substituted and amended) (the 'second set of conditions': see PARA 111 ante) apply.

15 Ibid s 2(3) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). Sections 1-12 (as amended) have effect as if contained in the Representation of the People Act 1983 Pt I (ss 1-66A) (as amended): Representation of the People Act 1985 s 27(2). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1); applied by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 27(2). As to the making of regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1985 generally see PARA 24 note 16 ante; and as to the regulations made for the purposes of s 2(3) (as substituted) see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended); the text and notes 16-18 infra; and PARA 148 post. The requirements prescribed as mentioned in the text may include requirements for declarations to be attested and for the charging of fees in respect of their attestation: Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2(3) (as so substituted). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra. As to the attestation of overseas elector's declarations see further PARA 149 post.

16 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 18(1).

17 Ie any extra information required by ibid reg 18(2)-(7) (see PARA 148 post).

18 Ibid reg 18(1).

By virtue of reg 13(6), (7), reg 18 applies to registration in pursuance of a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration as it applies to registration in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration: see PARA 116 note 7 ante.

19 Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2(5) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra. A cancellation as mentioned in the text terminates the entitlement to vote in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration: see PARA 188 post.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(ii) Entitlement to Registration/D. OVERSEAS ELECTORS DECLARATIONS/148. Additional information required to be stated in overseas elector's declaration in appropriate circumstances.

148. Additional information required to be stated in overseas elector's declaration in appropriate circumstances.

Where appropriate, the following additional information¹ must be stated in an overseas elector's declaration².

If the declarant was last registered in pursuance of a service or other declaration³, rather than actual residence at an address specified in an overseas elector's declaration⁴, and he no longer had connection with that address at the time at which he was so registered⁵, the declaration must include a statement that the declarant was so registered⁶; and if the declarant claims that his name has changed since he was last registered in respect of the address specified in an overseas elector's declaration⁷, that declaration must set out the name in respect of which the declarant was last previously registered⁸, and give the reason for the change of name⁹.

If a declarant has on a previous occasion been registered in a register of parliamentary electors¹⁰ in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration¹¹, and has not, since being so registered, been registered in such a register¹² by virtue of being resident or treated for the purposes of registration as resident at an address in the United Kingdom¹³, his overseas elector's declaration must state those facts and indicate when he was last registered in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration¹⁴; and if a declarant has not made an overseas elector's declaration in pursuance of which he was registered in a register of parliamentary electors since being included in such a register¹⁵ by virtue of being resident or treated for the purposes of registration as resident at an address in the United Kingdom, or has never made such a declaration, his overseas elector's declaration must state¹⁶: (1) in the case of a declarant who is the bearer of a British passport which describes his national status as 'British citizen', the number of that passport together with its date and place of issue¹⁷; or (2) in the case of a declarant who is not the bearer of such a passport, but who was born in the United Kingdom before 1 January 1983, those facts¹⁸; or (3) in the case of a declarant to whom neither head (1) nor head (2) above applies, when and how he acquired the status of British citizen, together with the date, place and country of his birth¹⁹.

In the case of a declarant who is required to transmit a copy of his birth certificate together with his declaration²⁰, if his name on his birth certificate is not the same as his name as given in his overseas elector's declaration, that declaration must state the reason for the change of name²¹; and if such a declarant relies on the registration of either: (a) a parent whose name in the register of parliamentary or local government electors in force on the relevant date²² is not the same as the name of that parent as given in either the declarant's birth certificate or overseas elector's declaration²³, or (b) a guardian whose name in the relevant register²⁴ is not the same as the name of that guardian as given in the declarant's overseas elector's declaration²⁵, that declaration must state the name of the parent or, as the case may be, guardian as given in the relevant register²⁶ and, where known, the reason for the change or, as the case may be, changes of name or, where such reason (or reasons) is not known, a statement to that effect²⁷.

2 Ibid reg 18(1). For the meaning of 'overseas elector's declaration' see PARA 129 ante. As to the information which must be included in every overseas elector's declaration see PARA 147 ante.

By virtue of reg 13(6), (7), reg 18 applies to registration in pursuance of a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration as it applies to registration in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration: see PARA 116 note 7 ante.

3 As to registration in pursuance of a declaration of local connection see PARA 136 et seq ante; and as to registration in pursuance of a service declaration see PARA 140 et seq ante.

4 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 18(2)(a). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra. The text refers to an address specified in pursuance of the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2(4)(b) (as substituted) (see PARA 147 ante), where a declarant has previously been included in a register of parliamentary electors and where the other conditions specified in s 1(3) (as substituted and amended) (the 'first set of conditions': see PARA 111 ante) apply. In the case of a person registered in pursuance of a service or other declaration, the address might not have been included in the register of electors and the elector's name included under the heading 'Other electors' at the end of the relevant section of the register: see PARA 160 post.

12 For the purposes of its application in relation to a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration (see note 2 supra), ibid reg 18(4) has effect as if, in addition to the modifications made by reg 13(6), the words 'a register of local government electors' were substituted for the words 'such a register': reg 18(4). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra. A peer's entitlement is based on his registration as a local government elector, previously having been denied registration as a parliamentary elector (see PARA 116 ante).

13 Ibid reg 18(4)(b). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra.

14 Ibid reg 18(4). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra.

15 For the purposes of its application in relation to a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration (see note 2 supra), ibid reg 18(5) has effect as if, in addition to the modifications made by reg 13(6), the words 'a register of local government electors' were substituted for the words 'such a register': reg 18(5). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra.

RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(ii) Entitlement to Registration/D. OVERSEAS ELECTORS DECLARATIONS/149. Attestation of certain overseas electors' declarations.

149. Attestation of certain overseas electors' declarations.

An overseas elector's declaration¹ must be attested by the bearer of a British passport which described his national status as a 'British citizen'² who: (1) is not resident in the United Kingdom³; (2) is aged 18 years or over⁴; and (3) is not the spouse, civil partner, parent, grandparent, brother, sister, child or grandchild of the declarant⁵. A person must not attest an overseas elector's declaration unless he is satisfied, to the best of his knowledge and belief, that the declarant is a British citizen who is not resident in the United Kingdom on the date of the declaration⁶.

A person attesting an overseas elector's declaration must record on it:

- 188 (a) his full name and address⁷;
- 189 (b) that he is the bearer of a British passport which describes his national status as 'British citizen' and the number of that passport together with its date and place of issue⁸;
- 190 (c) that he is aged 18 years or over⁹;
- 191 (d) that he is not resident in the United Kingdom on the date of the declaration¹⁰;
- 192 (e) that he is not the spouse, civil partner, parent, grandparent, brother, sister, child or grandchild of the declarant¹¹; and
- 193 (f) that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, the declarant is a British citizen who is not resident in the United Kingdom on the date of the declaration¹².

A person attesting an overseas elector's declaration must sign the declaration¹³.

However, an overseas elector's declaration need not be attested in accordance with these provisions¹⁴ where the declarant has on a previous occasion made such a declaration in pursuance of which he was registered in a register of parliamentary electors and, since being so registered, he has not been included in any register of parliamentary electors by virtue of being resident or treated for the purposes of registration as resident at an address in the United Kingdom¹⁵.

1 As to overseas elector's declarations see PARA 129 ante.

2 As to who are British citizens see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 8 et seq.

3 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 20(2)(a). For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante. As to the circumstances when a person is treated for the purposes of registration as resident see PARA 132 et seq ante.

By virtue of reg 13(6), (7), reg 20 applies to registration in pursuance of a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration as it applies to registration in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration: see PARA 116 note 7 ante.

13 Ibid reg 20(4). See note 3 supra.

14 Ie in accordance with ibid reg 20(2)-(4) (see the text and notes 1-13 supra).

15 Ibid reg 20(1).

For the purposes of the application of reg 20 (as amended) by reg 13(6) (see note 3 supra), reg 20(1) has effect as if, in addition to the modifications made by reg 13(6), the words 'local government' were substituted for the word 'parliamentary' in the second place where it occurs: reg 20(1). A peer's entitlement to vote as an overseas European parliamentary elector is based on his registration as a local government elector, previously having been denied registration as a parliamentary elector: see PARA 116 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(ii) Entitlement to Registration/D. OVERSEAS ELECTORS DECLARATIONS/150. Transmission of overseas elector's declaration.

150. Transmission of overseas elector's declaration.

An overseas elector's declaration¹ must be transmitted to the registration officer² for that part of the constituency within which is situated the address specified in the declaration as the address in respect of which the declarant was registered³. Where a person: (1) has made an overseas elector's declaration in which he claims to be qualified as an overseas elector by virtue of the conditions set out in relation to persons not previously registered in a register of parliamentary electors on account of age only⁴; and (2) has not on a previous occasion made an overseas elector's declaration in pursuance of which he was registered in a register of parliamentary electors⁵, a declarant must transmit together with his overseas elector's declaration a copy of his birth certificate which shows the names of either or both of his parents as well as his date of birth⁶.

Where the registration officer is satisfied that the declarant qualifies as an overseas elector⁷, he must so notify the applicant⁸.

1 As to overseas elector's declarations see PARA 129 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'registration officer' see PARA 154 note 1 post.

3 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 21. The declarant is required to include in an overseas elector's declaration the address referred to in the text under the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2(4) (as substituted) either in respect of where the declarant had been registered previously (s 2(4)(b) (as substituted)) or in respect of which he was resident, if not registered previously (s 2(4)(c) (as substituted)): see PARA 147 ante. Where a declaration is transmitted too late for the declarant's name to be included in the electors' lists, it is treated as a claim to be registered: see PARA 167 post.

By virtue of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(6), (7), reg 19 (see the text and notes 4-6 infra) and reg 21 apply to registration in pursuance of a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration as they apply to registration in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration: see PARA 116 note 7 ante.

4 Ibid reg 19(1). The text refers to qualification as an overseas elector by a declarant who cannot rely upon his own previous inclusion in a register of parliamentary electors on account of his age and who satisfies the other conditions specified in the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 1(4) (as substituted and amended) (the 'second set of conditions': see PARA 111 ante).

For the purpose of the application of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 19 by reg 13(6) (see note 3 supra), reg 19 has effect as if, in addition to the modifications made by reg 13(6), a reference to the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3(4) (as substituted and amended) (see PARA 116 ante) were substituted for the reference to s 1(4) (as substituted and amended): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 19(1).

5 Ibid reg 19(1). See note 3 supra.

6 Ibid reg 19(2). See note 3 supra.

7 A person qualifies as an overseas elector if he satisfies the provisions of the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 1 (as substituted and amended) (extension of parliamentary franchise to British citizens overseas: see PARA 111 ante) and is entitled to be registered under the provisions of s 2 (as substituted) (registration of British citizens overseas: see PARA 129 et seq ante).

For the purpose of the application of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 22 by reg 13(6) (see note 3 supra), reg 22(1) has effect as if, in addition to the modifications made by reg 13(6), references in reg 22(1) to the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2 (as substituted) and s 3 (as substituted and amended) (extension of European parliamentary franchise to peers resident outside the United Kingdom: see PARA 116 ante) were substituted for the references to s 1 (as substituted and amended) and s 2 (as substituted): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 22(3).

8 Ibid reg 22(1). See note 3 supra.

151. Invalid declarations.

An overseas elector's declaration¹ is of no effect unless it is received by the registration officer² concerned within the period of three months beginning with the relevant date³.

An overseas elector's declaration may not specify more than one address as the address in respect of which the declarant is registered⁴; and if the declarant makes more than one such declaration bearing the same date and specifying different addresses in the United Kingdom⁵ as the address in respect of which he was registered the declarations are void⁶.

Where the registration officer⁷ rejects an application for registration in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration because:

- 194 (1) in his opinion the declarant does not qualify as an overseas elector in respect of a parliamentary constituency⁸; or
- 195 (2) the declaration does not satisfy the requirements in relation to registration as such an elector⁹, or in relation to the contents of the declaration¹⁰ or in relation to its attestation¹¹; or
- 196 (3) in the case of a declarant who is required to transmit a copy of his birth certificate together with his declaration¹², that requirement has not been complied with¹³, he must return the declaration to the declarant and set out his reasons for rejecting the application for registration¹⁴.

1 For the meaning of 'overseas elector's declaration' see PARA 129 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'registration officer' see PARA 154 post.

3 Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2(6) (s 2 substituted by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 8, Sch 2 paras 1, 3). The reference in the text to the 'relevant date' is to the date on which a person makes a declaration under and in accordance with the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2 (as substituted) (an 'overseas elector's declaration') (see PARA 129 ante).

For the purposes of the registration of peers who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, s 2 (as substituted) is applied with modifications: see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(4), Sch 4; and PARA 116 note 7 ante.

4 Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2(4) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra. The text refers to the address which a declarant is required to include in an overseas elector's declaration either in respect of where the declarant had been registered previously, where the 'first' set of conditions applies (s 2(4)(b) (as so substituted)), or in respect of which he was resident, if not registered previously, where the 'second' set of conditions applies (s 2(4)(c) (as so substituted)): see PARA 147 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'registration officer' for these purposes see PARA 154 note 1 post.

8 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 22(2)(a). The text refers to qualification as an overseas elector in respect of a parliamentary constituency under the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 1 (as substituted and amended) (extension of parliamentary franchise to British citizens overseas: see PARA 111 ante). By virtue of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(6), (7), reg 22 applies to registration in pursuance of a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration as it applies to registration in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration: see PARA 116 note 7 ante. For the purpose of the application of reg 22 by reg 13(6), reg 22(2) has effect as if, in addition to the modifications made by reg 13(6), the reference in reg 22(2) to the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 1 (as substituted and amended) was substituted by a reference to s 3 (as substituted and amended) (extension of European parliamentary franchise to peers resident outside the United Kingdom: see PARA 116 ante): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 22(3).

E. OFFENCES

153. Offences associated with voters' declarations.

A person who makes a declaration of local connection¹ or a service declaration² when he is not authorised to do so or when he knows that he is subject to a legal incapacity³ to vote or when he knows that the declaration contains a statement which is false is guilty of an offence⁴. A person who makes an overseas elector's declaration⁵ (or a declaration purporting to be such a declaration) when he knows that he is subject to a legal incapacity or when he knows that the declaration contains a statement which is false is also guilty of an offence⁶.

A person who attests a service declaration⁷ or an overseas elector's declaration⁸ when he knows that he is not authorised to attest such a declaration or that the declaration contains a statement which is false is guilty of an offence⁹.

1 As to declarations of local connection see PARA 136 et seq ante.

2 As to service declarations see PARA 140 et seq ante.

3 As to the meaning of 'legal incapacity' for these purposes see PARA 110 note 8 ante.

(iii) Registration Officers

154. Registration officers.

Electoral registration officers ('registration officers') are appointed for the registration of parliamentary and local government electors¹. In England², the council of every district³ and London borough⁴ must appoint an officer of the council to be registration officer for any constituency⁵ or part of a constituency coterminous with or situated in the district or borough⁶, and the Common Council of the City of London⁷ must appoint an officer to be registration officer for the part of the constituency containing the City and the Inner Temple and the Middle Temple⁸. In Wales⁹, the council of every county¹⁰ or county borough¹¹ must appoint an officer of the council to be registration officer for any constituency or part of a constituency coterminous with or situated in the area of the council¹².

The officer who is the registration officer for any of the areas referred to above¹³ is the registration officer also for the area in question for the purposes of the registration of relevant citizens of the Union¹⁴ as European parliamentary electors¹⁵.

1 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 8(1). Any reference in any Act, whenever passed, to the registration officer for the registration of parliamentary or local government electors is to be taken as a reference to the registration officer appointed under the Representation of the People Act 1983: s 206, Sch 7 para 11.

For the purposes of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, 'registration officer' means the electoral registration officer (reg 3(1)); and 'registration area' means the area for which a registration officer acts (reg 3(1) (definition added by SI 2002/1871)). For the purposes of the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284 (as amended), 'registration officer' means the electoral registration officer (art 2(1)); and, for the purposes of the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, 'registration officer' means an officer appointed under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 8 (as amended) (European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 2(1)).

As to the entitlement to registration as a parliamentary or local government elector see PARA 128 ante.

2 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 8(2) (amended by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 66(6), (8), Sch 16 para 68(1), Sch 18). For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

A registration officer appointed under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 8(2) (as amended) is disqualified for membership of the House of Commons: House of Commons Disqualification Act 1975 s 1(1), Sch 1 Pt III. See further PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARAS 905, 908.

11 As to county boroughs in Wales and their councils see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 37 et seq.

12 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 8(2A) (as added: see note 9 ante).

13 The officer who under ibid s 8(2) (as amended) or s 8(2A) (as added) (see the text and notes 2-12 supra) is the registration officer for any of the areas referred to therein for the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983: European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 5(1)(a).

For the purposes of extending the rights of citizens and nationals of accession states who (subject to the requirements of registration) may vote at local government and European parliamentary elections, reg 5 is applied with modifications: see the Local and European Parliamentary Elections (Registration of Citizens of Accession States) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/1557, reg 6, Sch 1 para 3.

14 For the meaning of 'relevant citizen of the Union' for these purposes see PARA 117 note 4 ante.

15 European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 5(1). As to registration officers for the Isles of Scilly for these purposes see reg 5(1)(b). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 13 supra. As to the registration of relevant citizens of the Union as European parliamentary electors see PARA 131 ante.

NOTE 1--SI 2004/293 reg 2(1) substituted: SI 2009/186.

155. Deputies and assistants.

Any of the powers and duties of a registration officer may be performed and exercised by a deputy for the time being approved by the council which appointed the registration officer¹.

Where there is a vacancy in the office of registration officer, or in the event of his incapacity to act, any acts authorised or required to be done by, or with respect to, the registration officer may be done by or with respect to the proper officer² of the council by which the registration officer was appointed³.

A district council⁴ or London borough council⁵ in England⁶ or a county council⁷ or county borough council⁸ in Wales⁹ must assign such officers to assist the registration officer as may be required for carrying out his functions¹⁰.

1 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 52(2) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 24, Sch 4 para 12(b)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 26(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 19(1). As to the European parliamentary electoral registration officer for Gibraltar see reg 19(4). The provisions of the Representation of the People Act 1983 or the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284 (as amended), or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293 (as the case may be) apply to any such deputy as is mentioned in the text so far as respects any duties or powers to be performed or exercised by him as they apply to the registration officer: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 52(2); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 26(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 19(1). As to the appointment of registration officers see PARA 154 ante; and as to the penalties for breach of official duty by a deputy or assistant see PARA 740 post.

The functions of a registration officer under the Representation of the People Act 1985 ss 2, 3, 6-9 (as amended) are included in any reference to a registration officer's functions under the Representation of the People Act 1983 because those provisions have effect as if they were contained in Pt I (ss 1-66A) (as amended): Representation of the People Act 1985 s 27(2).

For the purposes of extending the rights of peers and of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 52 (as amended) is applied with modifications: see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(4), Sch 4 (cited in PARA 116 note 7 ante); and the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule (cited in PARA 117 note 5 ante).

2 The 'proper officer' means any officer appointed for the purpose by the council (or, in relation to the Greater London Authority, the Authority): Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1) (definition substituted by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 17, Sch 3 paras 1, 38(1), (2)(c)); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 2(1); Local Government Act 1972 s 270(3), (4); Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 424(1), (2). As to the Greater London Authority see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 79 et seq.

NOTES--Certain functions under provisions mentioned in this paragraph are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3, see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

NOTE 1--SI 2004/293 reg 19(4) amended: SI 2009/186.

NOTE 2--SI 2004/293 reg 2(1) substituted: SI 2009/186.

156. Discharge of duties by registration officer.

It is the duty of each registration officer¹ to maintain:

- 197 (1) a register of parliamentary electors² for each constituency or part of a constituency³ in the area for which he acts⁴;
- 198 (2) a register of local government electors for the local government areas⁵ or parts of local government areas included in the area for which he acts⁶;
- 199 (3) a register of any person or persons entitled to be registered under the provisions relating to the registration of relevant citizens of the Union⁷ as European parliamentary electors⁸.

The registration officer must also prepare and publish a list of the names of each person who appears to him to be entitled to be registered in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration ('the list of overseas electors')⁹; and it is the duty of the relevant registration officer¹⁰ to prepare and publish a register¹¹ in respect of any year for which any peer who is entitled to vote as a European parliamentary elector is entitled to be registered¹². As far as is reasonably practicable, the registration officer must combine the registers¹³. The registration officer also must keep a record of anonymous entries¹⁴.

Each registration officer must take all steps that are necessary for the purpose of complying with his duty¹⁵ to maintain the registers¹⁶ and, in administering the registers, he must have regard to data protection provisions¹⁷. It is also the duty of the registration officer, during the relevant period¹⁸, to send to a person registered in pursuance of a service declaration¹⁹, a declaration of local connection²⁰ or an overseas elector's declaration²¹ a reminder of the need to make a fresh declaration if he wishes to remain registered as an elector in pursuance of such a declaration²²; and, in relation to each person who has an anonymous entry in the register²³, the registration officer must, during the relevant period²⁴, send a reminder²⁵: (a) that his entitlement to registration will terminate at the end of the period of 12 months beginning with the date on which his entry in the register first took effect²⁶; (b) that, if he wishes to remain entered in the register after that period, he must make a fresh application for registration in accordance with the requirements prescribed for the purposes²⁷; and (c) that, if he wishes to remain entered in the register anonymously, the application for registration must be accompanied by a fresh application for an anonymous entry²⁸. A registration officer must also compile records of absent voters and of their proxies²⁹, a list of overseas electors³⁰, and lists of rooms which candidates are entitled to use for election meetings³¹.

A registration officer must comply with any general or special directions given by the Secretary of State with respect to the arrangements to be made by the registration officer for carrying out his functions under the Representation of the People Act 1983³²; and an electoral registration officer must take such steps as he thinks appropriate to encourage the participation by electors in the electoral process in the area for which he acts³³ and, in so doing, he must have regard to any guidance issued by the Electoral Commission³⁴.

1 As to the appointment of registration officers see PARA 154 ante.

2 As to the registers of electors see PARA 160 et seq post.

3 For the meaning of 'constituency' for these purposes see PARA 9 ante. Where, under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 9 (as substituted), two or more registration officers maintain registers of parliamentary electors in respect of different parts of the same constituency, then in relation to that constituency any reference in the Representation of the People Act 1983 (whether express or implied) to the register of parliamentary electors for a constituency must be read either as a reference to one of those registers or, in relation to one of those registration officers, as the register maintained by him, as the context may require: s 9(7) (s 9 substituted by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 8, Sch 1 paras 1, 3). For these purposes, any reference, in relation to a registration officer, to 'his' registers is a reference to the registers maintained by him under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 9 (as substituted): s 9(8)(a) (as so substituted). As to constituencies established for the purpose of elections to the National Assembly for Wales see note 32 infra.

The functions of a registration officer under the Representation of the People Act 1985 ss 2, 3, 6-9 (as amended) are included in any reference to a registration officer's functions under the Representation of the People Act 1983 because those provisions have effect as if they were contained in Pt I (ss 1-66A) (as amended): Representation of the People Act 1985 s 27(2).

For the purposes of extending the rights of peers and of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, the provisions of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 9(1)-(4), (7), (8) (as substituted and amended) are applied with modifications: see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(4), Sch 4 (cited in PARA 116 note 7 ante); and the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule (cited in PARA 117 note 5 ante).

4 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 9(1)(a) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra.

5 For the meaning of 'local government area' see PARA 18 note 2 ante.

6 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 9(1)(b) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra.

7 For the meaning of 'relevant citizen of the Union' see PARA 117 note 4 ante.

8 European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 5(2). The text refers to entitlement to registration under reg 4 (see PARA 131 ante).

9 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 45(1). The 'list of overseas electors' means the list prepared under reg 45: reg 3(1). The registration officer must include in the list of overseas electors the address specified in the overseas elector's declaration in accordance with the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2(4) (as substituted) (overseas elector's declarations: see PARA 147 ante) and the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 18(1) (contents of overseas elector's declarations: see PARA 147 ante): reg 45(1). As to the form and content of the list of overseas electors see PARA 161 post; and as to publication see PARA 164 et seq post. By virtue of reg 13(6), (7), reg 45 (as amended) applies to registration in pursuance of a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration as it applies to registration in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration: see PARA 116 note 7 ante.

10 I.e. the officer appointed under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 8 (as amended) (see PARA 154 ante). For the purposes of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(2), 'the relevant registration officer' is the officer who acts for the area within which is situated the place specified in the declaration in accordance with the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2(4) (as substituted) (overseas elector's declarations: see PARA 147 ante), as applied by the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13 (see note 3 supra), as having been the address in respect of which the declarant was previously registered or, as the case may be, at which he was resident: reg 13(3).

11 I.e. under the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3 (as substituted and amended) (entitlement of peers to vote as European parliamentary electors: see PARA 116 ante).

12 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(2). The relevant registration officer also must take reasonable steps to obtain information required by him for the purpose: reg 13(2).

13 See PARA 160 post. The registers of parliamentary electors, of local government electors, of peers overseas registered as European parliamentary overseas electors and of relevant citizens of the Union registered as European parliamentary electors should all be combined, as far as is reasonably practicable.

14 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 45A(1) (added by SI 2006/2910). As to the form and content of the record of anonymous entries see PARA 160 post.

15 Ie under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 9(1) (as substituted) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra).

16 Ibid s 9A(1) (s 9A added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 9(1)). The steps referred to in the text include: (1) sending more than once to any address the form to be used for the canvass under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 10 (as substituted) (see PARA 163 post) (s 9A(2)(a) (as so added)); (2) making on one or more occasions house to house inquiries under s 10(5) (as substituted) (see PARA 163 post) (s 9A(2)(b) (as so added)); (3) making contact by such other means as the registration officer thinks appropriate with persons who do not have an entry in a register (s 9A(2)(c) (as so added)); (4) inspecting any records held by any person which he is permitted to inspect under or by virtue of any enactment or rule of law (s 9A(2)(d) (as so added)); (5) providing training to persons under his direction or control in connection with the carrying out of the duty (s 9A(2)(e) (as so added)). Regulations made by the Secretary of State may amend s 9A(2) (as added) by varying or repealing any of the paragraphs therein or by inserting any paragraph: s 9A(3) (as so added). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983 generally see PARA 24 note 16 ante. At the date at which this volume states the law, no regulations had been made under s 9A (as added). As to the powers available to a registration officer to require information about electors and to inspect certain records for the purposes of registration see PARA 157 post. A registration officer also has power to make inquiries of electors who have been granted applications to vote by proxy on certain grounds: see PARAS 373-374 post.

17 Electoral registration officers must administer the register having regard to EC Council Directive 95/46 (OJ L281, 23.11.95, p 31) ('the Data Protection Directive') and the Data Protection Act 1998 s 11 (as amended) (right to prevent processing for purposes of direct marketing: see CONFIDENCE AND DATA PROTECTION vol 8(1) (2003 Reissue) PARA 527); and the Representation of the People Act 1983 must be construed so as to be compliant and consistent with those provisions: R (on the application of Robertson) v City of Wakefield Metropolitan District Council [2001] EWHC Admin 915, [2002] QB 1052, [2002] LGR 286. As to the Data Protection Directive see CONFIDENCE AND DATA PROTECTION vol 8(1) (2003 Reissue) PARA 503 et seq. As to the restrictions placed on registration officers and other persons regarding the supply of registers and disclosure of the information contained in them see PARA 176 et seq post.

18 For these purposes, 'the relevant period' means the period beginning nine months after the date when the existing entry in a register of the person in question first takes effect and ending ten months after that date, except in the case of a person who is a member of the forces or who is the spouse or civil partner of a member of the forces (ie a person who is mentioned in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 14(1)(a) or s 14(1)(d) (as amended): see PARA 140 ante) in which case 'the relevant period' means the period beginning 33 months after the date when the existing entry in a register of the person in question first takes effect and ending 34 months after that date: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 25(3) (amended by SI 2006/3406). Where the day or last day of the time allowed by the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended) for the doing of any thing falls on a Saturday, Sunday, Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, Good Friday or a bank holiday, that time must be extended until the next following day which is not one of those days: reg 8(1), (3) (reg 8(3) amended by SI 2006/2910). For this purpose, 'bank holiday' means a day which under the Banking and Financial Dealings Act 1971 is a bank holiday in England and Wales (see TIME vol 97 (2010) PARA 321): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 8(4).

By virtue of reg 13(6), (7), reg 8 (as amended) applies to registration in pursuance of a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration as it applies to registration in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration (see PARA 116 note 7 ante); and for the purposes of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, reg 8 (as amended) applies with modifications (see the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule; and PARA 117 note 5 ante).

19 As to registration in pursuance of a service declaration see PARA 140 et seq ante.

20 As to registration in pursuance of a declaration of local connection see PARA 136 et seq ante.

21 As to registration in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration see PARA 129 et seq ante.

22 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 25(1), (2). This provision does not apply in respect of a person registered in pursuance of such a declaration as is mentioned in the text where the registration officer has already received from that person a fresh declaration, or where information which the registration officer has received indicates that that person is no longer entitled to make the relevant declaration: reg 25(4).

By virtue of reg 13(6), (7), reg 25 applies to registration in pursuance of a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration as it applies to registration in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration: see PARA 116 note 7 ante.

23 Ibid reg 25A(1) (reg 25A added by SI 2006/2910). As to anonymous registration see PARA 174 post.

24 For these purposes, the 'relevant period' must be construed in accordance with the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 25(3) (see note 18 supra): reg 25A(4) (as added: see note 23 supra).

25 Ibid reg 25A(2) (as added: see note 23 supra). Regulation 25A(2) (as added) does not apply where the registration officer has already received from that person a fresh application for registration made in accordance with the requirements prescribed for the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 10A(1)(a) (as added) (see PARA 167 post) which is accompanied by a fresh application for an anonymous entry: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 25A(3) (as so added).

26 Ibid reg 25A(2)(a) (as added: see note 23 supra).

27 Ibid reg 25A(2)(b) (as added: see note 23 supra). The text refers to the requirements prescribed for the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 10A(1)(a) (as added) (see PARA 167 post).

28 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 25A(2)(c) (as added: see note 23 supra).

29 See PARA 372 et seq post. The registration officer must also every year by 31 January send every person who remains an absent voter (and whose signature held on the personal identifiers record is more than five years old) a notice in writing requiring him to provide a fresh signature and informing him of the date on which he would cease to be entitled to vote by post or by proxy in the event of a failure or refusal to provide a fresh signature: see PARA 371 post.

32 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 52(1) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 24, Sch 4 para 12(a)). Without prejudice to the generality of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 52(1) (as amended), the directions which may be given thereunder include directions requiring a registration officer to maintain his registers in a specified electronic form: s 52(1A) (added by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 158(1), Sch 21 para 6(1), (5)). Any such directions may in particular specify: (1) the software which is to be used in connection with the maintenance of the registers in that form (Representation of the People Act 1983 s 52(1A)(a) (as so added)); (2) the standards in accordance with which that software is to be maintained and updated (s 52(1A)(b) (as so added)); (3) how information required (by or under any enactment) to be included in the registers is to be recorded and stored in that form (s 52(1A)(c) (as so added)). The function of giving directions under s 52(1) (as amended) is exercisable only on, and in accordance with, a recommendation of the Electoral Commission: see the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 8(1); and PARA 51 ante. In relation to elections to the National Assembly for Wales, a registration officer must comply with any general or specific directions which may be given by the Secretary of State, in accordance with and on the recommendation of the Electoral Commission, with respect to the arrangements to be made by the registration officer in carrying out his functions under the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284: art 26(1). As to the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

For the purposes of extending the rights of peers and of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 52 (as amended) is applied with modifications: see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(4), Sch 4 (cited in PARA 116 note 7 ante); and the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule (cited in PARA 117 note 5 ante).

UPDATE

156 Discharge of duties by registration officer

NOTE 18--SI 2001/341 reg 25(3) further amended: SI 2010/882.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(iii) Registration Officers/157. Registration officer's powers to require information about electors and to inspect certain records.

157. Registration officer's powers to require information about electors and to inspect certain records.

A registration officer¹ may require any person to give information required for the purposes of that officer's duties in maintaining registers of parliamentary and local government electors². If any person fails to comply with³ any such requisition of the registration officer⁴, that person is liable to a penalty⁵.

Except where an application for registration is made in pursuance of a service declaration⁶, a registration officer who has doubts about a person's age or nationality may require that person to produce for the purposes of registration the following such evidence as is specified⁷:

- 200 (1) a birth certificate or a statutory declaration as to the person's date of birth⁸;
- 201 (2) a certificate of naturalisation⁹;
- 202 (3) where a person has made an overseas elector's declaration¹⁰, further evidence of his status as a British citizen¹¹ including a document showing that he has become a British citizen by virtue of registration¹²;
- 203 (4) in any other case, either a document showing that he has become a Commonwealth citizen¹³ by virtue of registration¹⁴ or a statutory declaration that he is a qualifying Commonwealth citizen¹⁵ or citizen of the Republic of Ireland¹⁶ or a relevant citizen of the Union¹⁷.

Except where the declarant has, or has applied for, an anonymous entry¹⁸, any such declaration must be made available for inspection at the registration officer's office until the determination of the application for registration and of any objections duly made to it¹⁹. If any fee is payable in connection with the making of a declaration for these purposes, the registration officer must pay that fee and it is to be treated as part of his registration expenses²⁰.

A registration officer is authorised to inspect, for the purpose of his registration duties, records kept (in whatever form) by²¹ the council by which he was appointed²² and any registrar of births and deaths²³ or any person providing services to, or authorised to exercise any function of, any such council or registrar²⁴. A registration officer is authorised also to make copies of information contained in such records²⁵.

1 As to registration officers see PARA 154 ante.

2 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 23(1). As to the duty of registration officers to maintain, prepare and publish registers of electors see PARA 156 ante. At the same time, a registration officer is under a duty to require persons to give information required for the purposes of that officer's duty under the Juries Act 1974 s 3(1) (as amended) (electoral register as basis of jury selection: see JURIES vol 61 (2010) PARA 812): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 23(2). By virtue of reg 13(6), (7), regs 23, 24 (see the text and notes 3-20 infra) apply to registration in pursuance of a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration as they apply to registration in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration: see PARA 116 note 7 ante.

3 Ibid reg 23(3)(a). As to the application of this provision see note 2 supra.

4 Ie any such requisition as is mentioned in ibid reg 23 (see the text and notes 1-4 supra).

5 Ibid reg 23(3). As to the application of this provision see note 2 supra. The penalty on summary conviction is a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale: see reg 23(3). As to the standard scale see PARA 736 note 3 post.

6 Ibid reg 24(5). As to the application of this provision see note 2 supra. As to service declarations see PARA 140 et seq ante.

For the purposes of extending the rights of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, and of citizens and nationals of accession states who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at local government and European parliamentary elections, reg 24 (as amended) applies with modifications: see the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule (cited in PARA 117 note 5 ante); and the Local and European Parliamentary Elections (Registration of Citizens of Accession States) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/1557, reg 7, Sch 2 para 1(1), (3)(a).

7 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 24(1). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 2, 6 supra.

8 Ibid reg 24(2)(a). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 2, 6 supra.

9 Ibid reg 24(2)(b). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 2, 6 supra. As to certificates of naturalisation see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 79.

10 As to overseas elector's declarations see PARA 129 et seq ante.

11 As to who are British citizens see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 8 et seq.

12 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 24(2)(c). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 2, 6 supra.

13 As to who are Commonwealth citizens see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 11.

14 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 24(2)(d)(i). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 2, 6 supra.

15 For this purpose, 'qualifying Commonwealth citizen' has the same meaning as in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 4 (as substituted) (entitlement to be registered as parliamentary or local government elector: see PARA 128 note 9 ante): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 24(6). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 2, 6 supra.

16 As to who are citizens of the Republic of Ireland see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 12.

17 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 24(2)(d)(ii). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 2, 6 supra. As to the entitlement of relevant citizens of the Union to be registered as European parliamentary electors see PARA 131 ante.

18 Ibid reg 24(4A) (added by SI 2006/2910). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 2, 6 supra. As to anonymous registration see PARA 174 post.

19 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 24(4). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 2, 7 supra. For these purposes, 'available for inspection' means available for inspection during ordinary office hours: reg 3(1). Where a document (but not the full register) is made available for inspection under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, any person may make a copy (whether handwritten or by other means) of the whole or any part of it: reg 7(1), (2) (reg 7(1) renumbered, and reg 7(2) added, by SI 2002/1871). For the meaning of 'full register' see PARA 166 note 2 post. As to the determination of applications for registration and the making of objections see PARA 167 et seq post.

20 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 24(3). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 2, 6 supra. The text refers to 'registration expenses' within the meaning of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 54(1) (as amended) (see PARA 158 post).

21 Ibid reg 35(1).

22 Ibid reg 35(1)(a), (2)(a).

23 Ibid reg 35(1)(a), (2)(b). As to registrars of births and deaths see REGISTRATION CONCERNING THE INDIVIDUAL vol 39(2) (Reissue) PARA 610.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(iii) Registration Officers/158. Payment of expenses of registration officer.

158. Payment of expenses of registration officer.

Any expenses properly incurred by a registration officer¹ in the performance of his functions² must be paid by the local authority³ by whom he was appointed⁴. These expenses are referred to as 'registration expenses'⁵.

Any fees paid to the registration officer⁶ must be accounted for by him and paid to the local authority by which he was appointed⁷.

On the request of a registration officer for an advance on account of registration expenses the local authority by which he was appointed may, if it thinks fit, make such an advance to him of such an amount and subject to such conditions as it may approve⁸.

The Secretary of State⁹ may reimburse an electoral registration officer in respect of any expenditure incurred by the officer for the purposes of encouraging electoral participation¹⁰.

1 As to the appointment of registration officers see PARA 154 ante.

2 Ie under the Representation of the People Act 1983 or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, or the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284 (as amended) (as the case may be).

The functions of a registration officer under the Representation of the People Act 1985 ss 2, 3, 6-9 (as amended) are included in any reference to a registration officer's functions under the Representation of the People Act 1983 because those provisions have effect as if they were contained in Pt I (ss 1-66A) (as amended): Representation of the People Act 1985 s 27(2). However, the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 20 does not apply to the European parliamentary electoral registration officer for Gibraltar: reg 20(5).

For the purposes of extending the rights of peers and of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 54 (as amended) is applied with modifications: see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(4), Sch 4 (cited in PARA 116 note 7 ante); and the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule (cited in PARA 117 note 5 ante).

3 In the Representation of the People Act 1983, unless the context otherwise requires, 'local authority' means the Greater London Authority, a county council, a county borough council, a district council, a London borough council or a parish or community council: s 203(1) (definition amended by the Local Government Act 1985 ss 18(1), 19, 102(2), Sch 9 Pt I, Sch 17; the Education Reform Act 1988 s 237, Sch 13 Pt I; the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 66(6), Sch 16 para 68(16); and the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 17, Sch 3 paras 1, 39(1), (4)(a)). As to the Greater London Authority see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 79 et seq. As to districts, counties and county boroughs, and their councils, see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 23 et seq. As to London boroughs and their councils see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 35; LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 30 et seq. As to parishes and their councils see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 27 et seq; and as to communities and their councils see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 41 et seq.

4 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 54(1) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 24, Sch 4 para 13(a)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 27(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 20(1). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra.

5 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 54(1); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 27(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 20(1). Any reference in any Act, whenever passed, to registration expenses in connection with the registration of parliamentary and local government electors is to be taken as a reference to registration expenses under the Representation of the People Act 1983: s 206, Sch 7 para 12.

Any registration expenses (or contributions to them) paid by the Common Council of the City of London must be paid out of the general rate and any sums paid to the Common Council under these provisions must be paid to the credit of that rate: Representation of the People Act 1983 ss 54(5), 202(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 20(4). As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante. As to the Common Council of the City of London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 51 et seq.

As to the application and modification of these provisions see note 2 supra.

6 See note 2 supra. Such fees are paid to the registration officer on the sale of the register of electors: see further PARA 184 post.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 54(3)(a) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 Sch 4 para 13(b)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 27(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 20(2). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra.

8 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 54(4)(a); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 27(3); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 20(3). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra.

9 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante.

10 Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 69(4), (8)(a). The text refers to the registration officer's duty of encouraging electoral participation under s 69 (see PARA 156 ante). The amount paid under s 69(4) must not in any year exceed such amount as is determined in accordance with regulations made by the Secretary of State: s 69(5). The power to make such regulations is exercisable by statutory instrument subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament (s 69(6)); and such regulations may make different provision for different purposes (s 69(7)). Accordingly, the Encouraging Electoral Participation (Reimbursement of Expenses) (England and Wales) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/2972, which come into force on 1 April 2007, provide that the total amount that may be paid to local electoral officers in England and Wales in pursuance of the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 69(4) in the year ending on 31 March 2008 and each successive year is £2,500,000: Encouraging Electoral Participation (Reimbursement of Expenses) (England and Wales) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/2972, reg 2. For these purposes, 'year' means a period of 12 months ending on 31 March (reg 1(2)); and 'local electoral officer' means an electoral registration officer (Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 69(8)(a)).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(iii) Registration Officers/159. Effect of misdescription in documents published by registration officer.

159. Effect of misdescription in documents published by registration officer.

No misnomer or inaccurate description of any person or place named¹:

- 204 (1) in the register of parliamentary electors²;
- 205 (2) in the register of local government electors³;
- 206 (3) in the register of peers⁴ overseas registered as European parliamentary overseas electors⁵;
- 207 (4) in the register of relevant citizens of the Union⁶ registered as European parliamentary electors⁷; or
- 208 (5) in any required list, record, proxy paper, nomination paper, ballot paper, notice or other document⁸, affects the full operation of the document with respect to that person or place in any case where the description of the person or place is such as to be commonly understood⁹.

UPDATE

159 Effect of misdescription in documents published by registration officer

NOTES 2, 3, 5-7--SI 2004/293 reg 2(1) substituted: SI 2009/186.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(iv) Records of Electors/A. THE REGISTER OF ELECTORS AND LIST OF OVERSEAS ELECTORS/160. Form and content of registers of electors.

(iv) Records of Electors

A. THE REGISTER OF ELECTORS AND LIST OF OVERSEAS ELECTORS

160. Form and content of registers of electors.

Each register of electors¹ must contain²:

- 209 (1) the names of the persons appearing to the registration officer to be entitled to be registered in it, subject to their complying with any prescribed³ requirements⁴;
- 210 (2) subject to any prescribed exceptions, the qualifying addresses⁵ of the persons registered in it⁶; and
- 211 (3) in relation to each such person, that person's electoral number⁷.

A person's 'electoral number' is such number (with or without any letters⁸) as is for the time being allocated by the registration officer to that person as his electoral number for the purposes of the register in question⁹. Electoral numbers must be allocated by a registration officer in such a way as to ensure, so far as is reasonably practicable, that in each separate part of a register the numbers run consecutively¹⁰. An anonymous entry of a person consists of that person's electoral number together with the letter 'N'¹¹; and the registration officer must enter in the record of anonymous entries each person who is entered in the register with such an entry¹².

The register must be framed in separate parts for each parliamentary polling district¹³, except that, where a parliamentary polling district is contained in more than one electoral area¹⁴, there must be a separate part of the register for each part of the polling district contained in each electoral area¹⁵. There must be a different letter or letters in the register for each parliamentary polling district and such letter or letters are deemed to form part of an elector's number in the register¹⁶. The names and addresses of each separate part of the register must be arranged in street order¹⁷. However, if the registration officer determines for any part of the register that street order is not reasonably practicable, the names and addresses must be arranged either in alphabetical order or partly in street order and partly in alphabetical order¹⁸. The name of any person whose qualifying address is not contained in a register¹⁹ must be grouped together in alphabetical order²⁰ at the end of that part of the register to which the address relates²¹, beneath the heading 'Other electors'²², and without giving that address²³. An anonymous entry of a person is to be entered in the register²⁴ at the end of the part of the register which relates to the qualifying address of the person entitled to the entry²⁵, under the heading of 'Other electors'²⁶, and following the names grouped together under that heading²⁷.

The registers of parliamentary electors and local government elector²⁸ must so far as practicable be combined, the entries of persons registered only as parliamentary electors or local government electors being marked to indicate that fact²⁹. As far as practicable, a register of peers entitled to be registered as European parliamentary electors³⁰ must³¹ be combined with the register of parliamentary and local government electors, the names of peers so registered being marked to indicate that fact³²; and a register of relevant citizens of the Union³³ who are registered as European parliamentary electors must so far as practicable be combined both with the registers of parliamentary and local government electors³⁴ and with any register of peers entitled to be registered as European parliamentary electors³⁵, the names of persons registered as relevant citizens of the Union being marked to indicate that fact³⁶. The marks specified to appear against a person's entry in the register to indicate that he is registered in one or more of the four registers which are required to be combined³⁷ are as follows³⁸:

- 212 (a) to indicate that a relevant citizen of the Union is registered only in the register of local government electors, the letter 'G' must be placed against his entry³⁹;
- 213 (b) to indicate that such a citizen is registered in both that register and the register of such citizens registered as European parliamentary electors, the letter 'K' must be placed against his entry⁴⁰;
- 214 (c) to indicate that any other person is registered only in the register of local government electors, the letter 'L' must be placed against his entry⁴¹;
- 215 (d) to indicate that an overseas elector is registered only in the register of parliamentary electors, the letter 'F' must be placed against his entry⁴²;
- 216 (e) to indicate that a European parliamentary overseas elector is registered only in the register of such electors, the letter 'E' must be placed against his entry⁴³.

Where no mark appears against a person's entry in the register of electors, this indicates that he is registered in the registers of parliamentary and local government electors⁴⁴.

Any reference in any Act, whenever passed, to the register of parliamentary and local government electors, or to the register of parliamentary electors, or to the register of local government electors, or to the electors' lists for any such register, is to be taken as a reference to the register kept under the Representation of the People Act 1983, or to that register so far as it relates to parliamentary electors or local government electors, or to the electors' lists therefor, as the case may be; and references in any Act to a parliamentary or local government elector are to be construed accordingly⁴⁵. However, in relation to a person shown in a register or electors' list as attaining voting age⁴⁶ on a specified date, these references do not apply except for the purposes of an election at which the day fixed for the poll falls on or after that date⁴⁷. The above provision applies whatever the terms used in the reference⁴⁸, but in the case of Acts passed after 30 July 1948 does not apply where the context otherwise requires⁴⁹. It may be modified by order in relation to Acts not so passed⁵⁰.

1 As to the duty of registration officers to maintain, prepare and publish registers of electors see PARA 156 ante. As far as is practicable, all such registers should be combined: see the text and notes 28-36 infra. As to the form and content of the list of overseas electors see PARA 161 post.

2 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 9(2) (s 9 substituted by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 8, Sch 1 paras 1, 3). The Representation of the People Act 1983 s 9(2) (as substituted and amended) is subject to s 9B(3) (as added) (test for anonymous entry in the register: see PARA 174 post): s 9(2) (as so substituted; and amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 10(2), Sch 1 paras 2, 4(1), (2)).

For the purposes of extending the rights of peers and of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, the provisions of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 9(1)-(4), (7), (8) (as substituted and amended) are applied with modifications: see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(4), Sch 4 (cited in PARA 116 note 7 ante); and the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule (cited in PARA 117 note 5 ante).

3 For these purposes, 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1). As to the making of regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983 generally see PARA 24 note 16 ante. As to the regulations made under s 9(2) (as substituted and amended) see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, Pt III (regs 38-45) (as amended).

4 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 9(2)(a) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra.

5 In the Representation of the People Act 1983, 'qualifying address', in relation to a person registered in a register of electors, is the address in respect of which he is entitled to be so registered: s 9(8)(b) (as substituted: see note 2 supra); s 202(1) (definition added by the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 1 paras 1, 22(b)). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra.

6 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 9(2)(b) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra. According to the exceptions prescribed as mentioned in the text, s 9(2)(b) (as substituted) does not apply to an address: (1) where it appears to the registration officer that a service voter in his service declaration or a person who has made a declaration of local connection has given that address in such a declaration as an address at which he has resided, but which is not an address at which he is or would be residing but for the circumstances entitling him to make such a declaration (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 40(1)(a), (2)); (2) given in a declaration of local connection in accordance with the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7B(4)(b) (as added) (required address given by a homeless person: see PARA 137 note 11 ante) (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 40(1)(a), (3)); or (3) which is specified in an overseas elector's declaration in accordance with the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2(4)(b) (as substituted) or s 2(4)(c) (ii) (as substituted) (see PARA 147 ante) (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 40(1)(b)). As to overseas elector's declarations see PARA 129 et seq ante; as to declarations of local connection see PARA 136 et seq ante; and as to service declarations see PARA 140 et seq ante.

For the purposes of extending the rights of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, regs 38-41 are applied with modification: see the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule; and PARA 117 note 5 ante. By virtue of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(6), (7), regs 38-42 apply with modifications to registration in pursuance of a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration as they apply to registration in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration: see PARA 116 note 7 ante.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 9(2)(c) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra.

8 As to the letters which are used to mark entries in the registers see the text and notes 11, 37-43 infra.

9 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 9(3) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra.

10 Ibid s 9(4) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra.

11 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 41A(1) (reg 41A added by SI 2006/2910).

12 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 45A(2) (reg 45A added by SI 2006/2910). The entry in the record referred to in the text must contain: (1) the full name of the person to whom the entry relates (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 45A(3)(a) (as so added)); (2) his electoral number (reg 45A(3)(b) (as so added)); (3) his qualifying address (reg 45A(3)(c) (as so added)); (4) where he has given in his application for an anonymous entry an address other than his qualifying address to which correspondence should be sent, that address (reg 45A(3)(d) (as so added)); (5) the date on which the anonymous entry in the register took effect (reg 45A(3)(e) (as so added)). Where the application of a person with an anonymous entry to vote by post is granted, the registration officer must also enter in the record the address to which the postal ballot paper should be sent as given in the application (ie in accordance with reg 51(2)(d): see PARA 372 post); reg 45A(4) (as so added). As to the registration officer's duty to keep a record of anonymous entries see PARA 156 ante.

Where a registration officer enters a person in the record of anonymous entries, he must issue to that person a certificate of anonymous registration: reg 45G(1) (reg 45G added by SI 2006/2910). A certificate of anonymous registration must be in writing and signed by the registration officer (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 45G(2) (as so added)); and must state: (a) the name of the area for which the registration officer acts (reg 45G(3)(a) (as so added)); (b) the name, electoral number and qualifying address of the person who has the anonymous entry (reg 45G(3)(b) (as so added)); (c) the date on which the anonymous entry took effect (reg 45G(3)(c) (as so added)); (d) that, unless a fresh application for an anonymous entry is made, the entitlement to remain registered anonymously will terminate no later than at the end of the period of 12 months beginning with the date stated in accordance with head (c) supra (reg 45G(3)(d) (as so added)). A 'certificate of anonymous registration' means a certificate issued in pursuance of reg 45G (as added): reg 3(1) (definition added by SI 2006/2910).

13 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 38(1). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 6 supra. As to polling districts at parliamentary elections see PARA 348 post.

14 For the meaning of 'electoral area' see PARA 10 ante.

15 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 38(2). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 6 supra.

Where a National Assembly for Wales constituency is not coterminous with, or wholly situated in, a county or county borough, the registration officer for any part of the Assembly constituency must, if he is not the returning officer for the constituency, consult him concerning the form of so much of the register or the electors' lists as relates to the constituency in order to ensure that, so far as practicable, they are in a form similar to those in use elsewhere in the constituency: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 139. For the meanings of 'Assembly constituency' and 'Assembly election' for these purposes see PARA 3 note 1 ante; and for the meaning of 'constituency returning officer' see PARA 18 note 2 ante. As to Assembly constituencies see PARA 75 ante; as to the electors' lists see PARA 163 et seq post; and as to returning officers for elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 362 et seq post. As to counties and county boroughs in Wales see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 37 et seq.

Form and content of list of overseas electors.

161. Form and content of list of overseas electors.

The list of overseas electors¹ must have a separate part in respect of each constituency² which is wholly or partly comprised in the area for which the registration officer acts³. The names of the persons included in each part must be listed in alphabetical order⁴; and the name of a person appearing to the registration officer to be entitled to be registered in pursuance of a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration⁵ must be marked with the letter 'E'⁶.

RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(iv) Records of Electors/A. THE REGISTER OF ELECTORS AND LIST OF OVERSEAS ELECTORS/162. Effect of register entries and list of proxies.

162. Effect of register entries and list of proxies.

If any entry in the register of electors¹ gives a date as that on a which the person named will attain voting age², the entry is conclusive³ that until the date given in the entry he is not of voting age nor entitled to be treated as an elector except for purposes of an election⁴ at which the day fixed for the poll is that or a later date⁵.

A person registered as an elector⁶ or entered in the list of proxies⁷ cannot be excluded from voting on any of the following grounds⁸, namely that:

- 217 (1) he is not of voting age⁹;
- 218 (2) that he is not or, on the relevant date¹⁰ or the date of his appointment (as the case may be), was not¹¹: (a) a Commonwealth citizen¹²; (b) a citizen of the Republic of Ireland¹³; (c) in the case of a person registered as a parliamentary elector or as a European parliamentary elector (as the case may be) in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration¹⁴, a British citizen¹⁵; and (d) in the case of a person registered as an elector or entered in the list of proxies by virtue of being a relevant citizen of the Union¹⁶, a relevant citizen of the Union¹⁷; or
- 219 (3) that he is or, on the relevant date or the date of his appointment (as the case may be), was otherwise subject to any other legal incapacity to vote¹⁸.

This, however, does not prevent the rejection of the vote on a scrutiny¹⁹ or affect the person's liability to any penalty for voting²⁰.

1 (1) in relation to parliamentary and local government elections, the register of parliamentary electors or the register of local government electors (Representation of the People Act 1983 s 49(4)); (2) in relation to elections to the National Assembly for Wales, the register of local government electors only (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 24(1)); and (3) in relation to European parliamentary elections, any part of: (a) a register of parliamentary or, in the case of peers, local government electors; (b) a register under the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3 (as substituted and amended) (peers resident outside the United Kingdom registered as European parliamentary electors: see PARA 116 ante); (c) a register under the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 5 (see PARA 156 ante); and (d) the Gibraltar register (see PARA 131 note 2 ante), in force within an electoral region at the time of a European parliamentary election in that region (European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 2(1)). As to electoral regions established for the purposes of European parliamentary elections see PARA 76 ante; and as to the registers of electors generally see PARA 156 et seq ante.

For the purposes of extending the rights of citizens and nationals of accession states who (subject to the requirements of registration) may vote at local government and European parliamentary elections, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 49 (as amended) and the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 24 are applied with modifications: see the Local and European Parliamentary Elections (Registration of Citizens of Accession States) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/1557, regs 2(1), (4), 7, Sch 2 para 6(1), (3). The Representation of the People Act 1983 s 49(4), (5) (s 49(5) as substituted and amended) has been applied and modified in order to make provision for the conduct of local authority referendums, in relation to England, by the Local Authorities (Conduct of Referendums) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1298, reg 8, Sch 3 Table 1 and, in relation to Wales, by the Local Authorities (Conduct of Referendums) (Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/870, reg 8, Sch 3 Table 1. As to the conduct of local authority referendums generally see PARA 557 post.

2 'Voting age' is currently 18 years for all purposes: see PARAS 110 note 2, 112 note 14, 117 note 9 ante.

3 le for any purpose of the Representation of the People Act 1983 Pt I (ss 1-66A) (as amended) or the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Pt II (arts 3-34) (as amended) or the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Pt 1 (regs 1-30) (as amended), relating to the person named as elector.

4 For the meaning of 'election' see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

5 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 49(4); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 24(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 17(1). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 1 supra. The Representation of the People Act 1983 s 49(4) applies to an entry in the record of anonymous entries as it applies to an entry in the register of parliamentary or local government electors: s 49(4A) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 10(2), Sch 1 paras 2, 7). For the meaning of the 'record of anonymous entries' see PARA 174 note 12 post.

6 le in relation to parliamentary and local government elections, a person registered as a parliamentary elector or local government elector (Representation of the People Act 1983 s 49(5) (as substituted: see note 8 infra)); in relation to elections to the National Assembly for Wales, a local government elector only (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 24(2)); and, in relation to European parliamentary elections, any person whose name is for the time being on the register of electors (see note 1 supra), but not including those shown in the register as below voting age on the day fixed for the poll (European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 2(1)). As to Gibraltar residents as European parliamentary electors see reg 17(3)(b), (4).

7 For the meaning of the 'list of proxies' see PARA 378 note 14 post.

8 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 49(5) (substituted by the Local Government Elections (Changes to the Franchise and Qualification of Members) Regulations 1995, SI 1995/1948, reg 5(2), Sch 2 para 5); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 24(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 17(2). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 1 supra.

9 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 49(5)(a) (as substituted: see note 8 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 24(3)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 17(2)(a). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 1 supra.

10 For these purposes, 'the relevant date' means, in relation to a person registered in the register in question (see note 1 supra) as published in accordance with the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13(1) (as substituted) (see PARA 164 post), the 15 October immediately preceding the date of publication of the register or, in relation to any other person registered in the register in question, the 'relevant date' for the purposes of s 4 (as substituted) (entitlement to be registered as parliamentary or local government elector: see PARA 128 note 4 ante): s 49(6) (added by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 8, Sch 1 paras 1, 12(1), (4)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 24(4); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 17(3). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 1 supra.

11 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 49(5)(b) (as substituted (see note 8 supra); and amended by the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 1 paras 1, 12(1), (3)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 24(3)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 17(2)(b). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 1 supra.

12 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 49(5)(b)(i) (as substituted: see note 8 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 24(3)(b)(i); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 17(2)(b)(i). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 1 supra. As to who are Commonwealth citizens see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 11.

13 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 49(5)(b)(ii) (as substituted: see note 8 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 24(3)(b)(ii); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 17(2)(b)(ii). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 1 supra. As to who are citizens of the Republic of Ireland see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 12.

14 For these purposes, 'overseas elector's declaration' has the meaning given by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2 (as substituted) (see PARA 129 ante); Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1) (definition added by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 4(5), Sch 2 Pt I).

15 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 49(5)(b)(iii) (as substituted: see note 8 supra); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 17(2)(b)(iii). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 1 supra. As to who are British citizens see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 8 et seq.

16 For the meaning of 'relevant citizen of the Union' in relation to the Representation of the People Act 1983 see PARA 112 note 13 ante; and in relation to the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, see PARA 159 note 6 ante. For the purposes of the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284 (as amended), 'citizen of the Union' is to be interpreted in the same way as in the Representation of the People Act 1983 (as to which see PARA 112 note 13 ante); and 'relevant citizen of the Union' means a citizen of the Union who is not a Commonwealth citizen or a citizen of the Republic of Ireland: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 2(1).

17 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 49(5)(b)(iv) (as substituted: see note 8 supra); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 24(3)(b)(iii); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 17(2)(b)(iv). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 1 supra.

18 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 49(5)(c) (as substituted (see note 8 supra); and amended by the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 1 paras 1 12(1), (3)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 24(3)(c); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 17(2)(c). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 1 supra. As to the meaning of 'legal incapacity (to vote)' under the Representation of the People Acts see PARA 110 note 8 ante. For the purposes of the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284 (as amended), 'legal incapacity' includes (in addition to any incapacity arising by virtue of any subsisting provision of the common law) any disqualification imposed by the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284 (as amended), or by any other enactment (art 2(1)); and, for the purposes of the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, 'legal incapacity' includes (in addition to any incapacity by virtue of any subsisting provision of the common law) any disqualification imposed by the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, or by any Act (reg 2(1)). As to incapacities imposed for offences against electoral law during Welsh Assembly parliamentary elections see PARA 124 ante; and as to incapacities imposed for offences during European parliamentary elections see PARA 125 ante.

19 As to the rejection, on a scrutiny, of votes given by persons under a legal incapacity to vote see PARA 839 post.

B. MAINTENANCE OF ELECTORAL RECORDS

163. Annual canvass.

Each registration officer¹ must conduct an annual canvass in relation to the area for which he acts for the purpose of ascertaining the persons who are for the time being entitled to be, or to remain, registered in his registers². The canvass for any year must be conducted by reference to residence³ on 15 October in that year⁴. A canvass is not, however, concerned with: (1) the registration of persons in respect of residence in penal institutions⁵ or mental hospitals⁶ or other places at which certain persons⁷ may be detained under a relevant order or direction⁸; (2) the registration of persons in pursuance of declarations of local connection⁹, service declarations¹⁰, or overseas electors' declarations¹¹; or (3) the registration of persons with anonymous entries in the register¹².

The form to be used for the purposes of a canvass must be either a form prescribed for those purposes¹³ or a form to the same effect¹⁴.

In connection with a canvass, a registration officer may, for the purpose of supplementing the information obtained by the use of any such form¹⁵ or, where any such form has not been returned, obtaining any information designed to be obtained by the use of the form¹⁶, make such house to house inquiries as he thinks fit¹⁷.

On the conclusion of a canvass, a registration officer must make such alterations in his registers as fall to be made¹⁸ as a result of the canvass¹⁹.

163 Annual canvass

TEXT AND NOTES--As to the situation where an election falls within the canvass period see PARA 163A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(iv) Records of Electors/B. MAINTENANCE OF ELECTORAL RECORDS/163A. Election falling within canvass period.

163A. Election falling within canvass period.

The Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13BB (added by the Political Parties and Elections Act 2009 s 23(1)) applies where (1) in connection with a canvass under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 10 (see PARA 163), the form returned in respect of an address ('the relevant address') is completed in such a way that, by virtue of s 10A(2) (see PARA 167), an application for registration is treated as having been made in respect of that address; and (2) notice is published of an election to which s 13B (see PARA 160) applies that is to be held in an area which includes the relevant address, during the period starting with 1 July in the year of the canvass and ending with 1 December in that year: s 13BB(1). The application must be treated as made when the notice of election is published, if the canvass form has already been returned, when the form is returned, if the notice has already been published, or at such other time as may be prescribed: s 13BB(2). Section 13BB(2) does not apply if the canvass form is returned after the appropriate publication date or the form is returned too late for the application to be determined in accordance with regulations on or before that date, even without there being any delay in dealing with the application or any objections to the registration: s 13BB(3). Where, in consequence of the determination of the application, an entry relating to a person falls to be made in, or removed from, a register covering the relevant address, the registration officer by whom that register is maintained must issue, in the prescribed manner, a notice specifying the appropriate alteration: s 13BB(4). Where (a) in consequence of the determination of the application, a person's entry in respect of an address other than the relevant address falls to be removed from a register maintained by a registration officer other than the one referred to in s 13BB(4), (b) at the time of the determination, notice has been published of an election to which s 13B applies that is to be held in an area which includes that other address, during the period starting with 1 July in the year of the canvass and ending with 1 December in that year and (c) the determination is made before the appropriate publication date for that election, the other registration officer must, on being informed of the determination, issue in the prescribed manner a notice specifying the appropriate alteration: s 13BB(5). A notice under s 13BB(4) or (5) must be issued on the appropriate publication date for the election in question, and the alteration takes effect as from the beginning of that day: s 13BB(6). A requirement imposed by s 13BB(4) or (5) does not apply if, before the appropriate publication date for the election in question, the registration officer concerned publishes a revised version of the register incorporating the appropriate alteration: s 13BB(7). As to the meaning of 'the appropriate publication date' see s 13B (PARA 160); 'canvass form' means the form mentioned in head (1) above: s 13BB(8). For the purposes of s 13BB, a canvass form is 'returned' when it is inserted: s 13BB(9).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(iv) Records of Electors/C. PUBLICATION OF ELECTORAL RECORDS/164. Publication of revised version of registers and list of overseas electors.

C. PUBLICATION OF ELECTORAL RECORDS

164. Publication of revised version of registers and list of overseas electors.

Following the conclusion of the canvass conducted by a registration officer¹ for any year, the officer must publish a revised version of both of his registers² either by 1 December in that year³ or by such later date as regulations may prescribe⁴. The revised versions of the registers must incorporate all the alterations which are required to be made in them as a result of the annual canvass⁵ and any alterations which are required to be made by virtue of the statutory provisions which relate to the alteration of the registers⁶. A registration officer may in addition, if he thinks fit, publish a revised version of either of his registers at any time between⁷ the time when the register was last published following the conclusion of the annual canvass⁸ and the time when it is due to be next so published⁹. However, a registration officer proposing to publish a revised version of a register in this way¹⁰ must publish notice of his intention to do so by such time and in such manner as may be prescribed¹¹. A register of peers resident outside the United Kingdom who are registered as European parliamentary electors¹² may be published by means of a notice making additions to the registers of parliamentary electors and of local government electors with which it must be combined¹³.

When revising a register for publication, the registration officer must make such changes affecting the electoral numbers¹⁴ of persons registered in the register as he considers necessary in order to comply with the requirement¹⁵ that the numbers should, so far as is reasonably practicable, run consecutively in each separate part of a register¹⁶.

Where a revised version of a register is published at any time, the register has effect in the form in which it is so published as from that time until the time when¹⁷ a revised version is next so published¹⁸ or, if earlier, any alteration to the register takes effect under the statutory provisions which relate to the alteration of the registers¹⁹. The revised version of a register²⁰ must be kept published until the coming into force of the next revised version of it²¹.

At the time when the registration officer publishes a revised version of the register following the conclusion of the annual canvass²², he must publish also the list of overseas electors²³ by making a copy of it available for inspection under supervision at his office²⁴; and the list must be kept so published until the next revised version of the register is published following the conclusion of the annual canvass²⁵.

1 Ie under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 10 (as substituted) (see PARA 163 ante). As to registration officers and the areas for which they act see PARA 154 ante.

2 Ibid s 13(1) (s 13 substituted by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 8, Sch 1 paras 1, 6). The registers referred to in the text are the registers of parliamentary electors and local government electors. As to references, in relation to a registration officer, to 'his' registers see PARA 156 note 3 ante.

Any reference in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13 (as substituted) or s 13A (as added and amended) (see PARA 175 post) to the publication of a revised version of the register is to its publication in accordance with regulations made in pursuance of s 53(1) (as amended), Sch 2 para 10A (as added) (copies of the register etc to be made available for inspection by the public) and Sch 2 para 10B(1)(a) (as added) (registration officer to supply copies of the register etc to prescribed persons) (see PARA 127 ante): s 13(6) (as so substituted). Accordingly, the manner in which each revised version of the full register is to be published under s 13(1) (as substituted) and s 13(3) (as substituted) (see the text and notes 7-11 infra) is by the registration officer: (1) making a copy of it available for inspection under supervision at his office, and at such places, if any, in his registration area as allow members of the public in that area reasonable facilities for that purpose (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 43(1)(a) (reg 43(1) substituted by SI 2002/1871)); and (2) supplying copies of it in accordance with the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, Pt VI (regs 92-115) (as added and amended) (see PARA 176 et seq post) (reg 43(1)(b) (as so substituted)). Where a copy of the full register is made available pursuant to head (1) supra by providing the register on a computer screen or otherwise in data form, the registration officer must ensure that the manner in, and equipment on, which that copy is provided do not permit any person consulting that copy to search it by electronic means by reference to the name of any person or to copy or transmit any part of that copy by electronic, or any other, means: reg 43(1A) (added by SI 2002/1871). The permitted purpose for which a copy of the full register is made available for inspection under supervision in this way does not include direct marketing: see PARA 176 note 18 post. For the meaning of 'full register' see PARA 166 note 2 post. As to the making of regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983 generally see PARA 24 note 16 ante. By virtue of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(6), (7), reg 43 (as amended) applies to registration in pursuance of a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration as it applies to registration in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration: see PARA 116 note 7 ante.

For the purposes of extending the rights of peers and of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13 (as substituted; prospectively amended in relation to Northern Ireland) is applied with modifications: see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(4), Sch 4 (cited in PARA 116 note 7 ante); and the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule (cited in PARA 117 note 5 ante).

10 Ibid in accordance with ibid s 13(3) (as substituted).

11 Ibid s 13(3) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 2 supra. For these purposes, 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: s 202(1). Accordingly, a notice under s 13(3) (as substituted) must be published: (1) not less than 14 days before the publication of the revised version of the register to which it relates (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 36(1)(a)); (2) in a newspaper circulating in the area for which the registration officer acts (reg 36(1)(b)); and (3) by posting a copy of it at his office and in some conspicuous place or places in that area (reg 36(1)(c)). As to the making of regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983 generally see PARA 24 note 16 ante.

For the purposes of extending the rights of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirements of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 36 (as amended) is applied with modifications: see the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule; and PARA 117 note 5 ante.

12 Ibid a register under the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 3 (as substituted and amended), which has been prepared and published in accordance with the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13 and the provisions applied by it (see note 2 supra): see PARA 116 ante.

UPDATE

164 Publication of revised version of registers and list of overseas electors

NOTE 3--The Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13(1)(a) has effect, in the case of a registration officer acting for an area in which, or in part of which, an election to which s 13B (see PARA 167) applies is held during the period starting with 1 July in the year in question, and ending with 1 December in that year, as if for '1 December in that year' there were substituted '1 February in the following year': s 13(1A) (added by the Political Parties and Elections Act 2009 s 23(2)).

NOTE 19--Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13(5)(b) amended: Political Parties and Elections Act 2009 Sch 6 para 2.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(iv) Records of Electors/C. PUBLICATION OF ELECTORAL RECORDS/165. Supply of electoral information following publication of revised register.

165. Supply of electoral information following publication of revised register.

As soon as practicable after the publication of a revised version of the register¹ following the conclusion of the annual canvass², the registration officer³ must supply to the Secretary of State⁴ a document setting out the information about electors which is required as follows⁵:

- 220 (1) the name of the constituency⁶ (and, if only part of the constituency is situated in the area for which the registration officer acts, that fact) must be stated and the following total numbers of electors in that constituency or part thereof listed, namely⁷:
 12. (a) parliamentary electors (including those referred to in head (1)(d) below)⁸;
 13. (b) local government electors (including those referred to in head (1)(d) below)⁹;
 14. (c) those local government electors who are ineligible to vote at parliamentary elections¹⁰; and
 15. (d) those registered before attaining voting age¹¹;
- 221 (2) the following totals must be set out separately as respects those electors referred to in heads (1)(a) and (1)(d) above, namely¹²:
 16. (a) those registered by virtue of residence at a qualifying address¹³;
 17. (b) those registered in pursuance of a service declaration¹⁴;
 18. (c) those registered in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration¹⁵; and
 19. (d) those registered in pursuance of a declaration of local connection¹⁶;
- 222 (3) in respect of each relevant area¹⁷ in the constituency, there must be stated¹⁸:
 20. (a) its name or number¹⁹;
 21. (b) the letters²⁰ for each parliamentary polling district in each relevant area or part thereof²¹; and
 22. (c) if only part of the relevant area is situated in the constituency, that fact²²;
- 223 and the following total numbers of electors in that area or part thereof must be listed, namely²³:
 23. (i) parliamentary electors (including those referred to in head (ii) below)²⁴;
 24. (ii) those registered before attaining voting age²⁵; and
 25. (iii) those local government electors who are ineligible to vote at parliamentary elections²⁶;
- 224 (4) the total number of electors who have an anonymous entry²⁷.

RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(iv) Records of Electors/C. PUBLICATION OF ELECTORAL RECORDS/166. Publication of edited version of register.

166. Publication of edited version of register.

At the time when the registration officer¹ publishes a version of the register (the 'full register')², he must also publish³ a version of the register (the 'edited register')⁴, which omits the name and address of any elector whose details are included in the full register, if a request has been duly made⁵ by or on behalf of that elector for his name and address to be excluded from the edited register⁶. The edited register must omit all anonymous entries in the register, and any information relating to them⁷.

In other respects, the edited register must be identical to the full register and, accordingly, must include any mark or date which is required to be recorded against the name of any elector⁸. The manner in which each revised version of the edited register is to be so published is by the registration officer making a copy of it available for inspection at his office⁹ and by such other means (if any) as he thinks appropriate¹⁰. Each revised version of the edited register must be kept published until the coming into force of the next revised version of it¹¹.

1 As to registration officers and the areas for which they act see PARA 154 ante.

2 I.e. a revised version of the register published under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13(1) or (3) (as substituted) (see PARA 164 ante). For the purposes of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended), unless the context otherwise requires, 'full register' has the meaning given in reg 93(1) (as added): reg 3(1) (definition added by SI 2002/1871).

3 I.e. under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 93 (as added and amended).

4 Ibid reg 93(1) (reg 93 added by SI 2002/1871). For the purposes of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended), unless the context otherwise requires, 'edited register' has the meaning given in reg 93(1) (as added): reg 3(1) (definition added by SI 2002/1871). However, unless the contrary intention appears, any reference in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended) to the register is to the full register: reg 93(5) (as so added).

5 I.e. in the form referred to in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 10(4) (as substituted) (see PARA 163 ante) or in accordance with the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 26 (as amended) (see PARA 168 post).

6 Ibid reg 93(2) (as added: see note 4 supra). Notwithstanding the omission of names and addresses in accordance with reg 93(2) (as added), reg 41 (order of names: see PARA 160 ante) applies to the edited register as it applies to the full register: reg 93(4) (as so added).

7 Ibid reg 93(2A) (reg 93 as added (see note 4 supra); and reg 93(2A) added by SI 2006/2910).

8 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 93(3) (as added: see note 4 supra). As to the marks and dates which must be recorded against the name of any elector in the register see PARA 160 ante.

9 Ibid reg 93(6)(a) (as added: see note 4 supra). For the meaning of 'available for inspection' see PARA 157 note 19 ante. The usual provision made under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended) for inspecting a document (see reg 7(1) (as renumbered); and PARA 157 note 19 ante) does not apply to the full register: reg 7(2) (reg 7(2)-(5) added by SI 2002/1871). A person inspecting the full register may not make copies of any part of it, or record any particulars included in it, otherwise than by means of handwritten notes: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 7(3) (as so added). A person who inspects the full register and makes a copy of it or records any particulars included in it otherwise than by means of handwritten notes is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: reg 7(4) (as so added). For these purposes, 'full register' includes any part of it and any notice published under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13A(2) (as added) (see PARA 175 post), s 13B(3) (as added) (see PARA 175 post), s 13B(3B) (as added) (see PARA 175 post) or s 13B(3D) (as added) (see PARA 175 post) altering the register: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 7(5) (as so added; and amended by SI 2006/2910). As to the standard scale see PARA 736 note 3 post; and as to registration offences generally see further PARA 736 et seq post. The amendment effected by the Representation of the People (England and Wales) (Amendment) (No 2) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/2910, does not have effect in relation to any election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see reg 1(2), (3).

By virtue of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(6), (7), reg 7 (as amended) is applied with modifications to registration in pursuance of a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration as it applies to registration in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration (see PARA 116 note 7 ante); and for the purposes of extending the rights of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirements of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, reg 7 (as amended) is applied with modifications (see the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule; and PARA 117 note 5 ante).

10 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 93(6)(b) (as added: see note 4 supra).

11 Ibid reg 93(7) (as added: see note 4 supra).

D. ALTERATIONS TO PUBLISHED ELECTORAL RECORDS

167. Registration officer to determine applications for registration.

A registration officer¹ must determine² all applications for registration³ which are⁴: (1) made to him in accordance with the prescribed⁵ requirements⁶; or (2) treated as made to him⁷ in circumstances where, in connection with an annual canvass⁸, the form completed in respect of any address⁹ specifies any person as a person who is entitled to be registered in a register¹⁰, and that person is not for the time being registered in the register in respect of that address¹¹.

1 As to registration officers see PARA 154 ante.

2 For this purpose, 'determine' means determine in accordance with regulations: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 10A(9) (s 10A added by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 8, Sch 1 paras 1, 4). As to the making of regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983 generally see PARA 24 note 16 ante. As to the regulations which provide for the determination of applications for registration see PARA 173 post.

3 Ibid s 10A(1) (as added) applies to applications asking for: (1) the omission, insertion or alteration of a date as that on which a person will become of voting age and entitled to registration (s 10A(4)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra)); or (2) the alteration of the qualifying address in respect of which a person is registered (s 10A(4)(b) (as so added)), as it applies to applications for registration (s 10A(4) (as added: see note 2 supra)). 'Voting age' is currently 18 years for all purposes: see PARAS 110 note 2, 112 note 14, 117 note 9 ante. For the meaning of 'qualifying address' see PARA 160 note 5 ante. As to the entitlement to be registered as an elector see PARA 128 et seq ante.

4 Ibid s 10A(1) (as added: see note 2 supra).

5 For these purposes, 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: ibid s 202(1). As to the regulations so made see PARA 168 post.

6 Ibid s 10A(1)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra). The registration officer must supply free of charge as many forms for use in connection with s 10A(1)(a) (as added) as appear to that officer reasonable in the circumstances to any person who satisfies that officer of his intention to use the forms in connection with an election: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 4(1).

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 10A(1)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra).

8 Ie under ibid s 10 (as substituted) (see PARA 163 ante).

9 As to the form to be used for the purposes of a canvass see PARA 163 ante.

10 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 10A(2)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra). As to the registers of electors see PARA 160 ante.

11 Ibid s 10A(2)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra). By virtue of s 10A(2) (as added), a person may be treated as having made, on 15 October in the year in question, an application for registration in the register in respect of the address mentioned in head (2) in the text: s 10A(2)(b) (as so added).

UPDATE

167 Registration officer to determine applications for registration

TEXT AND NOTES 8-11--The application referred to in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 10A(2) must, subject to s 13BB(2) (see PARA 163A) be treated as made on 15 October in the year in question: s 10A(2A) (added by the Political Parties and Elections Act 2009 Sch 6 para 1).

NOTE 11--Words 'on the 15 October in the year in question' omitted: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 10A(2)(b) (amended by the Political Parties and Elections Act 2009 Sch 6 para 1).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(iv) Records of Electors/D. ALTERATIONS TO PUBLISHED ELECTORAL RECORDS/168. Form of application for registration as a parliamentary or local government elector.

168. Form of application for registration as a parliamentary or local government elector.

An application for registration¹ as a parliamentary² or local government elector³ or both ('an application for registration') must state⁴:

- 225 (1) the applicant's full name⁵;
- 226 (2) the address in respect of which the applicant applies to be registered and at which he is resident on the date of the application⁶;
- 227 (3) any address in respect of which the applicant is currently registered as an elector, if he has ceased to reside at that address⁷;
- 228 (4) in the case of an applicant who has not attained the age of 18 years, his date of birth⁸;
- 229 (5) in the case of an applicant who is 70 years of age or older, that fact⁹;
- 230 (6) in the case of an applicant whose application is not accompanied by an application for an anonymous entry and who wishes his name and address to be omitted from the edited version of the register, that request¹⁰;
- 231 (7) except in the case of a person applying to be registered in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration¹¹, the applicant's nationality¹²;
- 232 (8) in the case of an applicant whose application is accompanied by an application for an anonymous entry, that fact¹³.

In the case of a person applying to be registered as a parliamentary or local government elector (or both) in pursuance of a service declaration¹⁴, a declaration of local connection¹⁵ or an overseas elector's declaration, the declaration in question must accompany the application¹⁶.

An application for registration must include a declaration made by the applicant that¹⁷:

- 233 (a) the particulars given in accordance with heads (1) to (8) above are true¹⁸;
- 234 (b) in the case of an application by a relevant citizen of the Union for registration as a local government elector¹⁹, he is such a citizen²⁰; and
- 235 (c) in any other case, he is a Commonwealth citizen²¹ or citizen of the Republic of Ireland²².

An application for registration must be made in writing²³ to the registration officer and must be signed²⁴ and dated by the applicant²⁵. An application for registration must be made available for inspection²⁶ at the registration officer's office until the application has been determined by the registration officer²⁷.

Where the registration officer provides the form on which an application for registration is made²⁸, the form of words about the two versions of the register (the full register and the edited register)²⁹ or a form of words to the same effect, must form part of the application form³⁰. Where an application for registration is made otherwise than on a form provided by the registration officer, that officer must, on or before the determination of the application³¹, send to the applicant the form of words about the two versions of the register and must, at the same time, inform the applicant, in writing, that he may, before the end of the period of 21 days, starting with the day on which the officer sends that form of words to the applicant³², make a request, in writing, to the registration officer that he wishes his name and address to be excluded from the edited version of the register³³. Where an applicant does not reply to the registration officer within the period of 21 days, the registration officer must assume that the applicant does not request that his name and address be excluded from the edited version of the register³⁴; but where an applicant does reply to the registration officer within the period of 21 days and in his response requests that his name and address be excluded from the edited version register, that request must be treated as part of the application for registration³⁵.

This requirement does not apply to a person applying to be registered in pursuance of a service declaration or an overseas elector's declaration: reg 26(5). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 4 supra.

21 As to who are Commonwealth citizens see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 11.

22 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 26(3)(c). This requirement does not apply to a person applying to be registered in pursuance of a service declaration or an overseas elector's declaration: reg 26(5). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 4 supra. As to who are citizens of the Republic of Ireland see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 12.

23 The requirement in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended) that any application, notice, representation or objection should be in writing is satisfied where (apart from the usual meaning of that expression) the text of it is transmitted by electronic means, is received in legible form, and is capable of being used for subsequent reference: reg 5 (amended by SI 2006/2910). The amendment effected by the Representation of the People (England and Wales) (Amendment) (No 2) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/2910, does not have effect in relation to any election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see reg 1(2), (3).

By virtue of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(6), (7), reg 5 (as amended) and reg 6 (as amended) (see note 24 infra) apply to registration in pursuance of a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration as they apply to registration in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration (see PARA 116 note 7 ante); and for the purposes of extending the rights of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirements of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, reg 5 (as amended) and reg 6 (as amended) are applied with modifications (see the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule; and PARA 117 note 5 ante).

24 A requirement in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended) for an application, notice, representation or objection to be signed is satisfied (as an alternative to the signature given by hand) where there is both an electronic signature incorporated into or logically associated with a particular electronic communication and the certification by any person of such a signature: reg 6(1) (amended by SI 2006/2910). For these purposes, an electronic signature is so much of anything in electronic form as: (1) is incorporated into or otherwise logically associated with any electronic communication or both; and (2) purports to be so incorporated or associated for the purpose of being used in establishing the authenticity of the communication, the integrity of the communication or both (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 6(2)); and an electronic signature incorporated into or associated with a particular electronic communication is certified by any person if that person (whether before or after the making of the communication) has made a statement confirming that the signature, a means of producing, communicating or verifying the signature or a procedure applied to the signature, is (either alone or in combination with other factors) a valid means of establishing the authenticity of the communication, the integrity of the communication or both (reg 6(3)). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 23 supra. The amendment to reg 6(1) effected by the Representation of the People (England and Wales) (Amendment) (No 2) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/2910, does not have effect in relation to any election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see reg 1(2), (3).

25 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 26(4). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 4 supra.

26 For the meaning of 'available for inspection' see PARA 157 note 19 ante. As to provision made for the inspection of documents see PARA 175 note 12 post.

27 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 28(1) (renumbered by SI 2006/2910). This provision does not apply to an application for registration which is accompanied by an application for an anonymous entry: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 28(2) (added by SI 2006/2910).

By virtue of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(6), (7), reg 28 (as amended) applies to registration in pursuance of a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration as it applies to registration in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration (see PARA 116 note 7 ante); and for the purposes of extending the rights of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirements of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, reg 28 (as amended) is applied with modifications (see the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule; and PARA 117 note 5 ante).

28 le in connection with the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 10A(1)(a) (as added) (see PARA 167 ante) or s 10A(3) (as added) (see PARA 171 post).

29 le the form of words in the Representation of the People (Form of Canvass) (England and Wales) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1694, reg 4, Schedule Pt 2 (Form of Words about the Two Versions of the Register).

30 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 26(6) (added by SI 2002/1871; and amended by SI 2006/1694). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 4 supra. The provisions of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 26(6)-(9) (as added) (see also notes 31-35 infra) do not apply to an application for registration which is accompanied by an application for an anonymous entry: reg 26(10) (added by SI 2006/2910).

31 As to the procedure for determining applications see PARA 173 post.

32 As to the calculation of periods of time for the purposes of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended) see PARA 156 note 18 ante.

33 Ibid reg 26(7) (added by SI 2002/1871). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 4, 30 supra. As to requests for an applicant's name and address to be excluded from the edited version of the register see PARA 166 ante.

34 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 26(8) (added by SI 2002/1871). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 4, 30 supra.

35 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 26(9) (added by SI 2002/1871). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 4, 30 supra.

RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(iv) Records of Electors/D. ALTERATIONS TO PUBLISHED ELECTORAL RECORDS/169. Form of application by relevant citizen of the Union for registration as European parliamentary elector.

169. Form of application by relevant citizen of the Union for registration as European parliamentary elector.

An application for registration as European parliamentary elector¹ may be made by a relevant citizen of the Union² ('the applicant'), must be signed³ and dated by him and must state⁴:

- 236 (1) the full name of the applicant⁵;
- 237 (2) the address in respect of which the applicant claims to be registered and whether he is resident there on the relevant date⁶;
- 238 (3) if the applicant is not resident on the relevant date at the address in respect of which he claims to be registered, whether he has made a declaration of local connection⁷;
- 239 (4) if the applicant is a merchant seaman on the relevant date, that fact⁸; and
- 240 (5) either that the applicant is aged 18 or over or, if not, the date of his birth⁹.

Such an application must include a declaration stating¹⁰:

- 241 (a) the nationality of the applicant¹¹;
- 242 (b) the applicant's address in the United Kingdom¹², if different from the address given under head (2) above¹³;
- 243 (c) where the applicant's name has been entered in a register of electors in a locality or constituency¹⁴ in the member state of which he is a national, the name of the locality or constituency where, so far as he knows, his name was last so entered¹⁵; and
- 244 (d) that the applicant will exercise any right which he has to vote at European parliamentary elections at any such election only in the United Kingdom during the period for which any entry in the register of electors made in pursuance of his application remains in force¹⁶.

Such a declaration may be cancelled at any time by the declarant¹⁷.

The registration officer¹⁸ must supply free of charge as many copies of forms for use in connection with such applications and declarations as appear to that officer reasonable in the circumstances to any person who satisfies that officer of his intention to use the forms in connection with the registration of relevant citizens of the Union as European parliamentary electors¹⁹. An application and a declaration are of no effect unless they are received by the registration officer concerned within the period of three months beginning with the date on which they are made²⁰.

As soon as practicable after the registration officer has registered the name of a relevant citizen of the Union in the register maintained for the purpose²¹ in circumstances where the relevant citizen would be entitled to vote at a European parliamentary general election in pursuance of the registration, he must send a copy of the application²² and declaration²³ by virtue of which he entered the name in the register to the person shown as the representative of the state in respect of which the applicant is a national in a direction containing a list of such representatives issued by the Lord Chancellor²⁴.

1 le an application required by the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 4(1) (see PARA 131 ante).

2 For the meaning of 'relevant citizen of the Union' see PARA 117 note 4 ante.

24 Ibid reg 8(1), (2) (reg 8(1) amended by SI 2003/1557). The Lord Chancellor must issue directions identifying the representative for each member state of the European Union to whom the application and declaration referred to in the text are to be sent: European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 8(3) (added by SI 2003/1557). As to the Lord Chancellor generally see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 477 et seq.

For the purposes of extending the rights of citizens and nationals of accession states who (subject to the requirements of registration) may vote at local government and European parliamentary elections, the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 8 (as amended) is applied with modifications: see the Local and European Parliamentary Elections (Registration of Citizens of Accession States) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/1557, Sch 1 para 5.

UPDATE

169 Form of application by relevant citizen of the Union for registration as European parliamentary elector

NOTE 24--SI 2001/1184 reg 8(1), (3) amended: SI 2009/726.

170. Registration officer to determine applications for anonymous entry in register.

An application for registration in a register of parliamentary electors¹ or local government electors² may be made³ and accompanied by: (1) an application for anonymous registration⁴ made in accordance with prescribed⁵ requirements ('an application for an anonymous entry')⁶; (2) a declaration made in accordance with such requirements for the purposes of such an application⁷; and (3) such evidence in support of the application for an anonymous entry as may be prescribed⁸.

An application for an anonymous entry must state: (a) the applicant's full name⁹; (b) the address in respect of which the applicant applies to be registered and at which he is resident on the date of the application¹⁰; (c) the reason for the application¹¹; and (d) the date of the application¹². The application must be in writing and signed by the applicant¹³; and must be accompanied by evidence of the nature prescribed¹⁴, being either evidence of relevant court orders or injunctions¹⁵ or evidence by attestation of the risk to the safety of the applicant or of another person of the same household as the applicant¹⁶.

The application must be accompanied by a declaration made by the applicant: (i) that the particulars given in accordance with heads (a) to (d) above are true¹⁷; (ii) that, so far as he is aware, the evidence provided as mentioned in head (3) above¹⁸ is genuine, and (iii) that, where the evidence so provided relates not to the applicant but to another person of the same household as the applicant¹⁹, the person to whom the evidence relates is a person of the same household of the applicant²⁰ and, so far as he is aware, the evidence so provided²¹ is genuine²².

The application may give an address to which the registration officer must send correspondence, other than the address given in accordance with head (b) above²³.

Where the registration officer²⁴ determines²⁵ that the applicant for an anonymous entry is entitled to be registered²⁶, and where the application for an anonymous entry is made in accordance with the prescribed²⁷ requirements²⁸, he must also determine whether the safety test is satisfied²⁹. The safety test is satisfied if the safety of the applicant for an anonymous entry or that of any other person of the same household would be at risk if the register contains the name of the applicant or his qualifying address³⁰. Accordingly, the registration officer must determine that the safety test is satisfied (and so allow the application for an anonymous entry) where he is satisfied³¹: (A) that the evidence provided in support of the application³² constitutes evidence of the nature prescribed³³; and (B) in the case of an application where the evidence so provided relates not to the applicant but to another person of the same household as the applicant³⁴, that the evidence so provided establishes that the person in question is a person of the same household as the applicant³⁵.

1 As to the register of parliamentary electors see PARA 160 ante.

2 As to the register of local government electors see PARA 160 ante.

3 Ie in accordance with the requirements prescribed for the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 10A(1)(a) (as added) (see PARA 167 ante).

4 Ie an application under ibid s 9B (as added).

5 For these purposes, 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: ibid s 202(1). As to the regulations so made see the text and notes 9-16 infra. As to the making of regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983 generally see PARA 24 note 16 ante.

6 Ibid s 9B(1)(a) (s 9B added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 10(1)). The text refers to the requirements prescribed under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 31G(1)-(4), (6) (as added) (see the text and notes 9-14, 23 infra). No application may be made under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 9B(1)(a) (as added) until 1 June 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 2.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 9B(1)(b) (as added: see note 6 supra). The text refers to the requirements prescribed under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 31G(5) (as added) (see the text and notes 17-22 infra).

8 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 9B(1)(c) (as added: see note 6 supra). The text refers to the evidence prescribed under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, regs 31I, 31J (as added) (see the text and notes 15, 16 infra).

9 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 31G(1)(a) (regs 31G-31J added by SI 2006/2910).

10 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 31G(1)(b) (as added: see note 9 supra). The text refers to the address given in accordance with reg 26(1)(b) (applications for registration: see PARA 168 ante).

11 Ibid reg 31G(1)(c) (as added: see note 9 supra).

12 Ibid reg 31G(1)(d) (as added: see note 9 supra).

13 Ibid reg 31G(2) (as added: see note 9 supra).

14 Ibid reg 31G(3) (as added: see note 9 supra). The text refers to the evidence prescribed under regs 31I, 31J (as added) (see the text and notes 15, 16 infra). Where the evidence mentioned in reg 31G(3) (as added) relates not to the applicant, but to another person of the same household as the applicant, the application must be accompanied by evidence that that person is of that household: reg 31G(4) (as so added).

15 Evidence which meets the following conditions is prescribed for the purposes of ibid reg 31G(3) (as added) and reg 31H(2)(a) (as added) (see head (A) in the text): reg 31I(1) (as added: see note 9 supra). The first condition is that the evidence is, or is a copy of, a relevant order or injunction: reg 31I(2) (as so added). For these purposes, a relevant order or injunction is an injunction for the purpose of restraining a person from pursuing any conduct which amounts to harassment granted in proceedings under the Protection from Harassment Act 1997 s 3 (as amended) (see TORT vol 97 (2010) PARA 557), an injunction granted under s 3A(2) (as added) (see TORT vol 97 (2010) PARA 557), a restraining order made under s 5(1) (prospectively amended) (see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 349), a restraining order on acquittal made under s 5A(1) (prospectively added) (see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 349) or a non-molestation order made under the Family Law Act 1996 s 42(2) (see MATRIMONIAL AND CIVIL PARTNERSHIP LAW vol 73 (2009) PARA 716 et seq): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 31I(3) (as so added). The second condition is that the relevant order or injunction is made for the protection, or otherwise for the benefit, of the applicant for an anonymous entry or of another person of the same household as him: reg 31I(4) (as so added). The third condition is that the relevant order or injunction is in force on the day on which the application for an anonymous entry is made: reg 31I(5) (as so added).

16 An attestation within the meaning of ibid reg 31J (as added) is prescribed for the purposes of reg 31G(3) (as added) and reg 31H(2)(a) (as added) (see head (A) in the text): reg 31J(1) (as added: see note 9 supra). The attestation: (1) must certify that the safety of the applicant, or of another named person of the same household as him, would be at risk if the register contained the name of the applicant or his qualifying address (reg 31J(2) (a) (as so added)); (2) must state the date on which it is made (reg 31J(2)(b) (as so added)); and (3) must be in writing and signed by a qualifying officer (reg 31J(2)(c) (as so added)). For these purposes, 'qualifying officer' means the chief officer of police of any police force in England and Wales, the Director General of the Security Service, the Director General of the Serious Organised Crime Agency and any director of social services within the meaning of the Local Authority Social Services Act 1970 s 6(1) (prospectively amended) (see SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE vol 44(2) (Reissue) PARA 1007): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 31J(4) (as so added). The attestation must state the period for which it has effect, being a period of between one and five years beginning with the date on which the attestation is made: reg 31J(3) (as so added). As to the Security Service see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 471; as to the chief officer of police of any police force in England and Wales see POLICE vol 36(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 178 et seq; and as to the Director General of the Serious Organised Crime Agency see POLICE vol 36(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 430 et seq.

As from a day to be appointed under the Children Act 2004 s 67(2) (ie when s 18, Sch 2 para 2(1), (2) comes into force), the reference to the Local Authority Social Services Act 1970 s 6(1) (prospectively amended) in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 31J(4) (as added) is to be read, in relation to England, as references to any director of adult social services within the meaning of the Local Authority Social Services Act 1970 s 6(A1) (prospectively added) and any director of children's services within the meaning of the Children Act 2004 s 18 (as amended; prospectively further amended), and, in relation to Wales, as a reference to any director of social services within the meaning of the Local Authority Social Services Act 1970 s 6(1) (prospectively amended): see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 31J(4) (as so added; prospectively amended); and the Representation of the People (England and Wales) (Amendment) (No 2) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/2910, reg 67. At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

170 Registration officer to determine applications for anonymous entry in register

NOTES--Certain functions under provisions mentioned in this paragraph are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3, see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

NOTE 16--Appointed day is 1 January 2008: SI 2007/1792. For 'chief officer of police' read 'a police officer of or above the rank of superintendent'; any director of adult social services in England within the meaning of the 1970 Act s 6(A1), any director of children's services in England within the meaning of the 2004 Act s 18, and any director of social services in Wales within the meaning of the 1970 Act s 6(1) is now a qualifying officer in relation to both England and Wales: SI 2001/341 reg 31J(4) (amended by SI 2009/725).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(iv) Records of Electors/D. ALTERATIONS TO PUBLISHED ELECTORAL RECORDS/171. Registration officer to determine objections to registration.

171. Registration officer to determine objections to registration.

A registration officer¹ must determine² all objections to a person's registration³ made in accordance with the prescribed⁴ requirements by another person whose name appears in the register in question⁵.

1 As to registration officers see PARA 154 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'determine' for these purposes see PARA 167 note 2 ante.

3 The objections asking for: (1) the omission, insertion or alteration of a date as that on which a person will become of voting age and entitled to registration (Representation of the People Act 1983 s 10A(4)(a) (s 10A added by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 8, Sch 1 paras 1, 4)); or (2) the alteration of the qualifying address in respect of which a person is registered (Representation of the People Act 1983 s 10A(4)(b) (as so added)), as it applies to objections to registration (s 10A(4) (as so added)). For the meaning of 'qualifying address' see PARA 160 note 5 ante.

4 For these purposes, 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: ibid s 202(1). As to the regulations so made see PARA 172 post.

5 Ibid s 10A(3) (as added: see note 3 supra). This provision applies to an objection to a person's registration whether the objection is made before or after the person is registered in the register: s 10A(3A) (s 10A as so added; and s 10A(3A) added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 12(4)). However, no objection to a person's registration may be made if the person has an anonymous entry in the register: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 10A(3B) (s 10A as so added; and s 10A(3B) added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 10(2), Sch 1 paras 2, 6(1), (2)). For the meaning of 'anonymous entry' in relation to a register of electors see PARA 174 post. As to the determination of objections to registration see PARA 172 et seq post.

The registration officer must supply free of charge as many forms for use in connection with the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 10A(3) (as added) as appear to that officer reasonable in the circumstances to any person who satisfies that officer of his intention to use the forms in connection with an election: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 4(1).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(iv) Records of Electors/D. ALTERATIONS TO PUBLISHED ELECTORAL RECORDS/172. Form of objection to registration.

172. Form of objection to registration.

Any objection to a person's registration¹ must state²:

- 245 (1) the name of the person against whom the objection is made³;
- 246 (2) in the case of an objection made before that person is entered in the register, the address of that person as given in the application for registration⁴ or, in the case of an objection made after that person is entered in the register, the electoral number and qualifying address of that person contained in the register⁵;
- 247 (3) the grounds of the objection⁶;
- 248 (4) the name of the objector and his address as shown in the register (if so shown) together with the address to which correspondence should be sent if that address is different or if no address is shown in the register⁷; and
- 249 (5) the electoral number of the objector⁸.

An objection must be made in writing⁹ and must be signed¹⁰ and dated by the person objecting¹¹.

Any objection to a person's registration must be made available for inspection at the registration officer's office¹² until the objection has been determined by the registration officer¹³.

1 See the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 10A(1)(a) (as added); and PARA 167 ante. For the purposes of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, Pt III (regs 23-45) (as amended), 'objection' includes representations made against an application for registration under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13A(1)(a) (as added) (see PARA 175 post): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 27(3).

By virtue of reg 13(6), (7), reg 27 (as amended) and reg 28 (as amended) (see the text and notes 11-12 infra) apply to registration in pursuance of a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration as they apply to registration in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration (see PARA 116 note 7 ante); and for the purposes of extending the rights of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirements of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, reg 27 (as amended) and reg 28 (as amended) are applied with modifications (see the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule; and PARA 117 note 5 ante).

2 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 27(1). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 1 supra.

3 Ibid reg 27(1)(a). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 1 supra.

4 Ibid reg 27(1)(b) (amended by SI 2006/2910). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 1 supra.

5 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 27(1)(ba) (added by SI 2006/2910). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 1 supra.

6 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 27(1)(c). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 1 supra.

7 Ibid reg 27(1)(d). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 1 supra.

8 Ibid reg 27(1)(e). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 1 supra. As to a person's electoral number see PARA 160 ante.

9 As to the requirement for an objection to be in writing see PARA 168 note 23 ante.

10 As to the requirement for an objection to be signed see PARA 168 note 24 ante.

11 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 27(2). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 1 supra.

12 For the meaning of 'available for inspection' see PARA 157 note 19 ante. As to the registration officer see PARA 154 ante; and as to provision made for the inspection of documents see PARA 175 note 12 post.

13 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 28(1) (renumbered by SI 2006/2910). This provision does not apply to an application for registration which is accompanied by an application for an anonymous entry: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 28(2) (added by SI 2006/2910). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 1 supra. As to applications for anonymous registration see PARA 170 ante; and as to the procedure for determining objections see PARA 173 post.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(iv) Records of Electors/D. ALTERATIONS TO PUBLISHED ELECTORAL RECORDS/173. Procedure for determining applications for registration and objections.

173. Procedure for determining applications for registration and objections.

A registration officer¹ must discharge his functions of determining an application for registration² and an objection³ in accordance with the statutory provisions⁴.

The registration officer must keep separate lists⁵ of: (1) applications for registration⁶; (2) objections made before the person against whom the objection is made is entered in the register⁷; (3) objections made after the person against whom the objection is made is entered in the register⁸. On receipt of an application, the registration officer must enter the name of the applicant and the address claimed as his qualifying address⁹ in the list he keeps in pursuance of head (1) above¹⁰. On receipt of an objection made before the person against whom the objection is made is entered in the register, the registration officer must enter, in the list he keeps in pursuance of head (2) above, the name and qualifying address of the objector together with the name of the applicant and the address claimed as his qualifying address¹¹ and, in the list he keeps in pursuance of head (1) above, the particulars of the objection¹². On receipt of any other objection, the registration officer must enter the name and qualifying address of the objector together with the name of the applicant and the address claimed as his qualifying address in the list he keeps in pursuance of head (3) above¹³. The registration officer may ask for further information and take no further action until such information is supplied, if he is of opinion that the particulars given in the application or objection are insufficient¹⁴.

The registration officer may allow an application without a hearing provided that no objection is made within the period of five days beginning with the day following the entry of the application in the list of applications¹⁵. The registration officer may disallow an objection if he is of the opinion that the objector is not entitled to object¹⁶; and he must so inform the objector¹⁷. Furthermore, he may disallow an objection without a hearing if he is of the opinion that the objection is clearly without merit¹⁸. The registration officer may send to the applicant or objector a notice stating his opinion that an application or objection cannot be allowed because the matter has been concluded by the decision of a court¹⁹ or the particulars given in the application or objection do not entitle the applicant or objector to succeed²⁰. In such cases, the registration officer must state the grounds for his opinion and that he intends to disallow the application or objection unless that person gives the registration officer notice within three days from the date of the registration officer's notice that he requires the application or objection to be heard²¹. If the registration officer receives no such notice within that time, he may disallow the application or objection²².

Unless the registration officer allows or disallows the application or objection without a hearing²³, he must send a notice²⁴ to the person making the application (in the case of an application)²⁵ and to the objector and the person objected to (in the case of an objection)²⁶, stating the time and place at which he proposes to hear the application or objection²⁷ and the name and address of the objector and the grounds of the objection (in the case of a notice sent to a person objected to)²⁸. The time fixed for the hearing of an application or objection must not be earlier than the third day or later than the seventh day after the date of the notice²⁹. The persons entitled to appear and be heard at the hearing of applications and objections are as follows³⁰: (a) on an application, the applicant³¹; (b) on an objection, the objector and the person objected to³²; (c) on an application or an objection, any other person who appears to the registration officer to be interested³³. The registration officer may, at the request of any person entitled to appear and be heard or, if he thinks fit, without such a request, require that the evidence tendered by any person be given on oath and he may administer the oath for the purpose³⁴.

Where the registration officer is able to determine an objection before an alteration to the register is due to take effect³⁵ and he allows the objection³⁶, the application is to be treated as if it had been disallowed³⁷. Where the registration officer is not able to determine an objection before the alteration to the register is due to take effect, the objection is to be treated as if it was made after the person against whom it is made is entered in the register³⁸.

1 As to registration officers and the areas for which they act see PARA 154 ante.

2 Ie under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 10A(1) (as added) (see PARA 167 ante) or s 13A(1)(a) (as added) (see PARA 175 post).

3 Ie under ibid s 10A(3) (as added) (see PARA 167 ante).

4 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 29(1) (amended by SI 2006/2910). The provisions referred to in the text are those under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, regs 29-31A (reg 29 as amended; reg 31A as added) (see the text and notes 5-38 infra).

By virtue of reg 13(6), (7), the provisions of reg 6, reg 8 (as amended) (see note 15 infra) and regs 29-31 (but not, at the date at which this volume states the law, reg 31A) apply to registration in pursuance of a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration as they apply to registration in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration (see PARA 116 note 7 ante); and for the purposes of extending the rights of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirements of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, regs 6, 8, 29-31 are applied with modifications (see the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule; and PARA 117 note 5 ante). In any case where the registration officer is not required to notify the applicant of the result of an application under the provisions applied by reg 9, he must so notify the applicant under the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184 (as amended): reg 6(5). For the purposes of extending the rights of citizens and nationals of accession states who (subject to the requirements of registration) may vote at local government and European parliamentary elections, reg 6 is applied with modifications: see the Local and European Parliamentary Elections (Registration of Citizens of Accession States) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/1557, reg 6, Sch 1 para 4.

5 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 29(2) (substituted by SI 2006/2910). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 4 supra.

6 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 29(2)(a) (as substituted: see note 5 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 4 supra.

7 Ibid reg 29(2)(b) (as substituted: see note 5 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 4 supra.

8 Ibid reg 29(2)(c) (as substituted: see note 5 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 4 supra.

9 For this purpose, 'qualifying address' includes the address specified in an overseas elector's declaration in accordance with the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2(4)(b) (as substituted) or s 2(4)(c)(ii) (as substituted) (see PARA 147 ante): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 29(8) (added by SI 2006/2910). As to the application and modification of these provisions see note 4 supra. As to overseas elector's declarations see PARA 129 et seq ante.

10 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 29(2A) (reg 29(2A)-(2D) added by SI 2006/2910). The Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 29(2A) (as added) does not apply to an application accompanied by an application for an anonymous entry: reg 29(2B) (as so added). As to the application and modification of these provisions see note 4 supra. As to applications for anonymous registration see PARA 170 ante.

11 Ibid reg 29(2C)(a) (as added: see note 10 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 4 supra.

12 Ibid reg 29(2C)(b) (as added: see note 10 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 4 supra.

13 Ibid reg 29(2D) (as added: see note 10 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 4 supra.

14 Ibid reg 29(3). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 4 supra.

15 Ibid reg 29(4) (amended by SI 2006/2910). In the case of an application for registration accompanied by an application for an anonymous entry, the registration officer may allow the former application without a hearing at any time: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 29(4A) (added by SI 2006/2910). As to the application and modification of these provisions see note 4 supra. Subject to the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 56(6) (as amended) (closing date for application for absent vote: see PARA 372 note 6 post), in computing any period of not more than seven days for the purposes of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended), a Saturday, Sunday, Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, Good Friday or a bank holiday is to be disregarded: reg 8(2), (3) (reg 8(3) amended by SI 2006/2910). For this purpose, 'bank holiday' means a day which under the Banking and Financial Dealings Act 1971 is a bank holiday in England and Wales (see TIME vol 97 (2010) PARA 321): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 8(4).

By virtue of reg 13(6), (7), the provisions of reg 8 (as amended) apply to registration in pursuance of a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration as they apply to registration in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration (see PARA 116 note 7 ante); and for the purposes of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, reg 8 (as amended) applies with modifications (see the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule; and PARA 117 note 5 ante).

16 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 29(5) (amended by SI 2006/2910). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 4 supra.

17 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 29(5). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 4 supra.

18 Ibid reg 29(5A) (reg 29(5A)-(5D) added by SI 2006/2910). Where the registration officer disallows an objection without a hearing as mentioned in the text, he must send to the objector a notice stating that the application has been disallowed on that basis and the grounds for his opinion: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 29(5B) (as so added). An objector may require the objection to be heard by giving notice to the registration officer within three days from the date of the notice given under reg 29(5B) (as added): reg 29(5C) (as so added). A notification under reg 29(5C) (as added) is not to prevent the application to which the objection relates from being allowed: reg 29(5D) (as so added). As to the application and modification of these provisions see note 4 supra.

19 Ibid reg 29(6)(a). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 4 supra.

20 Ibid reg 29(6)(b). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 4 supra.

21 Ibid reg 29(7). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 4 supra.

22 Ibid reg 29(7). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 4 supra.

23 Ie under ibid reg 29 (see the text and notes 15, 18 supra).

24 Ibid reg 30(1). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 4 supra.

35 Ibid reg 31A(2)(a) (reg 31A added by SI 2006/2910). The text refers to circumstances where: (1) an application for registration has been allowed (whether without or following a hearing) (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 31A(1)(a) (as so added)); and (2) either an objection is later made to that application or an objector whose objection in respect of that application has been disallowed without a hearing in pursuance of reg 29(5A) (as added) (see the text and note 18 supra) notifies the registration officer, in accordance with reg 29(5C) (as added) (see note 18 supra), that he requires the objection to be heard (reg 31A(1)(b) (as so added)); and (3) no alteration to the register has yet taken effect in respect of that application by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13(5) (as substituted) (see PARA 164 ante), s 13A(2) (as added) (see PARA 175 post) or s 13B(3) (as added) (see PARA 175 post) (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 31A(1)(c) (as so added)).

36 Ibid reg 31A(2)(b) (as added: see note 35 supra).

37 Ibid reg 31A(2) (as added: see note 35 supra).

38 Ibid reg 31A(3) (as added: see note 35 supra). Where reg 31A(3) (as added) applies, the registration officer must transfer the entry relating to the objection from the list he keeps in pursuance of head (2) in the text to the list he keeps in pursuance of head (3) in the text: reg 31A(4) (as so added).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. 174. Procedure for determining applications for anonymous entry.

If the registration officer¹, in considering an application for an anonymous entry² in a register of parliamentary electors³ or local government electors⁴, determines⁵ that the person is entitled to be registered, he must also determine whether the safety test is satisfied⁶.

If the registration officer does not determine that the safety test is satisfied, no entry is to be made in respect of him in the register⁷; but this does not affect any other entry in the register for the person⁸ or the determination of any further application for registration which is made by the person⁹.

If the registration officer determines that the safety test is satisfied then the usual requirements for a register entry¹⁰ do not apply in relation to the person¹¹, and the person's entry in the register instead contains letters in the prescribed form and his electoral number (an 'anonymous entry')¹². If an anonymous entry is made in respect of a person, the registration officer must remove any other entry in the register for that person¹³. Any communication sent by a registration officer or the returning officer¹⁴ for any election to a person who has an anonymous entry must be sent in an envelope or other form of covering so as not to disclose to any other person that the person has an anonymous entry¹⁵.

1 As to registration officers and the areas for which they act see PARA 154 ante.

2 As to applications for an anonymous entry in a register of electors see PARA 170 ante.

3 As to the register of parliamentary electors see PARA 160 ante.

4 As to the register of local government electors see PARA 160 ante.

5 For this purpose, 'determines' means determines in accordance with regulations: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 9B(11) (s 9B added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 10(1)). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such regulations had been made. As to the making of regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983 generally see PARA 24 note 16 ante.

6 Ibid s 9B(2) (as added: see note 5 supra). As to the safety test see PARA 170 ante.

7 Ibid s 9B(6) (as added: see note 5 supra). The text refers to no entry being made, whether an anonymous entry (see the text and note 12 infra) or otherwise: s 9B(6) (as so added).

8 Ibid s 9B(7)(a) (as added: see note 5 supra).

9 Ibid s 9B(7)(b) (as added: see note 5 supra). The determination of any further application for registration made by the person which is treated as having been made by him by virtue of s 10A(2) (as added) (see PARA 167 ante) is not affected by s 9B(6) (as added): s 9B(7)(b) (as so added).

10 Ie the requirements of ibid s 9(2) (as substituted and amended) (see PARA 160 ante).

11 Ibid s 9B(3)(a) (as added: see note 5 supra).

12 Ibid s 9B(3)(b), (4) (as added: see note 5 supra). For these purposes, 'anonymous entry', in relation to a register of electors, must be construed in accordance with s 9B (as added); and the 'record of anonymous entries' means the record prepared in pursuance of regulations made by virtue of s 53(1) (as amended), Sch 2 para 8A (as added) (provisions requiring the registration officer to prepare a record of those persons with anonymous entries in the register: see PARA 127 ante); s 202(1) (definitions added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 10(2), Sch 1 paras 2, 13(1), (2)). As to a person's electoral number see PARA 160 ante.

13 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 9B(5) (as added: see note 5 supra).

14 As to returning officers see PARA 355 post.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(iv) Records of Electors/D. ALTERATIONS TO PUBLISHED ELECTORAL RECORDS/175. Notice of alteration of published register.

175. Notice of alteration of published register.

Where, at any time ('the relevant time') after the publication of a revised version of a register¹ by a registration officer², the registration officer³:

- 250 (1) on an application for registration being made by any person in accordance with the prescribed⁴ requirements, determines⁵ that that person is entitled to be so registered⁶;
- 251 (2) is required, by virtue of any provision of statutory provisions relating to the franchise and its exercise⁷, to remove a person's entry from the register⁸;
- 252 (3) is notified of any decision on an appeal⁹ which requires any such alteration in the register¹⁰; or
- 253 (4) determines that the register contains any clerical error¹¹, the registration officer must issue, in the prescribed manner, a notice¹² specifying the appropriate alteration in the register¹³. The notice must be so issued by him either on the first day of the month which follows that in which the relevant time falls¹⁴ or, if that day is less than 14 days after that time, on the first day of the month immediately following that month¹⁵. However, a registration officer is not so required to issue a notice in a case where the notice is required to be issued either at the beginning of the month containing the date on which a revised version of the register is next due to be published¹⁶ or at the beginning of either of the two months preceding that containing the date on which a revised version of the register is next due to be published following the conclusion of the annual canvass¹⁷, and in such a case the alteration in question must be made in that revised version of the register¹⁸.

The alteration in question has effect as from the beginning of the day on which the notice is issued¹⁹. However, if an alteration in a published version of a register is due to take effect²⁰ after the fifth day before the date of the poll²¹ for a parliamentary election²², an election to the European Parliament²³, an election to the National Assembly for Wales²⁴ or a local government election in England or Wales²⁵ ('a relevant election'), the alteration does not have effect for the purposes of that election²⁶. In circumstances where:

- 254 (a) at any time before the appropriate publication date²⁷ in the case of such an election, the registration officer has to issue a notice specifying an appropriate alteration in the register²⁸ in connection with a determination, requirement or decision falling within any of heads (1) to (4) above²⁹;
- 255 (b) in consequence of the determination, requirement or decision, an entry relating to a person falls to be made in (or removed from) the register in respect of an address in the relevant election area³⁰; and
- 256 (c) no alteration made in consequence of that determination, requirement or decision has already taken effect³¹, or is due to take effect³², on or before the fifth day before the date of the poll³³, the registration officer must issue, in the prescribed manner, a notice specifying the appropriate alteration in the register³⁴. The notice must be so issued by him on the appropriate publication date³⁵ and the alteration takes effect as from the beginning of that day³⁶. In circumstances where:

- 257 (i) at any time on or after the appropriate publication date in the case of a relevant election but before the prescribed time on the day of the poll³⁷, the registration officer must issue, in the prescribed manner, a notice specifying the appropriate alteration in the register³⁸ in connection with a notification mentioned in head (3) above³⁹; and
- 258 (ii) in consequence of the notification either an entry relating to that person falls to be made in the register in respect of an address in the relevant election area⁴⁰ or his entry in the register requires to be altered⁴¹,

the registration officer must issue, in the prescribed manner, a notice specifying the appropriate alteration in the register⁴². The notice must be so issued by him when he receives the notification⁴³ and the alteration takes effect as from the beginning of the day on which the notice is issued⁴⁴. In circumstances where:

- 259 (A) at any time on or after the appropriate publication date in the case of a relevant election but before the prescribed time on the day of the poll⁴⁵, the registration officer must issue, in the prescribed manner, a notice specifying the appropriate alteration in the register⁴⁶ in connection with a determination falling within head (4) above⁴⁷; and
- 260 (B) the determination was made following a representation⁴⁸ made by or on behalf of a person to the registration officer⁴⁹; and
- 261 (C) in consequence of the determination either an entry relating to that person falls to be made in the register in respect of an address in the relevant election area⁵⁰ or his entry in the register requires to be altered⁵¹,

the registration officer must issue, in the prescribed manner, a notice specifying the appropriate alteration in the register⁵². The notice must be so issued by him when he makes the determination⁵³ and the alteration takes effect as from the beginning of the day on which the notice is issued⁵⁴.

No alteration affecting a published version of a register of electors is to be made otherwise than in accordance with the provisions set out above⁵⁵.

1 As to the meaning of references to publication of a revised version of the register see PARA 164 note 2 ante.

2 As to registration officers and the areas for which they act see PARA 154 ante.

3 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13A(1) (ss 13A, 13B added by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 8, Sch 1 paras 1, 6).

For the purposes of extending the rights of peers and relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13A (as added and amended) and s 13B (as added) are applied with modifications: see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(4), Sch 4 (cited in PARA 116 note 7 ante); and the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule (cited in PARA 117 note 5 ante). The Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B (as added) has been applied and modified in order to make provision for the conduct of local authority referendums, in relation to England, by the Local Authorities (Conduct of Referendums) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1298, reg 8, Sch 3 Table 1 and, in relation to Wales, by the Local Authorities (Conduct of Referendums) (Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/870, reg 8, Sch 3 Table 1. As to the conduct of local authority referendums generally see PARA 557 post.

4 For these purposes, 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1). As to the regulations that have been made see the Representation of the People (England and Wales)

Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended); and PARA 168 ante. As to the making of regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983 generally see PARA 24 note 16 ante.

5 For these purposes, 'determines' means determines in accordance with regulations: ibid s 13A(6) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra. As to the regulations that have been made under s 13A(6) (as added) see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended); and PARA 173 ante.

6 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13A(1)(a) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra.

7 Ie by virtue of any provision of ibid Pt I (ss 1-66A) (as amended).

8 Ibid s 13A(1)(b) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra.

9 Ie by virtue of ibid s 56 (as amended) (see PARA 189 et seq post).

10 Ibid s 13A(1)(c) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra. The text refers to any alteration in the register such as is mentioned in s 56(4) (as amended) (see PARA 195 post).

11 Ibid s 13A(1)(d) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra.

12 A notice under ibid s 13A(2) (as added) or under s 13B(3) (as added) (see the text and notes 34-36 infra), s 13B(3B) (as added) (see the text and notes 41-43 infra) or s 13B(3D) (as added) (see the text and notes 50-52 infra) must be issued (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 36(2) (amended by SI 2006/2910)):

- 42 (1) by making a copy of it available for inspection under supervision at the registration officer's office and at such places, if any, in his registration area as allow members of the public in that area reasonable facilities for that purpose (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 36(2)(a) (substituted by SI 2002/1871));
- 43 (2) by supplying copies of it in accordance with the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, Pt VI (regs 92-115) (as added and amended) (see PARA 176 et seq post) (reg 36(2)(aa) (added by SI 2002/1871)); and
- 44 (3) except in a case falling within the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 31C(2)(d) (as added) (death of elector: see PARA 187 post), by sending a copy of it to any person affected by its contents (reg 36(2)(b) (amended by SI 2006/2910)).

See also note 34 infra. For the meaning of 'available for inspection' see PARA 157 note 19 ante.

By virtue of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(6), (7), reg 36(2) (as amended) applies to registration in pursuance of a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration as it applies to registration in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration (see PARA 116 note 7 ante); and for the purposes of extending the rights of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, reg 36(2) (as amended) is applied with modifications (see the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule; and PARA 117 note 5 ante).

13 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13A(2) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra. This is subject to s 13A(3) (as added) (see the text and notes 16-18 infra). See also note 34 infra.

14 Ibid s 13A(2)(a)(i) (as added: see note 3 supra). Periods of time must be calculated in accordance with s 119 (as amended) (see PARA 237 note 11 post), which applies for the purposes of s 13A(2)(a) (as added) as if it were contained in Pt II (ss 67-119) (as amended) (the election campaign: see PARA 237 et seq post): s 13A(6) (as so added). As to the application and modification of these provisions see note 3 supra.

15 Ibid s 13A(2)(a)(ii) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra. See also note 14 supra.

16 Ibid s 13A(3)(a) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra. The text refers to a revised version of the register next due to be published in accordance with s 13(1) or (3) (as substituted) (see PARA 164 ante).

17 Ibid s 13A(3)(b) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra. The text refers to the time when the register is next due to be published in accordance with s 13(1) (as substituted) (see PARA 164 ante).

18 Ibid s 13A(3) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra.

19 Ibid s 13A(2)(b) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra.

20 Ie by virtue of ibid s 13A(2) (as added) (see the text and notes 12-15, 19 supra).

21 Ibid s 13B(1) (s 13B as added (see note 3 supra); and s 13B(1) substituted by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 11(1), (2)). The amendments effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 11 do not have effect in relation to any election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1. For the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B (as added and amended), s 119 (as amended) (see PARA 237 note 11 post) applies as if it were contained in Pt II (as amended) (the election campaign: see PARA 237 et seq post) and as if each of the days referred to in s 13B (as added and amended) were the day on which anything is required or permitted to be done by or in pursuance of Pt II (as amended): s 13B(6) (as so added). As to the application and modification of s 13B (as added and amended) see note 3 supra.

22 Ibid s 13B(4)(a) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra. As to the date of the poll at a parliamentary general election or by-election see PARA 202 post.

23 Ibid s 13B(4)(b) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra. As to the date of the poll at a European parliamentary election see PARA 229 post.

24 Ibid s 13B(4)(d) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra. An alteration in a register of electors under s 13A (as added and amended) does not have effect for the purposes of an Assembly election if it was made after the last day for the delivery of nomination papers set out in the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 16(1), Sch 5 para 1(1) (as to which see PARA 267 post): art 4(1). For the meaning of 'Assembly election' see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to the date of the poll at elections to the National Assembly for Wales (including elections to fill vacancies in an Assembly constituency) see PARAS 220-221 post.

25 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B(4)(f) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra. As to the date of the poll at local government elections (including elections to fill vacancies) see PARAS 213-216 post.

26 Ibid s 13B(1) (as added and substituted: see note 21 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 3, 21 supra.

27 For these purposes, the 'appropriate publication date', in relation to a registration officer and an election to which ibid s 13B (as added and amended) applies (see the text and notes 22-25 supra), means either the sixth or the fifth day before the date of the poll, as the registration officer may determine: s 13B(5) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of these provisions see note 3 supra.

28 Ie where ibid s 13A (as added and amended) applies to a registration officer by virtue of s 13A(1) (as added) (see the text and notes 1-11 supra).

29 Ibid s 13B(2)(a) (s 13B as added (see note 3 supra); and s 13B(2) substituted by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 11(1), (3)). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 3, 21 supra.

30 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B(2)(b) (s 13B as added (see note 3 supra); and s 13B(2) as substituted (see note 29 supra)). For these purposes, 'the relevant election area', in relation to a registration officer and an election to which s 13B (as added and amended) applies (see the text and notes 22-25 supra), means either the area for which the registration officer acts or, if the election is held in only part of that area, the part of that area in question: s 13B(5) (as so added). As to the application and modification of these provisions see notes 3, 21 supra.

31 Ibid s 13B(2)(c)(i) (s 13B as added (see note 3 supra); and s 13B(2) as substituted (see note 29 supra)). The text refers to alterations taking effect under s 13A(2) (as added) (see the text and notes 12-15, 19 supra). As to the application and modification of these provisions see notes 3, 21 supra.

32 Ibid s 13B(2)(c)(ii) (s 13B as added (see note 3 supra); and s 13B(2) as substituted (see note 29 supra)). The text refers to alterations taking effect under s 13A(2) (as added) (see the text and notes 12-15, 19 supra). As to the application and modification of these provisions see notes 3, 21 supra.

33 Ibid s 13B(2)(c) (s 13B as added (see note 3 supra); and s 13B(2) as substituted (see note 29 supra)). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 3, 21 supra. As to the alterations due to take effect which are referred to in the text see note 32 supra.

34 Ibid s 13B(3) (as added: see note 3 supra). In a case where s 13B(3) (as added), s 13B(3B) (as added) (see the text and notes 41-43 infra) or s 13B(3D) (as added) (see the text and notes 50-52 infra) requires a registration officer to issue a notice, he is not required to issue a notice under s 13A(2) (as added) (see the text and notes 12-15 supra): s 13A(4) (as so added; and amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 11(6), Sch 1 paras 31, 32).

The amendments effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 31, 32 have no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

35 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B(3)(a) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra.

36 Ibid s 13B(3)(b) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra.

37 For the purposes of ibid s 13B(3A) (as added), the prescribed time on the day of the poll is 9 pm: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 36(3) (added by SI 2006/2910). The amendment effected by the Representation of the People (England and Wales) (Amendment) (No 2) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/2910, does not have effect in relation to any election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see reg 1(2), (3).

38 See note 28 supra.

39 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B(3A)(a) (s 13B(3A)-(3E) added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 11(1), (4)). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 3, 21 supra.

40 Ibid s 13B(3A)(b)(i) (as added: see note 39 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 3, 21 supra.

41 Ibid s 13B(3A)(b)(ii) (as added: see note 39 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 3, 21 supra.

42 Ibid s 13B(3B) (as added: see note 39 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 3, 21 supra. As to the notice referred to in the text see note 34 supra. Where a notice is issued under s 13B(3B) (as added) on the day of the poll, the registration officer must take reasonable steps to ensure that the notice comes to the attention of the relevant presiding officer: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 36A(1) (reg 36A added by SI 2006/2910). Such steps may include communicating the notice to the presiding officer by telephone, in which case the presiding officer must make a written record of that notice: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 36A(2), (3) (as so added). As to the appointment of presiding officers see PARA 398 ante.

43 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B(3B)(a) (as added: see note 39 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 3, 21 supra.

44 Ibid s 13B(3B)(b) (as added: see note 39 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 3, 21 supra.

45 For the purposes of ibid s 13B(3C) (as added), the prescribed time on the day of the poll is 9 pm: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 36(3) (added by SI 2006/2910). As to the commencement of this provision see note 37 supra.

46 See note 28 supra.

47 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B(3C)(a) (as added: see note 39 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra.

48 For this purpose, 'representation' means a representation made in accordance with prescribed requirements to the effect that the register contains a clerical error: ibid s 13B(3E) (as added: see note 39 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 3, 21 supra. For the purposes of s 13B(3C) (as added), a representation may be made orally or in writing: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 32A(1) (reg 32A added by SI 2006/2910). Where a representation is made in a polling station to a presiding officer, the presiding officer must as soon as practicable communicate that representation to the relevant registration officer: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 32A(2) (as so added). Regulation 32A (as added) has no effect in relation to any election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see reg 1(2), (3).

49 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B(3C)(b) (as added: see note 39 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 3, 21 supra.

50 Ibid s 13B(3C)(c)(i) (as added: see note 39 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 3, 21 supra.

51 Ibid s 13B(3C)(c)(ii) (as added: see note 39 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 3, 21 supra.

52 Ibid s 13B(3D) (as added: see note 39 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 3, 21 supra. As to the notice referred to in the text see note 34 supra. Where a notice is issued under s 13B(3D) (as added) on the day of the poll, the registration officer must take reasonable steps to ensure that the notice comes to the attention of the relevant presiding officer: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 36A(1) (reg 36A as added: see note 42 supra). Such steps may include communicating the notice to the presiding officer by telephone, in which case the presiding officer must make a written record of that notice: reg 36A(2), (3) (as so added). Regulation 36A (as added) has no effect in relation to any election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see reg 1(2), (3).

53 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13B(3D)(a) (as added: see note 39 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 3, 21 supra.

54 Ibid s 13B(3D)(b) (as added: see note 39 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see notes 3, 21 supra.

55 Ibid s 13A(5) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra. The text refers to the provisions of both s 13A (as added and amended) (see the text and notes 1-19 supra) and s 13B (as added and amended) (see the text and notes 20-54 supra).

E. SUPPLY AND SALE OF ELECTORAL RECORDS AND RESTRICTIONS ON USE

176. General restriction on supply of electoral records and disclosure of information.

Persons with access to the full register¹ or to the information contained in it may not supply to any other person a copy of the full register², disclose any information which is contained in it (and which is not contained in the edited register)³ or make use of any such information⁴, otherwise than as follows:

- 262 (1) the registration officer⁵, any deputy registration officer⁶ and any person appointed to assist any such officer or who in the course of his employment is assigned to assist any such officer in his registration duties⁷ may not so supply, disclose or make use of such registers or such information otherwise than in accordance with an enactment⁸;
- 263 (2) any officer⁹ to whom copies of the register are delivered for the purpose of summoning jurors¹⁰ and any other person to whom a copy of the full register has been supplied or to whom information contained in it has been disclosed for the purpose of summoning jurors¹¹ may not so supply, disclose or make use of such registers or such information otherwise than for the purpose of summoning jurors¹²;
- 264 (3) any person to whom a copy of the full register has been supplied in pursuance of any enactment¹³ ('a relevant provision') under which a copy of the full register is to be supplied or information from that register disclosed for a particular purpose¹⁴, any person to whom information contained in the full register has been disclosed in pursuance of such a provision¹⁵, any person to whom such person has supplied a copy of the full register or information contained in it for the purposes (express or implied) of such a provision¹⁶, and any person who has obtained access to a copy of the full register or information contained in it by any other means¹⁷, may not so supply, disclose or make use of such registers or such information other than for a permitted purpose¹⁸.

The restrictions contained in heads (1) and (2) above apply to a person to whom the full register is duly supplied or to whom any information contained in it (that is not contained in the edited register) is duly disclosed as they apply to the original recipient of the data¹⁹.

The registration officer, any deputy registration officer and any person appointed to assist any such officer or who in the course of his employment is assigned to assist such officer in his registration duties²⁰ may not²¹ supply to any person a copy of the record of anonymous entries²², disclose information contained in it²³ or make use of such information²⁴, otherwise than in accordance with an enactment²⁵ or in accordance with the order of any court or tribunal made at any hearing or during the course of any proceedings²⁶. All such persons must take proper precautions for the safe custody of the record²⁷. The registration officer must, at the request in writing of any person to whom a copy of the full register has been supplied or to whom information contained in it has been disclosed for the purpose of summoning jurors²⁸, supply to that person a copy of the record of anonymous entries²⁹. No person who has been supplied with a copy of the record of anonymous entries for these purposes³⁰ may supply a copy of the record of anonymous entries³¹, disclose any information contained in it³² or make use of any such information³³, other than for the purpose of summoning jurors³⁴; and such persons must take proper precautions for the safe custody of the record³⁵.

1 For the meaning of 'full register' see PARA 166 note 2 ante. For the purposes of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, Pt VI (regs 92-115) (as added and amended), 'register' includes: (1) any part of the register referred to; and (2) any notice altering the register published under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13A(2) (as added), s 13B(3) (as added), s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13B(3D) (as added) (see PARA 175 post): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 92(1) (reg 92 added by SI 2002/1871; and the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 92(1) amended by SI 2006/2910). However, head (2) supra does not apply either in the context of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 93 (as added and amended) (edited version of the register: see PARA 166 ante) or in the context of the supply by the registration officer of the register and notices altering the register (see PARA 175 ante): reg 92(1) (as so added and amended).

2 Ibid reg 94(3)(a) (reg 94 added by SI 2002/1871).

3 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 94(3)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra). For the meaning of 'edited register' see PARA 166 note 4 ante.

4 Ibid reg 94(3)(c) (as added: see note 2 supra).

5 Ibid reg 94(1)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra). Where the registration officer is also the returning officer or acting returning officer at any election or the counting officer at a referendum held by or under an Act of Parliament (and thereby has access to the full register without being supplied with a copy of it), reg 94 (as added) also applies to: (1) the registration officer acting in that other capacity (reg 94(2)(a) (as so added)); (2) any deputy returning officer, deputy acting returning officer or deputy counting officer (reg 94(2)(b) (as so added)); and (3) any person appointed to assist any person mentioned in head (1) or head (2) supra or who in the course of his employment is assigned to assist any such officer in his duties in respect of the election or referendum in question (reg 94(2)(c) (as so added)). For the meaning of 'registration officer' for these purposes see PARA 154 note 1 ante. As to the appointment of deputies of and assistants to the registration officer see PARA 155 ante; as to returning officers and their deputies and assistants see PARA 355 et seq post; and as to counting officers and their deputies see PARA 545 et seq post.

6 Ibid reg 94(1)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra).

7 Ibid reg 94(1)(c) (as added: see note 2 supra).

8 Ibid reg 94(3) (as added: see note 2 supra). Nothing in reg 94(3) (as added) applies to the supply or disclosure by a person mentioned in head (1) in the text to another such person in connection with his registration duties or for the purposes of an election or referendum: reg 94(4) (as so added). For the purposes of Pt VI (as added and amended), 'enactment' has the same meaning as in the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 17(2) (see PARA 513 note 8 post) (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, regs 3(1), 92(2)(a) (reg 92 as added: see note 1 supra)); and for the purposes of reg 94(3) (as added), it includes the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended). A person who contravenes reg 94(3) (as added) is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: see reg 115 (as added and amended); and PARA 737 post. As to the standard scale see PARA 736 note 3 post.

11 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 95(1)(b) (as added: see note 10 supra).

12 Ibid reg 95(2) (as added: see note 10 supra). A person who contravenes reg 95(2) (as added) is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: see reg 115 (as added and amended); and PARA 737 post.

13 Ie except the Juries Act 1974 (see head (2) in the text) and the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended): reg 96(3) (reg 96 added by SI 2002/1871).

14 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 96(1)(a), (3) (as added: see note 13 supra).

15 Ibid reg 96(1)(b) (as added: see note 13 supra).

16 Ibid reg 96(1)(c) (as added: see note 13 supra).

17 Ibid reg 96(1)(d) (as added (see note 13 supra); and amended by SI 2006/752).

18 Ibid reg 96(2) (as added (see note 13 supra); and amended by SI 2006/752). The Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 96(2) (as added and amended) provides that 'permitted purpose' must be construed as follows: (1) where the copy was supplied or the information obtained in pursuance of a relevant provision, it means the particular purpose for which the copy was supplied or the information disclosed to the person in question pursuant to the relevant provision (reg 96(2A)(a) (reg 96(2A) added by SI 2006/752)); and (2) where the copy was not supplied or the information was not disclosed in pursuance of a relevant provision: (a) in the case of a person to whom the copy of the full register was made available for inspection under supervision in accordance with the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 43(1)(a) (as substituted) (see PARA 164 note 2 ante), reg 97(2)(a), (3) (as added and amended) (see PARA 177 post), reg 97A(4)(a), (b) (as added) (see PARA 177 post), reg 99(4)(a) (as added) (see PARA 183 post) and reg 109A(6)(a), (b) (as added) (see PARA 178 post) does not include direct marketing within the meaning of the Data Protection Act 1998 s 11(3) (see CONFIDENCE AND DATA PROTECTION vol 8(1) (2003 Reissue) PARA 527) (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 96(2A)(b)(i) (as so added)); and (b) in any other case, means any purpose for which the person to whom reg 96 (as added and amended) applies could have obtained a copy of the register or the information contained in it pursuant to any enactment, including the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended) (reg 96(2A)(b)(ii) (as so added)). A person who contravenes reg 96(2) (as added and amended) is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: see reg 115 (as added and amended); and PARA 737 post. For the meaning of 'available for inspection' see PARA 157 note 19 ante.

In R (on the application of Robertson) v City of Wakefield Metropolitan District Council [2001] EWHC Admin 915, [2002] QB 1052, [2002] LGR 286, the previous practice of selling the electoral register for direct marketing purposes without affording an individual elector a right of objection was held to be a disproportionate interference with the individual's right to respect for private life under the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms (Rome, 4 November 1950; TS 71 (1953); Cmd 8969) art 8 and, to the extent that the prevailing regulations made the right to vote conditional upon acquiescence in the practice with no right of objection, they also involved an unjustified and disproportionate restriction on the right to vote by reference to the First Protocol (Paris, 20 March 1952; Cmd 9221) art 3 (see PARA 7 ante).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(iv) Records of Electors/E. SUPPLY AND SALE OF ELECTORAL RECORDS AND RESTRICTIONS ON USE/177. Supply of electoral records to national libraries.

177. Supply of electoral records to national libraries.

Each registration officer¹ must supply, free of charge and on publication², one printed copy and one data copy of any revised version of the register³ and one printed copy of any list of overseas electors⁴ to the national libraries⁵. No person employed by the library may⁶: (1) supply a copy of the full register other than to another such person or to a person using the library to inspect it under supervision⁷; (2) disclose any information contained in it (that is not contained in the edited register) otherwise than by allowing a person using the library to inspect it under supervision⁸; or (3) make use of any such information⁹. However, a person employed by the library is not prohibited from supplying a copy of, or disclosing information contained in, a version of the full register where: (a) more than ten years have expired since that version of the register was first published¹⁰; and (b) the supply or disclosure is for research purposes in compliance with the relevant conditions¹¹.

Where a copy of the full register is made available for inspection by providing the register on a computer screen or otherwise in data form, the library must ensure that the manner in, and equipment on, which that copy is provided do not permit any person consulting that copy to search it by electronic means by reference to the name of any person¹² or copy or transmit any part of that copy by electronic means¹³. A person who inspects the copy of the full register held by the library, whether a printed copy or in data form, may not¹⁴ make copies of any part of it¹⁵ or record any particulars included in it¹⁶, otherwise than by means of handwritten notes¹⁷. No person who obtains a copy of the full register (or to whom information contained in it that is not contained in the edited register is disclosed under the circumstances described in heads (a) and (b) above) may supply a copy of it¹⁸, disclose any such information¹⁹ or make use of any such information²⁰, otherwise than for research purposes in compliance with the relevant conditions²¹. The restrictions on supply and disclosure thereby imposed on a recipient of the data apply equally to any person to whom the full register is duly supplied or to whom any information contained in it (that is not contained in the edited register) is duly disclosed as they apply to the original recipient²².

Subject to any direction of the Secretary of State under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 52(1) (as amended) (discharge of registration duties: see PARA 156 ante), any duty on a registration officer to supply data under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, Pt VI (regs 92-115) (as added and amended) imposes only a duty to supply data in the form in which he holds it (reg 92(5) (reg 92 added by SI 2002/1871)); and he must not supply data which includes information not included in the printed version of the full register otherwise than under a provision in an enactment (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 92(6) (as so added)). For these purposes, 'data' means information which is recorded with the intention that it should be processed by means of equipment operating automatically in response to instructions given for that purpose: reg 3(1) (definition substituted by SI 2001/1700). For the meaning of 'enactment' see PARA 176 note 8 ante. For the meaning of 'full register' see PARA 166 note 2 ante. As to the meaning of 'register' see PARA 176 note 1 ante. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante.

3 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 97(1)(a) (as added (see note 2 supra); and amended by SI 2006/752); Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 97A(1)(a), (2)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra). The text refers to the revised version of a register published under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13(1) or (3) (as substituted) (see PARA 164 ante).

4 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 97(1)(b) (as added (see note 2 supra); and amended by SI 2006/752); Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 97A(1)(b), (2)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra). For the meaning of 'list of overseas electors' see PARA 156 note 9 ante.

5 Ibid reg 97(1) (as added: see note 2 supra). For these purposes, the national libraries referred to in the text are the British Library and the National Library of Wales (as the case may be). As to the British Library and the National Library of Wales see NATIONAL CULTURAL HERITAGE vol 77 (2010) PARA 906 et seq. The duty of a registration officer in England to supply one copy of any revised version of the register to the National Library of Wales is a duty to supply a data copy unless, prior to publication, the National Library of Wales has requested in writing a printed copy instead: reg 97A(3) (as added: see note 2 supra).

6 Ibid reg 97(2) (as added (see note 2 supra); and amended by SI 2006/752); Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 97A(4) (as added: see note 2 supra). This provision is expressed to be subject to reg 97(5) (as added) or reg 97A(7) (as added) (as the case may be) (see the text and notes 10-11 infra): reg 97(2) (as so added and amended); reg 97A(4) (as so added). For the purposes of Pt VI (as added and amended), any reference to an employee of any person who has access to a copy of the full register is deemed to include any person working or providing services for the purposes of that person or employed by or on behalf of, or working for, any person who is so working or who is supplying such a service: reg 92(3) (as added: see note 2 supra). A person who contravenes reg 97(2) (as added and amended) or reg 97A(4) (as added) is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: see reg 115 (as added and amended); and PARA 737 post. As to the standard scale see PARA 736 note 3 post.

7 Ibid reg 97(2)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra); reg 97A(4)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra). The permitted purpose for which a copy of the full register is made available for inspection under supervision in this way does not include direct marketing: see PARA 176 note 18 ante.

8 Ibid reg 97(2)(b), (3) (as added: see note 2 supra); reg 97A(4)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra). The prohibition on the disclosure of information which is contained in the full register (that is not contained in the edited register) otherwise than by allowing a person using the library to inspect it under supervision is also expressed as a general prohibition in the case of the British Library, subject to reg 97(5) (as added) (see the text and notes 10-11 infra): see reg 97(3) (as so added). For the meaning of 'edited register' see PARA 166 note 4 ante. As to the permitted purpose for which a copy of the full register may be made available see note 7 supra.

9 Ibid reg 97(2)(c) (as added: see note 2 supra); reg 97A(4)(c) (as added: see note 2 supra).

10 Ibid reg 97(5)(a) (reg 97(5) added by SI 2006/752); Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 97A(7)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra). The text refers to that version of the register first published in accordance with reg 43 (as amended) (see PARA 164 note 2 ante).

11 Ibid reg 97(5)(b) (as added: see note 10 supra); reg 97A(7)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra). 'Research purposes' must be construed in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998 s 33(1) (research, history and statistics: see CONFIDENCE AND DATA PROTECTION vol 8(1) (2003 Reissue) PARA 551); and 'relevant conditions' has the same meaning as in s 33(1): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 92(2)(c), (d) (both definitions added by SI 2006/752).

Any person who has obtained or is entitled to obtain a copy of the full register under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 97(5) (as added) or reg 97A(7) (as added) may supply a copy of the full register to a processor for the purpose of processing the information contained in the register, or he may procure that a processor processes and provides to him any copy of the register which the processor has obtained under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended) for use in respect of the purposes for which that person is entitled to obtain such copy or information (as the case may be): reg 92(7) (as added (see note 2 supra); and amended by SI 2006/752). The processor may not disclose the full register or the information contained in it except to the person who supplied it to the processor or an employee of that person or to a person who is entitled to obtain a copy of the full register under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended) or any employee of such a person: reg 92(9) (as so added). For these purposes, 'processor' means any person who provides a service which consists of putting information into data form or processing information in data form and any reference to a processor includes a reference to his employees (reg 92(2)(b) (as so added)); and 'data form' means information which is in a form which is capable of being processed by means of equipment operating automatically in response to instructions given for that purpose: reg 3(1) (definition added by SI 2002/1871). A person who contravenes the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 92(9) (as added) is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: see reg 115 (as added and amended); and PARA 737 post. As to the restriction on the transfer of personal data to a country or territory outside the European Economic Area see CONFIDENCE AND DATA PROTECTION vol 8(1) (2003 Reissue) PARA 517.

12 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 97(3A)(a) (reg 97(3A) added by SI 2006/752); Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 97A(5)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra).

13 Ibid reg 97(3A)(b) (as added: see note 12 supra); reg 97A(5)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra). For the meaning of 'available for inspection' see PARA 157 note 19 ante.

14 Ibid reg 97(4) (as added (see note 2 supra); and amended by SI 2006/752); Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 97A(6) (as added: see note 2 supra). A person who contravenes reg 97(4) (as added and amended) or reg 97A(6) (as added) is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: see reg 115 (as added and amended); and PARA 737 post.

15 Ibid reg 97(4)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra); reg 97A(6)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra).

16 Ibid reg 97(4)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra); reg 97A(6)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra).

17 Ibid reg 97(4) (as added: see note 2 supra); reg 97A(6) (as added: see note 2 supra).

18 Ibid reg 97(6)(a) (reg 97(6) added by SI 2006/752); Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 97A(8)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra).

19 Ibid reg 97(6)(b) (as added: see note 18 supra); reg 97A(8)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra).

21 Ibid reg 97(6) (as added: see note 18 supra); reg 97A(8) (as added: see note 2 supra). A person who contravenes reg 97(6) (as added) or reg 97A(8) (as added) is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: see reg 115 (as added and amended); and PARA 737 post.

22 Ibid reg 92(10) (as added (see note 2 supra); and amended by SI 2006/752).

178. Supply of electoral records to public libraries and local authority archives service.

A public library¹ or a local authority archives service² may request the registration officer³ to supply free of charge the relevant part⁴ of any revised version of the register⁵, any notice altering the published register⁶ or any list of overseas electors⁷. Such a request must be made in writing⁸ and must: (1) specify the documents requested⁹; (2) state whether the request is made only in respect of the current documents or whether it includes a request for the supply of any subsequent document on publication¹⁰; and (3) state whether a printed copy of any of the documents is requested instead of the version in data form¹¹. The registration officer must supply the relevant part of any documents so requested in accordance with a request that has been duly made¹². No person employed by the public library or the local authority archives service may¹³: (a) supply a copy of the full register¹⁴ other than to another such person or to a person using the library or the archives service to inspect it under supervision¹⁵; (b) disclose any information contained in it (that is not contained in the edited register¹⁶) otherwise than by allowing a person using the library or the archives service to inspect it under supervision¹⁷; or (c) make use of any such information¹⁸. However, the public library or local authority archives service is not prohibited from supplying a copy of, or disclosing information contained in, a version of the full register where: (i) more than ten years have expired since that version of the register was first published¹⁹; and (ii) the supply or disclosure is for research purposes in compliance with the relevant conditions²⁰.

Where a copy of the full register is made available for inspection²¹ by providing the register on a computer screen or otherwise in data form, the library or the archives service must ensure that the manner in, and equipment on, which that copy is provided do not permit any person consulting that copy to search it by electronic means by reference to the name of any person²² or copy or transmit any part of that copy by electronic means²³. A person who inspects the copy of the full register, whether a printed copy or in data form, may not²⁴ make copies of any part of it²⁵ or record any particulars included in it²⁶, otherwise than by means of handwritten notes²⁷. No person who obtains a copy of the full register (or to whom information contained in it that is not contained in the edited register is disclosed under the circumstances described in heads (i) and (ii) above) may supply a copy of it²⁸, disclose any such information²⁹ or make use of any such information³⁰, otherwise than for research purposes in compliance with the relevant conditions³¹. The restrictions on supply and disclosure thereby imposed on an original recipient of the data apply equally to a person to whom the full register is duly supplied or to whom any information contained in it (that is not contained in the edited register) is duly disclosed as they apply to the original recipient³².

1 For these purposes, 'public library' means a library maintained by a library authority, where 'library authority' has the same meaning as in the Local Government Act 1972 s 206 (as amended) (public libraries and museums (England)) and the Public Libraries and Museums Act 1964 s 4 (as amended) (library authorities and areas) (see NATIONAL CULTURAL HERITAGE vol 77 (2010) PARA 926): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 109A(11) (reg 109A added by SI 2006/752).

2 For these purposes, 'local authority archives service' means an archives service established by a county council, a county borough council, a district council, a London borough council, the Common Council of the City of London, or the Council of the Isles of Scilly, in exercise of its functions under the Local Government (Records) Act 1962 (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 541): Representation of the People (England and Wales)

Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 109A(11) (as added: see note 1 supra). As to areas and authorities in England see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 24 et seq; and as to areas and authorities in Wales see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 37 et seq. As to London boroughs and London borough councils generally see also LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 30 et seq; and as to the Common Council of the City of London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 51 et seq. As to the Council of the Isles of Scilly see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 36.

3 For the meaning of 'registration officer' for these purposes see PARA 154 note 1 ante.

4 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 109A(1) (as added: see note 1 supra). For these purposes, the relevant part of the documents listed in reg 109A(1) (as added) is so much of them as a public library or local authority archives service has been given responsibility for keeping by a library authority or local authority respectively: reg 109A(2) (as so added).

5 Ibid reg 109A(1)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra). The text refers to the revised version of a register published under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13(1) or (3) (as substituted) (see PARA 164 ante).

6 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 109A(1)(b) (as added (see note 1 supra); and amended by SI 2006/2910). The text refers to a notice of alteration published under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13A(2) (as added), s 13B(3) (as added), s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13B(3D) (as added) (see PARA 175 ante).

7 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 109A(1)(c) (as added: see note 1 supra). For the meaning of 'list of overseas electors' see PARA 156 note 9 ante.

8 Ibid reg 109A(3) (as added: see note 1 supra).

9 Ibid reg 109A(3)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra).

10 Ibid reg 109A(3)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra).

11 Ibid reg 109A(3)(c) (as added: see note 1 supra). Unless a request has been made in advance of supply under reg 109A(3)(c) (as added), the copy of a document supplied under reg 109A (as added) is to be in data form: reg 109A(4) (as so added). For the meaning of 'data form' see PARA 177 note 11 ante. As to general aspects of the duty on a registration officer to supply data under Pt VI (regs 92-115) (as added and amended) see PARA 177 note 2 ante.

12 Ibid reg 109A(5) (as added: see note 1 supra).

13 Ibid reg 109A(6) (as added (see note 1 supra). This provision is expressed to be subject to reg 109A(9) (as added) (see the text and notes 19-20 infra): reg 109A(6) (as so added). As to references to employees of any person who has access to a copy of the full register see PARA 177 note 6 ante. A person who contravenes reg 109A(6) (as added), reg 109A(8) (as added) (see the text and notes 24-27 infra) or reg 109A(10) (as added) (see the text and notes 28-31 infra) is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: see reg 115 (as added and amended); and PARA 737 post. As to the standard scale see PARA 736 note 3 post.

14 For the meaning of 'full register' see PARA 166 note 2 ante. As to the meaning of 'register' see PARA 176 note 1 ante.

15 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 109A(6)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra). See note 13 supra. The permitted purpose for which a copy of the full register is made available for inspection under supervision in this way does not include direct marketing: see PARA 176 note 18 ante.

16 For the meaning of 'edited register' see PARA 166 note 4 ante.

17 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 109A(6)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra). See note 13 supra. As to the permitted purpose for which a copy of the full register may be made available see note 15 supra.

18 Ibid reg 109A(6)(c) (as added: see note 1 supra). See note 13 supra.

19 Ibid reg 109A(9)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra). The text refers to that version of the register first published in accordance with reg 43 (as amended) (see PARA 164 note 2 ante).

20 Ibid reg 109A(9)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra). For the meanings of 'research purposes' and 'relevant conditions' see PARA 177 note 11 ante.

21 le in accordance with ibid reg 109A(6)(a) (as added) (see the text and notes 14-15 supra) or reg 109A(6)(b) (as added) (see the text and notes 16-17 supra). For the meaning of 'available for inspection' see PARA 157 note 19 ante.

22 Ibid reg 109A(7)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra).

23 Ibid reg 109A(7)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra).

26 Ibid reg 109A(8)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra). See note 13 supra.

27 Ibid reg 109A(8) (as added: see note 1 supra). See note 13 supra.

28 Ibid reg 109A(10)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra). See note 13 supra.

29 Ibid reg 109A(10)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra). See note 13 supra.

30 Ibid reg 109A(10)(c) (as added: see note 1 supra). See note 13 supra.

31 Ibid reg 109A(10) (as added: see note 1 supra).

32 Ibid reg 92(10) (reg 92 added by SI 2002/1871). See note 13 supra. Any person who has obtained or is entitled to obtain a copy of the full register under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 109A(9) (as added) may supply a copy of the full register to a processor for the purpose of processing the information contained in the register, or he may procure that a processor processes and provides to him any copy of the register which the processor has obtained under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended) for use in respect of the purposes for which that person is entitled to obtain such copy or information (as the case may be): see reg 92(7) (as added and amended); and PARA 177 note 11 ante. For the meaning of 'processor' see PARA 177 note 11 ante.

UPDATE

178 Supply of electoral records to public libraries and local authority archives service

NOTES--Certain functions under provisions mentioned in this paragraph are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3, see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(iv) Records of Electors/E. SUPPLY AND SALE OF ELECTORAL RECORDS AND RESTRICTIONS ON USE/179. Supply of electoral records for electoral purposes.

179. Supply of electoral records for electoral purposes.

Each registration officer¹ must supply, free of charge and on publication², one copy of any revised version of the register³ and one copy of any notice altering the published register⁴ to⁵: (1) the returning officer for a non-metropolitan county⁶; (2) the persons or officers who are the returning officers at an election of members of the London Assembly and of the Mayor of London⁷; (3) the returning officer appointed for elections to each parish or community council within the electoral area⁸. As soon as practicable after the relevant event⁹, a registration officer who is not the acting returning officer¹⁰ for a constituency wholly or partly in his registration area must supply free of charge to that officer as many printed copies¹¹ of: (a) the latest revised version of the register¹²; (b) any notice setting out an alteration to that version of the register¹³; and (c) the most recent list of overseas electors¹⁴, as the returning officer may reasonably require for the purposes of a parliamentary election¹⁵. As soon as practicable after the relevant date¹⁶, a registration officer who is not designated as a local returning officer for part of a European parliamentary electoral region¹⁷ which falls wholly or partly in his registration area must supply free of charge to that officer as many printed copies of the documents¹⁸ referred to in heads (a), (b) and (c) above as the local returning officer may reasonably require for the purposes of a European parliamentary election¹⁹. Where a registration officer is not the returning officer for any election to the National Assembly for Wales in respect of any constituency or region²⁰ wholly or partly within his registration area, he must supply free of charge to that officer as many printed copies of the documents referred to in head (a) or head (b) above, together with one copy of each in data form, as the returning officer may reasonably require for the purposes of such an election²¹.

No person to whom a copy of the register has been duly supplied²² may supply a copy of the full register²³, disclose any information contained in it (that is not contained in the edited register)²⁴ or make use of any such information²⁵, other than for the purposes of an election²⁶. The restrictions on supply and disclosure imposed on the original recipient apply equally to any person to whom the full register is duly supplied or to whom any information contained in it (that is not contained in the edited register) is duly disclosed as they apply to the original recipient²⁷.

Whenever the registration officer supplies a copy of the full register, or any part of it, to a returning officer or counting officer²⁸, the registration officer must supply, together with the copy of the register, a copy of the record of anonymous entries²⁹ and, together with any part of the register, a copy of the record so far as it relates to that part³⁰. A registration officer also may supply a copy of the record to a returning officer or counting officer at any other time³¹. No person to whom a copy of the record has been supplied in such a way may supply a copy of the record³², disclose any information contained in it³³ or make use of any such information³⁴, other than for the purposes of an election or referendum (as the case may be)³⁵. Each person supplied with a copy of the record in this way³⁶ must take proper precautions for its safe custody³⁷.

1 For the meaning of 'registration officer' for these purposes see PARA 154 note 1 ante.

2 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 98(1) (reg 98 added by SI 2002/1871). For these purposes, the duty to supply one copy of the register is a duty to supply it in data form unless, prior to publication, the officer or person to whom it is to be supplied has requested in writing a printed copy instead: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 98(3) (as so added). For the meaning of 'data form' see PARA 177 note 11 ante. As to the meaning of 'register' see PARA 176 note 1 ante. As to general aspects of the duty on a registration officer to supply data under Pt VI (regs 92-115) (as added and amended) see PARA 177 note 2 ante.

3 Ibid reg 98(1)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra). The text refers to the revised version of a register published under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13(1) or (3) (as substituted) (see PARA 164 ante).

4 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 98(1)(b) (as added (see note 2 supra); and amended by SI 2006/2910). The text refers to a notice of alteration published under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13A(2) (as added), s 13B(3) (as added), s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13B(3D) (as added) (see PARA 175 ante).

5 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 98(1) (as added: see note 2 supra).

6 Ibid reg 98(2)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra). For the meaning of 'non-metropolitan county' see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 24. As to returning officers see PARA 355 et seq post.

7 Ibid reg 98(2)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra). The text refers to the persons or officers appointed under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 35(2B) (as added) (returning officer at an election of a constituency member of the London Assembly) and s 35(2C) (as added) (returning officer at election of the Mayor of London and the London members of the London Assembly) (see PARA 359 post).

8 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 98(2)(c) (as added: see note 2 supra). For the meaning of 'electoral area' see PARA 10 ante. The text refers to the officers appointed pursuant to the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 35(1) (as amended) (returning officer for elections of councillors of parishes) and s 35(1A) (as added) (returning officer for elections of councillors of communities) (see PARA 359 post). As to parishes see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 27 et seq; and as to communities see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 41 et seq.

9 For these purposes, the 'relevant event' means either the announcement of Her Majesty's intention to dissolve Parliament (see PARA 196 et seq post) or the occurrence of a vacancy in the relevant constituency (see PARA 198 post): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 98(5)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra).

10 As to returning officers generally see PARA 355 et seq post. For the meaning of 'registration area' see PARA 154 note 1 ante.

11 For these purposes, the duty to supply as many printed copies of the register, notices and list of overseas electors as the returning officer may reasonably require includes a duty to supply one copy of each in data form: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 98(5)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra). For the meaning of 'list of overseas electors' see PARA 156 note 9 ante.

12 Ibid reg 98(4)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra). The text refers to the latest revised version of the register published under either the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13(1) or (3) (as substituted), as the case may be (see PARA 164 ante).

13 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 98(4)(b) (as added (see note 2 supra); and amended by SI 2006/2910). The text refers to a notice of alteration published under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13A(2) (as added), s 13B(3) (as added), s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13B(3D) (as added) (see PARA 175 ante).

14 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 98(4)(c) (as added: see note 2 supra).

15 Ibid reg 98(4) (as added: see note 2 supra).

16 For these purposes, the 'relevant date' means, in the case of a general election of members of the European Parliament, the date which is two months before the day appointed by order of the Secretary of State for the poll (see PARA 229 post) or, where the Secretary of State has made an order appointing a day for the poll at a by-election, the date on which that order was made (or the occurrence of a vacancy in the relevant constituency) (see PARA 225 post): ibid reg 98(7)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante.

17 As to electoral regions established for these purposes see PARA 76 ante; and as to the designation of local returning officers see PARA 365 post.

18 For these purposes, the duty to supply as many printed copies of the register, notices and list of overseas electors as the local returning officer may reasonably require includes a duty to supply one copy of each in data form: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 98(7)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra).

19 Ibid reg 98(6) (as added: see note 2 supra).

20 For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' for these purposes see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

21 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 98(8) (as added: see note 2 supra). Similar provision is made under the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284 (as amended): see art 4(2), Sch 1 paras 1(7), (8), 2-4.

22 Ie supplied under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 98 (as added and amended).

23 Ibid reg 98(9)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra). For the meaning of 'full register' see PARA 166 note 2 ante.

24 Ibid reg 98(9)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra). For the meaning of 'edited register' see PARA 166 note 4 ante.

25 Ibid reg 98(9)(c) (as added: see note 2 supra).

26 Ibid reg 98(9) (as added: see note 2 supra). A person who contravenes reg 98(9) (as added) is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: see reg 115 (as added and amended); and PARA 737 post. As to the standard scale see PARA 736 note 3 post.

27 Ibid reg 92(10) (reg 92 added by SI 2002/1871). However, any person who has obtained or is entitled to obtain a copy of the full register under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 98 (as added and amended) (see the text and notes 1-26 supra) may supply a copy of the full register to a processor for the purpose of processing the information contained in the register, or he may procure that a processor processes and provides to him any copy of the register which the processor has obtained under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended) for use in respect of the purposes for which that person is entitled to obtain such copy or information (as the case may be): see reg 92(7) (as added and amended); and PARA 177 note 11 ante. For the meaning of 'processor' see PARA 177 note 11 ante.

28 Ibid reg 45C(1) (reg 45C added by SI 2006/2910). For the meaning of 'counting officer' see PARA 176 note 20 ante.

29 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 45C(2)(a) (as added: see note 28 supra).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(iv) Records of Electors/E. SUPPLY AND SALE OF ELECTORAL RECORDS AND RESTRICTIONS ON USE/180. Supply of electoral records to Electoral Commission.

180. Supply of electoral records to Electoral Commission.

Each registration officer¹ must supply, free of charge and on publication², one copy of any revised version of the register³, one copy of any notice altering the published register⁴ and one copy of any list of overseas electors⁵ to the Electoral Commission⁶.

Neither the Electoral Commissioners⁷ nor any person employed by the Electoral Commission may⁸ supply a copy of the full register⁹ other than to an Electoral Commissioner or another such person¹⁰, disclose any information contained in it (that is not contained in the edited register¹¹) otherwise than in accordance with heads (1) and (2) below¹² or make use of any such information otherwise than in connection with their statutory functions¹³. The full register or any information contained in it and not in the edited register may not be disclosed otherwise than¹⁴: (1) where necessary to carry out the Electoral Commission's duties in relation to the statutory rules on permissible donors¹⁵; or (2) by publishing information about electors which does not include the name or address of any elector¹⁶. The restrictions on supply and disclosure imposed on the Electoral Commissioners and on any person employed by the Electoral Commission¹⁷ apply equally to any person to whom the full register is duly supplied or to whom any information contained in it (that is not contained in the edited register) is duly disclosed as they apply to the Electoral Commissioners and to employees of the Electoral Commission¹⁸.

1 For the meaning of 'registration officer' for these purposes see PARA 154 note 1 ante.

2 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 100(1) (reg 100 added by SI 2002/1871). For these purposes, the duty to supply is a duty to supply in data form unless, prior to publication, the Electoral Commission has requested in writing a printed copy instead: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 100(2) (as so added). For the meaning of 'data form' see PARA 177 note 11 ante. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(iv) Records of Electors/E. SUPPLY AND SALE OF ELECTORAL RECORDS AND RESTRICTIONS ON USE/181. Supply of electoral records to Boundary Commissions.

181. Supply of electoral records to Boundary Commissions.

Each registration officer in England¹ must supply, free of charge and on publication², one copy of any revised version of the register³, one copy of any notice altering the published register⁴ and one copy of any list of overseas electors⁵ to the Boundary Commission for England⁶; and each registration officer in Wales must similarly supply copies to the Boundary Commission for Wales⁷ and the Local Government Boundary Commission for Wales⁸. Neither a member of the Commission in question⁹, a person appointed to assist the Commission in question to carry out its functions¹⁰, nor any person employed by the Commission in question¹¹ may supply a copy of the full register¹² other than to another such person¹³, disclose any information contained in it (that is not contained in the edited register¹⁴) otherwise than by publishing information about electors which does not include the name and address of any elector¹⁵, or process or make use of any such information other than in connection with their statutory functions¹⁶.

The restrictions on supply and disclosure imposed on a member of such a Commission or on any person appointed to assist it or on any person employed by it¹⁷ apply to any person to whom the full register is duly supplied or to whom any information contained in it (that is not contained in the edited register) is duly disclosed as they apply to any such member or to any such person¹⁸.

1 For the meaning of 'registration officer' for these purposes see PARA 154 note 1 ante. For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

2 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 101(1) (reg 101 added by SI 2002/1871). For these purposes, the duty to supply is a duty to supply in data form unless, prior to publication, the Commission to whom it is to be supplied has requested in writing a printed copy instead: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 101(4) (as so added). For the meaning of 'data form' see PARA 177 note 11 ante. Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(iv) Records of Electors/E. SUPPLY AND SALE OF ELECTORAL RECORDS AND RESTRICTIONS ON USE/182. Supply of electoral records to specified persons or organisations.

182. Supply of electoral records to specified persons or organisations.

Certain persons or organisations¹ may request the registration officer² to supply free of charge the relevant part³ of a revised version of the register⁴, any notice altering the published register⁵ or a list of overseas electors⁶. Such a request must be made in writing⁷ and must: (1) specify the documents requested⁸; (2) state whether the request is made only in respect of the current documents or whether it includes a request for the supply of any subsequent document on publication for as long as the person making the request falls within the category of person entitled to receive such copies⁹; and (3) state whether a printed copy of any of the documents is requested instead of the version in data form¹⁰. The following persons or organisations may make such a request:

- 265 (a) the member of Parliament for any constituency wholly or partly within the registration area¹¹;
- 266 (b) each member of the European Parliament for an electoral region in which the registration area is situated¹²;
- 267 (c) each member of the National Assembly for Wales for any constituency or region wholly or partly within the registration area¹³;
- 268 (d) each councillor for an electoral area falling within the registration area¹⁴;
- 269 (e) the Mayor of London and the London members of the London Assembly, where the registration area falls wholly or partly within Greater London¹⁵;
- 270 (f) the constituency members of the London Assembly, where the registration area falls wholly or partly within an Assembly constituency¹⁶;
- 271 (g) an elected mayor¹⁷ where the registration area falls wholly or partly within the area of the local authority for which the mayor is elected¹⁸;
- 272 (h) the holder of an elective office which is subject to the statutory controls relating to donations¹⁹;
- 273 (i) a candidate for election at a parliamentary, local government or London Authority election²⁰;
- 274 (j) any person nominated by the registered nominating officer²¹ of a registered political party to act for the purpose of requesting such documents on behalf of a particular constituency²²;
- 275 (k) a registered political party, other than a minor party²³;
- 276 (l) a recognised third party, other than a registered political party²⁴;
- 277 (m) a permitted participant, other than a registered political party²⁵;
- 278 (n) the local authority by which the registration officer was appointed²⁶;
- 279 (o) a local authority whose area falls wholly or partly within the registration area of that local authority, other than a parish council or community council²⁷;
- 280 (p) a parish council or community council²⁸;
- 281 (q) a candidate at a parliamentary or European parliamentary election²⁹, an election to the National Assembly of Wales³⁰, a local government election³¹ and an election of a mayor under the Local Government Act 2000³², where any part of the area in respect of which the candidate stands for election includes the whole or part of a registration area³³; and
- 282 (r) any police force in Great Britain³⁴, the Serious Organised Crime Agency³⁵, the Police Information Technology Organisation³⁶, any body of constables established under an Act of Parliament³⁷, the Security Service³⁸, the Government Communications Headquarters³⁹ and the Secret Intelligence Service⁴⁰.

In accordance with any such request that has been duly made, the registration officer must supply the relevant part of the document or documents⁴¹. A person who obtains a copy of any document in this way may use it for any purpose for which that person would be entitled to obtain that document⁴² but any restrictions which apply for that purpose⁴³ apply to any such use⁴⁴. The restrictions imposed on the original recipient⁴⁵ apply to a person to whom the full register⁴⁶ is duly supplied or to whom any information contained in it (that is not contained in the edited register) is duly disclosed as they apply to the original recipient⁴⁷.

No such person as is mentioned in heads (a) to (g) above may supply a copy of the full register to any person⁴⁸, disclose any information contained in it that is not contained in the edited register⁴⁹ or make use of any such information⁵⁰, otherwise than for purposes in connection with the office by virtue of which he is entitled to the full register or for electoral purposes⁵¹. No person to whom either head (h) or head (i) above applies may supply a copy of the full register to any person⁵², disclose any information contained in it that is not contained in the edited register⁵³ or make use of any such information⁵⁴, otherwise than for the purpose of complying with the statutory controls on donations⁵⁵. No person to whom head (j) above applies may supply a copy of the full register to any person⁵⁶, disclose any information contained in it that is not contained in the edited register⁵⁷ or make use of any such information⁵⁸, otherwise than for electoral purposes or the purposes of electoral registration⁵⁹. No person employed by, or assisting (whether or not for reward) a party to which head (k) or head (l) above applies and to which a copy of the register has been supplied may supply a copy of the full register to any person⁶⁰, disclose any information contained in it that is not contained in the edited register⁶¹ or make use of any such information⁶², otherwise than for electoral purposes⁶³ or for the purpose of complying with the controls on donations to registered parties⁶⁴. No person employed by, or assisting (whether or not for reward) a participant to which head (m) above applies and to which a copy of the register has been supplied may supply a copy of the full register to any person⁶⁵, disclose any information contained in it that is not contained in the edited register⁶⁶ or make use of any such information⁶⁷, otherwise than for purposes in connection with the campaign in respect of the referendum⁶⁸ or for the purpose of complying with the controls on donations to permitted participants⁶⁹.

No councillor or employee of a local authority mentioned in either head (n) or head (o) above may supply a copy of the full register to any person other than to another councillor or employee of the same local authority⁷⁰, disclose any information contained in it that is not included in the edited register⁷¹ or make use of any such information⁷². No parish or community councillor, person employed by or otherwise assisting (whether or not for reward) a parish or community council mentioned in head (p) above and to which a copy of the register has been supplied may supply a copy of the full register to any person⁷³, disclose any information contained in it that is not contained in the edited register⁷⁴ or make use of any such information⁷⁵, otherwise than for the purpose of establishing whether any person is entitled to attend and participate in a meeting of, or take any action on behalf of, the parish or community, as the case may be, or for the purposes of a local poll under the Local Government Act 2003⁷⁶.

No candidate or election agent to whom a copy of the register has been supplied by virtue of head (q) above may supply a copy of the full register to any person⁷⁷, disclose any information contained in it that is not contained in the edited register⁷⁸ or make use of any such information⁷⁹, other than for electoral purposes⁸⁰.

No person serving whether as a constable, officer or employee in any of the forces and organisations mentioned in head (r) above may supply a copy of the full register to any person⁸¹, disclose any information contained in it that is not contained in the edited register⁸² or make use of any such information⁸³, otherwise than (in the case of the security and intelligence services mentioned in head (r) above⁸⁴) for purposes connected with the carrying out of any of their statutory functions⁸⁵ or (in the case of the other forces and organisations mentioned in head (r) above) for the purposes of the prevention and detection of crime and the enforcement of the criminal law (whether in England and Wales or elsewhere)⁸⁶ or for the vetting of a constable or officer or prospective constable or officer of the force or organisation or an employee of, or applicant for employment by, the force or organisation, for the purpose of safeguarding national security⁸⁷.

Where the registration officer supplies a copy of the full register to the Security Service, the Government Communications Headquarters or the Secret Intelligence Service⁸⁸, the registration officer must supply a copy of the record of anonymous entries together with the register⁸⁹. No person serving as an officer or employee in the Security Service, the Government Communications Headquarters or the Secret Intelligence Service may supply to any person a copy of the record⁹⁰, disclose any information contained in it⁹¹ or make use of any such information⁹², otherwise than for purposes connected with the carrying out of any of their statutory functions⁹³. Each person supplied with a copy of the record in this way⁹⁴ must take proper precautions for its safe custody⁹⁵.

The registration officer must also supply a copy of the record of anonymous entries, at the request in writing of a senior officer⁹⁶, to any police force in Great Britain⁹⁷, the Police Information Technology Organisation⁹⁸, any body of constables established under an Act of Parliament⁹⁹ or the Serious Organised Crime Agency¹⁰⁰. No person serving as a constable, officer or employee of any such force or organisation may supply to any person a copy of the record¹⁰¹, disclose any information contained in it¹⁰² or make use of any such information¹⁰³, otherwise than for the purposes of¹⁰⁴ the prevention and detection of crime and the enforcement of the criminal law (whether in England and Wales or elsewhere)¹⁰⁵ or the vetting of a relevant person¹⁰⁶ for the purpose of safeguarding national security¹⁰⁷. Each person supplied with a copy of the record in this way¹⁰⁸ must take proper precautions for its safe custody¹⁰⁹.

In the case of a mayor falling within reg 103(1)(g) (as added), the relevant part of the documents for the purposes of reg 102(1) (as added and amended) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra) is so much of them as relates to any part of the area of the local authority for which he is elected as falls within the registration area: reg 103(2)(f) (as so added).

19 Ibid reg 104(1)(a) (reg 104 added by SI 2002/1871). The text refers to the holder of a relevant elective office within the meaning of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 71, Sch 7 para 1(8) (as amended) (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS). In the case of such a person, the relevant part of the documents for the purposes of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 102(1) (as added and amended) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra) is the whole of them: reg 104(2) (as so added).

20 Ibid reg 104(1)(b) (as added: see note 19 supra). For these purposes, 'candidate' has the same meaning as in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 118A (as added) (see PARA 237 post): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 3(1) (definition substituted by SI 2002/1871). In the case of such a candidate, the relevant part of the documents for the purposes of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 102(1) (as added and amended) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra) is the whole of them: reg 104(2) (as so added). For the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante.

21 Ibid within the meaning of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 24 (as amended) (see PARA 260 post; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS).

22 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 105(1) (reg 105 added by SI 2002/1871). Not more than one person for the same constituency may be nominated under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 105(1) (as added) in respect of the same registered political party and registration area: reg 105(2) (as so added). In the case of a person duly nominated, the relevant part of the documents for the purposes of reg 102(1) (as added and amended) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra) is so much of them as relates to the whole or any part of the constituency in question as falls within the registration area: reg 105(3) (as so added).

23 Ibid reg 106(1)(a) (reg 106 added by SI 2002/1871). The text refers to a registered political party other than a minor party within the meaning of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 160(1) (see PARA 260 post). In the case of such a party, the relevant part of the documents for the purposes of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 102(1) (as added and amended) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra) is the whole of them: reg 106(2) (as so added).

24 Ibid reg 106(1)(b) (reg 106 as added: see note 23 supra). The text refers to a 'recognised third party' within the meaning of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 85(5) (control of expenditure by third parties in national parliamentary election campaigns: see PARA 318 note 15 post). In the case of such a party, the relevant part of the documents for the purposes of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 102(1) (as added and amended) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra) is the whole of them: reg 106(2) (as so added).

25 Ibid reg 106(1)(c) (reg 106 as added: see note 23 supra). The text refers to a 'permitted participant' within the meaning of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 105(1) (permitted participant for the purpose of referendums: see PARA 521 post). In the case of such a participant, the relevant part of the documents for the purposes of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 102(1) (as added and amended) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra) is the whole of them: reg 106(2) (as so added).

26 Ibid reg 107(1)(a) (reg 107 added by SI 2002/1871; and the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 107(1) substituted by SI 2006/752). The relevant part of the documents for the purposes of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 102(1) (as added and amended) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra) is so much of them as relates to the area of the local authority concerned: reg 107(2) (as so added; and amended by SI 2006/752). For this purpose, 'local authority' has the meaning given by the Local Government Act 2003 s 116 (see PARA 559 note 1 post): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 107(5) (as so added; and amended by SI 2006/752).

27 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 107(1)(b) (as added and substituted: see note 26 supra). The relevant part of the documents for the purposes of reg 102(1) (as added and amended) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra) is so much of them as relates to the area of the local authority concerned: reg 107(2) (as added and amended: see note 26 supra). As to parishes and their councils see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 27 et seq; and as to communities and their councils see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 41 et seq.

28 Ibid reg 107(6) (as added: see note 26 supra). The text refers to parish councils as established by the Local Government Act 1972 s 9(4) (as amended) (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 28) and community councils as referred to in s 27(2) (as amended) (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 41). The relevant part of the documents for the purposes of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 102(1) (as added and amended) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra) is so much of them as relates to the parish or community concerned: reg 107(7) (as so added).

29 Ibid reg 108(1)(a) (reg 108 added by SI 2002/1871).

30 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 108(1)(b) (as added: see note 29 supra). Similar provision in connection with a person's prospective candidature as an individual candidate at an election for an Assembly electoral region or as a party list candidate at an election for an Assembly electoral region is made by the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284 (as amended): see art 4(2), Sch 1 paras 1(3)-(6), 2-4.

31 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 108(1)(c) (as added: see note 29 supra).

32 Ibid reg 108(1)(d) (as added: see note 29 supra). The text refers to an election under the Local Government Act 2000 Pt II (ss 10-48) (as amended) for the return of an elected mayor (see PARA 205 et seq post).

33 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 108(1) (reg 108 as added: see note 29 supra). For these purposes, 'candidate' includes a candidate at an election of a mayor under the Local Government Act 2000 Pt II (as amended) (see PARA 205 et seq post) and an individual candidate at a European parliamentary election or an election in an electoral region for the National Assembly for Wales: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 108(2) (as so added). In the case of a registered political party which submits a list of candidates at a European parliamentary election, an election of the London members of the London Assembly or an election in an electoral region for the National Assembly for Wales, the entitlement otherwise conferred by reg 108 (as added) on a candidate is conferred on the election agent of that party: reg 108(3) (as so added). In relation to the candidates mentioned in head (q) in the text, the relevant part of the documents for the purposes of reg 102(1) (as added and amended) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra) is so much of them as relate to the area for which the candidate is standing: reg 108(4) (as so added). As to candidates and election agents generally see PARA 237 et seq post. As to individual candidates and list candidates in European parliamentary elections, elections of the London members of the London Assembly and elections in an electoral region for the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 345 et seq post.

34 Ibid reg 109(1)(a) (reg 109 added by SI 2002/1871). In relation to any police force in Great Britain, the relevant part of the documents for the purposes of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 102(1) (as added and amended) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra) is the whole of them: reg 109(2) (as so added). As to police authorities and areas see POLICE vol 36(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 136 et seq.

35 Ibid reg 109(1)(c) (reg 109 as added (see note 34 supra); and reg 109(1)(c) substituted by SI 2006/594). In relation to the Serious Organised Crime Agency, the relevant part of the documents for the purposes of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 102(1) (as added and amended) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra) is the whole of them: reg 109(2) (as so added). As to the Serious Organised Crime Agency see POLICE vol 36(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 430 et seq.

36 Ibid reg 109(1)(e) (reg 109 as added (see note 34 supra); and reg 109(1)(e) amended by SI 2006/752). In relation to the Police Information Technology Organisation, the relevant part of the documents for the purposes of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 102(1) (as added and amended) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra) is the whole of them: reg 109(2) (as so added). As to the Police Information Technology Organisation see POLICE vol 36(1) (2007 Reissue) PARAS 222-227.

37 Ibid reg 109(1)(f) (reg 109 as added: see note 34 supra). In relation to any body of constables established under an Act of Parliament, the relevant part of the documents for the purposes of reg 102(1) (as added and amended) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra) is the whole of them: reg 109(2) (as so added). As to police constables see POLICE vol 36(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 102 et seq.

38 Ibid reg 109(1)(g) (reg 109 as added (see note 34 supra); and reg 109(1)(g) added by SI 2006/752). In relation to the Security Service, the relevant part of the documents for the purposes of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 102(1) (as added and amended) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra) is the whole of them: reg 109(2) (as so added). As to the Security Service see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 471.

39 Ibid reg 109(1)(h) (reg 109 as added (see note 34 supra); and reg 109(1)(h) added by SI 2006/752). In relation to the Government Communications Headquarters, the relevant part of the documents for the purposes of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 102(1) (as added and amended) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra) is the whole of them: reg 109(2) (as so added). As to the Government Communications Headquarters see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 473.

40 Ibid reg 109(1)(i) (reg 109 as added (see note 34 supra); and reg 109(1)(i) added by SI 2006/752). In relation to the Secret Intelligence Service, the relevant part of the documents for the purposes of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 102(1) (as added and amended) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra) is the whole of them: reg 109(2) (as so added). As to the Secret Intelligence Service see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 472.

41 Ibid reg 102(4) (as added: see note 3 supra).

42 In any entitlement under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended). This means that the data supplied to a recipient for one of the authorised purposes may be used by that recipient for any other of the authorised purposes without any further notification being made.

TEXT AND NOTES 90-95--Revoked: Counter-Terrorism Act 2008 Sch 1 para 2(2), Sch 9 Pt 2.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(iv) Records of Electors/E. SUPPLY AND SALE OF ELECTORAL RECORDS AND RESTRICTIONS ON USE/183. Supply of electoral records to Office for National Statistics.

183. Supply of electoral records to Office for National Statistics.

Each registration officer¹ must supply, free of charge and on publication², one copy of any revised version of the register³, one copy of any notice altering the published register⁴ and one copy of any list of overseas electors⁵ to the Office for National Statistics⁶. No person employed by the Office may⁷ supply a copy of the full register other than to another such person⁸, disclose any information contained in it (that is not contained in the edited register⁹) otherwise than in accordance with heads (1) and (2) below¹⁰, or make use of any such information other than for statistical purposes¹¹. No information which is contained in the full register and not in the edited register may be disclosed otherwise than¹²: (1) by allowing a person using the premises of the Office to inspect it under supervision¹³; and (2) by publishing information about electors which does not include the name or address of any elector¹⁴. However, a person employed by the Office is not prohibited from supplying a copy of, or disclosing information contained in, a version of the full register where: (a) more than ten years have expired since that version of the register was first published¹⁵; and (b) the supply or disclosure is for research purposes in compliance with the relevant conditions¹⁶.

Where a copy of the full register is made available for inspection by providing the register on a computer screen or otherwise in data form, the Office must ensure that the manner in, and equipment on, which that copy is provided do not permit any person consulting that copy to search it by electronic means by reference to the name of any person¹⁷ or to copy or transmit any part of that copy by electronic means¹⁸. A person who inspects the copy of the full register held by the Office, whether a printed copy or in data form, may not¹⁹ make copies of any part of it²⁰ or record any particulars included in it²¹, otherwise than by means of handwritten notes²². No person who obtains a copy of the full register (or to whom information contained in it that is not contained in the edited register is disclosed under the circumstances described in heads (a) and (b) above) may supply a copy of it²³, disclose any such information²⁴ or make use of any such information²⁵, otherwise than for research purposes in compliance with the relevant conditions²⁶.

1 For the meaning of 'registration officer' for these purposes see PARA 154 note 1 ante.

2 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 99(1) (reg 99 added by SI 2002/1871). For these purposes, the duty to supply is a duty to supply in data form unless, prior to publication, the Office for National Statistics has requested in writing a printed copy instead: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 99(2) (as so added). For the meaning of 'data form' see PARA 177 note 11 ante. As to general aspects of the duty on a registration officer to supply data under Pt VI (regs 92-115) (as added and amended) see PARA 177 note 2 ante. As to the Office for National Statistics see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 516, 528.

UPDATE

183 Supply of electoral records to [Statistics Board]

TEXT AND NOTES 1-22--For 'Office for National Statistics' and 'Office' read 'Statistics Board' and 'Board': SI 2001/341 reg 99(1)-(3), (4)(a), (4A), (6) (amended by SI 2009/725). As to the Statistics Board see REGISTRATION CONCERNING THE INDIVIDUAL vol 39(2) (Reissue) PARA 605.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/4. RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(iv) Records of Electors/E. SUPPLY AND SALE OF ELECTORAL RECORDS AND RESTRICTIONS ON USE/184. Sale of edited and full versions of register etc.

184. Sale of edited and full versions of register etc.

The registration officer¹ must supply a copy of the edited register² to any person on payment of a fee³. However, the registration officer may not sell a copy of the full register⁴, any notice altering the register ('a relevant notice')⁵, or the list of overseas electors⁶, except to a person who is entitled⁷ to purchase them⁸. A fee is payable for any sale of the full register⁹.

A request for a copy of the full register, or of any published notice altering that register, as the case may be, must be made in writing¹⁰ and must: (1) specify the documents requested¹¹; (2) state whether the request is made only in respect of the current documents or whether it includes a request for the supply of any subsequent documents on publication for as long as the person making the request pays for them¹²; and (3) state whether a printed copy of any of the documents is requested instead of the version in data form¹³. However, the registration officer must not supply a printed copy of the full register if to do so would result in his having insufficient copies of it for the purposes of any requirement made by or under any enactment¹⁴. Subject to this proviso, the registration officer must supply, on request and on payment of a fee¹⁵, a copy of a relevant document to¹⁶:

- 283 (a) a government department¹⁷;
- 284 (b) the Environment Agency¹⁸;
- 285 (c) the Financial Services Authority¹⁹;
- 286 (d) any body not falling within heads (a) to (c) above which carries out the vetting of any person for the purpose of safeguarding national security²⁰;
- 287 (e) a credit reference agency which is registered under Part III of the Consumer Credit Act 1974²¹ and which is carrying on the business of providing credit reference services²².

No person in an organisation mentioned in heads (a) to (e) above to which a copy of the register has been supplied²³ may supply a copy of the full register to any person²⁴, disclose any information contained in it that is not contained in the edited register²⁵ or make use of any such information²⁶, other than for the purpose set out in the provision by virtue of which the full register has been supplied²⁷. These restrictions ('the relevant restrictions') apply to a person to whom a copy of the full register is duly supplied or to whom information contained in it is duly disclosed as they apply to the original recipient in the organisation to which the copy of the full register was supplied under the provision in question²⁸.

In the case of a body falling within heads (a) to (c) above, the relevant restrictions apply except for the purpose of the prevention and detection of crime and the enforcement of the criminal law (whether in England and Wales or elsewhere)²⁹, the vetting of employees and applicants for employment where such vetting is required pursuant to any enactment³⁰, the vetting of any person where such vetting is for the purpose of safeguarding national security³¹, and the supply and disclosure of information by a government department to an authorised person³². In the case of a body falling within head (d) above, the relevant restrictions apply except for the purpose of the vetting of any person where such vetting is for the purpose of safeguarding national security³³. In the case of an agency falling within head (e) above, the relevant restrictions apply except for the purpose of vetting applications for credit³⁴ or applications that can result in the giving of credit or the giving of any guarantee, indemnity or assurance in relation to the giving of credit³⁵, meeting any obligations contained in statutory provisions or rules relating to money laundering³⁶, and statistical analysis of credit risk assessment in a case where no person whose details are included in the full register is referred to by name or necessary implication³⁷.

1 For the meaning of 'registration officer' for these purposes see PARA 154 note 1 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'edited register' see PARA 166 note 4 ante. As to the meaning of 'register' see PARA 176 note 1 ante.

3 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 110(1) (reg 110 added by SI 2002/1871). The fee is calculated in accordance with the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 110(2) (as added): reg 110(1) (as so added). In the case of the register in data form, the fee is at the rate of £20 plus £1.50 for each 1,000 entries (or remaining part of 1,000 entries) in it: reg 110(2)(a) (as so added). In the case of the register in printed form, the fee is at the rate of £10 plus £5 for each 1,000 entries (or remaining part of 1,000 entries) in it: reg 110(2)(b) (as so added). For the meaning of 'data form' see PARA 177 note 11 ante. As to general aspects of the duty on a registration officer to supply data under Pt VI (regs 92-115) (as added and amended) see PARA 177 note 2 ante.

4 Ibid reg 111(1)(a) (reg 111 added by SI 2002/1871). For the meaning of 'full register' see PARA 166 note 2 ante.

5 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 111(1)(b) (as added (see note 4 supra); and amended by SI 2006/2910). The text refers to a notice of alteration published under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13A(2) (as added), s 13B(3) (as added), s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13B(3D) (as added) (see PARA 175 ante).

6 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 111(1)(c) (as added: see note 4 supra). For the meaning of 'list of overseas electors' see PARA 156 note 9 ante.

7 Ie entitled under ibid reg 113 (as added and amended) (see heads (a)-(d) in the text) or reg 114 (as added and amended) (see head (e) in the text).

8 Ibid reg 111(1) (as added: see note 4 supra).

9 Ibid reg 111(2) (as added: see note 4 supra). The fee for such sale is to be calculated in accordance with reg 111(3)-(6) (as added): reg 111(2) (as so added). In the case of the register or a relevant notice in data form, the fee is at the rate of £20 plus £1.50 for each 1,000 entries (or remaining part of 1,000 entries) in it: reg 111(5)(a) (as so added). In the case of the register or a relevant notice in printed form, the fee is at the rate of £10 plus £5 for each 1,000 entries (or remaining part of 1,000 entries) in it: reg 111(5)(b) (as so added). Where a person purchases the full register together with any relevant notices which are published at that time altering the register, the register and the notices must be treated as the same document for the purposes of the calculations set out in reg 111(5) (as added): reg 111(3) (as so added). Accordingly, any entry in the register which is deleted by a notice must be ignored for the purposes of the calculation: reg 111(3) (as so added). However, where a person purchases a relevant notice separately from the full register, the calculations set out in reg 111(5) (as added) must be applied to that notice: reg 111(4) (as so added). In the case of the list of overseas electors in data form, the fee is at the rate of £20 plus £1.50 for each 100 entries (or remaining part of 100 entries) in it: reg 111(6)(a) (as so added). In the case of the list of overseas electors in printed form, the fee is at the rate of £10 plus £5 for each 100 entries (or remaining part of 100 entries) in it: reg 111(6)(b) (as so added).

10 Ibid reg 112(1), (7) (reg 112 added by SI 2002/1871).

11 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 112(7)(a) (as added: see note 10 supra).

12 Ibid reg 112(7)(b) (as added: see note 10 supra).

13 Ibid reg 112(7)(c) (as added: see note 10 supra).

14 Ibid reg 112(2) (as added: see note 10 supra). For the meaning of 'enactment' see PARA 176 note 8 ante.

15 Ie a fee calculated in accordance with ibid reg 111 (as added and amended) (as to which see note 9 supra).

16 Ibid regs 113(1), 114(1) (regs 113, 114 added by SI 2002/1871). For the purposes of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 113 (as added and amended) and reg 114 (as added and amended) (see the text and notes 21-22, 34-37 infra), a 'relevant document' means the full register published under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13(1) or (3) (as substituted) (see PARA 164 ante), any notice published under s 13A(2) (as added), s 13B(3) (as added), s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13B(3D) (as added) (see PARA 175 ante) amending that register, and the list of overseas electors: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 112(6) (as added (see note 10 supra); and amended by SI 2006/2910). In any copy of the full register or any copy of a notice under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 13A(2) (as added), s 13B(3) (as added), s 13B(3B) (as added) or s 13B(3D) (as added) which is sold in accordance with the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, regs 112-114 (as added and amended), the letter 'Z' must be placed against the entry of any person whose entry is not included in the edited version of the register: reg 111(7) (as added (see note 4 supra); and amended by SI 2006/752; SI 2006/2910).

17 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 113(1)(a) (as added (see note 16 supra); and substituted by SI 2006/752).

18 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 113(1)(b) (as added (see note 16 supra); and substituted by SI 2006/752).

19 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 113(1)(c) (as added (see note 16 supra); and substituted by SI 2006/752).

20 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 113(1)(d) (as added (see note 16 supra); and substituted by SI 2006/752). The Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 113(1) (as added and amended) does not apply to a force or organisation to which reg 109(1) (as added and amended) (see PARA 182 ante) applies: reg 113(1) (as so added; and amended by SI 2006/752).

21 I.e. a credit reference agency registered under the Consumer Credit Act 1974 Pt III (ss 21-41A) (as amended; prospectively further amended), by virtue of s 147 (as amended; prospectively further amended) (see CONSUMER CREDIT vol 9(1) (Reissue) PARA 276).

22 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 114(1) (as added: see note 16 supra). The registration officer may require a credit reference agency to provide such evidence that it is carrying on the business of providing credit reference services as he reasonably requires: reg 114(4) (as so added). For these purposes, 'credit reference services' means the furnishing of persons with information relevant to the financial standing of individuals, which is information collected by the person furnishing it for the purpose of so furnishing it: reg 114(5) (as so added). A company running a low cost identity verification and credit-vetting service which did not fall within reg 114 (as added and amended) applied for judicial review seeking, inter alia, declaratory relief to the effect that, if it were to modify its business, it would come within that regulation; however, the application was dismissed on the ground, inter alia, that declaratory relief directed to the company's proposals would be contrary to principle: see R (on the application of I-CD Publishing Ltd) v Office of the Deputy Prime Minister [2003] EWHC 1761 (Admin), (2003) Times, 11 August, [2003] All ER (D) 343 (Jul). The sale of the full register to credit reference agencies has been held not to violate the right to vote by reference to the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms (Rome, 4 November 1950; TS 71 (1953); Cmd 8969), First Protocol (Paris, 20 March 1952; Cmd 9221) art 3 (see PARA 7 ante): R (on the application of Robertson) v Lord Chancellor's Department [2003] EWHC 1760 (Admin), (2003) Times, 11 August, [2003] All ER (D) 340 (Jul) (it was permissible to conclude that the public interest in the facilitation of credit and in the control of fraud outweighed the very modest interference with the right to vote involved with the sale of the full register to credit reference agencies). The sale of full registers for direct marketing purposes is not permitted, however: see PARA 176 note 18 ante.

23 I.e. supplied under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 113 (as added and amended) or reg 114 (as added and amended) (see the text and notes 15-22 supra).

24 Ibid reg 112(4)(a) (as added: see note 10 supra).

25 Ibid reg 112(4)(b) (as added: see note 10 supra).

26 Ibid reg 112(4)(c) (as added: see note 10 supra).

27 Ibid reg 112(4) (as added: see note 10 supra). However, any person who has obtained or is entitled to obtain a copy of the full register under reg 113 (as added and amended) (see heads (a)-(d) in the text) or reg 114 (as added and amended) (see head (e) in the text) may supply a copy of the full register to a processor for the purpose of processing the information contained in the register, or he may procure that a processor processes and provides to him any copy of the register which the processor has obtained under the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341 (as amended) for use in respect of the purposes for which that person is entitled to obtain such copy or information (as the case may be): see reg 92(7) (as added and amended); and PARA 177 note 11 ante. For the meaning of 'processor' see PARA 177 note 11 ante. A person who contravenes reg 112(4) (as added) is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: see reg 115 (as added and amended); and PARA 737 post. As to the standard scale see PARA 736 note 3 post.

28 Ibid reg 112(3), (5) (as added: see note 10 supra). A person who contravenes reg 112(5) (as added) is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: see reg 115 (as added and amended); and PARA 737 post.

29 Ibid reg 113(2)(a)(i) (reg 113 as added (see note 16 supra); and reg 113(2) substituted by SI 2006/752).

30 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 113(2)(a)(ii) (as added and substituted: see notes 16, 29 supra).

31 Ibid reg 113(2)(a)(iii) (as added and substituted: see notes 16, 29 supra).

32 Ibid reg 113(2)(a)(iv) (as added and substituted: see notes 16, 29 supra). The supply and disclosure mentioned in the text must take place in accordance with reg 113(3)-(6) (as added and amended): reg 113(2)(a)(iv) (as so added and substituted). A government department, other than one mentioned in reg 109(1)(g)-(i) (as added) (see PARA 182 ante), may supply, whether or not on payment, a copy of the full register to a person ('an authorised person'), who may only disclose information contained in the full register to any person falling within regs 103-108 (as added and amended) (see PARA 182 ante) and for use for the purposes for which such a person could obtain a register under the regulation concerned: reg 113(3), (5) (reg 113 as so added; and reg 113(3) amended by SI 2006/752). The restrictions in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, regs 103-108 (as added and amended) apply to a person to whom information contained in the full register is disclosed under reg 113(5) (as added) as it applies to a person to whom a copy of the register is supplied under regs 103-108 (as added and amended): reg 113(6) (as so added). The Queen's Printers copy of reg 113(6) (as added) refers to 'a person to whom a copy of the register is applied' but it is submitted that 'a person to whom a copy of the register is supplied' is intended. For these purposes, any reference to an authorised person includes a reference to his employees: reg 113(4) (as so added). As to references to employees of any person who has access to a copy of the full register see PARA 177 note 6 ante. A person who contravenes reg 113(5) (as added) or reg 113(6) (as added) is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: see reg 115 (as added and amended); and PARA 737 post.

33 Ibid reg 113(2)(b) (as added and substituted: see notes 16, 29 supra).

34 For these purposes, 'application for credit' includes an application to refinance or reschedule an existing credit agreement; and 'credit' includes a cash loan and any other form of financial accommodation: ibid reg 114(5) (as added: see note 16 supra).

F. CO-ORDINATED ON-LINE RECORD OF ELECTORS

185. Establishment of schemes in connection with the co-ordinated on-line record of electors ('CORE').

The Electoral Administration Act 2006¹ provides that the Secretary of State¹ may² by order make provision for the establishment of one or more schemes ('CORE schemes')³ in connection with the keeping and use of specified electoral registration information by a person designated by a scheme (the 'CORE keeper')⁴. The specified electoral registration information is a copy of such of the following information as is specified in the CORE scheme⁵: (1) the register of electors for any election⁶; (2) any list or other record relating to such a register which the electoral registration officer is required or authorised to keep under or by virtue of any enactment⁷; (3) any other information relating to a person who has an entry on such a register which is required for electoral purposes or in connection with jury service⁸; (4) such other information as the Secretary of State specifies being information which he thinks is necessary or expedient to facilitate the effective operation of the scheme⁹.

A CORE scheme may make provision:

- 288 (a) as to circumstances in which a payment is to be made either by the CORE keeper to an electoral registration officer whose area is specified in the scheme¹⁰ or by such an electoral registration officer to the CORE keeper¹¹;
- 289 (b) as to circumstances in which the CORE keeper and such an electoral registration officer may agree that functions of one of them may be exercised by the other¹²;
- 290 (c) for functions of the CORE keeper to be exercised by such an electoral registration officer¹³, or for functions of such an electoral registration officer to be exercised by the CORE keeper¹⁴;
- 291 (d) as to the circumstances in which the CORE keeper may make a charge for the provision of services or information to any person¹⁵ and as to the level of any such charge¹⁶;
- 292 (e) as to the steps to be taken by the CORE keeper in circumstances where a constituency¹⁷ is not wholly situated in the area for which an electoral registration officer whose area is specified in the scheme acts¹⁸.

Any provision of a CORE scheme which authorises or requires the CORE keeper to supply information to another person may specify the form and manner in which the information is to be supplied¹⁹.

The electoral registration officer who acts for an area specified in a scheme must provide the CORE keeper with the specified electoral registration information relating to the area²⁰. A scheme must require the electoral registration officer both to provide the CORE keeper with the information²¹, and to update the information²², at such times and in such manner as is provided for by the scheme²³. In particular, a scheme may require the electoral registration officer to provide the information and update it in a specified electronic form²⁴.

The CORE keeper must keep the information in such form and by such means as is specified by or under the scheme²⁵. In particular, a scheme may require the CORE keeper to maintain the information in a specified electronic form²⁶ and may specify how other information required by or under any enactment to be kept in connection with the information is to be recorded and stored in that form²⁷. Subject to anything in the CORE scheme in respect of which he is designated, a CORE keeper may make such arrangements as he thinks appropriate with any other person for the provision of any service relating to the exercise of his functions either under the statutory provisions regarding the co-ordinated on-line record of electors²⁸ or under the CORE scheme itself²⁹. The Secretary of State may provide to a CORE keeper such facilities and equipment as he thinks are necessary or expedient to enable the keeper to carry out his functions under the scheme³⁰, and the Secretary of State may pay a grant to a CORE keeper towards expenditure incurred or to be incurred by him in connection with the exercise of his functions under the scheme³¹.

The Secretary of State may by order terminate a CORE scheme and such an order may make such provision as the Secretary of State thinks necessary or expedient in connection with the termination of the scheme³².

1 The Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 1 (except s 1(2), (5)), ss 3-6 (except s 5(10)) and s 8 came into force on 11 July 2006 (ie the day on which the Act was passed) (s 77(1)) and the excepted provisions are to come into force on such day as the Secretary of State may by order made by statutory instrument appoint (s 77(2)). However, at the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante.

3 The schemes established in connection with the co-ordinated on-line record of electors. The power to make an order under the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 1 is exercisable by statutory instrument: s 6(1). Such an order must not be made unless a draft of the order has been laid before and approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament: s 6(2). Such an order may make different provision for different purposes: s 6(3). An order establishing or varying a CORE scheme must not be made unless the Secretary of State first consults the Electoral Commission, the Information Commissioner, the electoral registration officer who acts for each area proposed to be specified in the scheme and the electoral registration officer who acts for an area the specification of which the Secretary of State proposes to remove from the scheme: ss 6(4), 8(1), (4). However, s 6(4) does not apply if the effect of a variation is only to terminate any aspect of the scheme, other than the removal of the specification of an area in pursuance of s 1(8)(b) (as to which see note 10 infra): s 6(5). For these purposes, a 'CORE scheme' is a scheme established under s 1: s 8(1), (2). See note 1 supra. As to the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante; and as to electoral registration officers see PARA 154 ante. As to the Information Commissioner see CONFIDENCE AND DATA PROTECTION vol 8(1) (2003 Reissue) PARA 518 et seq.

4 Ibid s 1(1). For these purposes, a 'CORE keeper' is a person designated for the purposes of a CORE scheme: s 8(1), (3). The person designated as a CORE keeper must be a public authority: s 1(10). For the purposes of s 1, the Electoral Commission may be designated as a CORE keeper: see the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 20A (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 4(1)); and PARA 59 ante. See note 1 supra.

5 Ibid s 1(11). See note 1 supra. As to restrictions imposed on access to and the use of CORE information see PARA 186 post.

6 Ibid s 1(11)(a). See note 1 supra.

7 Ibid ss 1(11)(b), 8(1), (4). If a CORE keeper obtains any information which an electoral registration officer is required or authorised to obtain for the purposes of any provision of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 10 (as substituted) (maintenance of registers (annual canvass): see PARA 163 ante), s 10A (as added and amended) (maintenance of the registers (registration of electors): see PARA 167 ante), s 13A (as added and amended) (alteration of registers: see PARA 175 ante) or the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 12, Sch 4 (as amended) (absent voting in Great Britain: see PARA 368 et seq post), the CORE scheme may provide that any requirement of that provision for a person to provide a personal identifier in the form of the person's signature is to be treated for the purposes of that information as a requirement to provide such other evidence of identity as is specified in the scheme: Electoral Administration Act 2006 ss 5(6), 8(1), (4). See note 1 supra.

8 Ibid s 1(11)(c). See note 1 supra.

9 Ibid s 1(11)(d). See note 1 supra.

10 Ibid ss 5(1)(a), 8(1), (4). The area for which an electoral registration officer acts must not be specified in more than one scheme at the same time: ss 1(7), 8(1), (4). The Secretary of State may by order vary a scheme: (1) by specifying a new area (s 1(8)(a)); (2) by removing the specification of an area (s 1(8)(b)); (3) in such other respects as he thinks appropriate (s 1(8)(c)). See note 1 supra.

18 Electoral Administration Act 2006 ss 5(4), 8(1), (4). Such provision may apply, with such modifications as are specified in the scheme, regulations made in pursuance of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 53 (as amended), Sch 2 para 1(1) (as amended) (see PARA 127 ante) or may make provision as to the arrangements to be made in relation to the exercise by the CORE keeper of his functions under the scheme in the circumstances mentioned therein: Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 5(5). 31 Ibid s 3(1). The amount of such a grant and the manner of its payment are to be such as the Secretary of State decides: s 3(2). Such a grant may be paid subject to such conditions as the Secretary of State decides (s 3(3)); and the conditions may include conditions as to the circumstances in which the whole or any part of the grant is to be repaid (s 3(4)). If the Secretary of State designates the Electoral Commission as a 'CORE keeper' (see note 4 supra), any grant which is paid to the Commission in pursuance of s 3 must be treated as income received by the Commission for the purposes of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Sch 1 para 14(1) (see PARA 39 ante): Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 4(2). RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(iv) Records of Electors/F. CO-ORDINATED ON-LINE RECORD OF ELECTORS/186. Use of CORE information.

186. Use of CORE information.

The Electoral Administration Act 2006¹ provides that a CORE scheme² may authorise or require a CORE keeper³ to take such steps as are specified in the scheme in relation to information kept by him in pursuance of the scheme⁴. The CORE keeper must, in accordance with the scheme, inform an electoral registration officer⁵ if he thinks that any of the following circumstances have arisen in relation to either a person who is registered in respect of an address on a register which the electoral registration officer is required to maintain⁶, or an address in relation to which there is an entry on such a register⁷, namely if:

- 293 (1) a person who is registered in respect of an address on a register which the electoral registration officer is required to maintain is also registered on a register in respect of another address (whether on the same or a different register)⁸;
- 294 (2) more than such number of postal votes as is specified in the scheme is requested for the same redirection address⁹;
- 295 (3) the same person acts as proxy for more than two electors¹⁰;
- 296 (4) a person votes more than once (other than as proxy) at the same election¹¹.

If a CORE scheme makes provision which allows an elector to have access to information relating to him which is kept by the CORE keeper, the scheme must also make provision to enable the elector to request any changes to the information¹². The CORE keeper must pass any such request to every electoral registration officer¹³ whose register he thinks may fall to be altered in consequence of the request¹⁴. A CORE scheme must not permit an elector to request a change to information relating to any other elector¹⁵, but may permit an elector who is resident at the same address as another elector to confirm for the purposes of an annual canvass¹⁶ that the information relating to the other elector is correct¹⁷.

Except in the circumstances provided for under heads (1) to (4) above¹⁸ or for the purposes of dealing with a request for changes to an elector's information¹⁹, a CORE scheme must not authorise an electoral registration officer to have access to information provided to the CORE keeper by a different electoral registration officer²⁰.

1 The Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 2 (except s 2(2), (4)-(9), (12)) and s 8 came into force on 11 July 2006 (ie the day on which the Act was passed) (s 77(1)) and the excepted provisions are to come into force on such day as the Secretary of State may by order made by statutory instrument appoint (s 77(2)). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

2 For the meaning of 'CORE scheme' see PARA 185 note 3 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'CORE keeper' see PARA 185 note 4 ante.

4 Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 2(1). Regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 53(4) (as added) (see PARA 127 ante) or Sch 2 paras 10A, 10B (as added), Sch 2 para 11 (as substituted), Sch 2 para 11A (as added and amended) (see PARA 127 ante), or Sch 2 para 13 (as amended) so far as relating to Sch 2 paras 10A-11A (as added and amended) (see PARA 127 ante), have effect in relation to a CORE keeper and any information kept by him in pursuance of a CORE scheme as they have effect in relation to an electoral registration officer and any registers he is required to maintain under the Representation of the People Act 1983: Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 2(2) (not yet in force), s 8(1), (4). A CORE scheme may make provision such as is mentioned in s 2(2) (not yet in force) in respect of information kept in pursuance of a CORE scheme and may make such modifications of provision made under s 2(2) (not yet in force) in relation to such information as the Secretary of State thinks appropriate: s 2(3). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante; and as to electoral registration officers see PARA 154 ante. The provisions relating to access to election documents other than parliamentary election documents (ie s 42) (see PARA 504 post) apply to a CORE keeper as if he were a relevant officer within the meaning of s 44 (see PARA 504 post) and as if the information kept by him which consists in copies of relevant election documents within the meaning of s 44 (see PARA 504 post) were documents relating to an election which he is required by or under any enactment to retain for any period: s 2(4) (not yet in force). See note 1 supra.

5 In ibid s 2(5)-(7) (not yet in force) (see the text and notes 6-11 infra), an electoral registration officer includes an electoral registration officer who acts for an area which is not specified in a CORE scheme: s 2(12) (not yet in force), s 8(1), (4). See note 1 supra.

6 Ibid s 2(5)(a) (not yet in force), s 8(1), (4). The CORE keeper must provide the electoral registration officer with other information of such description as is specified in the scheme relating to a person mentioned in s 2(5) (a) (not yet in force) and may provide the electoral registration officer with such other information relating to the person as he thinks is relevant to the exercise by the electoral registration officer of his functions: s 2(7) (not yet in force), s 8(1), (4). RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(v) Termination of Entitlement to Registration/187. Termination of entitlement to be registered as parliamentary or local government elector.

(v) Termination of Entitlement to Registration

187. Termination of entitlement to be registered as parliamentary or local government elector.

Where a person ('the elector') is entered in a register in respect of any address¹, the elector is entitled to remain registered in the register in respect of that address until such time as the registration officer² concerned³:

- 297 (1) determines⁴, on the conclusion of an annual canvass⁵, that the elector was not resident⁶ at that address on the 15 October in question⁷, or that because either the form used for the purposes of the canvass⁸ was not returned in respect of that address⁹ or for any other reason, insufficient information was obtained as to whether the elector was resident at that address on that date¹⁰, the registration officer is unable to satisfy himself that the elector was then so resident at that address¹¹; or
- 298 (2) determines that the elector was not entitled to be registered in respect of that address or that he has ceased to be resident at that address or has otherwise ceased to satisfy the conditions for registration as a parliamentary or local government elector¹².

Where the entitlement of a person to remain registered in a register in respect of any address terminates by virtue of heads (1) and (2) above¹³, the registration officer concerned must remove that person's entry from the register once the officer has satisfied any prescribed requirements applying in relation to the removal of that entry¹⁴. However, this duty to remove a person's entry from the register of parliamentary or local government electors does not apply in circumstances where¹⁵:

- 299 (a) on the conclusion of an annual canvass¹⁶ the registration officer is unable to satisfy himself that a person duly entered in a register in respect of any address was, on the 15 October in question, resident at that address because the form used for the purposes of the canvass¹⁷ was not returned in respect of that address or, for any other reason, insufficient information was obtained as to whether that person was resident at that address on that date¹⁸;
- 300 (b) the registration officer has no information which suggests that that person is no longer so resident¹⁹; and
- 301 (c) that person was registered at that address otherwise than by virtue of notional residence as a patient in a mental hospital²⁰ or as a person remanded in custody²¹ or in pursuance of a declaration of local connection, a service declaration or an overseas elector's declaration²².

Where the circumstances set out in heads (a) to (c) above apply, the registration officer is authorised to retain the entry of the person concerned in such a register for the period expiring with the publication of a revised version of the register²³ in the year next following that in which the canvass referred to in head (a) above was conducted²⁴.

If a person has an anonymous entry in a register²⁵, his entitlement to remain registered in pursuance of an application for an anonymous entry²⁶ terminates either at the end of the period of 12 months beginning with the date when the entry in the register first takes effect²⁷ or, if the declaration made for the purposes of an application for an anonymous entry is cancelled at any time before the expiry of that 12 month period²⁸, at the time when the declaration is cancelled²⁹. If a person's entitlement to remain registered terminates in such a way, the registration officer concerned must remove that person's entry from the register, unless he is entitled to remain registered with an anonymous entry in pursuance of a further application for registration accompanied by a further application for an anonymous entry³⁰.

A registration officer must discharge his function under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 10A(5)(b) (as added and substituted) (ie the function of determining whether a person either was entitled to be registered or has ceased to be resident at the address in respect of which he is entered in the register or otherwise ceased to satisfy the conditions for registration set out in s 4 (as substituted)) in accordance with the procedure set out in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, regs 31C-31F (as added): reg 31B(1), (2)(b) (regs 31B, 31C added by SI 2006/2910). However, the registration officer may determine whether a person has ceased to be resident at the address in respect of which he is entered in the register or otherwise ceased to satisfy the conditions for registration set out in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 4 (as substituted) without following the procedure set out in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, regs 31D-31F (as added) (ie the procedure for reviewing entitlement to registration in respect of a person entered in the register: see PARA 188 post) (reg 31C(1) (as so added)) in circumstances where the registration officer: (1) has received an application under reg 26 (as amended) (see PARA 168 ante) which includes a statement that the applicant has ceased to reside at any address in respect of which the applicant is currently registered as an elector (ie a statement under reg 26(1)(c): see PARA 168 ante) (reg 31C(2)(a) (as so added)); (2) has received a notice under reg 37 (ie where the address given in accordance with reg 26(1)(c) is in an area for which another registration officer acts: see PARA 168 ante) (reg 31C(2)(b) (as so added)); (3) has been given information by the elector that he has ceased to reside at the address in question or has otherwise ceased to satisfy the conditions for registration set out in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 4 (as substituted) (Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 31C(2)(c) (as so added)); (4) has been notified by a relative or executor of the elector or by the registrar of births and deaths that the elector has died (reg 31C(2)(d) (as so added)). For these purposes, 'elector' means a person who is duly entered in a register in respect of an address; and 'relative' means a spouse, civil partner, parent, grandparent, brother, sister, child or grandchild: reg 31C(3) (as so added).

15 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 34(1). The Representation of the People Act 1983 s 10A(6) (as added) (see the text and notes 13-14 supra) does not apply if, or to the extent that, regulations so provide in relation to any prescribed circumstances; and regulations may, in particular, authorise a registration officer to retain entries in his registers for the prescribed period if he thinks fit in cases where the form mentioned in s 10(4) (as substituted) (ie the form used for the purposes of the canvass: see PARA 163 ante) has not been returned in respect of any address: s 10A(7) (as added: see note 3 supra).

28 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 9C(1)(b) (as added: see note 27 supra).

29 Ibid s 9C(1) (as added: see note 27 supra). This does not affect the application of any other provision of the Representation of the People Act 1983 or of the Representation of the People Act 1985 which has the effect that the person's entitlement to registration terminates before the expiry of the 12-month period mentioned in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 9C(1) (as added) or before the cancellation of the declaration made for the purposes of s 9B (as added) (as to which see PARA 170 ante): s 9C(2) (as so added).

RIGHT TO VOTE AND REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(2) THE REGISTRATION OF ELECTORS/(v) Termination of Entitlement to Registration/188. Termination of entitlement to be registered by virtue of notional residence or in pursuance of voter's declaration.

188. Termination of entitlement to be registered by virtue of notional residence or in pursuance of voter's declaration.

A person registered in the register of electors¹ in pursuance of an application for registration made by virtue of deemed residence as a patient in a mental hospital² or deemed residence as a person remanded in custody³ or in pursuance of a declaration of local connection⁴ or a service declaration⁵ or an overseas elector's declaration⁶ is entitled to remain so registered until⁷:

- 302 (1) the end of the period of 12 months beginning with the date when the entry in the register first takes effect⁸;
- 303 (2) the registration officer⁹ determines in accordance with regulations¹⁰ that the person was not entitled to be registered¹¹;
- 304 (3) another entry made in respect of him in any register of electors takes effect¹²; or
- 305 (4) in the case of registration in pursuance of a declaration of local connection or a service declaration or an overseas elector's declaration, the declaration is cancelled¹³, whichever first occurs¹⁴. For the purposes of making a determination in accordance with head (2) above, a registration officer may conduct a review in respect of a person entered in the register¹⁵. Where the registration officer is not satisfied that the subject of the review is entitled to be registered, he must send to that person such notice¹⁶ as he considers appropriate¹⁷, enter the review in the list kept of such reviews¹⁸ and make his determination either with a hearing¹⁹ or, in certain circumstances, without a hearing²⁰.

Where the entitlement of a person to remain registered terminates in accordance with any of heads (1) to (4) above²¹, the registration officer concerned must remove that person's entry from the register, unless he is entitled to remain registered in pursuance of a further application for registration made by virtue of deemed residence²² or in pursuance of a further declaration of local connection or a further service declaration or a further overseas elector's declaration (whichever applies)²³. The registration officer must send to a person registered in pursuance of a declaration of local connection, a service declaration or an overseas elector's declaration a reminder of the need to make a fresh declaration if he wishes to remain registered as an elector in pursuance of such a declaration²⁴.

A relevant citizen of the Union²⁵ registered in a register of electors maintained in the register of relevant citizens of the Union entitled to vote at European parliamentary elections²⁶ is entitled to remain so registered until²⁷:

- 306 (a) the end of the period of 12 months beginning with the date when the entry in the register first takes effect²⁸;
- 307 (b) the declaration which accompanies any application for such registration²⁹ is cancelled³⁰;
- 308 (c) the citizen applies for his name to be removed³¹;
- 309 (d) any entry made in respect of him in any other register of electors³² takes effect³³,

whichever occurs first³⁴. Where the entitlement of such a person to remain registered terminates in such a way³⁵, the registration officer concerned must remove that person's entry from the register, unless he is entitled to remain registered in pursuance of a further application and declaration³⁶. The registration officer also must remove the name of a relevant citizen of the Union from the register of relevant citizens of the Union entitled to vote at European parliamentary elections³⁷ if the Secretary of State³⁸ sends to that officer a copy of any information provided by the member state of which that citizen is a national to show that he has lost the right to vote there³⁹.

2 Ie an application for registration in the register of parliamentary or local government electors made by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7(2) (as substituted) (notional residence of patients in mental hospitals who are not detained offenders or on remand: see PARA 134 ante).

3 Ie an application for registration in the register of parliamentary or local government electors made by virtue of ibid s 7A(2) (as added) (notional residence of persons remanded in custody: see PARA 135 ante).

4 As to registration in the register of parliamentary or local government electors in pursuance of a declaration of local connection see PARA 136 et seq ante.

5 As to registration in the register of parliamentary or local government electors in pursuance of a service declaration see PARA 140 et seq ante.

6 For the meaning of 'overseas elector's declaration' see PARA 162 note 14 ante. As to registration in the register of parliamentary electors in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration see PARA 129 et seq ante.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7(3) (s 7 substituted by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 4); Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7A(3) (s 7A added by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 5); Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7C(2) (s 7C added by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 6); Representation of the People Act 1983 s 15(2) (s 15(2), (3) substituted by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 8, Sch 1 paras 1, 8(1), (2)); Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2(2) (s 2 substituted by the Representation of the People Act 2000 Sch 2 paras 1, 3).

For the purpose of extending the rights of peers who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2 (as substituted) is applied with modifications (see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(4), Sch 4; and PARA 116 note 7 ante); for the purposes of extending the rights of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7 (as substituted and amended) and ss 7A-7C (as added and amended) are applied with modifications (see the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule; and PARA 117 note 5 ante); and for the purposes of extending the rights of citizens and nationals of accession states who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at local government and European parliamentary elections, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7B (as added) and s 15 (as amended) are applied with modifications (see the Local and European Parliamentary Elections (Registration of Citizens of Accession States) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/1557, reg 2(1), (3)(b)-(d)).

8 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7(3)(a) (as substituted: see note 7 supra); s 7A(3)(a) (as added: see note 7 supra); s 7C(2)(a) (as added: see note 7 supra); s 15(2)(a) (as substituted: see note 7 supra); Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2(2)(a) (as substituted: see note 7 supra). The Secretary of State may by order provide that, in relation to a person who is a member of the forces or who is the spouse or civil partner of a member of the forces (ie a person who is mentioned in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 14(1) (a) or s 14(1)(d) (as amended): see PARA 140 ante), s 15(2)(a) (as substituted) has effect as if for the period of 12 months there were substituted such other period (not exceeding five years) as he thinks appropriate: s 15(9) (s 15(9)-(12) added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 13(1)). The power to make such an order is exercisable by statutory instrument, which may contain such incidental or consequential provision as the Secretary of State thinks appropriate: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 15(10) (as so added). However, no order may be made unless the Secretary of State first consults the Electoral Commission and unless a draft of the instrument containing the order is laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament: s 15(11) (as so added). If the period substituted by such an order is longer than the period for the time being in force, the longer period has effect in relation to any person who immediately before the order was made was entitled to remain in a register by virtue of s 15(2) (as substituted and amended): s 15(12) (as so added).

Accordingly, s 15(2)(a) (as substituted) has effect as regards the persons mentioned in s 14(1)(a) or s 14(1)(d) (as amended) as if for 'the period of 12 months' there were substituted 'the period of 3 years': Service Voters' Registration Period Order 2006, SI 2006/3406, art 2.

As to the application and modification of these provisions see note 7 supra.

9 As to registration officers and the areas for which they act see PARA 154 ante.

10 The regulations referred to in the text are the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, regs 31B-31F (as added) (see the text and notes 11, 15-20 infra). As to the making of regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983 generally (and, by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 27(2), under the Representation of the People Act 1985) see PARA 24 note 16 ante.

11 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7(3)(aa) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 12(1)); Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7A(3)(aa) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 12(2)); Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7C(2)(aa) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 12(3)); Representation of the People Act 1983 s 15(2)(aa) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 12(7)); Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2(2)(aa) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 12(9)). As to the application and modification of these provisions see note 7 supra. A registration officer must discharge his function of determining whether a person was entitled to be registered under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7(3)(aa) (as added), s 7A(3)(aa) (as added), s 7C(2)(aa) (as added), s 15(2)(aa) (as added) or under the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2(2)(aa) (as added) in accordance with the procedure set out in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, regs 31D-31F (as added) (see the text and notes 15-20 infra): reg 31B(1), (2)(a) (regs 31B, 31D-31F added by SI 2006/2910). A registration officer must also discharge his function under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 10A(5)(b) (as added and substituted) in accordance with the procedure set out in the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, regs 31D-31F (as added), unless reg 31C (as added) applies: see reg 31B(1), (2)(b); and PARA 187 ante.

12 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7(3)(b) (as substituted: see note 7 supra); s 7A(3)(b) (as added: see note 7 supra); s 7C(2)(c) (as added: see note 7 supra); s 15(2)(c) (as substituted: see note 7 supra); Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2(2)(c) (as substituted: see note 7 supra). As to the application and modification of these provisions see note 7 supra. The text refers to another entry taking effect whether or not in pursuance of an application for registration made by virtue of deemed residence or in pursuance of a declaration of local connection or a service declaration; and, in the case of an overseas elector's declaration, it refers to another entry taking effect otherwise than in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration.

13 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7C(2)(b) (as added: see note 7 supra); s 15(2)(b) (as substituted: see note 7 supra); Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2(2)(b) (as substituted: see note 7 supra). As to the application and modification of these provisions see note 7 supra. The text refers to a cancellation under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7B(9) (as added) (cancellation of declaration of local connection: see PARA 136 ante), s 15(7) (as amended) (cancellation of service declaration: see PARA 141 ante) or the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2(5) (as substituted) (cancellation of overseas elector's declaration: see PARA 147 ante).

14 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 7(3) (as substituted: see note 7 supra); s 7A(3) (as added: see note 7 supra); s 7C(2) (as added: see note 7 supra); s 15(2) (as substituted: see note 7 supra); Representation of the People Act 1985 s 2(2) (as substituted: see note 7 supra). As to the application and modification of these provisions see note 7 supra.

15 Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 31D(1) (as added: see note 11 supra). For these purposes, 'review' must be construed in accordance with reg 31D(1) (as added); and the 'subject of the review' means the person in respect of whom the review is conducted: reg 31D(10) (as so added).

16 Ie of a kind specified in ibid reg 31D(4) (as added): see reg 31D(2) (as added: see note 11 supra). A notice is specified for the purposes of reg 31D(4) (as added) if it: (1) states that the registration officer is of the opinion that the subject of the review is not entitled to be registered and the grounds for his opinion (reg 31D(4) (a) (as so added)); (2) states the reason for the review and requires the subject of the review to provide such further information as might be specified in the notice or requires him to make a declaration under reg 24 (evidence as to age or nationality: see PARA 157 ante) or both (reg 31D(4)(b) (as so added)); or (3) states the reason for the review and that the registration officer intends to conduct a hearing of it (reg 31D(4)(c) (as so added)). Where the registration officer determines that a hearing of the review should be conducted, the notice given under reg 31D(4)(c) (as added) must also state the time and place at which he proposes to hear the review: reg 31F(1) (as so added).

17 Ibid reg 31D(2)(a) (as added: see note 11 supra).

18 Ibid reg 31D(2)(b) (as added: see note 11 supra). This provision does not apply where the subject of the review has an anonymous entry: reg 31D(3) (as so added). The text refers to the list kept in pursuance of reg 31E (as added), which the registration officer must keep: reg 31E(1) (as so added). The list must contain, in relation to each review, the full name of the subject of the review, his electoral number, his qualifying address, and the reason for the review (reg 31E(2) (as so added)); and the list must be made available for inspection at the registration officer's office (reg 31E(3) (as so added)). However, reg 31E (as added) does not apply to any review where the subject of the review has an anonymous entry: reg 31E(4) (as so added). As to a person's electoral number see PARA 160 ante; and as to applications for an anonymous entry in the register see PARA 170 ante.

19 Ie in accordance with ibid reg 31F (as added). Where the subject of the review requires the review to be heard, the registration officer must send to that person a notice stating the time and place at which he proposes to hear the review: reg 31F(2) (as added: see note 11 supra). The time fixed for the hearing must not be earlier than the third day after the date of the notice in which that time is stated (reg 31F(3) (as so added)); and the persons entitled to appear and be heard are the subject of the review and any other person who appears to the registration officer to be interested (reg 31F(4) (as so added)). The procedure which applies to the hearing of an application for registration or objection (ie reg 31(2)-(4): see PARA 173 ante) applies to the hearing of a review: see reg 31F(5) (as so added). The registration officer may determine that the subject of the review was not entitled to be registered or, as the case may be, has ceased to satisfy the conditions for registration set out in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 4 (as substituted) (entitlement to be registered as parliamentary or local government elector: see PARA 128 ante), despite the failure of that person (or any other person entitled to appear and be heard) to attend: Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 31F(6) (as so added). In making a determination under reg 31F(6) (as added), the registration officer must take into account any written representations made to him by the subject of the review and may take into account the written representations of any other person who appears to him to be interested: reg 31F(7) (as so added).

20 Ie in accordance with reg 31D(5)-(9) (as added). Where the registration officer sends to the subject of the review a notice in the form specified in reg 31D(4)(a) (as added) (see note 16 head (1) supra), and that person does not, within 14 days beginning with the date of that notice, notify the registration officer that he requires the review to be heard, the registration officer may determine without a hearing that the subject of the review was not entitled to be registered or, as the case may be, has ceased to satisfy the conditions for registration set out in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 4 (as substituted) (entitlement to be registered as parliamentary or local government elector: see PARA 128 ante): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 31D(5) (as added: see note 11 supra).

Where the registration officer sends to the subject of the review a notice in the form specified in reg 31D(4)(b) (as added) (see note 16 head (2) supra), and that person does not respond to the registration officer's satisfaction, or at all, within the period of 28 days beginning with the date of that notice (reg 31D(6) (as so added)), the registration officer may send a notice to the subject of the review which states that he is not satisfied that that person is entitled to be registered, and the grounds for his opinion (reg 31D(7) (as so added)). Where the registration officer sends to the subject of the review a notice in pursuance of reg 31D(7) (as added) and the subject of the review does not, within the period of 14 days beginning with the date of that notice, notify the registration officer that he requires the review to be heard, the registration officer may determine without a hearing that the subject of the review was not entitled to be registered or, as the case may be, has ceased to satisfy the conditions for registration set out in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 4 (as substituted) (see PARA 128 ante): Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 31D(8) (as so added).

In making a determination under either reg 31D(5) (as added) or reg 31D(8) (as added), the registration officer must take into account any written representations made to him by the subject of the review and may take into account the written representations of any other person who appears to him to be interested: reg 31D(9) (as so added).

(vi) Registration Appeals

189. Decision from which appeal lies.

An appeal lies to the county court¹ from:

- 310 (1) any decision of the registration officer² under the Representation of the People Act 1983 on any application for registration or objection to a person's registration made to and considered by him³;
- 311 (2) any decision under the Representation of the People Act 1983 of the registration officer (other than on an application for registration or objection to a person's registration) that a person registered in respect of any address was not entitled to be registered in respect of that address or that he has ceased to be resident at that address or has otherwise ceased to satisfy the conditions for registration as a parliamentary or local government elector⁴;
- 312 (3) a determination of the registration officer on an application for an anonymous entry in the register of electors⁵;
- 313 (4) any decision of the registration officer under the Representation of the People Act 1983 disallowing a person's application to vote by proxy or by post as elector or to vote by post as proxy in any case where the application is not made for a particular election only⁶.

No appeal lies where a person desiring to appeal has not availed himself of a prescribed⁷ right to be heard by, or make representations to, the registration officer on the matter which is the subject of the appeal⁸ or has not given the prescribed notice of appeal within the prescribed time⁹.

1 The appeal lies to the court of the district in which the qualifying premises are situated: CPR Sch 2 CCR Ord 45 r 2(2). For this purpose, 'qualifying premises' means the premises in respect of which: (1) the person whose right to be registered in the register of electors is in question on the appeal is entered on the electors' list or is registered or claims to be entitled to be registered; or (2) the person whose right to vote by proxy or by post is in question on the appeal is or will be registered in the register of electors; or (3) the elector whose proxy's right to vote by post is in question on the appeal is or will be registered in the register of electors, as the case may be: CPR Sch 2 CCR Ord 45 r 2(2).

2 As to registration officers and the areas for which they act see PARA 154 ante.

3 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 56(1)(a) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 8, Sch 1 paras 1, 14(1), (2)(a)). As to such decisions see PARA 167 et seq ante.

For the purposes of extending the rights of peers and of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 56 (as amended) is applied with modifications: see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(4), Sch 4 (cited in PARA 116 note 7 ante); and the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule (cited in PARA 117 note 5 ante).

4 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 56(1)(aa) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 12(8)). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra. The text refers to the conditions for registration set out in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 4 (as substituted) (entitlement to be registered as parliamentary or local government elector: see PARA 128 ante).

5 Ibid s 56(1)(ab) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 10(2), Sch 1 paras 2, 8). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra. The text refers to a determination of the registration officer under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 9B(2) (as added) (see PARA 170 ante).

6 Ibid s 56(1)(b) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 11, Sch 2 para 1); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 5(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 21(1). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra. As to applications to vote by proxy or by post (other than for a particular election) see PARA 372 et seq post; and as to applications to vote by post as proxy (other than for a particular election) see PARA 383 post. This provision, as enacted, applies to such applications for parliamentary or local government elections since the provisions in the Representation of the People Act 1985 which concern such applications have effect as if contained in the Representation of the People Act 1983 Pt I (ss 1-66A) (as amended): Representation of the People Act 1985 s 27(2). For the meaning of 'election' see PARA 3 note 1 ante. The National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 5(1) applies where the application is not made for a particular Assembly election only: art 5(1). As to the application with modifications of CPR Sch 2 CCR Ord 45 r 2 to such appeals see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 5(7). For the meaning of 'Assembly election' for these purposes see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

7 le prescribed by regulations: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1). As to the regulations so made see notes 8-9 infra. As to the making of regulations under the Representation of the People Act 1983 generally see PARA 24 note 16 ante.

8 As to the right to be heard or make representations on the hearing of a claim or objection with respect to the right to be registered see PARA 173 ante.

9 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 56(1); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 21(2). As to the application and modification of this provision see note 3 supra. As to the giving of notice of appeal see PARA 190 post.

It has been held that the appeal must be brought by the person affected: Registration Officer for the Parliamentary County of Hants v Ainslie (1933) 148 LT 496, CA. That appeal, however, turned on the wording of the county court rules for registration appeals then in force.

TEXT AND NOTES 1-6--SI 2004/293 reg 21(1) substituted: SI 2009/186.

190. Notice of appeal.

A person desiring to appeal: (1) from the decision of a registration officer¹ regarding an application for registration made to and considered by him²; or (2) from the decision of a registration officer³ that a person was not entitled to be registered or, as the case may be, has ceased to satisfy the conditions for registration⁴; or (3) from a determination of the registration officer made in relation to an application for an anonymous entry in the register⁵; or (4) against the decision of a registration officer disallowing a person's application to vote by proxy or by post as elector (or to vote by post as proxy in any case where the application is not made for a particular election only)⁶, must give notice of appeal to the registration officer⁷: (a) in the case of an application for registration, when the decision is given or within 14 days thereafter⁸; or (b) in the case of an application for an absent vote, within 14 days of the receipt of the notice refusing such an application⁹. The grounds of such an appeal must be specified¹⁰. No appeal lies if the prescribed notice of appeal is not given within the time mentioned above¹¹.

The respondents to the appeal are the registration officer and the party (if any) in whose favour the decision of the registration officer was given¹².

Where the prescribed notice of appeal from a decision of a registration officer is duly given, the registration officer must, within seven days after receipt of the notice by him, forward it by post to the court in which the appeal is required to be brought¹³, together with a statement of the material facts which in his opinion have been established in the case and of his decision upon the whole case, and on any point which may be specified as a ground of appeal¹⁴.

191. Consolidation of appeals and test cases.

Where it appears to the registration officer¹ that any notices of appeal given to him² are based on similar grounds, he must inform the county court of the fact for the purpose of enabling the court, if it thinks fit, to consolidate the appeals or select one of them as a test case³.

Where two or more appeals involve the same point of law, the judge may direct that one appeal is to be heard in the first instance as a test case⁴. The court must then send to the parties to the selected appeal, and to the parties to the other appeals a notice of the direction⁵. If within seven days after service of such notice on him, any party to an appeal other than the selected appeal gives notice to the proper officer that he desires the appeal to which he is a party to be heard, the appeal must be heard after the selected appeal is disposed of⁶. If no such notice is given within that time, the decision on the selected appeal binds the parties to each appeal, without prejudice to their right to appeal to the Court of Appeal⁷, and an order similar to that in the selected appeal must be made in each other appeal without further hearing⁸.

By virtue of the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(6), (7), reg 32 applies to registration in pursuance of a European parliamentary overseas elector's declaration as it applies to registration in pursuance of an overseas elector's declaration (see PARA 116 note 7 ante); and for the purposes of extending the rights of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirements of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, reg 32 is applied with modifications (see the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule; and PARA 117 note 5 ante).

192. Hearing of appeal and costs.

On the hearing of the appeal¹, the statement forwarded to the court by the registration officer² and any document containing information furnished to the court by the registration officer³ are admitted as evidence of the facts stated therein⁴. The judge has power to draw all inferences of fact which might have been drawn by the registration officer, and to give any decision and make any order which ought to have been given or made by the registration officer⁵.

A respondent to an appeal, other than the registration officer, is not liable for or entitled to costs, unless he appears before the court in support of the registration officer's decision⁶. Any expenses properly incurred by the registration officer arising out of an appeal are included in the registration expenses payable to him⁷.

In test cases⁸, the party to each other appeal which is in the same interest as the unsuccessful party to the selected appeal is liable for the costs of the selected appeal in the same manner and to the same extent as the unsuccessful party to that appeal and an order directing him to pay such costs may be made and enforced accordingly⁹. Any party who has desired a separate hearing¹⁰ after the hearing of the selected appeal is not entitled to receive any costs occasioned by the separate hearing of the appeal to which he is a party, unless the judge otherwise directs¹¹.

193. Appeal to Court of Appeal.

If any party to the proceedings¹ in a county court is dissatisfied with the determination of the judge, he may appeal from it to the Court of Appeal².

No appeal lies from the decision of the Court of Appeal on appeal from a decision of the county court on a registration appeal³.

1 A person who is not a party to the proceedings might apply to the High Court for judicial review where the county court has acted without jurisdiction: R v Judge Hurst, ex p Smith [1960] 2 QB 133, [1960] 2 All ER 385, DC (where a county court judge had ordered that the names of 90 members of a college, who were not parties to the proceedings, should be struck off the register after allowing an objection in respect of four other members of that college who had been parties, he had acted without jurisdiction and his directions were quashed on an application for an order of certiorari).

2 County Courts Act 1984 s 77(1). The right to appeal is subject to the provisions of Pt IV (ss 77-84) (as amended) and to any order made under the Access to Justice Act 1999 s 56(1) (see CIVIL PROCEDURE vol 12 (2009) PARA 1657) and the appeal must be made in such manner and subject to such conditions as may be provided by civil procedure rules: County Courts Act 1984 s 77(1) (amended by the Civil Procedure Act 1997 s 10, Sch 2 para 2(7); and by the Access to Justice Act 1999 (Destination of Appeals) Order 2000, SI 2000/1071, art 8). As to appeals from a decision of a county court generally see CIVIL PROCEDURE vol 12 (2009) PARA 1679. Apart from the provision prohibiting an appeal to the House of Lords, the general rules applicable to appeals to the Court of Appeal apply to registration appeals.

3 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 56(2); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 5(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 21(3). The decisions referred to in the text are those in relation to registration as a parliamentary or local government elector under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 56 (as amended), those in relation to registration as a Welsh Assembly elector under the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 5 or those in relation to registration as a European parliamentary elector under the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 21 (whichever applies) (see PARA 189 ante).

For the purposes of the extension of the rights of peers and of relevant citizens of the Union who (subject to the requirement of registration) may vote at European parliamentary elections, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 56 (as amended) is applied with modifications: see the Representation of the People (England and Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/341, reg 13(4), Sch 4 (cited in PARA 116 note 7 ante); and the European Parliamentary Elections (Franchise of Relevant Citizens of the Union) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1184, reg 9, Schedule (cited in PARA 117 note 5 ante).

194. Appeals pending when notice of election given.

An appeal to the county court or Court of Appeal as to a registration officer's decision¹ which is pending when notice of an election is given² does not prejudice the operation, as respects the election, of the decision appealed against, and anything done in pursuance of the decision is as good as if no such appeal had been brought and is not affected by the decision of the appeal³. This rule does not apply where, as a result of the decision on the appeal, an alteration in the register of electors is made⁴ on or before the date of the poll⁵.

1 Ie by virtue of, in relation to a parliamentary or local government election, the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 56 (as amended) or, in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 5 or, in relation to a European parliamentary election, the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 21 (whichever applies) (see PARA 189 ante). As to registration officers and the areas for which they act see PARA 154 ante.

2 As to the date when notice of election is to be given at a parliamentary election see PARA 203 post; as to notice of the date at a local government election see PARA 218 post; as to notice of the date at a Welsh Assembly election see PARA 223 post; and as to notice of the date at a European parliamentary election see PARA 230 post.

A. PARLIAMENTARY GENERAL ELECTION

196. Commanding of elections for new parliament.

An old Parliament is dissolved and a new one summoned by means of a royal proclamation made upon the advice of the Privy Council¹. A proclamation which summons Parliament requires writs to be issued from the office of the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery² commanding an election to be duly held of a member to serve in Parliament for each constituency³.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(1) INITIATING AN ELECTION/(i) Initiating a Parliamentary Election/A. PARLIAMENTARY GENERAL ELECTION/197. Effect of demise of the Crown after proclamation summoning a new Parliament.

197. Effect of demise of the Crown after proclamation summoning a new Parliament.

Where a proclamation summoning a new Parliament has been given¹, the demise of the Crown does not affect the summoning of the new Parliament in pursuance of the proclamation or its duration except that², where the demise of the Crown occurs at any time after the proclamation is given and before the date of the poll at the ensuing parliamentary general election, the timetable which governs proceedings at that election³ is to have effect for the purposes of the Representation of the People Acts⁴, in relation to anything which at the time of the demise has not been done and was not required to be done before that time, as if the proclamation given, and any proceeding referred to in that timetable (including the receipt of the writ⁵) which has taken place, had been given or taken place on the day following the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which it was given or took place⁶. Where the day on or before which or before a certain time in which or between certain times in which anything is required to be done under the Representation of the People Acts⁷ is thereby postponed⁸, any notice⁹ or other document, being a document referring to the original day, is to have effect as if it referred instead to the day thereby determined¹⁰. Where the date of the poll at any election is postponed upon the demise of the Crown¹¹, the provisions which limit the amount of election expenses incurred by an individual or party candidate¹² have effect in relation to any candidate at the election as if the maximum amount specified¹³ were increased by one-half¹⁴.

Where the meeting of Parliament is so postponed, any writ of election issued or to be issued in pursuance of the proclamation has effect as if, instead of the date appointed in the proclamation for the meeting of Parliament, it specified the date to which the meeting is postponed in accordance with s 20(2)(a): s 20(3). B. PARLIAMENTARY BY-ELECTION

198. Power of House of Commons to fill vacant seats.

When the House of Commons is sitting and a seat becomes vacant by reason of the death of a member, or for any other cause¹, the House, upon motion made, orders the Speaker to issue his warrant empowering the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery to make out a new writ to fill the vacancy². Where a vacancy is caused during a prorogation of Parliament or adjournment of the House of Commons, the procedure for issuing the warrant is subject to special provision³.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(1) INITIATING AN ELECTION/(i) Initiating a Parliamentary Election/C. WRITS AND NOTICE OF PARLIAMENTARY ELECTION/199. Issue and conveyance of writs for parliamentary elections.

C. WRITS AND NOTICE OF PARLIAMENTARY ELECTION

199. Issue and conveyance of writs for parliamentary elections.

Writs for a parliamentary general election must be issued as soon as practicable after the issue of the royal proclamation summoning a new Parliament¹; the writ for a parliamentary by-election must be issued as soon as practicable after the issue of the warrant for the writ².

Each writ must be issued in the prescribed form³ and must be directed to the returning officer in each constituency⁴ in which an election is to be held by the title of his office (and not by his name) and must be conveyed to him⁵. Delivery of the writ to a person for the time being authorised by law to act as deputy for the officer who by virtue of his office is returning officer is as good as delivery to the returning officer⁶. For a parliamentary election in a constituency in England⁷ and Wales⁸, the writ is conveyed to the acting returning officer if: (1) the returning officer⁹ has, by notice in the form prescribed¹⁰, so requested and the notice is received by the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery one month or more before the issue of the writ¹¹; and (2) the notice has not been revoked by a further notice in the form prescribed¹² and received within such time¹³. Such a notice has effect in relation to all constituencies of which the person giving the notice is returning officer at the time of giving it¹⁴ or of which he or a successor in office becomes returning officer by virtue of that office¹⁵.

1 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 r 1. As to the royal proclamation summoning a new Parliament see PARA 196 ante. Writs continue to be sealed and issued in accordance with the practice of the office of the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery existing when the Representation of the People Act 1983 was enacted: Sch 1 r 3(1). In the Representation of the People Act 1983, the expression 'Clerk of the Crown' means the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery: s 202(1). As to the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 921.

2 Ibid Sch 1 r 1. As to the issue of the warrant for the writ in the case of a by-election see PARA 198 ante.

Where a vacancy occurs before or immediately after the first meeting of a new Parliament, the writ to fill the vacancy will not be issued until the time for presenting election petitions has expired; and if an election petition claiming the seat is pending, the writ will not be issued until after the petition has been tried or withdrawn: see PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 1094.

3 Ibid Sch 1 r 3(2). The form of the writ is set out in Sch 1, Appendix of Forms (Form of writ). Any form in the Appendix may be adapted so far as circumstances require: Sch 1, Appendix of Forms (Note).

5 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 3(2), Appendix of Forms (Form of writ; Label or direction of writ). Her Majesty may by Order in Council: (1) specify the manner in which writs are to be conveyed, whether by post, by an officer appointed by the Lord Chancellor or otherwise, and make different provision for different classes of writs (Sch 1 r 3(3)(a)); and (2) provide for the giving of receipts for writs by persons to whom they are delivered or who may receive them in the course of their conveyance (Sch 1 r 3(3)(b)). Such an order may: (a) require a returning officer to provide an address to which writs are to be conveyed and any change of that address (Sch 1 r 3(5)(a)); and (b) provide for recording those addresses (Sch 1 r 3(5)(b)); and (c) provide that the delivery of a writ to a person found in and for the time being in charge of a place so recorded as the office of a returning officer is as good as delivery to that returning officer (Sch 1 r 3(5)(c)). A draft of such an order must be laid before Parliament, and any such order may provide for any incidental or supplemental matter: Sch

Where by virtue of the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 4 (see the text and notes 7-15 infra) writs are conveyed to the acting returning officer, Sch 1 r 3(5) applies in relation to him as it applies in relation to a returning officer: Sch 1 r 4(3).

200. Parliamentary writs list.

Every returning officer for a constituency¹ must provide to the relevant universal postal service provider² an address at which the writ for a parliamentary election may be conveyed to him³, if he is requested by the relevant universal postal service provider so to do⁴ or on the revocation of any notice requesting the writ to be conveyed to the acting returning officer⁵. Where the writ is to be conveyed to the acting returning officer by virtue of such a notice⁶, he must, on being informed that it has been given⁷ or if requested by the relevant universal postal service provider so to do⁸, provide to the relevant universal postal service provider such an address⁹. On any change of that address, the returning officer or, as the case may be, acting returning officer must as soon as possible provide to the relevant universal postal service provider a new address at which the writ may be conveyed¹⁰.

The relevant universal postal service provider is required to keep a list called the 'parliamentary writs list' setting out¹¹, by the title of his office, each returning officer¹² or acting returning officer¹³ to whom a writ is required to be conveyed and recording as the office of that officer the address last provided by him¹⁴. The relevant universal postal service provider must also assign to an appointed postal official, in respect of each returning officer or acting returning officer set out in the parliamentary writs list, the duty of securing the delivery of any writ required to be delivered to that officer¹⁵. The designation and address of the official so appointed is to be entered in the list together with a reference to the officer to whom he is required to secure the delivery of any such writ¹⁶. As soon as practicable after a new parliamentary writs list has been prepared¹⁷, or alterations have been made to such a list¹⁸, the relevant universal postal service provider must send a copy of the list or, as the case may be, the alterations to the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery¹⁹.

1 For the meaning of 'constituency' for the purposes of parliamentary elections see PARA 9 ante. As to returning officers for parliamentary elections generally see PARA 355 et seq post.

As soon as may be after the issue of a writ for a parliamentary election¹, the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery² must cause to be sent by the registered post service of the relevant universal postal service provider³ to the postal official appearing from the parliamentary writs list to be charged with the duty of securing the delivery of the writ (the 'appropriate official')⁴, a package containing the writ⁵, instructions from the relevant universal postal service provider to him as to the delivery of the writ⁶ and a form of receipt to be signed by the person to whom the writ is delivered⁷. On receipt of this package, the appropriate official must forthwith convey the writ, or cause it to be conveyed, to the returning officer⁸ or, as the case may be, acting returning officer⁹ to whom it is addressed¹⁰. The person to whom the writ is so delivered is required to sign the form of receipt and deliver the receipt to the appropriate official or the person acting on his behalf¹¹. He must also endorse the writ with a statement signed by him as to the date on which he received it¹². The appropriate official must as soon as practicable send by the registered post service of the relevant universal postal service provider to the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery the receipt for the delivery of the writ¹³.

203. Notice of election at parliamentary election.

Not later than 4 pm on the second day after that on which the writ for a parliamentary general election or parliamentary by-election is received¹, the returning officer² must publish notice of the election³. The notice must state: (1) the place and times at which nomination papers are to be delivered⁴ and that forms of nomination papers may be obtained at that place and those times⁵; (2) the date of the poll in the event of a contest⁶; (3) the date by which⁷ applications to vote by post or by proxy⁸ and other applications and notices about postal or proxy voting⁹ must reach the electoral registration officer in order that they may be effective for the election¹⁰; and (4) the arrangements which apply for the payment of the deposit¹¹ to be made by means of the electronic transfer of funds¹².

In computing any period of time for the purposes of the timetable in Sch 1 r 1 (as amended), the following must be disregarded: (1) a Saturday or Sunday (Sch 1 r 2(1)(a)); (2) Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, Good Friday or a bank holiday (Sch 1 r 2(1)(b) (substituted by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 19; and amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 ss 20, 74(2), Sch 1 paras 49, 52, Sch 2)); or (3) a day appointed for public thanksgiving or mourning (Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 2(1)(c)). Any such day is not to be treated as a day for the purpose of any proceedings up to the completion of the poll nor is the returning officer obliged to proceed with the counting of the votes on such a day: Sch 1 r 2(1). For these purposes, 'bank holiday' means:

45 (a) in relation to a general election, a day which is a bank holiday under the Banking and Financial Dealings Act 1971 in any part of the United Kingdom (see TIME vol 97 (2010) PARA 321);

46 (b) in relation to a by-election, a day which is a bank holiday under the Banking and Financial Dealings Act 1971 in that part of the United Kingdom in which the constituency is situated, but head (b) supra and not head (a) supra applies at a general election in relation to any proceedings commenced afresh by reason of a candidate's death and extending, by reason of riot or open violence, beyond the time laid down by the timetable in the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 1: Sch 1 r 2(2). For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante. As to writs for by-elections see PARA 198 ante.

Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 49, 52 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1. Accordingly, until that date, Maundy Thursday appears in the list of days excluded under the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 2(1)(b) (as substituted and amended).

A. ORDINARY ELECTIONS

204. Ordinary election of councillors for local government principal areas.

In England¹: (1) county councillors are elected every four years² and serve a four-year term, retiring on the fourth day after the election of their successors³; (2) metropolitan district councillors⁴, elected in every year other than a year of election of county councillors⁵, serve a four-year term, and one-third of the whole number of councillors in each ward, being those who have been councillors for the longest time without re-election, retire in every ordinary year of election of such councillors on the fourth day after the day of the election⁶; and (3) non-metropolitan district councillors⁷ must be elected either by a system of whole-council elections in which all councillors retire simultaneously⁸ or by a system of election by thirds⁹ and, in either case, the term of office is four years¹⁰. In the case of a district having whole-council elections the years of election are every fourth year¹¹ while, in the case of a district having elections by thirds, the elections take place in the year when the order for that type of election comes into force and in every year thereafter not being a county council election year¹². Where whole-council elections are in force, the non-metropolitan district councillors retire simultaneously in every ordinary year of election of such councillors on the fourth day after the ordinary day of election¹³. Where election by thirds is in force, one-third of the non-metropolitan district councillors, being those who have served longest without re-election, retire in every ordinary year of election of such councillors on the fourth day after the ordinary day of election¹⁴. The ordinary elections of London borough councillors¹⁵ take place at four-yearly intervals¹⁶. The term of office of London borough councillors is four years; the councillors retire together in every fourth year on the fourth day after the ordinary day of election¹⁷. If a municipal election in a London borough is not held on the appointed day or within the appointed time or becomes void, the municipal corporation is not thereby dissolved or disabled from acting¹⁸.

In Wales¹⁹, the ordinary elections of councillors of principal councils²⁰ take place in every fourth year²¹. The term of office of every such councillor is four years²², and the persons who were councillors immediately before any ordinary election retire on the fourth day after the election²³.

In all cases newly-elected councillors come into office on the day on which their predecessors retire²⁴.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(1) INITIATING AN ELECTION/(ii) Initiating a Local Government Election /A. ORDINARY ELECTIONS/205. Ordinary election of local authority mayor or executive members.

205. Ordinary election of local authority mayor or executive members.

The Secretary of State¹ may by regulations make provision²: (1) as to the dates on which and years in which elections for the return of elected mayors or elected executive members may or must take place³; (2) as to the intervals between elections for the return of elected mayors or elected executive members⁴; and (3) as to the term of office of elected mayors or elected executive members⁵. Subject to head (3) above, the term of office of an elected mayor or elected executive member is generally to be four years⁶.

Accordingly, in the case of a metropolitan district council⁷ or of a non-metropolitan district council⁸ whose area is not comprised in the area of a county council and whose councillors are elected by thirds⁹, the election for the return of an elected mayor takes place¹⁰ on the ordinary day of election¹¹ in the year in which no ordinary election of councillors of that authority is held which next occurs after the end of the period of 23 months beginning with the date on which the first election for the return of an elected mayor of that authority took place¹². In the case of other authorities whose first elected mayor came into office in the month of May or October, the election for the return of an elected mayor takes place on the ordinary day of election in such year which occurs after the end of the period of 23 months beginning with the date on which the first election took place and not later than the fifth year (where the first elected mayor came into office in the month of May) or the sixth year (where the first elected mayor came into office in the month of October) after that in which the first election took place, as may be specified in or determined under the authority's executive arrangements¹³. Special provision is made for elections held after a referendum has approved proposals to change executive arrangements¹⁴ and for elections after the second election held otherwise than in accordance with the above provisions¹⁵.

An individual elected as mayor at the first election comes into office on the fourth day after the election and, unless he resigns or otherwise ceases to hold office, holds office until the fourth day after the second election (when his successor comes into office)¹⁶. An individual elected as mayor at an election other than the first election comes into office on the day that his predecessor retires and, unless he resigns or otherwise ceases to hold office, holds office until his successor comes into office¹⁷.

1 As to the Secretary of State for these purposes see PARA 2 ante.

2 See the Local Government Act 2000 s 41; and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 320. As to the regulations made under s 41 see the Local Authorities (Elected Mayors) (Elections, Terms of Office and Casual Vacancies) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2544. At the date at which this volume states the law, no regulations had been made under the Local Government Act 2000 s 41 in relation to the return of executive members in England and Wales. For the meanings of 'elected executive member' and 'elected mayor' see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 320.

8 As to the election of non-metropolitan district councillors see PARA 204 ante.

9 As to the election of councillors by thirds see PARA 204 ante.

10 Ie any election which takes place after the first election has been held in accordance with the Local Authorities (Elected Mayors) (Elections, Terms of Office and Casual Vacancies) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2544, reg 2. For these purposes, 'elected mayor', in relation to a local authority, means an individual elected as mayor of the authority by the local government electors for the authority's area in accordance with the provisions made by or under the Local Government Act 2000 Pt II (ss 10-48) (as amended) (arrangements with respect to executives etc: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 303 et seq); and 'election', except in the Local Authorities (Elected Mayors) (Elections, Terms of Office and Casual Vacancies) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2544, reg 7 (see PARA 210 post), does not include an election to fill a casual vacancy: reg 1(3). The Local Authorities (Elected Mayors) (Elections, Terms of Office and Casual Vacancies) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2544, extend to England only, and therefore for the purposes of the regulations references to a local authority are references to a local authority in England: reg 1(2). For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

11 For these purposes, the 'ordinary day of election', in relation to any year, means the day in that year on which, in accordance with the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 37 (as amended) (see PARA 213 post), councillors are elected for local government areas: Local Authorities (Elected Mayors) (Elections, Terms of Office and Casual Vacancies) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2544, reg 1(3).

12 See ibid reg 3(1), (2).

13 See ibid reg 3(3)-(5).

14 See ibid reg 4.

15 Ie elections other than elections held under ibid regs 2-4 (see the text and notes 7-14 supra): see reg 5.

16 See ibid reg 6(1). This is subject to the provisions of reg 6(3)-(5) which deal with circumstances where a referendum approves proposals for different arrangements involving an elected mayor to those already existing (reg 6(3)), where a referendum approves proposals for different arrangements that do not involve an elected mayor or for alternative arrangements (reg 6(4)), or where the majority of the votes cast in a further referendum are 'no' votes (reg 6(5)). 'Further referendum' means a referendum held in pursuance of the order of an election court under the Local Authorities (Conduct of Referendums) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1298, reg 21(3) (determination of referendum petitions, and subsequent procedures: see PARA 864 post); and 'referendum' means a referendum held under the Local Government Act 2000 s 27 (referendum in case of proposals involving elected mayor: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 314), or by virtue of regulations or an order made under any provision of Pt II (as amended), other than a further referendum: Local Authorities (Elected Mayors) (Elections, Terms of Office and Casual Vacancies) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2544, reg 1(3). For these purposes, 'different arrangements' and 'existing arrangements' have the same meanings as in the Local Government Act 2000 s 30 (operation of different executive arrangements: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 311): Local Authorities (Elected Mayors) (Elections, Terms of Office and Casual Vacancies) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2544, reg 1(3). As to executive and alternative arrangements and referendums for the approval of such arrangements generally see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 303 et seq.

17 See ibid reg 6(2). This is subject to reg 6(3)-(5): see note 16 supra.

UPDATE

205 Ordinary election of local authority mayor or executive members

NOTE 16--SI 2001/1298 replaced: Local Authorities (Conduct of Referendums) (England) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/2089.

206. London mayoral or Assembly ordinary elections.

The Mayor of London¹ and members of the London Assembly² are returned in accordance with provision made in or by virtue of the Greater London Authority Act 1999 for the holding of ordinary elections³ of the Mayor, the constituency members and the London members⁴. The term of office of the Mayor and Assembly members returned at an ordinary election begins on the second day after the day on which the last of the successful candidates at the ordinary election is declared to be returned⁵ and ends on the second day after the day on which the last of the successful candidates at the next ordinary election is declared to be returned⁶.

The poll at each ordinary Authority election is held in the fourth calendar year following that in which the previous ordinary election was held⁷.

1 As to the Mayor of London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 81.

2 As to the London Assembly see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 82; as to constituency members of the London Assembly see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 92; and as to London members of the London Assembly see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 97.

3 An ordinary election involves the holding of an election for the return of the Mayor, an election for the return of the London members and elections for the return of the constituency members: see the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 2(7); and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 89.

4 See ibid s 2(6)(a); and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 100. As to the filling of vacancies arising in the office of Mayor of London or in membership of the London Assembly see PARA 211 post.

5 See ibid s 2(8)(a); and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 100.

6 See ibid s 2(8)(b); and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 100.

7 See ibid s 3(2). The poll at the first ordinary election was held on 4 May 2000 but provision was made for the Secretary of State to provide for a later date by order: see s 3(1). See further PARA 213 post; and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 89.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(1) INITIATING AN ELECTION/(ii) Initiating a Local Government Election /A. ORDINARY ELECTIONS/207. Election of councillors for parish or community councils and of chairman for parish meetings.

207. Election of councillors for parish or community councils and of chairman for parish meetings.

The ordinary elections of parish¹ and community² councillors take place at four-yearly intervals³. Their term of office is four years⁴. The number of parish councillors for each parish must not be less than five⁵. The whole number of parish or community councillors retire together in every ordinary year of election of such councillors on the fourth day after the ordinary day of election, and the newly elected councillors come into office on the day on which their predecessors retire⁶. Where, at an ordinary election of parish or community councillors, an insufficient number of persons is or remains validly nominated⁷ to fill the vacancies in respect of which the election is held⁸, then, unless the number of newly elected members of the council in question is less than the number that constitutes a quorum for meetings of the council⁹, those members may co-opt any person or persons to fill the vacancy or vacancies remaining unfilled¹⁰. In relation to any vacancy or vacancies that are not so filled, the district council¹¹ or, in the case of a community council, the county council or county borough council¹² may by order make any appointment or do anything which appears to it necessary or expedient for the proper holding of an election of a parish or community councillor or councillors or the first meeting of a parish or community council after an ordinary election of parish or community councillors and properly constituting the council, and may, if it appears necessary, direct the holding of an election or meeting and fix the date for it¹³. These powers must not be exercised before the expiry of the period of 35 days¹⁴ beginning with the day on which the election is held¹⁵.

In a parish not having a separate parish council, the chairman of a parish meeting is elected at its annual assembly and continues in office until his successor is elected¹⁶. A poll may be demanded before the conclusion of a parish or community meeting on any question arising¹⁷ and, in the case of a parish meeting, such a question may involve appointment to any office¹⁸.

1 As to parishes generally see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 27 et seq.

2 As to communities generally see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 41 et seq.

3 See the Local Government Act 1972 s 16(3), s 35(2) (as substituted and amended); and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARAS 132-133. Such parish elections took place in 1979 and take place at four-yearly intervals thereafter; and such community elections took place in 2004 and are to take place at four-yearly intervals thereafter.

4 See ibid s 16(3), s 35(2A) (as substituted); and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARAS 132-133.

5 See ibid s 16(1) (as amended); and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 33. There is no provision corresponding to this in respect of community councillors.

6 See ibid s 16(3), s 35(2B) (as substituted); and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARAS 132-133.

or community council unless at least one-third of the whole number of members are present; but notwithstanding anything in that provision in no case may the quorum be less than three: see Sch 12 paras 12, 28; and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 634.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(1) INITIATING AN ELECTION/(ii) Initiating a Local Government Election /A. ORDINARY ELECTIONS/208. Insufficient nominations at ordinary election of parish and community councillors.

208. Insufficient nominations at ordinary election of parish and community councillors.

Where, at an ordinary election of parish or community councillors¹, an insufficient number of persons is or remains validly nominated² to fill the vacancies in respect of which the election is held³, then, unless the number of newly elected members of the council in question is less than the number that constitutes a quorum for meetings of the council⁴, those members may co-opt any person or persons to fill the vacancy or vacancies remaining unfilled⁵. In relation to any vacancy or vacancies that are not so filled, the district council⁶ or, in the case of a community council, the county council or county borough council⁷ may by order make any appointment or do anything which appears to it necessary or expedient for the proper holding of an election of a parish or community councillor or councillors or the first meeting of a parish or community council after an ordinary election of parish or community councillors and properly constituting the council⁸, and may, if it appears necessary, direct the holding of an election or meeting and fix the date for it⁹. The powers in relation to the holding of an election or meeting¹⁰ must not be exercised before the expiry of the period of 35 days¹¹ beginning with the day on which the election is held¹².

1 As to the ordinary elections of parish or community councillors see PARA 207 ante. As to parishes generally see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 27 et seq; and as to communities generally see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 41 et seq.

2 As to the procedure where a poll is not necessary see PARA 481 post.

11 The period of 35 days is to be computed in accordance with the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 40 (as amended) (see PARA 216 note 7 post): Representation of the People Act 1985 s 21(2). The Representation of the People Act 1983 s 40(3) applies for the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 21(2) (as amended) as it applies for the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 39(1) (as amended) (see PARA 216 note 7 post): Representation of the People Act 1985 s 21(3).

12 Ibid s 21(2). The duty of the returning officer under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 39(1) (as amended) (see PARA 216 post) to order an election is also disapplied: Representation of the People Act 1985 s 21(2)(c).

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(1) INITIATING AN ELECTION/(ii) Initiating a Local Government Election /B. FILLING OF VACANCIES/209. Vacancies in the office of councillor for a principal area.

B. FILLING OF VACANCIES

209. Vacancies in the office of councillor for a principal area.

On a casual vacancy¹ occurring in the office of a councillor for any principal area², an election to fill the vacancy must be held³, in a case in which the High Court or the council has declared the office to be vacant⁴, within 35 days from the date of the declaration⁵, and in any other case within 35 days after written notice of the vacancy has been given to the proper officer⁶ of the authority by two local government electors for the area⁷.

Where a casual vacancy occurs within six months before the day on which the councillor whose office is vacant would regularly have retired, an election is not to be held to fill the vacancy, unless on the occurrence of the vacancy (or in the case of a number of simultaneous vacancies, the occurrence of the vacancies) the total number of unfilled vacancies in the membership of the council exceeds one-third of the whole number of members; where an election is not held, the vacancy is filled at the next ordinary election⁸.

Where more than one casual vacancy in the office of councillor of a district in which councillors are elected by thirds is filled at the same election⁹, the person elected by the smallest number of votes is deemed to be elected in place of the councillor who would regularly have first retired, and the person elected by the next smallest number of votes is deemed to be elected in place of the councillor who would regularly have next retired, and so with respect to the others; and if there has not been a contested election, or if any doubt arises, the order of retirement is determined by lot¹⁰.

Where an election to fill one or more casual vacancies in the office of councillor of a district in which councillors are elected by thirds is combined with an ordinary election of councillors¹¹, and the election is contested, the persons who are elected by the smallest number of votes are deemed elected to fill the casual vacancies¹²; in the case of an equality of votes between the persons who are elected by the smallest number of votes, the persons who are elected to fill the casual vacancies are determined by lot¹³. If the persons elected to fill the casual vacancies will hold office for different periods, the person elected by the smallest number of votes, or, if the votes are equal, such person as is determined by lot, holds office for the shorter period¹⁴. Where the election is not contested, those declared elected (if fewer than the vacancies to be filled) are deemed elected to fill the vacancies in which they will hold office for the longest periods¹⁵. Where there are two or more persons declared elected and they are to fill vacancies in which they will hold office for different periods, any retiring councillors elected are deemed elected to fill the vacancies in which they will hold office for the longest period; the question which of the persons declared elected who are not retiring councillors is to be deemed elected to fill any of the vacancies not filled by retiring councillors must be determined by lot¹⁶.

Where any question is required to be determined by lot in this way¹⁷, then, in the case of a contested election, the lot must be drawn by the returning officer immediately after the question has arisen¹⁸. In any other case, the lot must be drawn at the next meeting of the council after the question has arisen and the drawing must be conducted under the direction of the person presiding at the meeting¹⁹.

A person elected or appointed in England or Wales to fill any casual vacancy holds office until the date upon which the person in whose place he is elected or appointed would regularly have retired, and he must then retire²⁰.

1 As to the date on which such a vacancy is deemed to have occurred and as to the public notice of such a vacancy that must be given see the Local Government Act 1972 s 87 (as amended); and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 299.

2 For the meaning of 'principal area' see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 23.

4 As to such declarations see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARAS 298, 301.

5 Local Government Act 1972 s 89(1)(a) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 19(6)(c)). The period of time referred to in the text is to be computed in accordance with the Local Government Act 1972 s 243(4) (as amended) (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 128): s 89(1)(a). In computing the period of 35 days, a Saturday, Sunday, Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, Good Friday or bank holiday or a day appointed for public thanksgiving or mourning is to be disregarded: see s 243(1), (4) (s 243(1) modified for the purposes of s 243(4) by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 19(6)(b) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 ss 20, 74(2), Sch 1 paras 49, 53, Sch 2); and the Local Government Act 1972 s 243(4) amended by the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 206, Sch 9 Pt II; and by the Statute Law (Repeals) Act 1995). Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 49, 53 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1. Accordingly, until that date, Maundy Thursday appears in the list of days excluded by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 19(6)(b).

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(1) INITIATING AN ELECTION/(ii) Initiating a Local Government Election /B. FILLING OF VACANCIES/210. Vacancies in the office of elected mayor or elected executive member.

210. Vacancies in the office of elected mayor or elected executive member.

The Secretary of State¹ may by regulations make provision² as to the filling of vacancies in the office of elected mayor or elected executive member³.

Accordingly, on a casual vacancy occurring in the office of elected mayor⁴, an election to fill the vacancy must be held: (1) in a case in which the High Court or the local authority has declared the office to be vacant⁵, within 35 days from the date of the declaration⁶; or (2) in any other case, within 35 days⁷ after notice in writing of the vacancy has been given to the proper officer of the authority by two local government electors for the area⁸. However, a casual vacancy in the office of elected mayor: (a) must not be filled if the authority is then to adopt different arrangements⁹ (whether or not they involve an elected mayor) or alternative arrangements¹⁰; and (b) if it occurs within six months before the day on which the elected mayor would have retired, must be filled at the next ordinary election for the return of an elected mayor¹¹.

A person elected to fill a casual vacancy in the office of elected mayor holds office until the date on which the person in whose place he is elected would have retired¹², and he must then retire¹³.

1 As to the Secretary of State for these purposes see PARA 2 ante.

2 See the Local Government Act 2000 s 41; and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 320.

3 See ibid s 41(d); and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 320. As to the regulations made under s 41 see the Local Authorities (Elected Mayors) (Elections, Terms of Office and Casual Vacancies) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2544. However, at the date at which this volume states the law, no regulations had been made under the Local Government Act 2000 s 41 either in relation to the return of executive members in England and Wales or in relation to the return of elected mayors in Wales. For the meanings of 'elected executive member' and 'elected mayor' generally see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 320.

4 For the meaning of 'elected mayor' for these purposes see PARA 205 note 10 ante. As to the date on which such a vacancy is to be taken to have occurred see the Local Authorities (Elected Mayors) (Elections, Terms of Office and Casual Vacancies) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2544, reg 8(1); and as to the giving of public notice of such a vacancy see reg 8(2).

5 As to such declarations see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARAS 298, 301.

6 Local Authorities (Elected Mayors) (Elections, Terms of Office and Casual Vacancies) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2544, reg 7(1)(a). The day of election under reg 7(1) must be fixed by the returning officer and in computing a period for that purpose the following must be disregarded: (1) a Saturday or Sunday (reg 7(3)(a)); (2) Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, Maundy Thursday, Good Friday or a day which is a bank holiday under the Banking and Financial Dealings Act 1971 in England (see TIME vol 97 (2010) PARA 321) (Local Authorities (Elected Mayors) (Elections, Terms of Office and Casual Vacancies) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2544, reg 7(3)(b)); and (3) any day appointed as a day of public thanksgiving or mourning (reg 7(3)(c)). Where, between the giving of a notice of the poll and the completion of the poll, a day is declared to be a bank holiday or day of public thanksgiving or mourning, reg 7(3) does not operate to invalidate any act which would have been valid apart from that provision: reg 7(4). For the meaning of 'England' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

7 As to the calculation of time see note 6 supra.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(1) INITIATING AN ELECTION/(ii) Initiating a Local Government Election /B. FILLING OF VACANCIES/211. Vacancies arising in the office of Mayor of London or in membership of the London Assembly.

211. Vacancies arising in the office of Mayor of London or in membership of the London Assembly.

Where a vacancy occurs in the office of Mayor of London¹ an election must be held to fill the vacancy². At the election to fill the vacancy each person entitled to vote as an elector³ at the election has a mayoral vote⁴. The date of the poll at the election is fixed by the Greater London returning officer⁵ and must be no later than 35 days⁶ after the date of the relevant event⁷. The term of office of the person returned as the Mayor at the election begins immediately upon his being declared to be returned as the Mayor⁹, and ends at the time when it would have ended had he been returned as the Mayor at the previous ordinary election¹⁰.

Where the office of an Assembly member¹¹ returned for an Assembly constituency¹² is vacant¹³ an election must be held in the Assembly constituency to fill the vacancy¹⁴. At the election to fill the vacancy, each person entitled to vote at the election has a constituency vote¹⁵, and the Assembly member for the Assembly constituency is returned under the simple majority system¹⁶. The date of the poll at the election is fixed by the constituency returning officer¹⁷ and must be no later than 35 days¹⁸ after the date of the relevant event¹⁹. A person may not be a candidate at an election to fill a vacancy if he is the Mayor of London²⁰, an Assembly member²¹, or a candidate in another such election²². The term of office of the person returned at the election begins immediately upon his being declared to be returned as the constituency member²³, and ends at the time when it would have ended had he been returned as the constituency member at the previous ordinary election²⁴.

Where the office of a London member²⁵ who was returned as an individual candidate²⁶ is vacant, the vacancy must remain unfilled until the next ordinary election²⁷. Where the office of a London member who was returned from a registered political party's list²⁸ is vacant, the Greater London returning officer must notify the Chair of the London Assembly²⁹ of the name of the person who is to fill the vacancy³⁰. As soon as practicable after the Greater London returning officer has identified the person who is to fill the vacancy, he must invite him to attend at his office to sign the declaration of acceptance of office³¹. Where a person's name has been notified³², his term of office as a London member begins on the day on which the notification is received³³ and ends at the time when it would have ended had he been returned as a London member at the previous ordinary election³⁴. Where a vacancy in the office of a London member who was returned from a registered political party's list is not so filled³⁵, the vacancy must remain unfilled until the next ordinary election³⁶.

2 See ibid s 16(2); and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 127. The requirement to hold an election is subject to the proviso that, if the vacancy occurs within the period of six months preceding an ordinary election, it must be left unfilled until that election: see s 16(9). As to London mayoral and Assembly ordinary elections see PARA 206 ante. A vacancy may arise in an Assembly constituency if a person who is a candidate in an election to fill a vacancy in the office of Mayor is also a candidate in an election to fill a vacancy in an Assembly constituency and that person is returned in both elections: see s 16(10); and the text and notes 11-24 infra. As to the establishment of London Assembly constituencies see PARA 74 ante.

- 30 See the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 11(1), (3); and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 115. As to the qualification requirements and disqualification for such a vacancy see ss 11(4)-(6), 20; and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 115.

As soon as the office of a London member who was returned from a registered party's list becomes vacant, the Greater London returning officer ('GLRO') must simultaneously give or send to the party's nominating officer and the person whose name would, in accordance with s 11(6) (and on the assumption that he satisfies the conditions in s 11(4)) (see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 115), be so notified, written notice (a 'paragraph (1) notice') of specified matters: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(2), Sch 2 r 56(1). The matters specified to be included in such a notice are: (1) the vacancy (Sch 2 r 56(2) (a)); (2) that the nominating officer may, by notice in writing delivered to the GLRO not later than one month after the date of the paragraph (1) notice, give the notice referred to in the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 11(5)(b) (notice by party to the GLRO withdrawing a person's name as the person who is to fill the vacancy: see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 115) (Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(2), Sch 2 r 56(2)(b)); and (3) that the person must, by notice in writing delivered to the GLRO not later than one month after the date of the paragraph (1) notice, indicate: (a) that he is willing to serve as a London member ('notice of willingness') (Sch 2 r 56(2)(c)(i)); (b) that he is not willing to serve as a London member (Sch 2 r 56(2)(c)(ii)); or (c) that he is a dual candidate (Sch 2 r 56(2)(c)(iii)). The GLRO may not notify the Chair of the Assembly as mentioned in the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 11(3) until: (i) the period mentioned in head (2) supra has elapsed (Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 56(3)(a)); and (ii) he has received a notice of willingness (Sch 2 r 56(3)(b)); and (iii) if the person by whom notice of willingness has been given is a dual candidate, the result of the election at which he is a mayoral or constituency member candidate has been declared (Sch 2 r 56(3)(c)).

Where a person whose name is for the time being included in a party list is elected (otherwise than at an ordinary election) either as the Mayor of London or as a constituency member, his name is removed from that list: Sch 2 r 55(1). For these purposes, the name of a person to whom Sch 2 r 55(1) applies is treated as ceasing to be included in the list from the date on which he is returned as the Mayor or a constituency member, as the case may be (even if his return is void): Sch 2 r 55(2).

For the purposes of Sch 2 Pt VII rr 54-58, 'nominating officer', in relation to a registered party and a vacancy in the office of a London member, means the person who holds that office in the party at the time at which the vacancy arises; and 'dual candidate' means a person whose name, subject to Sch 2 r 55 (removal from the party list on the candidate's election as the Mayor of London or as a constituency member), falls to be notified as mentioned in the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 11(6) (see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 115) and who is a candidate (otherwise than at an ordinary election) for election as the Mayor of London or as a constituency member: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 54. Where the GLRO receives a notice under head (b) supra or the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 11(5)(b), he must again send a paragraph (1) notice, but with the substitution, for the name of the person to whom the first such notice was sent, of the name of the person who, on the same assumption, would be the next person whose name would be notified in accordance with s 11(6); and so on until, in respect of such a person, no notice is given under s 11(5)(b) and a notice of willingness has been received: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 57.

31 Ibid Sch 2 r 58(1). In a case to which the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 11(3) applies (see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 115), as soon as practicable after the declaration of acceptance of office has been signed, the GLRO must notify the Chair of the Assembly as mentioned therein: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 58(2).

32 Ie under the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 11(3) (see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 115).

33 See ibid s 11(7)(a); and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 115. The Greater London Authority Act 1999 applies as if the person had been declared to be returned as a London member on the day on which the notification is so received: see s 11(7); and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 115.

34 See ibid s 11(7)(b); and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 115. See note 33 supra.

211 Vacancies arising in the office of Mayor of London or in membership of the London Assembly

NOTES 30, 31--SI 2000/427 replaced: Greater London Authority Rules 2007, SI 2007/3541.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(1) INITIATING AN ELECTION/(ii) Initiating a Local Government Election /B. FILLING OF VACANCIES/212. Vacancies in parish or community councils.

212. Vacancies in parish or community councils.

A request may be made for an election to fill a casual vacancy in the office of a parish or community councillor¹. Any such request must be made: (1) to the proper officer² of the council of the district³ in which the parish is situate or the county or county borough⁴ in which the community is situate⁵; (2) by ten persons who are named on the register in use at the time of the request as local government electors⁶ for the electoral area in which the vacancy has occurred⁷; and (3) within 14 days⁸ after public notice of the vacancy has been given in accordance with the Local Government Act 1972⁹.

An election must be held, if so requested, if the casual vacancy in the office of the parish or community councillor occurs other than within six months before the day on which that councillor would regularly have retired¹⁰; and such an election, if so required, must be held on a day appointed by the returning officer¹¹, being a day falling within the period of 60 days¹² beginning with the day on which public notice of the vacancy was given¹³.

Where a casual vacancy in any such office is not required to be filled by election, the parish or community council must or, if the vacancy occurs within six months of the date on which the parish or community councillor would regularly have retired, may¹⁴, as soon as practicable after the expiry of the period of 14 days referred to in head (3) above, co-opt a person to fill the vacancy¹⁵.

A person elected or appointed in England or Wales to fill any such casual vacancy holds office until the date upon which the person in whose place he is elected or appointed would regularly have retired, and he must then retire¹⁶.

1 Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 5(1). The Local Government Act 1972 provides that such a vacancy is to be filled by election or by the parish or community council in accordance with rules made under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 36 (as amended) (as to which see PARA 388 post): see the Local Government Act 1972 s 89(6) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 206, Sch 8 para 13). The relevant rules and provisions are contained in the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305. C. FIXING DAY OF ELECTION AND GIVING OF NOTICE

213. Ordinary day of local government election.

In every year, the ordinary day of election of councillors is the same for all local government areas¹ and is either: (1) the first Thursday in May²; or (2) such other day as may be fixed by the Secretary of State³ by order⁴ made not later than 1 February in the year preceding the year (or, in the case of an order affecting more than one year, the first year) in which the order is to take effect⁵. However, where the ordinary day of election of councillors for local government areas is the same as the date on which the poll at a parliamentary⁶ or European parliamentary general election⁷ is to be held⁸, any poll at an election of parish or community councillors must be postponed for three weeks⁹. The poll at each ordinary Authority election¹⁰ held subsequent to the first¹¹ is held on the first Thursday in May in the fourth calendar year following that in which the previous ordinary election was held¹². However, this is subject to any order made by virtue of the power conferred by head (2) above¹³, which, as respects Authority elections, includes power to make an order fixing a day other than the first Thursday in May as the day on which the poll is to be held at an ordinary election other than the first¹⁴.

When the day thereby fixed¹⁵ is a Saturday, Sunday, Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, Good Friday, bank holiday or a day appointed for public thanksgiving or mourning, the date of election is postponed to the first day thereafter which is not one of those days¹⁶.

Where the day of election is postponed under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 40(1) (as amended), the day to which it is postponed must be treated as the day of election for the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 and the Local Government Act 1972 and (in the case of an Authority election) the Greater London Authority Act 1999: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 40(2) (amended by the Education Reform Act 1988 s 237, Sch 12 para 51; and the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 7(1), (3)). Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 49, 50 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1. Accordingly, until that date, Maundy Thursday appears in the list of days excluded under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 40(1) (as amended).

UPDATE

213 Ordinary day of local government election

TEXT AND NOTES 1-14--The Secretary of State may by order provide that in a year in which a European Parliamentary general election is to be held (1) the ordinary day of election of councillors for counties in England, districts and London boroughs, (2) the ordinary day of election of councillors for parishes, and (3) as respects Authority elections, the day on which the poll is to be held at an ordinary election, must be changed so as to be the same as the date of the poll at the European Parliamentary general election: see the Representation of the People Act 1983 Act s 37A (added by the Local Government and Public Involvement in Health Act 2007 s 60(2)). Similar provision is made with respect to the Welsh Ministers in Wales: see 1983 Act s 37B (as so added). See the Local Elections (Ordinary Day of Elections in 2009) Order 2008, SI 2008/2857, made under the 1983 Act s 37A, which changes the date of local elections in England in 2009.

TEXT AND NOTES 1-5--1983 Act s 37(1) is subject to any order under (1) s 37A, or (2) s 37B: s 37(2A) (added by Local Government and Public Involvement in Health Act 2007 s 60(1)).

Day of poll consequent on a parish meeting.

214. Day of poll consequent on a parish meeting.

The day of a poll consequent on a parish meeting¹ must be fixed by the returning officer² and must not be earlier than the fourteenth day nor later than the twenty-fifth day after the day on which the poll was demanded³.

Day of election at certain local government elections to fill casual vacancy.

215. Day of election at certain local government elections to fill casual vacancy.

The day of election to fill a casual vacancy in the office of councillor for any principal area¹ must be fixed by the returning officer².

1 As to vacancies in the office of councillor for a principal area see PARA 209 ante. For the meaning of 'principal area' see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 23. As to casual vacancies in parish and community councils and (where appropriate) the day of election see PARA 212 ante.

2 Local Government Act 1972 s 89(1), (2) (s 89(2) amended by the Local Government Act 1985 s 102(2), Sch 17). As to returning officers for local government elections see PARA 359 et seq post.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(1) INITIATING AN ELECTION/(ii) Initiating a Local Government Election /C. FIXING DAY OF ELECTION AND GIVING OF NOTICE/216. Day of local government election if vacancies not filled.

216. Day of local government election if vacancies not filled.

If, at a local government election¹ other than an election for the return of the London members of the London Assembly², the poll is abandoned or countermanded for any reason³ or no person is or remains, or an insufficient number of persons is or remains, validly nominated to fill the vacancy or vacancies in respect of which the election is held⁴, the returning officer⁵ must order an election to be held on a day appointed by him to fill any vacancy which remains unfilled⁶. The day of election must fall within the period of 35 days beginning with the day fixed as the day of election for the first election⁷. If for any other reason an election to an office under the Local Government Act 1972 or the Greater London Authority Act 1999 (other than that of chairman of a parish or community council or parish meeting, or parish or community councillor⁸) is not held on the appointed day or within the appointed time or fails either wholly or in part or becomes void, the High Court may order an election to be held on a day appointed by the court⁹.

Where an election is ordered to be held in this way¹⁰, the relevant elections rules¹¹ relating to the notice to be given of an election and the manner in which an election is to be conducted apply in relation to the election so ordered to be held as they applied or would have applied in relation to the election which had not been duly held or has failed or become void¹²; and no fresh nomination is necessary in the case of a candidate who remains validly nominated for the election¹³.

6 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 39(1) (amended by the Local Government Act 1985 s 102(2), Sch 17). This duty does not apply where, at an ordinary election of parish or community councillors, an insufficient number of persons is or remains validly nominated, unless the number of newly elected members of the council is less than the number that constitutes a quorum for meetings of the council: see the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 21(1), (2) (as amended); and PARA 207 ante.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 39(1) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 19(2)).

When the day fixed by the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 39(1) (as amended) is a Saturday, Sunday, Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, Good Friday, bank holiday or a day appointed for public thanksgiving or mourning, the date of election is postponed to the first day thereafter which is not one of those days: s 40(1) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 ss 20, 74(2), Sch 1 paras 49, 50, Sch 2). Where the day of election is so postponed under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 40(1) (as amended), the day to which it is postponed must be treated as the day of election for the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 and the Local Government Act 1972: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 40(2) (amended by the Education Reform Act 1988 s 237, Sch 12 para 51). In computing any period of time for the purpose of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 39 (as amended), a Saturday, Sunday, Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, Good Friday, bank holiday or a day appointed for public thanksgiving or mourning must be disregarded but where, between the giving of a notice of election and the completion of the poll, a day is declared to be a bank holiday or day of public thanksgiving or mourning (and is accordingly disregarded), the requirement to disregard such a day is not to operate to invalidate any act which would have been valid apart from that requirement: s 40(1), (3) (s 40(1) amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 ss 16(2), 19(1), 28(1), Sch 5; and the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 49, 50, Sch 2). Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 49, 50 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1. The High Court may order that the costs incurred by any person in connection with these proceedings are to be paid by the local authority concerned: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 39(3). Where the High Court orders an election to be held, such an order may include such modifications of Pt I (ss 1-66A) (as amended), including the elections rules made under s 36 (as amended) (as to which see PARA 388 post) and the Local Government Act 1972 or the Greater London Authority Act 1999, as appear to the High Court necessary or expedient for carrying the order into effect: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 39(6)(a) (amended by the Local Government Act 1985 Sch 9 Pt I; the Education Reform Act 1988 Sch 13 Pt I; and the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 6(1), (4)). Abortive parish or community election or poll consequent on a parish or community meeting.

217. Abortive parish or community election or poll consequent on a parish or community meeting.

If any difficulty arises with respect to an election of parish or community councillors or of an individual parish or community councillor¹, or if, because an election is not held or is defective or for any other reason², a parish or community council is not properly constituted³, the district council⁴ or, in Wales, the county or county borough council⁵ may by order⁶ make any appointment or do any thing which appears to it necessary or expedient for the proper holding of such an election and properly constituting the council⁷ and may, if it appears to it necessary, direct the holding of an election and fix the date for it⁸. Where an election is ordered to be held in this way⁹, the relevant elections rules¹⁰ relating to the notice to be given of an election and the manner in which an election is to be conducted apply in relation to the election so ordered to be held as they applied or would have applied in relation to the election which had not been duly held or has failed or become void¹¹; and no fresh nomination is necessary in the case of a candidate who remains validly nominated for the election¹².

Where a poll consequent on a parish or community meeting¹³ is countermanded or abandoned by reason of the death of a candidate¹⁴, the district council for the area in which the parish or community is situated may by order make any appointment or make provision for the holding of a parish meeting or do such other thing as appears to it to be expedient in the circumstances¹⁵.

4 As to the councils of districts in England see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 24 et seq. In the case of a common parish council under which are grouped, by virtue of the Local Government Act 1972 s 11(5) (as amended) (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 29), parishes situated in different districts, the reference to the district council is to be construed as a reference to the council of the district in which there is the greater number of local government electors for the parishes in the group: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 39(7). For the meaning of 'elector' for these purposes see PARA 110 note 2 ante.

5 Ibid s 39(4) (amended by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 66(6), Sch 16 para 68(11)). As to the council of a county or county borough in Wales see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 37 et seq.

6 Such an order may include such modifications of the Representation of the People Act 1983 Pt I (ss 1-66A) (as amended), including the elections rules made under s 36 (as amended) (as to which see PARA 388 post), and the Local Government Act 1972 or the Greater London Authority Act 1999, as appear to the district council or Welsh county or county borough council necessary or expedient for carrying the order into effect: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 39(6)(a) (amended by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 6(1), (4)). Such an order may also modify the provisions of the Representation of the People Act 1983 and the rules with respect to parish or community council elections under s 36 (as amended) (as to which see PARA 388 post) and any other enactment relating to such elections: s 39(6)(b) (amended by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 66(8), Sch 16 para 68(11)(b), Sch 18).

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 39(4)(i). This provision does not apply if s 39(1) (as amended) (returning officer to order local government election to be held if vacancies not filled: see PARA 216 ante) applies: s 39(4).

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(1) INITIATING AN ELECTION/(ii) Initiating a Local Government Election /C. FIXING DAY OF ELECTION AND GIVING OF NOTICE/218. Notice of local government election.

218. Notice of local government election.

Not later than the twenty-fifth day before the day of a principal area or parish or community council election or of an election for the return of an elected mayor¹, the returning officer² must publish notice of the election³. Not later than the twenty-fifth day before the day of an Authority election for the return of a Mayor of London⁴, Authority elections for the return of constituency members of the London Assembly⁵ or Authority elections for the return of London members of the London Assembly⁶, the Greater London returning officer⁷ or the constituency returning officer⁸ (as the case may be) must publish⁹ notice of the election¹⁰.

Such a notice must state: (1) the place and times at which nomination papers are to be delivered¹¹ and that forms of nomination papers may be obtained at that place and those times¹²; (2) the date of the poll in the event of a contest¹³; and (3) the date by which applications to vote by post or by proxy¹⁴ and other applications and notices about postal or proxy voting¹⁵ must reach the specified officer¹⁶ in order that they may be effective for the election¹⁷.

1 Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(1), Sch 1 r 3; Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, r 3, Sch 2 r 1; Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 r 1.

In computing any period of time for the purposes of the timetable in the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 3, the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 1 or the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 1, the following must be disregarded: (1) a Saturday or Sunday (Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 4(1)(a); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 2(1)(a); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 2(1)(a)); (2) Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, Good Friday or a bank holiday (Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 4(1)(b); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 2(1)(b); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 2(1)(b)); or (3) a day appointed for public thanksgiving or mourning (Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 4(1)(c); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 2(1)(c); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 2(1)(c)). Any such day is not to be treated as a day for the purpose of any proceedings up to the completion of the poll nor is the returning officer obliged to proceed with the counting of the votes on such a day: Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 4(1); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 2(1); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 2(1). For these purposes, 'bank holiday' means a day which is a bank holiday under the Banking and Financial Dealings Act 1971 in England and Wales (see TIME vol 97 (2010) PARA 321); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 4(2); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 2(2); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 2(2). For the meanings of 'England' and 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante. Identical provision is made by the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 40(3), which states that, in computing any period of time for the purpose of any rules under s 36 (as amended) (see PARA 388 post), a Saturday or Sunday, Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, Good Friday, or a bank holiday or a day appointed for public thanksgiving or mourning must be disregarded but this provision, so far as it relates to any such rules, has effect subject to the provisions of those rules: s 40(1), (3) (s 40(1) amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 ss 20, 74(2), Sch 1 paras 49, 50, Sch 2). Since the rules do not make provision different from that in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 40(3), it is arguable that that provision, as well as the provision in the rules, applies to determine the computation of time for the purposes of the rules. In that event, the further provision made in s 40(3) applies so that where, between the giving of a notice of election and the completion of the poll a day is declared to be a bank holiday or day of public thanksgiving or mourning (and is accordingly disregarded), the requirement to disregard such a day is not to operate to invalidate any act which would have been valid apart from that requirement: s 40(3). Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 49, 50 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1. Accordingly, until that date, Maundy Thursday appears in the list of days excluded under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 40(1) (as amended).

As to local government principal area or parish or community council elections, when they are combined with any other relevant election or referendum, see the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, r 4, Sch 3; the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 4, Sch 3; and PARA 22 et seq ante.

5 For the meaning of 'constituency member', in relation to the London Assembly, see PARA 10 note 6 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 2(2). As to ordinary elections of constituency members of the London Assembly see PARA 206 et seq ante. As to constituency members of the London Assembly generally see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 92; and as to the London Assembly see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 82.

As to ordinary elections of London members of the London Assembly see PARA 206 et seq ante. As to London members of the London Assembly generally see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 97.

In computing any period of time for the purposes of the timetable in Sch 1 r 3, Sch 2 r 3, or Sch 3 r 3, the following must be disregarded: (1) a Saturday or Sunday (Sch 1 r 4(1)(a), Sch 2 r 4(1)(a), Sch 3 r 4(1)(a)); (2) Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, Maundy Thursday, Good Friday or a bank holiday (Sch 1 r 4(1)(b), Sch 2 r 4(1)(b), Sch 3 r 4(1)(b)); or (3) a day appointed for public thanksgiving or mourning (Sch 1 r 4(1)(c), Sch 2 r 4(1)(c), Sch 3 r 4(1)(c)). Any such day is not to be treated as a day for the purpose of any proceedings up to the completion of the poll nor is the returning officer obliged to proceed with the counting of the votes on such a day: Sch 1 r 4(1), Sch 2 r 4(1), Sch 3 r 4(1). For these purposes, 'bank holiday' means a day which is a bank holiday under the Banking and Financial Dealings Act 1971 in England and Wales (see TIME vol 97 (2010) PARA 321); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 4(2), Sch 2 r 4(2), Sch 3 r 4(2). For the meanings of 'England' and 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

7 In the case of an Authority election for the return of a Mayor of London and of Authority elections for the return of London members of the London Assembly. For these purposes, 'Greater London returning officer' ('GLRO'), in relation to any election of the Mayor of London or of London members of the London Assembly other than the first ordinary election, has the same meaning as in the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Pt I (ss 1-29) (as amended) (see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 98); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 2(1), Sch 3 r 2(1). References in the rules to the GLRO include references to any person appointed by him under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 35(4) (as amended) (returning officers for local elections in England and Wales: see PARA 359 post): Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 2(2)(a), Sch 3 r 2(2)(a).

8 In the case of Authority elections for the return of constituency members of the London Assembly. For these purposes, 'constituency returning officer' ('CRO'), in relation to a constituency and an election, means the person, or a person of the description, for the time being designated by order under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 35(2B) (as added) (see PARA 359 post) as the returning officer at the election of a constituency member for that constituency: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 2(1). References in the rules to the CRO include references to any person appointed by him under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 35(4) (as amended) (returning officers for local elections in England and Wales: see PARA 359 post): Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 2(2)(a).

219. Notice of poll consequent on a parish meeting taken on a question of appointment to office.

If a poll consequent on a parish or community meeting is required to be taken¹, the chairman of the meeting must notify the district council in which the parish or community is situate of the fact²; and the chairman of the meeting must give the returning officer³ such particulars as will enable him to give notice of the poll⁴.

Not later than the fifth day before the day of the poll⁵, the returning officer must give public notice of the poll which refers to the parish or community meeting at which a poll was demanded and states⁶: (1) the day and hours fixed for the poll⁷; (2) if the poll is taken on the question of appointment to any office⁸, the name of the office, the number of vacancies, the particulars of each candidate who has not withdrawn (the order of the names of the candidates and particulars being the same as in the ballot papers) and the name of the proposer of each candidate⁹; and (3) the situation of each polling station and the description of the persons entitled to vote there¹⁰.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(1) INITIATING AN ELECTION/(iii) Initiating an Election to the National Assembly for Wales/A. ORDINARY GENERAL ELECTION/220. Ordinary general election for the National Assembly for Wales.

(iii) Initiating an Election to the National Assembly for Wales

A. ORDINARY GENERAL ELECTION

220. Ordinary general election for the National Assembly for Wales.

The poll at an ordinary general election for the National Assembly for Wales¹ is to be held on the first Thursday in May in the fourth calendar year following that in which the previous ordinary general election was held², unless provision is made for the day of the poll by an order³. If the poll is to be held on the first Thursday in May, the Assembly is dissolved⁴ at the beginning of the minimum period which ends with that day⁵ and must meet within the period of seven days beginning immediately after the day of the poll⁶.

However, if: (1) the Assembly resolves that it should be dissolved⁷; and (2) the resolution of the Assembly is passed on a vote in which the number of Assembly members voting in favour of it is not less than two-thirds of the total number of Assembly seats⁸; or (3) any period during which the Assembly is required⁹ to nominate an Assembly member for appointment as the First Minister¹⁰ ends without such a nomination being made¹¹, the Secretary of State must propose a day for the holding of a poll at an extraordinary general election¹². If the Secretary of State proposes such a day, Her Majesty may by Order in Council: (a) dissolve the Assembly and require an extraordinary general election to be held¹³; (b) require the poll at the election to be held on the day proposed¹⁴; and (c) require the Assembly to meet within the period of seven days beginning immediately after the day of the poll¹⁵. If a poll for an extraordinary general election is so held¹⁶ within the period of six months ending with the day on which the poll at the next ordinary general election would be held¹⁷, that ordinary general election is not to be held¹⁸.

1 As to the National Assembly for Wales see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

2 The poll at the first ordinary general election for the National Assembly for Wales was held on 6 May 1999. The provisions of the Government of Wales Act 2006 come into force immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5).

3 Government of Wales Act 2006 s 3(1). As to the date at which this provision takes effect see note 2 supra. Until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3(1), (2). The text refers to provision made by an order under the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 4: s 3(1). The Secretary of State may by order provide for the poll at an ordinary general election to be held on a day which is neither more than one month earlier, nor more than one month later, than the first Thursday in May: s 4(1). Such an order must make provision for the Assembly: (1) to be dissolved on a day specified in the order (s 4(2)(a)); and (2) to meet within the period of seven days beginning immediately after the day of the poll (s 4(2)(b)). In calculating any period of days for the purposes of provision made by virtue of head (2) supra, the following days are to be disregarded: (a) Saturday and Sunday (s 4(3)(a)); (b) Good Friday (s 4(3)(b)); (c) any day which is a bank holiday in Wales under the Banking and Financial Dealings Act 1971 (see TIME vol 97 (2010) PARA 321) (Government of Wales Act 2006 s 4(3)(c)), and (d) any day appointed for public thanksgiving or mourning (s 4(3)(d)). Such an order may make provision for any provision of, or made under, the Representation of the People Acts, or any other enactment relating to the election of Assembly members, to have effect with such modifications or exceptions as the Secretary of State considers appropriate in connection with the alteration of the day of the poll: s 4(4). No such order is to be made unless the Secretary of State has consulted the Welsh Ministers about it (s 4(5)); and a statutory instrument containing such an order is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament (s 4(6)). As to the date at which s 4 takes effect see note 2 supra. Until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 3(3), (5), (6). For the meaning of 'Assembly members' for these purposes see PARA 12 ante; and for the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 2 ante. As to the Welsh Ministers see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. For the meaning of 'the Representation of the People Acts' see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

4 le by virtue of the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 3.

5 Ibid s 3(2)(a). For these purposes, the 'minimum period' means the period determined in accordance with an order under s 13 (power to make provision about elections etc: see PARA 12 ante): s 3(3). As to the date at which these provisions take effect see note 2 supra.

6 Ibid s 3(2)(b). In calculating any period of days for the purposes of s 3(2)(b), the following days are to be disregarded: (1) Saturday and Sunday (s 3(4)(a)); (2) any day which is a bank holiday in Wales under the Banking and Financial Dealings Act 1971 (see TIME vol 97 (2010) PARA 321) (Government of Wales Act 2006 s 3(4)(b)); and (3) any day appointed for public thanksgiving or mourning (s 3(4)(c)). B. BY-ELECTIONS AND THE FILLING OF VACANCIES

221. Vacancies in constituency seats in the National Assembly for Wales.

If the seat of an Assembly constituency member¹ returned for an Assembly constituency² is vacant³, an election must be held in the Assembly constituency to fill the vacancy⁴. At the election, each person entitled to vote only has a constituency vote⁵; and the Assembly constituency member for the Assembly constituency is to be returned under the simple majority system⁶.

The date of the poll at the election must be fixed by the presiding officer⁷; and the date must fall within the period of three months beginning with the occurrence of the vacancy⁸. Where the date of the poll to fill a vacant seat for an Assembly constituency is fixed by the presiding officer of the Assembly in this way, he must forthwith send a notice to the returning officer⁹ for the Assembly constituency stating¹⁰ both that the vacancy exists¹¹ and the date fixed for the poll to fill that vacancy¹². However, the election must not be held if it appears to the presiding officer that the latest date which may be fixed for the poll would fall within the period of three months ending with the day on which the poll at the next ordinary general election would be held¹³.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(1) INITIATING AN ELECTION/(iii) Initiating an Election to the National Assembly for Wales/B. BY-ELECTIONS AND THE FILLING OF VACANCIES/222. Vacancies in electoral region seats in the National Assembly for Wales.

222. Vacancies in electoral region seats in the National Assembly for Wales.

Where it comes to the notice of the Presiding Officer of the National Assembly for Wales¹ that the seat of an Assembly member² returned from a party list³ for an Assembly electoral region⁴ is vacant, he must⁵ forthwith send a notice to the returning officer for the Assembly electoral region⁶. Such a notice must state that a vacancy exists⁷ and set out the name of the person who had been returned to fill that seat, together with the name of the registered political party⁸ on whose list he was included⁹. Where a regional returning officer receives such a notice, he must ascertain from the list submitted at the previous ordinary election by the registered political party named in the notice the name and address of the person whose name appears highest on that list (the 'prospective member')¹⁰. The regional returning officer must then take steps to satisfy himself both that the prospective member is willing to serve as an Assembly member for the Assembly electoral region and that he may be properly notified as the name of the person who is to fill the vacancy¹¹, and the regional returning officer must continue to repeat the procedure until the seat is filled or until the names on that list are exhausted¹². Subject to the regional returning officer being satisfied that the prospective member is a member of the registered political party and that the party has given notice that the prospective member is to fill the vacancy¹³, where a prospective member states in writing in response to the question from the regional returning officer¹⁴ that he is willing to serve as an Assembly member for the Assembly electoral region, the regional returning officer must forthwith declare that person to be returned as a member for the Assembly electoral region¹⁵ and give public notice of the name of the member declared to be returned¹⁶ and of the registered political party for which such a member was a party list candidate¹⁷.

The regional returning officer must also notify to the presiding officer the name of the person who is to fill the vacancy¹⁸. A person whose name is notified in this way is to be treated as having been declared to be returned as an Assembly regional member for the Assembly electoral region on the day on which notification of the person's name is received by the presiding officer¹⁹. However, the seat remains vacant until the next general election if the Assembly regional member was returned as an individual candidate²⁰, or if that Assembly regional member was returned from the list of a registered political party but there is no-one who satisfies the conditions according to which a person's name may be notified²¹.

11 The regional returning officer must take such steps as appear to him to be reasonable: (1) to contact the prospective member to ask whether he will state that he is willing to serve as an Assembly member for the Assembly electoral region (ibid Sch 5 para 67(4)(a)); and (2) to contact the registered nominating officer of the registered political party on whose list that person is included and notify that officer of the action he is taking under head (1) supra (Sch 5 para 67(4)(b)). Where, within such period as the regional returning officer considers reasonable, he decides that the steps he has taken to contact the prospective member have been unsuccessful (Sch 5 para 67(5)(a)(i)) or he has not received from the prospective member a statement that he is willing to serve as an Assembly member for the Assembly electoral region (Sch 5 para 67(5)(a)(ii)), or where the prospective member has stated he is not willing to so serve as an Assembly member (Sch 5 para 67(5)(b)), or where the regional returning officer is satisfied that the prospective member is not a member of the registered political party on whose list he is included (Sch 5 para 67(5)(c)(i)), and receives notice from that party under the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 11(4)(b) (see note 18 infra) that the prospective member's name is not to be notified to the presiding officer of the Assembly as the name of the person who is to fill the vacancy (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 67(5)(c)(ii)), the prospective member must be treated as ceasing to be included on that list (Sch 5 para 67(5)). Where a person is so treated, the regional returning officer must repeat the procedure required by Sch 5 para 67(4) in respect of the person (if any) whose name and address appears next highest on that list and Sch 5 para 67(5) and Sch 5 para 67(6) also apply with respect to that person: Sch 5 para 67(6).

A person's name may only be so notified if: (1) the person is included on the list submitted by the registered political party for the last general election (s 11(3)(a)); (2) the person is willing to serve as an Assembly regional member for the Assembly electoral region (s 11(3)(b)); and (3) the person is a member of the registered political party (s 11(3)(c), (4)(a)) and is not a person whose name has been given by the party in a notice to the regional returning officer as one whose name is not to be notified to the presiding officer as the name of the person who is to fill the vacancy (s 11(3)(c), (4)(b)). If there is more than one person who satisfies the conditions in s 11(3), the regional returning officer may only notify the name of whichever of them was the higher, or the highest, on that list: s 11(5). For these purposes, a person included on the list submitted by a registered political party for the last general election who: (a) was returned as an Assembly regional member under s 9 at that election (see PARA 345 post), even if the return was void (s 11(8)(a)); (b) has subsequently been a candidate in an election held under s 10 (see PARA 221 ante), whether or not returned (s 11(8)(b)); or (c) has subsequently been returned under s 11, even if the return was void (s 11(8)(c)), is treated on and after the return of the person, or of the successful candidate at the election, as not having been included on the list (s 11(8)). As to the date at which s 11 takes effect see note 3 supra. As to the provisions that apply until that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 9(1)-(5).

As well as notifying to the presiding officer of the Assembly the name of the person who is to fill the vacancy under the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 11(2), the regional returning officer must also forthwith return the name of the member declared to be returned and of the registered political party for which such a member was a party list candidate (ie the names referred to in the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 67(9): see the text and notes 16, 17 supra) by completing a

A. GENERAL ELECTIONS

224. European parliamentary general elections.

Members of the European Parliament are elected for a fixed term of five years¹. The five-year term for which members of the European Parliament are elected begins at the opening of the first session following each election² and the term of office of each representative begins and ends at the same time as that period³. Elections take place in the period determined by the European Council in the last year of the five-year period⁴.

1 Treaty Establishing the European Community (Rome, 25 March 1957; TS 1 (1973); Cmnd 5179) art 190(3) (art 190 formerly art 138; renumbered by virtue of the Treaty of Amsterdam: see Treaty Citation (No 2) (Note) [1999] All ER (EC) 646, ECJ).

2 1976 Act concerning the election of the representatives of the European Parliament by direct universal suffrage (OJ L278, 08.10.76, p 5) (the '1976 Act') art 5(1) (amended and renumbered by EC and Euratom Decision 2002/772 (OJ L283, 21.10.2002, p 1)). The five-year period may be extended or curtailed in certain circumstances: see note 4 infra. As to the 1976 Act and as to the elections that are required under European law see PARA 6 ante.

3 1976 Act art 5(2) (amended and renumbered by EC and Euratom Decision 2002/772 (OJ L283, 21.10.2002, p 1)).

4 1976 Act art 11(2) (renumbered by EC and Euratom Decision 2002/772 (OJ L283, 21.10.2002, p 1)). Should it prove impossible to hold the elections during the period so determined, the Council acting unanimously must, after consulting the Parliament, determine, at least one month before the end of the five-year term referred to in the 1976 Act art 5 (as amended and renumbered) (see the text and notes 2-3 supra), another electoral period which must not be more than two months before or one month after the period originally determined: see art 11(2) (amended and renumbered by EC and Euratom Decision 2002/772 (OJ L283, 21.10.2002, p 1)). As to fixing the date for the holding of such elections see PARA 229 post.

Provision for the procedure to be followed for the filling of vacant seats.

B. BY-ELECTIONS AND THE FILLING OF VACANCIES

225. Provision for the procedure to be followed for the filling of vacant seats.

A seat falls vacant when the mandate of a member of the European Parliament ('MEP') ends as a result of resignation, death or withdrawal of the mandate¹. Each member state must lay down appropriate procedures for filling any seat which falls vacant during the five-year term of office² for the remainder of that period³. Where the law of a member state makes explicit provision for the withdrawal of the mandate of a member of the European Parliament⁴, that mandate ends pursuant to those legal provisions and the competent national authorities must so inform the European Parliament⁵. Where a seat falls vacant as a result of resignation or death, the President of the European Parliament must immediately so inform the competent authorities of the member state concerned⁶.

For the purposes of filling the seat of an MEP elected for the United Kingdom which is or becomes vacant, the Secretary of State must by regulations⁷ make provision prescribing the procedure to be followed⁸. Such regulations may include provision requiring a by-election to be held in specified circumstances⁹ and require a seat last filled from a party's list of candidates¹⁰ to be filled, in specified circumstances, from such a list (without a by-election)¹¹. Where regulations provide for a by-election to be held, the poll must take place on a day, appointed by order of the Secretary of State, within such period as may be specified in the regulations¹² (although the regulations may enable the Secretary of State to decline to appoint a day in certain circumstances¹³).

1 1976 Act concerning the election of the representatives of the European Parliament by direct universal suffrage (OJ L278, 08.10.76, p 5) (the '1976 Act') art 13(1) (art 13 substituted and renumbered by EC and Euratom Decision 2002/772 (OJ L283, 21.10.2002, p 1)). PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(1) INITIATING AN ELECTION/(iv) Initiating a European Parliamentary Election/B. BY-ELECTIONS AND THE FILLING OF VACANCIES/226. Initial response to vacancies.

226. Initial response to vacancies.

As soon as practicable after the Secretary of State¹ has either: (1) received information from the President of the European Parliament² of a vacancy in the seat of a member of the European Parliament ('MEP')³; or (2) informed the European Parliament⁴ that a vacancy exists⁵, he must send a notice to the returning officer for the electoral region in which the vacancy exists⁶. Such a notice must state that a vacancy exists⁷ and set out the name of the person who was returned in the seat which is vacant, together with the name of the registered party⁸ on whose list⁹ his name was included¹⁰.

However, the requirement to send such a notice does not apply: (a) where it appears from the declaration of the result of the election that the person whose seat is now vacant was an individual candidate¹¹; or (b) where the event referred to in head (1) or head (2) above occurred less than six months before the Thursday of the period of the next general election of MEPs¹².

11 Ibid reg 82(2). Subject to reg 85(2) (see PARA 228 post), a by-election must be held in the circumstances described in reg 82(2) to fill the vacancy, and the period within which the poll at that election must take place is six months from the occurrence of the event specified in head (1) or head (2) in the text, as the case may be: reg 82(3). For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 32 post.

12 Ibid reg 82(5). For the purpose of reg 82(5) and reg 83(1) (see PARA 227 post), the period of the next general election of MEPs is that during which the next general election would take place in accordance with the 1976 Act (as substituted and renumbered) (see PARA 225 ante): European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 82(6).

Filling of vacancies from a registered party's list.

227. Filling of vacancies from a registered party's list.

On receipt of a notice of a vacancy¹, the returning officer² must ascertain from the list submitted by the registered party named in the notice³ (the 'relevant list') the name and address of the person whose name appears highest on that list (the 'first choice'), disregarding the name of any person who has been returned as a member of the European Parliament ('MEP') or who has died⁴. The returning officer must take such steps as appear to him to be reasonable to contact the first choice to ask whether he will: (1) state in writing that he is willing and able to be returned as an MEP⁵; and (2) deliver a certificate signed by or on behalf of the nominating officer of the registered party which submitted the relevant list stating that he may be returned as that party's MEP⁶.

Where, within such period as the returning officer considers reasonable, he decides that the steps he has taken to contact the first choice have been unsuccessful⁷, or he has not received from the first choice the statement and certificate referred to in heads (1) and (2) above⁸, or where the first choice has stated in writing that he is not willing or able to be returned as an MEP⁹, or has failed to deliver the certificate referred to in head (2) above¹⁰, the returning officer must repeat the above procedure¹¹ in respect of the person (if any) whose name and address appears next in the relevant list (the 'second choice') or, where that person does not satisfy the necessary conditions¹², in respect of the person (if any) whose name and address appear next highest after the second choice in that list¹³. The returning officer must continue to repeat the procedure until the seat is filled or until the names in the list are exhausted¹⁴.

Where a person whose name appears on the relevant list provides the statement referred to in head (1) above and the certificate referred to in head (2) above, the returning officer must declare in writing that person to be returned as an MEP¹⁵. The returning officer must give public notice of such a declaration and send a copy of it to the Secretary of State¹⁶. However, where the returning officer is unable to fill the seat¹⁷, he must notify the Secretary of State that he is unable to do so¹⁸.

C. DATE AND NOTICE OF ELECTION

229. The date of a European parliamentary general election.

Elections to the European Parliament¹ are held on the date and at the times fixed by each member state² but for all member states this date must fall within the same period starting on a Thursday morning and ending on the following Sunday³. In the United Kingdom, the poll at each general election of members of the European Parliament ('MEPs') is held on a day appointed by order of the Secretary of State⁴.

1 As to the elections that are required under European law see PARA 6 ante.

2 1976 Act concerning the election of the representatives of the European Parliament by direct universal suffrage (OJ L278, 08.10.76, p 5) (the '1976 Act') art 10(1) (art 10 amended and renumbered by EC and Euratom Decision 2002/772 (OJ L283, 21.10.2002, p 1)). As to the 1976 Act see PARA 6 ante.

3 1976 Act art 10(1) (as renumbered: see note 2 supra). Member states may not officially make public the results of their count until after the close of polling in the member state whose electors are the last to vote within the period referred to in art 10(1) (as amended): art 10(2) (as amended and renumbered: see note 2 supra).

UPDATE

229 The date of a European parliamentary general election

NOTE 4--The day appointed for the poll at the next general election of MEPs is 4 June 2009: European Parliamentary Elections (Appointed Day of Poll) Order 2008, SI 2008/3102.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(1) INITIATING AN ELECTION/(iv) Initiating a European Parliamentary Election/C. DATE AND NOTICE OF ELECTION/230. Notice of European parliamentary election.

230. Notice of European parliamentary election.

Not later than the twenty-fifth day before the date of the poll at a European parliamentary election¹, the returning officer must publish notice of the election². Such a notice must state: (1) the place and times at which nomination papers are to be delivered³; (2) the date of the poll in the event of a contest⁴; and (3) the date by which⁵ applications to vote by post or by proxy⁶ and other applications and notices about postal or proxy voting⁷ must reach the electoral registration officer⁸ in order that they may be effective for the election⁹. The returning officer must send a copy of the notice to the local returning officer¹⁰ for each local counting area¹¹ wholly or partly contained in the electoral region¹²; and each local returning officer must publish the copy of the notice at a place within the area in which he acts¹³.

1 European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 9, Sch 1 para 1. As to the date of the poll at a European parliamentary general election see PARA 229 ante.

In computing any period of time for the purposes of the timetable in Sch 1 para 1, the following must be disregarded: (1) a Saturday or a Sunday (Sch 1 para 2(1)(a)); (2) Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, Maundy Thursday, Good Friday or a bank holiday (Sch 1 para 2(1)(b)); or (3) a day appointed for public thanksgiving or mourning (Sch 1 para 2(1)(c)). Any such day must not be treated as a day for the purpose of any proceedings up to the completion of the poll nor is the returning officer obliged to proceed with the counting of votes on such a day: Sch 1 para 2(1). For these purposes, 'bank holiday' means: (a) in relation to a general election in a region other than the combined region, a day which is a bank holiday under the Banking and Financial Dealings Act 1971 in any part of the United Kingdom (see TIME vol 97 (2010) PARA 321) (European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 2(2)(c)); and (b) in relation to a by-election in a region other than the combined region a day which is a bank holiday under the Banking and Financial Dealings Act 1971 in that part of the United Kingdom in which the electoral region is situated (European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 2(2)(d)). However, head (b) supra and not head (a) supra applies at a general election in relation to any proceedings extending, by reason of riot or open violence, beyond the time laid down by the timetable: Sch 1 para 2(2). For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante. As to the establishment of electoral regions (including the 'combined region') for the purpose of elections to the European Parliament see PARA 76 ante; and as to returning officers appointed for such purposes see PARA 365 post. As to bank holidays defined for the purposes of the combined region see Sch 1 para 2(2)(a), (b).

2 Ibid Sch 1 para 3(1).

3 Ibid Sch 1 para 3(1)(a). As to the nomination of candidates at elections see PARA 260 et seq post.

4 Ibid Sch 1 para 3(1)(b).

5 Ie except in such circumstances as are provided for in ibid reg 10, Sch 2 para 19 (applications disregarded or refused after closing time and date: see PARA 372 post).

6 Ibid Sch 1 para 3(2)(a). As to applications to vote by post or by proxy see PARA 372 et seq post.

7 Ibid Sch 1 para 3(2)(b).

8 As to the electoral registration officer see PARA 154 et seq ante.

9 European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 3(2).

10 As to local returning officers appointed for the purposes of elections to the European Parliament see PARA 365 post.

11 For these purposes, 'local counting area' means either Gibraltar or a parliamentary constituency wholly or partly comprised in an electoral region in England or in Wales: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations

2004, SI 2004/293, reg 2(1). For the meaning of 'constituency' for the purpose of parliamentary elections see PARA 9 ante.

(2) CANDIDACY FOR ELECTIONS

(i) Standing in Parliamentary Elections

231. Disqualification for membership of the House of Commons.

A person is disqualified for membership of the House of Commons if, on the day on which he is nominated as a candidate¹, he has not attained the age of 18². If a person so disqualified is elected as a member of that House his election is void³. Persons, other than citizens of the Republic of Ireland⁴ and qualifying Commonwealth citizens⁵, who are born outside Great Britain and Ireland and the dominions are also disqualified for membership of the House of Commons⁶. If a person so disqualified⁷ is elected as a member of that House his election is void⁸. In most circumstances, the disqualification of persons elected as members of Parliament on grounds subsisting at the time of election may be determined through presentation of an election petition⁹.

A person may be disqualified for membership of the House of Commons by virtue of vocation or status¹⁰, through incapacity¹¹ or by office or service¹². Provision is made for the House to determine questions arising in relation to the qualification of any member of Parliament or any person elected to be such a member¹³.

1 As to the nomination of candidates at a parliamentary election see PARA 260 et seq post.

2 Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 17(1). The Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 17 and s 18 (see the text and notes 4-8 infra) do not have effect in relation to any election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

3 Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 17(2). This provision is subject to an order made by the House of Commons under the House of Commons Disqualification Act 1975 s 6(2) (order that disqualification be disregarded: see PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 910) as applied by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 17(3): s 17(2). The House of Commons Disqualification Act 1975 s 6(2)-(4) (see PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 910) and s 7 (jurisdiction of Privy Council as to disqualification: see PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 912) apply in the case of a person disqualified by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 17(1) as they apply in the case of a person disqualified by the House of Commons Disqualification Act 1975; and references in s 6(2)-(4) and s 7 to a person disqualified by the House of Commons Disqualification Act 1975 must be construed as including references to a person disqualified by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 17(1): s 17(3). As to the commencement of these provisions see note 2 supra.

4 As to who are citizens of the Republic of Ireland see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 12.

5 For these purposes, a person is a qualifying Commonwealth citizen if he is a Commonwealth citizen who either: (1) is not a person who requires leave under the Immigration Act 1971 to enter or remain in the United Kingdom (see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 86 et seq) (Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 18(2)(a)); or (2) is such a person but for the time being has (or is, by virtue of any enactment, to be treated as having) indefinite leave to remain within the meaning of the Immigration Act 1971 (see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 86) (Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 18(2)(b)). However, a person is not a qualifying Commonwealth citizen by virtue of head (1) supra if he does not require leave to enter or remain in the United Kingdom by virtue only of the Immigration Act 1971 s 8 (exceptions to requirement for leave in special cases: see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 88 et seq): Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 18(3). As to the commencement of these provisions see note 2 supra. For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante. As to who are Commonwealth citizens see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 11.

6 See the Act of Settlement (1700) s 3, as modified by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 18(1). As to the commencement of these provisions see note 2 supra. See also PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 899.

7 Ibid by virtue of the Act of Settlement (1700) s 3, as modified by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 18(1) (see note 6 supra).

8 Ibid s 18(4)(a). If a person being a member of that House becomes disqualified for membership as mentioned in the text, his seat is vacated: s 18(4)(b). Section 18(4) is subject to an order made by the House of Commons under the House of Commons Disqualification Act 1975 s 6(2) (order that disqualification be disregarded: see PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 910) as applied by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 18(5): s 18(4). The House of Commons Disqualification Act 1975 s 6(2)-(4) (see PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 910) and s 7 (jurisdiction of Privy Council as to disqualification: see PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 912) apply in the case of a person disqualified as mentioned in the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 18(4) as they apply in the case of a person disqualified by the House of Commons Disqualification Act 1975; and references in s 6(2)-(4) and s 7 to a person disqualified by the House of Commons Disqualification Act 1975 must be construed as including references to a person disqualified as mentioned in the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 18(4): s 18(5). As to the commencement of these provisions see note 2 supra.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (2) CANDIDACY FOR ELECTIONS/(ii) Standing in Local Government Elections/232. Qualification for membership of local authority or to be elected local authority mayor.

(ii) Standing in Local Government Elections

232. Qualification for membership of local authority or to be elected local authority mayor.

Unless disqualified¹, a person is qualified to be elected² and to be a member of a local authority³, or qualified to be elected and to be an elected mayor⁴, if he is a qualifying Commonwealth citizen⁵ or a citizen of the Republic of Ireland⁶ or a relevant citizen of the European Union⁷ and on the relevant day⁸ he has attained the age of 18 years⁹ and: (1) on that day he is and thereafter continues to be a local government elector¹⁰ for the area of the authority¹¹; or (2) he has during the whole of the 12 months preceding that day occupied as an owner or tenant any land or other premises in that area¹²; or (3) his principal or only place of work during that 12 months has been in that area¹³; or (4) he has during the whole of those 12 months resided in that area¹⁴; or (5) in the case of a member of a parish or community council, he has during the whole of those 12 months resided either in the parish or community or within three miles of it¹⁵. On ceasing to hold office he is eligible for re-election, unless disqualified or not qualified¹⁶.

1 He is disqualified by virtue of the Local Government Act 1972 or any other enactment: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 119. As to the armed forces and local government office see ARMED FORCES vol 2(2) (Reissue) PARA 27.

2 As to local government elections see PARA 204 et seq ante.

3 For the meaning of 'local authority' for these purposes see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 23.

4 For the meaning of 'elected mayor' for these purposes see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 320. As to elections for the return of an elected mayor for a local authority see PARA 205 et seq ante.

5 For these purposes, a person is a qualifying Commonwealth citizen if he is a Commonwealth citizen who either: (1) is not a person who requires leave under the Immigration Act 1971 to enter or remain in the United Kingdom (see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 86 et seq) (Local Government Act 1972 s 79(2B)(a) (s 79(2B), (2C) added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 18(6), Sch 1 para 43(1), (4))); or (2) is such a person but for the time being has (or is, by virtue of any enactment, to be treated as having) indefinite leave to remain within the meaning of the Immigration Act 1971 (see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 86) (Local Government Act 1972 s 79(2B)(b) (as so added)). However, a person is not a qualifying Commonwealth citizen by virtue of head (1) supra if he does not require leave to enter or remain in the United Kingdom by virtue only of the Immigration Act 1971 s 8 (exceptions to requirement for leave in special cases: see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 88 et seq): Local Government Act 1972 s 79(2C) (as so added). Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 ss 17, 18, Sch 1 para 43 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1. Until that date, references to 'a qualifying Commonwealth citizen' should be read as references to 'a Commonwealth citizen'. As to who are Commonwealth citizens see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 11.

6 As to who are citizens of the Republic of Ireland see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 12.

7 The Local Government Act 1972 uses the expression 'citizen of the Union' which must be construed in accordance with the Treaty Establishing the European Community (Rome, 25 March 1957; TS 1 (1973); Cmnd 5179) art 17(1) (formerly art 8(1) and renumbered by virtue of the Treaty of Amsterdam: see Treaty Citation

(No 2) (Note) [1999] All ER (EC) 646, ECJ); and 'relevant citizen of the Union' means such a citizen who is not a qualifying Commonwealth citizen or a citizen of the Republic of Ireland: Local Government Act 1972 s 79(2A) (added by the Local Government Elections (Changes to the Franchise and Qualifications of Members) Regulations 1995, SI 1995/1948, reg 3; and amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 para 43(1), (3)). As to the date on which the amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 para 43(1), (3) takes effect see note 5 supra.

8 The 'relevant day' in relation to any candidate means, except in the case of an election not preceded by the nomination of candidates, the day on which he is nominated as a candidate and also, if there is a poll, the day of election: Local Government Act 1972 s 79(2)(a). In that excepted case, the 'relevant day' is the day of election: s 79(2)(b).

9 Ibid s 79(1) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 17(4), Sch 1 para 43(1), (2); the Local Government Elections (Changes to the Franchise and Qualifications of Members) Regulations 1995, SI 1995/1948, reg 3; the Local Authorities (Executive and Alternative Arrangements) (Modification of Enactments and Other Provisions) (England) Order 2001, SI 2001/2237, arts 1(2), 2(a), 4; and the Local Authorities (Executive and Alternative Arrangements) (Modification of Enactments and Other Provisions) (Wales) Order 2002, SI 2002/808, arts 2(a), 4). As to the date on which the amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 17(4), Sch 1 para 43(1), (2) takes effect see note 5 supra. Until that date, the reference to 'a qualifying Commonwealth citizen' should be read as a reference to 'a Commonwealth citizen' and the reference to 'the age of 18 years' should be read as a reference to 'the age of 21 years'.

10 For the meaning of 'local government elector' for these purposes see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 127.

11 Local Government Act 1972 s 79(1)(a). As to areas and authorities in England see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 24 et seq; and as to areas and authorities in Wales see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 37 et seq.

12 Ibid s 79(1)(b).

13 Ibid s 79(1)(c). The phrase 'principal or only place of work' is to be given its natural and ordinary meaning and has a wider meaning than 'business' or 'employment'; constituency work may suffice, as the phrase 'principal or only place of work' does not impose a requirement that the candidate should have a personal interest in the area: Parker v Yeo (1992) 90 LGR 645, CA ('work' may include duties performed by a candidate as a previously-elected councillor of the local authority).

14 Local Government Act 1972 s 79(1)(d). The word 'residence' does not have a technical meaning, but will generally connote a degree of permanence; it is possible for a person to have several residences, but a temporary residence at a place does not make a person a resident of that place; similarly, temporary absence from a place does not deprive a person of his residency of that place: Fox v Stirk and Bristol Electoral Registration Officer [1970] 2 QB 463, [1970] 3 All ER 7, CA. See also R v Mayor of Exeter (Wescomb's Case) (1868) LR 4 QB 110, DC; R v Mayor of Exeter (Dipstale's Case) (1868) LR 4 QB 114, DC; Tewkesbury Case, Whithorn v Thomas (1844) 9 JP 89; R v Vicar and Churchwardens of Bredwarding, ex p Burton-Phillipson [1920] 1 KB 47; Barlow v Smith (1892) 9 TLR 57, DC; Stanford v Williams (1899) 80 LT 490, DC.

16 This is the effect of ibid s 79(1) (as amended).

232 Qualification for membership of local authority or to be elected local authority mayor

TEXT AND NOTES--Local Government Act 1972 s 79(1) further amended and SI 2001/2237 art 4 revoked: Local Government and Public Involvement in Health Act 2007 Sch 3 para 5, Sch 18 Pt 3.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (2) CANDIDACY FOR ELECTIONS/(ii) Standing in Local Government Elections/233. Candidacy for elections to be a member of the London Assembly or to be the Mayor of London.

233. Candidacy for elections to be a member of the London Assembly or to be the Mayor of London.

A person is qualified¹ to be elected and to be the Mayor of London² or an Assembly member³ if⁴: (1) he is a qualifying Commonwealth citizen⁵, a citizen of the Republic of Ireland⁶ or a relevant citizen of the Union⁷; (2) on the relevant day⁸, he has attained the age of 18 years⁹; and (3) he satisfies at least one of the conditions relating to his residence, employment or entitlement to vote in Greater London¹⁰. These provisions apply in relation to being returned as a London member¹¹ otherwise than at an election following a vacancy arising in such an office¹² as it applies in relation to being elected¹³.

At an ordinary election¹⁴, a person may not be a candidate to be the London Assembly member for more than one Assembly constituency¹⁵. Any registered political party¹⁶ may submit to the Greater London returning officer¹⁷ a list of candidates to be London members¹⁸. The list has effect in relation to the ordinary election and any vacancies among the London members¹⁹ which occur after that election and before the next ordinary election²⁰. The list must not include more than 25 persons (but may include only one)²¹, and must not include a person: (a) who is a candidate to be a constituency member but who is not a candidate of that party²²; (b) who is included on any other list submitted for the election of London members²³; or (c) who is an individual candidate to be a London member²⁴. Similarly, a person may not be an individual candidate to be a London member if: (i) he is included on a list submitted by a registered political party for the election of London members²⁵; or (ii) he is a candidate of any registered political party to be the Mayor of London or a constituency member²⁶.

1 Is subject to any disqualification by virtue of the Greater London Authority Act 1999 or any other enactment. As to such disqualification generally see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 86 et seq. The acts and proceedings of any person elected to an office under the Greater London Authority Act 1999 and acting in that office are, notwithstanding his want of qualification, as valid and effectual as if he had been qualified: s 22.

2 As to the Mayor of London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 81.

3 For the meaning of 'Assembly member' and as to the London Assembly see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 82.

4 Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 20(1).

5 Ibid s 20(2)(a) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 18(6), Sch 1 para 42(1), (2)). For these purposes, a person is a qualifying Commonwealth citizen if he is a Commonwealth citizen who either: (1) is not a person who requires leave under the Immigration Act 1971 to enter or remain in the United Kingdom (see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 86 et seq) (Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 20(7A)(a) (s 20(7A), (7B) added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 para 42(1), (3))); or (2) is such a person but for the time being has (or is, by virtue of any enactment, to be treated as having) indefinite leave to remain within the meaning of the Immigration Act 1971 (see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 86) (Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 20(7A)(b) (as so added)). However, a person is not a qualifying Commonwealth citizen by virtue of head (1) supra if he does not require leave to enter or remain in the United Kingdom by virtue only of the Immigration Act 1971 s 8 (exceptions to requirement for leave in special cases: see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 88 et seq); Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 20(7B) (as so added). Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 ss 17, 18, Sch 1 para 42 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007:

see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1. Until that date, references to 'a qualifying Commonwealth citizen' should be read as references to 'a Commonwealth citizen'. As to who are Commonwealth citizens see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 11.

6 Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 20(2)(b). As to who are citizens of the Republic of Ireland see BRITISH NATIONALITY, IMMIGRATION AND ASYLUM vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 12.

7 Ibid s 20(2)(c). For this purpose, 'citizen of the Union' is to be construed in accordance with the Treaty Establishing the European Community (Rome, 25 March 1957; TS 1 (1973); Cmnd 5179); and 'relevant citizen of the Union' means a citizen of the Union who is not a qualifying Commonwealth citizen or a citizen of the Republic of Ireland: Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 20(8) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 para 42(1), (4)). As to the date on which the amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 para 42(1), (4) takes effect see note 5 supra.

8 The 'relevant day', in relation to any candidate, means: (1) the day on which he is nominated as a candidate and also, if there is a poll, the day of the election; or (2) if the election is not preceded by the nomination of candidates, the day of the election: Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 20(8).

9 Ibid s 20(3) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 17(5)). As to the date on which the amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 17(5) takes effect see note 5 supra. Until that date, the reference to 'the age of 18 years' should be read as a reference to 'the age of 21 years'.

10 Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 20(4). The conditions are that: (1) on the relevant day the person is, and from that day continues to be, a local government elector for Greater London (s 20(4)(a)); (2) the person has, during the whole of the 12 months preceding that day, occupied as owner or tenant any land or other premises in Greater London (s 20(4)(b)); (3) the person's principal or only place of work during that 12 months has been in Greater London (s 20(4)(c)); (4) the person has during the whole of that 12 months resided in Greater London (s 20(4)(d)). 'Local government elector' means a person registered as a local government elector in the register of electors in accordance with the provisions of the Representation of the People Acts (see PARA 160 et seq ante): Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 29. For the meaning of 'the Representation of the People Acts' see PARA 3 note 1 ante. 'Elector' has the same meaning as in the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1) (see PARA 110 note 2 ante): Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 29. As to the meaning of 'vote' for these purposes see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 102. As to Greater London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 29.

11 As to London members of the London Assembly see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 97.

12 Ie under the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 11 (see PARA 211 ante).

13 Ibid s 20(5). References in s 20 (as amended) to 'election' must accordingly be construed as if a London member so returned were elected at an election on the day on which he is to be treated as returned (s 20(6)); and in the application of s 20 (as amended) by virtue of s 20(5), any reference to the day on which a person is nominated as a candidate must be taken as a reference to the day on which notification of the person's name is given under s 11(3) (see PARA 211 ante) by the Greater London returning officer (s 20(7)). For the meaning of 'Greater London returning officer' for these purposes see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 98.

14 As to London Assembly ordinary elections see PARA 206 ante.

15 Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 4(9). For the meaning of 'Assembly constituency', in relation to the London Assembly, see PARA 10 note 6 ante. As to constituency members of the London Assembly see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 92.

16 For these purposes, 'registered political party' means a party registered under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Pt II (ss 22-40) (as amended) (see PARA 260 post): Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 4(11) (amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 158(1), Sch 21 para 15).

17 Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 4(6), Sch 2 para 5(2).

18 Ibid Sch 2 para 5(1). The London members are returned via the London vote, ie the vote which may be given for a registered political party which has submitted a list of candidates to be London members or for an individual who is a candidate to be a London member: see s 4(1)(c), (5); and PARA 345 post.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/ (2) CANDIDACY FOR ELECTIONS/(iii) Standing in Elections to the National Assembly for Wales/234. Candidacy for elections to the National Assembly for Wales.

(iii) Standing in Elections to the National Assembly for Wales

234. Candidacy for elections to the National Assembly for Wales.

At a general election for the National Assembly for Wales¹: (1) a person may not be a candidate to be the Assembly constituency member² for more than one Assembly constituency³; (2) any registered political party⁴ may submit a list of candidates⁵ for return as Assembly regional members⁶ for a particular Assembly electoral region⁷.

Such a list must be submitted to the regional returning officer⁸ and must not include more than 12 persons (but may include only one)⁹. A person must not be included in such a list: (a) who is included on any other list submitted for the Assembly electoral region or any list submitted for another Assembly electoral region¹⁰; (b) who is an individual candidate to be an Assembly member for the Assembly electoral region¹¹ or another Assembly electoral region¹²; (c) who is a candidate to be the Assembly constituency member for an Assembly constituency¹³. A person may not be an individual candidate to be an Assembly regional member for the Assembly electoral region if that person is: (i) included on a list submitted by a registered political party for the Assembly electoral region or another Assembly electoral region¹⁴; (ii) an individual candidate to be an Assembly regional member for another Assembly electoral region¹⁵; (iii) a candidate to be the Assembly constituency member for an Assembly constituency¹⁶.

A person is disqualified from being an Assembly member if that person: (A) is disqualified from being a member of the House of Commons¹⁷; (B) holds any of the offices for the time being designated by Order in Council as offices disqualifying persons from being Assembly members¹⁸; (C) holds the office of Auditor General¹⁹; (D) holds the office of Public Services Ombudsman for Wales²⁰; or (E) is employed as a member of the staff of the Assembly²¹. A person who holds office as lord-lieutenant, lieutenant or high sheriff of any area in Wales²² is disqualified from being an Assembly member for any Assembly constituency or Assembly electoral region wholly or partly included in that area²³.

234 Candidacy for elections to the National Assembly for Wales

NOTE 18--SI 2006/3335 amended: Health and Social Care Act 2008 Sch 10 para 26, SI 2008/2250, SI 2008/3244, SI 2009/462, SI 2009/1307.

(iv) Standing in European Parliamentary Elections

235. Candidacy for elections to the office of member of the European Parliament.

The Secretary of State¹ must by regulations²: (1) make provision for the nomination of registered parties in relation to an election of members of the European Parliament ('MEPs') in a European parliamentary electoral region³; and (2) require a nomination under head (1) above to be accompanied by a list of candidates numbering no more than the MEPs to be elected for the region⁴.

A person is disqualified for the office of MEP if he is disqualified for membership of the House of Commons⁵. A person is disqualified for the office of MEP for a particular electoral region if he is disqualified⁶ for membership of the House of Commons for any parliamentary constituency⁷ wholly or partly comprised in that region⁸. A person who is a citizen of the European Union⁹, and is not a Commonwealth citizen¹⁰ or a citizen of the Republic of Ireland¹¹, is disqualified for the office of MEP if he is disqualified for that office through a criminal law or civil law decision¹² under the law of the member state of which he is a national¹³. If a person who is returned as an MEP for an electoral region¹⁴ is so disqualified for the office of MEP¹⁵ or for the office of MEP for that region¹⁶, his return is void and his seat vacant¹⁷. If an MEP becomes so disqualified for the office of MEP or for the office of MEP for the electoral region for which he was returned, his seat is to be vacated¹⁸.

Any person may apply to the appropriate court¹⁹ for a declaration that a person who purports to be an MEP for a particular electoral region is disqualified²⁰ (whether generally or for that region)²¹, or was so disqualified at the time when, or at some time since, he was returned as an MEP²². On such an application, the person in respect of whom the application is made is to be the respondent²³ and the applicant must give such security for the costs or expenses of the proceedings, not exceeding £5,000, as the court may direct²⁴. The decision of the court on such an application is final²⁵. Any declaration made by the court on such an application must be certified in writing to the Secretary of State immediately by the court²⁶. However, no declaration is to be made in respect of any person on grounds which subsisted at the time of his election if there is pending, or has been tried, an election petition in which his disqualification on those grounds is, or was, in issue²⁷.

5 Ibid s 10(1)(a). However, a person is not disqualified for the office of MEP under s 10(1)(a) merely because: (1) he is a peer (s 10(2)(a)); (2) he is a Lord Spiritual (s 10(2)(b)); (3) he holds an office mentioned in the House of Commons Disqualification Act 1975 s 4 (stewardship of Chiltern Hundreds etc: see PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010))

PARA 895) (s 10(2)(c)); or (4) he holds any of the offices described in s 4, Sch 1 Pt II (as amended) (bodies of which all members are disqualified: see PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 908) or Sch 1 Pt 3 (as amended) (other disqualifying offices: see PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 908) which are designated by order by the Secretary of State for the purposes of the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 10 (as amended) (s 10(2)(d)). Nor is a citizen of the European Union who is resident in the United Kingdom or Gibraltar disqualified for the office of MEP under s 10(1)(a) merely because he is disqualified for membership of the House of Commons under the Act of Settlement (1700) s 3 (disqualification of persons, other than qualifying Commonwealth and Republic of Ireland citizens, who are born outside Great Britain and Ireland and the dominions: see PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 899); European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 10(3) (amended by the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 s 21(1)(a); and the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 18(6), Sch 1 para 41(1), (2)). For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante. As to the power of the Secretary of State to provide for persons of a description connected to Gibraltar to be disqualified from the office of MEP see the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 10(3A), (3B), (4A), (4B), (7A)-(7C) (s 10(3A), (3B), (7A)-(7C) added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 para 41(1), (3), (5); the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 10(4A), (4B) added by the European Parliament (Representation) Act 2003 s 21(1)(b); and the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 10(4A) amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 para 41(1), (4)); and the European Parliament (Disqualification) (United Kingdom and Gibraltar) Order 2004, SI 2004/1246. As to membership of the House of Commons generally see PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 897 et seq. See also the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 9, Sch 1 para 17 (cited in PARA 271 note 39 post), which deals with disqualification under the Representation of the People Act 1981 (as it applies in respect of the office of MEP by virtue of the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 10(1)(a)) for the purposes of the nomination of candidates. The amendments effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 para 41 have no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

Until a day to be appointed under the Constitutional Reform Act 2005 s 148(1), a person is also disqualified for the office of MEP if he is a Lord of Appeal in Ordinary: European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 10(1)(b) (prospectively repealed by the Constitutional Reform Act 2005 ss 145, 146, Sch 17 para 32, Sch 18 Pt 5). At the date at which this volume states the law, no such day had been appointed.

The European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 10(1) (prospectively amended) is without prejudice to the 1976 Act concerning the election of the representatives of the European Parliament by direct universal suffrage, art 7(1), (2) (as amended and renumbered) (incompatibility of office of MEP with certain offices in or connected with Community institutions: see PARA 6 note 5 ante): European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 10(8) (amended by the European Parliamentary Elections (Common Electoral Principles) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1374, reg 2(1), (3)). From the European Parliament elections in 2004, the office of member of the European Parliament is incompatible with that of member of a national parliament; however, by way of derogation, members of the United Kingdom Parliament who are also members of the European Parliament during the five-year term preceding election to the European Parliament in 2004 may have a dual mandate until the European Parliament elections in 2009: 1976 Act concerning the election of the representatives of the European Parliament by direct universal suffrage (OJ L278, 08.10.76, p 5) (the '1976 Act'), art 7(2) (added and renumbered by EC and Euratom Decision 2002/772 (OJ L283, 21.10.2002, p 1)). 235 Candidacy for elections to the office of member of the European Parliament

NOTE 5--See the European Parliament (House of Lords Disqualification) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/1647, which disqualify any life peer elected to the office of member of the European Parliament from sitting and voting in the House of Lords for the duration of his membership of the European Parliament.

SI 2004/1246 replaced: European Parliament (Disqualification) (United Kingdom and Gibraltar) Order 2009, SI 2009/190.

Appointed day is 1 October 2009: SI 2009/1604.

236. Candidature at European parliamentary election by a relevant citizen of the Union.

Where the candidate at a European parliamentary election¹ is a relevant citizen of the Union², he is not validly nominated³ as an individual candidate⁴ or as a candidate on a registered party's list⁵ unless a declaration made by or on behalf of the candidate⁶ and a certificate made by the competent administrative authorities⁷ in the member state of which the candidate is a national are delivered at the place and within the time for the delivery of nomination papers⁸. Such a declaration must state, in addition to the candidate's name: (1) his nationality⁹; (2) his home address in the United Kingdom¹⁰ in full¹¹; (3) that he is not standing as a candidate for election to the European Parliament in any other member state at elections held in the same period¹²; and (4) where his name has been entered in a register of electors in a locality or constituency¹³ in the member state of which he is a national, the name of the locality or constituency where, so far as he knows, his name was last entered¹⁴. The certificate referred to above must state either that the candidate has not been deprived of his right to stand as a candidate in the member state of which he is a national or that no such disqualification is known to the competent administrative authorities¹⁵. As soon as practicable after publication of the statement of parties and individual candidates nominated¹⁶, the returning officer¹⁷ must send to the Secretary of State¹⁸ a copy of the declaration so made by any candidate who stands nominated either by virtue of the list of candidates which accompanied a registered party's nomination or as an individual candidate¹⁹.

A person is guilty of an offence if he makes a statement which he knows to be false in the declaration required before a relevant citizen of the Union can be validly nominated as an individual candidate or as a candidate on a registered party's list²⁰.

236 Candidature at European parliamentary election by a relevant citizen of the Union

TEXT AND NOTES--SI 2004/293 Sch 1 substituted: SI 2009/186. SI 2004/293 Sch 1 amended: SI 2009/848.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(i) The Candidate and Election Agent/A. THE CANDIDATE/237. Meaning of 'candidate'.

(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN

(i) The Candidate and Election Agent

A. THE CANDIDATE

237. Meaning of 'candidate'.

For the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983, in so far as it provides for parliamentary and local government election campaigns¹ and for legal proceedings in connection with such elections² and unless the context otherwise requires³:

- 314 (1) a person becomes a candidate at a parliamentary election⁴: (a) on the date of the dissolution of Parliament⁵ or, in the case of a by-election, the occurrence of the vacancy⁶, in consequence of which the writ for the election is issued⁷, if on or before that date he is declared by himself or by others to be a candidate at the election⁸; and (b) otherwise, on the day on which he is so declared by himself or by others or on which he is nominated as a candidate at the election (whichever is the earlier)⁹;
- 315 (2) a person becomes a candidate at an election under the local government Act¹⁰: (a) on the last day for publication of notice of the election¹¹ if on or before that day he is declared by himself or by others to be a candidate at the election¹²; and (b) otherwise, on the day on which he is so declared by himself or by others or on which he is nominated as a candidate at the election (whichever is the earlier)¹³, or, in the case of a person included in a list of candidates submitted by a registered political party in connection with an election of the London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election¹⁴, on the day on which the list is submitted by the party¹⁵.

For the purposes of the statutory provisions relating to elections to the National Assembly for Wales¹⁶, in so far as they provide for the election campaign¹⁷ and for legal proceedings in connection with such elections¹⁸ and unless the context otherwise requires, a person becomes a candidate in relation to an Assembly election¹⁹ on the last day for publication of notice of the election²⁰, if on or before that day he is declared by himself or by others to be a candidate at the election²¹, and otherwise on the day on which he is so declared by himself or by others or on which he is nominated as a candidate at the election (whichever is the earlier)²², or, in the case of a party list candidate²³, on the day on which the list is submitted by the party to the regional returning officer²⁴.

For the purposes of the statutory provisions relating to European parliamentary elections²⁵, in so far as they provide for the election campaign²⁶ and for legal proceedings in connection with such elections²⁷ and unless the context otherwise requires²⁸, a person becomes a candidate at such an election²⁹: (i) in the case of a person included in the list of candidates of a registered party to accompany its nomination for election³⁰, on the day on which the list is submitted by the party³¹; or (ii) in the case of a person not included in the list of candidates of a registered party to accompany its nomination for election³², on the last day for publication of the notice of the election³³ if on or before that day he is declared by himself or by others to be a candidate at the election³⁴ and, otherwise, on the day on which he is so declared by himself or by others or on which he is nominated as a candidate at the election (whichever is the earlier)³⁵.

Where a person has been declared by others to be a candidate at a parliamentary election or at an election to the National Assembly for Wales without his consent, no liability is imposed on that person³⁶ unless he has afterwards given his assent to the declaration or he has been nominated³⁷. However, a candidate may be guilty of bribery or treating, and election expenses may be incurred on his behalf, even though the bribery or treating takes place, or the expenses are incurred, before he comes within the statutory definition of 'candidate'³⁸.

1 Ibid in the Representation of the People Act 1983 Pt II (ss 67-119) (as amended).

2 Ibid in ibid Pt III (ss 120-186) (as amended) (see PARA 759 et seq post). The saving in s 117(1) (see the text and notes 36-37 infra) applies in relation to Pt III (as amended) as in relation to Pt II (as amended): s 185.

3 Ibid s 118 (definition substituted by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 135(1), (3)); Representation of the People Act 1983 s 118A(1) (s 118A added by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 135(2), (3)); Representation of the People Act 1983 s 185. 'Candidate' bears a limited meaning (eg, for the purposes of sending an election address free of charge where a person is not deemed to be a candidate unless certain conditions are met: see PARA 335 post).

4 Ibid s 118A(2) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to parliamentary elections see PARA 9 et seq ante.

5 Ibid s 118A(2)(a)(i) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the dissolution of Parliament see PARA 196 ante.

6 Ibid s 118A(2)(a)(ii) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to parliamentary by-elections see PARA 198 ante.

7 As to the issue of writs for parliamentary elections see PARA 199 ante.

8 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 118A(2)(a) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the nomination and declaration of candidates see PARA 260 et seq post.

9 Ibid s 118A(2)(b) (as added: see note 3 supra).

10 Ibid s 118A(3) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the meaning of 'local government Act' see PARA 10 note 2 ante; and as to elections under the local government Act see PARA 11 et seq ante. For the purposes of the rules relating to the conduct of local authority mayoral elections where executive arrangements are in place under the Local Government Act 2000 (as to which see PARA 388 post), 'candidate' means a candidate to be the elected mayor: Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(1), Sch 1 para 2(1). As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante.

11 As to publication of the notice for a local government election see PARA 218 ante. Where the day or last day on which anything is required or permitted to be done by or in pursuance of the Representation of the People Act 1983 Pt II (as amended) is a Saturday, Sunday, Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, Good Friday, a bank holiday or a day appointed for public thanksgiving or mourning (s 119(1), (2) (s 119(2) substituted by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 19(4); and amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 ss 20, 74(2), Sch 1 paras 49, 51, Sch 2)): (1) the requirement or permission is deemed to relate to the first day thereafter which is not one of those days (Representation of the People Act 1983 s 119(1)(a)); and (2) in computing any period of not more than seven days for the purposes of Pt II (as amended), any of the days so mentioned must be disregarded (s 119(1)(b)). For these purposes, 'bank holiday', in relation to any election, means a day which is a bank holiday in the part of the United Kingdom in which the constituency or, as the case may be, electoral area is situated: s 119(3) (substituted by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 19(4)). Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 49, 51 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1. Accordingly, until that date, Maundy Thursday appears in the list of days excluded under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 119(2) (as amended). For the meaning of 'constituency' for the purposes of parliamentary elections see PARA 9 ante; for the meaning of 'electoral area' for the purposes of local government elections see PARA 10 ante; and for the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

12 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 118A(3)(a) (as added: see note 3 supra). As to the nomination and declaration of candidates see PARA 260 et seq post.

13 Ibid s 118A(3)(b) (as added: see note 3 supra).

14 Any reference in the Representation of the People Act 1983 to a registered political party submitting a list of candidates to be London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election must be construed in accordance with the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 4(5)(a), (6), Sch 2 Pt II paras 5-8 (see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARAS 90, 98 et seq); and related expressions must be construed accordingly: Representation of the People Act 1983 s 203(1B) (added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 para 39(1), (5)). As to London Assembly ordinary elections see PARA 206 ante; and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 88 et seq. For the meaning of 'London member', in relation to the London Assembly, see PARA 10 note 5 ante.

15 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 118A(3) (as added: see note 3 supra).

16 Ie the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales generally see PARA 12 et seq ante. As to the National Assembly for Wales see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

17 Ie in ibid Pt III (arts 35-84).

18 Ie in ibid Pt IV (arts 85-137) (as amended) (see PARA 762 et seq post). The saving in art 82(1) (see the text and notes 36-37 infra) applies in relation to Pt IV (as amended) as in relation to Pt III: art 136(1).

19 Ibid arts 83, 136(1). For the meaning of 'Assembly election' see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

20 As to the date of the publication of notice of an Assembly election see PARA 223 ante. Where the day or last day on which anything is required or permitted to be done by or in pursuance of Pt III is a Saturday or a Sunday, Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, Maundy Thursday or Good Friday, a day which is a bank holiday in Wales under the Banking and Financial Dealings Act 1971 (see TIME vol 97 (2010) PARA 321), or a day appointed for public thanksgiving or mourning (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 84(1), (2)): (1) the requirement or permission is deemed to relate to the first day thereafter which is not one of those days (art 84(1)(a)); and (2) in computing any period of not more than seven days for these purposes any of the days so mentioned must be disregarded (art 84(1)(b)). For the meaning of 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

22 Ibid art 83(b).

23 For these purposes, 'party list candidate' means a candidate included on a party list; and 'party list' means a list of not more than 12 candidates (but it may be a list of only one candidate) to be Assembly members for an Assembly electoral region which is to be or has been submitted to a regional returning officer by a registered political party: ibid art 2(1). For these purposes, references to a group of party list candidates refer to all the candidates included on such a list, and include a case where there is only one such candidate: art 2(1). 'Individual candidate' means a candidate at an Assembly regional election other than a party list candidate: art 2(1). 'Registered political party' means (subject to art 16(1), Sch 5 para 69 (references in Sch 5 to a registered political party: see PARA 222 note 8 ante)) a party registered under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Pt II (ss 22-40) (as amended) (see PARA 260 post): National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 2(1). For the meanings of 'Assembly electoral region', 'Assembly members' and 'regional election' see PARA 3 note 1 ante. For the meaning of 'regional returning officer' see PARA 18 note 2 ante. As to returning officers for elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 362 et seq post.

30 For these purposes, 'list' means a list of candidates submitted by a registered party to accompany its nomination for election; and 'registered party' means a party registered under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Pt II (as amended) (see PARA 260 post): European Parliamentary Elections

Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 2(1). As to the system of candidature whereby registered parties submit lists of candidates see PARA 345 post.

31 Ibid reg 31(2)(a). Where the day or last day on which anything is required or permitted to be done by or in pursuance of Pt 2 (as amended) is a Saturday, Sunday, Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, Maundy Thursday, Good Friday, a bank holiday or a day appointed for public thanksgiving or mourning (reg 32(1), (2)): (1) the requirement or permission is deemed to relate to the first day thereafter which is not one of those days (reg 32(1)(a)); and (2) in computing any period of not more than seven days for these purposes, any of the days so mentioned must be disregarded (reg 32(1)(b)). In relation to any European parliamentary election in any electoral region other than the combined region, 'bank holiday' means a day which is a bank holiday under the Banking and Financial Dealings Act 1971 (see TIME vol 97 (2010) PARA 321) in the part of the United Kingdom in which the electoral region is situated: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 32(3)(b). As to the establishment of electoral regions for the purpose of elections to the European Parliament, and as to the combined region, see PARA 76 ante. As to bank holidays in Gibraltar defined for the purposes of the combined region see reg 32(3)(a).

32 Ibid reg 31(2)(b). In Pt 2 (as amended), unless the context otherwise requires, a person to whom reg 31(2)(b) applies is known as an 'individual candidate': reg 31(1).

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(i) The Candidate and Election Agent/B. APPOINTMENT AND DUTIES OF ELECTION AGENT/238. Appointment of election agent for parliamentary and local government elections.

B. APPOINTMENT AND DUTIES OF ELECTION AGENT

238. Appointment of election agent for parliamentary and local government elections.

At a parliamentary election¹ or local government election², other than an election of parish or community councillors³, a person must be named by or on behalf of each candidate as the candidate's election agent⁴ and his name and address declared in writing by the candidate or some other person on his behalf to the appropriate officer⁵ not later than the latest time for the delivery of notices of withdrawals⁶ for an election⁷. A candidate may name himself as election agent and he is then subject, so far as circumstances admit, to the provisions of the Representation of the People Act 1983 both as a candidate and as an election agent⁸.

One election agent only must be appointed for each candidate, but, whether the election agent appointed is the candidate himself or not, the appointment may be revoked⁹. If, whether before, during or after the election, the appointment (or deemed appointment) of an election agent is revoked or an election agent dies, another election agent must be appointed forthwith and his name and address declared in writing to the appropriate officer¹⁰. The declaration as a candidate's election agent of a person other than the candidate is of no effect unless it is made and signed by that person or is accompanied by a written declaration of acceptance signed by him¹¹. Upon the name and address of an election agent being declared to the appropriate officer, the appropriate officer must forthwith give public notice of that name and address¹².

1 As to parliamentary elections see PARA 9 et seq ante.

2 For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to elections in the City of London see PARA 30 ante.

3 A candidate at an election of parish councillors in England or of community councillors in Wales, or at an election under the local government Act (as to which see PARA 11 ante) which is not a local government election (see PARA 10 ante), need not have an election agent and accordingly the Representation of the People Act 1983 ss 67-70A (as amended) (see the text and notes 7-12 infra; and PARAS 239-241 post) do not apply to those elections: s 71. Similarly, there is no provision made for election agents to be appointed at a poll consequent on a parish meeting on a question involving appointment to office. For the meanings of 'England' and 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante; and for the meaning of 'candidate' see PARA 237 ante. As to the election of parish and community councillors see PARA 207 et seq ante.

4 A sub-agent may be appointed for a parliamentary election in a county constituency or for an Authority election: see PARA 240 post. An election agent may act gratuitously or for remuneration: see PARA 280 post.

5 In the Representation of the People Act 1983 Pt II (ss 67-119) (as amended), the 'appropriate officer' means: (1) in relation to a parliamentary election, the returning officer (s 67(7)(a)); (2) in relation to an Authority election, the returning officer for that election as determined under s 35(2B) (as added) (returning officer at an election of a constituency member of the London Assembly: see PARA 359 post) or, as the case may be, s 35(2C)(a), (b) (as added) (returning officer at election of the Mayor of London and the London members of the London Assembly: see PARA 359 post) (s 67(7)(aa) (added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 17, Sch 3 paras 1, 12(1), (6)(a))); (3) in relation to any other local government election, the proper officer of the authority for which the election is held (Representation of the People Act 1983 s 67(7)(b) (amended by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 12(1), (6)(b))). For the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante; and for the meaning of the 'proper officer' see PARA 155 note 2 ante. As to returning officers for parliamentary and local elections generally see PARA 355 et seq post.

The Representation of the People Act 1983 s 67 (as amended) is applied with modifications for the purposes of an election for the return of an elected local authority mayor: see the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(2), Sch 2. As to elections for the return of a local authority mayor see PARA 205 ante.

6 As to the latest time for the withdrawal of a notice of election see PARA 269 post.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 67(1). Any person before whom a declaration is authorised to be made under the Representation of the People Act 1983 may take the declaration: s 200(2). Where a registered political party submits a list of candidates to be London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election, the requirements of s 67(1) in relation to those candidates are that not later than the time there mentioned: (1) a person must be named by or on behalf of the party as the election agent of all of those candidates (s 67(1A)(a) (s 67(1A) added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 12(1), (2))); and (2) the declaration required by the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 67(1) must be made by or on behalf of the party (s 67(1A)(b) (as so added)). For these purposes, 'registered political party' means a party registered under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Pt II (ss 22-40) (as amended) (see PARA 260 post); Representation of the People Act 1983 s 202(1) (definition added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 38(1), (3); and amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 158(1), Sch 21 para 6(1), (8)). As to references to a registered political party submitting a list of candidates to be London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election see PARA 237 note 14 ante. As to London Assembly ordinary elections see PARA 206 ante; and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 88 et seq. For the meaning of 'London member', in relation to the London Assembly, see PARA 10 note 5 ante. As to the application of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 67 (as amended) for the purpose of elections for the return of a local authority mayor see note 5 supra.

8 Ibid s 67(2). If the candidate names himself as election agent, references in the Representation of the People Act 1983 to an election agent must, except where the context otherwise requires, be construed to refer to the candidate acting in his capacity as election agent: s 67(2). Where a registered political party submits a list of candidates to be London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election, a candidate included in the list:

- 47 (1) must not under s 67(2) name himself as his own election agent (s 67(2A)(a) (s 67(2A) added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 12(1), (3))); but
- 48 (2) may be named by or on behalf of the party as the election agent of all the candidates included in the list (Representation of the People Act 1983 s 67(2A)(b) (as so added)), and the provisions which have effect by virtue of s 67(2) in relation to a candidate upon his naming himself as election agent also have effect in relation to a candidate upon his being named as election agent by virtue of head (2) supra (s 67(2A) (as so added)). As to the application of s 67 (as amended) for the purpose of elections for the return of a local authority mayor see note 5 supra.

9 Ibid s 67(3). This provision is subject to s 67(3A) (as added): s 67(3) (amended by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 12(1), (4)). Where a registered political party submits a list of candidates to be London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election: (1) the same person must be appointed as election agent for all the candidates included in the list (Representation of the People Act 1983 s 67(3A)(a) (s 67(3A) added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 12(1), (4))); and (2) any such appointment may only be revoked by or on behalf of the party and in respect of all the candidates (Representation of the People Act 1983 s 67(3A)(b) (as so added)). As to the application of s 67 (as amended) for the purpose of elections for the return of a local authority mayor see note 5 supra.

10 Ibid s 67(4) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 24, Sch 4 para 20). As to the application of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 67 (as amended) for the purpose of elections for the return of a local authority mayor see note 5 supra.

11 Ibid s 67(5). Where a registered political party submits a list of candidates to be London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election, s 67(5) applies in relation to the candidates included in that list as if the reference to a person other than the candidate were a reference to a person other than the candidate whose name appears highest on the list: s 67(5A) (added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 12(1), (5)). As to the application of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 67 (as amended) for the purpose of elections for the return of a local authority mayor see note 5 supra.

12 Ibid s 67(6). The public notice must be given by the notice being posted in some conspicuous place or places in the constituency at a parliamentary election or in the local government area at a local government election; and may also be given in such other manner as the returning officer (as the appropriate officer at a parliamentary election) or the proper officer of the authority (as the appropriate officer at a local government election) thinks desirable for publicising it: s 200(1), (1A) (s 200(1) substituted, and s 200(1A) added, by the Representation of the People Act 1985 Sch 4 para 68). For the meaning of 'local government area' see PARA 18 note 2 ante. As to the application of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 67 (as amended) for the purpose of elections for the return of a local authority mayor see note 5 supra.

238 Appointment of election agent for parliamentary and local government elections

NOTE 5--SI 2002/185 reg 3(2), Sch 2 now the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/1024, reg 3(2)-(5), Sch 2.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(i) The Candidate and Election Agent/B. APPOINTMENT AND DUTIES OF ELECTION AGENT/239. Effect of default in appointment of election agent for parliamentary and local government elections.

239. Effect of default in appointment of election agent for parliamentary and local government elections.

If, at the latest time for delivery of notices of withdrawals from a parliamentary or local government election¹, no person's name and address is duly given² as the election agent³ of a candidate⁴ remaining validly nominated⁵, the candidate is deemed at that time to have named himself as election agent and to have revoked any appointment of another person as his election agent⁶. If the person whose name and address have been so given as those of the candidate's election agent (not being the candidate himself) dies⁷ and if a new appointment is not made on the day of the death or on the following day⁸, the candidate is deemed to have appointed himself as from the time of the death⁹. If the appointment of a candidate's election agent is revoked without a new appointment being made, the candidate himself is deemed to have been appointed (or re-appointed) election agent¹⁰. The deemed appointment of a candidate as his own election agent may be revoked as if it were an actual appointment¹¹. Where, by virtue of these provisions, a candidate is to be treated as his own election agent, he is deemed to have his office at his address as given in the statement as to persons nominated¹² or, if that address is outside the permitted area for the office¹³, at the qualifying address of the person (or first person) named in that statement as his proposer¹⁴. On being satisfied that a candidate is by virtue of these provisions to be treated as his own election agent, the appropriate officer¹⁵ must forthwith proceed to publish notice of the name and address of the candidate and of the address of his office in the same manner as if notice of these had been duly given¹⁶.

The above provisions¹⁷ do not apply where a registered political party submits a list of candidates to be London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election¹⁸. Rather, if no person's name and address is given¹⁹ as the election agent of all of the candidates included in the list who remain validly nominated at the latest time for delivery of notices of withdrawals²⁰: (1) the candidate whose name appears highest on the list is deemed at that time to have been named on behalf of the party as election agent for all of the candidates²¹; and (2) any appointment of another person as election agent for those candidates is deemed to have been revoked²². If the person whose name and address have been so given as those of the election agent for the candidates dies²³, and if a new appointment is not made on the day of the death or on the following day²⁴, the candidate whose name appears highest on the list is deemed to have been named on behalf of the party as election agent for all of the candidates as from the time of death²⁵. If the appointment of the election agent for the candidates is revoked without a new appointment being made, the candidate whose name appears highest on the list is deemed to have been appointed (or re-appointed) election agent²⁶. The deemed appointment of a candidate as election agent may be revoked as if it were an actual appointment²⁷. Where a candidate included in the list is²⁸ to be treated as election agent, he is deemed to have his office either at his address as given in the statement as to persons nominated²⁹ or, if that address is outside the permitted area for the office, at the qualifying address of the person (or first person) named in that statement as his proposer³⁰. The appropriate officer, on being satisfied that a candidate is³¹ to be treated as election agent, must forthwith proceed to publish the like notice as if the name and address of the candidate and the address of his office had been duly given to him³².

239 Effect of default in appointment of election agent for parliamentary and local government elections

TEXT AND NOTES 1-16--Representation of the People Act 1983 s 70 amended: Political Parties and Elections Act 2009 Sch 6 para 5.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(i) The Candidate and Election Agent/B. APPOINTMENT AND DUTIES OF ELECTION AGENT/240. Nomination of sub-agent at certain parliamentary and local government elections.

240. Nomination of sub-agent at certain parliamentary and local government elections.

In the case of a parliamentary election for a county constituency¹ or, in relation to London, an Authority election², an election agent³ for a candidate⁴ may appoint one, but not more than one, deputy election agent (called a 'sub-agent') to act in any part of the constituency or electoral area⁵. As regards matters in a part of the constituency or electoral area for which there is a sub-agent, the election agent may act by the sub-agent⁶, and anything done for the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 by or to the sub-agent in his part of the constituency or electoral area is deemed to be done by or to the election agent⁷.

Not later than the second day before the day of the poll⁸, the election agent must declare in writing the name and address of any sub-agent to the returning officer⁹, and the returning officer must forthwith give public notice¹⁰ of the name and address of every sub-agent so declared¹¹.

The appointment of a sub-agent is not vacated by the election agent who appointed him ceasing to be election agent, but may be revoked by the candidate's election agent for the time being¹²; and in the event of the revocation of the appointment or of the death of a sub-agent, another sub-agent may be appointed, and his name and address must be forthwith declared in writing to the returning officer¹³, who must forthwith give public notice of the same¹⁴. The declaration to be made to the returning officer¹⁵ and the public notice given by him must specify the part of the constituency or electoral area within which any sub-agent is appointed to act¹⁶.

As to the distinction between county constituencies and borough constituencies at parliamentary elections see PARA 72 ante. There are no sub-agents in borough constituencies.

2 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 68(1)(b) (added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 13(1), (2)(b)). For the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 68(2)(a) (amended by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 13(1), (3)). Any act or default of a sub-agent which, if he were the election agent, would be an illegal practice or other offence against the Representation of the People Act 1983 is an illegal practice and an offence against the Representation of the People Act 1983 committed by the sub-agent; and the sub-agent is liable to punishment accordingly: s 68(2)(b). The candidate is to suffer the like incapacity as if the act or default in question had been the act or default of the election agent: s 68(2)(c). As to a candidate's liability for the illegal practices of his agents see PARAS 251, 892 post; and as to the punishment of illegal practices see PARA 886 post.

10 As to the manner of giving public notice see PARA 238 note 12 ante.

11 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 68(3) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 24, Sch 4 para 21). This provision re-enacts a requirement originally imposed by the Corrupt and Illegal Practices Prevention Act 1883 s 25(3) (repealed), which used the words 'one clear day' instead of 'not later than the second day'; the effect of a failure to comply with the requirement to notify was considered in Northumberland, Berwick-upon-Tweed Division, Case (1923) 7 O'M & H 1 at 26-27, 38-39 per Sankey J, where it was decided (at 38-39) that the failure to notify the returning officer of the names of the sub-agents did not invalidate the appointment. Importance was attached to the fact that notification was so close to the day of the poll (at 26-27, 38) and the view was expressed (at 38) that 'the object of that sub-section was to place it beyond doubt who were sub-agents in order that a person should have no difficulty in future proceedings against either such sub-agents or the candidate in proving the sub-agency'. It was held that an act lawfully done by the sub-agent could hardly be rendered illegal because the name of the sub-agent was not notified in time: see Northumberland, Berwick-upon-Tweed Division, Case supra at 39.

12 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 68(4). Where a registered political party submits a list of candidates to be London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election, the election agent for those candidates must, if he appoints a sub-agent for any part of the electoral area in the case of any of those candidates, appoint the same person as sub-agent for that part of the electoral area in the case of all of the candidates, and any such appointment may only be revoked in respect of all of the candidates: s 68(4A) (added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Sch 3 paras 1, 13(1), (4)). As to references to a registered political party submitting a list of candidates to be London members of the London Assembly at an ordinary election see PARA 237 note 14 ante. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(i) The Candidate and Election Agent/B. APPOINTMENT AND DUTIES OF ELECTION AGENT/241. Office of agents for parliamentary and local government elections.

241. Office of agents for parliamentary and local government elections.

Every election agent¹ and every sub-agent² appointed for parliamentary and local government elections must have an office to which all claims, notices, legal process and other documents may be sent³, and the address of the office must be declared to the appropriate officer⁴ at the same time as the appointment of the agent⁵ is declared to him⁶, and must be stated in the public notice of the name of the agent⁷. The office of the election agent for a parliamentary election must be within the constituency⁸ or an adjoining constituency or in a Welsh county or county borough⁹, or London borough¹⁰ or district which is partly comprised in or adjoins the constituency¹¹; and the office of a sub-agent must be in the area within which he is appointed to act¹². The office of an election agent for a local government election must be within the local government area¹³ or in the constituency or one of the constituencies in which the area is comprised, or in a Welsh county or county borough, or London borough or district which adjoins it¹⁴; and the office of a sub-agent must be in the area within which he is appointed to act¹⁵.

Any claim, notice, legal process or other document delivered at the office of the election agent or sub-agent and addressed to him is deemed to have been served on him, and every such agent may, in respect of any matter connected with the election in which he is acting, be sued in any court having jurisdiction at the place where his office is situated¹⁶.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(i) The Candidate and Election Agent/B. APPOINTMENT AND DUTIES OF ELECTION AGENT/242. Appointment of election agent for elections to the National Assembly for Wales.

242. Appointment of election agent for elections to the National Assembly for Wales.

At an Assembly election¹ in Wales, a person must be named by or on behalf of each candidate², in the case of a constituency election³, and by or on behalf of each individual candidate⁴, in the case of a regional election⁵, as the candidate's election agent not later than the latest time for delivery of notices of withdrawal of candidature⁶. The name and address of the candidate's election agent must be declared in writing by the candidate, or some other person on his behalf, to the appropriate returning officer⁷ not later than that time⁸. A candidate at a constituency election or an individual candidate at a regional election may name himself as election agent⁹.

At a regional election, not later than the latest time for delivery of notices of withdrawal of candidature, a person must be named by, or on behalf of, each group of party list candidates¹⁰ as those candidates' election agent, and the name and address of the candidates' election agent must be declared in writing by the candidate whose name appears first on the list, or some other person on his behalf (including another candidate on the list), to the regional returning officer not later than that time¹¹. A candidate included on a party list may be named as election agent for the candidates included on the list¹².

One election agent only may be appointed for each candidate at a constituency election¹³, each individual candidate at a regional election¹⁴, and each group of party list candidates at a regional election¹⁵. However, the appointment, whether the election agent appointed is the candidate himself or not, may be revoked¹⁶; and if (whether before, during or after the election) the appointment or deemed appointment of an election agent is revoked or an election agent dies, another election agent must be appointed forthwith and his name and address declared in writing to the appropriate returning officer¹⁷. The declaration as an election agent of a person, other than an individual candidate¹⁸ or a party list candidate whose name appears first on the list¹⁹, is of no effect unless it is made and signed by that person or is accompanied by a written declaration of acceptance signed by him²⁰. Upon the name and address of an election agent being declared to the appropriate returning officer, the appropriate returning officer must forthwith give public notice of that name and address²¹ and, in the case of a regional election, the regional returning officer must forthwith give notice of that name and address to the constituency returning officer for each Assembly constituency in the Assembly electoral region²². Where a candidate has been named or has named himself as an election agent, so far as circumstances permit, he is subject to the statutory provisions regarding elections to the National Assembly for Wales²³ both as a candidate and as an election agent and, except where the context otherwise requires, any reference to an election agent must be construed to refer to the candidate acting in his capacity as election agent²⁴.

Effect of default in appointment of election agent for elections to the National Assembly for Wales.

243. Effect of default in appointment of election agent for elections to the National Assembly for Wales.

If, at the latest time for delivery of notices of withdrawal of candidature for elections to the National Assembly for Wales¹, no person's name and address is given² as the election agent³ of a candidate⁴ or a group of party list candidates⁵ who remain validly nominated⁶: (1) in the case of a candidate at a constituency election⁷ or an individual candidate⁸ at a regional election⁹, the candidate is deemed at that time to have named himself as election agent and to have revoked any appointment of another person as his election agent¹⁰; and (2) in the case of a group of party list candidates at a regional election, the candidate whose name appears first on the list is deemed at that time to have been named as election agent and any appointment of another person as those candidates' election agent is deemed to have been revoked¹¹. If the person whose name and address have been so given as those of an election agent for an individual candidate (not being the candidate himself) or for a group of party list candidates dies¹², and if a new appointment is not made on the day of the death or on the following day¹³ then: (a) in the case of a candidate at a constituency election or an individual candidate at a regional election, he is deemed to have appointed himself as from the time of death¹⁴; and (b) in the case of the death of an election agent for a group of party list candidates at a regional election¹⁵, the candidate whose name appears first on the list is deemed to have been appointed from the time of death¹⁶ or, in the case of the death of such a candidate, the candidate whose name appears next highest on the list is deemed to have been appointed from the time of death¹⁷. If the appointment of an election agent is revoked without a new appointment being made¹⁸, then: (i) in the case of a candidate at a constituency election or an individual candidate at a regional election, the candidate himself is deemed to have been appointed (or re-appointed) election agent¹⁹; and (ii) in the case of a group of party list candidates at a regional election, the candidate whose name appears first on that list is deemed to have been appointed (or re-appointed) election agent²⁰. The deemed appointment of an election agent may be revoked as if it were an actual appointment²¹.

Where a candidate is²² to be treated as an election agent he is deemed to have his office at his address as given in the statement of persons nominated²³. The appropriate returning officer²⁴, on being satisfied that a person is²⁵ to be treated as an election agent, must forthwith proceed to give such like notice as if the name and address of the person and the address of his office had been duly given to him²⁶.

Nomination of sub-agent for elections to the National Assembly for Wales.

244. Nomination of sub-agent for elections to the National Assembly for Wales.

At an Assembly election¹ in Wales, an election agent² may³ appoint one, but not more than one, deputy election agent (referred to as a 'sub-agent') to act in⁴ any part of the Assembly constituency⁵ (in the case of a constituency election⁶) or any part of the Assembly electoral region⁷ (in the case of a regional election)⁸. As regards matters in the part of an Assembly constituency or electoral region for which there is a sub-agent the election agent may act by the sub-agent⁹; and anything done by or to the sub-agent in his part of the Assembly constituency or electoral region for the purposes of the statutory rules which govern elections to the National Assembly for Wales¹⁰ is deemed to be done by or to the election agent¹¹. Not later than the second day before the day of the poll¹², the election agent must declare in writing the name and address of every sub-agent to the appropriate returning officer¹³ and: (1) the returning officer must forthwith give public notice of the name and address of every sub-agent so declared¹⁴; and (2) in the case of a regional election, the regional returning officer¹⁵ must forthwith give notice of that name and address to the constituency returning officer¹⁶ for each Assembly constituency in any part of which the sub-agent is appointed to act¹⁷. The appointment of a sub-agent is not vacated by the election agent who appointed him ceasing to be election agent¹⁸ but may be revoked by whoever is for the time being the election agent¹⁹. In the event of the revocation of the appointment or of the death of a sub-agent another sub-agent may be appointed, and his name and address must be forthwith declared in writing to the appropriate returning officer, who must forthwith give the like notice required by head (1) above and, if applicable, head (2) above²⁰.

Every election agent¹ and every sub-agent² appointed for a Welsh Assembly election³ must have an office to which all claims, notices, legal processes and other documents may be sent⁴. The address of the office must be: (1) declared to the appropriate returning officer⁵ at the same time as the appointment of the agent is declared to him⁶; (2) stated in the public notice⁷; and (3) in the case of a regional election⁸, stated in the notice to the constituency returning officers⁹. The office of an election agent for a constituency election¹⁰ must be¹¹ in the Assembly constituency¹² for which the election is held or an adjoining Assembly constituency¹³, or in a county or county borough¹⁴ which is partly comprised in or adjoins the first mentioned Assembly constituency¹⁵. The office of an election agent for a regional election must be¹⁶ in the Assembly electoral region¹⁷, and the office of a sub-agent must be in the area within which he is appointed to act¹⁸.

Any claim, notice, legal process or other document delivered at the office of the election agent or sub-agent, and addressed to him, is deemed to have been served on him; and every election agent may, in respect of any matter connected with the election in which he is acting, be sued in any court having jurisdiction at the place where his office is situated¹⁹.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(i) The Candidate and Election Agent/B. APPOINTMENT AND DUTIES OF ELECTION AGENT/246. Appointment of election agent for European parliamentary elections.

246. Appointment of election agent for European parliamentary elections.

Where, at a general election of members of the European Parliament ('MEPs')¹, the nominating officer² of a registered party³ nominates (or authorises the nomination of) that party to stand for election in more than one electoral region⁴, the nominating officer must name himself or some other person as the party's national election agent not later than the latest date for the delivery of notices of withdrawal for an election⁵. The name and address of the person so named must be declared in writing by or on behalf of the party's nominating officer to the Secretary of State⁶ not later than that time⁷. One national election agent only may be appointed for each registered party⁸. However, the appointment (whether or not the national election agent appointed is the party's nominating officer) may be revoked⁹; and if (whether before, during or after the general election of MEPs) the appointment or deemed appointment of a national election agent is revoked or a national election agent dies, another national election agent must be appointed forthwith and his name and address declared to the Secretary of State¹⁰. The declaration as a party's national election agent of a person other than the nominating officer of that party is of no effect unless it is made and signed by that person or is accompanied by a written declaration of acceptance signed by him¹¹. Upon the name and address of a national election agent being declared to the Secretary of State, the Secretary of State must forthwith give public notice of that name and address¹².

Where a registered party is nominated for election in one electoral region only¹³, the nominating officer of a registered party¹⁴ must name himself or some other person as the party's election agent not later than the latest date for the delivery of notices of withdrawal for an election¹⁵. The name and address of the person so named must be declared in writing by or on behalf of the party's nominating officer to the appropriate officer¹⁶ not later than that time¹⁷. One election agent only may be appointed for each registered party¹⁸. However, the appointment (whether or not the election agent appointed is the party's nominating officer) may be revoked¹⁹; and if (whether before, during or after the election) the appointment or deemed appointment of an election agent is revoked, or an election agent dies, another election agent must be appointed forthwith and his name and address declared to the appropriate officer²⁰. The declaration as a party's election agent of a person other than the nominating officer of that party is of no effect unless it is made and signed by that person or is accompanied by a written declaration of acceptance signed by him²¹. Upon the name and address of an election agent being declared to the appropriate officer, the appropriate officer must forthwith give public notice of that name and address²².

A person must be named by or on behalf of each individual candidate²³ as the individual candidate's election agent, and the name and address of the individual candidate's election agent must be declared in writing by the individual candidate or some other person on his behalf to the appropriate officer not later than the latest time for the delivery of notices of withdrawals for an election²⁴. An individual candidate may name himself as election agent, and upon doing so is, so far as circumstances admit, subject to the provisions of the European parliamentary elections rules both as an individual candidate and as an election agent, and, except where the context otherwise requires, any reference in those rules to an election agent must be construed to refer to the individual candidate acting in his capacity of election agent²⁵. One election agent only may be appointed for each individual candidate²⁶. However, the appointment, whether the election agent appointed is the individual candidate himself or not,

may be revoked²⁷; and if (whether before, during or after the election) the appointment or deemed appointment of an election agent is revoked, or an election agent dies, another election agent must be appointed forthwith and his name and address declared in writing to the appropriate officer²⁸. The declaration as an individual candidate's election agent of a person other than the individual candidate is of no effect unless it is made and signed by that person or is accompanied by a written declaration of acceptance signed by him²⁹. Upon the name and address of an election agent being declared to the appropriate officer, the appropriate officer must forthwith give public notice of that name and address³⁰.

2 For these purposes, 'nominating officer' means the person registered under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 as the officer with responsibility for the matters referred to in s 24(3) (see PARA 260 post) in respect of a registered party: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 2(1). Where for any reason the nominating officer of a registered party is unable to act, functions conferred on him by reg 33 must be discharged by the person registered as leader of that party under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 (see PARA 260 post) or, where that person is also the nominating officer, the person who holds some other office in the party and is registered in pursuance of it under s 24 (as amended) (see PARA 260 post): European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 33(8). UPDATE

NOTES 2, 5--SI 2004/293 reg 2(1) substituted: SI 2009/186.

NOTE 30--As to the requirements applying to any document which is required or authorised to be given to voters or displayed in any place for the purposes of a European Parliamentary election, see SI 2004/293 reg 122A (added by SI 2009/186).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(i) The Candidate and Election Agent/B. APPOINTMENT AND DUTIES OF ELECTION AGENT/247. Effect of default in appointment of election agent for European parliamentary elections.

247. Effect of default in appointment of election agent for European parliamentary elections.

If, by the latest time for delivery of notices of withdrawals¹, no person's name and address are given as the national election agent² of a registered party³, or as the election agent⁴ of a registered party for an electoral region⁵, the nominating officer is deemed to have named himself as the national election agent or, as the case may be, the election agent and to have revoked any appointment of another person as that agent⁶. If the person whose name and address have been so given as those of the party's national election agent or, as the case may be, election agent (not being the party's nominating officer⁷) dies⁸ and if a new appointment is not made on the day of the death or the following day⁹, the party's nominating officer is deemed to have appointed himself as from the time of the death to the office in question¹⁰. If the appointment of a party's national election agent or, as the case may be, election agent is revoked without a new appointment being made, the party's nominating officer is deemed to have been appointed (or re-appointed) to the office in question¹¹. The deemed appointment of a nominating officer as his party's national election agent or, as the case may be, election agent may be revoked as if it were an actual appointment¹². On being satisfied that a party's nominating officer¹³ is¹⁴ to be treated as the party's national election agent¹⁵ or as the party's election agent¹⁶, the Secretary of State¹⁷ or the appropriate officer¹⁸ (as the case may be) must forthwith proceed to publish the like notice as if that officer's name and address and the address of his office had been duly given to him¹⁹.

If no person's name and address is given²⁰ as the election agent of an individual candidate²¹ who remains validly nominated²² at the latest time for delivery of notices of withdrawals, the individual candidate is deemed at that time to have named himself as election agent and to have revoked any appointment of another person as his election agent²³. If the person whose name and address have been so given as those of the individual candidate's election agent (not being the individual candidate himself) dies²⁴ and if a new appointment is not made on the day of the death or on the following day²⁵, the individual candidate is deemed to have appointed himself as from the time of death²⁶. If the appointment of an individual candidate's election agent is revoked without a new appointment being made, the individual candidate himself is deemed to have been appointed (or re-appointed) election agent²⁷. The deemed appointment of an individual candidate as his own election agent may be revoked as if it were an actual appointment²⁸. Where an individual candidate is²⁹ to be treated as his own election agent, he is deemed to have his office at his address as given in the statement as to persons nominated³⁰. The appropriate officer, on being satisfied that an individual candidate is to be treated as his own election agent, must forthwith proceed to publish the like notice as if the name and address of the individual candidate and the address of his office had been duly given to him³¹.

248. Nomination of sub-agent for European parliamentary elections.

A national election agent¹ or a person authorised by him may appoint one, but not more than one, deputy election agent (referred to as a 'sub-agent') to act in any electoral region² and one, but not more than one, deputy election agent to act in any part of an electoral region³. An election agent of a registered party⁴ may appoint one, but not more than one, deputy election agent (also referred to as a 'sub-agent') to act in any part of the electoral region⁵. As regards matters in the area for which there is a sub-agent, the election agent (including the national election agent), may act by the sub-agent⁶ and anything done for the purposes of the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004⁷ by or to the sub-agent in his area is deemed to be done by or to the election agent (including the national election agent)⁸.

Not later than the fifth day before the day of the poll⁹, the national election agent or a person acting on his behalf or, as the case may be, the election agent must declare in writing to the returning officer¹⁰ the name and address of every sub-agent¹¹ and the area for which he is appointed to act¹². The appointment of a sub-agent is not vacated by the national election agent or, as the case may be, the election agent who appointed him ceasing to be such an agent¹³; but the appointment of a sub-agent may be revoked by whoever is for the time being the national election agent or, as the case may be, election agent¹⁴. Where the appointment of a sub-agent is revoked or the sub-agent dies, another sub-agent may be appointed, and the national election agent or a person acting on his behalf or, as the case may be, the election agent must forthwith declare in writing to the returning officer¹⁵ the name and address of the sub-agent¹⁶ and the area for which he is appointed to act¹⁷. On receipt of such a declaration (either in the normal course of events¹⁸ or upon the revocation of a sub-agent's appointment or where the sub-agent dies¹⁹), the returning officer must forthwith give public notice of the name, address and area so declared²⁰.

An election agent for an individual candidate²¹ may appoint to act in any part of the electoral region one, but not more than one, deputy election agent (referred to as a 'sub-agent')²². As regards matters in a part of the electoral region for which there is a sub-agent, the election agent²³ may act by the sub-agent²⁴ and anything done for the purposes of the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004 by or to the sub-agent in his part of the electoral region is deemed to be done by or to the election agent²⁵.

Not later than the fifth day before the day of the poll, the election agent must declare in writing the name and address of every sub-agent to the appropriate officer²⁶, and the appropriate officer must forthwith give public notice of the name and address of every sub-agent so declared²⁷. The appointment of a sub-agent is not vacated by the election agent who appointed him ceasing to be election agent²⁸, but may be revoked by whoever is for the time being the individual candidate's election agent²⁹. In the event of the revocation of the appointment or of the death of a sub-agent another sub-agent may be appointed, and his name and address must be forthwith declared in writing to the appropriate officer, who must forthwith give public notice of the name and address so declared³⁰.

249. Office of agents for European parliamentary elections.

Every national election agent¹, every election agent² and every sub-agent³ of a registered party⁴ must have an office to which all claims, notices, writs, summonses and documents may be sent⁵. The office of a national election agent must be in the United Kingdom⁶ and must be declared to the Secretary of State⁷ at the same time as the appointment of the agent is declared to him⁸, and stated in the public notice of the name of the agent⁹. The office of the election agent or sub-agent of a registered party must be within the United Kingdom¹⁰ and must be declared to the appropriate officer¹¹ at the same time as the appointment of the agent is declared to him¹² and stated in the public notice of the name of the agent¹³. Any claim, notice, writ, summons or document delivered at the address of the national election agent, election agent or sub-agent and addressed to him, is deemed to have been served on him; and every national election agent, election agent or sub-agent may in respect of any matter connected with the election in which he is acting be sued in any court having jurisdiction at the place where his office is situated¹⁴.

Every election agent and every sub-agent of an individual candidate¹⁵ must have an office to which all claims, notices, writs, summonses and legal process and other documents may be sent¹⁶. The address of the office must be declared to the appropriate officer at the same time as the appointment of the agent is declared to him¹⁷ and stated in the public notice of the name of the agent¹⁸. The office of the election agent or sub-agent must be within the United Kingdom¹⁹. Any claim, notice, writ, summons or legal process or other document delivered at the office of the election agent or sub-agent and addressed to him, is deemed to have been served on him; and every election agent or sub-agent may in respect of any matter connected with the election in which he is acting be sued in any court having jurisdiction at the place where his office is situated²⁰.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(i) The Candidate and Election Agent/B. APPOINTMENT AND DUTIES OF ELECTION AGENT/250. Duties of election agent.

250. Duties of election agent.

The duties of an election agent¹ with respect to the authorising and incurring of election expenses, the payment of all claims, and the return and declarations respecting such expenses, are dealt with elsewhere in this work². All books, accounts and documents should be carefully preserved until after any possible election petition³. The election agent must take all reasonable steps for preventing the commission of corrupt and illegal practices at the election⁴.

The election agent may appoint unpaid polling or counting agents⁵ and may do or assist in doing anything which a polling or counting agent is authorised to do; and anything required or authorised to be done in the presence of the polling or counting agents may be done in the presence of an election agent instead of the polling or counting agents⁶.

1 As to the requirement to appoint election agents see PARA 238 et seq ante.

2 See PARA 274 et seq post.

3 This is prudent practice. For examples of the problems and consequences if documents are destroyed see eg Dorsetshire, Eastern Division, Case (1910) 6 O'M & H 22 at 37 per Lawrence J; Cork, Eastern Division, Case (1911) 6 O'M & H 318 at 343 per Gibson J.

5 See PARA 399 post.

6 See PARA 399 post.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(i) The Candidate and Election Agent/C. ELECTORAL AGENCY/251. Candidate's liability.

C. ELECTORAL AGENCY

251. Candidate's liability.

A candidate's liability to have his election avoided under the doctrines of election agency¹ is distinct from, and wider than, his liability under the criminal² or civil law of agency³. Once the agency is established, a candidate is liable to have his election avoided⁴ for corrupt or illegal practices committed by his agents even though the act was not authorised by the candidate or was expressly forbidden⁵. The reason for this stringent law is that candidates put forward agents to act for them; and if it were permitted that these agents should play foul, and that the candidate should have all the benefit of their foul play without being responsible for it in the way of losing his seat, great mischief would arise⁶. In this respect the relationship between candidate and agent resembles that of employer and employee⁷. Other comparisons of the relationship between candidate and agent that have been made are that between the sheriff and his bailiffs⁸, or that of a yachtsman who is responsible in a yacht race for the conduct of every person who is on board his vessel⁹ or that of the owner of a racehorse and the jockey he employs¹⁰.

An agent may be employed to act generally or in some particular transaction¹¹. Similarly a canvasser may be employed to canvass only particular voters. A candidate's liability for corrupt or illegal practices committed by such an agent is limited to acts within the agent's authority, and thus if a canvasser is employed to canvass particular voters, his illegal acts in respect of other voters will not affect the candidate¹².

An agent may turn an innocent act into a guilty act by the manner of his doing it¹³.

1 The doctrines originated in the principles, practice and rules on which committees of the House of Commons acted in dealing with election petitions and which have to be followed, as far as may be, by election courts: see PARA 769 post. In particular the principles and rules with regard to agency are to be observed, as far as may be, in the case of a petition questioning an election under the Local Government Act 1972 as in the case of a petition questioning a parliamentary election: see PARA 815 post.

2 A candidate's liability to penalties for corrupt practices committed by an agent is, it seems, in general the same as that of a principal under the ordinary criminal law relating to agency (see AGENCY vol 1 (2008) PARA 155; CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE); the candidate is liable only on proof that the agent acted on the candidate's express or implied authority or that the candidate ratified the act after it was done or appointed the agent to do all acts legal or illegal which he might think proper to support the candidate's interest: see Cooper v Slade (1858) 27 LJQB 449 at 464 (a decision under enactments now replaced by the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 113(2) (as amended), cited in PARA 712 post); and see also Norwich Case, Tillett v Stracey (1869) 1 O'M & H 8 at 10. For statutory provisions limiting the candidate's liability for the acts of his agents in particular cases see the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 61(7)(b) (cited in PARA 703 post); s 75(5)(ii) (cited in PARA 710 post); s 86(5) (cited in PARA 691 post); s 106(2) (cited in PARA 683 post); s 189(2) (cited in PARA 703 post); and s 90 (as amended), Sch 4 para 1(2) (cited in PARA 678 post).

252. Evidence of agency.

In order to prove agency it is not necessary to show that the person was actually appointed by the candidate¹ or that he was paid². The crucial test is whether there has been employment or authorisation of the agent by the candidate to do some election work or the adoption of his work when done³. The candidate, however, is liable not only for the acts of the agents whom he has himself appointed or authorised, but also for the acts of agents employed by his election agent or by any other agent having authority to employ others⁴. He may be liable even though his election agent refused to employ the agent⁵.

In the absence of authorisation or ratification the candidate must be proved either by himself or by his acknowledged agents to have employed the agent to act on his behalf, or to have to some extent put himself in the agent's hands, or to have made common measure with him for the purpose of promoting the candidate's election⁶. The candidate must have entrusted the alleged agent with some material part of the business of the election⁷. Mere non-interference on the candidate's part with persons who, feeling interested in the candidate's success, may act in support of his canvass is not sufficient to saddle the candidate with any unlawful acts of theirs of which the candidate and his election agent are ignorant⁸. Employment in the business of the election is a question of degree⁹, but it has never yet been distinctly and precisely defined what degree of evidence is required to establish such a relationship between the candidate and the person guilty of corruption as should constitute agency. No one yet has been able to go further than to say that, as to some cases, enough has been established, but as to others, enough has not been established, to vacate the seat¹⁰. All the circumstances of the case must be taken into consideration, and the evidence may be regarded cumulatively as establishing the agency¹¹. Agency at a previous election is not admissible in itself to prove agency at a subsequent election¹², but where there has been organized bribery by a person as a candidate's agent at a previous election and the person has canvassed for the same candidate at a subsequent election and bribed voters, it is difficult, if not impossible, for the candidate to prove that the person was not his agent at the subsequent election¹³.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(i) The Candidate and Election Agent/C. ELECTORAL AGENCY/253. Agency where only one act of corruption.

253. Agency where only one act of corruption.

It would appear that stricter evidence of agency is required where only one act of corruption has been committed. In strict logic, if a man would be an agent if he was shown to have corrupted one hundred people by paying them £5 each, then, if he corrupts only a single man by giving him a glass of beer, he ought to be regarded as an agent equally¹. Nevertheless it would appear that where there is satisfactory proof that it was intended that an election should be conducted honestly and in accordance with the law, strong evidence of agency is required in order to fix the candidate with the responsibility for a single unlawful act on the agent's part². It would not, however, suffice for the candidate merely to say that he did not contemplate the acts that were done or did not intend that anything illegal should be done³.

The distinction appears to be that a single act of bribery if proved will suffice to avoid an election: see PARA 723 post. An election court, however, will be unwilling to upset an otherwise honest election because of an isolated and insignificant act of bribery. Accordingly the court will require clear evidence both of the act of bribery and of the person bribing acting as an agent of the candidate.

254. Canvassers as agents.

A canvasser is a person who solicits and persuades individual voters, although not necessarily one by one separately, to vote for a candidate¹. General canvassing is strong evidence of agency, and evidence which requires a very strong case to rebut it, if it can be rebutted². On the other hand, a voluntary canvasser who canvasses without authority is not an agent³. A person who, although nominally called a canvasser, is in substance not a man whose influence is relied on, but is a mere messenger sent round for information as to how voters intend to vote rather than with a view to his exercising any influence, either personally or by his powers of persuasion, is not necessarily an agent⁴. Merely introducing voters to the candidate does not constitute agency⁵.

See also the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 100(1) (cited in PARA 750 post), which prevents canvassing by members of the police force who may not 'by word, message, writing or in any other manner, endeavour to persuade any person to give, or dissuade any person from giving, his vote'.

PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(i) The Candidate and Election Agent/C. ELECTORAL AGENCY/255. Member of election committee as agent.

255. Member of election committee as agent.

Being a member of a candidate's election committee is strong evidence of agency¹. Agency cannot be evaded merely by not appointing a committee; persons who do what members of the committee generally do are just as much members of the committee as if they were expressly called so for that reason², but a member of a self-constituted voluntary committee does not become an agent of the candidate³. Evidence of agency may be rebutted⁴.

1 In the Dublin City Case (1869) 1 O'M & H 270 at 272, it was proved that there were district committees in all the wards which were sent instructions by the election agent; it was held that all the members of these committees were agents. In the Southampton Borough Case (1895) 5 O'M & H 17, a person who was a chairman of a ward Conservative association and a member of the candidate's committee was held to be an agent. See also Huddersfield Borough Case (1853) 2 Pow R & D 124 at 128; Liverpool Case (1853) 2 Pow R & D 248; Tynemouth Case (1853) 2 Pow R & D 181; Nottingham Town Case (No 2) (1843) Bar & Arn 136 at 156; Preston Case (1859) Wolf & B 71.

4 In Windsor Case, Herbert v Gardiner (1874) 31 LT 133, 2 O'M & H 88, the only evidence of a person being an agent was that he was a member of a candidate's election committee; it was not proved who put him on the committee, what his duties were or what he did; his own statement was that he understood he was to do his best for the candidate. He was held not to be an agent.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(i) The Candidate and Election Agent/C. ELECTORAL AGENCY/256. Political associations as agents.

256. Political associations as agents.

It has been recognised that there may be a political association existing for the purpose of a political party, advocating the cause of a particular candidate and largely contributing to his success, yet in no privity with the candidate or his agents, and an independent agency and acting on its own behalf¹. It has been said that such an association would not be one for whose acts the candidate would be responsible². There may, on the other hand, be a political association advocating the views of a candidate of which that candidate is not a member, to the funds of which he does not subscribe, and with which he personally is not ostensibly connected, but at the same time in intimate relationship with his agents respecting the canvassing of voters, and the conduct of the election, and largely contributing to the result. Such an association could be held to be one for whose acts the candidate was responsible³.

An association representing one of the political parties may further the general interests of the party it represents, including work in connection with the preparation of the electors' lists, without necessarily becoming an agent of a candidate; but the moment it appears that the candidate or his election agent adopts, either individually or collectively, the work that is done by that association in such a manner as to benefit by its agency regarding the election, the association will become the candidate's agent⁴.

In Rochester Borough Case (1892) 4 O'M & H 156 at 160, Cave J approved the practice of political associations suspending their activities as soon as an election commences. In Northumberland, Berwick-upon-Tweed Division, Case (1923) 7 O'M & H 1, a political association was founded by an agent of the candidate and wholly financed by the candidate, and expenses were incurred by it in paying an organiser on the candidate's behalf and were continued even after it had been nominally dissolved; the court decided that payments made by it from the date when the election was held to have begun ought to have been returned by the candidate. In Westbury Case (1880) 3 O'M & H 78, a political association invited a candidate to become its representative, and he attended some of its meetings to expound his political views, but there was no further substantial connection between them; the court decided that members of the association had not become agents of the candidate. On the other hand, in Bewdley Case, Spencer v Harrison (1880) 3 O'M & H 145, an association had been formed before the election to promote the candidature of a certain candidate and was subsequently in constant communication with his election agent who attended the association's meetings, supplied its minute book at the candidate's expense, from time to time reported progress to the association and used, in common with the association, a marked register of voters, and the leading members of the association were actively engaged in the conduct of the election; the court held that members of the association were agents of the candidate. In Taunton Case, Williams and Mellor v Cox (1869) 1 O'M & H 181, during an election people met at the rooms of a Conservative Association, papers and circulars were sent out by it and members of the association canvassed; the court held that members of the association were agents of the candidate. In St George's Division, Tower Hamlets, Case (1896) 5 O'M & H 89 at 97, it was stated that if the object of a political association was simply to secure the election of a particular individual, it would be difficult, if not impossible, for the candidate to take part in its operations without becoming responsible for its acts during the election; and if its object were to procure the election of some candidate professing the political views of one of the two great parties which were supposed to divide the country, and the candidate attended its meetings and availed himself of its assistance, its officers would probably be held to constitute his agents. See also Westminster Borough Case (1869) 1 O'M & H 89; Gravesend Case (1880) 44 LT 64, 3 O'M & H 81.

257. Other examples of agents.

Priests may become agents of a candidate¹.

An association (other than a political association) which holds meetings to promote its own views does not necessarily become an agent of a candidate, even though it incidentally promotes his interests².

A circular urging all persons to aid in securing a certain candidate's return has been held to make every person the candidate's agent who acted on it and took up his interests³.

The mere fact that the alleged agent is a brother of the candidate⁴ or the business partner⁵ or son⁶ of an authorised agent is not sufficient to establish agency. A confidential employee, even though active in the election, is not necessarily an agent⁷.

The fact that the candidate and a person are closely associated in philanthropic work and that the candidate accepts a testimonial from that person does not necessarily make that person an agent of the candidate⁸. If there are joint candidates, as may happen at local government elections, the agents of the one would thereby become the agents of the other⁹, unless it was made clear that an agent was acting on behalf of one candidate only¹⁰. One candidate does not, however, become liable for the previously committed acts of an agent of the other candidate where he was not aware of those acts¹¹.

However, where a candidate who knew that a procession was being formed on behalf of a licensed victuallers' association for political electioneering purposes got into the vehicle at the head of it on the invitation of the organizer, the candidate was held to have made the organizer his agent: West Bromwich Case (1911) 6 O'M & H 256 at 278.

3 Blackburn Case (1869) 1 O'M & H 198. In a later case, however, it was held by one judge (the other judge dissenting) that a letter addressed to 5,000 persons who had signed a letter requesting the candidate to stand, and which asked the recipients to enter heartily into the contest and secure the votes and interest of others, did not make the persons receiving and acting upon it the candidate's agents: Norwich Case, Birbeck v Bullard (1886) 4 O'M & H 84.

An ordinary agency will be taken to have terminated when the election is over¹ unless the candidate's privity is shown². The agency may also be terminated by the repudiation and withdrawal of the agent's authority³. Statements made by an ordinary agent after the election is over are not admissible as evidence against the candidate⁴. Evidence of acts done after the election may be admitted if the acts are connected with, or throw light on, some transaction which took place during the election⁵.

A person may not be nominated as a candidate¹ at a parliamentary election², a local government election³ (except a parish or community election⁴), an election to the National Assembly for Wales⁵ or an election to the European Parliament⁶ (a 'relevant election') unless⁷ he is a person who stands in the name of a qualifying registered party⁸ or is a person who does not purport to represent any party⁹. Where the election is one for which registered parties may be nominated, the party must be a qualifying registered party¹⁰.

A party may not be registered unless a person has been registered as its leader, as its nominating officer and as its treasurer¹¹. The person registered as a party's nominating officer has responsibility for the arrangements for the submission by representatives of the party of lists of candidates for the purpose of elections¹², the issuing of a certificate giving the party's authorised description¹³ and the approval of descriptions and emblems used on nomination and ballot papers at elections¹⁴. The person registered as a party's treasurer is responsible for the party's compliance with the provisions relating to accounting requirements¹⁵ and the control of donations¹⁶ and, unless a person is registered as the party's campaigns officer¹⁷, with the provisions relating to campaign expenditure¹⁸, third party expenditure¹⁹ and referendums²⁰ as well²¹. The registers of political parties are maintained by the Electoral Commission²².

A broadcaster is prohibited from including in its broadcasting services any party political broadcast made on behalf of a party which is not a registered party under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000²³.

2 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante.

4 I.e. an election of councillors for a parish in England or a community in Wales: see the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 40(1). For the meanings of 'England' and 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante. As to the election of councillors for parish or community councils see PARA 207 et seq ante.

5 As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 12 et seq ante.

6 As to elections to the European Parliament see PARA 13 et seq ante.

7 Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 22(1), (4), (5)(a), (b), (d), (f).

8 Ibid s 22(1)(a). For these purposes, a person stands for election in the name of a registered party if his nomination paper includes a description authorised by a certificate issued by or on behalf of the registered nominating officer of the party: ss 22(6), 160(3). A party (other than a minor party) is a 'qualifying registered party' in relation to a relevant parliamentary, local government or Welsh Assembly election if the constituency, local government area or electoral region in which the election is held is in England or Wales and the party was, on the day (the 'relevant day') which is two days before the last day for the delivery of nomination papers at that election, registered in respect of that part of Great Britain in the Great Britain register maintained by the Electoral Commission under s 23 (new registers of political parties: see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): s 22(2)(a) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 52(4), (5)(a)). For these purposes, any day falling within the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 2(1) (as amended) (see PARA 203 note 1 ante) is disregarded: Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 22(2A) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 52(4), (6)). In relation to a European parliamentary election, a party is a 'qualifying registered party' if the electoral region in which the election is held is in England or Wales, or is the electoral region of Wales, and the party was, on the last day for publication of notice of the election, registered in respect of that part of Great Britain in the Great Britain register maintained by the Commission under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 23 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see s 22(2). For the purposes of Pt II (ss 22-40) (as amended), 'party' includes any organisation or person; and 'registered' (unless the context otherwise requires) means registered under Pt II (as amended): s 40(1). For these purposes, 'minor party' means (in accordance with s 34(1): see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS) a party registered in the Great Britain register in pursuance of a declaration falling within s 28(2)(d) (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS); and the 'Great Britain register' means the register of political parties referred to in s 23(2)(a) (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): s 160(1). As to applications for the registration of political parties for these purposes see ss 28-29, Sch 4 (as amended); and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. The registration of minor parties differs in various respects to that of other parties: see s 34; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. As to the requirement for certain party office holders to be registered see the text and note 11 infra. As to publication of the notice for a local government election see PARA 218 ante; and as to nomination papers related to candidature at elections see PARA 262 et seq post. For the meaning of 'Assembly electoral region' in relation to elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 3 note 1 ante; for the meaning of 'constituency' for the purposes of parliamentary elections see PARA 9 ante; and for the meaning of 'local government area' see PARA 18 note 2 ante. As to the establishment of electoral regions for the purpose of elections to the European Parliament see PARA 76 ante. For the meaning of 'Great Britain' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

9 Ibid s 22(1)(b). For these purposes, a person does not purport to represent any party if either the description of the candidate given in his nomination paper is 'Independent' (or where the candidate is the Speaker of the House of Commons seeking re-election, 'The Speaker seeking re-election') or no description of the candidate is given in his nomination paper: s 22(3). See also the National Assembly for Wales (Elections: Nomination Papers) (Welsh Form) Order 2001, SI 2001/2914, art 2, which prescribes the form of words in Welsh to be used instead of the word 'Independent' specified by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 22(3).

10 Ibid s 22(1)(c).

11 See ibid s 24(1); and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. The person registered as leader may also be registered as nominating officer or treasurer (or both): see s 24(1); and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. As to who may be registered as a party's leader see s 24(2); and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. As to offences created in relation to false statements made in connection with the registration of political parties see s 39; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

12 As to the system of candidature whereby registered parties submit lists of candidates see PARA 345 post.

13 Ie as mentioned in the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 22(6) (see note 8 supra).

14 See ibid s 24(3); and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. A party may request the registration of up to three emblems to be used by it on ballot papers: see s 29; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

15 Ie ibid Pt III (ss 41-49) (as amended) (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS). In the case of a party with accounting units, the person registered as the party's treasurer, in relation to the provisions of Pt III (as amended), is responsible for compliance on the part of the party's central organisation (rather than of the party): see s 24(5); and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. For these purposes, a registered party is a 'party with accounting units' if the party's scheme under s 26 identifies the party as being taken to consist of a central organisation and one or more separate accounting units, that is to say constituent or affiliated organisations each of which is to be responsible for its own financial affairs and transactions for the purposes of Pt III (as amended); 'accounting unit' means such a constituent or affiliated organisation; and, in the case of such a party, the 'central organisation' of the party is the central organisation so referred to: see ss 26(2)(b), (11), 160(1); and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. A party may not be registered unless it has adopted a scheme which sets out the arrangements for regulating the financial affairs of the party and which has been approved by the Electoral Commission: see s 26; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. As to accounting units see further s 27; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

16 Ie ibid Pt IV (ss 50-71) (as amended). As to weekly reporting of donations made to registered parties during election periods see PARA 316 post; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. As to the control of donations to registered political parties generally see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

17 A person may be registered as a party's campaigns officer in accordance with ibid s 25 (parties with campaign officers: see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS).

18 Ie ibid Pt V (ss 72-84) (as amended) (see PARA 304 et seq post).

As to the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante. As to the Commission's further duties with regard to the registration of political parties see ss 35-36; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

23 See ibid s 37 (as amended); para 337 post; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

260-273 Nomination of Candidates

SI 2000/427 replaced: Greater London Authority Rules 2007, SI 2007/3541.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(ii) Nomination of Candidates/261. Selection of candidates by political parties.

261. Selection of candidates by political parties.

Electoral law does not regulate the procedures by which political parties select candidates to stand at an election. However, the effect of the Sex Discrimination Act 1975, in so far as it prohibits discrimination by qualifying bodies¹, is not restricted to discrimination in the employment field and as drafted it applies to the selection of candidates by political parties². The Sex Discrimination (Election Candidates) Act 2002 (which is subject to expiry³) enables a political party, should it wish to do so, to adopt measures which regulate the selection of candidates for relevant elections⁴ in order to reduce inequality in the numbers of men and women elected as candidates of the party⁵. A political party, in conferring an approval on a member seeking selection as a party candidate, is not a 'qualifying body' for the purposes of the Race Relations Act 1976⁶.

It seems that a political party otherwise has discretion to select its own candidates to stand at elections, at least in so far as the rules which govern the party empower an administrative authority of the party to intervene if necessary by the deselection and imposition of candidates⁷.

1 See the Sex Discrimination Act 1975 s 13 (as amended) (discrimination by authority or body which can confer an authorisation or qualification: see DISCRIMINATION vol 13 (2007 Reissue) PARA 368).

2 See Jepson and Dyas-Elliot v Labour Party [1996] IRLR 116, which constrained a political party's ability to take positive action to increase, in that case, the number of women elected to the House of Commons.

3 The Sex Discrimination (Election Candidates) Act 2002 expires at the end of 2015 unless an order is made under s 3: see s 3(1); and DISCRIMINATION 13 (2007 Reissue) PARA 367.

4 For these purposes, the relevant elections are parliamentary elections, elections to the European Parliament, elections to the National Assembly for Wales and local government elections (within the meaning of the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 203 (as amended) excluding any election of the Mayor of London: see PARA 10 ante); see the Sex Discrimination Act 1975 s 42A(3) (added by the Sex Discrimination (Election Candidates) Act 2002 s 1); and DISCRIMINATION vol 13 (2007 Reissue) PARA 367. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante. As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 12 ante; and as to elections to the European Parliament see PARA 13 et seq ante.

5 The Sex Discrimination (Election Candidates) Act 2002 s 1 adds, subject to expiry, the Sex Discrimination Act 1975 s 42A, which provides that the Sex Discrimination Act 1975 Pt II (ss 6-20A) (as amended) (employment field), Pt III (ss 21A-36) (as amended) (discrimination in other fields) and Pt IV (ss 37-42) (as amended) (other unlawful acts) (see DISCRIMINATION) do not apply to arrangements made by a registered political party which regulate the selection of the party's candidates in a relevant election and which are adopted for the purpose of reducing inequality in the numbers of men and women elected, as candidates of the party, to be members of the body concerned: see DISCRIMINATION.

6 See Ali v McDonagh [2002] EWCA Civ 93, [2002] ICR 1026; on appeal [2003] ICR 88, HL (overruling Sawyer v Ahsan [2000] ICR 1, [1999] IRLR 609, EAT). See also Ahsan v Carter [2005] EWCA Civ 990, [2005] ICR 1817. The text refers to a 'qualifying body' for the purposes of the Race Relations Act 1976 s 12 (as amended) (see DISCRIMINATION vol 13 (2007 Reissue) PARA 452).

7 See Choudhry v Triesman [2003] EWHC 1203 (Ch), [2003] 22 LS Gaz R 29, (2003) Times, 2 May (following an investigation conducted by the Labour Party, which concluded that the procedures used to select its candidates in certain wards were 'unsound', some candidates whose selection was impugned applied for injunctive relief to ensure that their names were presented to the returning officer and for declaratory relief to the effect that their selections be allowed to stand; the applications failed). 260-273 Nomination of Candidates

SI 2000/427 replaced: Greater London Authority Rules 2007, SI 2007/3541.

261 Selection of candidates by political parties

NOTE 6--Ahsan, cited, reversed: [2007] UKHL 51, [2008] 1 All ER 869, [2008] 2 WLR 17.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(ii) Nomination of Candidates/262. Form and supply of nomination papers.

262. Form and supply of nomination papers.

Each candidate¹ at a parliamentary election² must be nominated by a separate nomination paper, the form of which is prescribed³. The returning officer⁴ must supply any elector⁵ with a form of nomination paper at the place and during the time for delivery of nomination papers⁶, but it is not necessary for a nomination to be on a form supplied by the returning officer⁷. At any such elector's request, the returning officer must prepare a nomination paper for signature⁸.

Each candidate⁹ at a local government election¹⁰, or at the election for the return of an elected local authority mayor¹¹, must be nominated by a separate nomination paper, the form of which is prescribed¹². The returning officer¹³ must supply any elector¹⁴ with as many forms of nomination papers as may be required¹⁵ at the place and during the time for delivery of nomination papers¹⁶, but it is not necessary for a nomination to be on a form supplied by the returning officer¹⁷. At the request of any such elector, the returning officer must prepare a nomination paper for signature¹⁸. A registered party's¹⁹ list of candidates to be elected as London members of the London Assembly²⁰ must be in the appropriate form²¹ and that party is nominated by the submission of that list to the Greater London returning officer²² by the party's nominating officer²³ or by a person authorised in writing by him²⁴.

Each candidate at a constituency election for the National Assembly for Wales²⁵, and each individual candidate²⁶ at a regional election²⁷, must be nominated by a separate individual nomination paper, the form of which is prescribed²⁸. The constituency returning officer²⁹ or the regional returning officer³⁰ (as the case may be) must supply any person upon request with a form of individual nomination paper at the place, and during the time, for delivery of nomination papers³¹ but it is not necessary for a nomination to be on a form supplied by the relevant returning officer³². Each group of party list candidates³³ at a regional election must be nominated by a separate party nomination paper in the prescribed form³⁴ delivered in the prescribed manner³⁵. The regional returning officer must supply any person on request with a form of party nomination paper at the place, and during the time, for delivery of individual or party nomination papers but it is not necessary for nominations included on a party list to be on a form supplied by the regional returning officer³⁶.

Each individual candidate at a European parliamentary election³⁷ must be nominated by a separate nomination paper³⁸. A registered party³⁹ which is to stand for election in a European parliamentary electoral region⁴⁰ must be nominated by a nomination paper delivered in the prescribed manner⁴¹.

1 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

3 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 r 6(1). As to the prescribed form see Sch 1, Appendix of Forms (Form of nomination paper) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 21(1), (4), (5)); and see PARA 263 post. Any form in the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1, Appendix of Forms may be adapted so far as circumstances require: Sch 1, Appendix of Forms (Note). A Welsh version of the form that may be used at elections in Wales has also been prescribed: see the Parliamentary Elections (Welsh Forms) Order 2005, SI 2005/1105, arts 4-5, Sch 1 (Form 5: form of nomination paper, ffurflen y papur enwebur).

4 As to returning officers for parliamentary elections see PARA 355 et seq post.

5 'Elector' in this context means a person who is registered in the register of parliamentary electors for the constituency on the last day for publication of notice of the election: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 7(6)(a) (Sch 1 r 7(6) substituted by the Representation of the People Act 2000 s 8, Sch 1 paras 1, 23(1), (2)). This includes a person then shown in that register as below voting age if (but only if) it appears from the register that he will be of voting age on the day fixed for the poll: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 7(6)(b) (as so substituted). However, for these purposes, 'elector' does not include a person who has an anonymous entry in the register: Sch 1 r 7(7) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 10(2), Sch 1 paras 2, 14(1), (2)). For the meaning of 'constituency' for the purposes of parliamentary elections see PARA 9 ante; and for the meaning of 'anonymous entry' in relation to a register of electors see PARA 174 ante. As to voting age for parliamentary elections see PARA 110 note 2 ante; as to registration as a parliamentary elector see PARA 128 et seq ante; and as to the registers of electors see PARA 160 et seq ante. As to the date of the poll at a parliamentary general election or by-election see PARA 202 ante; and as to publication of the notice for a parliamentary election see PARA 203 ante.

6 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 7(4)(a). As to the timetable for the delivery of nomination papers see PARA 267 post.

7 Ibid Sch 1 r 7(4).

8 Ibid Sch 1 r 7(4)(b).

9 In each 'individual candidate' in the case of an election of London members of the London Assembly: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(2), Sch 2 r 6(1). In such elections, party lists operate and the term 'individual candidate' is used to indicate a person standing for election who is not included in the list of candidates of a registered party (see notes 19-24 infra). For the meaning of 'London member', in relation to the London Assembly, see PARA 10 note 5 ante. As to elections for the return of the London members of the London Assembly see PARA 206 et seq ante. As to individual candidates to be London members see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 99.

10 For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. There is no provision for the nomination of candidates at a poll consequent on a parish meeting (as to which see PARA 207 et seq ante) because they will already have been nominated at the meeting. As to when no fresh nomination is necessary in the event that a local government election has not been held or has failed or become void see PARA 216 ante.

11 As to elections for the return of elected local authority mayors see PARA 205 et seq ante.

12 Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(1), (3), Sch 1 r 6(1), Sch 2 r 6(1), Sch 3 r 6(1), (2); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(1), Sch 1 r 6(1), (2); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, r 3, Sch 2 r 4(1); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 r 4(1).

As to the form prescribed for principal area elections see the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 Appendix of Forms (Form of nomination paper); and where such elections are taken together with another relevant election or referendum see r 4, Sch 3 Appendix of Forms (Form of nomination paper). As to the form prescribed for parish or community elections see the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 Appendix of Forms (Form of nomination paper); and where such elections are taken together with another relevant election or referendum see r 4, Sch 3 Appendix of Forms (Form of nomination paper). As to the forms prescribed for the election of the Mayor of London and of members of the London Assembly see the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 4, Sch 5 (Form 1: nomination paper (constituency member and London member (individual) candidates); Form 3: candidate to be the Mayor of London); and as to the form prescribed for the return of an elected local authority mayor see the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1, Appendix of Forms (Form 1: nomination paper) (Appendix of Forms substituted by SI 2004/225). Any of these forms may be adapted so far as circumstances require.

As to the Welsh version of the form that may be used at principal area elections in Wales see the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (Welsh Forms) Order 1987, SI 1987/562, art 2, Schedule Pt I (nomination paper, ffurflen papur enwebu); and where such an election is held together with another election or referendum see the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (Welsh Forms) Order 2004, SI 2004/1234, art 3, Schedule Pt I (Form of nomination paper, ffurflen y papur enwebu). As to the Welsh version of the form which is prescribed to be used at community elections in Wales see the Local Elections (Communities) (Welsh Forms) Order 1987, SI 1987/561, art 2, Schedule Pt I (nomination paper, ffurflen papur enwebu); and where such an election is held together with another election or referendum see the Local Elections (Communities) (Welsh Forms) Order 2004, SI 2004/1233, art 3, Schedule Pt I (Form of nomination paper, ffurflen y papur enwebu).

13 As to returning officers for local government elections see PARA 359 et seq post. The Greater London returning officer is specified in relation to any election of the Mayor of London: see the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 3 r 7(4). For the meaning of the 'Greater London returning officer' see PARA 218 note 7 ante.

14 For these purposes, in relation to local government elections (including elections for the return of an elected local authority mayor but excluding London Authority elections), 'elector' means a person who is registered in the register of local government electors for the electoral area in question on the last day for the publication of notice of the election: Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 7(5); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 6(7)(a), Appendix of Forms (Form of nomination paper, note 7(a)); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 6(7)(a), Appendix of Forms (Form of nomination paper, note 6(a)). This includes a person then shown in the register as below voting age if (but only if) it appears from the register that he will be of voting age on the day fixed for the poll: Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 7(5); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 6(7)(b), Appendix of Forms (Form of nomination paper, note 7(b)); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 6(7)(b), Appendix of Forms (Form of nomination paper, note 6(b)). However, in relation to local government elections for principal areas, parishes and communities, 'elector' does not include a person who has an anonymous entry in the register and accordingly such a person may not nominate a candidate for such elections: Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 6(8), Appendix of Forms (Form of nomination paper, note 8); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 6(8), Appendix of Forms (Form of nomination paper, note 7). In relation to any election of the Mayor of London (but not in relation to London Assembly elections), 'elector' means either a person who is registered as a local government elector for any London Assembly constituency in the register to be used at the election or a person who, pending publication of that register, appears from the electors' lists for that register, as corrected by the registration officer, to be entitled to be so registered: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 3 r 7(5). Accordingly, this definition includes a person shown in the register of electors' lists as below voting age if it appears from it that he will be of voting age on the day fixed for the poll, but not otherwise: Sch 3 r 7(5). For the meaning of 'Assembly constituency' in relation to the London Assembly, and for the meaning of 'electoral area' generally, see PARA 10 ante. As to voting age for local government elections see PARA 112 note 14 ante; as to entitlement to vote at local authority mayoral elections see PARA 113 ante; and as to registration as a local government elector see PARA 128 et seq ante. As to the date of the poll at an election for the return of a local authority elected mayor see PARA 205 ante; and as to the date of the poll at local government elections (including elections to fill vacancies) see PARAS 213-216 ante. As to publication of the notice for a local government election (including an election for the return of an elected local authority mayor) see PARA 218 ante.

15 This duty applies equally to the supply of forms of the candidate's consent to nomination: see PARA 265 post.

16 Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 3 r 7(4)(a); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 7(4)(a); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 6(4)(a); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 6(4)(a). Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(ii) Nomination of Candidates/263. Particulars required in nomination papers.

263. Particulars required in nomination papers.

The nomination paper for a parliamentary election¹, or at local government elections for principal areas, parishes and communities², must state the candidate's full names³, home address in full⁴ and, if desired, description⁵. The description, if any, must, except in the case of a parish or community council election⁶, consist of either a description which is properly authorised⁷ or the word 'Independent'⁸. Any such nomination paper may not include a description of a candidate which is likely to lead electors to associate the candidate with a registered political party (or with two or more registered political parties)⁹ unless the party (or each of the parties, as the case may be) is a qualifying party¹⁰ in relation to the constituency or electoral area (as the case may be) and the description is authorised by a certificate¹¹: (1) issued by or on behalf of the registered nominating officer of the party (or of each of the parties, as the case may be)¹²; and (2) received by the returning officer¹³ at some time during the period for delivery of nomination papers¹⁴.

The nomination paper for an Authority election or for an election for the return of an elected local authority mayor¹⁵ must state the candidate's full names¹⁶, home address in full¹⁷ and, if desired, description¹⁸. The description, if any, may not comprise more than six words and must consist of either a description which is properly authorised¹⁹ or the word 'Independent'²⁰. Any such nomination paper may not include a description of a candidate that is likely to lead voters to associate the candidate with a registered political party unless²¹ the party is a qualifying party in relation to the electoral area²² and the description is authorised by a certificate²³: (a) issued by or on behalf of the registered nominating officer of the party²⁴; and (b) received by the returning officer²⁵ before the last time for the delivery of nomination papers²⁶. For the purposes of elections for the return of London members of the London Assembly, each party list²⁷ must set out the full names and home addresses in full of each candidate included in that list²⁸ and must include a statement that it is issued by the nominating officer of the party or by a person authorised in writing by him²⁹. Each party list may be accompanied by a request made by or on behalf of the nominating officer of the party that the ballot paper must contain against the party's name the party's registered emblem³⁰ (or, as the case may be, one of the party's registered emblems)³¹.

The individual nomination paper for each candidate at a constituency election to the National Assembly for Wales³² and for each individual candidate³³ at a regional election to the National Assembly for Wales³⁴ must state the candidate's full names³⁵, home address in full³⁶, and, if desired, description³⁷. The description, if any, must consist of either a description of not more than six words in length³⁸ (which, in the case of a constituency election, is properly authorised³⁹) or the word 'Independent'⁴⁰. At a Welsh Assembly election, an individual nomination paper may not include a description of a candidate which is likely to lead voters to associate the candidate with a registered political party⁴¹, subject to the proviso, in the case of a constituency election, that such an association may be made if the party is a qualifying party in relation to the constituency⁴² and the description is authorised by a certificate in the prescribed form⁴³ which is: (i) issued by the party's registered nominating officer⁴⁴; and (ii) received by the constituency returning officer⁴⁵ at some time during the period for the delivery of nomination papers⁴⁶. In respect of each candidate to be included on a party list⁴⁷ at a Welsh Assembly regional election, the party nomination paper must state the candidate's full names⁴⁸ and home address in full⁴⁹, and must include the name of the party which has been duly registered⁵⁰. The order in which those persons appear on the party nomination paper will be the order in which they are included on the party's list⁵¹. The name of the party required to be contained in a party nomination paper⁵² must be authorised by a certificate in the prescribed form⁵³ issued by the registered nominating officer of the registered political party⁵⁴.

The nomination paper for an individual candidate at a European parliamentary election⁵⁵ must state the candidate's full names⁵⁶, home address in full⁵⁷ and, if desired, description⁵⁸. The description, if any, must consist of either the word 'Independent'⁵⁹ or (in the case of an individual candidate standing on behalf of a registered party⁶⁰ at a by-election⁶¹) a description of not more than six words in length which is properly authorised⁶². A nomination paper may not include a description of an individual candidate which is likely to lead voters to associate the candidate with a registered political party⁶³ unless the individual candidate is standing on behalf of a registered party at a European parliamentary by-election⁶⁴, the party is a qualifying party in relation to the electoral region⁶⁵ and the description in question is authorised by a certificate⁶⁶ which is: (A) issued by the party's registered nominating officer⁶⁷; and (B) received by the returning officer⁶⁸ at some time during the period for the delivery of nomination papers⁶⁹. The nomination paper for a registered party that is to stand for election in a European parliamentary electoral region must state the name, not exceeding six words in length, by which the registered party is to stand⁷⁰. That name need not be the party's registered name but must not be such as would be likely to lead voters to associate that party with another registered party⁷¹. The nomination paper must include a statement that the party is nominated by or on behalf of the nominating officer of the registered party in question and the statement must be signed by the person making it⁷². The nomination paper must be accompanied by a list of candidates⁷³ which sets out the full names and home addresses in full of each candidate⁷⁴. The number of candidates in such a list must not exceed the number of members of the European Parliament ('MEPs') to be elected in the electoral region at the election⁷⁵.

No misnomer⁷⁶ or inaccurate description of any person or place named in any nomination paper affects the full operation of that document with respect to that person or place in any case where the description of the person or place is such as to be commonly understood⁷⁷. Thus it has been held that a mere mis-spelling of a surname, not calculated to mislead electors, does not give good ground for objection⁷⁸; nor does the use in an address of an outdated street name which had been recently changed⁷⁹. It has also been held that the use of a contraction of a Christian name which is well known and in ordinary use as representing that name, such as 'Wm' for 'William', is permissible instead of setting out the forename in full⁸⁰.

1 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante. As to the form and supply of nomination papers see PARA 262 ante.

2 As to the ordinary election of councillors for local government principal areas see PARA 204 et seq ante; and as to ordinary elections of councillors for parishes or communities see PARA 207 et seq ante. As to London Authority elections see the text and notes 15-31 infra. For the meanings of 'Authority election' and 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante.

3 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 r 6(2)(a); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, r 3, Sch 2 r 4(2)(a); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 r 4(2)(a). For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante. There appears to be no case on what is meant by the 'full names' of a person but see the text and notes 76-80 infra.

The surname must be placed first in the list of the candidate's names: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6(2); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 4(2); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 4(2). Where a candidate is commonly known by some title, he may be described by his title as if it were his surname: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1, Appendix of Forms (Form of nomination paper, note 2); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 Appendix of Forms (Form of nomination paper, note 2); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 Appendix of Forms (Form of nomination paper, note 2). If a candidate commonly uses a surname which is different from any other surname he has or a forename which is different from any other forename he has, the nomination paper may state the commonly used surname or forename in addition to the other name: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6(2A) (added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 21(1), (2)); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 4(3); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 4(3). Where a candidate commonly uses a name which is different from any other name he has, and the commonly used name appears on the nomination paper, the commonly used name (instead of any other name) will appear on the ballot paper: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1, Appendix of Forms (Form of nomination paper, note 2A) (Form of nomination paper, notes 2A, 2B added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 21(1), (5)); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 Appendix of Forms (Form of nomination paper, note 3); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 Appendix of Forms (Form of nomination paper, note 3). However, the ballot paper will show the other name if the returning officer thinks either that the use of the commonly used name may be likely to mislead or confuse electors, or that the commonly used name is obscene or offensive: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1, Appendix of Forms (Form of nomination paper, note 2B) (as so added); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 Appendix of Forms (Form of nomination paper, note 4); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 Appendix of Forms (Form of nomination paper, note 4). As to decisions regarding the validity of nomination papers see PARA 271 post. Names likely to mislead or confuse electors may constitute a fraudulent device under applicable electoral law: see PARA 730 post.

Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 21 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

4 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6(2)(b); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 4(2)(b); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 4(2)(b). A person's home address is the place where he lives with his family and sleeps at night and is not his place of business, even if the proprietor is better known by his place of business than by his place of residence: R v Hammond (1852) 17 QB 772, 21 LJQB 153 (election of borough councillors). The object of the statutory provisions is to give one address by which the candidate can be easily identified: Allen v Greensill (1847) 4 CB 100; R v Hammond supra. See also the text and notes 76-80 infra. For a case where a person was twice nominated, once by a correct and once by an incorrect address, see PARA 271 note 5 post.

5 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6(2)(c); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 4(2)(c); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 4(2)(c).

6 In relation to local government elections for parishes and communities, the description, if any, must not exceed six words in length and need not refer to the candidate's rank, profession or calling so long as, with the candidate's other particulars, it is sufficient to identify him: Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 4(4).

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6(3)(a) (Sch 1 r 6(3) substituted by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 38(1), (2); and the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6(3)(a) amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 ss 19(1), (4)(a), (b), 74(2), Sch 2); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 4(4)(a), Appendix of Forms (Form of nomination paper, note 5(a)).

In relation to a parliamentary election, the description must be authorised as mentioned in the text under either the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6A(1) (as added and amended) or Sch 1 r 6(1B) (as added) (see the text and notes 9-14 infra): Sch 1 r 6(3)(a) (as so substituted and amended). In relation to local government elections for principal areas, the description referred to in the text must be authorised as mentioned in either the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 5(1) or r 5(3) (see the text and notes 9-14 infra): see Sch 2 r 4(4)(a).

Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 19 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1. Until that date, the description mentioned in the text must be of not more than six words in length and authorised as mentioned in the text under the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6A(1) (as added and amended): Sch 1 r 6(3)(a) (as so substituted).

8 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6(3)(b) (as substituted: see note 7 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 4(4)(b), Appendix of Forms (Form of nomination paper, note 5(b)). Where the candidate at a parliamentary election is the Speaker of the House of Commons seeking re-election, the words 'The Speaker seeking re-election' may be used as the description instead of the word 'Independent': see the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6(3)(b) (as so substituted).

See also the Elections (Welsh Forms) Order 2001, SI 2001/1204, art 3, which prescribes the form of words in Welsh to be used instead of the word 'Independent' specified by the Local Elections (Principal Areas) Rules 1986, SI 1986/2214, Sch 2 r 4(3)(b) (as substituted).

9 For these purposes, 'registered political party' means a party which was registered under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Pt II (ss 22-40) (as amended) (see PARA 260 ante) on the day (the 'relevant day') which is two days before the last day for the delivery of nomination papers at that election (as to which see PARA 267 post): Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6A(3)(a) (Sch 1 r 6A added by the Registration of Political Parties Act 1998 s 13, Sch 2 para 2; the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6A(3) substituted by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 38(1), (3)(b); and the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6A(3)(a) amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 52(1), (2)(a)); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 5(6)(a); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 5(6)(a). For these purposes, any day is disregarded which falls, in relation to a parliamentary election, within the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 2(1) (as amended) (see PARA 203 note 1 ante) or, in relation to a local government election for principal areas, within the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 2(1) or, in relation to a local government election for parishes and communities, within the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 2(1) (see PARA 218 note 1 ante): Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6A(4) (Sch 1 r 6A as so added; and Sch 1 r 6A(4) added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 52(3)); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 5(7); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 5(7).

10 For these purposes, in relation to a parliamentary election, a registered political party is a qualifying party in relation to a constituency if the constituency is in England or Wales and the party was on the day (the 'relevant day') registered in respect of England or Wales in the Great Britain register maintained under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Pt II (as amended): Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6A(3)(b) (as added and substituted (see note 9 supra); and amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 52(1), (2)(b)). For these purposes, in relation to local government elections for principal areas, parishes and communities, a registered political party is a qualifying party in relation to an electoral area if the electoral area is in England or Wales and the party was on the day (the 'relevant day') registered in respect of England or Wales in the Great Britain register maintained under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Pt II (as amended): Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 5(6)(b); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 5(6)(b). For the meaning of 'constituency' for the purposes of parliamentary elections see PARA 9 ante; for the meaning of 'electoral area' generally see PARA 10 ante; for the meanings of 'England', 'Great Britain' and 'Wales' see PARA 13 note 1 ante; and for the meaning of the 'Great Britain register' see PARA 260 note 8 ante. The requirement for the party to be a qualifying party in relation to the electoral area does not apply to parish and community council elections.

11 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6A(1) (as added (see note 9 supra); and amended by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 38(1), (3)(a); and the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 74(1), Sch 1 paras 104, 129(1), (2)); Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6A(1B) (Sch 1 r 6A as so added; and Sch 1 r 6A(1A)-(1C) added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 49(3)); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 5(1), (3); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 5(1), (3).

For the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6A(1) (as added and amended), the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 5(1) and the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 5(1), an authorised description may be either the name of the party registered under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 28 (as amended) (registration of parties: see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS) or a description of the party registered under s 28A (as added) (descriptions: see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6A(1A) (as so added); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 5(2); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 5(2). For the purposes of the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6A(1B) (as added), the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 5(3) or the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 5(3), a description is a registered description if it is a description registered for use by the parties under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 28B (as added) (joint descriptions: see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6A(1C) (as so added); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 5(4); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 5(4).

Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 49(3) or by Sch 1 paras 104, 129 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

12 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6A(1)(a) (as added: see note 9 supra); Sch 1 r 6A(1B)(a) (as added: see note 11 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 5(1)(a), (3)(a); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 5(1)(a), (3)(a). See note 11 supra. In R (on the application of De Beer) v Balabanoff [2002] EWHC 670 (Admin), (2002) Times, 25 April, a returning officer's decision to reject nomination papers on which the description was not as authorised by a certificate (for the purposes of what is now the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 5(1), (3)) was held to be reasonable and he was not in error in failing to look beyond those papers when exercising his judgment on the matter; Parliament has conferred duties (but not discretions) on returning officers and has made express provisions as to how any decision of a returning officer might be challenged, namely by petition before an election court after the election (as to which see PARA 759 et seq post).

A person is guilty of a corrupt practice if he fraudulently purports to be authorised to issue a certificate under the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6A(1) (as added and amended) or Sch 1 r 6A(1B) (as added) or under the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 5(1), (3) or the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 5(1), (3) on behalf of a registered political party's nominating officer: see the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6A(2) (as added); the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 5(5); the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 5(5); and PARA 709 post. As to the registered nominating officer of a party see PARA 260 ante.

See also note 11 supra. As to the period for delivery of nomination papers see PARA 267 post.

15 As to elections for the return of an elected local authority mayor see PARA 205 et seq ante.

16 Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(1), (3), Sch 1 r 6(2)(a), Sch 2 r 6(2)(a), Sch 3 r 6(3)(a); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(1), Sch 1 r 6(3)(a). The surname must be placed first in the list of the candidate's names: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 6(2), Sch 2 r 6(2), Sch 3 r 6(3); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 6(3). Where a candidate is commonly known by some title, he may be described by his title as if it were his surname: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 4, Sch 5 (Form 3: Candidate to be the Mayor of London, note 2); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1, Appendix of Forms (Form 1: nomination paper, note 2) (Appendix of Forms substituted by SI 2004/225). In the case of an election of London members of the London Assembly, the nomination of an individual candidate is specified: see the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(2), Sch 2 r 6(2). For the meaning of 'London member', in relation to the London Assembly, see PARA 10 note 5 ante. As to elections for the return of the London members of the London Assembly see PARA 206 et seq ante. As to individual candidates to be London members see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 99.

19 Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 6(3)(a) (Sch 1 r 6(3)-(6) substituted by SI 2001/3789); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 6(3)(a) (Sch 2 r 6(3)-(6) substituted by SI 2001/3789); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 3 r 6(4)(a) (Sch 3 r 6(4)-(7) substituted by SI 2001/3789); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 6(4)(a). The description referred to in the text must be authorised under the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 6(4) (as substituted), Sch 2 r 6(4) (as substituted), Sch 3 r 6(5) (as substituted) (see the text and notes 21-26 infra) or under the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 6(5) (see the text and notes 21-26 infra), as the case may be.

20 Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 6(3)(b) (as substituted: see note 19 supra); Sch 2 r 6(3)(b) (as substituted: see note 19 supra); Sch 3 r 6(4)(b) (as substituted: see note 19 supra); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 6(4)(b).

21 Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 6(4) (as substituted: see note 19 supra); Sch 2 r 6(4) (as substituted: see note 19 supra); Sch 3 r 6(5) (as substituted: see note 19 supra); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 6(5). For these purposes, 'registered political party' means a party which was registered under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Pt II (as amended) at the time (the 'relevant time') by which the notice of election is required to be published (as to which see PARA 218 ante): Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 6(6) (as substituted: see note 19 supra); Sch 3 r 6(7) (as substituted: see note 19 supra); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 6(7).

22 Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 6(4)(a) (as substituted: see note 19 supra); Sch 2 r 6(4)(a) (as substituted: see note 19 supra); Sch 3 r 6(5)(a) (as substituted: see note 19 supra); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 6(5) (a). For these purposes, a registered political party is a qualifying party in relation to an electoral area if the electoral area is in England or Wales and the party was at the relevant time registered in respect of England or Wales in the Great Britain register maintained under the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 Pt II (as amended): Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 6(6) (as substituted: see note 19 supra); Sch 2 r 6(6) (as substituted: see note 19 supra); Sch 3 r 6(7) (as substituted: see note 19 supra); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 6(7).

23 Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 6(4)(b) (as substituted: see note 19 supra); Sch 2 r 6(4)(b) (as substituted: see note 19 supra); Sch 3 r 6(5)(b) (as substituted: see note 19 supra); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 6(5) (b).

24 Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 6(4)(b)(i) (as substituted: see note 19 supra); Sch 2 r 6(4)(b)(i) (as substituted: see note 19 supra); Sch 3 r 6(5)(b)(i) (as substituted: see note 19 supra); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 6(5)(b)(i).

A person is guilty of a corrupt practice if he fraudulently purports to be authorised to so issue a certificate on behalf of a registered political party's nominating officer: see the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 6(5), Sch 2 r 6(5), Sch 3 r 6(6) (all as substituted); the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 6(6); and PARA 709 post.

25 As to returning officers for local government elections see PARA 359 et seq post. In the case of elections for the return of constituency members of the London Assembly, the constituency returning officer ('CRO') is specified (see the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 6(4)(b)(ii) (as substituted: see note 19 supra)); and in the case of elections for the return of London members of the London Assembly or for the return of an elected Mayor of London, the Greater London returning officer ('GLRO') is specified (see Sch 2 r 6(4)(b)(ii) (as substituted: see note 19 supra); and the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 3 r 6(5)(b)(ii) (as substituted: see note 19 supra)). For the meaning of 'constituency member', in relation to the London Assembly, see PARA 10 note 6 ante; definition applied by virtue of r 2(2). For the meaning of the 'Greater London returning officer' see PARA 218 note 7 ante; and for the meaning of the 'constituency returning officer' in this context see PARA 218 note 8 ante. As to elections for the return of an elected Mayor of London see PARA 206 et seq ante. As to constituency members of the London Assembly generally see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 92; and as to the London Assembly see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 82.

76 In R v Plenty (1869) LR 4 QB 346, the use of 'W' for 'William' in a voting paper was held to be a misnomer that was cured by the statutory provision on misnomers. It was agreed in Mather v Brown (1876) 1 CPD 596 that the use of an initial instead of setting out the name in full ('Robert V Mather' for 'Robert Vicars Mather') was a misnomer but it was held that the statutory provision about misnomers did not apply to misnomers in nomination papers.

77 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 50; National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 25; European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 18.

In the context of the conduct of elections, it has been held that the addition of 'Junior' is not part of a person's real name: Gledhill v Crowther (1889) 23 QBD 136, DC (nomination paper for the election of a county councillor was valid, being signed with the ordinary signature of the nominator, who was generally known as 'James Sykes, junior', although his father was dead, and although the word 'junior' did not appear against the nominator's name in the register of county electors). In R v Casey [1914] 2 IR 243, a candidate for councillor described himself in nomination papers as Michael B Walsh, the letter 'B' being assumed, his mother's name being Barry, for use in the register of voters and transactions requiring his signature in order to distinguish him from other persons in the neighbourhood also called Michael Walsh. Kenny J stated that 'on the evidence we hold that the relator is known in the district as Michael B Walsh. Even if his full name is Michael Barry Walsh, he is entitled to call himself Michael B Walsh and has done so for many years'. See also R v Fox (1887) 16 Cox CC 166 (man applied to the presiding officer for a ballot paper in a name which appeared on the register of voters, and which was inserted therein by the overseers in the belief that it was the name of the applicant, and for the purpose of putting him on the register; no offence of personation). As to a person's liberty generally to change his name see PERSONAL PROPERTY vol 35 (Reissue) PARA 1272.

Where a nomination paper gives an address which is not the candidate's home address, the nomination is invalid: R v Election Court, ex p Sheppard [1975] 2 All ER 723, [1975] 1 WLR 1319, DC; R v Coward (1851) 16 QB 819 (election of a town councillor whose place of residence had been in a different ward; the inaccurate description of a right place may be cured by the statutory provision but not the accurate description of a wrong place); R v Deighton (1844) 5 QB 896 (inaccurate description of party's place of abode in voting papers commonly understood to be that of the party but vote avoided). See also R v Gregory (1853) 1 E & B 600, 22 LJQB 120 (vote was improperly rejected on the ground of misdescription in circumstances where a corner house had two doors which each opened onto different streets and where a voting ticket was signed with one of the addresses but the burgess roll gave the address in the other street; it was held that the description in the burgess roll and that in the voting paper would both be commonly understood to mean the proper address).

As to the implications of particulars that are deliberately misleading, especially as to whether they may amount to a fraudulent device, see PARA 730 post.

78 Miller v Everton (1895) 64 LJQB 692, DC.

79 Soper v Basingstoke Corpn (1877) 2 CPD 440 (property of seconder of candidate was sufficiently described as no one had been or could be misled by the description).

260-273 Nomination of Candidates

SI 2000/427 replaced: Greater London Authority Rules 2007, SI 2007/3541.

262-274 Form and supply of nomination papers ... Statutory definition of 'election expenses'

SI 2004/293 Sch 1 substituted: SI 2009/186. SI 2004/293 Sch 1 amended: SI 2009/848.

263 Particulars required in nomination papers

TEXT AND NOTES--The nomination paper must be accompanied by a form (the 'home address form') which states the candidate's full names, and home address in full; provision in the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6(1) about delivery of the nomination paper applies also to the home address form: Sch 1 r 6(4) (Sch 1 r 6(4), (5) added by the Political Parties and Elections Act 2009 s 24(1), (2)(b)). The home address form may contain a statement made and signed by the candidate that he requires the home address not to be made public and if it does so, must state the constituency within which that address is situated, or, if that address is outside the United Kingdom, the country within which it is situated: Sch 1 r 6(5).

TEXT AND NOTES 1-8--Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6 amended: Political Parties and Elections Act 2009 Sch 6 para 8.

TEXT AND NOTE 4--Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6(2)(b) repealed: Political Parties and Elections Act 2009 s 24(1), (2)(a).

NOTE 8--SI 2001/1204 replaced: Local Elections (Principal Areas) (Welsh Forms) Order 2007, SI 2007/1015.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(ii) Nomination of Candidates/264. Subscription of nomination paper.

264. Subscription of nomination paper.

The nomination paper¹ for any election (except the election of members of the London Assembly)² must be subscribed. Except in the case of a London mayoral election³, the nomination paper must be subscribed by two electors⁴ as proposer and seconder⁵, and (except for the election of councillors for a parish or community⁶) by a specified number of other electors as assenting to the nomination⁷. The particulars of the candidate should be filled in first; then the paper should be signed by the proposer and seconder; and then it should be signed by the persons assenting (where applicable)⁸. The nomination paper of a candidate⁹ for a London mayoral election must be subscribed by at least 330 persons each of whom is entitled to a mayoral vote¹⁰. In all cases, the nomination paper must give the electoral number¹¹ of each person subscribing it¹². Where a nomination paper bears the signatures of more than the required number of persons as proposing or seconding (or, where applicable, assenting) to the nomination of a candidate, the signature¹³ appearing first on the paper in each category must be taken into account to the exclusion of any others in that category¹⁴. A person must not subscribe more than one nomination paper at the same parliamentary election¹⁵ or subscribe more nomination papers than there are vacancies to be filled in the electoral area at an election of principal area councillors or parish or community councillors¹⁶. If he does, his signature is inoperative on all but the paper¹⁷ first delivered¹⁸. A person is not prevented from subscribing a nomination paper by reason only of his having subscribed that of a candidate who has died or withdrawn before delivery of the first mentioned paper¹⁹. A person must not subscribe more than one nomination paper for the same local authority mayoral election²⁰. Each nomination paper for a candidate at a constituency election and for each individual candidate or party list candidate²¹ at a regional election to the National Assembly for Wales which is duly delivered²² must be subscribed by one person who must also (if he is not the candidate) set out his full name and address²³. Each separate nomination paper for an individual candidate at a European parliamentary election²⁴ must be signed by the individual candidate himself or by a person authorised in writing by him²⁵.

A person whose name is entered in the appropriate register may not subscribe a nomination paper if the entry gives as the date on which he will become of voting age²⁶ a date later than the day fixed for the poll²⁷.

1 As to the form and supply of nomination papers and the particulars required see PARA 262 et seq ante.

2 I.e. at a parliamentary election, a local government election, an election for the return of an elected local authority mayor, a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales or a European parliamentary election. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; for the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante; and for the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to elections for the return of a local authority mayor see PARA 205 ante; as to elections for the return of London Assembly members see PARA 206 ante; as to elections to the National Assembly for Wales generally see PARA 220 et seq ante; and as to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

6 As to the election of parish or community councillors see PARA 207 et seq ante.

7 In the case of a parliamentary election or principal area local government election, eight other electors must assent: see the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 7(1); and the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 6(1). For the return of an elected local authority mayor, 28 other electors must assent: see the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 7(1). No assenters are required at an election of parish or community councillors. As to the election of councillors for local government principal areas see PARA 204 et seq ante.

The nomination paper may bear the ordinary signatures of the proposer, seconder and assenters: Gothard v Clarke (1880) 5 CPD 253 at 262 per Grove J; Re Melton Mowbray (Egerton Ward) UDC Election [1969] 1 QB 192, [1968] 3 All ER 761, DC. The proposer, seconder and assenters need not give their full names: Bowden v Besley (1888) 21 QBD 309, DC. Nor is it necessary that their names should be given in the precise form of the register: Re Melton Mowbray (Egerton Ward) UDC Election supra; Bowden v Besley supra; Gledhill v Crowther (1889) 23 QBD 136, DC; Harding v Cornwell (1889) 60 LT 959, DC. In Moorhouse v Linney (1885) 15 QBD 273, DC, two electors were entered in the register as Joseph Burman and Charles Burman. Charles Burman subscribed a nomination paper as Charles Arthur Burman which was his full name and added his correct number in the register; the court held the nomination paper to be invalid apparently on the ground that the person subscribing the nomination paper must subscribe in the same name as appeared on the register as otherwise voters might be misled into thinking that Charles Burman and Charles Arthur Burman were father and son, that the addition of the number on the register did not assist, and that this was not a misnomer which could be cured by the statutory provision as to misnomers (see PARA 263 ante). It is not easy to reconcile this case with the later cases cited supra.

8 Harmon v Park (1881) 7 QBD 369, DC. However, the order in which the nomination paper was completed or when any alterations were made is unlikely to be known to the returning officer unless, as in Harmon v Park supra, the alteration takes place at his office. The observation in Re Melton Mowbray (Egerton Ward) UDC Election [1969] 1 QB 192 at 198, [1968] 3 All ER 761 at 763 per Paull J that the returning officer has the opportunity to make such enquiries as he may think right was doubted by Wien J in Greenway-Stanley v Paterson [1977] 2 All ER 663 at 671, DC, and he thought that if the returning officer has a right to investigate it must be solely because the nomination paper on its face value puts him on enquiry (see Greenway-Stanley v Paterson supra at 671).

It is not clear to what extent subsequent alterations or the filling in and signing of a nomination paper in any order invalidate the nomination paper: see Harmon v Park supra (where an alteration was made after delivery to the town clerk by substituting another burgess as proposer in the absence of the seconder and assenting burgesses, the nomination paper was held invalid on the ground that the persons assenting should be able to see who were the proposer and seconder); Cox v Davies [1898] 2 QB 202, DC (where only a proposer and seconder were required, a nomination paper in which the name of the candidate was inserted after the proposer and seconder had signed the nomination paper was held valid); Howes v Turner (1876) 1 CPD 670 (where an alteration made after delivery of the nomination paper to the town clerk to correct a supposed mistake was held in itself unobjectionable). As to decisions as to the validity of nomination papers see further PARAS 270-271 post.

9 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante.

10 Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(3), Sch 3 r 7(1). In relation to those subscribers, the election and each London borough and the City of London, at least ten of the subscribers must be electors who are ordinarily resident in the borough or, as the case may be, the City: Sch 3 r 7(1). For the meaning of 'elector' in this context in relation to any election of the Mayor of London see PARA 262 note 14 ante. As to the mayoral vote see PARA 346 post. As to the London boroughs and the City of London generally see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 30 et seq.

11 For the meaning of 'electoral number' generally see PARA 160 ante. For these purposes, in relation to any election of the Mayor of London, 'electoral number' means either a person's number in the register to be used at the election (including the distinctive letter of the parliamentary polling district in which he is registered) except that before publication of the register his number (if any) in the electors' lists for that register must be used instead: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 4, Sch 3 r 7(5)(a), Sch 5 (Form 3: candidate to be the Mayor of London, note 3).

12 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 7(3); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 3 r 7(3); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 7(3); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 6(3); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 6(3).

It has been held that the giving of a wrong electoral number invalidates the nomination paper and the same result would apparently have followed if the electoral number had been omitted: Gothard v Clarke (1880) 5 CPD 253; Baldwin v Ellis [1929] 1 KB 273, DC. In Gothard v Clarke supra, a wrong electoral number was given contrary to the requirement of a note to the prescribed form of nomination paper, at the date of that case there being no express requirement in the relevant rules that the electoral number must be stated, the requirement deriving from the prescribed form of nomination paper. Without expressly deciding the point Grove J thought that the note was mandatory and not directory. Although the use of a form to the like effect was permitted, Grove J and Lopes J decided that the use of a wrong number was not to the like effect as the right number although Grove J thought that a clerical error such as the substitution of '0' for '9' might perhaps be treated differently. They also decided that there was no power to remedy the mistake because the only power to remedy mistakes then in question, which was a provision corresponding to the Representation of the People Act 1983 ss 23(3), 48(1) (see PARA 670 post), did not apply to decisions on nomination papers by the returning officer. In Baldwin v Ellis supra, there was a rule requiring a candidate at an election of rural district councillors to state, in addition to his description, his qualification as a local government elector for a particular parish. A candidate merely stated in his nomination paper that he was a local government elector without stating, as required, for which parish he was qualified. The returning officer held the nomination paper invalid and the court held that this was right on the ground that there had been no compliance with the rule. The court also held that the rule corresponding to the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 50 (see PARA 263 ante), relating to misnomers or inaccurate descriptions, did not apply because the omission of the name of the parish for which the candidate was qualified as a local government elector was neither a misnomer nor an inaccurate description of the candidate but a failure to comply with the rule.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(ii) Nomination of Candidates/265. Consent of candidate to nomination.

265. Consent of candidate to nomination.

A person is not validly nominated¹ for a parliamentary election², a local government election³, or an election for the return of a local authority mayor⁴, unless his consent to nomination is given in writing on or within one month before the day fixed as the last day for the delivery of nomination papers⁵, is attested by one witness⁶ and is delivered at the place and within the time for the delivery of nomination papers⁷. However, if the returning officer for a parliamentary election⁸ is satisfied that, owing to the absence of a person from the United Kingdom⁹, it has not been reasonably practicable for his consent in writing to be so given, a telegram (or any similar means of communication) consenting to his nomination and purporting to have been sent by him is deemed for these purposes to be consent in writing given by him on the day on which it purports to have been sent, and attestation of his consent is not required¹⁰. A candidate's consent at a parliamentary election additionally must state: (1) the day, month and year of his birth¹¹; (2) both that he is aware of the provisions of the House of Commons Disqualification Act 1975¹² and that to the best of his knowledge and belief he is not disqualified for membership of the House of Commons¹³; and (3) that he is not a candidate¹⁴ at an election for any other constituency¹⁵ the poll for which is to be held on the same day as that for the election to which the consent relates¹⁶. The consent to nomination of a candidate for election as a London member of the London Assembly additionally must contain a statement that he has read the provisions setting out who may not be such a candidate¹⁷.

For the purposes of elections for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales¹⁸, a person is not validly nominated either at a constituency election¹⁹ or at a regional election²⁰, unless his consent to nomination is given and dated in writing on, or within one month before, the day fixed as the last day for the delivery of nomination papers²¹, is attested by one witness²², and is delivered at the place, and within the time, for the delivery of nomination papers²³. However, if the appropriate returning officer²⁴ is satisfied that owing to the absence of a person from the United Kingdom it has not been reasonably practicable for his consent in writing to be so given, a facsimile communication (or any similar means of communication) consenting to his nomination and purporting to have been sent by him is deemed for these purposes to be consent in writing by him on the day on which it purports to have been sent, and attestation of his consent is not required²⁵. For the purposes of elections for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales, a candidate's consent additionally must state: (a) the day, month and year of his birth²⁶; and (b) both that he is aware of the provisions relating to disqualification from being an Assembly member²⁷ and that to the best of his knowledge and belief he is not disqualified for membership of the Assembly²⁸. A candidate is required to so give his consent notwithstanding that he has subscribed the nomination paper by virtue of which he is nominated²⁹.

For the purposes of European parliamentary elections³⁰, a person is not validly nominated as either an individual candidate³¹ or a candidate on a registered party's list³² unless his consent to nomination: (i) is given in writing on or within one month before the day fixed as the last day for the delivery of nomination papers³³; (ii) is attested by one witness³⁴; (iii) in the case of a candidate on a registered party's list, identifies the party in question³⁵; and (iv) is delivered at the place and within the time for the delivery of nomination papers³⁶. However, if the returning officer³⁷ is satisfied that owing to the absence of a person from the United Kingdom³⁸ it has not been reasonably practicable for his consent in writing so to be given, a telegram (or any similar means of communication) consenting to his nomination and purporting to have been sent by him is deemed for these purposes to be consent in writing given by him on the day on which it purports to have been sent, and attestation of his consent is not required³⁹. For the purposes of European parliamentary elections, a candidate's consent additionally must state: (A) the day, month and year of his birth⁴⁰; and (B) both that he is aware of the provisions relating to disqualification from being a member of the European Parliament ('MEP')⁴¹ and that to the best of his knowledge and belief he is not disqualified for membership of the office of MEP⁴².

Where a person has been declared by others without his consent to be a candidate at a parliamentary or local government election or at an election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales, nothing in the provisions relating to the election campaign⁴³ is to be construed to impose any liability on that person, unless he has afterwards given his assent to the declaration or has been nominated⁴⁴.

For the purposes of local government elections for a principal area or for a parish or community, the consent as mentioned in the text must be given in the prescribed form, or a form to the like effect, as set out in the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 7(b), Appendix of Forms (Form of candidate's consent to nomination); and the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 7(b), Appendix of Forms (Form of candidate's consent to nomination); and where such elections are taken together with another relevant election or referendum see the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, r 4, Sch 3 Appendix of Forms (Form of candidate's consent to nomination); and the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 4, Sch 3 Appendix of Forms (Form of candidate's consent to nomination) respectively. The returning officer must supply any elector with as many forms of consent to nomination as may be required at the place and during the time for delivery of nomination papers (as to which see PARA 267 post) but it is not necessary for a consent to nomination to be on a form supplied by the returning officer: Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 6(4); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 6(4). For the purposes of elections for the return of an elected Mayor of London or for the return of constituency members or London members of the London Assembly, the consent must be given as mentioned in the text in the prescribed form, or a form to the like effect, as set out in the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 7(a), Sch 2 r 8(a), Sch 3 r 8(a), Sch 5 Form 4 (candidate's consent to nomination); and the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 8(a), Appendix of Forms (Form 2: candidate's consent to nomination). As to the Welsh version of the form that may be used at principal area elections in Wales see the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (Welsh Forms) Order 1987, SI 1987/562, art 2, Schedule Pt I (candidate's consent to nomination, ffurflen caniatad ymgeisydd i gael ei enwebu); and where such an election is held together with another election or referendum see the Local Elections (Principal Areas)

(Welsh Forms) Order 2004, SI 2004/1234, art 3, Schedule Pt I (Form of candidate's consent to nomination, ffurflen cydsyniad ymgeisydd i gael ei enwebu). As to the Welsh version of the form which is prescribed to be used at community elections in Wales see the Local Elections (Communities) (Welsh Forms) Order 1987, SI 1987/561, art 2, Schedule Pt I (candidate's consent to nomination, ffurflen caniatad ymgeisydd i gael ei enwebu); and where such an election is held together with another election or referendum see the Local Elections (Communities) (Welsh Forms) Order 2004, SI 2004/1233, art 3, Schedule Pt I (Form of candidate's consent to nomination, ffurflen cydsyniad ymgeisydd i gael ei enwebu). Amongst other things, the forms for local government principal area and parish or community elections require the candidate to declare that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, he is not disqualified for being elected by reason of any decision made under the Local Government Act 2000 s 79 (as amended) (case tribunal decisions regarding compliance with code of conduct of relevant authority: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 283) or any disqualification set out in ss 80, 81 (as amended) (disqualification for election and holding office as member of local authority: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 119), copies of which provisions are included with the consent to nomination form. The nomination form for a candidate for elected local authority mayor requires a declaration referring to the disqualifications set out in s 80 (as amended) only and the nomination form used for London mayoral and Assembly elections requires a declaration referring to the disqualifications set out in the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 21 (as amended), or specified in an order under s 21(1)(b) which designates certain offices or appointments (disqualification for office of Mayor of London or member of the London Assembly: see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 86) as well as any decision made under the Local Government Act 2000 s 79 (as amended).

266. Requirement for deposit at certain elections.

A person is not validly nominated at a parliamentary election¹ or as a candidate² for the return of an elected local authority mayor³ unless the sum of £500 is deposited by him or on his behalf⁴ with the returning officer at the place and during the time for delivery of nomination papers⁵. The deposit may be made either by the deposit of any legal tender⁶, or by means of a banker's draft⁷, or, with the returning officer's consent, in any other manner⁸. For the purposes of a London Authority election⁹, a person is not validly nominated as a candidate unless the required sum¹⁰ is deposited by him¹¹ or on his behalf¹² with the appropriate returning officer at the place and within the time for delivery of nomination papers¹³. The deposit may be made either by the deposit of any legal tender¹⁴, or by means of a banker's draft¹⁵, or, with the consent of the appropriate returning officer, in any other manner¹⁶.

For the purposes of elections for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales¹⁷, a candidate is not validly nominated at a constituency election¹⁸, nor are candidates validly nominated at a regional election¹⁹, unless the sum of £500 is deposited by him or by them²⁰ (as the case may be) or deposited on his behalf²¹ or on their behalf²² (as the case may be) with the appropriate returning officer at the place and during the time for delivery of nomination papers²³. The deposit may be made either by the deposit of any legal tender²⁴, or by means of a banker's draft²⁵, or, with the consent of the appropriate returning officer, in any other manner²⁶.

For the purposes of European parliamentary elections²⁷, a person is not validly nominated as an individual candidate²⁸ unless the sum of £5,000 is deposited by him or on his behalf²⁹ with the returning officer³⁰ at the place and during the time for delivery of nomination papers³¹. A registered party³² is not validly nominated for these purposes unless the sum of £5,000 is deposited on its behalf³³ with the returning officer at the place and during the time for the delivery of nomination papers³⁴. The deposit may be made either by the deposit of any legal tender³⁵, or by means of a banker's draft³⁶, or, with the returning officer's consent, in any other manner³⁷.

1 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante.

3 As to elections for the return of a local authority mayor see PARA 205 ante.

4 Where the deposit is made on behalf of the candidate, the person making the deposit must, at the time he makes it, give his name and address to the returning officer, unless they have previously been given to him under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 67 (as amended) (appointment of election agent for parliamentary and local government elections: see PARA 238 ante) or (for the purposes of a parliamentary election only) s 23(1), Sch 1 r 6(1) (nomination of candidates: see PARA 262 ante): Sch 1 r 9(3) (added by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 24, Sch 4 para 75); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(1), Sch 1 r 9(3). As to returning officers for parliamentary elections see PARA 355 et seq post; and as to returning officers for local government elections (including elections for the return of an elected mayor) see PARA 359 et seq post. A deposit is not required for nominations at a local government principal area or parish or community election but as to London Authority elections see the text and notes 9-16 infra.

5 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 9(1) (amended by the Representation of the People Act 1985 s 13); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 9(1). As to the delivery of nomination papers see PARA 267 post.

6 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 9(2)(a); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 9(2)(a). As to legal tender see FINANCIAL SERVICES AND INSTITUTIONS vol 49 (2008) PARA 1278 et seq.

7 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 9(2)(b); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 9(2)(b). The returning officer may refuse to accept a deposit sought to be made by means of a banker's draft if he does not know that the drawer carries on business as a banker in the United Kingdom: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 9(2); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 9(2). For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante.

8 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 9(2)(c); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 9(2)(c). In relation to a parliamentary election only, 'any other manner' includes by means of a debit or credit card or the electronic transfer of funds: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 9(2)(c) (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 19(1), (5)). Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 19 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1. Until that date, 'any other manner' is not defined: see the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 9(2)(c).

9 For the meaning of 'Authority election' see PARA 10 ante.

10 For the purposes of an election for the return of constituency members of the London Assembly, the sum required as a deposit is £1,000 (Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(1), Sch 1 r 8(1)); for an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly, the sum required as a deposit is £5,000 (r 3(2), Sch 2 r 9(1), (2)); and for the return of an elected Mayor of London, the sum required as a deposit is £10,000 (r 3(3), Sch 3 r 9(1)). For the meaning of 'London member', in relation to the London Assembly, see PARA 10 note 5 ante; and for the meaning of 'constituency member', in relation to the London Assembly, see PARA 10 note 6 ante (definitions applied by virtue of r 2(2)). As to elections for the return of an elected Mayor of London and for the return of elected members of the London Assembly see PARA 206 et seq ante.

11 At an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly, the requirement for a deposit applies to a person whether as an individual candidate or a list candidate and in the latter case the requirement relates to the party list on which the candidate's name appears: see ibid Sch 2 r 9(1), (2). As to references to nomination papers and to party lists in elections for the return of London members of the London Assembly see PARA 262 note 24 ante. As to individual candidates to be London members see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 99.

12 Where the deposit is made on behalf of the candidate (or an individual candidate, in the case of a constituency election), the person making the deposit must, at the time he makes it, give his name and address to the appropriate returning officer, unless they have previously been given to him under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 67 (as amended) (appointment of election agent for parliamentary and local government elections: see PARA 238 ante); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 8(3), Sch 2 r 9(4), Sch 3 r 9(3). In the case of an election for the return of constituency members of the London Assembly only, the appropriate returning officer is the constituency returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 218 note 8 ante); and in the case of an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly and for the return of an elected Mayor of London, it is the Greater London returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 218 note 7 ante).

13 Ibid Sch 1 r 8(1), Sch 2 r 9(1), (2), Sch 3 r 9(1).

14 Ibid Sch 1 r 8(2)(a), Sch 2 r 9(3)(a), Sch 3 r 9(2)(a).

15 Ibid Sch 1 r 8(2)(b), Sch 2 r 9(3)(b), Sch 3 r 9(2)(b). The appropriate returning officer may refuse to accept a deposit sought to be made by means of a banker's draft if he does not know that the drawer carries on business as a banker in the United Kingdom: Sch 1 r 8(2), Sch 2 r 9(3), Sch 3 r 9(2).

16 Ibid Sch 1 r 8(2)(c), Sch 2 r 9(3)(c), Sch 3 r 9(2)(c).

17 As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales generally see PARA 220 et seq ante. As to the National Assembly for Wales see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

18 For the meaning of 'constituency election' for the purposes of elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

19 For the meaning of 'regional election' in this context see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

20 In the case of a regional election, the requirement for a deposit applies to a person whether as an individual candidate or as a group of party list candidates: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 16(1), Sch 5 para 10(2). For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a Welsh Assembly regional election, and as to references to a group of party list candidates in that context, see PARA 237 note 23 ante.

21 Where the deposit is made on behalf of a candidate at a constituency election or an individual candidate at a regional election, the person making the deposit must at the time he makes it give his name and address to the appropriate returning officer unless that information has previously been given to him under ibid art 35 (appointment of election agent for elections to the National Assembly for Wales: see PARA 242 ante): Sch 5 para 10(4). For these purposes, 'appropriate returning officer' means a constituency returning officer in relation to a constituency election and a regional returning officer in relation to a regional election: see art 2(1); and PARA 242 note 7 ante. For the meanings of 'constituency returning officer' and 'regional returning officer' see PARA 18 note 2 ante.

22 Where the deposit is made on behalf of a group of party list candidates at a regional election the person making the deposit must, at the time he makes it: (1) if he is the registered political party's registered nominating officer, state that fact to the regional returning officer; or (2) if he is not the party's registered nominating officer, give his name and address to the regional returning officer unless that information has previously been given to him under ibid art 35 (see PARA 242 ante): Sch 5 para 10(5). For the meaning of 'registered political party' for these purposes see PARA 222 note 8 ante. As to the registered nominating officer of a party see PARA 260 ante.

23 Ibid Sch 5 para 10(1), (2). In the case of a regional election, the papers referred to in the text may be either individual or party nomination papers and a place (rather than the place) may be specified for their delivery: Sch 5 para 10(2).

24 Ibid Sch 5 para 10(3)(a).

25 Ibid Sch 5 para 10(3)(b). The appropriate returning officer may refuse to accept a deposit sought to be made by means of a banker's draft if he does not know that the drawer carries on business as a banker in the United Kingdom: Sch 5 para 10(3).

26 Ibid Sch 5 para 10(3)(c).

27 As to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

28 For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 32 ante.

29 Where the deposit is made on behalf of an individual candidate, the person making the deposit must at the time he makes it give his name and address to the returning officer, unless they have previously been given to him under the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 38 (appointment of election agent for individual candidate: see PARA 246 ante): reg 9, Sch 1 para 10(4).

30 As to returning officers at European parliamentary elections see PARA 365 et seq post.

31 European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 10(1). As to the time for the delivery of nomination papers at a European parliamentary by-election see PARA 267 post.

32 For the meaning of 'registered party' for these purposes see PARA 237 note 30 ante. As to the system of candidature whereby registered parties submit lists of candidates see PARA 345 post.

33 Where the deposit is made on behalf of the registered party, the person making the deposit must at the time he makes it give his name and address to the returning officer, unless they have previously been given to him under the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293 reg 33 (appointment of national election agent of registered party: see PARA 246 ante) or reg 34 (appointment of election agent by a registered party standing in one electoral region only: see PARA 246 ante): Sch 1 para 10(4).

34 Ibid Sch 1 para 10(2).

35 Ibid Sch 1 para 10(3)(a).

36 Ibid Sch 1 para 10(3)(b). The returning officer may refuse to accept a deposit sought to be made by means of a banker's draft if he does not know that the drawer carries on business as a banker in the United Kingdom: Sch 1 para 10(3).

NOTE 4--Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 para 9(3) amended: Political Parties and Elections Act 2009 Sch 6 para 8.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(ii) Nomination of Candidates/267. Delivery of nomination papers.

267. Delivery of nomination papers.

Nomination papers¹ for a parliamentary general election² must be delivered between the hours of ten in the morning and four in the afternoon on any day after the date of publication of the notice of election³, but not later than the sixth day after the date of the proclamation summoning the new Parliament⁴. For a parliamentary by-election⁵, the timetable is the same as for a parliamentary general election, except that the last day is a day fixed by the returning officer⁶ and this must be not earlier than the third day after the date of publication of the notice of election nor later than the seventh day after that on which the writ is received⁷. In either case, the nomination paper must be delivered, either by the candidate himself⁸ or by his proposer or seconder⁹, to the returning officer at the place fixed for the purpose¹⁰. However, the paper may be so delivered on the candidate's behalf by his election agent¹¹ if the agent's name and address have been previously given to the returning officer as required¹² or are so given at the time the paper is delivered¹³. If the paper is delivered by anybody else, the candidate will not have been validly nominated¹⁴. The returning officer must fix the place at which nomination papers are to be delivered to him¹⁵ and he must attend there during the time for their delivery and for the making of objections to them¹⁶. The returning officer has no power to extend the time for delivery of nomination papers¹⁷.

Nomination papers for a local government election¹⁸ or an election for the return of an elected local authority mayor¹⁹ must be delivered not later than noon on the nineteenth day before the day of election²⁰; and the relevant papers²¹ must be delivered at the place fixed for the purpose by the appropriate returning officer²². For the purpose of elections to the councils of principal areas²³, the place so fixed must be at the offices of the council of the district or London borough²⁴ in which the electoral area²⁵ wholly or mainly lies²⁶. For the purpose of elections for the return of an elected local authority mayor, the place so fixed must be at the offices of the council of the county, county borough, district or London borough in which the electoral area wholly or mainly lies²⁷. The place so fixed for the purpose of elections for the return of constituency members of the London Assembly must be at the offices of a local authority within the constituency²⁸; and the place so fixed for the purpose of elections for the return of London members of the London Assembly²⁹, or for the return of an elected Mayor of London³⁰, must be at the offices of the Greater London Authority³¹.

Nomination papers for elections for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales³² must be delivered between the hours of ten in the morning and four in the afternoon after the date of publication of notice of election³³ but before the nineteenth day before the day of election³⁴ or between the hours of ten in the morning and noon on the nineteenth day before the day of election³⁵. The separate individual nomination paper for each candidate at a constituency election³⁶ must be delivered either by the candidate himself³⁷ or, where a certificate³⁸ authorising the description of a candidate at a constituency election is also delivered, by the registered nominating officer³⁹ of a registered political party⁴⁰ to the constituency returning officer⁴¹ at the place fixed for the purpose⁴². The separate individual nomination paper for each individual candidate⁴³ at a regional election⁴⁴ must be delivered by the candidate himself to the regional returning officer⁴⁵ at the place or a place fixed for the purpose⁴⁶. However, in either case, the paper may be so delivered on the candidate's behalf by his election agent⁴⁷ if the agent's name and address have been previously given to the returning officer as required⁴⁸ or are so given at the time the paper is delivered⁴⁹. Each group of party list candidates⁵⁰ at a regional election must be nominated by a separate party nomination paper in the prescribed form which is delivered by the registered political party's registered nominating officer to the regional returning officer at the place or a place fixed for the purpose⁵¹. In relation to a constituency election, the constituency returning officer must fix the place at which individual nomination papers are to be delivered to him and he must attend there during the time for their delivery and for making of objections to them⁵². The place in relation to a constituency election must be in either the Assembly constituency⁵³ or the registration area⁵⁴ which includes the Assembly constituency⁵⁵. In relation to a regional election, the regional returning officer must fix the place or places⁵⁶ at which individual or party nomination papers are to be delivered to him, and he must attend there during the time for their delivery and for making objections to them⁵⁷.

Nomination papers and lists of candidates of registered parties⁵⁸ for European parliamentary elections⁵⁹ must be delivered between the hours of ten in the morning and four in the afternoon in the United Kingdom⁶⁰ on any day after the date of the publication of the notice of election⁶¹ but not later than the nineteenth day before the date of the poll⁶². Each separate nomination paper for an individual candidate⁶³ must be delivered by the individual candidate himself or by a person authorised in writing by him⁶⁴. A nomination paper for each registered party which is to stand for election in the electoral region⁶⁵ must be delivered to the returning officer⁶⁶ at the place which he has fixed for the purpose, by the party's nominating officer or a person authorised in writing by him⁶⁷. The returning officer must fix the place in the electoral region at which nomination papers are to be delivered to him, and he must attend there during the time for their delivery and for the making of objections to them⁶⁸.

It is the nominee's duty to present valid nomination papers in time and the rules do not raise a legitimate expectation that the returning officer's duty to assess their validity (as to which see PARA 271 post) will identify any errors in them within the time limits: R (on the application of De Beer) v Balabanoff [2002] EWHC 670 (Admin), (2002) Times, 25 April, applied in R (on the application of Begum) v Tower Hamlets London Borough Council [2006] EWCA Civ 733, [2006] All ER (D) 19 (May) (deputy returning officer's filing error was causative of the fact that putative nominees were not able to stand in the election but the invalidity of the papers arose from the nominees' actions whose duty to present valid nomination papers in time had not been transferred to the returning officer). As to the date of the poll at an election for the return of a local authority elected mayor see PARA 205 ante; and as to the date of the poll at local government elections (including elections to fill vacancies) see PARAS 213-216 ante. As to the calculation of time for these purposes see PARA 218 note 1 ante.

21 In the nomination papers for each election, including a party list for the purpose of an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly. In the latter case, a registered party is nominated by the submission of its list of candidates to be London members to the Greater London returning officer in accordance with the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 7(8) (see the text and notes 29, 31 infra): see Sch 2 r 7(1); and PARA 262 ante. Where a nomination paper and list of candidates are delivered in respect of the same registered party after an earlier paper and list have been so delivered, that later paper and list is deemed to supersede the earlier ones: Sch 2 r 7(9). For the meaning of 'London member', in relation to the London Assembly, see PARA 10 note 5 ante; definition applied by virtue of r 2(2). For the meaning of 'registered political party' in this context see PARA 233 note 16 ante. For the meaning of 'Greater London returning officer' see PARA 218 note 7 ante. 22 Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 6(1), Sch 2 r 7(8), Sch 3 r 6(2); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 6(1); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 4(1); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 4(1). The provisions as to the time and place for the delivery of nomination papers are mandatory: R v Soothill, ex p Ashdown (1955) Times, 21 April. However, there is no limitation (as there is in the case of parliamentary or European parliamentary elections or elections to the National Assembly for Wales) on the person delivering the nomination paper nor is it necessary for the nomination paper to be delivered to the returning officer. As to returning officers for local government elections (including elections for the return of an elected mayor) see PARA 359 et seq post. In the case of an election for the return of constituency members of the London Assembly, the constituency returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 218 note 8 ante) is specified as the returning officer; and in the case of an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly and for the return of an elected Mayor of London, it is the Greater London returning officer. For the meaning of 'constituency member', in relation to the London Assembly, see PARA 10 note 6 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 2(2). 268. Nomination proceedings and the inspection of papers.

At a parliamentary election¹, except for the purpose of delivering a nomination paper² or assisting the returning officer³, no person is entitled to attend the proceedings during the time for delivery of nomination papers or for making objections to them⁴ unless he is⁵: (1) a person standing nominated as a candidate⁶; or (2) the election agent⁷, proposer or seconder of such a person⁸; or (3) a representative of the Electoral Commission who is entitled⁹ to attend certain election proceedings and to observe the working practices of certain electoral officials¹⁰. For the persons mentioned above¹¹, the right to attend so conferred includes the right to inspect, and to object to the validity of, any nomination paper¹². One other person chosen by the candidate is entitled to be present at the delivery of the candidate's nomination, and may afterwards, so long as the candidate stands nominated, attend the proceedings during the time for delivery of nomination papers or for making objections to them, but without any right to inspect or to object to the validity of any nomination paper¹³.

For the purposes of a local government election¹⁴, or an election for the return of an elected local authority mayor¹⁵, any person may inspect and take copies of, or extracts from, nomination papers and consents to nomination¹⁶ during ordinary office hours on any day, other than an excepted day¹⁷, after the latest time for delivery of nomination papers and before the date of the poll¹⁸.

For the purposes of a constituency election¹⁹ or a regional election²⁰ for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales²¹, except for the purpose of delivering a nomination paper²² or of assisting the appropriate returning officer²³, no person is entitled to attend the proceedings during the time for delivery of nomination papers²⁴ or for making objections to them unless he is²⁵: (a) a person standing nominated as a candidate²⁶; (b) the election agent of such a person²⁷; or (c) the registered nominating officer of a registered political party²⁸ that has delivered a certificate²⁹ authorising the description of a candidate at a constituency election or that has submitted a party list at a regional election³⁰. The right to attend so conferred includes the right to inspect, and to object to the validity of, any nomination paper³¹. A candidate's spouse or civil partner is entitled to be present at the delivery of the nomination paper by which that candidate is nominated, and may afterwards, so long as the candidate stands nominated, attend the proceedings during the time for delivery of nomination papers or for making objections to them, but without any right to inspect or to object to the validity of any nomination paper³².

For the purposes of a European parliamentary election³³, except for the purpose of delivering a nomination paper or of assisting the returning officer³⁴, no person is entitled to attend the proceedings during the time for delivery of nomination papers or for making objections to them unless he is³⁵: (i) a person standing nominated as an individual candidate³⁶ or included in a list of candidates³⁷; (ii) the election agent either of a registered party which has submitted a nomination or of an individual candidate³⁸; or (iii) a person authorised in writing to deliver a nomination paper³⁹. The right to attend so conferred includes the right to inspect, and to object to the validity of, any nomination paper or list of candidates⁴⁰.

Where the proceedings for or in connection with nomination at a parliamentary election, at an election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales, or at a European parliamentary election, are on any day interrupted or obstructed by riot or open violence, the proceedings must be abandoned for that day⁴¹. If that day is the last day for the delivery of nomination papers⁴², the proceedings must be continued on the next day as if that were the last day for their delivery⁴³; and that day is treated for these purposes as being the last day for such delivery unless there is further interruption or obstruction⁴⁴. Where proceedings are so abandoned, nothing may be done after they are continued if the time for doing it had passed at the time of the abandonment⁴⁵; and nothing done before the abandonment is invalidated by reason of the abandonment⁴⁶.

269. Withdrawal of candidate.

An individual candidate at an election¹ may withdraw his candidature by notice of withdrawal signed by him and attested by one witness² and delivered to the appropriate returning officer³ at the place for delivery of nomination papers⁴. Such notice must be delivered: (1) within the time for the delivery of nomination papers, in the case of a parliamentary or European parliamentary election⁵; (2) not later than noon on the sixteenth day before the day of election, in the case of a local government election or an election for the return of an elected local authority mayor⁶; or (3) not later than noon on the seventeenth day before the day of election, in the case of a Welsh Assembly election⁷. A candidate at a local government principal area council election who is validly nominated for more than one electoral area of the same local government area⁸, or a candidate at a local government parish or community council election who is validly nominated for more than one ward of the same parish or community⁹, must withdraw from his candidature in all those electoral areas or all those wards (as the case may be) except one, and if he does not so withdraw he is deemed to have withdrawn from his candidature in all those electoral areas or all those wards (as the case may be)¹⁰. At a poll consequent on a parish meeting involving an appointment to office¹¹, a candidate may withdraw his candidature by a notice of withdrawal signed by him and attested by one witness and delivered at the office appointed by the returning officer¹² no later than noon on the fourth day after the day on which the poll was demanded¹³.

Where a candidate (except a candidate at a European parliamentary election) is outside the United Kingdom¹⁴, a notice of withdrawal signed: (a) by his proposer¹⁵; or (b) in the case of elections to the Greater London Authority or for the return of an elected local authority mayor, by his election agent¹⁶; or (c) in the case of Welsh Assembly elections, by any person, and accompanied by a written declaration also so signed of the candidate's absence from the United Kingdom, is of the same effect as a notice of withdrawal signed by the candidate¹⁷. In the case of a Welsh Assembly constituency or regional election or any election where the candidate stands nominated by more than one individual nomination paper, the notice of withdrawal must be accompanied, in addition to the declaration, by a written statement signed by the candidate that the person giving the notice is authorised to do so on the candidate's behalf during his absence from the United Kingdom¹⁸. Alternatively, but only in the case of parliamentary elections and local government elections which are not Greater London Authority elections, the notice of withdrawal and the accompanying declaration are also effective if the notice and declaration are signed by all the proposers except any one who is, and is stated in the declaration to be, outside the United Kingdom¹⁹.

At a Welsh Assembly regional election, a registered political party²⁰ may withdraw the candidature of any or all of a group of party list candidates²¹ for the party by notice of withdrawal signed by the party's registered nominating officer²² and delivered to the regional returning officer at the place for the delivery of individual or party nomination papers²³. At a European parliamentary election, the nominating officer of a registered party²⁴ or a person authorised in writing by him may withdraw the nomination of that party by a notice of withdrawal signed by him and delivered to the returning officer at the place for delivery of nomination papers²⁵.

A person who knowingly publishes a false statement of the withdrawal of a candidate for the purposes of promoting the election of another candidate is guilty of an illegal practice²⁶; and a person who corruptly induces the withdrawal of a candidate, and a candidate withdrawing in pursuance of such an inducement, may be guilty of an illegal payment²⁷.

1 le at a parliamentary election, a local government election, an election for the return of an elected local authority mayor, a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales or a European parliamentary election. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; for the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante; and for the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante. For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante; and for the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 32 ante. 270. Validity of nomination.

Where a nomination paper¹ and the candidate's consent to it² are delivered³ (and, where required, a deposit is made⁴ and additional documents delivered⁵) in accordance with the relevant rules, the candidate is deemed to stand nominated unless and until⁶: (1) the appropriate returning officer⁷ decides that the nomination paper is invalid⁸; or (2) proof is given, to the appropriate returning officer's satisfaction, of the candidate's death⁹; or (3) the candidate withdraws¹⁰. Where, for the purposes of an election of London members of the London Assembly, a party list and the consent of each candidate included in such a list are delivered and a deposit is made in accordance with the relevant rules, that party and each candidate on its list are deemed to stand nominated unless and until the Greater London returning officer decides that the list is invalid¹¹. However, where, in respect of a candidate included in such a party list¹²: (a) proof is given, to the satisfaction of the Greater London returning officer, of his death¹³; (b) he withdraws or his candidature is withdrawn¹⁴; (c) his particulars in that list are not as required by law¹⁵; or (d) the consent to nomination of that candidate is not duly delivered¹⁶, the Greater London returning officer must delete the name and address of that candidate from the list¹⁷. A party list candidate at a Welsh Assembly regional election ceases to stand nominated if proof is given, to the regional returning officer's satisfaction, of his death¹⁸ or if he withdraws¹⁹; and the regional returning officer is entitled to hold that the candidate ceases to stand nominated if: (i) the candidate's particulars are not as required by law²⁰; (ii) he is disqualified by the Representation of the People Act 1981²¹; or (iii) he is excluded from the submitted list of candidates under the Government of Wales Act 2006²². Where a party list candidate at a Welsh Assembly regional election ceases to stand nominated in one of these ways, it does not of itself prevent any other candidate included on the party list from continuing to stand nominated²³. In the case of a registered party at a European parliamentary election²⁴, where a nomination paper and list²⁵ are delivered and a deposit is made in accordance with the rules, the party and the candidates on its list are deemed to stand nominated unless and until the returning officer determines that the nomination paper or list is invalid²⁶. However, the returning officer must delete the name and address of any such candidate from the list where²⁷: (A) the particulars of any candidate in the list of candidates accompanying the nomination paper of a political party are not as required by law²⁸; (B) the consent to nomination of any such candidate is not delivered in accordance with the rules²⁹; or (C) any such candidate is a relevant citizen of the Union and a declaration and certificate have not been duly delivered³⁰.

It is submitted that a returning officer could refuse to include in the statement of persons nominated³¹ a candidate who on the foregoing grounds has not been validly nominated³²; but it is doubtful that a returning officer is able to declare a candidate not validly nominated on other grounds³³. A returning officer at a parliamentary election or at a local government election for a principal area, parish or community council may, if he thinks fit, correct minor errors in a nomination paper³⁴, at any time before the publication of the statement of persons nominated³⁵. Anything so done by a returning officer must not be questioned in any proceedings other than proceedings on an election petition³⁶.

1 As to the form and supply of nomination papers and the particulars required see PARA 262 et seq ante. At an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly, or for the return of constituency members of the National Assembly for Wales, or at a European parliamentary election, the nomination paper referred to in the text is that of an individual candidate ('an individual nomination paper'). At a Welsh Assembly regional election, the nomination paper may be either an individual nomination paper or a party nomination paper relating to a party list candidate. For the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election', in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, see PARA 3 note 1 ante; and for the meanings of 'individual candidate', 'party list' and 'party list candidate' at a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante. For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 32 ante. As to references to nomination papers and to party lists in elections for the return of London members of the London Assembly see PARA 262 note 24 ante.

2 As to the consent to nomination required of a candidate see PARA 265 ante.

3 As to the delivery of nomination papers see PARA 267 ante.

4 As to the requirement for a deposit to be made by candidates at a parliamentary election, at an election of constituency members or London members of the London Assembly, at an election for the return of a local authority mayor, at an election for the return of constituency or regional members of the National Assembly for Wales, and at a European parliamentary election see PARA 266 ante; and see Boyce v White (1905) 92 LT 240, DC; Brown v Benn (1889) 53 JP 167, DC. A deposit is also required at an election for the return of a Mayor of London but the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(3), Sch 3 r 10(1) does not make the deposit a condition for a candidate being deemed to stand nominated, although Sch 3 r 9(1) does state that a person is not validly nominated as a candidate unless the deposit specified therein is made: see PARA 266 ante.

5 The additional documents mentioned in the text are the declaration and certificate required under the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 9, Sch 1 para 9(2), (3) where the candidate at a European parliamentary election is a relevant citizen of the Union (see PARA 236 ante). For the meaning of 'relevant citizen of the Union' for these purposes see PARA 159 note 6 ante.

In the case of an election for the return of constituency members of the London Assembly only, the appropriate returning officer is the constituency returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 218 note 8 ante); and in the case of an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly and for the return of an elected Mayor of London, it is the Greater London returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 218 note 7 ante). For the purposes of elections for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales, 'appropriate returning officer' means, in relation to a constituency election, a constituency returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 18 note 2 ante) and, in relation to a regional election, a regional returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 18 note 2 ante): see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 2(1); and PARA 242 note 7 ante.

32 Monks v Jackson (1876) 1 CPD 683; Cutting v Windsor (1924) 40 TLR 395; and see R v Soothill, ex p Ashdown (1955) Times, 21 April. In Howes v Turner (1876) 1 CPD 670 (a decision under the Municipal Elections Act 1875 s 1 (repealed)), where the notice of the last day for delivery of nomination papers was erroneous, it was argued that the mayor had no power to deal with objections based on the ground that nomination papers were delivered too late; although the headnote to the case states that the mayor had no power to deal with such objections, this appears to go beyond the actual decision of the court which was that the statutory provision in question, namely, that the decision of the mayor disallowing an objection to a nomination paper should be final (cf para 271 post), was limited to objections to the form of a nomination paper (cf para 271 post) and that his decision on other matters, eg the time of delivery, was open to review on an election petition; in this case the court held the election void by reason of the erroneous notice. Monks v Jackson supra is express authority for the view that a mayor should not declare to be duly nominated candidates who have failed to comply with the statutory provisions relating to nomination. In Cutting v Windsor supra, the mayor decided that he had no jurisdiction to entertain an objection based on the ground that a nomination paper was delivered too late; while the court did not express an opinion on this point, Avory J stated that the town clerk had no discretion to receive the nomination paper.

It would appear that the returning officer's decision on these questions to include or to refuse to include a candidate's name on the ground of the alleged validity or invalidity of his nomination is not final and may be questioned on an election petition: see PARA 271 post. See also Brown v Benn (1889) 53 JP 167, DC; Boyce v White (1905) 92 LT 240, DC. Where there is only one opponent and that opponent is not validly nominated, a candidate might apply to the High Court for judicial review to order the returning officer to declare that candidate elected: R v Soothill, ex p Ashdown supra. However, a court will hesitate to intervene in a contested election which is ongoing, except on limited grounds, preferring to leave the candidates to the remedies available once polling has finished: see eg para 730 post.

33 Eg if the candidate's nomination paper did not conform to the prescribed form, as this is not a ground on which the returning officer can declare a nomination paper invalid: see PARA 271 post. In Marton v Gorill (1889) 23 QBD 139, DC, the name of the electoral division had been omitted from a nomination paper at a county council election. The returning officer held the nomination paper invalid, but the High Court held that the defect was cured by a statutory provision that an election should not be invalidated by a mistake in the use of a form. This provision does not now apply to elections. The omission of the name of the constituency or electoral area would not be a misnomer or inaccurate description which could be cured by the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 50 (see PARA 263 ante; and see Baldwin v Ellis [1929] 1 KB 273, DC); nor would the Representation of the People Act 1983 ss 23(3), 48(1) (see PARA 670 post) apply to nominations (Gothard v Clarke (1880) 5 CPD 253; Baldwin v Ellis supra).

34 For these purposes, errors which may be corrected include errors as to a person's electoral number and obvious errors of spelling in relation to the details of a candidate: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 14A(2) (Sch 1 r 14A added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 19(1), (8)); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 10(2); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 10(2). For the meaning of 'electoral number' see PARA 160 ante.

Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 19 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

35 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 14A(1) (as added: see note 34 supra); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 10(1); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 10(1). A returning officer must have regard to any guidance issued by the Electoral Commission for these purposes: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 14A(4) (as so added); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 10(4); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 10(4). See note 34 supra. As to the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

271. Decisions as to validity of nomination papers.

The returning officer at a parliamentary election¹, at a local government election² or at an election for the return of an elected local authority mayor³ is entitled to hold a nomination paper for an individual candidate⁴ invalid only on one of the following grounds⁵: (1) that the particulars of the candidate⁶ or of the persons subscribing (or witnessing) the paper⁷ are not as required by law⁸; (2) that the paper is not subscribed (or witnessed) as so required⁹; and (3) in the case of a parliamentary election, that the candidate is disqualified by the Representation of the People Act 1981¹⁰. At an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly, the Greater London returning officer is entitled to hold a party list¹¹ invalid only on one of the following grounds¹²: (a) that the number of candidates on the list is greater than 25¹³; (b) that the list does not contain the statement¹⁴ that it is issued by the nominating officer of the party or by a person authorised in writing by him¹⁵. At a local government election or at an election for the return of an elected local authority mayor, the returning officer is obliged to examine each nomination paper as soon as practicable after it has been delivered and then decide whether the candidate has been validly nominated¹⁶.

The returning officer at a parliamentary election must give his decision on any objection to a nomination paper as soon as practicable after delivery of the nomination paper and, in any event, before the end of the period of 24 hours starting with the close of the period for delivery of nomination papers¹⁷.

At a constituency election¹⁸ or a regional election¹⁹ for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales²⁰, the appropriate returning officer²¹ is entitled to hold an individual nomination paper²² invalid only on one of the following grounds²³: (i) that the particulars of the candidate are not as required by law²⁴; (ii) that the paper is not subscribed as so required²⁵; (iii) that the candidate is disqualified by the Representation of the People Act 1981²⁶; and (iv) in the case of an individual candidate at a regional election, that he is excluded from being such a candidate by the Government of Wales Act 2006²⁷. At a regional election, the regional returning officer is entitled to hold a party nomination paper invalid only on one of the following grounds²⁸: (A) that it does not include the registered name of the party²⁹; (B) that the name so required is not duly authorised³⁰ or that the certificate authorising the name has not been combined with the delivered paper³¹; (C) that it is not subscribed as so required³²; (D) that the party list includes more than 12 persons³³; or (E) that each candidate included on the party list has ceased to stand nominated³⁴. The appropriate returning officer must give his decision on any objection to an individual nomination paper, a party nomination paper or to a party list candidate (as the case may be) as soon as practicable after it is made³⁵.

The returning officer at a European parliamentary election³⁶ is entitled to hold a nomination paper of an individual candidate³⁷ invalid only on the ground that the particulars of the candidate are not as required by law³⁸ or on the ground that the candidate is disqualified by the Representation of the People Act 1981³⁹. The returning officer is entitled to hold a nomination paper of a registered party⁴⁰, together with the list of candidates⁴¹ accompanying it, invalid only on the ground that the contents of the nomination paper are not as required by law⁴² or on the ground that the number of candidates in the list exceeds the number of members of the European Parliament ('MEPs') to be elected in the electoral region at the election⁴³. The returning officer must give his decision on any objection to a nomination paper (or accompanying list) as soon as practicable after it is made⁴⁴.

The returning officer's duties with regard to the validity of nomination papers do not go beyond seeing that each form is correct on its face⁴⁵; if the papers comply with the forms, it is no part of the returning officer's function to consider whether there are grounds for disqualifying the candidate (other than where the rules so provide)⁴⁶. The appropriate returning officer's decision on the validity of a nomination paper (or, as the case may be, party list or party list candidature⁴⁷) is final and must not be questioned in any proceeding whatsoever⁴⁸, except that nothing prevents the validity of a nomination being questioned on an election petition⁴⁹. Where the appropriate returning officer decides that a nomination paper (or, as the case may be, party list or party list candidature⁵⁰) is invalid, he must endorse and sign on the paper (or, as the case may be, the list) that fact and the reasons for his decision⁵¹. The returning officer at a local government election or at an election for the return of an elected local authority mayor also must send notice of his decision regarding the validity or invalidity of a nomination paper (or, as the case may be, party list or party list candidature) to each candidate at his home address as given in his nomination paper⁵².

1 For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante. As to the returning officer for parliamentary elections and the performance of his duties see PARA 355 et seq post.

2 For the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante. As to returning officers for local government elections see PARA 359 et seq post. In the case of an election for the return of constituency members of the London Assembly only, the appropriate returning officer is the constituency returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 218 note 8 ante); and in the case of an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly and for the return of an elected Mayor of London, it is the Greater London returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 218 note 7 ante).

3 As to elections for the return of a local authority mayor see PARA 205 ante; and as to returning officers for such elections see PARA 359 et seq post.

4 As to the nomination of candidates at an election see PARA 260 et seq ante. At an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly, the nomination paper referred to in the text is that of an individual candidate ('an individual nomination paper'). As to references to nomination papers in elections for the return of London members of the London Assembly see PARA 262 note 24 ante.

5 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 r 12(2); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(1)-(3), Sch 1 r 9(2), Sch 2 r 10(2), Sch 3 r 10(2); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(1), Sch 1 r 10(2); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, r 3, Sch 2 r 8(2); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, r 3, Sch 2 r 8(2). Where a person is twice nominated, once by a nomination paper with correct and once by a nomination paper with incorrect particulars, the incorrect nomination does not avoid the correct nomination: Northcote v Pulsford (1875) 1 LR 10 CP 476; and see PARA 272 post.

6 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante. As to the particulars required in nomination papers see PARA 263 ante.

7 As to the subscription of nomination papers see PARA 264 ante. An individual candidate's nomination paper at an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly is witnessed rather than subscribed: see the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 10(2)(a).

8 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 12(2)(a); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 9(2)(a), Sch 2 r 10(2)(a), Sch 3 r 10(2)(a); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 10(2)(a); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 8(2)(a); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 8(2)(a). When considering whether to hold a nomination paper invalid on this ground, the returning officer's duty includes, if he so wishes, a check to see whether the electoral numbers of those who propose, second and assent to the nomination as given on the nomination paper are the same as those numbers as given in the register of electors: see Greenway-Stanley v Paterson [1977] 2 All ER 663 at 670, DC, per O'Connor J. However, the returning officer is not entitled to investigate the facts underlying a name given in the particulars which, on their face, are unobjectionable (Greenway-Stanley v Paterson supra at 670 per O'Connor J) or an address which is given (R v Election Court, ex p Sheppard [1975] 2 All ER 723, [1975] 1 WLR 1319, DC). A possible exception might arise where the nomination on its face puts the returning officer on enquiry: Greenway-Stanley v Paterson supra at 671 per Wien J, who nevertheless expressly disapproved the view of Paull J in Re Melton Mowbray (Egerton Ward) UDC Election [1969] 1 QB 192 at 198, [1968] 3 All ER 761 at 763 that the returning officer has the opportunity to make such enquiries as he may think right. A returning officer at a parliamentary election may correct obvious spelling mistakes in the candidate's details or minor errors as to a person's electoral number: see the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 14A (as added); and PARA 270 ante.

The phrase 'as required by law' may be assumed to refer to the law relating to nomination at elections, although in Sanders v Chichester [1995] 03 LS Gaz R 37, (1994) Times, 2 December, a case considering a potentially misleading party description used at a European parliamentary election before such matters were regulated (see PARA 260 ante), the phrase was given a wider meaning to embrace descriptions that might contravene the general law or involve the returning officer in a breach of the law (where, for instance, the particulars given were obscene, racist or an incitement to crime). The scope for particulars of the candidate or of persons subscribing the paper to be 'not as required by law' in this wider sense seems limited, although false, deliberately misleading or mischievously-chosen particulars may constitute a fraudulent device or contrivance under the Representation of the People Act 1983 s 115(2)(b) (as amended) (see PARA 726 post).

9 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 12(2)(b); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 9(2)(b), Sch 2 r 10(2)(b), Sch 3 r 10(2)(b); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 10(2)(b); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 8(2)(b); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 8(2)(b). In the case of an individual candidate's nomination paper at an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly, the reference is to the paper being not witnessed as so required: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 10(2)(b); and see note 8 supra.

10 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 12(2)(c). Under the Representation of the People Act 1981, a person found guilty of one or more offences, whether before or after 2 July 1981 (ie the date on which the Act was passed) and whether in the United Kingdom or elsewhere, and sentenced or ordered to be imprisoned or detained indefinitely, or for more than one year, is disqualified for membership of the House of Commons while detained anywhere in the British Islands or the Republic of Ireland in pursuance of the sentence or order or while unlawfully at large at a time when he would otherwise be so detained: s 1. If such a person is nominated for election as a member of that House, his nomination is void: s 2(1). 'British Islands' means the United Kingdom, the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man: Interpretation Act 1978 s 5, Sch 1. There is no statutory definition of the 'Channel Islands'. For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 13 note 1 ante. As to the effect of disqualification under the Representation of the People Act 1981 see PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 902.

In relation to a parliamentary election, if it appears to the returning officer that any of the persons nominated might be disqualified by the Representation of the People Act 1981, he must, as soon as practicable after the expiry of the time allowed for the delivery of nomination papers, prepare and publish a draft of the statement required under the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 14 (see PARA 272 post): Sch 1 r 15(1). The draft must be headed 'Draft statement of persons nominated' and it must omit the names of the persons subscribing the papers but must contain a notice stating that any person who wishes to object to the nomination of any candidate on the ground that he is disqualified for nomination under the Representation of the People Act 1981 may do so between the hours of ten in the morning and four in the afternoon on the day and at the place specified in the notice: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 15(2). The day so specified is to be the day next after the last day for the delivery of nomination papers: Sch 1 para 15(2).

11 As to references to party lists in elections for the return of London members of the London Assembly see PARA 262 note 24 ante.

12 As well as the grounds stated in heads (a) and (b) in the text, the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 10(4)(a) provides the ground that the name stated under Sch 2 r 7(2) breaches that rule. However, Sch 2 r 7(2), which provided that each party list must include the name by which the party wishes to be known for the purposes of the election and that name must not be such as would be likely to lead voters to associate that party with another registered party, has been revoked: see the Greater London Authority Elections (Amendment) Rules 2001, SI 2001/3789, r 3(c), Schedule Pt II para 4.

13 Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 10(4)(b).

14 Ie under ibid Sch 2 r 7(5) (see PARA 263 ante).

15 Ibid Sch 2 r 10(4)(c). As to the registered nominating officer of a party see PARA 260 ante.

16 Ibid Sch 1 r 9(3), Sch 2 r 10(6), Sch 3 r 10(3); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 10(3); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 8(3); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 8(3). In the case of an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly, the candidate mentioned in the text may be an individual candidate or, as the case may be, each candidate included in a party's list: see the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 10(6).

The examination of nomination papers at a local government election (except for a Greater London Authority election) is subject to the proviso that if, in the returning officer's opinion, a paper breaks the rule, in relation to local government elections for principal area councils, in the Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 5(1) or Sch 2 r 5(3) or, in relation to local government elections for parishes and communities, in the Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 5(1) or Sch 2 r 5(3) (candidate unduly associated with a registered political party: see PARA 263 ante), as the case may be, he must give a decision to that effect as soon as practicable after the delivery of the nomination paper and, in any event, before the end of the period of 24 hours starting with the close of the period for delivery of nomination papers (as to which see PARA 267 ante): Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 8(4); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 8(4).

The examination of nomination papers at a local authority mayoral election is subject to the proviso that if, in the returning officer's opinion, a paper breaks the rule in the Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 6(5) (candidate unduly associated with a registered political party: see PARA 263 ante), as the case may be, he must give a decision to that effect as soon as practicable after the last time for the delivery of nomination papers (as to which see PARA 267 ante): Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 10(4).

17 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 12(3) (amended by the Registration of Political Parties Act 1998 s 13, Sch 2 para 3(2); and the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 19(1), (6)). As to the period for delivery of nomination papers see PARA 267 ante. The Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 12(3) (as amended) is subject to the proviso that if, in the returning officer's opinion, a nomination paper breaks the rule in Sch 1 r 6A(1) (as added and amended) or Sch 1 r 6A(1B) (as added) (candidate associated with a registered political party: see PARA 263 ante), he must give a decision to that effect as soon as practicable after delivery of the nomination paper and, in any event, before the end of the period of 24 hours starting with the close of the period for delivery of nomination papers set out in Sch 1 r 1 (as to which see PARA 267 ante): Sch 1 r 12(3A) (added by the Registration of Political Parties Act 1998 s 13, Sch 2 para 3(3); and amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 ss 19(1), (7), 74(1), Sch 1 paras 104, 130). Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 19 or by Sch 1 paras 104, 130 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1. Until that date, the returning officer at a parliamentary election must give his decision under the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 12(3) (as amended) or under Sch 1 r 12(3A) (as added) on any objection to a nomination paper only as soon as practicable after delivery of the nomination paper; and the reference in Sch 1 r 12(3A) (as added) to a nomination paper breaking Sch 1 r 6A(1B) (as added) is omitted.

For the purposes of a parliamentary general election or by-election, objections to nomination papers must be made during the hours allowed for delivery of nomination papers on the last day for their delivery and the hour following: Sch 1 r 1. However, no objection may be made in the afternoon of that last day except to a nomination paper delivered within 24 hours of the last time for its delivery and, in the case of a nomination paper so delivered, no objection may be so made to the sufficiency or nature of the particulars of a candidate unless made at or immediately after the time of the delivery of the nomination paper: Sch 1 r 1(a). The timetable set out in Sch 1 r 1 does not apply to objections made in pursuance of Sch 1 r 15(2), for which separate provision is made (see note 10 supra): Sch 1 r 1(b).

The extent of the returning officer's jurisdiction in relation to objections to a nomination paper which have not been specifically raised by persons attending the nomination is not clear. In R v Taylor (1895) 59 JP 393 (a municipal election case), Lord Russell CJ said that it was not the duty of the returning officer to look for objections and still less to point out possible objections to rival candidates for that would shake the confidence which the electors ought to have in his impartiality. At local government elections, there is no provision for candidates to attend the nomination and to object, and the obligation on the returning officer to examine the nomination papers and to satisfy himself that they are valid is more explicitly stated: see the text and note 17 infra.

18 For the meaning of 'constituency election' for the purposes of elections to the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

19 For the meaning of 'regional election' in this context see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

20 As to elections to the National Assembly for Wales generally see PARA 220 et seq ante. As to the National Assembly for Wales see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

21 For these purposes, 'appropriate returning officer' means a constituency returning officer in relation to a constituency election and a regional returning officer in relation to a regional election: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 2(1); and PARA 242 note 7 ante. For the meanings of 'constituency returning officer' and 'regional returning officer' see PARA 18 note 2 ante.

22 The paper referred to in the text ('an individual nomination paper') is the nomination paper of an individual candidate. For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante.

23 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 16(1), Sch 5 para 13(2).

24 Ibid Sch 5 para 13(2)(a). Head (i) in the text includes the ground, at a constituency election, that an individual nomination paper breaches Sch 5 para 5(1) (candidate unduly associated with a registered political party: see PARA 263 ante): Sch 5 para 13(2)(a).

25 Ibid Sch 5 para 13(2)(b).

26 Ibid Sch 5 para 13(2)(c). The text refers to a candidate being disqualified under the Representation of the People Act 1981 as it is applied by the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 16(3) (see PARA 234 ante). The provisions of the Government of Wales Act 2006 supersede those of the Government of Wales Act 1998 immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5). As to the provision that applies for these purposes before that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 12(3); and PARA 234 ante. As to disqualification by the Representation of the People Act 1981 see also note 10 supra.

In relation to an Assembly election, if it appears to the appropriate returning officer that any of the persons nominated might be disqualified by the Representation of the People Act 1981 (as so applied) he must, as soon as practicable after the expiry of the time allowed for the delivery of individual nomination papers (in the case of a constituency election) or individual or party nomination papers (in the case of a regional election), prepare and publish a draft of the statement required by the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 16 or Sch 5 para 17 (see PARA 272 post): Sch 5 para 18(1). The draft must be headed (in the case of a constituency election) 'Draft statement of persons nominated, datganiad drafft o'r personau a enwebwyd' or (in the case of a regional election) 'Draft statement of persons nominated and registered political parties which have submitted a party list, datganiad drafft o'r personau a enwebwyd a'r pleidiau gwleidyddol cofrestredig sydd wedi cyflwyno rhestr blaid', and it must contain a notice stating that any person who wishes to object to the nomination of any candidate on the ground that he is disqualified for nomination under the Representation of the People Act 1981 (as so applied) may do so between the hours of ten in the morning and four in the afternoon on the day and at the place specified in the notice: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 18(2). The day to be specified is the day next after the last day for the delivery of individual or party nomination papers: Sch 5 para 18(2). In relation to a Welsh Assembly election, a 'party nomination paper' is a nomination paper relating to a party list candidate. For the meanings of 'party list' and 'party list candidate' at a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante.

27 Ibid Sch 5 para 13(2)(d). The text refers to exclusion arising from the fact that a person may not be an individual candidate to be an Assembly member for the Assembly electoral region if he falls within the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 7(6) (see PARA 234 ante). The provisions of the Government of Wales Act 2006 supersede those of the Government of Wales Act 1998 immediately after the ordinary election held in 2007 under s 3 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS): see the Government of Wales Act 2006 s 161(1), (4), (5). As to the provision that applies for these purposes before that date see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 5(6); and PARA 234 ante.

28 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 14(2).

29 Ibid Sch 5 para 14(2)(a). The text refers to a party nomination paper that breaches Sch 5 para 7(2) (see PARA 263 ante).

30 Ie so that the party nomination paper breaches ibid Sch 5 para 8(1) (see PARA 263 ante).

31 Ibid Sch 5 para 14(2)(b). The text refers to a party nomination paper that breaches Sch 5 para 8(3) (see PARA 263 ante).

32 Ibid Sch 5 para 14(2)(c).

33 Ibid Sch 5 para 14(2)(d).

34 Ibid Sch 5 para 14(2)(e). As to the ways in which a candidate included on such a party list may cease to stand nominated see PARA 270 ante.

35 Ibid Sch 5 paras 13(3), 14(5). An objection made to an individual nomination paper refers only to the case of a constituency election: see Sch 5 para 13(3). This is subject to the proviso that if, in the constituency returning officer's opinion, an individual nomination paper breaches Sch 5 para 5(1) (candidate unduly associated with a registered political party: see PARA 263 ante), he must give a decision to that effect as soon as practicable after the close of the period for the delivery of nomination papers (as to which see PARA 267 ante): Sch 5 para 13(4). An objection made either to a party nomination paper or to a party list candidate refers to the case of a regional election only: see Sch 5 para 14(5). This is subject to the proviso that if, in the regional returning officer's opinion, a party nomination paper breaches Sch 5 para 7(2) (see note 29 supra), Sch 5 para 8(1) (see note 30 supra) or Sch 5 para 8(3) (see note 31 supra), he must give a decision to that effect as soon as practicable after the close of the period for the delivery of nomination papers (as to which see PARA 267 ante): Sch 5 para 14(6).

Objections to nomination papers at Assembly elections must be made during the hours allowed for delivery of nomination papers on the last day for their delivery and the hour following: Sch 5 para 1(1). However, no objection may be made in the afternoon of that last day except to a nomination paper delivered within 24 hours of the last time for its delivery and, in the case of a nomination paper so delivered, no objection may be so made to the sufficiency or nature of the particulars of a candidate unless made at or immediately after the time of the delivery of the nomination paper: Sch 5 para 1(1)(a). The timetable set out in Sch 5 para 1 does not apply to objections made under Sch 5 para 18(2), for which separate provision is made (see note 26 supra): Sch 5 para 1(1)(b).

38 European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 9, Sch 1 para 13(3)(a).

39 Ibid Sch 1 para 13(3)(b). The text refers to a candidate being disqualified under the Representation of the People Act 1981 as it applies in respect of the office of member of the European Parliament ('MEP') by virtue of the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 10(1)(a) (see PARA 235 ante). As to disqualification by the Representation of the People Act 1981 see also note 10 supra. For the purposes of the combined region (as to which see PARA 76 ante), the text refers also to any corresponding provision in respect of detained offenders in Gibraltar made under the European Parliamentary Elections Act 2002 s 10(4A) (as added) (Secretary of State may by order provide for persons of a description connected to Gibraltar to be disqualified from the office of MEP: see PARA 235 ante).

In relation to a European parliamentary election, if it appears to the returning officer that any of the persons nominated as an individual candidate might be disqualified by the Representation of the People Act 1981 (as so applied) he must, as soon as practicable after the expiry of the time allowed for the delivery of nomination papers, prepare and publish a draft of the statement required by the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 15 (see PARA 272 post) but limited to persons standing as individual candidates only: Sch 1 para 17(1). The draft must be headed 'Draft statement of individual candidates nominated' and it must contain a notice stating that any person who wishes to object to the nomination of any individual candidate on the ground that he is disqualified for nomination under the Representation of the People Act 1981 (as so applied) may do so between the hours of ten in the morning and four in the afternoon on the day and at the place specified in the notice: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 17(2). The day to be specified is the day next after the last day for the delivery of nomination papers: Sch 1 para 17(2).

44 Ibid Sch 1 para 13(6). For the purposes of European parliamentary elections, objections to nomination papers or to a list of candidates of a registered party must be made during the hours allowed for delivery of nomination papers on the last day for their delivery and the hour following: Sch 1 para 1. However, no objection may be made in the afternoon of that last day except to a nomination paper delivered within 24 hours of the last time for its delivery and, in the case of a nomination paper so delivered, no objection may be so made to the sufficiency or nature of the particulars of a registered party or candidate on the party's list or individual candidate unless made at or immediately after the time of the delivery of the nomination paper: Sch 1 para 1(a). The timetable set out in Sch 1 para 1 does not apply to objections made in pursuance of Sch 1 para 17(2), for which separate provision is made (see note 39 supra): Sch 1 para 1(b).

45 R v Election Court, ex p Sheppard [1975] 2 All ER 723 at 726, [1975] 1 WLR 1319 at 1324, DC, per Lord Widgery CJ. Nor do the rules alter the nominee's duty to present valid nomination papers in time by providing for any overall urgency or by raising a legitimate expectation that the returning officer will inspect the papers and identify any errors in them within the time limits: see R (on the application of De Beer) v Balabanoff [2002] EWHC 670 (Admin), (2002) Times, 25 April (cited in PARA 263 note 12 ante); applied in R (on the application of Begum) v Tower Hamlets London Borough Council [2006] EWCA Civ 733, [2006] All ER (D) 19 (May). A returning officer at a parliamentary election may correct minor errors in nomination forms: see the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 14A (as added); and PARA 270 ante.

46 Pritchard v Bangor Corpn (1888) 13 App Cas 241, HL; Watson v Ayton [1946] KB 297. These cases predated the grounds for disqualifying a candidate under the Representation of the People Act 1981, for which certain rules mentioned in the text now provide: see notes 10, 26, 39 supra.

47 In the case of an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly, the decision referred to in the text relates either to an individual nomination paper or to a party list: see the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 10(9). In the case of a regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales, the regional returning officer's decision relates either to whether a party nomination paper is valid (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 14(8)(a)) or to whether a party list candidate continues to stand nominated (see PARA 270 ante) (Sch 5 para 14(8)(b)). In the case of a European parliamentary election, the returning officer's decision relates to whether a nomination paper and, where applicable, its accompanying list, is valid: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 13(9).

In R v Election Court, ex p Sheppard [1975] 2 All ER 723, [1975] 1 WLR 1319, DC, it was held that the validity of a nomination could be questioned before the election court where a nomination paper did not correctly state the candidate's home address, even though the returning officer did not declare the nomination paper invalid and the defect in the paper was not apparent on inspection; but cf Watson v Ayton [1946] KB 297.

As to election petitions see Budge v Andrews (1878) 3 CPD 510, DC; and see PARA 759 et seq post.

50 In the case of an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly, the decision referred to in the text relates to whether an individual nomination paper is invalid (Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 10(7)(a)) or to whether a party list is invalid or to whether the name and address of a list candidate should be deleted from the list (see PARA 270 ante) (Sch 2 r 10(7)(b)). In the case of an election for the return of regional members of the National Assembly for Wales, the regional returning officer's decision relates either to whether a party nomination paper is valid (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 14(7)(a)) or to whether a party list candidate must cease to stand nominated (see PARA 270 ante) (Sch 5 para 14(7)(b)). In the case of a European parliamentary election, the returning officer's decision relates to whether a nomination paper is invalid (European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 13(7)) or to whether any name should be deleted from the list of candidates of a registered party (see PARA 270 ante) (Sch 1 para 13(8)).

(Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 8(6). For the purpose of a London Authority election, it is specified that the notice must be sent as mentioned in the text as soon as practicable after the decision has been made: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 9(5), Sch 2 r 10(8), Sch 3 r 10(5). In the case of a party list candidate at an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly, the notice referred to in the text must also be sent to the party's nominating officer: see Sch 2 r 10(8)(b). For the meaning of 'Authority election' in this context see PARA 10 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ELECTIONS AND REFERENDUMS (VOLUME 15(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1-343; VOLUME 15(4) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 344-907)/5. PROCEDURE FOR CONDUCTING ELECTIONS/(3) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN/(ii) Nomination of Candidates/272. Publication of statement of persons nominated.

272. Publication of statement of persons nominated.

At any election¹, the appropriate returning officer² must prepare and publish a statement³ showing the persons who have been and stand nominated as candidates⁴; and it must also show any other persons who have been so nominated, with the reason why they no longer stand nominated⁵. For the purposes of an election where registered political parties may stand and nominate by submitting lists of candidates⁶, the statement must show each registered party which has been and stands nominated, together with that party's list of candidates⁷; and it must also show any other parties or persons (as the case may be) who have been nominated, together with the reason why they no longer stand nominated⁸.

Such a statement must be published: (1) in the case of a parliamentary election⁹, if no objections to nomination papers are made, at the close of the time for doing so or, if any such objections are made, not before they are disposed of but not later than 24 hours after the last time for delivery of nomination papers¹⁰; (2) in the case of a local government election or an election for the return of an elected local authority mayor, not later than noon on the seventeenth day before the day of election¹¹; (3) in the case of a Welsh Assembly election, not later than noon on the sixteenth day before the day of election¹²; or (4) in the case of a European parliamentary election, at the close of the time for making objections to nomination papers or list of candidates of registered parties or as soon afterwards as any objections are disposed of¹³.

The statement of persons nominated at an election must show the names, addresses and descriptions, if any, of the persons nominated as given in their nomination papers¹⁴ with the names arranged alphabetically in the order of their surnames, and, if there are two or more with the same surname, of their other names¹⁵. The statement of persons nominated at a parliamentary election must also include the names of the persons subscribing the nomination papers¹⁶. For the purposes of elections where registered political parties may stand and nominate by submitting lists of candidates, the statement must also show¹⁷, in respect of the registered political parties which stand nominated, the names of those parties¹⁸, arranged together in alphabetical order¹⁹, and (in respect of each such party) the names and home addresses of the candidates who appear on the list as given in that list²⁰ and arranged in the order in which their details appear on that list²¹.

In the case of a person nominated by more than one nomination paper²², the appropriate returning officer must take the required particulars from one of the papers selected by the candidate (or by the returning officer in default of the candidate) or, in relation to a Welsh Assembly regional election, by the party's registered nominating officer²³. At a contested parliamentary election, a candidate standing nominated may require the returning officer to include in the statement the names of the persons subscribing a second and third nomination paper²⁴.

At a parliamentary, Welsh Assembly or European parliamentary election, the appropriate returning officer must send to the Electoral Commission²⁵ a copy of the statement of persons nominated²⁶ and, in the case of each candidate standing nominated in respect of whom the returning officer has received a certificate properly authorising the candidate's description²⁷, a copy of that certificate as well²⁸. The returning officer at a European parliamentary election must also forward a copy of the statement, immediately following its publication, to the local returning officer²⁹ for each local counting area³⁰ wholly or partly contained in the electoral region³¹; and, as soon as practicable after receipt of the copy, each local returning officer must publish it at a place within the area for which he acts³².

At a contested election, except a local government election, the returning officer must include in the statement of persons nominated a notice of the poll, stating the day on which and hours during which the poll will be taken³³. Where the statement shows that a nominated candidate is unopposed (or that there are at least as many offices to be filled as there are nominated candidates), the appropriate returning officer must declare the unopposed candidate (or candidates) to be elected³⁴.

1 In relation to a parliamentary election, a local government election, an election for the return of a local authority mayor, a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales or a European parliamentary election. For the meaning of 'parliamentary election' see PARA 9 ante; for the meaning of 'local government election' see PARA 10 ante; and for the meanings of 'constituency election' and 'regional election' for the purposes of Welsh Assembly elections see PARA 3 note 1 ante. As to elections for the return of a local authority mayor see PARA 205 ante; as to elections to the National Assembly for Wales generally see PARA 220 et seq ante; and as to European parliamentary elections see PARA 224 et seq ante.

2 As to returning officers for parliamentary elections see PARA 355 et seq post; as to returning officers for local government elections (including elections for the return of a local authority mayor) see PARA 359 et seq post; and as to returning officers at European parliamentary elections see PARA 365 et seq post. In the case of an election for the return of constituency members of the London Assembly only, the appropriate returning officer is the constituency returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 218 note 8 ante); and in the case of an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly and for the return of an elected Mayor of London, it is the Greater London returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 218 note 7 ante). For the purposes of elections for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales, 'appropriate returning officer' means, in relation to a constituency election, a constituency returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 18 note 2 ante) and, in relation to a regional election, a regional returning officer (for the meaning of which see PARA 18 note 2 ante): see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 2(1); and PARA 242 note 7 ante.

3 As to the publication of notices by the appropriate officer at a parliamentary election see PARA 238 note 12 ante. The appropriate returning officer must prepare and publish a draft statement in certain circumstances: see PARA 271 ante.

In relation to a regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales, a regional returning officer must prepare the statement showing the details specified in the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, art 16(1), Sch 5 para 17(1)(a) (see the text and notes 4-5 infra) and Sch 5 para 17(1)(b) (see the text and notes 6-8 infra) and deliver, or cause to be delivered, the statement to each constituency returning officer for an Assembly constituency in the Assembly electoral region and, on such receipt, a constituency returning officer must publish it: see Sch 5 para 17(1), (2). The statement of persons nominated and of registered political parties which have submitted a party list which is required by Sch 5 para 17 is referred to as a 'statement of persons nominated', except for the purposes of Sch 5 para 18 (draft statement of persons nominated: see PARA 271 note 26 ante): Sch 5 para 17(11). For the meanings of 'Assembly constituency' and 'Assembly electoral region' for these purposes see PARA 3 note 1 ante.

In relation to a European parliamentary election, the statement is known as the 'statement of parties and individual candidates nominated': European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, reg 9, Sch 1 para 15(1). See also note 7 infra.

4 For the meaning of 'candidate' generally see PARA 237 ante. The reference in the text is to persons nominated as 'individual candidates' for the purposes of: (1) elections for the return of London members of the London Assembly (see the Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(2), Sch 2 r 11(1)(b)); (2) a regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales (National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 17(1)(a)); or (3) European parliamentary elections (European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 15(1)(b)). For the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante; and for the meaning of 'individual candidate' at a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 32 ante.

5 Representation of the People Act 1983 s 23(1), Sch 1 r 14(1); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, r 3(1), (3), Sch 1 r 10(1), Sch 2 r 11(1)(c), Sch 3 r 11(1); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, reg 3(1), Sch 1 r 11(1); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 paras 16(1), 17(1)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 15(1)(c); Local Elections (Principal Areas)

6 le a European parliamentary election, a Welsh Assembly regional election, or an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly. For the meaning of 'registered political party' for the purposes of a Welsh Assembly election see PARA 222 note 8 ante; and for the meaning of 'party list' at a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante. For the meanings of 'list' and 'registered party' at a European parliamentary election see PARA 237 note 30 ante. As to references to party lists in elections for the return of London members of the London Assembly see PARA 262 note 24 ante. As to the system of candidature whereby registered parties submit lists of candidates see PARA 345 post.

7 Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 11(1)(a); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 17(1)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 15(1)(a). For the purposes of a Welsh Assembly regional election, parties nominate themselves by submitting a list of candidates so the text must be taken to refer to registered political parties which have submitted a party list: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 17(1)(b). For the purposes of a European parliamentary election, the reference in the text is to the list of persons who stand nominated as candidates of each registered party: European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 15(1)(a).

8 Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 11(1)(c); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 17(1)(b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 15(1)(c).

9 le either a parliamentary general election or a by-election. As to parliamentary general elections see PARA 196 et seq ante; and as to parliamentary by-elections see PARA 198 ante.

10 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 1 (amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 19(1), (2)). Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 19 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1. Until that date, the statement of persons nominated at a parliamentary election must be published at the close of the time for making objections to nomination papers or as soon afterwards as any objections are disposed of: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 1. As to the making of objections to nomination papers and the disposal of such objections generally see PARA 271 ante.

11 Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 3(1), Sch 2 r 3(1), Sch 3 r 3(1); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 3; Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 1; Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 1. As to the day of election at a local government election see PARA 213 et seq ante.

12 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 1(1). As to the day of election at a Welsh Assembly election see PARA 220 ante.

13 European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 1.

14 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 14(2); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 10(2), Sch 3 r 11(2); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 11(2); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 paras 16(2), 17(3)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 15(3); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 9(2); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 9(2). As to the particulars required in nomination papers generally see PARA 263 ante.

At a parliamentary election or at a local government election for a principal area, parish or community council, if a person's nomination paper gives a commonly used surname or forename in addition to another name, the statement must show the person's commonly used surname or forename (as the case may be) instead of any other name: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 14(2A) (Sch 1 r 14(2A)-(2C) added by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 21(1), (3)); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 9(3); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 9(3). However, this provision does not apply if the returning officer thinks either that the use of the person's commonly used name may be likely to mislead or confuse electors, or that the commonly used name is obscene or offensive: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 14(2B) (as so added); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 9(4); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 9(4). If the returning officer so thinks, he must give notice in writing to the candidate of his reasons for refusing to allow the use of a commonly used name: Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 14(2C) (as so added); Local Elections (Principal Areas)

(England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 9(5); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 9(5).

In the cases of: (1) a constituency or regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales; or (2) a European parliamentary election, the nomination papers referred to in the text are 'individual nomination papers', ie the nomination papers of individual candidates (as to which see note 4 supra): see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 paras 16(2), 17(3) (a); and the European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 15(3).

Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 21 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

15 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 14(3); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 10(3), Sch 2 r 11(2)(c), Sch 3 r 11(3); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 11(3); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 paras 16(3), 17(4)(a), (6); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 15(4); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 9(6); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 9(6).

16 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 14(2). As to the subscription of nomination papers see PARA 264 ante.

17 The statements must show the arrangement of individual candidates (see the text and notes 13-14 supra) followed by the arrangement of registered political parties (see the text and notes 17-20 infra): National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 17(5); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 11(2); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 15(4).

18 National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 17(3) (b); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 11(2)(a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 15(2). In the case of an election for the return of London members of the London Assembly, the name of the party must be as given in the list: Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 11(2)(a). In the case of a Welsh Assembly regional election, it is specified that the party name must appear together with, in respect each such party, the registered name of the party (ie the description referred to in the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 7(2) (see PARA 263 ante)): Sch 5 para 17(3)(b)(i).

19 Ibid Sch 5 para 17(4)(b); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 11(2) (a); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 15(2).

For these purposes, in relation to a Welsh Assembly election, a registered political party must be shown in the statement by reference to the description referred to in the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 7(2) (see PARA 263 ante) in respect of the party (Sch 5 para 17(7) (a)); and alphabetical order is to be determined by disregarding the definite or indefinite article and, where there are two or more words in the description (having disregarded the definite or indefinite article), by reference to the first of those words and, if there are two or more parties with the same first word in the description, of the other words in the description (Sch 5 para 17(7)(b)).

20 Ibid Sch 5 para 17(3)(b)(ii); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 15(2). In relation to a Welsh Assembly election, the text must be taken to refer to persons nominated as given in their party nomination papers, a 'party nomination paper' being a nomination paper relating to a party list candidate: see the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 17(3)(b)(ii). For the meaning of 'party list candidate' at a Welsh Assembly regional election see PARA 237 note 23 ante.

21 Ibid Sch 5 para 17(4)(b); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 2 r 11(2) (b); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 15(2).

22 As to references to nomination papers in elections for the return of London members of the London Assembly see PARA 262 note 24 ante. In relation to a constituency election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales, the nomination paper referred to in the text is an individual nomination paper (as to which see note 13 supra): National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 paras 16(4), 17(8). In relation to a regional election for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales, the nomination paper referred to in the text may be either an individual nomination paper or a party nomination paper (ie in the case of a registered political party which has delivered more than one party nomination paper): Sch 5 para 17(9).

23 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 14(4); Greater London Authority Elections (No 2) Rules 2000, SI 2000/427, Sch 1 r 10(4), Sch 2 r 11(3), Sch 3 r 11(4); Local Authorities (Mayoral Elections) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/185, Sch 1 r 11(4); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 paras 16(4), 17(8), (9); Local Elections (Principal Areas) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3304, Sch 2 r 9(7); Local Elections (Parishes and Communities) (England and Wales) Rules 2006, SI 2006/3305, Sch 2 r 9(7). In relation to a Welsh Assembly regional election, if any candidate is shown standing nominated by a party nomination paper which is not selected as mentioned in the text but is not shown in the selected paper, he no longer stands nominated: National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 17(9). As to the registered nominating officer of a registered political party see PARA 260 ante.

24 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 14(4).

25 As to the Electoral Commission see PARA 31 et seq ante.

26 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 14(5)(a) (Sch 1 r 14(5) added by the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 s 158(1), Sch 21 para 6(9)); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 paras 16(5)(a), 17(10); European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 15(5). The statement referred to in the text is, in the case of a regional Welsh Assembly election, a statement of persons nominated and registered political parties which have submitted a party list; and, in the case of a European parliamentary election, it is known as the 'statement of parties and individual candidates nominated': see note 3 supra.

27 It is a certificate, authorising a description, which has been received by the returning officer, in the case of a parliamentary election, in accordance with either the Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 6A(1) (as added and amended) (description associating the candidate with a registered political party: see PARA 263 ante) or Sch 1 r 6(1B) (as added) (description associating the candidate with two or more registered political parties: see PARA 263 ante) or, in the case of elections for the return of members of the National Assembly for Wales, in accordance with the National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 5 (name of registered political party: see PARA 263 ante).

28 Representation of the People Act 1983 Sch 1 r 14(5)(b) (as added (see note 25 supra); and amended by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 s 74(1), Sch 1 paras 104, 131); National Assembly for Wales (Representation of the People) Order 2003, SI 2003/284, Sch 5 para 16(5)(b).

Any amendment effected by the Electoral Administration Act 2006 Sch 1 paras 104, 131 has no effect in relation to an election for which the date of the poll specified in the notice of election issued in relation to that election is on or before 2 May 2007: see the Electoral Administration Act 2006 (Commencement No 2, Transitional and Savings Provisions) Order 2006, SI 2006/3412, art 6, Sch 2 para 1.

29 As to local returning officers appointed for the purposes of elections to the European Parliament see PARA 365 post.

30 For the meaning of 'local counting area' for the purposes of a European parliamentary election see PARA 230 note 11 ante.

31 European Parliamentary Elections Regulations 2004, SI 2004/293, Sch 1 para 16(1). As to the establishment of electoral regions for the purpose of elections to the European Parliament see PARA 76 ante.

32 Ibid Sch 1 para 16(2).

33 As to the procedure at contested elections see PARA 389 post; and as to notice of the poll see PARA 393 post.

34 As to the procedure at uncontested elections see PARA 477 post.
